CITY and DISTRICT NEWS

RADIO ENGINEERS HEAR TALK ABOUT TV

Fifty district engineers gathered in Belleville Legion Hall Tuesday evening where they were addressed by Mr. J. E. Barstow of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, New York. Mr. Barstow described the construction and manufacture of color television picture tubes and the method by which black and white and color television programs may be transmitted in the same channel. The meeting was sponsored by the Bay of Quinte Section of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

BELLEVILLE C. OF C. ASSISTS DESERONTO

Robert G. Hamilton, secretary manager of the Belleville Chamber af Commerce recently attended a meeting to help organize the Deseronto Chamber of Commerce. This was the second reorganization meeting and the nominating committee brought in a slate of officers for the ensuing year.

The Belleville Chamber will assist Deseronto in every way in order to attain the success of this new Chamber.

The new president, Stanley Merrick, and Director Harry Sweetman indicated they would attend the regular meeting of the Belleville directors at noon today to gain as much information on procedure at meetings as possible.

PUPPIES AND KITTENS FREE FOR ASKING

Anyone for puppies and kittens? If so they can be had for the asking at the office of the Belleville Fair Grounds.

Pound officials stated today they have four puppies in custody, two spaniels, one part collie and one part fox terrier. There are of a variety of types, including two grey, and one black and white and another a plain tabby.

Anyone desiring a pet for the youngsters is asked to telephone or call at the dog pound Friday afternoon.

Malcolm Robb Assails Plea For Protection

KITCHENER (CP) — Malcolm Robb, a Toronto lawyer, Wednesday night contended that Ira G. Needles, president of B. F. Goodrich Canada Ltd., is endangering Canada's peaceful future by "weeping and wailing" at Ottawa for tariff protection.

"I'm sick and tired of Mr. Needles preaching tariff protection in Ottawa to save some little rubber factory here in Kitchener," he said in a speech to the Kitchener-Waterloo Foremen's Club.

"Because of this talk my child and yours may have to go to another war."

Kenneth Holmes Faces Charge of Drunk Driving

Kenneth R. Holmes, Madoc real estate and insurance agent, who was charged with drunk driving following his acquittal on Tuesday of leaving the scene of an accident with intent to escape civil and criminal liability, is scheduled to stand trial at Magistrate's Court here on November 29th. Holmes was represented in court this morning by John J. O'Flynn.

Robert McLaughlin, 72 Edward Street, Trenton, had his operator's licence suspended for three months and was ordered to pay a fine of $10 and costs after he appeared before Magistrate T. Y. Wills this morning and pleaded guilty to careless driving.

Local Hunters Have Their Share Of Good Luck

Belleville hunters are having their share of luck in North Hastings hunting camps, it was learned today.

In one camp in the Millbridge area, Herbert Symington, including Provincial Police Constable Gordon Oliver, Don Carruthers and James Stoliker, have bagged three deer and a bear.

Further north in the Maynooth area another camp had shot a 1,000-lb. moose and a moose calf. Included in the Maynooth camp are Dr. F. R. Ross, Dr. D. C. Mathews, Dr. Symington, John Weese and former provincial police inspector Arthur Page.

Yesterday an American car was seen passing through the city with two deer on front fenders.

Russians Send Women, Children Home From Egypt

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—Sixty-six Russians—33 women, 30 children and only three men—arrived from Egypt aboard a Belgian airliner today on their way to Russia.

The women and children were the families of Soviet military technicians training the Egyptian army.

None of the wives questioned by reporters would say what had become of their husbands.

Another party of about 60 wives and children is expected Sunday.

Vegetable Growers Request New Tomato Color Standard

Claiming that the California color standard for tomatoes is neither realistic nor practical, Ontario grown fruit, members of the Hastings County Vegetable Growers' Association are asking for an Ontario color standard, to be established in keeping with growing and climatic conditions in this province.

A resolution to this effect was passed by members of the county association at their annual meeting held Wednesday evening at the Canadian Legion hall here. The resolution asked that the revision be made before the 1957 price negotiations.

Guest speaker Charles Baker, Kent County, president of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association, told members of a visit to tomato packing plants in northern United States where a lower color standard than that of Ontario was in effect.

While there was no question that these plants were putting out a quality product, it was stated, the color standard in Ontario would mean more tomatoes would go into plants and the farmers would receive a better price for their tomatoes.

FROM SECOND TO NONE

Flavor of Ontario tomatoes was second to none on the North American continent, it was stated.

County members felt also that they were entitled to a greater percentage of the consumer dollar for canned goods.

Roy Shorey, director for Prince Edward county, told the meeting that in Scandinavian countries farmers received 70 per cent of the consumer dollar. In Western Europe they received 50 per cent while in Canada they received only from 28 to 33 per cent.

On corn pack, the producer received only 15½ cents of the consumer dollar, it was stated.

There was a lengthy discussion on prices for various products intended for canning with the incoming directors being named a committee to draft recommended prices for presentation to the annual convention at Hamilton.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Other speakers heard at the meeting included Jack Howard, secretary treasurer of the Canners Association; Percy VanVlack, district horticultural inspector and Addington; Ed. Ruthvern, director for Northumberland; Roscoe Robson, M.L.A. for Hastings East, and Bruce Martin, past president of the growers' association.

Mr. VanVlack urged strongly that the California color standard be abolished and that an Ontario standard in keeping with climatic conditions be established.

Ronald Longwell, Foxboro, warned members against pricing themselves out of the market through increased price demands, while Mr. Shorey cautioned in asking if pricing themselves out of a market was any worse than continuing to produce at a loss.

OFFICERS NAMED

Lloyd Sheppard, this concession Sidney, was named president of the county association, stepping up from vice president. Thomas Kelly, Rungerford township, declined re-election as association head after a two-year term. Mrs. Sills of Zion Hill was named vice-president, while Clayton Ritz was returned as secretary.

Association directors are, Sidney — Everett Hubbell and Horace Knight; Thurlow — Roger Robson and Gerald Eggleton; Tyendinaga — Harold Masters and Arthur English; Rawdon — Raymond Cooney; Huntingdon — Elmer Wilson; and Rungerford — Gordon Countryman.

W. Frank Brumell of 46 Henry Street, died on Wednesday at Belleville General Hospital in his 83rd year.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Moses Brumell, he was born in Trenton and had lived in Frankford prior to coming here 15 years ago.

He is survived by his wife, the former Anna Pulliser; three daughters, Mrs. Frances Shea, Mrs. Ivy Shea and Mrs. Cora Berlinghous all of Buffalo; three brothers, Percy of Brantford and Jack and Arthur of Trenton, and one sister, Mrs. Lilian Sharrard of Toronto.

Resting at the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Home, 38 Everett Street. Funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

Gambling Ring Members Fined $10,000 Each

WINNIPEG (CP) — Five men were fined $50,000 Wednesday on charges of operating an international gambling syndicate, fomenting bets from the United States.

The men—Stanley Zeckd, 50, and Alexander Ardyshin, 51, of Winnipeg, Leo Schaffer, 56, of Chicago, Max Horwick, 56, of Terre Haute, Ind., and Moses Druick, 38, of Montreal—paid fines of $10,000 each.

Morality Inspector Jack Webster said the investigation had shown the syndicate had 244 accounts throughout the United States and that bets ranged from $100 to $10,000. He said profits on some days were as high as $35,000 and there were losses at other times of the same amount.

Insp. Webster said the total amount of bets made through the telephone exchange office in a six-week period ran into millions of dollars. Police said bets were taken by telephone on American college and professional football games, the presidential election and the world series.

Gen. Macklin Says Canada Assumes Isolationist Role

TORONTO (CP) — Canada's statesmen have followed a United States "isolationist, peace-at-anyprice pattern" because they have never learned to distinguish between friend and foe, Gen. H. H. S. Macklin, former adjutant-general of the Canadian Army, said Wednesday night.

Gen. Macklin's views found little support from his two fellow-panelists. Dr. Marcus Long, professor of philosophy at the University of Toronto, and Joseph Noseworthy, former candidate for the CCF leadership, in a discussion at the Woodsworth Memorial Foundation.

The general said Canada should realize the Suez Canal is an economic lifeline to—Britain and France. He could not imagine the U.S. adopting an attitude of holy detachment towards a seizure of the Panama Canal.

Dr. Long said: "It's a tragic decision to consider the United States as our enemy. 'An anti-American policy is a futile policy." He believed Britain had no moral or legal backing for her invasion of Suez.

Mr. Brewin said he disagreed with everything the general had said. The invasion of Egypt by governments in the Suez had been a clear breach of the rule of law and a clear act of aggression.

Struck by Auto Woman Suffers Fractured Leg

TRENTON (Special) — Mrs. Harold Loveless, 31, of 33 Ferry St., Trenton, is making satisfactory recovery in Trenton Memorial Hospital after being struck by a car Tuesday afternoon. She suffered a fractured right leg, multiple head injuries and facial cuts.

Mrs. Loveless narrowly missed death when she was knocked instantly by the left front fender of a truck, which passed over her body without touching her.

Trenton police said Mrs. Loveless was walking from the north curb on Dundas St. when she stepped into the path of a car driven by William Davis, 39, RR 4, Smithfield. The force of the impact threw her into the path of the oil truck driven by Arthur Elliott Bird, 34, of Carrying Place.

Lieut. Bill Westfall, former aircraftsman second now a member of the Queen's Own Rifles, was among the regiment's al members who stopped at Downsview RCAF Station at Toronto en route to United Nations police duty in the Suez canal area. Members of his family live at Trenton and he was allowed to see him off. Lieut. Westfall is the former banker of the Trenton police department.

Only Difference They Had More Listeners

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)— The boys at radio station WNAR wanted to take a day off to go hunting. But you can't just shut down a radio station.

A little ingenuity—and some help from home — solved the problem.

Today, the wives of the 11 members of the station's staff took over all announcing duties while their husbands spent the day in the woods.

Liberace, Elvis Hold Joint Rock 'N' Roll

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Liberace and Elvis Presley staged an impromptu rock 'n' roll session today after Liberace's night club appearance.

Presley was in the audience at the Riviera Hotel as the pianoplaying television idol was through his performance, and after the last show ended he went back to Liberace's dressing room.

With only slight urging Liberace exchanged his white sequined jacket for Presley's striped sports coat. Elvis sat down at the piano and Liberace picked up a guitar, and in no time at all a rock 'n' roll session was under way. It lasted about 20 minutes, with some 200 persons jammed around.

Said one waiter after Elvis played a mean piano, but Liberace said he was an amateur on the guitar—and he sounded like one."

Eden Joins U.S. In Opposing 'Summit' Parley

BERN, Switzerland (AP)— Prime Minister Eden told the Swiss government today that Britain feels a "summit" meeting of the Big Four powers and India "would not be profitable at this time."

The Swiss government last week urged the five powers to meet to seek an end to the danger of a third world war.

Swiss Bundesrat turned down the suggestion. Russia and India accepted. France expressed interest.

No Reflection On Canada Says British Member

LONDON (CP)—William Deedes Britain's undersecretary for home affairs, said Wednesday that remarks he made about Commonwealth unity during a visit to Canada in the Middle East will not be misinterpreted in Canada.

In an informal talk at a Conservative women's rally earlier this week, Deedes said the government military action had one unexpected effect — "at least we have discovered where our friends lie in the Commonwealth."

When it was pointed out to him Wednesday that this might be interpreted as a reflection on Canada, Deedes replied: "I am glad it "regrets" the action taken in Egypt, Deedes said he had not been thinking of Canada.

"As a former newspaper man myself, I know that explanations only make things worse, but I can assure you I meant no reflection upon Canada."

The reference by the Commonwealth was made informally. Deedes prefaced his remarks by saying he was speaking for himself alone, and not for the government.

Nutting Resigns Seat in Commons

LONDON (AP)—Anthony Nutting, who quit Prime Minister Eden's government as minister of state for foreign affairs Nov. 6 in disagreement over the Middle Eastern policy, resigned Wednesday as a member of Parliament.

In a letter to the Conservative party chairman of his constituency at Melton, the 36-year-old former "bright young man" of the Conservative party wrote:

"I have decided to resign my seat and to vote with the Conservative candidate who would be able, if and when elected, to support without reservation the policies of the present government."

The resignation means a by-election must be held to fill the vacant seat.

Quebec College Heads Endorse Federal Aid Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—A major national conference on university problems has ended with signs of a broad drive to support Quebec universities have given to that province's opposition to federal financial aid.

Msgr. Irenee Lussier, rector of the University of Montreal, and Principal Cyril James of McGill Wednesday announced, as their personal opinions, that present offers of federal funds could be accepted.

Prime Minister St. Laurent has announced plans to double federal university grants to $16,000,000 a year, plus additional expenditure of $50,000,000 in 10 years for university capital expansion paid through the Canada Council which would be set up by Parliament.

Msgr. Lussier and Principal James emphasized they were not speaking for their universities. Decisions on whether to accept federal money must be made by the university governing bodies.

GIVE NEWS

Principal James said he knows of no barriers to acceptance, but Msgr. Lussier made two conditions: The money would have to be used only for expansion of buildings and equipment and should never be a pretext for intruding upon our educational system.

Premier Duplessis has criticized federal grants on the ground of provincial constitutional rights. Quebec universities collected grants also for the first year after they were started in 1951.

Msgr. Lussier said that the Quebec government, after spending federal grants, had paid Quebec institutions the money they have received from Ottawa.

And Wednesday at the opening of the Quebec legislature's new session, the speech from the throne announced that the government intends to make "remarkable generous grants" to all levels of education.

The conference on "Canada's crisis in higher education" was held by the National Conference of Canadian Universities—a body which has agreed to handle distribution of the expanded federal university grants.

Drive Better Lower Accidents Says Crown

CHATHAM (CP) — Provincial police trying to control today's traffic remind him of a "band of volunteers trying to defend superior outposts of olden days, Attorney-General Kelso Roberts told here Wednesday night.

He told a Kinsman club benefit banquet that only better driving habits will decrease the number of traffic accidents in Ontario.

"Sometimes," he said, "when I see hundreds and hundreds of cars swooping past on our main highways, I think of the problem that confronts our provincial police. I feel that they are little more than a band of volunteers that used to be called out only part of the past."

New model cars are sold on "horsepower, more power and more comfort" but salesmen fail to stress they have "more bump."

Walk From Iron Curtain Into Dad's Arms

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto woman learned by cable from Austria Wednesday that her husband has been reunited with his 15-year-old son, who walked from behind the Iron Curtain into his father's arms.

"I don't know how—but he did it" said Mrs. Ilona Szemeti.

She said her husband, a Toronto pastry cook, flew to Austria, Nov. 4 after receiving two cables appealing for help from his son, Stephen, in Hungary.

Mr. Szemeti was prevented by Russian troops ringing the country from reaching his son, living with grandparents 30 miles from the Austrian border.

But he was able to smuggle a message through and eight days later Stephen met his father in Nickelsdorf, Austria. He will meet his step-brother here.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market slipped back in jittery fashion today as the Middle East crisis once again created precautionary selling in all sections.

Algoma Steel was the heaviest industrial loser, dipping 1½ points. Imperial Bank and Penbina Pipe Line lost a point. Fractional declines were recorded by Aluminium, Canadian Bank of Commerce, Royal Bank and Price Bros.

International Nickel suffered a sharp 2¾-point loss among senior base metals. Hudson Bay was up ½ but other seniors showed little change. Coast Copper was a feature mine, adding $1.85 to $8.50. Grandue and Normetal gained 15 cents in lower-priced mines. Copper Rand lost 15 cents.

Arabs Threaten Force Unless Troops Withdraw

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Eight Arab countries threatened today to use force if Britain, France and Israel refuse to withdraw their troops from Egyptian territory.

An Arab "summit" conference of leaders of Iraq, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Egypt and Libya has been in session here since Tuesday.

The countries representatives of national leaders—of those Middle East countries wound up their parley with a statement calling Britain, France and Israel "aggressors."

CPR Outlines Case Before Judge Anderson

OTTAWA (CP)—The CPR said today it should not be barred from giving the shipping public the benefit of technological changes through reducing the employment of locomotive firemen.

The company was arguing before a federal conciliation board for a proposal to restrict firemen generally to passenger trains.

The move, which the company estimates would save it $1,000,000 a year in wages, is being fought by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (Ind.), which contends it would reduce efficiency and safety.

This argument was denied today by Ian Sinclair, CPR general solicitor, in opening final argument before the three-man commission headed by Judge J. C. Anderson of Belleville.

WELL POLICED

He said the company is deeply concerned with safe operation and would not eliminate a fireman where one was necessary for safety. Also, the board of transport commissioners had full power to police any action taken by the railway.

The CPR's plan is to eliminate firemen from diesel freight and yard engines. On passenger trains, they would remain in the cab, reduced to the lower-paid status of helpers.

The CPR's idea is a counter-proposal to a demand by the union for a 25-per-cent wage increase and other contract benefits.

Helicopter to Remove 8 From Yukon Drifts

WATSON LAKE, Y.T. (CP)—A helicopter was scheduled today to remove 8 United States Air Force pilot, and seven para-rescue workers who jumped to his aid, from the bush and snow drifts of the southern Yukon.

The group bogged down in hip-deep snow late Wednesday after moving only a few hundred yards from where the pilot, a Capt. Calney, was found Tuesday a few hours after bailing out of his F-84 Thunderjet.

They marked a big X in the snow to indicate the going was too tough. Snow drifts were four to eight feet high.

The helicopter was to move the men, one by one, to the Alaska highway, five miles away, from where they will be returned here by military vehicle.

Capt. Calney jumped from his plane Tuesday after reporting power trouble. He was sighted Tuesday by an RCAF search craft, which reported he had built a fire and was walking around it.

RE-ESTABLISH RAILWAY

JERUSALEM (AP)—The Haifa-Gaza railway link was re-established Tuesday for the first time since the 1948 Palestine war when a train from Northern Israel reached Gaza railway station. The event was marked by a festive ceremony by Israelis now administering the Gaza Strip in its entirety.

Russ Tactics Cause Split In Party Here

TORONTO (CP)—A serious split in the Labor-Progressive (Communist) party here over Russian anti - Semitism and Russia's method of crushing the Hungarian revolt has resulted in the resignations of two high-ranking members of the party's national executive, it was reported here Wednesday.

A party source was reported as saying Harry Binder and Norman Penner have resigned from the executive.

Last month seven Quebec Communists resigned from the national executive and the party.

Former Quebec Communist leader Gui Caron, writing in the Canadian Tribune, weekly organ of the party, said he and six other Communists had resigned because they were sceptical of the Soviet Union's "new look" and because the party continues to be ruled from Moscow.

He said that the LPP has a strong resistance to breaking ties with the Communist party of the Soviet Union and in the past had demonstrated "ludicrous subservience" to Moscow.

The next day, Joseph Salsberg, former Labor-Progressive party member of the Ontario legislature for Toronto Spadina, at a meeting in Toronto, challenged the domination of the Canadian party by the Russian party line.

He accused the Soviet Union of suppressing criticism and showing racial and religious prejudices.

Rosicrucian Order Holds Convocation

The Quinte Chapter of the Rosicrucian Order, AMORC, held its regular convocation on Tuesday evening in the Prince of Wales School, Belleville. Wilbur Orr, master, read the Grand Master's message for the month and delivered the chapter discourse "Live dangerously but knowingly," which was followed by a discussion period.

Harold P. Stevens, Grand Councillor for Eastern Canada, extended the greetings of The Grand Lodge, and gave the members a brief but inspiring message.

Coffee, cookies, and conversation completed an enjoyable evening.

Diplomats Enjoy National Ballet

OTTAWA (CP) — The National Ballet has given its first diplomatic "gala" performance.

The five-year-old company, under artistic director and leading dancer Celia Franca, performed two ballets Wednesday night before a near-capacity audience. Governor-General Massey and his vice-regal party, diplomats from nearly 40 countries, supreme court justices and high ranking government officials were in the audience.

Judge Accuses Man of Defrauding Widow

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A London man Wednesday was accused by Mr. Justice Wilfred Judson of deliberately defrauding a 73-year-old widow of limited education and no experience in financial affairs.

The Supreme Court jurist set aside a discharge on a $12,000 mortgage executed 11 years ago, and ordered an accounting between Mrs. Blanche Herrick of Norwich, near Woodstock, and Percy Short of London, whom the widow said she entrusted with her business affairs following her husband's death in 1943.

Mr. Justice Judson said in his judgment that "This man deliberately defrauded this ignorant woman into signing the discharge of a mortgage under the representation that it was a renewal agreement."

Calming the woman knew she was signing a discharge, Mr. Short claimed he paid her $3,000 in cash in $100 bills and then she signed a new mortgage for $9,000. He admitted he did not record the mortgage until four years later.

Mr. Justice Judson said: "I don't believe a word he said about paying $3,000 to the woman or executing a new mortgage at $9,000."

AID-TO-CULTURE PROGRAM

A hundred million dollars is a lot of money, even in this day and age. Any new project which cost the taxpayer this amount would be certain to promote discussion, and plenty of it. When the Federal Government announces that it plans to spend such an amount to promote culture, we can be doubly sure that the discussion will be particularly long and lively, that at least a hundred million words will be written and spoken before the proposal becomes an actuality.

Culture is one of those words which produce strikingly different reactions in different people.

People who approve of culture can be divided roughly into two classes, those who are sure they lack it and would like to have it and those who are certain they have it and would like to see everybody else have it too.

In both groups there are people who are laboring under delusions. Some of those who think they have culture have it. They are in the minority. Unfortunately the same cannot be said of the deluded members of the second group, those who are sure they are cultured but who are not. The very slight acquaintance with this group makes one understand why there are so many people who disapprove of culture, why so many of those who know they lack it wouldn't accept it as a free gift with an income tax rebate as a present.

The howl of indignation from this latter group is going to be both long and loud. Recognizing this, we wonder whether it was wise for the establishment of the Canada Council for the promotion of culture to much-needed financial assistance to Canadian universities.

The hundred million dollars which the Canada Council will spend will not be spent at once. One half will be in the form of an endowment. The Canada Council will invest it and use the revenue for cultural works. The $50,000,000 will be distributed by the Council to universities over a ten-year period, to aid these universities to expand their buildings and equipment.

Now there is no question but that universities play a vital role in the life of any nation. But it would be incorrect to say that distributing $50,000,000 to universities would ensure them making greater contributions to the culture of the nation than they might have made used for purposes which have little connection with culture, to train more engineers or doctors, for example. On the other hand, there is little doubt that if we continue to starve the universities as they have been starved culture will definitely show the effects of this malnutrition. From the standpoints of the advocates of culture, therefore, the provision for help to universities through the Canada Council is reasonable.

We wonder, however, whether what is reasonable is also wise. There are many people who will oppose the expenditure of $100,000,000 for culture who would actively support the provision of $50,000,000 to assist the nation's universities. Nor would many of these insist that all of this $50,000,000 should be spent by the universities in turning out more professional men and scientists.

It may well be, of course, that by tying aid to universities in with the promotion of culture, the government will win approval for its project from people who would not otherwise have supported it. But it is equally possible that the plan which would assist universities will be opposed by people who, if it had been presented separately, would have actively supported such a program.

On one point, though, there can be no question about the political shrewdness of the proposal. Grants "for those universities which currently feel they cannot accept the money," that is for those Quebec universities which do not want to defy Premier Duplessis, are to be kept in trust for them. As the years go by and the trust fund grants will become increasingly stronger inducements for the Quebec voters who are interested in the welfare of the province's universities to do something about the Duplessis regime.

GRUENTHER'S WARNING

Gen. Alfred Gruenther, who is retiring as supreme commander of NATO, made many significant pronouncements during his term of office, but his last utterance heed his parting words may be of greater importance than all the rest of his addresses put together.

Speaking at a farewell press conference Gen. Gruenther warned Russia that if rocket weapons were used against the West, retaliation would follow "just as surely as day follows night." This retaliation, he said, would destroy Russian industry.

"The only thing I fear," he said, "is that ridiculous criticism inside the Atlantic alliance might mislead the Soviets about our determination to use our offensive capacity, and that could be a disaster."

A disaster for whom? For the Soviet Union, certainly. But it appears evident that Gen. Gruenther does not believe the disaster would be limited to one nation. It might well overwhelm all nations.

So here we are in a situation where a miscalculation by any of the big powers about the intents of the others may plunge the whole world into a disastrous war. We have a poker game for the highest stakes in history, just how high we perhaps do not realize. They may be for the very existence of the human race. One wrong guess, one bluff that is called, one misjudgment and the whole world may be in flames.

It is a terrifying picture.

TRUE GREATNESS

To bear a burden cheerfully
A little will to smile
Is better than to tearfully
And dismally trudge mile on mile.
Some simple little kindly deed
Does more to cheer a shan't abode
Than favors big in time of need
That have been grudgingly bestowed.

'Tis not the distance that man goes,
'Tis not how much his strength will bear.
It is the spirit that he shows
When he is burdened down with care.

It's better far with cheerfulness
To try to do your task and fail,
Than leaving when you've no success
But discontent along your trail.

It isn't what you give that counts
But how you give, that God will see.
The widow's mite is much amounts,
For it was given cheerfully.
Deeds in themselves are little things
That bless the spirit in them glows,
For from the heart true greatness springs
In how, not what it does, it shows.

Plans Mile-High Building

Galt Evening Reporter

On a recent evening the mayor of Chicago stood at a fashionable architect Frank Lloyd Wright lectured on the evils of life in Chicago, the "overgrown hamlet on the prairie."

Mr. Frank Lloyd Wright day in Chicago, so proclaimed by Mayor Daley, and more than 1,000 fiercely loyal followers of the fabulous architect from Spring Green, Wis., paid $25 a plate at a dinner in his honor.

Mr. Wright had with him a plan of a mile-high building. The man with Chicago, he told Mayor Daley and hundreds of others who swarmed around, is that it is a "mess" like New York and other large cities. Wright said it has grown without planning and is now a crowded collection of old-fashioned buildings and automobiles of nonsensical design that "will in time" stress "gnashing their teeth at you."

* * * * *

Wright's "salvation" is this: Erect a few mile-high buildings in the business district and bridge them. Then tear down all the other outmoded buildings and turn the whole thing into a park. New York, Wright believes, could move into 10 of these buildings and the rest of the city could be "planted."

At the elevator, Wright waited with mock displeasure.

"We shall hear this in the mile-high building," he said. "Elevators will be five stories high and will go 80 miles an hour, per faster."

"It's the solution to the 19th century impasse that is blocking our cities," Wright continued. "It's all built down within. There is a central core and everything is built from that core. It's absolutely organic. No such thing as outside scaffolding. Every little line you see there is a line. And the whole thing is of airplane construction. It's strong and it's light."

* * * * *

The so-called skyscraper of today is nothing more than a box, he said, and belongs to the 19th century. You can continue to build bigger boxes, he said, but you can't pretend that they are tall buildings suited to the 20th century. When we build tall we also have to build beautifully, he added.

"This building is no dream. It is practical and it is expedient. It is in itself a beautiful edifice . . . It would be a pity if such a spectacle wouldn't shake it."

Since he disclosed his plans for the "mile high", Wright said, he had received requests for more information from all over the world.

He concluded with expressing his belief that the world is full of conformity but what it needs now is men of courage, not conformists to handle the problems created by the unplanned growth of past years.

Sowing Seeds Of Rebellion

Timmins Daily Press

Slow as may be the progress of racial integration in the Southern States, progress is definitely being made. Hampered rather than helped, perhaps, by the initial attempts to force desegregation, there is, in many parts of the south, an encouraging tendency of negro and white to work together.

In South Africa, however, the process is directly opposite. There is a deliberate attempt to extend the existing apartheid program, which represents a segregation more complete than ever before.

Recently 60,000 negroes were taken to move 100,000 non-whites from homes in Johannesburg into segregated reserves. Last year there were some 22,000 East Indians, resident of Johannesburg for years, and with homes and business interests. They are required to move 30 miles into the country.

A government board will sell their properties, on which a basic value is placed by legislation so that if the sale brings less than the basic price, the government will make up for the amount out of general revenues. If it brings more than the set price 50 per cent of the excess will go to the board.

The owners are, in effect, debarred from selling the site of their own property, and failure to comply with the orders to the stated subjects an offender to a fine of $380 or six months in jail.

The remainder of the 100,000 non-whites are negroes, descendants of the original Africans, who are required to move long distances from the cities.

By the time the apartheid policy is fully implemented, some 10,000,000 non-whites will be completely segregated, barred from all except the most menial tasks and cut off from any opportunity for decent educational economic or social advancement.

This segregation policy is stated as being for the benefit and protection of approximately 3,000,000 whites. This means that the whites were an island in a dark sea, and with the determined efforts of Malan and Strydom to push back the surrounding sea represent a desperate fight against nature in this case, human nature.

The South African government's own commissions, studying the problem, predict that the non-white population will double inside 40 years and it is doubtful if the whites will increase proportionately.

The observant theologian, Dr. B. B. Keet, has warned that South Africa is "heaping up the harvest of wrath," and many thinking South Africans feel that a day of reckoning is drawing ever nearer.

The question arises as to whether Prime Minister Strydom and his government realize that they are sitting on a powder keg which at any moment a spark of resentment may ignite.

Bible Plane Shot Down

St. Catharines Standard

The death of an American missionary pilot, shot down while dropping Scripture leaflets over Mexico's jungle, has been startling but hushed.

Mexican Agencies have had little to say about the story because of the blind alleys and blank walls encountered in the search for down the facts.

As far as can be determined this is what happened:

On September 21 Ancel Allen, missionary pilot, was shot down and killed in the crash of a small borrowed plane as he flew over the village of San Sebastian, dropping copies of the Gospel of St. John to villagers.

Allen was seen as he made three very low runs over the town. At the end of the third run, a volley of rifle shots was heard and the plane crash-landed beyond the town.

Native villagers, the first to arrive at the scene, carried off the pilot's wrist watch, rings and other valuables. There was much speculation that he survived the landing and was killed by fanatics who objected to the Protestant propaganda. Several bullet holes were found in the plane and the body.

Official versions of the crash eliminated the suggestion that the plane was shot down and emphasized the probability that it was over-loaded.

Other missionary pilots have lost their lives in Mexico, but this was the first to be shot down from the air. The incident is regarded as evidence of the activity of fanatics to stem the tide of missionary activity.

Had the fanatics taken time during their lives to read a little history they would have learned that their efforts to stem the tide of missionary activity are in vain. Missionary work has been carried on and is continuing in countries less advanced than Mexico, and always in the long run the work has prevailed.

Man cannot stop the gospel from spreading. It is the same as trying to blot out the light.

Students Here Lack Prestige

Meaford Daily

Can you imagine how foolish we would look to our fellow-Canadians if we suddenly petitioned the government to ban the H-bomb tests or lower the income tax, yet these very same subjects are now made by students of Communist and non-Communist Europe in countries, and have been considered seriously for no other reason than they came from students.

Perhaps this lack of prestige underlines the real root of the educational problem.

Somehow the notion has crept into our thinking that the function of the Canadian university is to produce good Canadians.

This notion is utterly false.

A university exists merely to follow truth, discover it and live it. The truth follows no party line or religious dogma nor is it subservient to the laws of the land.

Cause of Ingrown Nail

Correspondent wonders whether stretch socks cause ingrown nails. He is not on his feet much, and he changes his shoes once or twice a day. He is fit and has not recently had the trouble — since he began wearing stretch socks.

I'm glad you brought the question up, sir.

I had a good deal of trouble with ingrown nail many years ago, but upon switching from pointed toes to a make of shoes with broad, almost square toes, a make which, I gather, is no longer on the market, I found relief. My toes had room, and my feet were free to turn in, something like the feet of a bow - legged, pigeon-toed person. The shoes had very flexible shafts, no rigid splints on the feet.

I, too, have some recurrence of ingrown nail in the past year. It never occurred to me that this correspondent inquired about it, that my stretch socks might be to blame. I confess that tight socks less than two years ago and have worn them constantly. Although the salesmen assure me that there's only one size, which is right for me, I am not sure but has seemed to me that some of them are shorter than others, and others (I never noticed whether they are in different makes) are long enough for comfort. If I buy any more stretch socks — and, probably, some such kind—I'll take along samples of the comfortable kind and the tight kind and insist that I shall get my money back if I'm stuck with any more of the tight kind.

In fact I know I won't have to stipulate anything — the people where I buy clothing are so accommodating about exchanging or refunding the price of anything I decide I don't like that it is something of a nuisance.

It's odd—reminds me of the benefit I derived from the wearing of "weak ankles" which I made only after years of practice. I had treated many cases of pronated feet, with strapping and special exercises, plus the freakish looking shoes which seem to be unavailable now. Pronated feet are weak feet. When the young person (usually teenage) walks, the ankles turn in or roll in. Weak ankles, stupid.

Try going barefoot as much as possible, wearing shoes broad enough across ball of foot to give all the toes room and prevent pressure of one upon another, wearing a strip of rubber plaster applied to the skin at the edge of the ingrown nail and around, extending over base of toe to draw the skin edge away from the nail edge, leaving the groove between skin and nail powdered with powdered alum. Trimming or cutting the nail straight across and not attempting to round the corners. Don't put on tight shoes or, wear sandals or cut out shoes.

My nail seemed more convex from side to side than the other nails, and was on top. So I kept raping away at it until I had it ground down nearly to the quick. On the theory that it would grow flatter, less convex, and so not have the tendency to pinch the skin edge next to it. This proved successful. The rasping may be repeated every month or two if necessary.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

A woman I have known for forty years recently performed a spiritual feat de force. She had a martyr, an invalid, on her good thirty years of her life. A martyr to the poverty years in mysterious and indefinable malladies. And in her middle life, to heroism or what appeared to be arthritis. She was what they used to call delicate.

Two years ago, in a women's magazine, she read a fiction story in which the doctor gave a realistic description of herself.

She got up out of her cot chair, took a walk to condition herself, and then went down-town and got the doctor's prescription. It was for a healthy, dynamic business woman ever since.

"The fiction story," she told me, "described intimately the thoughts of a plain, homely girl, such as I was, who had had a hard, rough life up to the age of twenty-three before she discovered that when she was well, nobody noticed her, nobody paid the slightest attention to her. But when she was ill, everybody suddenly leaped to attend her, notice her, pay her any attention.

"As soon as I recovered, back she went into the dull, anonymous life she had known before, nobody giving her a thought, even in her family, much less among those she met out at work.

"Naturally, it was not long before she took ill again. And at once, she was the object of the warmest solicitude and attention. She became the center of the family focus, not a vague figure on its rim. Friends who never even called on me, so busy was I with care to visit her and spend hours at her bedside.

"That was I. By the time I was twenty-seven, I was a chronic invalid, and I was the object of the sympathetic description of herself.

She got up out of her cot chair, took a walk to condition herself, and then went down-town and got the doctor's prescription. It was for a healthy, dynamic business woman ever since.

Red Police Face Grief

Milwaukee Journal

The life of a gypsy has much to commend it to those who are not so many things, not in Russia.

The Russian Communist Government has ordered all gypsies to give up their nomadic life and go to work. They have been jobs by the police.

We don't like doing the Communists any favors, but they'd be wise, to keep the police and gypsies apart. For we Americans know who had anything to do with gypsies was a police chief in a small Wisconsin town. He looked up some gypsies to recover $10 his wife had given them for telling her fortune. He got the money all right, and drove the gypsies from town.

It wasn't until that night that he found a pocket book had been picked of the $10 and his wallet.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

DOES ANYONE KNOW YOU?

The Greek Philosophers, as well as many since that early day, have urged men and women again to "Know Thyself." The knowledge that we have of ourselves is scant indeed, but what knowledge we have is very important because it keeps pointing to other knowledge that keeps enriching the mind.

But do other people know us? How can we place much trust in their appraisement when we know next to nothing about ourselves? It is a saddening knowledge at best. We are constantly misjudged, misinterpreted, and at times cruelly maligned, for no reason in the world that we can know, except the best friend we have? We are often a stranger to ourself!

But one of our unhappiness we bear because of the ignorance of others in regard to us. Without knowing a single apt fact about another, we dare to build them in our fancy, and endow them with a character that is entirely alien to the one we consider person, though that person be one's own brother or sister. Having not any one of us judge another accurately? The brother of W. H. Hudson, author of many books, and especially that famous one "Green Mansions," stated that of all the people in the world he knew, he knew this brother, W.H. Hudson, the least of all.

You have to live in a person's heart to know him when you become worthy to judge or misjudge such a one. The heart, however, is a wonderful organ, in which to so that a new world of understanding can be cleansed, and often made new, long revealed. We invite people to know us, or else we repel them. But we all, to a great extent, in the recesses of our hearts, has "that something" which is never fully revealed.

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

PLAIN PATHWAY

There is one aspect of the life of Jesus Christ which frequently is not appreciated by the average Christian believer, namely, the fact of Christ's sinlessness. The Bible declares that Jesus lived His life through from beginning to end without ever once having committed sin. In doing this He stands alone as the only person in human history of whom this claim can be made.

But what people generally do not seem to realize is the intense and illimitable power which the sinlessness of Jesus has released in the world. All the great leaders of the world combined do not equal in influence this simple Carpenter of Nazareth, who in a ministry of three years changed the whole life of humanity. There are many reasons why He was able to achieve this result, but the chief reason is His freedom from sin. He was able to live His life through from beginning to end without ever once having committed sin. In doing this He stands alone as the only person in human history of whom this claim can be made.

But what people generally do not seem to realize is the intense and illimitable power which the sinlessness of Jesus has released in the world. BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By CHRIS F. LEGGAT

A meeting of the local association was held on Monday night in St. Thomas' parish room, with president A. S. Robb in the chair.

Badge chairman R. W. Munro reported that Scouts Jim Morton, Chris Tanner, Dick Fuke, David Smith, Douglas Hallam and Barry Arnott were passed for Conservation badges by officials of the Department of Lands and Forests. Scout Don Priest qualified for Dog Handlers badge under Maud Gay of Foxboro.

A.D.C. Phil Allcorn wants more committees. Bruce Thompson was given the job of finding them, so anybody with hidden talents could get in touch with him.

District Commissioner C. C. Owen announced with regret that Mrs. E. Blaker, representative for Mothers' Auxiliaries, has resigned owing to unexpected obligations. Mrs. Blaker has served in this capacity for a number of years; she will be sorely missed.

FORM ROVER GROUP

Mr. Adam Stalker (2nd Christ church), informed the association that a Rover crew is now formed under Scouter Don Hickson, making the 2nd a complete group.

The 6th (Cavalcade) had a "Going up" ceremony. Mr. Andrews said eight Cubs were raised to Scouts.

Mr. Alf Symons speaking for the 8th (Queen Mary) said it was planning a Christmas concert. Knowing the talent of this group, this should be very good and worth seeing.

A Parents' and Cubs' night was held by the 11th (Bridge St.), resulting in a Mothers' Auxiliary and additional committee men. Mr. V. J. White also mentioned a possible Scout troop. These informal get-togethers are always productive. There should be more of them. The 11th attended a church parade with their leaders. Good examples to follow.

The 14th (Lions) is undergoing re-organization. Mr. A. F. Rydman will, no doubt, have good news at the next meeting.

Mr. J. Hodgson wants more badge work in the 18th (OSSI). This is a group we are proud of. It did a wonderful job on Apple Day.

RECEIVE ARROWHEADS

Scout Jim Churchill of Foxboro, and Scout Dick Fuke of St. Thomas', received their Silver Arrowheads recently. Mr. Owen made the presentation. The D.C. attended a "Going Up" ceremony at the 2nd. A very impressive event in the life of a Cub.

Squadron Leader Verne Rutherford has been appointed Assistant Regional Commissioner for Training. He will have a training team of uniformed members and a committee to carry out this important project.

Dr. G. R. Craig will supervise at the YMCA on Saturday. We welcome other members to see the Cubs in action. They try hard and many good swimmers have been produced from this "Good Turn" of the YMCA.

Girl Guides Enrol Four New Members

CAMPBELLFORD — The 1st and 2nd Campbellford Girl Guides Companies met in the basement of St. John's United Church on Monday.

Acting Lieutenant, Miss Gayle Greenley, opened the meeting.

This was followed by Patrols in council. The Guides discussed uniforms, tests, Guide magazine, assessment fees, future programs and the proposed Christmas party.

Mrs. Peter Unitt (Capt.) enrolled Linda McCrudle, Shirley McEatherron, Lila Adams and Tena Harvey, these girls having passed the Tenderfoot tests. They have worked hard and put in much time after school.

The Guide Laws were repeated by the company and explained in detail.

After the meeting closed, Patrol leaders and Guides held a court of honor.

On November 6th, Patrol Leaders and their seconds were taken by Mrs. R. D. McDonald and Mrs. D. Meyers to visit the Stirling Guide company. They had an enjoyable evening and returned with many useful ideas.

INVESTIGATE CARE MILK

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon's education minister today ordered an inquiry into milk distributed in Ceylon by CARE, the American welfare organization, after hearing that an 11-year-old schoolgirl had died after drinking a glass of milk.

A few weeks ago a local doctor called the Children's Aid Society and told one of the social workers that 17-month-old Sally had just come through a nip and tuck ordeal in hospital. He wanted to make sure the infant received the attention she required when she was sent home.

If Sally were your child you would undoubtedly say, "Of course we'll make sure she is treated after, and we will follow the doctor's instructions to the last letter."

Sally was committed to the care of the Belleville Children's Aid Society, 63 Moira St. West, last week at the request of her mother and will remain a ward of the society until the mother is able to look after her.

Separated from her husband last spring, Sally's mother tried desperately to care for her baby and herself by working nights. She would tuck Sally in a laundry hamper and cart her along to work where she would be deposited in a corner nearby.

Accommodation became a problem. Sally's mother could not afford to pay the rent for their apartment, so she had to look elsewhere. After searching high and low, with no success, the mother and daughter took refuge with Sally's grandparents. Her grandfather was partially crippled by arthritis. The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society's mobile unit paid him a visit once each week. Her grandmother was confined to bed because of old age and the Victorian Order of Nurses visited her every other day. When the VON couldn't visit they would send a volunteer member of the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

QUARTERS CRAMPED

Although living with her parents helped her along emotionally, Sally's mother soon found that living in the same house as her sisters, brothers-in-law and a few nephews rather cramped the small house.

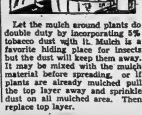
Once a week Sally's mother went to the YMCA where she was a member of a youth organization. Grandfather was tagged to babysit only once a week. The remaining six days Sally was fondly cared for by mother.

But eventually living in such cramped quarters, sleeping in a baby carriage that was much too small for her, loss of appetite and sleep, Sally became not a neglected child, because her mother was doing everything within her power to care for her, but an infant in need.

Her mother sought the help of the Children's Aid Society so that she might take the opportunity of getting another job which would pay much more. The sooner she is able to save some money and find suitable accommodation for two, the sooner Sally will be back with her mother. Meanwhile, she is being looked after in a foster home prescribed by the CAS.

APPEALS FOR SUPPORT

Here is what Robert G. Hamilton, secretary-manager of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, says about the 1956 Belleville Community Chest Campaign:



"Why do I like the Community Chest? Well, in the first instance I appreciate the work the various agencies are doing on my behalf. A community without the Navy League, Boy Scouts or YMCA does not seem to me to be a fit place to raise a family. The many facilities that these organizations have towards building leadership and discipline alone, are well worth my support.

"The Victorian Order of Nurses, who provide nursing care to all those in need, work from day to day asking nothing in returns except your ability to share in your responsibilities. No one realizes the important part that the St. John Ambulance, Children's Aid Society and The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society play in a community until tragedy strikes home. A near drowning, a broken family, or a sudden stricken affliction soon brings help to the aggrieved family.

"Yes, count me in for support to this United Appeal."

It may be mixed with the mulch material before spreading, or if plants are already mulched pull the top layer away and sprinkle dust on all mulched area. Then replace top layer.

Belleville Minor Hockey Association

The 1956-57 squirt and midget hockey schedules got under way at the Memorial Arena last night when no less than seven games were played, three midget and four squirt.

In the squirt division the Black Hawks shaded the Rangers 4-3, Canadiens whipped the Maple Leafs 4-1, Red Wings and Bruins fought to a 2-2 stalemate while the Barons edged the Browns 2-1. Midget action saw Teams One and Two fight to a 2-2 deadlock, Team Four downed Team Two 4-2, while Team Five scored a 5-3 victory over Team Six.

SQUIRT

Jan Morris and Wayne Green each tallied once for the Barons' triumph with Wayne Shandraw netting the lone Browns marker.

Larry Truman dented the twine twice to give the Bruins their tie. Bill Thomson and Jimmie Pointer were the Red Wing goalscorers.

The Canadiens rode to victory on a brace of goals by David Hurst with their other tallies going to Brian Smith and Paul Williams. John Smith saved the Maple Leafs from a shut out.

Donald McCormick fired the deciding goal in the Hawks 4-3 win. Gerry Muldoon, Perry Soulis and Michael Brennan also scored. David Rowbotham, Rickey Law and Billy Hallam each scored once for Rangers.

MIDGET

Team One scorers were Bob Ritchie and Bob MacKinsey with D. Clapp entering the assist. Don Rayeroft and Bucky Ehler tallied for Team Two.

Fred Smith led Team Four to victory with a pair of goals as team mate Regent scored one and assisted on another. B. Young also netted a goal with assists going to R. Walker, Bailey, T. Brawley, D. Follwell and Helvie. Team Five's one goal was netted by Ian Morris with Thompson and Pat Asselstine credited each. L. Westfall and L. Harvey tallied for Team Six while Westfall also had an assist.

Quinte Breeders Buy Prize Bull At Winter Fair

The Quinte District Cattle Breeding Association was a purchaser at the Holstein Sale of Stars held at the Royal Winter Fair. Seventeen of the 33 animals sold left Canada with buyers from Argentina, Japan, Salvador, Dominican Republic and Jamaica. Canadian buyers were from Ontario, Quebec and Alberta.

The local cattle breeding association bought a son of the famous Treasure Model from Elgin Cunningham, Brampton. The price was $3,400.

Y Activities

Swimming and water safety plays a major role in every YMCA physical program and each week in the Belleville YMCA, twenty-one instruction periods are conducted. The YMCA swimming program for boys and girls is divided into seven major sections, beginners swimming, intermediate swimming, speed swimming, diving, junior swimming instructor, life saving (junior and senior), and advanced swimming which includes life saving instructor, aquatic instructor and examiner. In the beginner swimming level consists of five tests, four local and one national test. Intermediate swimming level is made up of five stages with each stage covering water safety, swimming ability, correct stroke, diving and endurance swimming. At the present time three hundred and five YMCA boys and girls participate in the Belleville YMCA swimming program. Classes are under the supervision of Physical Director Jim Heffernan. Miss Jean Muirhead, Miss Heather Lewis, Mrs. A. Parkhurst, Miss Helena Morawick and Mr. Ron Poste.

PRESBYTERIAL EXECUTIVE

The executive committee of the Kingston Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church in Canada met in the ladies' parlor, St. Andrew's church, Kingston, on Monday.

Mrs. C. A. Smart, president, was in the chair, and members from various places were present.

The executive made arrangements for the annual meeting of th Presbyterial in St. Andrew's church, Belleville, on January 14, and made nominations for vacant offices.

After the meeting, the Kingston members of the visitors enjoyed a cup of tea and a chat.

Weddings

JEANS—VAUGHAN

TRENTON. (Special.) — The wedding was solemnized at St. George's Anglican church here on Saturday, November 3, when Helen Francis Vaughan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vaughan, 5 Flindall Street, Trenton, was united in marriage to P/O Paul Frances Graham Jeans, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Jeans of Horsham, England. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. F. Blatchford, rector of the church.

The bride, attired in a suit of rust cashmere wore beige accessories and carried a white Bible accented with a spray of tinted orchids. Her sister, Joan, acted as bridesmaid, wearing a beige lambs wool suit with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow Sweetheart roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Don Hanna.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received, dressed in navy silk with pink accessories and corsage of pink Sweetheart roses.

Later, the happy couple left for London, from where they will leave for a month's honeymoon in England. They will reside in London, Ontario.

Contact Club Packs Gift for Moose Factory

On Monday the Contact Club members packed their annual Christmas gift parcel for the Indian Residential School at Moose Factory, Ontario. The conveners in charge of this project were: Helen McCormick and Marjorie Bunnett. During the evening the remaining four layettes were packed in readiness to be sent to the Bishop of the Yukon for mission work in the diocese.

A new member, Aidame Elliott, was introduced and welcomed to the club. During the business part of the meeting a cheque was sent to the wardens of Christ Church to complete the payment for a new choir pew which has been a combined purchase on the part of Contact Club and the Men's Club. It was decided that in the coming year the Contact Club would present St. Margaret's with the hymn board for their new church. A message to this effect was sent to the rector of St. Margaret's, the Rev. L. A. Page. It was also decided that two pews be purchased to be used with the new visitors books which the Contact Club had given to Christ Church two weeks ago.

CHRISTMAS DONATIONS

A decision to give the usual Christmas donation to the Sunday Schools ended the business for the evening.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Frances Anderson, Mickie Lake and Trudy Sands.

November Designated as H-S Month by Provincial Executive

November has been designated as "Home and School Month", by the provincial executive of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations. Dr. W. J. Dunlop, Minister of Education, has given his support and approval and has issued the following letter to be read at Home and School meetings during the month:

"So greatly do I admire the excellent service rendered to education in Ontario by those two golden links, the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations Incorporated, and the Federation of Catholic Parent-Teacher Associations of Ontario, that I am delighted to give my support and approval to the idea of setting November of this year as the month for special attention to the great work carried on by the members of these two organizations.

"We all realize that the three foundation stones of our civilization are the home, the church, and the school and we also realize that in our day many parents are losing their grip and are trying to shelve their responsibilities to the school. The church is doing its best, though its opportunities are not as great as they used to be and some of its responsibilities are being transferred gradually to the school.

SCHOOL INFLUENCE GREAT

"The influence of the school upon the lives of our children is second only to that of the home, and it is essential that the efficiency of the schools shall be maintained at the highest level possible.

"This requires the close cooperation of parents, teachers and government to promote growth physically, mentally, and spiritually; that their lives may be fully developed and be capable of serving their country, their Maker, and their fellowman.

"Today I request all who are interested in education to devote as much time and attention as possible, during the month of November 1956, to this important phase of the preparation of the young people of this province for living a useful and a happy life."

Why a Home and School Association?

This is a good question and one that the Provincial Federation would like each and every member of Home and School to evaluate. There are seven associations in Belleville with approximately 1,200 members. Many schools in the surrounding district have attendant associations.

Looking beyond this radius, there are 1,400 Home and School Associations; 42 Councils; 133,000 members in Ontario and 283,700 in Canada.

Is the average member of a Home and School Association aware that he or she forms such a vital link in this chain?

AIMS, OBJECTS

The aims and objects and the code of ethics of the Home and School Association outline the highest ideals of parenthood.

The Home and School creed clearly states that each association should be concerned with all problems that relate to the welfare of the child, in the home, school and community.

That its great object should be to interest all people in all children and to link in a common purpose the home, school and other educative forces in the life of the child, to work for his highest good.

That is, should give service to the home by training for parenthood, and homemaking and to the school by adding parent-power to school-power.

That it should not be a means of entertainment, or charity or criticism of school authority. But a co-operative non-partisan, non-sectarian, non-commercial effort to produce Canadian citizens who shall be capable of perpetuating the best in the national life.

The principles which guide the Home and School Association are the embodiment of educational endeavor, social service, civic virtue, patriotism and ideals of world peace.

Councils are formed to serve as liasion between Associations and Federations; meetings are held bi-monthly and at these meetings topics are discussed, that need a united effort to accomplish. It also gives representatives the opportunity to meet with members of other Associations, and to learn what each is planning for future meetings.

P.S. ACCIDENT INSURANCE

One such accomplishment of the Central Council of Belleville and district and the combined efforts of each Home and School Association, was the introduction of an accident insurance plan for public school pupils; thus fulfilling a long felt need for protection and freedom from worry on the part of the parents.

As this plan was entirely voluntary and not restricted to members of Home and School Associations, it therefore was a community venture, with no reward to the council other than the expressed gratitude of the parents concerned.

The council president, Mrs. Charles Powell, is a member and representative of the Ontario Federation. The district organizer, Mrs. W. J. Stephenson, of Consmere, and Miss E. G. Collins of Peterborough area vice-president, are direct representatives of District No. 10 and attend all meetings of the Provincial Federation in Toronto.

It is their duty to organize new Home and School Associations within their area. They also attend council training programs for new executives held each year and many of numerous committees.

The Home and School Association was organized in Ontario in 1916 by Mrs. L. Courtice, who was the first president. Since then much has been done to emulate the ideals of that first association.

To quote Dr. S. R. Laycock, former Dean, College of Education, University of Saskatchewan, past president Canadian Federation of Home and School:

REASON FOR H-S ASSOC.

"A Home and School Association exists in order that teachers and parents may study together problems concerning the education of children. It should afford the principal and teachers a chance to give leadership to the parents in thinking through these problems and to enlist the latter's intelligent co-operation in the most complete development of the boys and girls. It is, therefore, a group study and discussion in which the teacher, as a professional educator, must be prepared to give a good deal of leadership and guidance. Parents must be willing to give of their time, energy and thought in organizing the association and seeing that it promotes the growth and development of children."

This group association all the while your child or children attend school. Support its officers and above all try to attend the monthly meetings.

Violin Playing Demonstrated At M.T. Association

The monthly meeting of the Music Teachers' Association was held Sunday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. F. E. Houston, president.

Following a short business session, the meeting took the form of a demonstration talk on violin playing by Mr. Barnett Taylor, assisted by his son, Raymond. Mr. Taylor dealt with his subject under three headings: problems of the beginner, (methods of sustaining musical interest.In the pupil while dealing with technical difficulties), development of rhythm; and a short recital of original compositions for two solo violins by Leclair, J. S. Bach and Mozart, illustrating the various technical points dealt with during his talk.

Mr. Barnett Taylor and Raymond shared the musical illustrations, with Raymond playing the pianoforte accompaniments in the first part of the talk.

During the social half - hour at the close, members were interested to hear Mr. D. Houston playing his Holman organ.

ADVICE To The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

THIS IS NONE OF YOUR BUSINESS

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I'm one of the many women who belong to various clubs.

Among the club members, I have a very dear friend who passed away three years ago. Since then her husband has been taking some of the other club members out to dinner. This, of course, is perfectly O.K., but when these women make sport of him and say there's no fool like an old fool—he's 70 years of age—he should be told.

One woman he's been seeing a lot of, has hinted that she spent 12 days with him last year in another state, and that he paid for a two-week vacation for herself and a friend this summer. She says she is going to use any means she can to marry him.

This man is well known in the business and financial worlds and runs a business with his sons. I'm well acquainted with his family and see a lot of his daughters, who have not as yet found out what's going on.

I've been trying to figure a way to let him know what's being said about him. Do you think I should write to him and tell him? I live in another town which is quite a distance away from where he lives. —M.S.

Dear M.S.: What this man does is absolutely none of your business, and you should keep out of it. If you've been allowing yourself to talk with other women about the gossip you hear, stop it at once, and if any gossip starts when you're present, squash the gossipers.

You may have an idea that your friendship with this man's deceased wife requires, or at least permits, you to try and keep her husband from letting women make a fool of him. But you'll do her memory a far greater service if you keep your hands off. The more people meddle in whatever is going on, the more unpleasant things can get so the kindest thing you can do is to stay out of it. You say you live quite a distance from where this man lives, so it's all the more reason.

And remember this: people are always gossiping about everything an eligible man does, especially a widower. He may be making a great big mountain out of a very small molehill.

BEAUTY

HOW TO KEEP LEATHER ACCESSORIES WELL GROOMED

Accessories are such an important part of any woman's costume that they should receive constant care. For by what small your tailored suit if blouse, gloves, hand bag and shoes are not spic and span? The whole picture is spoiled, isn't it?

Most girls allot at least one evening a week to wash and iron blouses, collars and cuffs, undies and other feminine frills, but they are not always so meticulous when it comes to shoes, bags and gloves. They should be, however—especially with so many of them now being washable these days. Let's consider gloves first:

If you're a leather glove fan, there are many leathers tanned to be washable. Doeskin, pigskin, chamois, kid and capeskin are among them. The secret of leather glove washing isn't just in the gentle sudsing. Try these tricks: wash them on your hands. Then, after the final lukewarm rinse, roll the gloves from the fingertips down-wards in a towel to expel moisture. Unroll and blow into them as if they were small balloons, then dry on a towel, flat or over the back. The final and most important step in leather glove care is this: before the gloves are completely dry, work them back on to your hands. (Be sure your hands are spotlessly clean!) Smooth to fit, ease them off gently, and allow to dry fully. You'll never have trouble with dried-up, hardened gloves if you remember this glove-care tip. If by chance you've let the gloves get dry, dampen them in a wet towel before working them on the hands. Or simply wet your hands and then use the moisture to work the gloves into softness and smoothness again.

Leather belts, bags and shoes can also be cleaned with gentle sudsing, but for suede accessories steaming is best. You can do a good job with these if you will hold the article about a foot from your steam iron, moving them, one at a time, of course, back and forth so that the steam permeates the whole fabric. On suede pocketbooks, badly worn spots can be freshened by rubbing gently with an emery board. While still damp from the steam, brush all suede articles with a soft brush or rubber sponge.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. EREECKMAN

PARENTS SAY THANKS TO DAUGHTER'S IN-laws

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband and I live on the East Coast, and at the present we are visiting our daughter here on the West Coast, where she has made her home since her marriage. We have just met her in-laws for the first time, and they have entertained us delightfully in many ways; such as visits to their country home, sightseeing drives, and other pleasures they have planned for us. Could you suggest in what manner we could show our appreciation after our return home? And please advise me about the letter of thanks I should send. — E.W.

You should show these kind people very special appreciation for such special hospitality. You and your husband will, of course, want to express your thanks for such thoughtfulness to your daughter and her husband will want to be proud of what you, her family, write and say thanks to his family. When you return home, you should, as soon as you possibly can, write a most enthusiastic letter to them first to thank in general for their warm hospitality and kind thoughtfulness, and, most importantly, mention specifically the special plans they made for your happiness.

Write what a wonderful time you had on your visit to their country home, mentioning highlights of this visit; what thrilling and memorable occasions were the sightseeing drives (mention certain sights that impressed you particularly); what a joy it was to meet their friends; ful friends (if you had occasion to do this).

They didn't skimp on their kindness to you...don't you skimp on your show of appreciation to them. They would, too, be pleased and proud to have you tell them that, in knowing them, and being with them so happily on this visit, you can even more understand your daughter's wonderful happiness in having them for her in-laws.

Then I think you and your husband should send each of these good and kind people an interesting and carefully-chosen present. It might be something that is a specialty of the place where you live, or it may be an article you think they would especially welcome and find useful as a personal gift or a gift for their home.

HILLIER — Mrs. Lewis Wright kindly opened her home for the November meeting of the Rose Hall W.A. which was held on the evening of Nov. 7.

The president, Mrs. A. Wannamaker, presided and welcomed the members and thanked the hostess for entertaining the group.

Mrs. L. McCartney acted as pianist and Mrs. W. Cunningham officiated as secretary in the absence of both the secretary and her assistant.

Mrs. Wanamaker expressed a few thoughts on Remembrance Day and read a poem. The collect-note was read from Mrs. Noble Young for the basket to Robert.

Business session dealt with many items. The pot-luck supper is to be held Nov. 30 and quilting at Mrs. A. Wanamaker's on Wednesday, Nov. 21. A sum of $10. provided for Sunday School.

Mrs. L. McCartney was in charge of the Devotional. Mrs. Ross Pierson gave a talk on Remembrance and closed with a hymn, followed by prayer.

Mrs. G. Vandusen held a contest. Mrs. L. Channel winning the favor. Mrs. Wight, assisted by Mrs. W. Young served refreshments. The Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. B. Ried.

Emem's 1956 Fruit Cake (light-dark)

By Mary Moore

I hope there is space for the cake picture I am including with each one of these releases— the recipe for which I am giving you today.

The photographer and I sweated under those lamps for hours —not to mention the hours it took me to make and bake a total of 20 lbs. of fruit cake in my kitchen. I tried three different recipes. I felt though, before I started, that this one would be what I would decide on. I have had eager tasting help from all of my trusty cohorts: Peady, Pete, Eleanor, Barb and a new one has joined the ranks —Danny. Marianne and Herbie haven't reported from Calgary yet because they have not received their sample —but I'll let you know. When Gary's consulted won't it be fun? So far he seems to be an expert taster!

One thing I want to point out is that I left the blanched almonds while. I like the look of them, and after a month's ripening they soften enough to cut neatly when the cake is sliced. Some of you will want to chop the almonds —so decide yourselves.

EMEM'S 1956 FRUIT CAKE

(Light-dark)

These amounts make 5 1-2 lbs and fill 2 loaf pans or 1 10-inch tube pan. Fruits and nuts coat $4.75. The night before cake is baked prepare and mix together the fruits and nuts: 1 lb. candied pineapple cut very thin in strips, 1 lb. each blanched almonds left whole, and golden seedless raisins 1-3 lb. each glace cherries (I used 1-4 lb. each red and green), finely cut citron peel, large seeded raisins, 1-4 lb. each cut lemon peel, cut orange peel and nice clean currants, washed and dried. Pour over these 1-4 cup pineapple juice and let stand covered, overnight. In the morning cream together very well, 1-4 lb. butter and 1 cup each white and brown sugar until all is light and fluffy. Beat in, one at a time, five large or six medium-sized eggs, and 1 teaspoon almond flavoring. Sift together 2 cups sifted cake flour, 1-2 teaspoon each cinnamon, mace and baking soda. (Amounts of spices may be increased if you like your cake to taste spicy.) Sprinkle 1-2 cup of this flour mixture over the fruits and mix it through them. Sprinkle remainder of flour mixture over butter-egg mixture and mix it in very well to make a smooth batter. Using clean hands mix this batter thoroughly through the fruits, being sure all fruit pieces are broken apart. Prepare 2 loaf pans or 1 tube pan by lining with four thicknesses of wax paper. Butter the last one well. Press in batter well, especially at corners. Bake at 275 deg. Fahr. with waterpan in oven throughout baking—replenishing water as needed. Baking time is about four hours. My blessings on you.

W.M.S.

MELROSE — Mrs. E. Pascoe, Sr. was hostess to the members of Melrose W.M.S. on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Bates, Sr., vice-president was in charge of the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Morgan who continues quite ill.

Silent prayer was observed for the recovery of Mrs. Morgan. Mrs. S. Demille read a hymn. Mrs. E. Embury read the Scripture lesson from Ephesians.

Mrs. Bates conducted the question period as outlined in the missionary monthly with several ladies expressing their views on the questions.

Mrs. Lorne Weese gave a fitting "Remembrance Day" reading "Blessed are the Peace Makers."

Mrs. Bates closed the Worship service with prayer.

Business period was conducted. Mrs. Jeffrey requested that the reports of the various secretaries be handed in at the next meeting. Mrs. Milligan asked the members to report at the next meeting the number of books they had read during the year.

The Pie Social was cancelled and collectors were appointed to call at the home for a free will offering instead.

The treasurer, Miss McLaren gave her report.

Mrs. R. MacFarlane, Christian Stewardship secretary gave a reading "Enumerate Your Blessings. Mrs. E. M. Badger gave several suggestive questions on "Temperance".

PROGRAM

Mrs. J. Milligan, group leader took charge of the following program: Mrs. E. Embury gave a reading, "The Great Reward". Mrs. T. Howard read, "The Strength of a Nation Lies in Helping the Have-Nots." Taking a chapter from the Study Book, "East from Burma," Mrs. Milligan told about conditions in Malaya and Indonesia. The period of terror and hunger during the Japanese attack had left the people with little strength for the heavy labor of repairing and rebuilding homes, churches, schools, manse and mission residences but with the help of the Japanese war prisoners whom the military leaders put to work, order was restored.

The years of fighting had cleared Western missionaries from the country. Some were dead, some had gone home, some were assigned to tasks elsewhere. Health conditions were poor, guerilla warfare sent people crowding into the cities.

CHURCH GOES FORWARD

During this period of disunity, poverty and need, the united church chose to go forward. A National Council of churches was founded. It decided to ask missionaries to come back to train these people to become leaders, for their own people. Indonesian Christians are exploring new paths as well as following the old.

To lift the level of living among these people is a moral and a spiritual problem and one of the greatest opportunities in modern missionary work. "We cannot plant the Western church in Asia. We can hope to plant Christ's church in Asia.

Mrs. Don. MacFarlane concluded the program with the reading of "On the Food Front in Malaya."

Refreshments were served by the hostess and a social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. Bates, on behalf of the members, tendered the hostess a vote of thanks for her hospitality for the afternoon.

The Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Chas. Bates Sr. to which all ladies are invited.

DISTRICT WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

BEULAH UNITED W.M.S.

IVANHOE — Beulah United W.M.S. held a successful bazaar and tea last Friday evening in the town hall.

The hall was decorated with mums and other autumn flowers. Mrs. Gordon McIntyre and Mrs. Earl Benson received the guests as they arrived. Mrs. S. Priest, first vice-president, presided and extended a warm welcome to all.

Mrs. Twiddy gave the call to worship. Following the singing of "In Christ There is No East or West." Mrs. George Wood read St. Mark 14, 4-25. The offering was presented by Mrs. Twiddy, who led in the offertory prayer. A reading, "The Meaning of Missions," was given by Mrs. Don Reid. Mrs. Hugh MacMillan offered prayer.

The following program was presented by the visiting societies: readings: "Say Something Good," Mrs. Lorne Hagerman, Salem W.A.; "Missions," Mrs. E. Colden; St. Thomas Anglican W.M.S.; duet, "I Jesus Came To Your House," Mrs. Cecil Holland and Mrs. Elwin Hollands, Bethesda W.A.; piano solo, Mrs. Lindsay Sills, St. Andrew's Presbyterian; solo, "Grateful Lord Am I," Mrs. William Wilkins, St. Paul's United, Stirling; and piano solo, "Star of the East," Mrs. Albert Empey, Trinity United, Madoc.

Mrs. Twiddy then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. R. W. T. Middleton of Plainfield. The subject of Mrs. Middleton's missionary address was Christian Stewardship.

The advance of Christian Stewardship is one of the major concerns of the church. The early Christians were persecuted. Christopher Wren was ridiculed for his lofty aspirations and William Wilberforce for his work among the slaves. Christ was crucified. Yet all these great and good people kept right on doing what they knew to be right. Do they not inspire us?

Stewardship to the church is like the blood stream to our body. It is life-giving and far-reaching. The speaker told of four pulsations of Stewardship — personality, the time people spend, talents and money.

Christian personality is living the life of Christ and speaking the words of Christ. This is a precious possession as every woman knows. There is nothing needed more in church life than people with Christian personalities.

How much time do people give to the work of the church? Many have God-given voices but no time to give to choir practise, especially if this conflicts with other things they would rather do. How much time do people give to prayer? No one is naturally good at public prayer. Do Christians remember to say Grace at meal time?

Family worship is almost as extinct as the dodo. Yet family worship was a natural thing for our ancestors. Do not make excuses, but the torch was handed on to us from the hands of good fathers and mothers. Let us keep faith with them, the speaker noted.

People often find the person with one talent does much more good than the one who has seven and dissipates here. Mary's talent was sympathy and love. She was paid the most wonderful compliment, the greatest words ever said to a woman, "She hath done what she could."

Jesus taught "It is more blessed to give than to receive." The giving of our offering is the outward sign of inward dedication. This is a spiritual part of the service. Do not give according to your meanness, but according to your means.

This is love in action. Christianity is more than morality. Christian stewardship demands a person to give his whole life into Christ's keeping.

Mrs. Middleton's address was interspersed with apt quotations from Shakespeare, Emmerson and other poets. It was also marked with humor, warmth and earnestness.

Mrs. H. MacMillan, on behalf of Beulah W.M.S. members, expressed grateful thanks to Mrs. Middleton and to all the visiting societies.

A tea was served by Beulah W.M.S. members.

The bazaar was then opened and soon each table was surrounded by eager buyers. The articles for sale were attractively arranged.

The candy table was in charge of Mrs. Sidmer Reid and Mrs. Ross Twiddy, who had no trouble disposing of their wares.

The home baking table was convened by Mrs. E. McMaster and Mrs. Don Reid. Tarts and pies of various kinds, tea biscuits, nut loaves, buns, cup cakes, cookies, layer cakes, both chocolate and white, were quickly sold.

Mrs. E. MacMillan, Mrs. J. Lawson and Mrs. J. Wickins were in charge of a colorful flower booth. Here fine display were 'mums, guarigolds, African violets and numerous other plants. Fruits and vegetables were also sold here.

Mrs. George Wood and Mrs. Goldie McInroy convened the fancy work and sewing table. Aprons of every color, shape and size; children's dresses, pajamas pot holders, knitted articles and mitts, slippers, an array of crochet work, braided mats and many novelties were found at this table.

The proceeds amounted to $90.

Mrs. S. Prest provided quiet music and presided at the piano throughout the program.

DESERONTO E.A.

DESERONTO — The Evening Association of Deseronto United Church held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Ayles with a good attendance.

The president, Mrs. R. K. Jackson, was in charge. Each member brought a Christmas gift, to be sent to the Earlscourt Children's Home, in Toronto. Mrs. Ross read the Scripture lesson, the Parable of the Sower.

Mrs. Charles Cole, who had attended the W.A. Bay of Quinte conference held at Bowmanville, gave a report of this meeting, the theme of which was "Women Made Ready."

The usual business followed. Reports were given by the treasurer and flower convenor and also by Mrs. D. Dawson, convenor of the recent turkey dinner.

Mrs. Charles Cole reported on the canvass made by the trustee board. Mrs. Ross Rendell, stewardship convenor, read suitable selections. Plans were made for a booth at the W.A. bazaar to be held November 30, the convenors being Mrs. S. Brown and Mrs. Punchliffe.

As the election of officers takes place at the December meeting, a nominating committee was appointed, consisting of Mrs. Ross Rendell, Mrs. S. Brown and Mrs. J. Cochrane. The meeting is to be held at the parsonage. A vocal duet was given by Mrs. B. Herrington and Mrs. William Schell, and a piano solo by Miss Patsy Hambly.

A social half-hour followed and refreshments were served by the hostess and the committee for the month.

MARSH HILL W.M.S.

MARSH HILL — The November meeting of Marsh Hill W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Alex Tanner with 14 members present.

The president, Mrs. L. Finkle, opened the meeting with a reading followed by prayer.

One member contributed to the birthday box. A letter was read from 15b presbyterial literature secretary, Mrs. Pierce Jones. Mrs. Darke gave a few highlights from the rally at Bethel-ion. The members reported sending 33 cards and making 10 calls and at hospital visits. Mrs. Walter Lindfield rendered a temperance reading, "Be not conformed, but transformed." Mrs. Searles, stewardship secretary, read the "Secret of One Talent."

Mrs. Dave Hollinger reported the bale was ready to send. Mrs. Bartindale presided over the worship service, "A Dwelling Place of God." Mrs. Alex Tanner read the Scripture, Ephesians Chap. 1, verses 22 and 23; Chap. 4, verses 4-8 and 11-16.

The questions for discussion were presented to the group. Mrs. R. B. Finkle read Chapter 3 of Ephesians, verses 14-21, and gave a few thoughts. Mrs. Bartindale read, "Just Suppose," and closed with prayer.

Mrs. Berson Mills gave the chapter from the study book, assisted by Mrs. Hollinger, Mrs. Darke and Mrs. Tanner. After the benediction the hostess served refreshments.

St. Andrew's WMS Hears Talk On Br. Guiana

The regular monthly meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held jointly with the Evening Auxiliary on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Weir presiding.

The meeting opened with a call to worship and prayer followed by reading of minutes and treasurer's report, showing an increase in givings over the same period last year.

The president mentioned the New Organization called, "Children of the Church", led by Mrs. Cummins and asked that all children between six and eight years attend.

All officers were asked to prepare reports of the year's work to be read at the December meeting.

The worship service was conducted by Mrs. Brain and Mrs. Cummins of the Evening Auxiliary followed by a solo, "The Ninety and Nine," sung by Mrs. Ivan Rollins.

Mrs. MacLean introduced the speaker, the Rev. John Elder, Missionary in British Guiana for 15 years, who told in an interesting way the work of missionaries and teachers in that country, his subject being, "Changing Patterns of Missionary Endeavor in British Guiana".

"The country is in a transition period of handing down responsibilities of both church and state to the natives, who are of many races and colors.

"Economic conditions are improving, and beautiful pictures were shown to prove it.

Mrs. Parsons expressed to Mr. Elder the thanks and appreciation of those present and a social half-hour followed.

Club Activities

MARSH HILL M.B.

MARSH HILL — The November meeting of Marsh Hill Mission Band was held last Thursday night at the school house with 13 members and four mothers present.

The president, Marilyn Finkle, opened the meeting with the reading, "We Thank Thee for Happy Homes," and all sang the hymn, "Can A Little Child Like Me." Elizabeth Finkle read the Scripture, the 95th Psalm.

Mrs. Leslie Finkle read a story, "Frisky's Pantry," after which Elizabeth Finkle sang, "Love Makes Us Friendly." The roll call was answered with a verse of Scripture. After the singing of a hymn, Gwenda Detlor read a poem, "Trees," which had been written by a soldier. Mrs. Detlor presented the chapter from the study book, "The Borrowed Camp."

Harold Finkle read a prayer before the meeting closed.

Library Corner

(By O. D.)

YOUNG CANADA'S BOOK WEEK

Young Canada's Book Week is being celebrated from coast to coast during the week of Nov. 15-22. It is a community effort to bring better books to more children and to encourage the reading of worthwhile books at home, at school and at the library.

Good books can give to children enjoyment, fun, knowledge, a true sense of values, understanding of themselves, and others and a widening of experiences.

To acquaint adults with the fine children's books now available, special display will be held in the "Boys' and Girls' Room" of the Corby Public Library from Nov. 15-23. All parents are cordially invited to visit the library to see this collection of good books recommended for their children.

The patron of Young Canada's Book Week this year is Mr. Edgar Osborne, an eminent librarian of Great Britian. In 1920, he began to make a collection of attractively illustrated children's books published in England in the 19th century.

As the years passed, his interest in children's literature widened, and he gathered together a representative collection of children's books in rare and early editions. In 1949, he presented this priceless collection to Boys' and Girls' House, Toronto, in memory of his wife. Mr. Osborne is expected to arrive in Canada about Nov. 1, and will be widely interviewed.

Articles are scheduled to appear in several national and regional magazines during the month of November, publicizing the Week. The CBS network and independent stations across the country carry programs in both French and English.

'For Every Child A Chance to Live' Parish Guild Talk

The regular monthly meeting of Christ Church Parish Guild was held on Tuesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. F. Bishop, welcomed the large gathering which included visitors from St. George's Guild and several other guests. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Valiant Hearts" and an appropriate Remembrance Day poem and prayer read by Mrs. A. Womacott.

Reports were given by conveners of several committees and discussion of future projects of the Guild followed. The Christmas gift committee will include Mrs. C. Bishop, Mrs. Kempton and Mrs. Lemmlen. The nominating committee, Mrs. Hickey, Mrs. Colling and Mrs. Womacott were asked to have their slate of officers ready for the December meeting. This meeting will take the form of a potluck luncheon and Christmas party.

Jessie Dawson spoke for the Retarded Children's Home at Plainfield, stressing the need for used clothing, toys and children's furniture. Marguerite Cooke, representing the Contact Club, displayed gift packages of nuts which this club is selling as a project for their group.

GUEST SPEAKER

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Miss Marlene Brant of the Children's Aid Society, who chose as her subject "For every child, a chance to live." Miss Brant was introduced by Mrs. E. Follwell, a member of the board of the society, and also an active member of the Guild.

Miss Brant impressed and delighted her listeners with her natural and straight-forward picture of the work of the Children's Aid Society. She said that there are three types of workers needed for a complete program: The protective workers helps families to make use of assistance which is available in the community, such as the mother's allowance, disabled persons' allowance, the V.O.N. and city relief. Many people in trouble do not know about these and it is the task of the protective workers to use them to help keep families together. The child-care worker is occupied with the finding of suitable foster homes for children.

Another important job is that of the adoption worker who finds permanent homes for those children who may be adopted.

Miss Brant stated that there is great variation in child welfare throughout the country. It may be just a social moving van, simply removing children from unsuitable homes and doing very little constructive work or it may strive for the re-establishing of families and offer helpful guidance to harassed parents. The Society is often asked, "Can parents change?" and the answer is "yes if help is wisely and persistently given." Most people really desire to be good parents and only as a last resort are children removed from their homes.

Miss Brant illustrated her talk with several interesting real-life cases, showing that, although at first, people were inclined to sit back and allow workers to shoulder their problems, as time goes on and circumstances improve, they begin to show enthusiasm and cease complaining of their unfortunate lot.

WELL-TRAINED SOCIAL WORKER

The social worker must be well trained and be endowed with patience and a keen interest and concern for people's welfare. Emotional ills are not easily recognized but they leave scars which need treatment given with professional skill. Tens of thousands of children come under the protection of the Children's Aid every year and the services given by the Society are determined by what the average citizen is willing to pay for.

Miss Brant concluded her remarks by saying that "no human being can come into the world without leaving his mark for good or ill and that our duty lies in providing a fair chance for all to have a happy life."

Thanks for this splendid talk were expressed by Mrs. H. Bateman.

After the meeting adjourned refreshments were served by Mrs. Bateman, Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Hickey.

STIRLING

100 Attend 'Community Night' Held in River Valley School House

STIRLING — Over 100 people gathered at River Valley school last Friday evening when "Community Night" was held, and the trustees were tendered appreciation for the work accomplished this summer.

Land was purchased for a new, improved playground which has been well fenced. A well was dug 23 feet and then drilled by Mr. J. Fraser of Marmora, another 53 feet, making a total of 76 feet. Messrs. Kenneth Morrow and Harry Morrow operated a bull-dozer and dug a fifteen foot well and a special tunnel to the school. The water is now pumped to the school taps. The pressure pump was installed by Ernest Wannamaker, of Stirling, and the pump was wired by Eldridge Richardson.

The ventilators under the school were prepared by the trustees, Gerald Richardson, Glenn Morrow and Glenn Bush.

The Riverside Construction, under the management of Jack Bush, installed two lovely new front doors at the east. A fire escape door was made at the south of the school using a former window. Here double doors were installed, one of which is a combination. Cement steps and a railing made this exit quite attractive.

The four-foot wainscoting on the wall and the floor were covered with vapor paper and insulboard to preserve the heat. The wainscoting was then covered with plywood and a maple floor was laid. This should make a very comfortable room in zero weather.

Jack Bush was assisted by Ernest Rosebush, Tony Jonkman, Floyd Bartlett, Jim Park and others.

The finishing and painting was completed by Elburn Bradshaw and a telephone was installed as a convenience in time of accident or illness.

All these improvements have put S.S. No. 19, Sidney, in an outstanding situation. River Valley Institute has made many improvements throughout the years with their cupboards, tables, chairs and piano.

NICELY ARRANGED ROOM

The school room was nicely arranged for this occasion and a large bouquet of Autumn blooms added beauty.

Mr. Harry Morrow was chairman and extended a welcome to all. During the program he gave several reminiscent tales of bygone school days.

The pupils of the school stood on the platform and all sang "O Canada." Mrs. Harry Morrow was pianist for the various Institute numbers. The pupils contributed a chorus, "Glad Hosanas to Our King," with Miss Helen Morrow playing the accompaniment.

Mrs. Kenneth Morrow read "A Little Word of Praise." Mrs. Percy MacMullen read (for an absent member) a poem entitled, "Old Fashioned Thanksgiving." The juniors sang "Proper Kittens" and "Travelling on Buses." Miss Linda Ann Morrow sang "The Mocking Bird, and the Willow Tree," with her mother as accompanist.

St. Paul's male quartet, Messrs Harry Brown, Bryce Philp, Grant Richardson and Cecil Bush, with Mrs. B. Glendinning as accompanist, rendered "Hark While We Sing," and "God's Heaven." Later on in the program they favored with, "Down by The Riverside" and "Now the Day is Over."

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Mrs. Roy Bush, president River Valley Women's Institute, in her address emphasized the pleasures and good things of rural living and gave a graphic picture of the advantages in the country. She also stressed that loyalty to the local community is a necessary factor as in that way the country folk with their pleasures will not be absorbed by urban centres.

The first settlers came to the Trent river in 1790 and in 1851 the present River Valley public school was built, and it was the fourth school. Each building improved on the first primitive log hut. When this school was built "River Valley" was the name chosen and the community has held the name for 78 years. In this section the school is an anchor and to each one a great responsibility.

Trustees are important people, and they should have good judgment, good common sense, a mind of their own, and a clear vision of the needs of today.

Mrs. Bush spoke of two and three generations of trustees with many family names such as Hanna, Rosebush, Sager, Donohoe, Irven, Heasman, Vandervoort, Park, Smith, Chard, Utman and others. The present trustees, Messrs. Glenn Morrow, Gerald Richardson and Glenn Bush and their wives were given an ovation.

The present school was built in 1851, and the trustees were Messrs. Charles Morrow, Omar Ferguson, and S. R. Smith.

A large number of the descendants of the late Charles Morrow were asked to stand and they were given an ovation and also all the trustees in the audience.

The architect was John Fortin the carpenter, Hiram Smyth; and the mason was Benjamin Milkes. The cost was $525.

This community night was centred around appreciation for a rural community with its rural living. Mrs. Bush thanked the committee, Mrs. Ed. Heasman, Mrs. John Kane, Mrs. Thomas Hanna and Mrs. J. R. Donohoe for their assistance.

The chairman gave reminiscence of school days when he had only had two teachers, Joseph Frayer and Miss Walden.

Mr. Ed. Heasman expressed thanks to the Riverside Construction group, to plumber, electrician and painter on behalf of the ratepayers.

He felt it had been a job done well. He wished Jack to thank the carpenters who had assisted with the job. Thanks were also extended to the teacher, Mrs. Reg. Coombes and to the trustees. Several of the workmen reside in the valley and had been former pupils at the school.

The intermediate children sang "Bon Fires", "An Autumn Song" and "Jack Frost", under the direction of the music supervisor, Miss Grace Pitman.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. R. Coombes introduced the guest speaker, Mr. A. Cumming, Belleville, public school inspector for Sidney township. He had received his education in Toronto.

Mr. Cumming spoke on the theme "The Place the School Plays in a Rural Community." He congratulated ratepayers, school trustees, and River Valley Institute on their achievement and spoke of the world community. He also referred to the fine atmosphere that prevails at S.S. No. 19 and said he had recommended that River Valley school receive the 1956 award for best improvement.

He also gave a picture of the educational program when there were only 10,000 people in the province of Ontario.

LAND GRANTS

In 1797 land grants were given to establish grammar schools and 30 years later a charter was given to establish Upper Canada College. At that time schools were needed to prepare people for the professions and for work in government positions.

Life in the country was vigorous, travelling was difficult and few books were available. In 1880 elementary schools were established, and the government assisted in paying teachers' salaries.

The speaker described a typical school of log structure, with rough benches, pail and dipper, fire place, and an adequate supply of birch rods. There were a few text books and the Bible was the most important book used in the six months of school. The teacher had no professional training and in those pioneer days the slogan was learn to obey, and be seen and not heard. He gave a resume of how arithmetic was taught.

Then came expansion of railroads, postage facilities improved; Edgerton Ryerson, who is known as the father of education in Ontario, set up central authority, with established courses of study. At this time Normal school were instituted and free education for all children was planned with ratepayers instead of parents paying the cost.

The oral "Question and Answer" was the ideal teaching system and education was voluntary.

Today there is compulsory education, with a long list of textbooks and the school year is ten months. There are large, well-equipped schools, good lights and lost of improvements. Over a million children are enrolled and $80 billion is provided in school grants, also new class rooms are added. Today every child has a right to a secondary education. There is recognition of the fact that children differ in their abilities, and the new curriculum gives the teacher a great variety of ways of teaching.

It is a proven fact that one child cannot learn as well as another, and for that reason courses in guidance have been established, as well as special methods of group teaching.

The speaker outlined the unit system, the changed ideas in teaching and said the specific thought is to develop good citizens.

BETTER EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM NEEDED

There is a need for a better educational program for tomorrow. He spoke of the serious shortage of teachers, the need for volunteers to work on the school board.

In closing he said, "Our children are our responsibility, and our hope for the future. We must refuse to be satisfied with second best. Our children must have better than what we had."

Mrs. Jack Bush voiced thanks to Mr. Cumming for his address and graciously welcomed Mrs. Cummins. Mr. Glenn Morrow spoke briefly and thanked Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hanna for making it possible to procure additional land for the playground.

Messrs. Gerald Richardson and Glenn Bush each spoke briefly. There are 37 pupils attending the River Valley school.

The senior group of children sang four selections: "Indian Summer," "Land of Spain," "Song of Gladness," and "Hymn of Praise."

TRIBUTE OF SILENCE

In commemoration of Remembrance Day the audience stood and observed a period of silence, after which Miss Eleanor Bush read, "In Flanders Fields."

Mr. Walter Lindenfield sang "I Hear Yous Calling Me," and "Where the West Begins."

Mrs. Percy MacMullen expressed a gracious thank-you on behalf of the Institute to each and every one who had made the evening a success.

Mr. G. B. Bedford also voiced thanks on behalf of those who live outside River Valley community for the enjoyable evening.

The school sang in massed formation "O Valiant Hearts," followed by the National Anthem.

The committee in charge served refreshments and all enjoyed a social half hour. Mrs. Bush received many compliments on the nice arrangements of such an event and her ivision in planning for it.

NOW! A New Bath and Beauty Soap with a Deodorant right in it!

Stops perspiration odour for a full 24 hours or more - beautifies your skin at the same time!

Look for DAWN in the blue foil wrapper.

New Dawn—the bath and beauty soap with a deodorant right in it—keeps you morning-fresh, bath-fresh all day long.

The secret? Dawn contains Deodorine, an exclusive new deodorant. With regular and exclusive use, Dawn checks the action of odour-causing skin bacteria for a full 24 hours or longer.

An underarm deodorant is not enough! Dawn bathes away the cause of perspiration odour—keeps you morning-fresh all over. And this is important, because you perspire all over.

Dawn beautifies your skin, too. Dawn cleanses thoroughly, gently. And Deodorine checks the action of the skin bacteria which cause skin blemishes. New Dawn helps keep your complexion satin-smooth, soft, radiant. Dawn is extra mild.

You've never used anything like new Dawn—the bath and beauty soap with a deodorant right in it. Dawn is delicately fragrant, mild and gentle—your whole family will love it. Be sure to try new Dawn right away.

DAWN WITH DEODORINE Keeps you morning fresh all day long!

Don't irritate child's intestines with "too-strong laxatives"

Science at last has developed Children's Own Tablets for your child's particular needs — in strength for grown-ups but mild as mother's milk for children.

Many modern health authorities agree that the tender walls of your child's intestines, unlike those of grown-ups, are highly sensitive to harsh, irritating laxatives. Yet, for the children, laxatives are often the only ones given by children. They work, but they irritate the intestinal passageways to the detriment. Medical science has at last developed Children's Own Tablets especially for children's needs. Children's Own Tablets are mild, non-habit forming, easy to take! Relieve upset tummy, too. Try Children's Own tablets tonight, for the reason that Baby's Own Tablets, for if they are not the right one for your child's health.

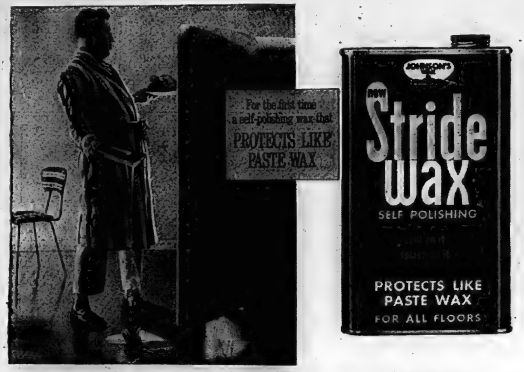
Ivanhoe

IVANHOE — A memorial service honoring the heroic dead of two world wars was held in Bethesda United Church last Sunday evening, and was largely attended.

Huntingdon township veterans met at the Orange Hall. A parade marshalled by Don McFadden proceeded to the church. An impressive service was conducted by the Rev. W. H. Stobbart of Madoc, who spoke from the text, Genesee 4-10. "And He said what has thou done? The voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto Me from the ground."

The congregation joined in singing hymns, "O God Our Help in Ages Past" and "Abide with Me". "O Valiant Hearts" was sung by the choir.



EMBROIDERY FOR IKE

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—An embroidered portrait of President Eisenhower will be presented to the president when Foreign Minister George Yeh goes to the United States later this month. The portrait was embroidered by the wife of a Chinese army colonel.

BIG INDUSTRY

Sales of Canadian farm implements and equipment were valued at $155,000,000 wholesale, in 1955.

Isn't that just like a man? You can be sure this spilled water won't get wiped up till morning. ◆ But take heart, ladies! With Stride—a magnificent new Johnson's Wax—on your floors, a damp cloth whisks away spill spots, even if left for hours!

SPILL ON IT, SPLASH ON IT, PUNISH IT —JUST AN EASY ONCE-OVER RESTORES THE LUSTRE, WITHOUT RE-WAXING!

No wonder the swing is to Johnson's Stride! For in Stride women have found at last a self-polishing wax that actually protects like paste wax. You just spread Stride on—it dries to a rich wax lustre. And from then on, spills wipe up without a trace, even after they've dried. A little buffing erases scuff marks.

Your usual damp mopping actually brightens the lustre... brings back Stride's beauty again and again, without re-waxing! So you wax less often. That means fewer of those back-breaking scrub-ups before waxing, too...that's what Stride can mean to you! Why don't you join the swing to Johnson's Stride?

UN POLICE

Squarely confronting the operation are the conflicting stands of Egypt and British, France and Israel on the role of force.

Egypt demands that the British, French and Israeli invasion forces withdraw immediately, that the UN force take up positions along the 1949 Egyptian-Israeli armistice lines, and that Egypt resume full control of the Suez Canal.

Britain and France say their troops now holding the north third of the Suez Canal will give up that area only to the UN force. They also have indicated that they expect the UN to put the canal back into operation and to control it until a settlement with Egypt.

Israel has given every indication that it will not pull out of the Gaza Strip, which had been under Egyptian control since the end of the 1948 Palestine war. The strip was seized after Israeli forces plunged into Egypt Oct. 29.

FEAR INTERVENTION

Hanging over this barrier of disagreement is the fear of intervention by Communist "volunteers."

The report that Nasser had asked for such help came from an Arab diplomatic source in the Soviet capital. It was not confirmed by the Egyptian Embassy in Moscow.

The New York Times say in a dispatch from Cairo that official sources in the Egyptian capital denied that Egypt had asked the Soviet Union to send "volunteers" to Egypt at this time.

The dispatch quotes one source as adding that Egypt "naturally" had not repudiated offers from the Soviet Union, Communist China or any other power to send "volunteers" if Nasser felt they were needed. But since there now was a cease-fire, with UN forces ordered to the scene, Egypt felt no need for the entry of foreign "volunteers."

BUDAPEST REBEL

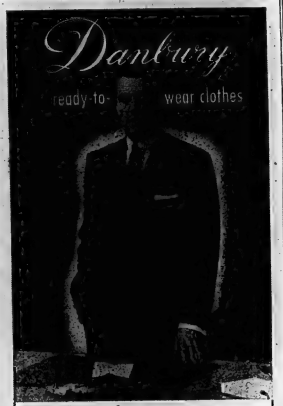
Meanwhile, in a desperate attempt to end the general strike paralyzing the country, the Soviet-imposed government announced a mass purge of former top Communists and expressed approval of limited "free" elections "at a later date."

Budapest Radio said Kadar had told a large delegation of workers last his government has no objections to free elections at a later date. But the only parties allowed to participate would be those which "stand for Socialist principles and serve the interests of the workers."

The premier reiterated his previous stand that negotiations for the withdrawal of the Russian forces from Hungary can only be opened after order and peace have been restored.

GUNS SILENCED

The rebel guns were silent in Budapest today following the end of armed resistance at the big plants on Csepel Island, in the Danube just south of the capital. But the workers there, after downing their guns, joined in the general strike.



Undaunted by the Soviet tanks and troops lining the roads to Csepel, the workers there held a mass meeting demanding the ouster of the Kadar government and the reinstatement of Nagy.

The former Communist party first secretary, Ernce Gerce, and former Premier Andras Hegedues headed the list of those purged by the new regime. Budapest Radio said they had been barred "forever" from any public and party activity and "advised to resume their former jobs" in private life.

STARK FUTURE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A west coast noise symposium decided Monday that this fast-growing city is four times noisier than it was 20 years ago. At this rate, said Dean Vern Knudsen, vice-chancellor of the University of California, the noise level will be "virtually lethal" in another 20 years.

Relief Supplies for Hungary Flooding Red Cross Offices

LONDON (AP)—A veteran welfare worker looked at the small mountain of Hungarian relief supplies blocking the Red Cross office and shook her head in wonder.

"It has been a long time since England saw anything like this," she said. "Certainly not since the east coast floods of 1953."

Throughout Western Europe, welfare workers are telling the same story. The free world, they say, is sending the shirt off its back and the ring off its finger to help Hungarian refugees and other victims of the Russian repression.

More than $10,000,000 in money has been given or pledged in voluntary contributions, and the amount is rising by the hour.

Thousands of tons of medicine, food, clothing and other supplies have already been sent to Budapest or points along the Hungarian border. A vast backlog of additional supplies is clogging relief depots throughout West Europe.

THROUGH AUSTRIA

Most of this material is expected to be channeled into Hungary through neutral Austria. The Hungarian government authorized the International Red Cross to start regular convoys from Austria into Hungary Wednesday.

Dozens of organizations, ranging from governments to elementary school classes, have pledged assistance to the wounded and homeless in Hungary and to the refugees fleeing across her borders.

Twelve countries have promised asylum to more than 28,000 refugees. In Belgium alone, welfare workers say the number of offers to adopt Hungarian children exceeds the total number of those who have escaped the country.

Contributions have been received from prime minister and swineherd alike. Sir Winston Churchill gave £1,000. Street collectors in London told of old women throwing wedding rings into the brimming baskets.

COLLECT ON STREETS

West German students patrolled streets and shops with boxes marked "Ungarn hilfe (Hungarian aid)." Few passersby failed to contribute.

Norwegian students staged "one day's pay for Hungary" drives, offering to do any chores for 20 kroner ($2.80) a day. Boy Scouts sold "Thank you, Hungary" tickets. Receipts from all soccer games in Denmark this Sunday will go to Hungarian relief. The Dutch ministry for social work called on the same emergency machinery set up after the disastrous floods of 1953.

The Swiss Red Cross sent almost all its reserve blood plasma supply to Hungary. The International headquarters of the agency at Geneva said it was so overwhelmed with offers of assistance that no calculation of the total offers was possible.

The Lord Mayor of London set up a National Hungarian Relief Fund and pledged £1,000,000 within a fortnight. Oxford University undergraduates raised a scholarship fund and pledged to bring as many refugee students to England as possible.

Offers of asylum for an unspecified number of refugees came from Canada, Chile, Denmark, France, Norway, Portugal and Spain.

UN Disturbed As Police Force Role Not Clear

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) The United Nations Middle East force moved into Egypt today with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold en route to Cairo to guide its early operations.

But to UN members here who worked through eight days of emergency sessions to create it, the force's role in the troubled area there all too uncertain.

The difficulties caused by the reluctance of Britain and France to withdraw from the Suez Canal Zone were increased by Wednesday's Moscow report that Egypt has asked for Russian "volunteers" to move in.

The Moscow report caused a stir when circulated through the corridors at UN headquarters. But later, in the absence of official confirmation, many delegates thought it might be just another blank fired in the war of nerves.

Egypt has insisted that the UN force must supervise the immediate withdrawal of the Anglo-French forces. But this view is opposed to the British - French attitude that the canal cannot be given back to Egypt without guarantees that it will be kept open to shipping of all countries.

This Anglo-French stand was a switch from their earlier promise to move out as soon as the UN force was set to take over. This move probably was brought about by Egypt's insistence that after the Anglo-French forces move out the UN force itself must withdraw to take its stand on the 1949 armistice line drawn up after the Arab-Israeli war.

The Middle East and Hungarian situations had priority on the agenda today of the 11th General Assembly.

Before leaving Wednesday for Cairo, Hammarskjold received a note from Moscow rejecting his bid for assistance in persuading the Hungarian government to admit UN observers. So far Hungary has turned down all UN demands, but has agreed to accept medical aid and food supplies.

Fair Visitors Stealing Eggs From Show Cages

TORONTO (CP) — A little harmless larceny apparently pays for some of the thousands of persons attending the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair here.

They're stealing eggs from the chickens in display cages, say officials. No one seems to care. Unlike the cows at the fair, which are producing hundreds of gallons of milk earmarked for A Toronto dairy, the fowl are more temperamental and are laying few eggs.

Products such as honey and cheese are being sold to fair visitors, but a different use has been found for 1,300 pounds of top-grade butter provided by members of the Ontario Milk Producers' Co-operative Board.

MADE INTO STATUE

Farmer Ross Butler of Woodstock, Ont., has carved it into a giant RCMP officer astride a horse. Refrigerated at 34 degrees behind glass, the butter status is attracting crowds all day long. The co-op board is considering donating it after the fair to refugees who come to Canada from strife-torn Hungary.

Big event during Wednesday's activities was the auction of 35 top Holsteins entered in the fair. The Holstein is a short-haired animal suitable for tropical climates and 17 of those auctioned were bought by Latin America, Japanese and United States buyers.

Liz Taylor Seeks Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —Film star Elizabeth Taylor, 24, Wednesday sued for divorce from British actor Michael Wilding, 44, charging mental cruelty. She asked for custody of their two young children.

Miss Taylor was divorced earlier from hotel heir Micky Hilton.

"I may never work again," Miss Taylor said in New York as she left by plane for Miami with producer Mike Todd.

Todd said he did not know when he might marry her. "She hasn't asked me yet," he said.

Russians Making Dangerous Gamble for Very Big Stakes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia is believed in some American circles to be making a dangerous gamble for high stakes with its offer of "volunteers" to assist in Egypt's struggle against British, France and Israel.

The danger is that large-scale Soviet military intervention in this vitally important area of the world, even through the device of volunteers, could lead to a conflict that would touch off a third world war.

President Eisenhower told a press conference Wednesday that the United States would back the United Nations in any various steps it might take to oppose a military move into the area by Russian or Red Chinese "volunteers."

The price which may be luring the Russians on is ultimate domination of the region. The men in the Kremlin may see the present confused and uncertain conditions in the region as an opportunity to try for a stranglehold on the flow of oil, the sea lanes and the air bases that make the Middle East strategically important.

Yet the risks are great, and some U.S. officials are still of the opinion that the Russians perhaps are bluffing. They argue that even a Soviet bluff, backed up possibly by token assignments of "volunteers" would serve three large purposes:

1. To present the Soviet Union as the protector and defender of the Arab world and thereby earn Arab goodwill, which would create long-range political influence for Moscow in the area.

2. To frustrate the UN peace program based on putting a police force into Egypt and getting the British and French out. The underlying aim here would be to keep the Middle East in turmoil as long as possible and see what further opportunities might open up for building Russian strength and influence there, perhaps with less risk than at present.

3. To throw a war scare into the West, and thereby divert attention from Russian brutality in Hungary.

Hitler Planned To Invade Eire

BELFAST (Reuters) — Hitler's plans for invading England in 1940 included a subsidiary diversionary project for landing German troops in Ireland.

This was revealed today in a volume entitled Northern Ireland in the Second World War, one of the British official war history series.

The 596-page work is by John W. Blake, professor of history at the University College of North Staffordshire.

According to Blake, the plan for invading Ireland — appropriately code-named "Green" — provided for a landing by five or six divisions on the southern coast of Eire.

On October 12, 1940, Hitler postponed the invasion of England, in which Operation 'Green' was intended as a deceptive measure. But during the winter of 1940-41 Hitler still had it under continued toying with invasion projects.

Blake wrote: "Thus at a conference on December 3, 1940, an interesting scheme for the invasion of Eire was discussed as a means of exerting renewed pressure on the United Kingdom. In the view of Hitler, Ireland would be a valuable base for attacks on the northwest ports of Great Britain. Indeed, he thought that the occupation of Ireland might lead to the end of the war."

176 Casualties For U.K. Forces In Near East

LONDON (Reuters) British forces suffered 176 casualties, including 25 killed and two missing and presumed dead, during operations in Egypt, official figures showed Tuesday.

Lists from each service ministry showed that army casualties were highest, with 15 killed and 96 wounded.

The admiralty said 10 marines were killed, and 32 others wounded, while one Royal Navy officer was missing, presumed killed.

The Royal Air Force lost one pilot, presumed killed, and another man was wounded.

Higher Taxes Hinted in Quebec

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec government has hinted it will have to increase taxes to cover higher grants for education and to meet expenditures required by the province's industrial expansion.

The hint came Wednesday in the speech from the throne opening the first session of the 25th legislature. Lieutenant-Governor Gaspard Fauteux said the province's expansion entails "very heavy expenditures which call for a more adequate utilization of revenue sources. . . ."

Premier Duplessis said later, however, that his Union Nationale government does not intend to increase the tax on personal income which now amounts to about 15 per cent of the federal levy. Quebec taxpayers are allowed to deduct 10 per cent from their federal tax to partly offset the provincial payments.

Toronto Man Tells of Grim Incidents in Hungary Revolt

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto businessman, back from revolt-torn Hungary, says the fight there is not finished.

Leslie Gordon, who returned to Toronto Tuesday night, said today at least 95 per cent of the rebels' weapons have been hidden throughout Hungary and will reappear when the time is right.

Mr. Gordon said he spent two weeks in Budapest, escaping last Sunday with a group of Western correspondents. Today he recounted some incidents of the fighting against Russian troops.

A 16 - year - old girl, Marika Schonfeld, was trapped with a small group of youthful rebels in a house near Budapest's West Station. Surrounded by tanks she decided to surrender.

"Marika collected her group's guns and threw them into the street. Then, with her arms in the air and carrying a white flag, she led her party out of the house. The Russian tanks, less than 30 feet away, immediately opened fire with machine guns, killing Marika and her five teen-age companions."

Mr. Gordon said he saw group of rebels capture a colonel of the Hungarian secret police (AVH) Oct. 31 in Republic Square. He said the AVH man emerged from a bunker shielding his body with a four-year-old girl. Sharpshooters drilled him through the legs, the child escaped and the crowd seized the colonel.

"The crowd surged forward to kick the secret police officer to death. A regular army captain ordered them to 'hold it.' He directed the patriots to take the colonel to a linden tree about 30 yards away.

"A rope was produced and put around the captive's neck. 'No,' said the captain, 'we'll do it the other way.'

"The colonel's bleeding ankles were tied and he was hoisted feet first from a low branch. His head was only two or three feet from the ground.

"The freedom fighters gathered papers and leaves and lit a fire under the hanging man. As the flames licked at his hair and uniform the colonel called out. His last words were: 'Long live Russia. Long live Stalin.'"

Mr. Gordon said he flew from Vienna to Paris and on to New York to deliver a message to Anna Kethly, a Hungarian minister of state in the government of Imre Nagy, from Bela Kovacs, agriculture minister, and Zoltan Tildy, another minister of state.

India's Prestige Lowered in West By Crisis Conduct

NEW YORK (CP)—In the eyes of many Americans, the impact of the Middle East and Hungarian crises has jarred India loose from her position as mediator between East and West. And Canada appears to have gained some of the prestige India has lost.

In the past, Prime Minister Nehru's refusal, to align himself with the West against the Communist world has provoked some impatience here, particularly in official circles. But he has been widely looked upon as a spokesman for the uncommitted sections of the world and as a possible peacemaker between the United States and Russia.

Canada, on the other hand, has appeared to most Americans in one of two guises — as a dues-paying member of the British Commonwealth committed to British policy, right or wrong, or as a 100-per-cent ally of the United States that could be counted upon to follow Washington's lead at all times.

These conceptions received a jolt in the period of shifting political alignments that followed the outbreak of fighting in Egypt and Hungary.

First, Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson rushed to obtain in a United Nations vote rather than defend the intervention of Britain and France in the Middle East. Then, while the U.S. state department appeared to flounder, he stepped in with his plan for a UN police force to keep the peace in Egypt.

Meanwhile, India had been quick to join the United States, Russia and the majority of UN members in vigorous denunciation of the use of force by British and France in Egypt.

But when the issue of Russia's activities against the Hungarian rebels came up in the UN, the Indian delegate abstained from voting and declined to state a position, saying he was awaiting instructions from his government.

Eventually Nehru took a stand, deploring the use of force anywhere but refraining from any pointed criticism of Russia. His delegation continued to abstain on UN votes on the Hungarian question.

Wednesday's joint statement from the premiers of India, Ceylon, Burma and Indonesia, of which Nehru undoubtedly was a chief architect, was typical. It expressed concern at "the aggression of and the intervention by the great powers against weaker countries." But the only "aggressor countries" named were British and France.

It deplored "large-scale violence used on all sides" in Hungary and expressed the hope that Soviet troops would soon withdraw. Then it ended with a homily on the evils of colonialism in Asia and Africa.

The United States, which had reluctantly sided against its allies on the Middle Eastern question on the grounds that armed action should be universally condemned, reacted to Nehru's Hungarian policy with almost unanimous resentment.

In the eyes of public opinion, India's stand has bred a new distrust and Canada's has earned a new respect.

Ducks a Meeting With Governor-General

TORONTO (CP) — American television star Arthur Godfrey ducked a meeting with Governor-General Vincent Massey Tuesday night.

Godfrey, among the performers at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair's nightly horse show, saw the governor-general beckon him to the vice-regal box during Tuesday night's show. Instead of visiting the box, he rode on out of the ring.

Later he said: "I simply couldn't make it. We have to get to Niagara Falls before the customs closes."

GIFT FROM BIRDS

DOVERCOURT, England (CP) A live eel, 30 inches long, fell from the sky into a street in this Essex town, as gulls were flying overhead. A man took the fish home and cooked it for supper.

100 GIRLS FLEE FIRE

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—Fire swept through three buildings at Westminster College late Monday night, but the shouts and screams of house mothers roused about 100 girls and they scrambled out unhurt. Robert Martin, public relations director at the girls' school, reported early today all were accounted for. He estimated damage at more than $350,000.

Albertan Wins Top Honors for Market Steers

TORONTO (CP)—An Alberta exhibitor Wednesday won the grand championship for a car-lot of market steers at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

The load of shorthorns fed and shown by Byrt Flour Mills of Camrose weighed more than 1,100 pounds per steer and judges said it was the finest load to take the award in recent years.

The championship was among 39 announced by judges in the potatoes, turkeys, livestock and horses divisions, in addition to 23 breed championships for geese and ducks.

Other champions included:

Grand championship, best five steers—McIntyre Ranching Co., Lethbridge, Alta.; reserve—Angus Manor Farms, Petersburg, Ont.

ALL-ONTARIO

Grand champion palomino mare —Belvedere's Golden Pixie, East H. Forrest, Listowel; reserve—Maxwell Pawtee of Golden Gaits, J. Osborn and Ross Therrien, Stretchville; grand champion palomino stallion—Pawtees Golden Patrick, J. G. Van Heszwyk, Wetten.

Saddle horse stallion, reserve—Garma Rex Genius, G. W. Grisenthwaite, Cogeltown, Ont.

Grand champion tamworth boar —Gormley Bud 12, Fred W. Irwin, Nestleton, Ont.; reserve—Gormley Rock 45K, A. Dobson, Woodbridge; grand champion tamworth sow—Sunny Trewin 17, Fred W. Trewin; reserve—Dena Farm Anna 48K, Bert W. French, Palmerston.

Grand champion Arabian stallion or mare shown in hand—Amadiro, a stallion owned by Mrs. Joan Durrant, Markham; reserve—Ranik, a stallion owned by Mrs. Joan G. Hudson Oakville.

In geese and ducks divisions, seven championships were won by Sydney Mode of Vankleek Hill, Ont., and four by C. A. R. Tilt of Dixon Mill, Ont., who was awarded five breed championships for his chicken entries Tuesday.

Diefenbaker Says He Will Get Quebec Support

QUEBEC (CP) — John Diefenbaker held a series of conferences Wednesday with local Progressive Conservative supporters and indicated he will have considerable Quebec support in his bid to become the national leader of the party.

The member of Parliament for Prince Albert, Sask., said he is "very happy" with the support he has received in Quebec. Party officials from "all parts of the province" had promised to back him and he was "more than hopeful" of winning the leadership nomination.

He said "a highly representative committee of French - Canadians" will make an announcement of support in Montreal in a few days.

Mr. Diefenbaker attended a luncheon of the Quebec Women's Progressive Conservative Association and also met with men of the Conservative association here.

He was greeted on arrival by J. W. Dufresne, member of Parliament for Quebec West. George Rees, member for Toronto Broadview, accompanied Mr. Diefenbaker.

MARITIMER SUPPORTS

J. C. Van Horne, Conservative member for Restigouche - Madawaska riding in New Brunswick also attended the meetings. He said support of Mr. Diefenbaker for leader of the party is a "closed issue" in the Maritimes.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the current disagreement between the federal and Quebec governments over federal grants to universities will come up for "serious consideration" at the party's convention.

Rights pertaining to language, religion and education are covered by the British North America Act, he said, and the Conservative party would allow "no change or reduction in these rights."

After travelling by train from Quebec to Toronto, Mr. Diefenbaker today will attend funeral services for Sybil Bennett, Conservative member for Halton, who died last Monday. After the funeral he is scheduled to go to Brampton and Sarnia.

Persecutions Of Protestants Are Reported

KITCHENER (CP)—The Canadian Council of Churches will ask its parent body, the World Council of Churches, to investigate charges that Protestant missionaries are persecuted in Roman Catholic Colombia.

The council's annual meeting Wednesday night approved a resolution by Very Rev. George Dewey, past - moderator of the United Church, requesting the World Council of Churches' church international affairs committee to send a two-man team to Colombia to investigate the charges.

The council also passed a resolution expressing "deep apprehension and concern" at "the repression of religious groups and denial of religious freedom" in Roman Catholic Spain and Colombia, but not before it was reminded its own house is not in order.

The resolution, proposed by Professor George Brown of the University of Toronto, asked that the Canadian government use its influence to see that religious freedom is restored and maintained in the two countries.

OFFERS CRITICISM

Rev. Emlyn Davies of Yorkminster Baptist Church in Toronto said the resolution has an "element of self - righteousness and self-deception" and that if Canadian churches are going to plead for religious freedom they should first protest Quebec's padlock law.

The law, a controversial one for many years, gives the Quebec attorney-general the right to padlock for 12 months any house being used to disseminate Communist propaganda. Many of its critics argue it can also be used to repress propagation of neo-Roman Catholic faiths.

Discussion of the law was referred to the council's executive committee when Rev. J. S. Thomson, United Church Moderator suggested open discussion would be improper since the law's constitutionality is being argued before the Supreme Court of Canada.

Rev. Norman Kennedy, a Regina Presbyterian minister, also objected to the resolution. He said he had visited Spain and found the law there, while it required allegiance by all Spanish nationals to the Roman Catholic Church, did not make the same requirements for foreigners.

Baby Attendant Jailed Ten Years For Two Deaths

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A big blonde baby attendant, who said "children sometimes get on my nerves," Wednesday was sentenced to 10 to 22 years in prison for the fatal shaking of two of them.

Virginia Jaspers, 23, who stands six feet and weighs 220, pleaded guilty to two counts of manslaughter three weeks ago.

Police said she admitted fatally injuring another of her charges, but she could not be charged with that because it happened in 1948, too long ago for prosecution.

She was charged in the deaths of 11-days-old Abbey Kapelnow last August, and two-months-old Jennifer Malkan in 1951. She was arrested after a doctor who knew of the other deaths became suspicious at the third.

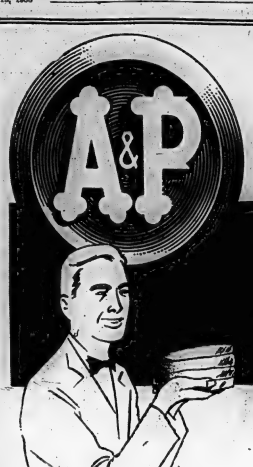
Pleased With Relief From Sour, Acid Upset Stomach

Also Nagging Backache, Pains in Limbs, "Nothing Ever Helped Me Like Syntona."

In every section of this city and vicinity grateful men and women tell of the good results they get by taking Syntona Herbal Compound.

Mr. Frank Oggleby, 879 Princess Street, London, Ontario, said in a recent statement:

Felt Sick All Over



"My stomach was acting up very badly. First thing I knew I would get dull, gassy pains, heartburn and indigestion. I would belch up lot, and I, too, I slept poorly at night, would get headaches and had a nagging backache. Rheumatic pains set into my limbs and I felt tired-out and listless.

Remarkable Improvement

"A friend advised me to try Syntona and the very first bottle helped me the very third bottle relieved almost from the first it cleared up the gassy pains and sour burning upset condition of my stomach. Now I enjoy all my meals. Also the headaches, backache and rheumatic pains are relieved and I feel like an all around different person. I sleep well and have more energy all day long."

Syntona acts on the stomach, bladder, liver and bowels. It relieves headaches, backache and rheumatic aches and pains. Sold everywhere. Get Syntona, stomach, rheumatic pain relief. Syntona has helped thousands. Why not let this proved herbal medicine help you too?

Rylstone

RYLSTONE — Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Ralph Wright entertained the Rylstone Women's Institute at the Sunday School room. Zion United Church, for its regular November meet.; There were 18 members and two children in attendance. Mrs. Wilfred Spencer opened the meeting. The roll call was answered by "A battle I should remember and why." It was decided to give a cash donation instead of holding a farmers' market, at the bazaar to be held later. At the December meeting, the roll call will be answered by donating a jar of jelly, jam or pickles, to be given to Campbellford Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Jack Watson acted as convenor for the program which was the business session program of the year. Mrs. Lily Anderson and Mrs. Ralph Barnum, delegates, gave reports on the 30th Area Convention of the Women's Institute, held recently in Belleville. Mrs. Barnum stated that it was doubly interesting to her as she had been the delegate to the convention 30 years ago. The theme of the convention, "Our Ambition Today — Our Achievement Tomorrow", was brought out in these reports.

Mrs. Ernest Irwin gave a reading from "Thoughts By The Way," by the late Maude Kerr, entitled "What Has Happened to Our Singing Mothers?" Mrs. Irwin then led the women in a community singing of "My Bonnie Lassie."

Mrs. Fred Barnum presented a topic on "Ceylon," where the A.C.W.W. was to meet this fall. However, owing to the threat of war in the East, this has been cancelled. Mrs. Ellis Jones presided at the piano in the absence of the regular pianist, Mrs. Percy Reid. The National Anthem brought the meeting to a close, and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Caroline Wright, Mrs. Stanley Kerr, and Mrs. Sanford Wilson. A tree contest was conducted by Mrs. Roy Fry while the refreshments were being prepared. The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charlie Stewart. There is to be a demonstration on "Upholstering a Chair." There will also be the regular Christmas gift exchange, not to exceed 35 cents.

Mrs. Agile Robbins, Greenbush, visited her sister, Mrs. Jessie Finch, and nephew Earl, for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart, Glen and Marilyn, were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nobes and sons at Marmora.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Morton Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Morton and Alan and Miss Marion McCoy of Bonarlaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Spencer entertained their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mumby, of Springbrook, to supper Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Samus, Dundonald, visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Finch and Wesley, and had dinner with Mrs. Jessie Finch and Earl last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnie Reid, Ronnie and Gary, Ridge Road, Sidney, were Sunday supper guests with his mother, Mrs. Essie Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spencer and Johnny Ray were Sunday evening callers at the home of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomson and family.

Mrs. Don Stewart spent two days last week at the home of her brother, Eric McComb, and family, in Toronto.

Don Heath is in Toronto where he is attending the Royal Winter Fair and helping to show the Holsteins from the Massey-Harris farms at Milliken.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spencer, Lynne, Suzanne and Randy were Sunday visitors at the home of her mother, Mrs. Clara Lisle, of Stanwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reid and George and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heath and Carol were supper guests Tuesday night with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elliott, at Stirling.

Mrs. Jessie Finch spent last weekend with her daughter, Mrs. Everett Lake, Stirling.

Mrs. Stella Gibson and daughter, Blanche, Campbellford, were Sunday supper guests with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heath and Carol.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Melkie-john and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Heath spent a day last week at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto.

Last Wednesday evening Rylstone Institute Girls' Club, "The Tidy Tillies," met at the home of Mrs. Albert Tinney with an attendance of nine. Mrs. Sandra Thibeaudeau, home economist from Napanee, was in attendance and gave a demonstration on darning, as well as talks on "Care of the teeth," and "Care of hosiery and shoes."

The roll call was answered by "One point to remember in washing woolens." The home assignment for this week is making a slip and practising darning. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Don Kerr Friday. Roll call will be "A correct posture habit I am practising." Refreshments were served by the hostess.

This year's officers are: leaders, Mrs. Don Kerr and Mrs. Alfred Akins; president, Miss Donalda Kerr; secretary, Carolyn Wright, treasurer, Mrs. Don Kerr, and press secretary, Linda Kerr.

Friday evening a successful supper and entertainment was held at the Gospel Hall for the Sunday School pupils. Mr. William Hind, Hamilton, was present, and acted as chairman for the following program:

Musical selections on autoharp and harmonica and accordion by Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Reynolds, Bancroft; recitation, "Just A Little Thing," by Glenna Gray; two songs by senior girls, "The Touch of His Hand On Mine," and "I Won't Have to Cross Jordon Alone"; recitation, "The Master Calls," by Carol Heath; trumpet solo by Mr. Vardy, Stirling; recitations by George Reid and Eric Reid; harmonica quartette, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," and "Fairest Lord Jesus," by four Stirling boys; song by the junior girls, "When He Cometh"; vocal duet, "My Wonderful Lord," by Donna and Dorothy Morton; recitation, "Christ Has No Hands But Our Hands," by Donna Stewart; song by junior boys class, "Little Friends of Jesus"; recitation, "I Like to Think of Jesus," by Teddy Reid; duet, "Will You Be Ready?" by Carol Heath and Donna Stewart; recitation, "A True Friend," by Tommy Gray; quartet, "I Have Found a Hiding Place," by Donna and Dorothy Morton, Norma Petherick and Anne Reid; duet by the Lott sisters of Stirling; recitation, "Love's Sweet Lesson," by Sharon Gray; guitar and vocal duet, "I Do Not Care About Tomorrow," by Mrs. Ralph Heath and Mrs. Walter Reid; recitation by Ricky Gray; instrumental solo by Freddie Elliot, Stirling, on guitar and harmonica; recitation, "The Pilot of The Ship," by Linda Anrews; accordion Solo, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," by Ross Fitchett, Campbellford; vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Broadworth, Stirling; piano solo, "In The Sweet Bye and Bye," by Billy Andrews; recitation, "A Little Child," by Don Andrews; vocal solo, "Thirty Pieces of Silver," by Mrs. D. Stewart; piano solo, "Nearer My God To Thee," by Agnes McKeown; vocal solo by Betty Lou Reynolds of Bancroft and a vocal solo, "What A Friend We Have in Jesus," by Tommie Gray.

All sang, "Heavenly Sunshine" and Mr. Hind closed with prayer. Prizes were awarded for attendance and Bible memory verses and each teacher presented gifts to each of the pupils in his class. Candy was served at the close. There were visitors from Bancroft, Peterborough, Campbellford, Stirling and Foxboro.

Mrs. Mervin, housekeeper-companion with Mrs. Lloyd Thomson, fell and injured her hick one day last week, necessitating her removal to Campbellford Memorial Hospital by ambulance. All wish her a speedy recovery.

The Women's Association of Rylstone United —Church will serve a chicken supper at Williams community sale next Monday.

CAUSES HIGH DAMAGE

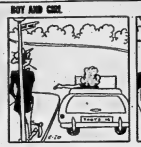
PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Fire at the Atomic Energy Commission's gaseous diffusion plant near here early Sunday caused damage estimated at more than $2,000,000 to one of the plant's smaller buildings, K. C. Brooks, the AEC's Paducah area manager, said there was no radiation hazard and "absolutely no danger" to the surrounding area or to personnel working in the plant.

Point Anne

POINT ANNE — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeRushie and children, Woodstock, have returned home after spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart DeRushie, Donna and Sheilda.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson (nee Marlene DeRushie), who were married in the Calvary Temple, September 3rd at Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Juby, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Percy Akey, Cannilton, spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Botting, Front Road.



Several men from here have left for their annual deer hunting in the north country.

The turkey dinner held in the Point Anne Orange Hall Wednesday evening, sponsored by the C. W. L., was reported as successful.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Lee Bradshaw and family in the death of her brother, Mr. Archie Kish of Westport, who died Friday in Kingston General Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Akey and Karen, spent Wednesday in Napanee with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Selder.

STIRLING

Remembrance Day Service Held at Stirling and Rawdon

STIRLING — On Sunday morning despite the cold, bitter wind, some 300 people gathered at the cenotaph for the Remembrance Day ceremonies.

The Stirling band, under the leadership of Maurice Bell, headed the parade. Stirling Branch Unit 228 of the Canadian Legion was directed by Sgt.-at-arms Blake Faulkner and a large number of veterans from both world wars were in attendance.

The local platoon of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment was under the command of Lieut. Carl Hubel. The Boy Scout and Cub troops were conducted by Scoutmaster Joe Irish and his assistants, Mrs. Bob Leurry, Mrs. Ed Warren, Mrs. William Wilkins and their assistants, were in charge of the Girl Guides and Brownies.

At the cenotaph the I.O.D.E. members, with their regent, Mrs. Carl Potter, occupied the west space with chairs placed for those who were laying the various wreaths. The parade group occupied the east space, on the lawn, while the band remained on the street.

Representatives were in attendance for both Stirling and Rawdon Council, Rotary, I.O.O.F., Lauriel Rebekah Lodge No. 221, I.O.L. and L.O.B.A. groups were well represented.

Comrade Douglas Patterson and Comrade Charles Faires were in charge of the wreath-laying ceremony. This was the best-attended Armistice service in several years. "They shall not grow old, as we are left grow old; age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning, we will remember them."

The Rev. A. Packman gave the invocation and the Rev. W. H. V. Walker read the Bible lesson and gave the prayer. The group sang "O God Our Help In Ages Past."

The Rev. H. C. Secker gave a brief address and challenged his audience to live a worthwhile life in order that those who made the supreme sacrifice would not have died in vain.

"Onward Christian Soldiers," was sung with the band accompanying.

The wreaths were laid as follows: Stirling village, Reeve Russell West; Rawdon township, Reeve Thomas Lackey; Legion, President Ray Tanner; I.O.D.E., Mrs. Earl Leurry; I.O.O.F., Roy Bush; Stirling Women's Institute, Mrs. Will West.

For soldiers, laid by mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters, sons or daughters: Mrs. Hiram Rodgers; Mrs. Oliver Stapley; Mrs. Harold Martin; Mrs. Frank Wood; Mrs. Robert Hulin; Mrs. Burton Woodbeck; Mrs. Arthur Gordanier; Mrs. Wesley Hay and Mr. Bobby Taylor.

Garnet Thain sounded the Last Post, followed by two minute's silence. The benediction and the "Queen," closed an impressive service.

SERVICE AT RAWDON CENOTAPH

The Legion, the Platoon, the Rawdon township council and a large number of folk from Rawdon township gathered at the cenotaph at Harold, where a half hour service was held.

Fred Houchin, past president of the Legion Branch, gave the address and three wreaths were placed after which Garent Thain sounded "Last Post" and "Reveille."

The Legion held its annual banquet on Monday evening, at the "Sterling Hotel."

TWEED

Canadian Legion Commemorates Remembrance Day

TWEED — On Sunday Tweed Canadian Legion Branch No. 428 held Remembrance Day service at Tweed Memorial Park. The veterans of both world wars joined with the members of the Legion at their hall at the Municipal Building at 9:45 a.m. and, led by the high school trumpet band, paraded down Victoria Street to the park where they formed up in front of the Cenotaph. A number of Boy Scouts were also in the parade.

Order of Service, led by the Salvation Army Band, "O Canada" and "Onward Christian Soldiers," were sung and the invocation was given by the Rev. W. K. Pace, minister of St. John's United Church. The Scripture lesson was given by the Rev. Douglas Knoll, pastor of the Pentecostal Church and prayer by Rev. L. E. Hawks, rector of St. James' Anglican Church.

Placing of the wreaths on the Cenotaph, and read by Jack Rashotte, president of Tweed Legion Branch 428, was as follows:

Province of Ontario, Dick Passmore; Canadian Legion Branch, Jim Halpenny; the Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Legion Branch 418, Tweed, Jean Deshane and Vera Ingle; the Corporation of the Village of Tweed, Reeve T. C. Graham; the Corporation of the Township of Hungerford, Les Brady; the Corporation of the Township of Elzivir and Grimsthorpe, Vince LaFrenire; Nichols Chemical Co., Charles Davis; the Masonic Order No. 229, Tweed, Gordon Fraser; Knights of Columbus, Tweed Council No. 3402, Terrance Rashotte; Independent Order of Oddfellows, Heath Jones; Kiwanis Club of Tweed, J. A. (Tommy) Thompson; Kinnette Club of Tweed, Joe MacDonald; Kinsmen Club of Tweed, Bill Quinn; Mrs. Arthur Beach, in memory of her late husband, Arthur Beach; Norm Champagne; the Price family, Actinolite, Bruce Price; Tweed High School, Bob and Peter Beare; Tweed Separate School, Michael Beare and Jacqueline Rashotte; Tweed Consolidated School; Tweed Boy Scouts committee.

An address was given by the Rev. W. J. C. Pace and the hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," was sung. Prayer by Captain and Mrs. Edward Thompson.

Rebel Army.

Moore of the Salvation

Two minute's silence were observed in remembrance of those who in the service of their king and Queen and country, laid down their lives.

The Last Post and Reveille were sounded. "They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old. Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn, at the going down of the sun and in the morning. We will remember them."

Benediction was offered by the Rev. W. K. Pace.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Down Cornwall way the hockey burghers are all agiee. Why shouldn't they be? That new Cherries model Manager Ron Mixon and Coach Gerry Flamanden has run off the assembly line is apparently doing the victory trick. The new Cherries, if a record of four straight wins means anything, have new power and are making a straight run up the league highway after getting rid of a few flat tires.

But they had to get a few vulcanized professionals to turn the trick. They have, at the last reading, two on the roster and saw to it that they made two more available. These should add to their horse-power but they should watch the highway signs, especially the one that reads "Slow Down, Hospital Tax Ahead." And if they blow one tire on this roadblock, the hull kit and kaboodle of clubs will be punctured. They were warned.

The Cherries after a low-gear start, have apparently struck some sort of stride and the league is developing into a hot battle-for-position tussle. As of now the Whitby Dunlops are leading with fourteen points, with Belleville, Cornwall and Ottawa tied for second with nine. This is being written before last night's game between the Canadiens and Kingston. Pembroke, who is surrounded by their former league colleagues in the northern association and the western division teams, would make a runaway of the new-born eastern circuit, are in fifth spot with eight points with Kingston looking up at the entire family.

The McFarlands need not feel too badly about that overtime defeat at the hands of the starry-Canadiens Tuesday. After all, Sammy Pollock's crew of non-voting puckists are rated tops among the junior "A" clubs of Eastern Canada and have defeated some of the Quebec League professional teams. The Mac-men have given the Ottawans the best argument to date of any club in the Eastern senior "A" loop. They defeated Whitby 8-6, Pembroke 5-1 and Cornwall 5-3. Besides our side is the only team to hold them to a tie—and we should have won that tilt, at that.

However, that's water under the bridge for the moment. The big game of the week comes up tomorrow night when the Doughty Dunlops from Blairville will be here plus their locquacious impresario, Wren Blair, esq. The Dunlops suffered their third setback of the season last Sunday at the hands of the new model Chevies of Cornwall; and the Macs have no objection, that we know of, to making it four here tomorrow night. It should be a ding-dong battle and a victory for the Macs will cluster the league closer than ever.

A "horse-player" once told us when we were a youngster, "Son, never take anything for granted, but if the odds are good, grab 'em, regardless."

If that wrinkled oldtimer had been around Kingston way last night he would have cleaned up a million. The odds should have been that good. For, hold your hats, the Kingston CKLC's handed the starry Ottawa Canadiens a 5-3 defeat. That is not a typographical error, just cold facts.

And mebbe you'd better insure your television sets, for tonight Maxie Jackson's chest is liable to burst plumb through the screen into your lap. He probably will not say, or even infer, that that 8-5 overtime all-out battle with the McFarlands the night before, took a lot of the drive out of the Canadiens. We are not saying that—but it is a possibility.

However, that is what happened and the league standing is clustered closer than the sideburns of Elvis the Pelvis. Whitby has 14 points, Belleville, Ottawa, Cornwall and Kingston each have nine and Pembroke has eight.

In case you're interested Kingston has signed Henri Therrien, formerly with the McFarlands and Erwin Duncan, half of the Duncan twins, who are ex-Belleville senior "B" players.

Kingston Defeats Ottawa 5-2 In Surprise Game of Season

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Chatham Maroons, whose late-season cinderella sprint carried them to the Allan Cup finals last season, are staying near the top in their league race this year.

Maroons have kept close to the leading Stratford Indians in the Western Division of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series. But they've lost their last three games, when they could easily have tied and perhaps passed Indians.

Maroons Wednesday night lost a 2-1 decision to the touring Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds of the Northern OHA series and remain three points off the pace as Stratford tied Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen 2-2 to gain a point.

In the northern series, Sudbury Wolves again cut into North Bay Trappers' healthy lead, whipping Sault Ste. Marie Indians 4-2 and moving to within four points of the leaders.

At Kingston, CKLC's moved out of the cellar of the Senior OHA's Eastern Division with a surprising 5-2 triumph over the hitherto unconquered Ottawa Junior Canadiens.

The only top-level shuffling took place in the Porcupine Mines Senior League, where Timmins Flyers took over first place by dumping last-place Kapuskasing Huskies 9-3.

At Chatham, Mike Ratchford was a one-man gang for the Sox, scoring both goals. Mike Vickelis fired Chatham's lone tally.

Dutchies and Indians went into overtime. Ralph Hosking and Tom Walker scored for Stratford while George Scholes and Jerry Theberge counted for Dutchies.

At Sudbury, veteran Nick Tomick and rookie Andy Voykin each scored twice for Wolves, who outshot the last-place Soo club 42-32. Indian goals were scored by Laurie Peterson and Joe Malo.

Ted Nicholson, Don Murray, Bob Wille, George Armstrong and Don Bellringer scored for CKLC's. Gerry Wilson and Bill Carter found the mark for Ottawa.

At Timmins, Walter Para shot three goals for the victorious Flyers. Clav Eckart contributed a pair, and singles went to Kenny Trevenna, Mike Delich, Toolie Campbell and Flo Guarda.

Alex Male, Steve Runak and Bobby Arnot scored the Kap goals.

Ten-Minute Free-for-all Ends in Penalty Carnival; Twas Rangers' 6th Loss in Row

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Maurice (Rocket) Richard has never been known to play favorites in his 15-year career as right winger for Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League. He scores his abundance of goals anywhere, anytime, everywhere and all the time.

The 35-year-old ace has scored well against every club in the circuit and is nearing a milestone against New York Rangers. Wednesday night he scored his 95th goal on the Blueshirts as Canadiens won 5-3 at New York.

The Rocket has scored a total of 466 regular-season goals since he hit big-league hockeydom—but 82 more in playoff games. His goal Wednesday night helped send the Rangers to their sixth straight defeat.

BATTLE IN FIRST

It was the only game of the night and there was no dearth. The game was only two minutes old when a battle broke out between Ranger Lou Fontinato and Montreal centre Jean Beliveau. Most of the players on the ice became involved in the fight and nine penalties were called. It took official 10 minutes to restore order.

Fontinato and Beliveau drew five-minute majors. In addition, Fontinato got a 10-minute misconduct. Harry Howell of Rangers and the Rocket also got misconducts. New York Manager Phil and Montreal's Bert Olmstead drew minors.

Besides Richard, the Hab scorers were Dickie Moore, Andre Pronovost, Floyd Curry and Beliveau. Larry Popein, Bill Gadsby and Red Sullivan tallied for the Rangers.

Lorne Worsley had a busy time in the Ranger nets, stopping 40 shots. Gerry McNeil, substituting for the ailing Jacques Plante, stopped 29.

NOT NORMAL

MELBOURNE (AP — Australian Olympic Games officials accepted a good-natured needling today about their weather.

R. S. Alexander, head of the Kenya team, said he had carefully studied a weather chart issued by Australians giving four record of warm weather in November in Melbourne. To date Melbourne has been cold and cloudy with drizzles of rain prompting Alexander to say "I never read such a log of lies."

Ross Woods Will Play With Varsity

TORONTO (CP) — Coach Dalt White is still singing the Blues, but the tempo is a little gayer today.

Wednesday White has his first good news since his University of Toronto Blues lost seven players in their 10-12 loss to Queen's University Golden Gaels at Kingston last Saturday.

He was told that one of those players, half Ross Woods, may be able to go in the sudden-death Senior Intercollegiate football final against Gael in Kingston on Saturday.

Woods, a versatile halfback and the Blues' regular kicker, re-injured a shoulder Saturday. Wednesday night he was at the varsity practice, kicking in fine style.

FIVE-WAY THREAT

Woods has a five-fold value to the team. As a halfback he can make yards on the running play from scrimmage, he can also be used on the option play and has passed for at least one touchdown this year after a pitchout. He is a good kicker and pass receiver and a valuable man on defence.

Offensively, White is counting on a better running attack Saturday.

"We had some trouble running against Queen's and we're trying to straighten it out," he said. "I feel confident we'll be running against them next Saturday."

Al Sherman Through as Bomber Coach

WINNIPEG (CP) — Al Sherman, coach of Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Interprovincial Football Union for the last three years, will not be back in 1957.

At a press conference Wednesday night J. T. Russell, club president, announced that the club and Sherman "could not agree on a contract with the result that Sherman will not be head coach in 1957."

Ralph Parliament, vice-president in charge of players, said: "The players' committee feels very definitely the club will go further next year under a new coach. The players' committee recommended to the management committee that Al Sherman not be offered a contract.

WOULDN'T MOVE

Russell said contract negotiations never got past the preliminary stage. He said the club wanted Sherman to become a full time resident of the city and Sherman felt, if he was to do that, he should have more than a one-year contract. The club was prepared to offer only a one-year contract.

Sherman, 53, became head coach of the Bombers in 1954 under a one-year contract. He then signed a two-year contract which expired at the end of the 1956 season.

Alouettes Get Ron Stewart, Draft Rules May Be Revised

TORONTO (CP) — Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four Football Union have snared Queen's University star halfback Ron Stewart, it was learned today.

The Canadian Press was informed Stewart, who led the Senior Intercollegiate Football League in scoring this year, is on the Alouettes negotiation list.

Meanwhile, it was suggested Canadian football rules regarding the drafting of college graduates to professional teams may have to be revised as a result of confusion over Stewart's status.

Confusion resulted from the fact that both Stewart and a classmate, Gary Schreider, were left off the draft-eligible list submitted last spring by Queen's, although their classes graduated then. Both were expected to return to Queen's but Ottawa Rough Riders signed Schreider just before the current season opened.

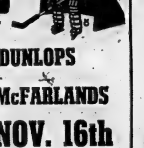
PLANNED 4TH YEAR

From Ottawa coach Frank Clair of the Riders offered this explanation:

"They (Stewart and Schreider) were in the same physical education class last year and were due to graduate. But they both planned to take a fourth year of physical education, so they weren't included on the draft list.

"Then in the spring, Schreider got his degree and had definitely graduated. We then persuaded him to play professional ball. But my understanding was that Stewart failed one of his courses and had to pass a supplemental examination late in the summer.

"So since he didn't really graduate, I believe he should be included in this year's draft list."



Stewart, a five-foot-seven 170-pounder, scored 86 points on six touchdowns during the regular intercollegiate schedule this season.

SWAPS RECOVERING

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP — Swaps was reported Wednesday to be making "definite progress" in his fight to recover from a leg fracture that has left his future in doubt.

Larks, Tiger-Cats Confident Over Saturday Game Outcome

MONTREAL (CP) — Peahead Walker is a cautious football coach who brightens visibly only after the ball bounces the last time, with the Montreal Alouettes still in front.

He's playing the Saturday finale against Hamilton Tiger-Cats that way.

A nine-point lead isn't much against a high-scoring team like the Ticats, says Peahead. If it's wet, Hamilton's ground attack will be hard to contain because, he says; Montreal quarterback Sam (The Rifle) Etcheverry and his small hands have trouble with a heavy ball.

The Als, who ran through practice Wednesday night, were rated 3-to-1 favorites to wrap up the Big Four final and qualify for the third straight year to meet Western Canada in the Grey Cup.

TICATS COMBINED EARLY

Montreal defeated Hamilton 30-21 at Hamilton last Saturday in the first game of the league-and-home, total-point series.

Meanwhile, the Ticats were due in today by plane—a day early.

"We're certainly due for a win down there," Barton said. "Jim Trimble said at Hamilton, "And nobody can tell me we're not classed."

Hamilton lost 52-34 and 52-14 in its two appearances here this year.

NEED BREAKS

Assistant coach Ralph Sazio added of last week's game:

"If we had been getting the breaks, it could just as easily have gone the other way."

Both clubs reported personnel fit aside from bruises here and there for the sold-out contest starting at 1 p.m. EST. Hamilton was scheduling two workouts before the game and Trimble said "some offensive changes" were planned.

Some of the Montreal fan confidence was summed up in the view of Ray Cicia, the "little flower" of the Als' line who was injured early in the 1955 season and hasn't played since.

"Montreal by two touchdowns," he said. "At Hamilton the Tiger-Cats covered (Hal) Patterson and (Red) O'Quinn as Al passed one for a touchdown.

"To the game here, they'll concentrate on O'Quinn, and Patterson or somebody else will do the clubbing for Sam. That's the way it's been all season."

SPORT IN BRIEF

EXPERT'S ANALYSIS

MELBOURNE (AP — Boxing teams from the United States, Poland, South Africa and Argentina may dominate action in the Olympic Games, veteran ring expert Nat Fleischer of New York predicted today.

DIES FROM INJURY

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A Santa Maria High School football player, Boone Left Rogers, 16, died Wednesday in Santa Barbara Hospital of a broken vertebra of the neck.

He never regained consciousness after being hurt Friday, school officials said. He was tackling another player.

GETS RAISE

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Don Blasingame, rookie infielder for St. Louis Cardinals, Wednesday signed his 1957 contract with a raise in pay. Blasingame hit .261 in his rookie year. It was reported that the new contract is for about $10,000.

Kenny Lane Wins Decision Over Frankie Ryff

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jack Kearns is beating the drums for an early lightweight title bout for his boy, Kenny Lane, and the crafty old manager says he has $75,000 in cash with which to lure champion, Joe Brown.

"This showed Lane is championship calibre," Kearns said Wednesday night after his battler from Muskegon, Mich., had taken a unanimous decision over Frank Ryff of New York.

Lane, the No. 5 lightweight contender in the Ring Magazine ratings, stung Ryff with solid southpaw blows to the head and body and was in command all the way. Ryff tried to take the offensive but there was no question after the seventh, when he was staggered by a left to the head that he was a beaten fighter.

Judge Sam Margolis and referee Billy Regan gave Lane a 97-93 margin. Judge Jerry Sievert voted it 96-92. Lane weighed 138½ as he scored his 44th victory in 49 fights. Ryff weighed 140.

Eskimos Head Coach Predicts Bruising Battle on Saturday

EDMONTON (CP) — Frank (Pop) Ivy is a quiet sort of man who makes a positive statement only when he's sure of something.

The Edmonton Eskimos head coach is certain of very little in connection with Saturday night's deciding game against Saskatchewan Roughriders in the Western football final, but he's emphatic when he says:

"Whoever wins that one is going to come out of it well bruised up."

The 49-year-old Ivy, native Ohioan hooting for his third Western Interprovincial Football Union and Grey Cup titles in three years at the helm of Eskimos, did some cackling wishing Wednesday night after putting his charges through a brisk, bone-long workout under the lights at Clarke Stadium.

"If we'd won that first game," he said, referring to last Saturday afternoon at Regina when Riders took a one-game lead in the best-of-three series by coming from behind 9-21 to win 23-22 on a last-minute converted touchdown, Ekke tied it Monday by winning 30-12.

SHORTER REST

". . . Now we'd have the series won and could rest for two weeks instead of one; clean up some of those injuries real good and be ready for the East again.

"Ah, well," he looked down at his hoot and kicked at the heater in the coaches' room, "now our first problem is to get past Saskatchewan."

The injuries to which Ivy referred include a sore back suffered by Frank Anderson, offensive guard and defensive end; charley horses suffered by tackle Roger Hebert, end Joe Mobley and halfback Oscar Kruger, and an assortment of lesser bruises that nearly every man on the team shares.

"It just takes time for those charley horses to work out," said Ivy, "and by Saturday, the boys should be in pretty good shape. Not so sure about the back injury of Anderson's. He got a knee in the back on the first play of the first game."

Ivy will be allowed to dress 38 players Saturday and he'll only have to bench two of his squad. Three others are out for the season with injuries, fullback Con Kelly with eye troubles and halves Earl Lindley and Don Simon with shoulder separations.

Bears Blank Bisons 4-0

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Hershey Bears blanked Buffalo Bisons 4-0 Wednesday night to tighten their hold on first place in the American Hockey League.

The Bisons, in the runner-up spot, trailed Hershey by a single point and league leadership hinged on the game.

Ed Panagabko scored late in the first period and then added a second goal with a 50-foot drive at the start of the second period. Dave Fisher and Willie Marshall gave the Bears an added pair of goals in the second period. The final period was scoreless.

MAY RECONSIDER

NEW YORK (AP) — Israel may reconsider its decision to withdraw from the Olympic basketball competition, the United States committee for sports in Israel said Wednesday after hearing a report from Ripley, coach of the Israeli team.

Canada Will Not Send Team To World Hockey Tournament

MIDLAND (CP — Canada will not send an entry to the world hockey championships in Moscow next year, the executive committee of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association announced today.

"Many of the executive members indicated they felt the great strides which has been place in world affairs during recent days had made the situation such that Canada should not consider competing in Russia," said George Dudley, CAHA secretary-manager.

He said the decision followed a vote of 13 to 12 against a recommendation that Vernon Canadians, Allan Cup champions last year, and Montreal Canadiens Juniors play off to determine which would form the nucleus of a team to compete.

"Under the circumstances, Canada will not have an entry in the world championship series in Moscow next year," he said.

Cocktail Breakfast Follows Dramatist's Success on TV

At The Belle

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — William Noble was having a daiquiri for breakfast.

"I never drink at breakfast," he said, "but I need something to relax me. The tension is all in here." He tapped his stomach.

It was understandable. He was $30,000 richer than he'd been before the telephone range the previous afternoon. The caller was a representative of Kraft Theatre (NBC-TV, Wednesday evenings), who informed him that a committee composed of critic Walter Kerr, playwright Maxwell Anderson and actress Helen Hayes had adjudged his drama, Snapfinger Creek, the best of the year on that weekly dramatic program. Thus the $30,000.

Noble, 36, is a writer. The world being what it is, that means he has known poverty and discipline and loneliness. He has had faith in himself when the world could see no reason for faith, and he constantly wishes to be, a better writer than he feels he is. A bachelor, he has lived in a Manhattan cold-water flat since 1950. Snapfinger Creek was his first hour-length TV drama.

Snapfinger Creek was presented last Feb. 22. Noble says there really is a creek named Snapfinger 20 miles north of Atlanta, Ga.—A tiny rivulet. If you can snap your finger three times when crossing it, you get your wish.

Noble admitted that he snapped his fingers three times while crossing it some time ago.

Laurence Olivier's Production of "Richard III," in which he is also actor, in the three-fold capacity of producer, director and principal player, is showing today and Tonight for the last times at the Belle Theatre.

The setting is the truly beautiful composite set of the interior of Westminister Abbey and the adjoining throne room wherein Sir Laurence, as the hunchback king, utters the soliloquy after the coronation of his brother, Edward IV, and starts his scheme to replace his brother on the throne.

Although the dialogue for Richard III" is drawn from Shakespeare's fascinating drama of the hunchback prince, who, after displaying great courage in the Wars of the Roses, used every trick of deceit, superstition and treachery to unsurp the throne from the rightful heirs, the setting and the action, particularly in the Battle of Bosworth, have been developed to give full scope to the broader canvas of the screen and the spectacular depth and color of the new VistaVision technique in which "Richard III" was filmed.

"Richard III", stars Laurence Olivier, and a distinguished cast, including John Gielgud, Claire Bloom, Ralph Richardson, Alec Clunes, Cedric Hardwicke, Laurence Naismith, Stanley Baker, Norman Wooland, Mary Kerridge, Pamela Brown, Helen Haye, John Laurie and Esmond Knight.

"Richard III" is playing Tonight at the Belle Theatre for the last time — one performance only will be presented. The first showing starts at 8.30 p.m. The second at 8.10. The doors open at 7.00 — One performance only, and is showing for the first time at regular prices.

AT THE McCARTHY — Randolph Scott leads Gail Russell and Walter Reed out of the desert in a scene from "Seven Men From Now", latest Warner Bros. release of a Batjac Production, opening today at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. Lee Marvin also stars in the Warnercolor film. 2nd feature in color is "The Crimson Pirate" featuring Burt Lancaster.

Dramatic scene from "Stranger at My Door," exciting new production from Republic Studios, opening tonight at the Park Theatre, pictures Stephen Wootton, and starts Skip Homeier and Patricia Medina. On the same program, in Technicolor, "Dakota Incident" starring Linda Darnell, Dale Robertson, John Lund and Ward Bond. Both hits are first city showings.

Movie Business Has Future But With Changes Says Actor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Has the movie business a future? James Stewart thinks so but he, adds "there'll be some changes made."

He's a No. 1 star at the box office, and despite his casual manner, he's a keen student of things cinematic. Probably no actor in the post-war period has earned more from movies than he.

Jimmy was the pioneer of the 50 per cent deal. When his salary got too big for Universal-International, he was offered half of the returns for his services in a picture. Since most of his films attract multi-million-dollar grosses, this proved profitable indeed.

"The picture business has got to change," Jimmy says. "We've got to make movie going more attractive for the average public, "That means we've got to have more comfortable seats and air conditioning, more attractive theatres. We've got to make going out to the movie theatre a real treat for the family."

PEOPLE WANT SEATS

The biggest bore, he thinks, is going to the movie house and being unable to get in.

"There's nothing that sours a movie goer more than when he's got to think about having a reserved seat policy, the same as legit houses. When people go to the theatre, they want to know they're going to be able to find a seat."

As a matter of fact much debate is going on in theatre circles on the same matters Stewart brings up. The trade journal Variety has raised the issue that many theatre owners are poor housekeepers and have allowed their theatres to get run down.

Theatre men have reacted violently to the suggestion. But it does seem apparent that many theatres, even some so-called first class ones, have become shabby through neglect. One of the great attributes of show business is glamor: there's not much glamor in attending a theatre that needs a coat of paint.

Recently it was proposed that regular movie houses show all films only twice a day—matinee and evening. The suggestion has attracted lively interest among theatre men.

Such a move would bring the movies closer to being a premium entertainment. They have been forced there by TV, which has taken over the mass market.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes, and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, Nov. 16th., 1956

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Take things with ease, poise; keep your dignity and you will command not only respect but better results, and make your footing surer in progressive matters. This is no time to go "crashing" through.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Be watchful, but do not be quick to take offense if others disagree with you or correct you. Overlook "slights," smile, and you will win easily.

May 22 to June 20 (Gemini) — Influences are somewhat mixed but there are some excellent new opportunities for gains. Much will depend upon your attitude, your consistent will to win, and your cheerfulness.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer) — Don't put off until later what you should, and reasonably can, do today. Don't feel sorry for yourself; look on the brighter side of all things.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — This day may test your stamina, ability and foresight — perhaps all at once. Your imagination can help. Leo natives can make headway by shrewd management.

August 24 to September 23 — (Virgo) — Guard against taking things for granted, trusting too much. Some unexpected turn of events may cause an upset in plans. Keep calm; later things will be righted again.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra) — You can't afford to relax in either personal or business matters. Situations may appear more troublesome than they really are. Don't give up; keep pitching.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — Finish chores where you should, but don't neglect new matters. Diversified interests (if they don't wear your energies thin) are a tonic for you.

November 23 to December 21 — (Sagittarius) — Distinguish between good and so-so opportunities. Don't pass up anything worth while, but don't overtax yourself in trying to break records either.

December 22 to January 20 — (Capricorn) — Excellent planetary configurations. Business or other campaigns should prosper if you plan well and proceed vigorously. Curb selfish desires and do not waste time on unfeasible undertakings.

January 21 to February 19 — (Aquarius) — Be alert now. Some contention is possible. A hit-or-miss attitude, speaking or acting without thought are tendencies to avoid. It's good to be friendly, but mind with whom!

February 20 to March 20 — (Pisces) — A good outlook for all those who take their tasks and duties seriously and who assist others. Be sensibly cautious, diplomatic where you should be.

You born today are under one of the strongest Signs in the Zodiac. You are energetic, can drive yourself and others too much at times. Check this; strive to maintain a happy medium to get the most out of life, and to preserve health, which you can have in abundance. There is a great difference between the developed and the undeveloped Scorpio person. Seek education throughout life; hold to your religion and high ideals always. Self-control will be a strong factor in the success formula. Don't worry but be conscientious always.

Commends Nation On Stand After Debate

KITCHENER (CP) — A resolution commending Canada for leadership in creation of a Middle East police force sent the Canadian Council of Churches into two-hour debate today before it was passed in milder terms.

The resolution was proposed by Professor George Brown of the University of Toronto to commend Canada for advocating the creation of a United Nations force for the Suez area.

Delegates objected to both the terms "commend" and "force."

After a discussion, the resolutions committee dropped the word commend and replaced it with "give humble thanks to God" for Canada's leadership. Further discussion resulted in an amendment to make the resolution read "police force" for "force."

Delegates said the motion contained no recognition of man's shortcomings in creating tensions and that in praising Canada's action, the council might appear to censure Anglo-French intervention in the Suez area.

Bishop George Luxton of the Anglican diocese of Huron said he is a strong supporter of British action in the Middle East and said the original resolution should be acceptable to all if some public recognition of sin was included.

Fred Haslam of Toronto, representing the Society of Friends (Quakers), objected to the word force, saying he doubted if force was ever the answer to those seeking peace.

Rev. Norman Kennedy of Regina, former moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada said the Presbyterian Church believes in the use of force for causes on behalf of constituted authority.

The resolution was passed with the inclusion of a short sentence acknowledging in "humble penitence the part our sins and shortcomings have played in creating the tensions of the world.'

Russ Soldiers Refused to Fight Says Fugitive

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fugitive leader of the Hungarian revolt testified Wednesday that many Russian soldiers had "refused to fight us," but finally had been "terrorized" into turning their guns against the rebels.

Some of the Russians fired on their comrades, the young witness told the Senate internal security sub - committee at a public hearing.

But he said the Soviet Union had sent in new and tougher troops, including two Mongolian divisions, who had "terrorized" the others.

The testimony was given by a 21-year-old student refugee. His face was concealed with a white gauze surgical mask and he used the assumed name of Istvan Laszlo to avoid being recognized by the Russians and possibly exposing relatives still in Hungary to Soviet vengeance.

Laszlo said he and some others had fled Hungary with Mrs. Anna Kethly, a member of the Imre Nagy revolutionary cabinet and had flown with her to the United States Nov. 2.

Paul Revere Act for Dogs Brings Fine

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A 46-year-old woman accused of serving as Paul Revere for cogs was fined $10 Thursday for interfering with 6 city dog catcher.

Court testimony said Mrs. Beatrice Allred was through one of the city's neighborhoods last Friday, tooting at doors and shouting, "The dogcatchers are here! Call in your dogs!"

Today's Chuckle

He was at the fountain pen counter to make a purchase. "You see," he told the clerk, "I'm buying this for my wife."

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP)—Synopsis: An intense storm centred northeast of Lake Superior is moving northeastward over Northern Ontario this morning. Considerable snow has fallen in the north of Lake Superior and strong northerly winds are causing heavy drifting.

Cold air has swept around the south side of the storm and brought a sharp drop in temperature to Southern Ontario. Gale winds have occurred over the south of Lake Erie and Lakes Ontario will reach gale at Malton reaching 52 mph.

As the storm moves northeast late Northern Quebec, winds will gradually subside throughout Ontario. Temperatures will fall below freezing and snowflurries will occur at most points. Rather persistent snowflurries are likely to occur east of Lake Huron and Georgian Bay.

WEST COALITION MUST MEND TIES SAYS PEARSON

Imperative to Repair Diplomatic Contacts

HARRIMAN, N.Y. (CP) — External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson said Thursday night it is imperative that diplomatic contact lines between London, Washington and Paris be repaired to strengthen the Western coalition.

There was an absolute necessity of "strengthening co-operation and unity within our Western coalition generally."

"This means that action by one member state which affects the other members should be taken only after collective discussion and agreement."

Addressing the American Assembly, which is sponsored by Columbia University, the Canadian minister added:

"This applies particularly to the more powerful states in a coalition who, by their actions can affect the small and less powerful members in a way which is not normally the case if the situation were reversed."

Pearson, who heads the Canadian delegation to the United Nations General Assembly now meeting in New York City, took action during the Korean War as a sample.

Referring to the UN decision in 1950 to move forces beyond the 38th parallel in Korea, he said it was a UN decision but the policy of the U.S.-assembly primarily concerned—was not decisive importance.

"It might have been expected, therefore, that before any decision was taken in Washington there would have been a thorough exchange of views between the U.S. and its friends . . . at least between their representatives at the United Nations. But this was not done."

There was some public indication of anxiety on the matter, Pearson said, "but that was because the other countries agreed to maintain the common front at the United Nations in the face of a particular United States initiative about which they had not really been consulted in any effective way."

The inability to bring about reconciliation of interests within a coalition has been largely responsible for the failure and collapse of Western co-operation in the Middle East, Pearson said. "This critique is, I am convinced, only temporary."

Social Credit Retains Seat

STETTLER, Alta. (CP) — The election to the provincial legislature of Galen Clark Norris of nearby Erskine has restored the Social Credit party to the rural constituency of Stettler, held by that party since 1935 and lost in the general province in 1935.

Mr. Norris, 40-year-old livestock farmer, was elected by a wide majority Thursday in a byelection caused by the death of Percy Rairdan.

With eight of the 67 polls still to be reported, Mr. Norris had 2,642 votes to 1,647 for Mr. Rairdan.

British 'Daily Worker' Correspondent Quits as Hungarian Stories Unused

LONDON (Reuters) — Correspondent Peter Fryer resigned from the British Communist newspaper Daily Worker Thursday because it refused to print his stories from Hungary.

He said in his letter of resignation that reports are "the victims of tyranny and oppression masquerading as socialism."

Fryer did not resign from the Communist party.

Fryer was with the newspaper for nine years. He is the third member of the staff to resign in protest over The Worker's handling of events in Hungary.

The Worker has steadfastly followed the Russian line on the revolt, as do other Communist papers.

Fryer, in his letter of resignation, said: "No honest Communist can ignore the truth about Hungary." He said that since the paper would not print his stories he could seek "other means of putting the truth about events in Hungary before British Communists and socialists."

The reporter said he filled three notebooks "with eye-witness accounts of what I myself had seen"—and used and a third, an interview with a British Communist who had been over for three years, was severely cut.

"The editor would not even allow the staff of the paper to read the story I sent on arrival in Vienna from Budapest late Sunday night," Fryer added.

Fryer said: "This was my fourth visit to Hungary since 1949. I spent over a fortnight there, and I am convinced that Soviet intervention was both criminal and unnecessary."

Pearson's Quick Accord Plan For Mid-East Lacks Backing

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson is said to be following up his United Nations police force plan by urging delegates to act quickly on a permanent settlement of the Palestine and Suez issues.

However, it was understood today that the suggestion has won little favor from the United States or the Arab states.

A spokesman said the U.S. wants the General Assembly to go ahead with its normal routine, namely the debate on Chinese representation at the UN followed by the 10-day general debate in which all delegation heads speak.

Egypt and other Arab countries are known to be opposed to discussion of a permanent Middle East settlement until after Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjold returns from the troubled area.

Pearson has emphasized that the momentum created by movement of the police force into Egypt would be wasted unless the world body starts discussing a long-range settlement immediately. The Middle East and Hungarian problems have been given priority on the agenda, and can be brought up at any time.

It was Pearson who first suggested the UN force which has been sent to Egypt to help police the cease-fire.

The idea of early action won support from Britain. A spokesman UN force.

said the sooner the Assembly discusses proposals for a settlement of the Palestine and Suez issues, the better.

He added that the British position is that their troops will not be withdrawn from the canal zone until Hammarskjold returns here to confirm the future aims of the UN force.

British and France have said they will not withdraw their troops until there is assurance that the UN force remains in Egypt pending a political settlement there.

Egypt, on the other hand, has insisted that the Anglo-French troops withdraw as soon as the UN force takes over. Then, Egypt says, the force would have to withdraw to the 1949 armistice line set up following the Arab-Israeli war.

Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the Canadian commander of the new UN force, was due here today to report to the UN's new advisory committee and Hammarskjold's military advisers. Hammarskjold met briefly in Rome Thursday while en route to Cairo to talk with Egyptian officials on the force's arrival.

Meanwhile, Canadian military men here to meet with Burns denied reports they expected to pressure from other countries to supply more reinforcements and materials for the UN force.

Nehru Afraid of Major War If British Remain in Egypt

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru today warned that a major war over "a much wider area" might erupt if Anglo-French forces remain in Egypt.

Nehru addressed the crowded lower house of the Indian Parliament for the first time since the Anglo-French intervention.

"I ventured to say a few days ago that the situation had slightly improved," he said. "Today I say so by no means sure that this improvement has taken place.

"There are many precautionaries which may well lead, unless checked, to a rapid deterioration of the situation and reversion to warfare.

"If unfortunately military operations begin again, it is possible that they might extend over a much wider area and might even develop into a major war."

Nehru said there has been no attempt by foreign forces to withdraw from Egypt. He pointedly added: "It would appear indeed that these forces have established themselves firmly on Egyptian territory and have no present intention of leaving it."

They, he said, would lead to a rapid deterioration of the situation and "bring the danger of fresh military operations nearer."

Nehru said that contrary to press reports, his government had received information that essentially, particularly among shipping in Port Said were "very heavy," running into many thousands.

Turning to Hungary, Nehru said the United Nations General Assembly resolution calling for free elections under UN auspices was "improperly worded," and that India would have voted against it.

"The most objectionable part of that Thursday's resolution was that under the UN.

"We were trying to get Soviet forces withdrawn from Hungary. What was proposed in the resolution would have come in the way of that withdrawal and an attempt thereafter to intervene with armed forces would have led to a major conflict.

"It might well have led to Hungary perishing in the flames of war."

Soviet Union Scoffs Drive to Raise 'Volunteers'

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today snubbed its call-to-arms campaign to raise "volunteers" to fight in Egypt. But the question of Soviet manpower for the Middle East may be raised again.

For a solid week Russian newspapers and the radio were filled with appeals for volunteers against "aggression" and reports of hundreds of thousands willing to join the Egyptian army.

But today's newspapers are almost devoid of any mention of volunteers.

Simultaneously with publication of Premier Bulganin's latest letters to Britain, France and Israel, the subject of sending Russian manpower into the Middle East has been all but dropped. Bulganin made no mention of volunteers in the letters.

The suggestion of Syria and some other Arab states that this is not the time for "volunteers" may have been a factor in influencing this apparent change.

FREED OF CHARGE

MONTREAL (CP) — Harry J. Fitzgold, 24, Thursday was freed of a $35,000 theft charge in connection with the disappearance of women's clothing from a store here this year. Judge Willie Proulx ordered the plaintiff, Topmaster Clothing Company, to pay costs, after stating that the prosecution had no proof in back up its charges.

DOCK WORKERS GO ON STRIKE IN ATLANTIC PORTS

Longshoremen Ignore Plea for More Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Sixty thousand dock workers were ordered out on strike today in United States ports on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Waterfront activity came to a virtual standstill in the Port of New York, the world's largest.

The walkout spread quickly to a number of other American ports including New Orleans, Boston and Philadelphia.

The strike was called at midnight by the International Longshoremen's Association, (ind.), deadlocked with Port of New York employers on terms for a new contract.

An employer spokesman was pleading for "more time" as the strike was called. The New York contract, which had been extended three times while negotiations continued, expired at midnight.

CONTINUE AFTER STRIKE

New meetings between the ILA and the New York Shipping Association, which represents 170 shipping and stevedoring firms, continued for half an hour after the strike went into effect.

ILA President William V. Bradley said in a prepared statement on a television program:

"All officers, members and locals affected are instructed to conduct an orderly and peaceful strike until our demands are met. United and with the help of God, we shall win."

He appears at the same TV program following Bradley, Alexander Cheapis, chairman of the New York Shipping Association, said it was regrettable that Bradley had called a strike while negotiations were in progress.

Involved are about 25,000 longshoremen and other workers on New York and New Jersey piers in the Port of New York and some 35,000 others in ports from Portland, Maine, to Brownsville, Tex.

SOUTH TIED UP

A union official at New Orleans said the strike had tied up ports from Wilmington, N.C., to Brownsville, Tex.—the ILA's Atlantic district.

An ILA spokesman estimated that 40 ships docked in the Port of New York would be tied up. Longshoremen are handling American ports as well. Chopic reiterated that contracts with his employer group could not bargain for companies outside the Port of New York.

OPPOSE RAIL YARD

TORONTO (CP) — Officials of nearby Trafalgar Township, Southeast Trafalgar Municipality Association and Canadian National Railways officials met in closed session Thursday in the face opposition to a proposed location of a railway marshalling yard in the Trafalgar area. The township council is investigating what action can be taken against the railroad in an effort to stop construction of the 13-track, 900-car marshalling yard.

His Force Would Have Taken Suez 'But We Were Cut off in Our Prime'

PORT SAID (AP)—The British general who commanded the British and French landings in Egypt said his force would have taken the entire of the Suez Canal, and he would have captured the whole length of the 103-mile waterway if the cease-fire had not been ordered.

"Just as we were starting to get the momentum of the breakout and get the Egyptian Army on the run, we were cut off in our prime," said Lt.-Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell in an interview.

Stockwell is the man who stepped the sweep after it had occupied only the northern 30 miles of the canal. Stockwell is the man who led military man to voice criticism of tension of leaving it."

Austrian Says Reds Murdered Red Cross Folk

BANGKOK, Thailand (Reuters) An Austrian member of Parliament Thursday claimed that Chinese troops have murdered International Red Cross doctors and nurses in Hungary.

Speaking at the 45th session of the Inter - Parliamentary Union here, Barthold Straphh maintained that Red Cross workers "are murdered with cruelty unknown in history up to that time."

Delegates from 42 nations—including the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France —heard debate on Russia's intervention in Hungary and A and L French action in Egypt at the opening meeting of the week - long session.

ORDERS HEARING

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board Thursday ordered a public hearing in Seattle Nov. 16 to determine the cause of the crash of 8 Canadian Pacific Airlines plane near Cold Bay, Alaska, Aug. 29 with a loss of 15 lives. The CAB said the Canadian government is co-operating.

Insist That Nagy Return To Power To Replace Kadar

Premier and Labor Leaders Agree on Soviet Withdrawal

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungary's Russian-imposed Premier Janos Kadar and Budapest's chief labor leader were reported today to have agreed on a partial withdrawal of Russian troops and the beginning of talks to form a coalition government.

But youth leaders of the revolution which brought the Soviet tanks and tanks pouring into Hungary rejected the agreement unless former Premier Imre Nagy, a hero of the revolt in the Yugoslav Embassy here, returns to power.

The demand for Nagy's return is no strong, and Kadar's rejection so widespread, that it is considered unlikely that the premier can survive in office. The sincerity of any concessions he promises are generally questioned.

THREE-STAGE PROGRAM

Thanks sources today said Kadar had agreed with the Budapest Central Council of Workers, representing workers in the capital, on a three-stage program of Russian troop movement: (1) withdrawal to barracks in Budapest; (2) return to their original bases, either in Hungary or in countryside or in Russia; (3) start of negotiations with Moscow for a review of the Warsaw pact and withdrawal of all troops.

The Communist news bulletin Budapest radio announced that "several workers' councils" in the capital had decided to end the general strike and had appealed for a general resumption of work by Friday. Western observers in Vienna said this in view of the Budapest Central Workers' Council vote Thursday to continue the strike until its demands were met.)

With the general strike still crippling the nation's economy in the wake of the bloody rebellion, Kadar sought frantically to offset the demands for Nagy's return through diplomatic support from leaders of the long-inactive Smallholders Party and the Small Landholders parties.

Ferenc Szabo and Istvan Bibo, former cabinet members, visited Kadar in the Parliament building. They were sent as an emissary to Zoltan Tildy and Bela Kovacs, the landholders' leaders.

There was no indication what success Kadar was having in his efforts to form a new regime.

The Russians, it was learned, have imported more tanks into Budapest to put the railway system in operation. There had been some resumption of traffic Wednesday, but it ceased when reports received by the workers' committees of young rebels were being deported to Siberia.

There was a shortage of equipment in the food situation in Budapest today although the first trains of foodshops still were long. The danger of a famine appears to be diminishing

Store Hours Are Decided For Christmas

The retail section of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce met yesterday, Chairman W. L. Turner announced the results of a survey made of local merchants regarding store closing hours for the Christmas shopping rush.

Stores in Belleville will remain open on Wednesday afternoon until 6 p.m. starting December 5. On Tuesday, December 18, merchants will keep their doors open to the public until 9 p.m. This closing hour will stay in effect until the following Saturday. The day before Christmas stores will be open until 6 p.m., will be closed Christmas Day and Boxing Day, and will resume regular hours on December 27.

Merchants will display reminders of these times in their store windows long enough in advance to give shoppers plenty of time to arrange their shopping schedules.

Lake Ontario Association Will Mail 10,000 Booklets

Ten thousand booklets are being mailed this week to major cities in Canada and the United States by the Lake Ontario Development Association.

The booklet, outlining the facilities offered to the travellers from coast to coast, indicates on "The Six Holiday Areas." These are: the Land of Lakes, Haliburton Highlands, the Highlands of Hastings, Kawartha Lakes, Lake Ontario, and the Isle of Quinte.

The booklet gives information on prices, boating facilities and historic sites, as well as the location of the areas and the distances from major Canadian and United States cities.

They will be distributed through Chambers of Commerce, and Boards of Trade, motor groups, Department of Travel and Publicity of the Province of Ontario, the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, and Canadian National and Canadian Pacific passenger agents. Since the booklets were received by the L.O.D.A. office about three weeks ago, 300 copies have been sent out in reply to direct enquiries for information on the area.

Next week the L.O.D.A. office will be starting to distribute the industrial booklets which give information on every community regarding industrial statistics. Some 5,000 of these are now in the offices of L.O.D.A. in Peterborough.

Merchants Plan To Assist Set up Parking Lots

The retail section of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce has been aware of the lack of parking facilities in downtown Belleville for some time. Yesterday, Chairman W. L. Turner announced that plans are underway to raze the Belleville Lock building, which was recently bought by Canada Packers, and make parking space for a number of vehicles. Two other lots, below and above the foot bridge behind Front street stores, will be levelled, paved and equipped with parking meters to accommodate 300 cars.

Local merchants are endeavoring to raise money for these projects on a recoverable basis. When the lots start to earn a profit merchants will receive their 25 per cent of building costs back and the city will get its 75 per cent refunded.

Broken Toys Badly Needed

Attention all kids in the six to 60-year age group.

If you have one, two or a dozen broken down toys that can be repaired and you're too busy watching TV to bother with them, give Eric Cooper a buzz at WO 8-7678.

Mr. Cooper and his corps of volunteer repairers are requiring for all kinds to be turned over for distribution to underprivileged children on Christmas Day. He has a workshop in the basement of his home at 328 Bridge St. East and will arrange to have someone pick up your toy contributions.

Christmas is only about a month-and-a-half away and there are many youngsters in Belleville who would certainly have a Merry Christmas if Santa Claus would leave them a toy. / Give Mr. Cooper a call tonight.

Bears Attack Calves and Cows In Brighton Area

Black bears are getting bold in the Brighton district, according to the Brighton Ensign.

Just two miles north of the town limits, two black bears have been seen on the Cecil Alexander farm and are believed responsible in killing one heifer calf and injuring another.

Also other calves in the herd have evidence of having been disturbed and when being brought through a swamp became badly frightened. Mr. Alexander in the George Stone cattle herd were found mud covered, apparently having been chased.

The Ivan Flindall children who attended Wades Corners School, reported seeing two big black animals while on their way home from school.

Police Blotter

City police are trying to figure out what kind of a practical joker's joke was being played by a thief who last night stole a canvas from one car and then left it in another car several blocks away.

An auto street resident reported finding a box camera in his car and a short time later Charles Wrightman, Byron street, Trenton, complained his car had been entered with a camera, a flash bulb, a flashlight and a pen and pencil set being stolen from the glove compartment. Investigation showed the camera in the Ann street man's car was the stolen property of Wrightman's auto.

Four postal "pick-up" boxes, three on Victoria Avenue, and another on Hastings Drive at Bridge street, were broken into Wednesday night, it was reported yesterday by Carman Gibson, from the postmaster.

Provincial police reported finding an abandoned bicycle in the Marysville area. The bicycle, a C.C.M. make, with red frame ano white fenders, carried the serial number 54430 - K.

Northbrook Woman Dies As House Burns

A Northbrook woman met death through suffocation by smoke early this morning when the one-storey frame bungalow in which she and her husband were sleeping, caught fire and burned to the ground.

Killed was Mrs. Inza Lewis, 54, who was pulled through a window from the smoke-filled house by her husband, by OPP Constable W. D. Hepper, who lives across the road, and by another nearby neighbor.

Husband of the dead woman, Mr. Fred Lewis, who moved to the Northbrook area, north of Cloyne, recently from Blind River in Northern Ontario, was awakened about 3:30 this morning by smoke. He found the house filled with smoke and heard the crackling of flames from a room at the front of the house.

He groped his way outside, spread the alarm and then, with the assistance of the police constable and neighbor, pulled Mrs. Lewis through a bedroom window.

Artificial respiration was applied by Constable Heppler until the arrival of Dr. R. A. Berry, of Tweed, but efforts were unsuccessful and the woman failed to revive. Coroner V. O. Hart has ordered an autopsy. Provincial police stated there was no evidence of foul play.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis resided alone in the bungalow which was said to be only recently constructed. A married daughter lives in Toronto.

HINTS AT ELECTION

WINNIPEG (CP) — Premier Campbell Wednesday hinted at the possibility of a Manitoba election next summer. Speaking to delegates attending the annual Liberal-Progressive convention he said the coming year "might see two elections" and then repeated the phrase. Santa Claus Will Pay Visit to City, December 8

Santa Claus is coming to town! Kids, you had better start listing what you would like Santa to bring you this Christmas because he will be coming to Belleville on Saturday, December 8. Put a circle around that date on the calendar.

The Santa Claus parade committee, under the chairmanship of Carson Elliott and with the cooperation of the tire department, wrote a lengthy letter to that bearded gent last summer and asked him to drop in to Belleville a few weeks before Christmas.

Yesterday the committee received a telegram from Santa advising them that he will be here on December 8th, which is only three weeks away tomorrow.

Belleville merchants are planning to build beautiful floats for the gala parade.

This year's Santa Claus parade promises to be bigger and better than ever before.

Santa will visit Picton before coming here. He will be in that Prince Edward County community on December 1. After he leaves Belleville Santa will go back up to the North Pole and see how his little workers are progressing with their many orders for toy cars, jet ships, bikes and colors. On December 15 he will visit the boys and girls in Trenton.

Presley Better Than Hymns —For Insane.

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)— Hymns "don't heal but Elvis Presley helps, says a music therapist at the state mental health institute.

Dr. Florence Chambers, music therapist at the institute, claims the Rock 'n' Roll music of the guitar-playing Presley is good for mental patients.

"I can't stand the boy myself, but his music is very good for the patients."

Hymns are bad for rehabilitation work, Dr. Chambers claims.

"They are nice songs in themselves but they have no rhythm and the lyrics are bad for the patients, reminding them of the past."

IN MEMORIAM

JOSLIN. — In loving memory of Mrs. H. Joslin, who passed away one year ago today.

Sadly missed by one suffering.
That the hills were hard to climb;
So He closed her weary eyelids,
And whispered "Peace be thine."
Away in the beautiful hills of God,
By the valley of rest in Glory,
Some time, some day, we know not how or where.
We will meet our dear Mother, and —Ever remembered by husband Roy, and children, Gerda and Garth.

JOSLIN. — In loving memory of my sister, Hilda, who passed away November 16th, 1955.

Memories are golden, a sweet tear, Keeps her memory ever dear;
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Ever remembered by Verna, Art and family.

WRIGHT. — In loving memory of a dear mother, Ruby Eleanor Wright, who passed away November 17th, 1955.

One year since that sad day,
The one we loved was called away;
God took her home, it was His will,
But in our hearts she liveth still.
—Ever remembered by Helen, Gordon and family.

WRIGHT. — In loving memory of a dear mother, Ruby Eleanor Wright, who passed away November 17th, 1955.

Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile
A loving heart, that was all guile;
Deep trust in God that all was right,
Her hope in Christ, her faith in sight.
If there is suffering one must know
To understand, as God does so,
The purest gift sent from above,
Is God sent messenger in love.
—Sadly missed by Dan, Al and family.

WRIGHT. — In loving memory of a dear son and mother, Ruby Eleanor Wright, who passed away November 17th, 1954.

Your last parting was sweet,
We would like you have heard;
And breathless in your car
Our last goodbye was said;
Only those who have lost,
Can miss as we do.
The pain is so hard,
At not saying farewell.
—Sadly missed by husband Ambrose and son Charles.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market was mixed today in dull, uninteresting morning trade. Price changes were narrow in all sections as investors continued to deal only in a cautious manner.

Volume at 11 a.m. was 681,000 shares, a slight improvement over Thursday's 562,000 but about average for recent sessions.

Industrial price changes were generally confined to a point or less but Aluminum added 1½ points, Banks were strong with Montreal ahead a point and Nova Scotia and Commerce up ½.

Losses ranged to a point. Good-year, Imperial Oil, Regent, Chrysler and Northern Quebec Power declined a point while International Pete lost ½.

Base metals were extremely quiet, Hudson Bay and Consolidated Smelters lost fractions but other seniors were unchanged. Consolidated Sudbury and East Sullivan dipped 10 cents among juniors. Other changes were five cents or less with gains balancing losses.

Trivial sparked western oils to a light rally, gaining 20 cents. Prominents Gas, Medallion and Del Rio were ahead 10 cents but General Pete A lost 10 cents.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning and print prices were unchanged today.

The egg market was slightly nervous with offerings adequate. Buyers were cautious and trading was light.

Quotations, provided by the Dominion Department of Agriculture:

Magnificent Will Be Ready To Sail Sunday

OTTAWA (CP) — The aircraft carrier Magnificent will be ready to sail Sunday if the government officially commits Canadian troops to the UN's Middle East police force, it was learned today.

The carrier, preparing to embark elements of the 1,200-man force at Halifax, probably will act as a floating headquarters for the troops if they are ready to join those under command of Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, of Ottawa.

Elements of the force now are in Egypt. No meeting of the Canadian cabinet was called for this morning and informed sources said the cabinet may not meet until Mr. Hammarskjold meets with Egyptian President Nasser.

Gomulka Resumes Talks in Moscow

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Poland's communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka and the party and government delegation from Warsaw today resumed talks with Soviet leaders on Russian - Polish relations.

Weekly Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP) — Slaughter steers were 50 cents a hundredweight higher at the public stockyards this week: Good and choice heifers gained 25 cents a hundredweight.

Yearlings were fully steady. Cows were 50 cents to $1 higher at the close and bulls were steady. Calves were actively firm, bags were steady. Sheep and lambs were unchanged.

Cattle receipts were 2,000 head more than last week and about 1,700 head more than the same week in 1955 Western cattle receipts were sharply lower at 1,238 head. Last week's receipts were 2?4 head. Stock calves totalled 743 head compared with 2,179 head last week. The Westerns were mostly replacements.

Slaughterers were six carloads and six truckloads. Eastern slaughterers were six carload last week. There were no exports to the United States. An estimated 3,000 cattle, all replacements, will be needed next week.

Dressed beef trade is reported as fairly good.

Sales of fully 50 cents a hundredweight were registered in the steer classes. Heifers sold fully 50 cents a hundredweight higher with only a modest number of desirable lightweight butcher heifers on offer. Fed yearlings were steady and in good demand. Cows were very active and closed at prices 50 cents to $1 a hundredweight higher. Bulls were unchanged with good heavy bolognas meeting a ready demand. Heavy fat beef bulls were slow and hard to sell.

Prices

Choice steers mostly $21, sales to $21.50 and a truck load at $22. good steers $19.50-20.50; medium $16-19; common $12-15; good heifers and mostly $18; sales to $18.50; medium $13-17; common $11-13 Good cows and heifers $8-10; choice dry-fed yearlings $23-24; sales to $24.50; good fed yearlings $22-23; medium $17-21; good cows $10.50, sales to $11.; medium cows $9-10; common $8-9; canners and cutters $7-8; good heavy bologna bulls $12-12.50; canners and medium light bulls down to $8.

Replacement cattle: Demand for this class was improved with bids prices no better than steady. Breaders' demand was for steers selling from $14-16.50 a hundredweight. Some good loads, however, including shorthorns sold up to $18.50; good stock heifers mostly $9-14; off-colored common stockers down to $10 a hundredweight.

Calves: Veal calves sold actively. Heavy fat calves continued to pose a problem. Good vealers $23-26, choice to a top of $29; medium $16-22; common $10-15. Heavy grass calves sold for slaughter $9-12.

Hogs: Hogs were steady with Grade A $30.50; sows $20-20.50. Stags and boars unchanged. Feeder pigs steady.

Lambs: Lambs were steady with choice ewes and wethers $21.50 a hundredweight, bucks were discounted $1 a hundredweight, cull ewes $10-12; heavy lambs were discounted as much as $3 a hundredweight, feeder lambs $15-17.50; sheep $3-5 a hundredweight according to quality.

40 BELOW IN ALASKA

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A mass of cold air from Siberia pushed over the interior during Monday night to drop temperatures as far as 40 below zero. The coldest spot was Tanana, about 150 miles west of Fairbanks on the Yukon River. The city of Fairbanks reported 31 below.

RUSSIANS MOVE TANKS WESTWARD

Equally significant as the arrival of Russian equipment in Egypt is the report of massing of Soviet tanks and soldiers in Poland and East Germany. The new Polish government is following a pro-Soviet line which may or may not deter Russian intervention in its administration. Reports have had demonstrations of support for Hungary's fight against the Soviet. (Central Press Canadian).

Brooke Claxton May Become Head Canada Council

OTTAWA (CP) — Hon. Brooke Claxton, former defence minister and now vice-president of an insurance company, may head the projected $100,000,000 Canada Council to aid Canadian culture, it was learned today.

Rev. Georges-Henri Levesque, social science lecturer at Laval University and former dean of the faculty, likely will be named vice-chairman of the 15-man body.

Both would retain their present jobs, working on the council on an expense allowance on a part-time basis.

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced last Monday he will ask the next regular session of Parliament — to open probably in mid-January — to set up the council as recommended by the 1951 Massey commission report. Father Levesque was a member of that commission.

New York Milk Radioactivity Rises Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "steep rise" in the radioactive content of strontium 90 in New York's milk supply in early September was well below the danger level, an Atomic Energy Commission official reports.

Merrill Eisenbud, manager of the AEC's New York operations office, released figures indicating that the maximum foreseeable concentration of strontium in human bone in the New York area from drinking milk that could be contaminated by radioactivity from atomic bombs tested to date would be well within limits recommended by the National Academy of Sciences for strontium exposure.

Co-operation Between Canada, Britain Urged

LONDON (CP)—A. R. W. Low, minister of state at the Board of Trade, called Thursday for more practical co - operation between Britain and Canada.

"We must see that in every field—cultural, technical and commercial—we do what we can to increase British influence in Canada," he told a meeting of the Royal Empire Society.

Low, who returned last month from a visit to Canada, was speaking on the subject of British Trade with Western Canada, but most of his remarks dealt with the problem of Anglo - Canadian trade in general. The Board of Trade is a government department.

The great influx of American capital into Canada is causing a "growing dependence" on economic conditions in the United States. So far, it had been balanced by Canada's Commonwealth membership. But through books, films, radio and television, Canadian youngsters were being "constantly subjected" to the American way of life.

"We must do everything we can to see that we do not leave our Commonwealth relationship to dependent part on the past."

Low said that to counteract American influence, he would like to see more Canadian students coming to Britain, more technical training of Canadians in British firms and a greater interchange of visits between the executives of commercial concerns.

Will Negotiate For Withdrawal 'In Due Course'

LONDON, (Reuters) — Britain today said she will negotiate "in due course" with the United Nations on conditions of the withdrawal of British forces from Egypt.

A foreign office spokesman evaded a barrage of questions at his press conference concerning the exact conditions under which Britain would agree to the promised withdrawal.

The spokesman drew attention to previous British official statements that Britain would undertake a "phased withdrawal" of British troops after the establishment of an effective UN police force in Egypt.

Woman Killed, Driver Flees

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Annie Stefanka, 41, was killed when struck by a car in downtown Toronto early today. Joseph Mastrocco was arrested shortly after and charged with failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Police said Mrs. Stefanka, bullied 15 feet when struck in blinding rain, was left dying on the road.

Police said Mastrocco surrendered on his brother's advice.

Keynote Address To Be Given By Nova Scotian

OTTAWA (CP) — Premier-elect Robert Stanfield of Nova Scotia will deliver the keynote address to the national leadership convention of the Progressive Conservative party here Dec. 12.

The announcement that the 42-year-old premier, who on Oct. 30 led the Conservatives to their first Nova Scotia election victory in 23 years, would be the kickoff speaker was made Thursday night by Leon Balcer, president of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada.

The convention, called to elect a new national leader to succeed Hon. George Drew, who resigned because of ill health, will be held Dec. 12-14.

The Conservatives thus chose to open their convention with a success story. Mr. Stanfield, a lawyer, took over the provincial leadership in 1948 when the Conservatives had no seats in the legislature.

He led the party to wins in eight by-elections in 1949 and to 31 in 1953 before this year's election, when the Conservatives captured 24 seats in the 43-member house to take over the government from the Liberals.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market was mixed today in dull, uninteresting morning trade. Price changes were narrow in all sections as investors continued to deal only in a cautious manner.

Volume at 11 a.m. was 681,000 shares, a slight improvement over Thursday's 562,000 but about average for recent sessions.

Industrial price changes were generally confined to 1 point or less but Aluminium added 1½ points. Banks were strong with Montreal ahead a point and Nova Scotia and Commerce up ½.

Losses ranged to a point. Goodyear, Imperial Oil, Regent, Chrysler and Northern Quebec Power declined a point while International Petr lost ½.

Base metals were extremely quiet. Hudson Bay and Consolidated Smelters lost fractions but Falconbridge and Consolidated Sudbury and East Sullivan dipped 10 cents among junlors. Other prices were five cents or less with gains balancing losses.

Triad sparked western oils to a light rally, gaining 20 cents. Prairie Gas, Medallion and Del Rio were ahead 10 cents but General Pete A lost 19 cents.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cod print prices were unchanged today.

The egg market was slightly nervous with supplies adequate. Buyers were cautious and trading was light.

Quotations, provided by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Eggs, in flats cases, graded: A large 450 A medium 33; A small 28; grade B 32; grade C 28. Wholesale to retail: A large 50; A medium 38; A small 33; grade B 37; grade C 31.

Butter solids: Canada, first grade, Ontario tentatively 58; new tenderable 58-58½; western 58½ (nominal).

Magnificent Will Be Ready To Sail Sunday

OTTAWA (CP) — The aircraft carrier Magnificent will be ready to sail Sunday if the government officially commits Canadian troops to the UN's Middle East police force, it was learned today.

The carrier, preparing to embark elements of the 1,200-man force at Halifax, probably will act as a floating headquarters for the troops if they are sent to join those under command of Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, of Ottawa.

Elements of the force now are in Egypt. No meeting of the Canadian cabinet was called for this morning and informed sources said the cabinet may not meet until Mr. Hammarskjold meets with Egyptian President Nasser.

Gomulka Resumes Talks in Moscow

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Poland's communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka and the party and government delegation from Warsaw today resumed talks with Soviet leaders on Russian - Polish relation.

Nikita Khrushchev, Soviet communist party chief, and Premier Bulganin led the Soviet delegates at this morning's negotiations.

An official statement Thursday said the opening talks on "Soviet-Polish relations and other questions of interest to the two countries," were "frank and friendly."

HUNGARY'S HEROIC YOUTH

One of the most highly significant aspects of the revolt of the Hungarian people against their Soviet oppressors has been the prominent part played by the youth of the nation.

They took leading roles during the active fighting. That, in itself, is not surprising.

Now, however, when the overwhelming might of the Red Army has brutally crushed all but a few remnants of armed resistance, the youth of the land is still stubbornly resisting. Endre Marton, Associated Press correspondent, has described the distribution of leaflets urging the Hungarian population to continue to refuse to work as long as the Russians occupy the country and the "illegal usurping government" of Janos Kadar rules the land. This call, according to the leaflets, was made in the name of "The Hungarian youth which goes on fighting."

Resistance when all seems hopeless calls for a different kind of courage from that displayed by participating in street fighting, a courage which, though of another nature, is equally high. It is a type of courage which youth does not always display. The circumstances under which these young Hungarians have lived since birth make it surprising that they should now act so heroically.

The term "youth," we presume, refers to a person not more than 25 years old. This is 1956. A person who is 25 would have been born in 1931. He would have been only ten years old when Hitler assumed control of his native land. Since then he has never known what it was to live in a country which governed itself. For the past ten years he has been exposed to all the wiles of Communist indoctrination. He has been reared in fireon. Praves Wan has been washed in the blood of his friends. He has been subjected to fight for it, not only with the weapons of warfare but with all the self-discipline and heartache which passive resistance demands. Here is a modern miracle.

THE NEW PRESIDENT OF THE UN

The United Nations has a new president. He is a prince.

There were days when international affairs were the business of princes, kings, archdukes, emperors and shahs, and of nobody else. In those days, though, there was no organization like the United Nations and if anybody had dared to suggest such a meddling with the affairs of princes the response might have been warm but hardly cordial.

Princes and the United Nations hardly seem to go well together, except for one prince who is an exceptional prince. He is Prince Wan Waithayakon Krommun Naradhip Bongsprabandh of Thailand, the grandson of that exceptional king whose life was the basis for the popular musical, "The King and I." Prince Wan, however, is no chip off the old block in some respects. His grandfather had a bevy of wives and children. Prince Wan has had only one at a time, divorcing his first wife a year after their marriage in 1921. He married again in 1930. He had one child by each wife. His marital history is thus a tribute to the influence of Sir Edgar Bowring on his education. He attended Marlborough, one of England's famous private "public schools," and Oxford University.

As for his election as president of the UN, it is not to be considered as a formal honor to a small Asiatic country. Prince Wan has had a long diplomatic career, which opened in 1917 when he became secretary of the Thailand legation in Paris. He was chairman of his country's delegation to the now defunct League of Nations, served six years as a member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague and since 1947 has been ambassador to the United States and permanent representative to the United Nations. If the UN thinks highly of him, it is because he thinks highly of the UN. Although he is now Thailand's minister of foreign affairs, he considers the UN so important that he spends the greater part of his time there.

ILLUSIONS OF SECURITY

A British scientist thinks that Einstein was a whizzup kid.

He has come up with a new theory about the universe. Most astronomers believe the universe is expanding, because distant galaxies appear to be hurtling away from us at great speed. Not so, says Dr. E. R. Holmberg. This I think is optical illusion. He thinks that time and velocity are related in such a way that if two observers in space were separated by long distances, each would appear to be moving at a speed proportional to that distance.

It is to be hoped that this theory does not trickle through to outer space. It might shatter some illusions of security held by any living beings on distant planets, who, if they know about the shape that the Earth is in, must be awfully glad that it appears to be rushing away from them at a satisfyingly fast pace.

MOTHER'S SPLENDID DREAMS

Mothers dream such splendid dreams when their little babies smile,
Dreams of wondrous deeds they'll do in the happy after-while.
Every mother of a boy knows that in her arms is curled
One who some day will arise splendidly to serve the world.

Mothers sing their babies to sleep, weaving through their lullabies
Visions of true-hearted men who their sons must become;
Greatness slumbers in the cot that each mother guards with care,
And the world she knows will be better for her baby fair.

Mothers dream such splendid dreams of the men that are to be,
In the years that are to come glorious are the things they see.
None so poor and none so frail but looks yonder down life's lane
And sees there the splendid heights that her baby will attain.

Mothers dream such splendid dreams that no matter what we do
We can never hope to make half their visionings come true.
Always, as they look ahead, down the lane of life they see Greater men than yet have been in the men that are to be.

Battle of the Thermostat

New York Times.

The furnace is on again, and once more the household is divided. The regulating thermostat is on the living room wall, and apparently no one passes without giving it a nudge. There are two theories about the proper temperature for a nudge house, and the other one is wrong. As the books say, 68 degrees is right. This is outrageous summer talk. It relegates the mind and pays dividends to the fuel bills. It is easy to guess which member of the household is happy at 68 degrees. For all those others—which, then, make a point of chattering and whispering when 68 degrees are set at 75. They complain of being cold, and of catching cold, unless the house is stifling and they accuse miserable 68 of deliberately giving colds to the children. Their classical allusions during the winter do not go beyond the life of the Eskimos, and this is tedious. Watching television at 68, they huddle themselves up in blankets, and this is tiresome. They fret all the time, failing to recognize comfortable persuasion that 68 is better for the mind.

And it is better, no doubt of it. Even cold, a hearty dinner and the mind can marshal all the known reasons for keeping the house temperature at what it should be. These include lowering the differential between indoors and out, avoiding the sluggishness which comes from too much heat, and conserving fuel for use in the furnace. Their argument that the furnace is there to provide plenty of heat can be dismissed on the ground that plenty is one thing, overabundance is another. The mind made alert by 68 degrees will be found to be in July when the temperature went into the 90's. There was plenty of woe and sweat. Many additional fans had not been purchased, there was much anguished waiting for the temperature to go down to the 60's. All of this should have been remembered in winter, but since the temperature was much above 68 that day, the mind was sluggish. They got off the book.

All day long there is trouble. Far into the night there is disagreement between those who are wrong about the proper heat, and those who are right at 68. It begins in the morning. Coming downstairs in their wrappers, to start the coffee, they peer sleepily at the outdoors thermometer. This reads in the 40's. Deliberately choosing to ignore the fact that both windows and storm windows separate the outside from inside, they weave over to the pointer of the thermostat. This means that the believer in 68 degrees must almost hurriedly and rush downstairs without his coat in order to move the pointer back. Putting that coats over their wrappers, they serve a most rueful breakfast, and presumably return to bed as soon as possible, to wait there until the house is like an oven, the believer in 68 knows full well that the second he has left the house that pointer goes up like a rocket.

They are crafty at rotting the house too hot. Like the old manipulators of the shell game, their hands are quicker than the eye. They walk casually through the living room and with the flick of a finger move the pointer to 80. Sitting there watching, alert and all, all of the household are sworn they had not been within yards of the thermostat. They are perhaps most unreasonable during the evening. It should be clear even to the meanest intelligence that there is little point in overheating the house just before the bedroom windows are opened. Yet they persist. Sorry 68 has a date with the fuel bill, and during the evening takes his alert mind to library, for reading, study or puttering about. So soon as he climbed the two flights of stairs to his bedroom, the radiators give notice that the furnace has gone on, and hurriedly he must descend again to put the pointer back. It often seems that the plumbing has only friend, the only other thing in the house aware that the proper temperature is 68.

Breakfast Pie Urged

Ottawa Journal

A self-appointed reformer pleads a discouraging trail in our society but when a man is convinced he is doing the right thing for his peers he should presevere.

The Penntyrman does not claim that pie for breakfast would cure all ill irritations and frustrations. But pie for breakfast would be more than a fitting conclusion to the day's first meal. It is a symbol of a trait lacking in contemporary goingson.

It seems a reasonable assertion that most people lie abed a while too long in the morning, and then start the day's activities in a frantic dissipation of energy, and large, if the consensus of recent survey is valid, most citizens do not take time to eat a decent breakfast. If Parliament would pass a law requiring everyone to get up half hour earlier we could transform our nation's disposition in a week.

Not only our physical improvement, however, is a matter of slow and painful education; there are other fields of endeavor, schools, women's clubs and our P.T.A.'s should unite in the good idea of pie for breakfast. The best pie for breakfast at this time of year is fresh apple pie, served with a few thin slices of cheese under the top crust and a dollop of ice cream spoon of molasses drizzled into the apples before the top crust is rolled out. A cup of coffee should always be well heated to warm the oven.

We wish all top-level, cultural organizations would get behind pie for breakfast campaign, instead of spending their time pontificating on the unhealthy Canadian influence in Abyssinian Monolithic Culture. Somehow we have a sight of basic humanitarian something has focused our attention on the irrelativities of life. When we get back to pie for breakfast our feet will walk on firmer ground.

Strength for The Day

HOLD ON TO FUNDAMENTALS

Soren Kierkegaard, the great Danish theologian and philosopher, has made a powerful impact upon the thinking of the modern world. He was rejected by his contemporaries, died young, and only came into his own many years after his death, thinkers the world over discovered the cogency and value of his writings.

In one of his books he speaks about the tragedy of a man's feelings, knowledge, and will becoming so utterly fantastic that the man really loses what Kierkegaard calls "his self"—the basic, integrating element by which the whole of his life is given significance. In spite of the fact that a man has lost this "self," he may nevertheless live on, unmindful of his loss, and with the world unmindful of it also. "About such a thing, in fact, not much has to be said, the world. . . The greatest danger, that of losing one's own self, slips off as quietly as if it were nothing; every other loss, that of an arm, a leg, five dollars, a wife, etc., is sure to be noticed."

This follows precisely the dictum laid down by Jesus when he said, "What doth it profit a man to gain the whole world, and forfeit his life?" And the meaning in not changed when the word "soul" is used instead of the word "life." To lose one's "self" is tragedy.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The Boss Ladies and Stand Sisters are a big part of the scenery around the scrapers of the world, around and inside. It will diminish—into a little time and perhaps one day will be no more than a memory. In the entertainment trade in many countries it is already on the wane. It is impossible for the nations.

Nevertheless can be no doubt that the name of hard, feminine, posturing Boss Lady has had now of the township and national bosses, with their unsentimental male mentors as, with their bumpers, their gaiety, their ability to get new laws, has attained its full of Boss dames and the notions that men are naturally pomnes-cranes. It behoves a Premier to remind us that, while there are Boss Dames in many town township and every village and town, there are only seven queens all over the country. The overwhelming majority of males are passably monogamous. Of the seven women, only one is married, and she is married to a man who is a Boss himself. Of the six unmarried man, many in private under has some and no boss. Thus we are overwhelmingly under the monogamous pressure of fiction-dislodged up the man and woman relation. TV, magazines and books. If there is some to us to make a list of the seven most powerful females, it would be no larger than the list of powerful males we now know, which in most of our cases we would be just about all, and largely fictional, dependent on the fads of many other elses, by the Premier is real enough. But what he ignores is a big division, part and parcel of the grand age of fiction in which we live.

The Boss Lady is pretty humdrum, honest, modest, a little straightforward, not unconscious. In real life, I mean, all up your street, and all down the other street, up and down mile of them in your town, in your village, your township, there are many mothers of families that include Presidey, or his predecessor or his successor, are trying to be Boss Ladies.

But, actually, who wants the tail of his night shirt on fire?

Maple Syrup Via Hong Kong

NORTH BAY NUGGET

A Canadian newspaper man in London is going to have maple syrup this year, even if it has to be poured down halfway around the world to get there.

Triumphantly the Manchester Guardian reports that the Canadian, whom it does not identify, has found a Hong Kong firm that, mixed real Canadian maple syrup, seldom seen in British stores because of the dollars shortage.

The Canadian found a Scottish dealer named Duncan in Wimbledon, who knew an importer in Hong Kong, and a Hongkong firm which has an exporter in Vancouver, who does business with a wholesaler in Montreal . . . and now a dozen men of syrup are on their way, via Hong kong.

Personal Health Talks

By DR. WM. BRADY

Thanks to Three Books

"This," writes Mrs. C. P. of —— dirst it, her fine letter bears no date line, "is a tribute of thanks to my mother who introduced me to you, to you who introduced me to Dr. Grandly Dick Read and Adelle Davis, and to the person who is giving me the joy of childbirth and the formula for a healthy, happy baby.

"Thanks to Dr. Read and his book 'Childbirth without Fear' I have carried out daily the exercises and relaxed my mind as well as my body. At the time of birth I had no fear at all. My own doctor became ill, so I had to call another. I knew my baby was coming long breech first, yet I went at it knowing all that was to come and how to work along with it.

"I noticed no tenseness until the actual delivery and then only because it was a breech. During the final stage the anesthetist asked me when taught me how to breathe like that, and when I said I read Dr. Reed's book his comment was that he'd read it too. The anesthesia was saddle block.

"Through it all there were many moments of laughter mingled with more dramatic ones, but fear was completely out.

"I saw my baby born, heard her cry, watched Dr. Read's baby form a moment upside down by the ankles and she cried — we both cried for her joy. I will never forget her perfect little body lying beside me in her little basket. She was all mine, and there could never be any mistake and I'm telling some one else's baby confused with mine. The girl in the next bed had a baby girl, too, but when she'd had a baby or what the baby looked like until 24 hours later.

So far Mrs. C. P.'s might be a composite of the scores of letters I have received from mothers who have experienced natural childbirth. But she adds two remarks which go to show what a strangle hold, as to speak, the 19th century obstetricians, pediatricians, hospitals, and nurses still have on the baby business. It shows also, I think, what — oh, well, I don't want to make all expectant parents mad at me. I want to help them keep their dignity—it shows what happens to the poor expectant parents in nineteenth-century hospitals at the hands of nineteenth century obstetricians, pediatricians, hospital staff parasites, nurses, and administrators. Don't let it happen to you, kids.

"The only disappointment was that my husband, a few doors away, was not allowed to be close enough to hold my hand and share my joy."

The poor wishy-washy, namby-pamby, innocent boy, but of nineteenth century magazine and newspaper humor, doesn't know what he missed. The 19th century hospital people made him around, patronize and ridicule him, shut him away in the monkey cage with the rest of the namby-pambies who like the role, for he is not sufficiently adult to share the joy — as this mother describes it — or the sorrow, if it so be.

Leanne is 5 years old now, and I have been able to nurse her right along, though the old district-ical ion of it was impossible.

Because the young mother had her baby right at her side constantly she noticed the baby whenever she darn pleased, and the hospital people couldn't very well stop her.

"But I had followed the teachings of Dr. Spock and Adelle Davis' Let's Have Healthy Children" — from the time of conception I ran on her vitamins, or with main supplements she advises, and feed her this, and I know she does.

"Nursing is wonderful. There are a few sacrifices, sure, but not to be mentioned in the scale and on the other side the convenience, pleasure, contentment and intimacy, the absence of colic and spitting up and the general health of the baby.

"Last but not least — or I should say first, for indeed it was your booklet "Preparing for Motherhood" and your column that opened our eyes . . . " (Signed, Mrs. C. P.)

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE SANDWICH

The derivation, or history, of things always fascinates. The story of the common pencil rubber is very interesting. I thought of this when I looked upon a number of utensils that Thoreau had made.

Recently I came across an item that referred to the sandwich as one of the world's most famous creations. Another item stated that it was named for John Earl of Sandwich. I read that he was an inveterate gambler and often refused to leave the table to eat, but had bread and cold meat brought to him, which he made into what we now term the Sandwich! I understand also that the "Sandwich Islands" were named for him, but since becoming a part of the United States they are mostly known as the Hawaiian Islands.

I have no particular love of snort-order restaurants now do a thriving business with all manner of sandwiches. And how about the "Hot Dog"? What an accessory to many of our pastimes athletic events—baseball, football, and of course all picnics!

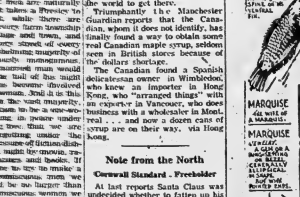
A dear friend of mine, the late Dr. Simmons pencil manufacturer of the first radio quiz programs, time was in 1936 as the station WEC, in Washington. Later he became the author of a series of books of the most interesting and educational character. These books I have read and re-read and now authentic! I have them all in my library. The names of a few are "A Book about Chemistry," "A Book about a Thousand Things," "Inventions Ancient and Modern," "A Book about Politics," and "A book about American History." When he died he was writing a book about Shakespeare, a subject that was a part of him for so long as he lived.

Knowing facts about scores of things is a wonderful aid to entertaining and serves us all well and helps to make us friends. Stephen Simpson devoted the best years of his life to hunting out unknown facts about facts about facts. We all loved him and miss him.

Handshaking Against Law

Financial Post

Some people like to have their hands shaken, backs slapped, babies kissed and shoulders pattered. Other people don't; but probably they don't want a law passed to jail enthusiastic politicians.



In Turkey there is such a law. It applies between election campaigns. During these lulls the parties and their champions are forbidden to electioneer. Kemal Gulek of Ankara, secretary of the People's Republican party, was recently arrested for shaking hands with shopkeepers in the market place. Sentenced to six months, he is appealing to the Supreme Court.

Without knowing Mr. Gulek, we hope he gets off. Maybe he owed these shopkeepers money. Maybe they owed him money or his second cousins. Even if there were no extenuating circumstances, Mr. Gulek should get credit for striking a blow for freedom of speechmaking.

If he gets no mercy from the highest tribunal, we suggest he simply fly an airplane, visa. There must be Turkish voters somewhere in the U.S. if they've learned the American way of life, Mr. Gulek can shake their hands with no objections and no holds barred.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

Kiwanis Travel Film Shows Italy's Beauty and Wonders

The beauty of the old and new worlds, which meet in historical Italy, was brought to Collegiate auditorium last evening when Curtis Nagel presented his travel film "Italy—Land of Two Cities". This was the second film to be presented by the Kiwanis Club in its current world travel adventure series.

Introducing his film, Mr. Nagel spoke of Italy in superlatives. His co-producer, William Moore, toured this European country by automobile with him last summer. They based their film mainly on the beauty, history and art of ten well-known cities in the country.

The ancient city of Pompeii was shown. Excavating is still being carried on there. Centuries - old temples remain standing as an attraction to the many tourists who visit this historical city.

Driving along the Appian Way to Rome the speaker saw numerous tombs where the bodies of early Christians were buried.

Rome, like many other Italian cities, has both old and modern sections. An example of its up-to-date trends is the railway depot, most modern in all of Europe. This city is quickly replacing Paris as the fashion capital of the world, he said. Models wearing some of the 1957 Italian creations posed for Mr. Nagel's camera. Rome is famous for its many magnificent fountains. One of those which the audience viewed contains 17 streams of water which shoot 70 feet in height.

PHOTOGRAPHS VATICAN

Mr. Nagel received special permission to photograph inside the Vatican. Guards, attired in their colorful uniforms designed by Michelangelo, paraded before the camera.

At Naples the two travellers were in time for the August Festival. Each year for this occasion every street is decorated with different electrical displays. About 20 miles from this city is the famous Isle of Capri, which was not overlooked by the photographers.

At Pisa the world's best-known building, the leaning tower, is situated. It leans out 14 feet from its base, moving slightly every year.

Tourists in Florence can view the house where Michelangelo was born and lived. This city is known as "the city of laughter" and also "the city of flowers."

FAIRY TALE TOWN

One of the Italian towns visited by the speaker, San Marino, with its castles nestled in the mountains, takes on the appearance of a picture from a book of fairy tales.

Milan, a city badly bombed during the Second World War, has Vinci's famous painting, "The Last Supper", been rebuilt and is modern today. Here the traveller can see da

The speaker was greatly impressed by Venice, a city where everything is transported by water the 150 canals which finger their way through it. Three hundred bridges cross these canals. The bridges, with their open-air markets, are a tourist attraction. Mr. Nagel took a gondola ride down the Grand Canal, lined with magnificent palaces, some of which are 15 centuries old. After sunset these gondolas "come alive" with multi-colored lights and transport their passengers down the waterways in the moonlight.

Genoa, the city of Christopher Columbus, and Verona, with its legend of Romeo and Juliet, were also points of interest shown during the evening.

The photographer brought vivid reality to his scenes through the use of the new special deep-dimension lenses used by Mr. Moore and himself.

The Kiwanis club has reported that this, the fourth annual travel series, has been a sell-out with the largest attendance to date.

Thayer Soule will present the next travelogue, "The Charm of the South," November 29.

Sixteen Deer Shot by City Hunters

The deer population of the northern haunts of Hastings and district have been reduced by at least sixteen, according to reports.

The latest score to reach the city is, Harry McPherson and party, five; Don McNevin and party, five; Cliff Lowry, one; G. Waite, one; Bob Orr, one; F. McTaggert, one and George Robson and party, two.

Every Home Will Be Visited In Community Chest 'Blitz'

Every house and apartment block in Belleville will be blitzed Monday night by an army of volunteer canvassers for the Community Chest. It is the hope and intention of the canvassers to collect as much of the $35,000 objective in one mass assault as possible. Last year's objective was $30,000 and $34,000 was collected.

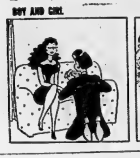
If you don't have any ready cash available when a canvasser knocks, ask him or her to return when it will be more convenient for you. There are dozens of people in Belleville and immediate vicinity who are counting on your generous donation.

There are about 24,000 people in Belleville who constitute about 6,000 families. Many family heads prefer to make cash donations as a family basis. That is a fine way of giving, and it is quite effective.

It might be suggested that some time before Monday night you call your family together and find out just how much each member can afford to give. Collect their money and store it in a convenient place until a canvasser calls at the first of the week.

Now for some mathematics. If each family in the city were to give one dollar the drive would fall short by $29,000. Split $6,000 among the Children's Aid Society, Boy Scouts, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, YMCA and Navy League and each would get about $850. None of the seven agencies can do much on $850. But split $35,000 among them and each would receive $5,000, with which they can accomplish much.

Whatever the amount realized it will not necessarily be divided equally among the seven participants. Allocations will depend on the financial requirements of each agency.



There are scores of young faces depending on your financial support, and many wrinkled faces, too. You, along with the people your contribution will help, will also benefit. You will be able to go to sleep Monday night secure in the knowledge that you have done your bit to help some underprivileged child. Perhaps an elderly neighbor needs nursing attention. Your contribution will make that attention available.

It is only once a year that these seven agencies combine to ask your financial support. Won't you show your appreciation of their wonderful accomplishments by dropping a little extra in the box when a canvasser calls on Monday night?

Donald Swain Takes Position With College

Donald S. Swain, 39, for merly of Brighton, has been named development officer of Carleton College, Ottawa. He will be executive director of fund raising with duties in research, organization and long range planning.

A 1950 graduate in journalism, he has had public relations and newspaper experience in Ottawa, Belleville and Peterborough. He is former secretary of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association.

Francis Stickle Is Elected to Boy's Parliament

Francis Stickle, of Frankford, has been elected by acclamation to represent Hastings South at the 36th session of Ontario Older Boys' Parliament, which will convene December 26th to 31st in Waterloo College and the Mutual Life auditorium, Waterloo.

Francis is an active worker in the Frankford United Church Sunday School, being temperance superintendent and assistant teacher of intermediate boys. He is very interested in boys' work and is Assistant Scout Master of the First Frankford Troop, entitled to wear the Bronze Arrowhead as a symbol of leadership ability.

He helps with sports activities in Frankford. Last winter he was treasurer of the hockey team. This fall he worked as official scorer with the softball team which won the Intermediate "B" championship for Ontario.

His election was announced by G. S. Martin, district returning officer for Hastings South.

It's especially important to firm and pack soil well around any newly planted material in late fall. Make shallow basin around trunk, grade soil down on all sides, and make little ditch-like depressions to carry off surplus water. If water is allowed to collect on the surface it may drown plants, or if frozen cause considerable damage.

Mrs. Scott reported on cards sent to answer from the sick in hospital and at home.

Mrs. Coulter announced two invitations received by the organization: one from "Centenary" church on November 14 and one from White's Church for November 20th.

At the close, refreshments were served by Mrs. Moynes and her group.

ELDORADO-UNION WMS

The Eldorado and Union Women's Missionary Society held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Earl Blakley. The president, Mrs. Ross Robinson, opened the meeting with a reading on "Peace".

A report on Christian Stewardship was given. Mrs. Cecil Blackburn gave a splendid report on the rally which was held in Madoc in October. The Missionary Monthly secretary asked for more subscribers to the Missionary Monthly for the year 1957.

Worship service was led by Mrs. Clayton Blackburn. Mrs. Arthur Robinson had charge of the program and study book which was on "India".

The hostess and assistants served refreshments and a social half hour enjoyed.

CONSTRUCTION FATALITY

TORONTO (CP)—The body of Willi Bogen, 38-year-old plumber who disappeared Monday while working on construction on the 16th floor of the new Terminal Hotel, was found Tuesday at the bottom of an elevator shaft. Coroner Dr. Smilie Lawson said he had fallen 16 floors and died of multiple injuries.

St. Peter's W.M.S. Marks 70th Birthday by Outline of Society

MADOC—St. Peter's Woman's Missionary Society met for its 70th anniversary and thank-offering meeting in the Sunday School room, which was tastefully festive with its baskets of gay autumn flowers.

The Rev. M. W. Heslip, as chairman, spoke of the 70 years since the society was organized on November 3, 1886, and gave due honor to the faithful workers who have gone to bring the Gospel to foreign lands down through the years.

The hymn "Come Ye Thankful People Come", Psalm 103, "Bless the Lord, O My Soul", and the Thanksgiving prayer for a bountiful harvest and for this work started so many years ago, caused each heart to be truly thankful for the Christ of all good things.

Mrs. W. A. Hunter, a former leader's guide, was welcomed and brought greetings to the society. Also Mrs. W. Shaw, the president's predecessor, in "Times Like These You Need a Saviour", Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Earl Armstrong, Mrs. James Keene and Mrs. Roy DeMille.

Mrs. Frank Robinson gave an accordion solo "The Love of God". Mrs. Armstrong were appreciated.

Mrs. David Blakely read the history as compiled by Mrs. Martha McCaffrey of the association, which was interspersed during the Rev. David Wishart's pastorate on a Wednesday evening, January 3, 1883, by Mrs. (Dr.) Dickson of Kingston and Mrs. M. W. McLean of Belleville.

OFFICERS

Mrs. David Wishart was honorary president; Mrs. William Mackintosh, president; Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Brown, vice-presidents; Mrs. Fred Rollins, secretary and Mrs. Cross, treasurer.

The first Thursday of the month was chosen for the W.M.S. meeting. This is still the date.

The first Thanksgiving service was held in 1897 and has been observed yearly since. In 1893, the presbyterial president and some members of St. Peter's Auxiliary went to the Ann Street Settlement (Cooper) and organized the Auxiliary of St. Columbia, other branches being St. John, St. Peter's Auxiliary in earlier days were, St. Paul's, Eldorado; St. Andrew's and Queenboro. Through the years there has been a great number of Auxiliaries springing, several "In Memoriams". This year the Auxiliary sent a gift of $1,000 from Mrs. Sam Rollins, as a bequest to Missions. Three of the members have been appointed to be appointed as presbyterial presidents: Mrs. Fred Hilchon, Mrs. W. A. Hunter and Mrs. M. W. Heslip.

A number of missionaries have gone out to the foreign field from this church: Mrs. T. S. Mockler, formerly Jean Sinclair, India; Miss Lillie Morrice to the West Coast, and Mrs. D. D. Armstrong, nee Kate McBeath, to China.

MISSION BAND ORGANIZED

The Mission Band was organized in 1891, Mrs. Jenkins was leader for a great many years and later, under the guidance of Mrs. Heslip, the Band held the banner of the presbyterial.

Mrs. Field Allen spoke of those who have gone to their reward. A verse of "For All the Saints Who From Their Labors Rest" was sung.

PRESIDENTS

The following is the list of presidents in order of service: Mrs. Mackintosh, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Lynde, Mrs. E. W. Mackenzie, Miss Whytock, (Mrs. McCaffrey); Mrs. Graham, Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Rupert, Mrs. E. West, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. McCaffrey, Mrs. Wm. Millry, Miss Van Luven, Mrs. Field Allen, Miss Van Kleeck (1956).

The members, as an auxiliary, are grateful that its efforts have helped those in other fields of labor. The heritage has been a notable one, which must be lived up to, by emulating those who have gone before.

Miss Lansing West took the group with her on a delightful trip, from the work by air across the ocean to the Old Lands, where Ireland with its bleaching greens, and thorn hedges, its whitewashed cottages with their thatched roofs, its streets of Dublin, the wishing-well and the wonderful harbor of Belfast were seen. Also Scotland with its purple heather and its old time castles; England with its cathedrals, the busy streets of London; Buckingham Palace, the home of The Queen; then on to the continent, Holland, with its native sons in baggy trousers and wooden shoes; Brussels, Paris, Italy, Rome with their flowers, vineyards and wonderful bridges and buildings; the Mediterranean sea with its blue waters sparkling in the sunshine. But best of all, she brought her viewers home in time to see the glorious autumn coloring along the Madoc-Bancroft highway.

Mrs. Allen Franks and Mrs. Ken Nicol sang a duet "The Ninety and Nine".

Mrs. Cecil Wood thanked all who took part in this the 70th anniversary.

The minister closed the meeting with prayer. "By a hath perseen nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man the things that God hath prepar-

Women's Institute

ELDORADO - BANNOCKBURN

The Eldorado and Bannockburn Women's Institute held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. William Irwin with a fair crowd in attendance. The president, Mrs. Pigden, opened the meeting.

In the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Harold Saunders, Mrs. Clayton Blackburn took charge. Business was discussed and it was decided that the Institute cater for the refreshments at the auction sale held at Mr. Bert McCarey's on Nov. 28.

Mrs. Hicks of Madoc, gave a splendid talk on the St. Lawrence Seaway, also showed a number of pictures of the seaway.

A reading by Miss Carol Bailey "Remembrance Day"; Mrs. Doug Pigden also read a poem entitled "This Old Car"; a reading was given by Mrs. Cecil Blackburn.

A spelling match was given by Mrs. Clayton Blackburn.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants and a social half hour much enjoyed.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Irwin for the use of her home by Mrs. Clayton Blackburn.

Holy Rosary Hears Talk by Father McGee

Holy Rosary Parent-Teachers' Association met on Thursday evening in Holy Rosary school. The president, Mrs. Jack Barrett, presided. The Rev. Sister Mary Evelyn opened the meeting.

The treasury's report was given by Mr. Jack Darlington.

Sister Mary Lawrence's room won the attendance prize.

Mr. Ernie Reed introduced the guest speaker the Rev. Father Rev. Father W. McGee, who spoke on "Confraternity of Christian Doctrine," pointing out the different ways the doctrine can be effected and by every member of the parish.

Mr. Jack Darlington thanked Father McGee on behalf of the members of the association.

Sister Mary Evelyn showed two entertaining and interesting films entitled "Point Peter" and "Ave Maria."

Quinte W.I. Holds Euchre Party

The November meeting of the Quinte Women's Institute was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cora Howard on Friday evening in the form of a euchre party.

Three tables of progressive euchre were played. The winners were, ladies, Mrs. Harry Sharpe, Mrs. K. Vivian; consolation, Miss Donna Ray; men, Harry Sharpe, Bert Reid; consolation, Harold Mitchell. Lone hand, Harry Sharpe.

Refreshments were provided by the ladies.

The president brought a delightful evening to a close by thanking Mr. and Mrs. Howard for opening their home for the party.

Bridge St. AOTS Hears Talk on 'United Nations'

The A.O.T.S. club of Bridge St. Church held its first "Ladies' Night" last Wednesday and the evening was a real success. The group, was particularly fortunate in being able to secure an outstanding speaker, Mrs. Hooper of Brampton, Ontario. She has, as she said, an interest in and knowledge of governments at all levels.

This interest and knowledge was used to good effect in 1955 when she was one of Canada's delegates to the United Nations. Her subject, "Speaking With the United Nations," was an extremely timely one and speaking as one having first hand experience she was able to give her listeners a feeling of participation in this body.

She began by explaining how this country's delegation is composed and told enough of the details of their visit in New York to make the delegates vividly real. She told of some of her principal objects, to show that each of the delegates is an individual and thinks and acts like one—quite aside from their official duties and actions. This personal contact is one of the ways in which progress will be made and which is unfortunately not be expected now, in a few years children may live to see the day when the present, vast expenditures on armaments can be diverted to more Christian ends.

MORE HUMANITARIAN ASPECTS

She made the point that people from other lands with other religious beliefs tend to regard all Christians as possessing identical views and make no distinction among the various denominations. She thought it could be better if people could see themselves more as others do, view and could minimize their differences and emphasize the areas of agreement.

The need in the world today is for more emphasis on the humanitarian aspects of international life. Consideration of the needs and wishes of the underdeveloped nations of Africa and Asia may well be, after all, the best insurance for the Western World.

Her description of how last year's crisis in Cyprus and Egypt is were handled gave a better appreciation of the U.N. affairs which she regarded as being extremely grave. However, while these big things captured the attention of the press and public much of the important work of the U.N. was carried on in its humanitarian committees.

While Canada is often unnoticed, it is not marred by the same dissensions as the larger affairs and steady progress is being made against the common enemies of hunger, disease and want.

Beside her interest in things political, Mrs. Houck finds time to serve as director of the Royal Winter Fair, member of the O.S.P.C. Board of Governors and is very active in local and provincial educational and women's work.

The program arranged by Evelyn Hallmann and Ina Hooper tea was rounded out beautifully by a father and son violin and piano duet, Mr. Barnet Taylor and his son Raymond, whose music was much enjoyed by all.

Among other announcements president Peggy Leslie was asked to report the financial success of the "Bachelors' Supper" held last month. He thanked all those who made it possible and congratulated committee chairman Bruce Kerr on the success of the first fund raising venture.

Club members who were unable to be present are reminded that the next meeting, Wednesday, December 5th will be election night and they are strongly urged to be there.

The Experts Say

Furniture Manufacturers Lighten Housewives' Work

TORONTO (CP) — The housewife never had it so good.

Freezers, labor-saving appliances have outdoor themselves to her with labor-saving devices . . . scientists are working on disposable dishes and linens . . . new detergents and fabrics have teamed up to make ironing almost unnecessary. More time for pleasant memory.

And now manufacturers are striving to give her furniture that is more attractive, more functional and easier to clean. So says Harry Parker, manager of the Canadian Furniture Mart who had just completed cross - Canada tour of 400 manufacturing firms which are to display their wares here in January.

The manufacturers, he said, are particularly eager for the housewife's reaction to their new lightweight furnishings, styled particularly for the woman who likes to re - arrange her furniture frequently.

"She won't have to wait for her husband to help her. Mr. Parker said. "Chesterfields are light enough in weight for one person to move."

RAISED FLOOR

The newly - designed heavier pieces of furniture, will not, however, be moved for cleaning purposes. They've been raised so that a vacuum cleaner or mop can be easily slipped underneath.

Wood trim, easily scratched by playful children, is no longer fashionable. Durable fabrics such as nylon and orlon are being used in upholstery. Rubber chairs are being suggested because they are more reluctant than pastels to reveal stains or smudges.

The new trends, says Mr. Parker, are introduced to meet the needs of 20th-century living. In the process, however, manufacturers are developing a style that is distinctly Canadian. It emphasized simplicity and durability.

Mr. Parker said that although it has been the practice of Canadian furniture manufacturers to copy United States styles they now are designing their own.

Their aim is to turn out products that will compare favorably with those of other countries now leading the furniture-manufacturing field. Their desire to compete has a double purpose — to gain recognition for creative ability and to help increase Canada's industrial output.

CONVICT LIBRARIAN

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — A white librarian was convicted Thursday of violating a Virginia segregation law by sitting beside a Negro at a public political meeting here. Faith Bissell, 43, was fined $15 by Judge Paul D. Brown of Arlington County Court. Her counsel Edmund D. Campbell will appeal.

Women's Hospital Auxiliary Gives Detailed Report

Ninety-five nurses in this district are taking refresher courses at the Belleville General Hospital, Mrs. J. L. Smith told members of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary at their November meeting. Several nurses are also coming here for field work from University Schools of Nursing. Dr. A. N. Rota of the hospital pathology laboratory is on the teaching staff of Queen's University.

Mrs. Smith described the "Belle-Gen" club, a recreational club where membership consists of every worker and member on the hospital staff. It was merely a learning of the club's activities, that the Women's Hospital Auxiliary contributes toward the "Belle-Gen" Christmas party in recognition of the feeling that the hospital staff is giving the association in its activities.

Payment has also been made on bursaries for four student nurses, the treasurer announced.

OPPORTUNITY-SHOP RECEIPTS

During the first week of November, the Opportunity Shop is open, receipts totalled $1,000 from the November meeting. Mrs. Kenneth Smith reported on the progress of the fiesta.

It was with regret that Mrs. L. B. Fenger's resignation as convener of the Opportunity Shop was accepted.

Miss Ivy Dickens agreed to take charge of the Christmas cheer gifts and cards that are presented annually in the hospital, and Mrs. B. Sills agreed to coordinate a tuna to cover this.

Reports from the delegates to the annual meeting of the Women's Hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario, which was held in October, emphasized the benefits derived from learning of projects and conduct of other hospitals whose ultimate object like this, is the care and comfort of the patient.

'Christmas Cheer' Theme at I.O.D.E.

"Christmas Cheer" was the theme of the November meeting of St. Julien Chapter, I.O.D.E., held in the Women's Hospital Auxiliary at their November meeting. Several nurses are also coming here for field work from University Schools of Nursing. Dr. A. N. Rota of the hospital pathology laboratory is on the teaching staff of Queen's University.

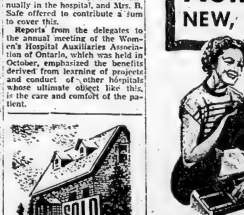
OPPORTUNITY-SHOP RECEIPTS

During the first week of November, the Opportunity Shop is open, receipts totalled $1,000 from the November meeting.

Mrs. W. H. Finkle reported favorably on the newly-opened art show and suggested that posters be placed in strategic spots in the hospital giving new location and hours of the coffee shop.



The puppets, which have been made for sale to help defray the expenses of the ones given to little hospital patients, will be on display at the Fashion Fiesta.

ADVICE To The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

MIDDLEAGE HAS ITS OWN ASSETS — USE THEM

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

What chance has a middleaged wife against a teenager?

I married at 20 and my husband was 23. That was 22 years ago and you can guess I'm the middleaged wife in case.

I've just found out that my husband has been chasing an 18-year-old girl and I'm so humiliated and disgusted that I could die. Besides that, I feel hopeless of ever being able to have a normal life again, because if it's young men husband is after, I'm out of the running.

Have you any advice for me?

— Mrs. A.L.

Dear Mrs. A.L.:

Personally I think that an intelligent middleaged woman has a very good chance against a teenager if she's smart enough to realize that she holds many more winning cards than the girl does, and is clever about playing those cards.

Your husband is now 35 years old. All a girl of 18 has to hold a man in such an age group is her youth. And her youth is not by any means an unqualified asset.

It's true that, in the case of the girl who has infatuated your husband, youth almost certainly means a pretty face, a lovely, alluring figure and a vitality and vivaciousness that can become, in some respects, a stimulating companion. But it also means, inevitably, immature viewpoints, teenage interests, ignorance of subjects that interest the older man and, naturally, a tireless desire to be on the go, all of which, in time, become not only very boring, but very wearing to an older person.

On the other hand, the middleaged wife who has kept her heart, her mind and her eyes open has all the intangible assets that the younger girl has not. In addition, she knows the likes and dislikes of her man; she is very likely to put his comfort and happiness ahead of her own and she is also apt to make him the center of the domestic world. The alert modern woman, moreover, has taken care not to narrow her life to the household routine, and to keep a lively interest in a variety of things outside her home, including those that touch her husband's special sphere, so that she is in a position to make herself a far more interesting companion than the young girl who can chatter only about superficialities.

What, therefore, the middleaged wife can do if her husband devotes a middleaged infatuation for a girl half her age or less is to call upon all these assets that her rival is without, and use them in every subtle way possible to make her husband aware of them and intrigued by them even in spite of himself. She should also remember that one of the strongest lures a young girl has for the older man is that she never fails to tell him, and repeatedly, how wonderful he is. In other words, she boosts his "ego." If the wife has been failing down in this respect, she can make a note to add it to her repertoire of appealing assets.

TALK TO HIM ABOUT HIS INTERESTS

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I'm 14 years old and there's a 16-year-old boy in my school that I like very much. He's told several of his friends, and also a few of mine, that he likes me, too.

The only trouble is that we never meet in a crowd where it would be easy to start talking. I really very shy with him, and since he's terribly quiet, too, it's awfully hard for us to get into a good conversation.

What can I say to him that may start him talking?

Our Y-Teens is planning a formal soon, and I'm planning on asking him. It's a Sadie Hawkins— that means the girls invite the boys—so how shall I go about it?

BEAUTY

By MME. QUI VIVE

TOP-TO-TOE CHARM TIPS FOR TEEN-AGERS

Teen-agers like pretty shoes, of course, but good fit is important, too.

The secret of looking attractive from top to toe often lies in paying especial attention to the "top" and the "toe" part of your anatomy.

After all, dull, oily hair and tired feet are a fairly sure sign of nervousness and imperfect health affect the whole body and personality. On the other hand, a shining lustrous head of hair and comfortable, ready-to-step-out feet mean that you've had gone more than skin-deep.

A clean scalp is healthy and makes for a healthy skin otherwise, too. There's probably no better insurance against youthful skin troubles than taking superb care of your hair and scalp. Don't be afraid of frequent shampoos. The oil glands that feed natural beauty to your hair and scalp will not stop functioning just because you keep your hair supercleam. Plenty of lather, a good strong massaging, and generous rinsings will clear the scalp of dirt and perspiration and give the natural oils a chance to go to work. Indeed the hair regularly stimulates the circulation, and circulation may be just what you need to bring a shine to your hair—and a glow to your face.

There are two things to remember about feet.—They need to be clean and well-cared for, and they must feel comfortable. Find the type of shoe that allows you to go all day without pain or chafing. Then go in for frequent hot water and soap scrubbings of your feet. Make them tingle with pleasure at being clean, free from perspiration, infection, or weariness. Before an evening of dancing, nothing is so invigorating as a session in the tub, with special attention to your feet. Never allow a corn or an ingrown toe nail to get a start. These are signs of badly fitted shoes. Clean, comfortable feet will enhance your poise and energy.

A pretty face may be your fortune, but make a "top" and "toe" check on your grooming habits before you go out to meet the world.

start this boy talking is to ask him about things he's interested in.

Does he go out for sports, or do you know of any other special interest he has in school? Try and find out some of the things he likes to do both in and out of school, and then, the next time you get a chance to talk with him, ask him some questions about his activities and see if that doesn't start a conversation going. He'll probably reciprocate by asking you about your interests and the first thing you know, you'll find that the two of you like some of the same things, and then you'll have plenty to talk about.

As for the dance that's coming up, since you're so shy, the easiest thing to do will be to send this boy a little note inviting him to come with you. So get out your nicest notepaper and write him that you girls are having a Sadie Hawkins and you'd like very much to have him come with you. It's as simple as that.

Reader's Friday Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION:

Would you please send me a simple recipe for pumpkin preserves? Thank you.—Mrs. C. G.

ANSWER:

PUMPKIN PRESERVES

Wash pumpkin, cut into pieces, pare them, remove seeds and stringy portion, cut pumpkin into 1-3 inch cubes. Weigh. To each pound allow 6 cups water, 3-4 lb. sugar, one-half lemon thinly sliced, add, if desired, 1 or 2 pieces of gingerroot. Boil the pumpkin dice in the water 20 minutes or until tender. Add the sugar and boil one hour. Add the lemon and ginger and continue to boil until syrup "sheets off" the spoon. Fill sterile jars and seal. Do not do more than 2 lb. pumpkin in one batch.

QUESTION:

I was at a tea and I heard one of the ladies there saying that you gave out recipes to diabetics. Could I have a recipe for a type of nut drop cookie if you have one that a diabetic could eat? I get so tired of the same old things. Is there a way to fix beets like Harvard beets but without sugar. I would be very grateful.—Mrs. Walter S.

ANSWER:

Yes I have quite a good file of recipes for diabetics. Let me know whenever you would like more.

NUT DROPS

(A sugarless cookie)

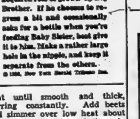
One-half cup butter or margarine, 16 crushed sucaryl tablets or 2 teaspoons sucaryl solution, 1 egg 2 tablespoons orange juice, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1-3 cups sifted flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon soda, 1-3 cup skim milk soured with 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1-3 cup chopped walnuts. Cream butter until light. Mix the sucaryl with the egg, orange juice, rind and vanilla and mix well into the butter. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with the soured milk. Blend in nuts. Drop by teaspoonful onto greased cookie sheet. Cut through batter with edge of spoon to flatten cookie slightly. Bake at 375 degrees Fahr. about 15 to 20 minutes. When cool store in a container with loose cover.

ORANGE GLAZED BEETS

- (Sugarless)

This is delicious. The other members of the family will enjoy it too so make up the whole recipe. Two tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sucaryl solution or 24 tablets crushed, 1 teaspoon cider vinegar, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1-3 cup orange juice, 2 cups cooked sliced or diced beets. Melt butter, blend in cornstarch and salt. Add sucaryl. Vinegar, orange rind and juice. Cook over medium heat until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Add beets and simmer over low heat about 10 minutes until heated through.

Note—These are so good that anyone who is serving beets would enjoy this method of preparing them. One-quarter cup sugar may replace sucaryl.



Mother's Helper

MANY a small person finds it hard to sustain his newly-acquired role of grown-up big brother. If he chooses to regress a bit and occasionally asks for a bottle when you're feeding Baby Blister, heed give it to him. Make a rather large hole in the nipple, and keep it separate from the others.

PROPER TO GIVE HOUSEWARMING FOR NEW APARTMENT

Dear Mrs. Beechman

For the first time in my life I have a real home—a small apartment. I'm so proud of having an apartmentwarming! — Sadie S.

(1) Indeed it's proper and a fine idea too, to give a housewarming to invite your friends to your new apartment. In this word, "house" means a new home of any type...house, apartment, and today even trailer!

(2) You may invite by telephone or verbally, or by one of the attractive printed Housewarming invitations now to be found in stationery departments and shops, or by informals (very convenient to use, with the new address entered or written in the lower right corner, and perhaps with the new telephone number written on the inside page with the invitation).

(3) The time most often chosen for a housewarming, because of its greatest convenience to the greatest number of people, is Sunday or Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 or 4 o'clock, to 6 or 7 o'clock.

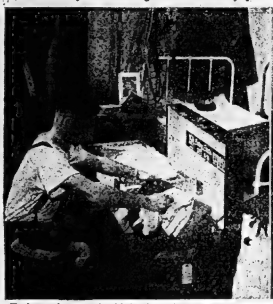
Musical Ride World Famous



As Canadian as the Maple Leaf is the colourful spectacle of the RCMP doing the Musical Ride. Renowned at home and abroad their precision performance thrills audiences everywhere. First given in 1876, early performances provoked a newspaper attack that the Force was more interested in entertaining than in preventing mayhem. Despite this, law and order prevails today and the Ride is a Canadian institution.

"Review Order" means full dress consisting of stetson hat, scarlet tunic, blue breeches, long boots, spurs, brown gauntlets and full Sam Browne equipment. Each rider carries a lance with a red and white pennon at the "Carry" while performing the Ride. The lance was introduced in 1874 to satisfy the Indian's love of pomp and ceremony and not for use as a weapon.

Each man's gear should be in order at all times. A constable checks over his kit and packs in preparation for current tour of Toronto, New York and Chicago where the Musical Ride is always a stellar attraction.

Horse and rider must be in harmony and keep pace as one to the tempo of the music be it waltz, foxtrot or march. Each man gives his mount's black coat a shining gleam and in the process they become firm friends.

Inspector J. G. C. Downey and Riding Master, Staff Sergeant R. R. Van Patten decide on ride formations. A full troop of 32 constantly rehearse for three months as the Ride demands great coordination and control.

At the end of a hard day of drill, the men relax in the barracks by enjoying a game of cribbage while a friend looks on and gives a bit of gratuitous advice as he polishes his boots for the next day.

RUSSIAN DEMANDS

forces be restricted to positions along the 1949 Israeli-Egyptian armistice lines. Bulganin said the police force should not be stationed in the Suez Canal zone.

Except for the question of compensation, which Egypt had not raised, these demands fell wholly in line with President Nasser's position.

Britain and France, however, have made clear that they will turn over the positions they hold on the northern third of the canal only to a UN force prepared to remain along the waterway until a Suez settlement is reached between Egypt and the West.

The French government quickly labelled Bulganin's notes a manoeuvre to hamper the work of Hammarskjold and the UN police force. A foreign ministry spokesman said France believes the Soviet position will incite Nasser to oppose any action of the UN to police the Suez.

STATES SOVIET STAND

In his messages, Bulganin said the Soviet Union "is of the opinion that with withdrawal from Egyptian territory of the armed forces of Britain, France and Israel, there is no need for such international forces."

He added, however, that the Soviet government had no objection to the police force, since Egypt had agreed in principle and "in view of the fact that they can be placed on both sides of the demarcation line between Israel and Egypt."

"These forces should not be stationed in the Suez Canal Zone," Bulganin said, "as this would be contrary to the 1888 convention (guaranteeing freedom of shipping through the canal), and the Egyptian government, as a sovereign state, is ensuring the necessary order in that area."

Bulganin did not speak of possible Soviet intervention with either "volunteers" or armed forces. He expressed satisfaction that hostilities in the Canal Zone had been halted, and declared Russia has no special aims in the Middle East directed against interests of the Western powers.

He warned, however, that the situation in the Middle East "is extremely tense."

"One should not sow the seed of tempest," he said, "because in the present circumstances there are enough sparks for a fire to break out again."

WHITE SWAN

• so soft
• so strong and safe
• so white

All you want in a tissue you will find in White Swan. You want softness. White Swan gives you the famous "just-right" softness that millions prefer. You want strength. White Swan is strong yet so amazingly absorbent. And you want purity. White Swan gives you a purity and whiteness no other tissue matches. These are the reasons more Canadian women reach for White Swan Tissue than any other brand. You see, it really, is "the finest". White Swan towels and serviettes are also "of the finest" quality.

Little Benny's Notebook

Ms looked up in the air with a scared expression, saying to pop, Goodness, William, a moth.

Think nothing of it, It's probably more scared of you than you are of it, pop said, and ma said, Dont really, I'm not one of those women who think their whole house is going to crumble down in wracken ruins when they see one moth. The only thing is, William, I cant seem to remember whether I inspected your dress suit this year and put it back in-its garment bag with fresh moth balls, she said.

Please dont give it another thought, pop said. I've never been comfortable in that dress suit and I hope I'll never be uncomfortable in it again. I'll gladly donate it as a home for deserving old moths who have successfully avoided the lure of the flame, he said, and ma said, William, I'm serious. Suppose an occasion arrives when you ought to wear that dress suit. How do you suppose I'll feel if I've neglected to preserve it against moths? she said.

How do you suppose I'll feel, pop said. I'll feel wonderful, he said, and ma said, I know I wont sleep tonight if I dont remember, but I dont feel like running up now and rooting in the spare closit to make an investigation. Oh dear, she said.

Calm yourself, my dear, pop said.

By tomorrow morning that whole thing will have slipped your mind once more, and if I ever have to wear that dress suit again, 3000 happy moths will fly out of the empty bag rubbing their little full stommmicks, he said, and ma said, Oh, I did, William. 2 weeks ago. I cant tell you how relieved I feel, she said.

The moths and I feel terrible, pop said.

Saying it from behind the sports page.

New York Meet Debates Use of Seaway Power

NEW YORK (AP)—Representatives of industry, farmers and housewives Thursday debated who should get the first benefits from cheap St. Lawrence River electric power and how much.

Several dozen speakers and about 100 representatives of upstate communities attended a hearing before the State Power Authority.

The Reynolds Metals Company, which has offered to buy the last big block of electric power not already committed from the St. Lawrence generating project, argued that industry would make the most efficient use of the power. Reynolds said the whole area would benefit from manufacturing attracted to the power. site near Massena.

Reynolds wants to buy 200,000 kilowatts of power under a 30-year contract.

G. Ward Yoemans of Dunkirk, N.Y., appearing on behalf of four villages, said the figure of 68,000 kilowatts allocated for municipal use was "woefully inadequate."

Yoemans said he prepared his remarks before Robert Moses, Power Authority chairman, gave assurance that future municipal needs would be taken care of from Niagara Falls power.

STILL UNDECIDED

The proposed Niagara project currently is the centre of a congressional controversy.

The Power Authority has drawn up contracts for sale of power from the St. Lawrence project to Reynolds, the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., and several upstate communities.

Niagara Mohawk argued today that the best interests of the public would be served by allowing it to sell St. Lawrence power to its customers. The corporation wants 113,000 kilowatts on a 33-year contract.

Brooks Lapp, chairman of the engineering committee of the Municipal Electric Utilities Association of New York State, and the 42 municipalities his organization represents are opposed to the Reynolds contract.

TRAIN SCRAMBLES SWEETS

BARSTOW, Calif. (AP)—A truck loaded with such delicacies as cases of root beer and chocolate syrup, canned cherries, fruitcake and marshmallows, failed to beat a Santa Fe freight train at a crossing Thursday. The three engines of the train were damaged as well as splashed with chocolate syrup. The van was destroyed. There were no injuries.

Tweed

FLASHER SYSTEM

TWEED — After much negotiations between the village council and the officials of the CPR, a new flasher system has been installed on Victoria Street, where No. 37 Highway passes over the CPR tracks and on through Tweed's main street to join with No. 7 Highway at Actinolite.

Traffic over this section is very heavy in both directions, especially during the summer months.

The new system went into operation on Tuesday with the wayfreight from the west being the first train over the system.

There are three other crossings of streets in the village and it was thought at one time that one of these streets would be eliminated, but it is understood now that all will remain open.

After nearly two months Mr. and Mrs. Fred Arber returned home from a trip to the west coast, where they visited with their two sons and their families. They spent part of the time with Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Arber and two daughters in Vancouver, and the rest of their holiday with Dr. and Mrs. S. R. Arber and three daughters in Hanye, B.C.

Jesus Extends Congratulations

BY ROY L. SMITH

The word "blessed" which appears in the New Testament, in connection with Jesus' beatitudes, is a little difficult to translate into exact English, for the original Greek word has so much more meaning than appears in any one of our words. Perhaps it can best be expressed by saying that Jesus extended his congratulations to the meek, the poor in spirit, the persecuted, etc.

SOME STRANGE CONTRADICTIONS

It sounds just a bit strange to modern ears to hear such a one as Jesus of Nazareth extending his congratulations to the meek, for the meek people have never been considered very important in any generation.

In an age when the big prizes go to the aggressive, the supersalesmen, and the big-shots, we find it difficult to believe that the little people are important anywhere except in the mob scenes. Yet Jesus said that eventually they would take the earth over, and manage it!

A rough-and-ready, ambitious rock-sure world seldom deals patiently with the meek. Indeed, it seldom deals even justly with them. It extends them no discounts, they are seldom able to buy at wholesale, they are voted en masse, and they always pay the admission that provide the stars with their million dollar contracts with the studios.

Why didn't Jesus congratulate the ones who got their names on the billboards, their pictures in the papers, and their listings among the big-salaried? Perhaps it was because Jesus saw so many such and saw how poor they were.

STRANGE CONGRATULATIONS

The foregoing raises a rather interesting, and also a rather searching, question. If Jesus were to preach his Sermon on the Mount at the edge of our city this afternoon, just who in our community would He be apt to congratulate?

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for November 18: "The Beatitudes." Matthew 4: 23—5:20.

Would He extend congratulations to the coffee-drinking champion, the winner of the bathing beauty contest, the real estate developer who put up a lot of cracker boxes and sold them at a good profit, the public official who was elected because he was a demagogue, or the preacher who captured big crowds by parading his own prides?

We Sincerely Say:

DON'T BUY ENERJETS

Unless—

- YOU REALLY LACK VITALITY
- YOU ARE UNDER A STRAIN
- YOU NEED TO BUILD UP RESISTANCE AFTER AN ILLNESS

Because

Enerjets contain exceptionally high quantities of vitamins, minerals, liver and iron — that's why they cost $5.95 for a 30-day treatment — that's why we say ENERJETS are only for those who really need them, not for those who are now in the best of health.

Fast Action With Enerjets

The Enerjets box is like a calendar. It contains 30 squares. Each square holds your daily dose. Ten days from now, when you reach square 10 in the Enerjets box, you won't have to be told how much better you look and feel. You'll notice your appetite improves . . . your body feels rested, alert, ready for action. ENERJETS are building you up, helping you feel better than you have in years.

When You Reach Square 30

You should experience new vigor, a buoyant feeling of well-being, the happy companionship of your family life.

Lodge asserted that the free world must use every means to resist Communist oppression . . . "This dark, bloody, sordid, sinister influence which is at large in the world." (Central Press Canadian).

Present Boom in Evangelism May Lead Church Into Error

KITCHENER (CP) — Canada's present boom in evangelism may sometimes lead the church to live in an "ivory tower," delegates to the 11th meeting of the Canadian Council of Churches have been told.

Rev. Fred Poulton of Toronto, secretary of the council's department of social relations, said Thursday the church must deal with the whole life of the person. He said the church is failing unless it concerns itself with the liquor problem, gambling, housing, racial discrimination and the multitude of other concerns of church members.

He read the report of the department of social relations, which noted that the church is often tempted to wash its hands of this world and concern itself with the life after death.

Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, chairman of the United Church's department of evangelism and social service, said Ontario is leading Canada in the growth of alcoholism and the problem existed mainly among well-to-do and educated persons.

Across Canada the rate of increase this year is 10 per cent but the Ontario figure is 2½ times as high.

He said the partial reason for the increased consumption in Ontario is the increased number and variety of outlets.

Rev. Louis Fowler, a Presbyterian clergyman from Harriston urged ministers to aid Alcoholics Anonymous in doing its duty for drinkers in the communities. "my parish work is being done by some AA workers who often keep a 24-hour watch over these troubled people," he said.

A suggestion that churchmen are not doing enough to overcome the "social pressures that encourage alcoholism" was voiced by Canon L. F. Hatfield of Toronto. The pressure on young people to engage in social drinking was strong and the church must find some way to lessen the compulsions that lead to drinking.

West Huntingdon — The West Huntingdon 4-H Girls' Club held its first meeting of the project, "Well Dressed and Well Groomed," at the home of Mrs. Don Fargey. Mrs. John McInroy is the leader with Mrs. Don Fargey as assistant.

Election of officers was as follows: president, Bernice McCurdy; vice-president, Beverley McInroy; secretary, Carol Fargey; press reporter, Pauline McCurdy.

The main activity for this year will be the making of slips from a pattern. The leader also gave instructions on the boxes; also some polsters were given to the members on the well grooming of one's self under the main topic "Care of Person." Members also studied different types of material for slips by experimenting with them.

After the meeting, the hostess served refreshments, assisted by the co-hostess.

The second meeting was held at the same home, with the president presiding.

Instructions were given on preparing material for slips. Another topic of importance was making the most of clothes' rules for washing, with woollens as the main topic.

At the close of the meeting the hostess and co-hostess served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Irvine of Windsor were Saturday afternoon callers of Sarah and Arthur Wilson.

Hometown Handyman

This job is important to our hometown handyman and for good reason—it's an addition to his home. To the people of Hometown Ontario, few things matter more than their homes. In fact, a big percentage of the "billion-dollar-plus" they spend every year goes for conveniences like air-conditioners and television sets, deep freezes and oil burners —the 'extras' that make for better living. Yet hometown Ontario people are still down-to-earth people, vitally concerned with what's going on right around them, what's happening to people they know. It takes the local paper to keep them informed—and because it does, it's eagerly looked for and carefully read by the whole family. This enthusiasm means a lot in the advertiser. It means that his product message is presented to a receptive audience. It means that he's reaching one of Canada's richest markets through the medium used most often by his local retailer.

Whatever your product, it can be sold in Hometown Ontario—and it can be sold more effectively through the 27 local Hometown Ontario dailies. Be sure they're included in your schedule. Ask your advertising agency.

During 1955 local retailers purchased far in excess of 100,000,000 lines of advertising in Hometown Ontario daily Newspapers.

CAN'T GO FORWARD OR BACKWARD IN SUEZ CANAL

Long Middle East Fighting Might Have Endangered Life Of Commonwealth-St. Laurent

TORONTO (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said Thursday night the continued existence of the Commonwealth in its present form might have been threatened had fighting in the Middle East continued for a prolonged period.

There would have been danger of almost irreparable breach between Asia and Africa and most of the Western world.

Mr. St. Laurent told a banquet audience striking his emphasis primarily as prime minister:

"It is my view that, had fighting between Israel and Egypt on the one hand and the military intervention of the United Kingdom and France on the other continued for a prolonged period of time, there would have been a very grave danger of the conflict spreading and of an almost irreparable breach being created between the nations of Asia and Africa and most of much of the Western World in their relations with one another and in the United Nations.

"In addition, a great strain would have been placed on the continued existence of the Commonwealth as we know it today. Further, it is conceivable that the ancestral cohesion of our Western alliance would have been most seriously affected."

He said it was a sad spectacle to see for a time the United States, the Soviet Union and many Western European countries allighned against Britain, France and other Commonwealth countries in the United Nations—"A spectacle which we, as Canadians, hope will never to be repeated."

Of the possible consequences of a prolonged fighting in Egypt, the prime minister said:

"For Canada, such a dread three sided eventuality would have presented a very grave situation. For the world, in our eyes, it would have been a tragedy; for the United Nations it would have provided a situation with endless possibilities for exploit by the Communists of its unrenounced aim to make the world over in its image."

Canada's proposal of a UN police force had, "I know, a considerable influence on the decision of the U.K. and France to agree to a cease-fire and to undertake to withdraw their forces from the scene of battle."

Ended by more than 900 persons, climaxed a hectic day for the 74-year-old prime minister.

Up at 7:30 a.m., he hurried through a series of functions throughout the day. In the morning, accompanied by Madame St. Laurent and his daughter, Mrs. Hugh O'Donnell, he toured many wards at the Hospital for Sick Children, chatting with the young patients, doctors, nurses and trustees. Once he stopped to autograph a small girl's cast.

In his banquet speech, Mr. St. Laurent reviewed events of the eight years he h a been prime minister. He recalled that the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King asked him to join the cabinet in 1941, "for the duration of the war."

Then 10 years after the war, "the duration still doesn't seem to be over as far as my own career is concerned. And unless the Canadian people decide to the contrary, it looks at the present time as though it will last for some considerable time yet."

The prime minister departed from his prepared address to pledge that Canada will see Major-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, appointed commander of the UN police force, gets everything he needs for that force.

He said:

"If he needs something that other nations can make—well and good—provide, we (the government) are going to take the responsibility of spending your money to provide it and then facing Parliament to ask its approval."

Mr. St. Laurent regretted the fact the Middle East crisis seemed to obscure in the minds of many people around the world, especially in Asian nations, the "enormity of the vicious Soviet intervention in Hungary."

But he added:

"On the other hand Soviet military intervention, which we know was under way before the recent events in the Middle East, has done much to preserve the essential unity of purpose of the free nations and their approach to unanimity among so many members of the United Nations of which I spoke some 10 days ago."

St. Laurent Asks Some Restraint In Use of Credit

TORONTO (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent appealed to Canadians Thursday night to use restraint in making their purchases to help prevent a rise in prices and inflation.

"A lot of us—too many of us, it seems to be—have been cashing in on bear skins before we have shot the 'bears,'" he said at a dinner marking his eighth anniversary as prime minister.

He estimated that the average worker who may be in debt now owes about $1,000 in consumer credit. The total consumer credit bill is about $2,400,000,000.

"That is a trend which I do not like to boast about," he said. "It seems to mean that automobiles and radios and television sets and refrigerators and deep-freezers, yes, and even articles of clothing have been bought and are being used and are depreciating in value and will have to be paid for out of future earnings at the cost of being prevented from using those future earnings to acquire the goods that may be needed while those earnings are being made. . .

"In a free economy such as we enjoy, the competition between business men, consumers and governments for workers and materials can lead to a rise in prices and a decrease of inflation. And that is what we are faced with at the present time unless we are willing to exercise some restraint. . . ."

Buffalo Harbor Deepening Asked

BUFFALO, N. (AP) — Business and government interests joined Thursday in urging that Buffalo harbor be deepened to 27 feet to accommodate ocean vessels that will use the St. Lawrence seaway.

Rapid expansion of industry and trade in the Buffalo area has predicted if harbor improvements keep pace with those in other Great Lakes ports.

This was the most widely-held opinion among nearly 100 persons who testified at a U.S. Corps of Engineers public hearing. The session was one of a series the engineers are holding to give business and government leaders a chance to express their opinion on the future of harbors and waterways in light of the seaway.

District congressmen joined in urging the deepening of the harbor, now generally 23 feet in depth.

Brandished Knife On Ottawa Street

OTTAWA (CP)—An Ottawa man was charged with wielding a knife in front of a woman Wednesday on a busy uptown street less than a block from the Ontario Hospital at Brockville.

Peter Shore, 26, was arrested after allegedly confronting an unidentified woman with a six-inch knife on Sparks Street. Police said Thursday the young man had been out on probation from the hospital for a little over a month. He didn't know the woman.

HUNGARIANS IN HOLLAND

UTRECHTC, The Netherlands (AP)—The first group of some 600 refugees from war-battered Hungary to the Netherlands arrived late Wednesday night. They cheered and cried as their special train from Vienna pulled into the station. Families brought along about 40 children, but most of the refugees are single or left their families behind.

U.S. Board Has Abandoned Stand No Consumers Should Depend on Gas From Canada

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States Federal Power Commission Thursday abandoned its long-standing policy that no American natural gas consumers should be made wholly dependent on Canadian gas as their only source of supply.

In a statement the commission said it has concluded that its past views disapproving of reliance in the United States on Canadian gas as a sole source of supply should not be permitted to stand.

It is possible, the commission added "to envisage circumstances under which a project requiring wholly upon Canadian gas could be found to be in the public interest, depending on the particular facts of a given case."

The commission's flare-reaching change of policy was made known as it rejected a series of motions seeking to dismiss applications for two major U.S. pipeline companies to import and export natural gas from and to Canada in the mid-western United States.

It said its new policy did not mean it was "undertaking to pass upon what authorizations, if any, should issue in the present case. The motions, filed by competing companies and U.S. coal, rail and other interests, sought dismissal of a plan by Midwestern Gas Transmission Company to import 264,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily from the Irani-Canada pipeline at Emerson, Man., and market it in the north-central United States.

Also opposed was a companion plan by Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, Midwestern's parent firm, to export up to 68,000,000 cubic feet of American gas daily from Louisiana to build up a market there pending completion of the trans-Canada gas line.

Company-pending dismissal of the two applications argued that American consumers would wholly dependent on Canadian gas and that this would be contrary to past commission policy.

The full commission heard argument on the Canadian motions Oct. 2. Earlier, a commission examiner had considered the motions and recommended their dismissal.

Position of Nasser Believed As Strong or Even Stronger Than Before Fighting Began

Editor's note: Is president Nasser in a stronger or weaker position today than before the invasion of Egypt? Is the overall outlook for international operation of the Suez Canal better or worse? Has Russia's prestige improved or worsened in the Middle East, and what is the British-French push into Egypt meant to the West? These are answered Associated Press correspondents h e r e summarize the opinions of officials and observers in the capitals of the Western Big Three.)

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON — The British-French invasion of Egypt is complicated in United States official quarters to have produced results that are not all unwelcome. Whether the results prove to be a total loss, they say, depends on the final outcome, which is not yet clear.

The operation, in the American view, was designed to serve two main purposes and to be based on at least one major assumption.

The purposes were (1) To regain physical control of the Suez Canal; and (2) To undermine Egypt's President Nasser. The assumption was that the operation could be carried out without direct military intervention by the Soviet Union. Probably Britain and the Middle East governments when the chips were down, they say, would have quietly accepted the engineers are holding to give business and government leaders a chance to express their opinion of the future of harbors and waterways in light of the seaway.

District congressmen joined in urging the deepening of the harbor, now generally 23 feet in depth.

invasion uncovered a Red plot to win control of the Middle East with Nasser as a tool? Is the closure of the Suez Canal and the destruction of oil pipelines eats Arab governments, they look longingly for better trade and better relations with their traditional Western customers?

Nasser on the surface seems stronger. An Arab army he sized up to Western invaders and their attack was called by the Arabs a victory by losing the Gaza Strip to an Israeli army. If Arab leaders can be persuaded that further his own political ambitions he exposed the entire Middle East to the threat of Soviet domination, his prestige could wither and die.

Has the attack weakened Britain with the free world, its closing members of the Commonwealth? Some opinion in the United States and the Asian Commonwealth members—India, Pakistan and Ceylon—reacted sharply against the assault. But British leaders hope the division to all be accepted as fully justified. There have already been signs of some shifting of opinion.

In some quarters, however, the portrait that Sir Anthony Eden can survive long as prime minister. He has lost much moral trust, even if they lead to a general settlement in the Middle East. Other military arrangements for international control of the canal, they say, will be agreed to by those who took a grave and dangerous step without consulting America, their allies or his friends in the Commonwealth.

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS—Leading French politicians hailed the Anglo-French stands in a slightly stronger position today than before the British-French invasion of Egypt.

The main reason, from a French viewpoint, is that the United Western Allies failed to achieve their end because they have shown the prestige of the Egyptian president enough to cost him all influence in the Arab world and topple him, from power at home.

This has led to a new overriding purpose from the beginning. The French blame Nasser and his propaganda machine for all their troubles in North Africa. The Suez operation was viewed as a blow not to ending the revolt in Algeria.

But Nasser still is the hero of the Arabs. It is said that the Allies and the Israelis threw at him. On the other hand he has suffered a crushing military reverse in the Sinai Peninsula, he no longer controls the Suez Canal, and he has been charged with being the spearhead for Soviet penetration into the Middle East.

Because of the presence of the UN police force in Egypt and the Israeli withdrawal to the Gaza Strip early this month, the French feel there now is a greater chance that the canal eventually will be put under international control.

NO SOAP!

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The oldfashioned bar of soap is doomed to disappear from the American scene, says an expert. Bodycleansing detergents now being perfected will replace it, Richard Deupree, chairman of the board of Procter and Gamble, told a press conference. He said they will "develop a softer lather and leave no ring in the bathtub."

States Pipeline Will Save Canada Hundred Million

SUDBURY (CP)—A. P. Craig, vice-president in charge of sales of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines, Ltd., Thursday night predicted that Canada will save more than $100,000,000 a year in United States funds through the building of the pipeline.

Citing examples, he said Canada imported $10,000,000 worth of sulphur from the U.S. last year. When stripping plants were operating on the Trans-Canada gas supplies, approximately 1,000 tons of sulphur a day would become available, worth approximately $10,000,000.

Canada now was a heavy importer of U.S. propane. With the pipeline in operation, it probably would become an exporter, he told the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

A summary of his speech was released to the press in advance of delivery.

He said that in 1955 Ontario consumed 875,000,000 cubic feet of United States coal. By 1960, he predicted, natural gas will supplace almost one-third of that amount, resulting in a saving of at least $20,000,000 a year.

Sale of gas by trans-Canada to the United States, which Mr. Craig described as "inevitable" in the long run and probable within two years, would produce $200,000,000 a year and is "almost certain to grow to $335,000,000 or $400,000,000 within five years."

WAR'S AGGREGATE HUNGER, HOMELESSNESS

An Arab mother and her children are walking through a five-ravaged section of the Arab quarter of Port Said, now occupied by France-British forces. Scheduled arrival of the first units of the United Nations police force in the Suez Canal area was delayed by "last minute changes." British and French say they will leave when this U.N. force takes over.

First Refugees Will Arrive At Montreal

OTTAWA (CP) — A Hungarian mining engineer, his wife and one child are expected to be the first refugees from the Russian-crushed Hungarian uprising to come to Canada.

The engineer, Kurt Marton, and his family are scheduled to arrive at Montreal's Dorval airport aboard a British Overseas Airways Corporation plane from London at 7:10 a.m. Friday.

An immigration department official said Thursday that fairly large numbers of Hungarians are seeking entry to Canada as immigrants and every effort will be made to speed passage of those permitted to come.

The department said Thursday announced new action to facilitate entry of refugees here. It said it would make assisted passage loans available for immigrants wishing to come by air.

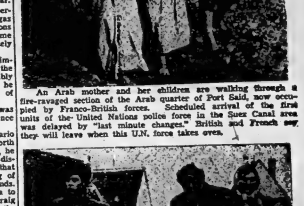
The department had announced last fall that the refugees would be eligible for government loans to finance their boat passage and other expenses. It also said then that their applications for admission as immigrants would receive top priority.

Quebec Moves To Extend Income Tax

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec government moved Thursday to extend for five years the provincial personal income tax which was due to expire Dec. 31, 1956 at the first three years.

The latest bill was among 14 introduced Thursday by Premier Duplessis for first reading. The legislature met at its sittings Tuesday. It convened last Wednesday.

No change is proposed in the income tax rate, which is about 15 per cent of the federal tax on personal income. Quebec taxpayers get a 10-per-cent deduction from their federal income tax payments. Proceeds have been earmarked for education, health and social measures.



MURDER ON CYPRUS

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A Greek Cypriot woman was shot to death Wednesday night at the mountain village of Morouneru, in the Paphos district, police announced. The attack on the 36th reported this month as Cypriot rebels stepped up their campaign of violence to support their demands for union of Cyprus with Greece.

STILL AIDING ARABS

JERUSALEM (AP) — Officials of Israel and the United Nations Relief and Works Agency Wednesday night initialled an agreement for continued assistance to 200,000 Arab refugees in the Israeli-held Gaza strip. The UN body had been assisting the refugees before Israel seized the Gaza strip from Egypt.

First Refugees Will Arrive At Montreal

"Hungarian women and children, weary after trudging on foot in their escape into Austria at Kuman, are shown on arrival at an Austrian border town. Over 15,000 have escaped into Austria. (Central Press Canadian).

Took 7 Days to Hour to Move Queen's Own Rifles to Coast

HALIFAX (CP)—The last of the 1st Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles arrived here Thursday night on seven days to the hour since the men were told at Calgary they had been selected as Canada's contribution to the United Nations Middle East police force.

The last of the giant Flying Boxcars used by the RCAF in the biggest troop ferrying job in its history landed at Shearwater airport at 6:19 p.m. (5:19 p.m. EST) and Lt.-Col. C. P. McPherson, the battalion's commanding officer, said "it is seven days to the hour since I informed my men last Thursday that we were going abroad."

"Since then, we have transferred our entire unit of 950 men and their equipment to Halifax. We have documented, inoculated, vaccinated and medically examined every man. Here we are in Halifax, eager and ready."

As the last men arrived, the task of operating the aircraft carrier HMCS Magnificent for duty as combination troopship and floating headquarters was proceeding well ahead of schedule.

A navy source predicted the 18,000 ton vessel would be ready to sail Sunday afternoon although the official departure date has not been advanced from Nov. 21.

The ship is taking on supplies and sleeping accommodations for 1,400 men, as well as freight car loads of vehicles and heavy field supplies. The flight deck will become a huge parking lot for jeeps, trucks and ambulances.

None of the men will be given leave before the ship sails. Entertainment in the form of parties, dances and band concerts will be provided. They will probably board ship Sunday.

Prize Bull Fetches $10,000 Record Price Paid in Canada

TORONTO (CP)—Five dollars and fifty-five cents a pound makes a mighty expensive hamburger.

It's the price paid for a two-year-old bull named Real Blockeye Supreme 182, named grand champion Hereford at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair Thursday.

The 1,800-pound animal fetched $10,000, highest price ever paid in Canada for a Hereford bull.

Buyer J. A. Hawley of McIlreavy, Ill., won't make steaks and pot roasts out of his new prize bull. He'll use it for breeding.

The seller was W. S. Paul, a rancher from Okotoks, Alta., who has had three grand champion herefords at the Royal and was the first man ever to own a champion premier breeder and premier exhibitor in the Hereford class. It happened last year. Mr. Paul says he is the favorite to take both titles again this year.

That the $10,000 sale was a big one can be seen from the highest prices paid at auctions Tuesday and Wednesday of the top shorthorn and Aberdeen Angus cattle entered in the fair. Top shorthorn fetched $1,800, top Aberdeen Angus $3,300.

These were good prices, too. The shorthorn average was $265 for 77 animals, higher than last year's, and the $1,065 average for 17 head of Aberdeen Angus was the highest of any sale ever held in Canada.

In other livestock judging, three championships, including the grand title for boars, went to entries of J. Irvine Wood of Crolon, Ont., in the Berkshire swine class.

Church Body Is Told 2,500 Flee From Hungary Each Day

KITCHENER (CP)—The Canadian Council of Churches was told Thursday night that the Hungarian refugee situation is taking on serious proportions and that Christian government is giving highest priority to Hungarian seeking entry to Canada.

Rev. Leslie Cook of Geneva, Switzerland, associate general secretary of the World Council of Churches, made a cablegram reporting that 2,500 refugees a day are streaming out of the country.

The message, from world council headquarters, said the situation demands a concentrated program of relief and travel grants to settle the 'tide of human misery.' The message said the situation is complicated by the number of women, children and divided families.

Another message read to the meeting, from Immigration Minister Pickersgill in Ottawa, said Canada is granting $200,000 extra assistance immediately to Hungarian refugees and providing assisted passage on a priority basis.

Dr. Cook asked delegates should not criticize the Canadian government if it appeared cautious in the matter of immigration. He accepting immigrants on a permanent basis and careful investigation was needed.

A church extension report mentioning the existence of interdenominational rivalry brought heated discussion at Thursday's session.

The report, read by Very Rev. George Kilpatrick, general secretary of the United Church of Canada and chairman of the council's survey committee, claimed Canadian churches are building new churches in some areas in unnecessary competition without thought of interdenominational co - operation.

Rt. Rev. George Luxton, Anglican Bishop of Toronto, said such action is foreign to his church. New churches are built only where there are sufficient Anglicans to support them.

Rev. J. R. Muchmor, chairman of the United Church's evangelism and social service department, said he could not agree that the charge against the church was groundless.

Rt. Rev. Finlay Stewart of Kitchener, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church, said he didn't think "any group could wrap up in its robes around him and declare himself innocent of the charge."

TWEED

J.L. Good Pays Lodge Official Visit

TWEED — Last Friday evening a large number of Masons from all the 17 lodges in the Prince Edward District met at Tweed to welcome Rt. Wor. Bro. J. L. Good of Stirling, when he made his official visit to Tweed Masonic Lodge.

Rt. Wor. Bro. R. E. Langman, Grand Jr. Warden of Camdeo East, was also present bringing greetings from Grand Lodge. Bro. Langman resided in Tweed with his parents some odd 60 years ago. He still can call to memory some of the older residents.

A banquet, with the ladies of the "Eastern Star" catering was held in the IOOF hall at 7:30.

Following the banquet, degree work was exemplified by Tweed degree team.

A delightful evening was enjoyed by all present.

STRETCHES MUSKRAT PELT

Tom McRae stretches a muskrat pelt at Beatty, one of the northern communities in Saskatchewan where 3,000 trappers work 300,000 square miles of forest, bush and lakes. Trapping is one of Saskatchewan's most important sources of income and last winter and spring 2,677,723 pelts brought $3,715,011. Fishing and trapping provide at least a partial livelihood for 8,000 Indians and Metis. (CP Photo).

Sask. Trappers and Fishermen Lead Rugged Life in Winter

LA RONGE, Sask. (CP)— Tramping a trapline on snowshoes in 20-below-zero weather and pulling fish from beneath four feet of ice is no job for the timid, but it's just another day's work for northern Saskatchewan's Indians and Metis.

For their wives, scraping the flesh from frozen beaver pelts or cleaning giant catches of whitefish are normal household chores.

Commercial fishing and trapping are among the first five industries in this wheat province and they centre in the north where in 135,000 square miles of forest, bush and lakes, there are 1,400 fishermen and 3,000 trappers. The two occupations provide full or partial support for the area's 8,000 Indians and Metis.

EXPERT TRAPPERS

Joe Ratt, a 34-year-old Cree, typifies many residents in this fishing and trapping centre on Lac La Ronge, 170 miles north of Prince Albert. In the summer he works as a guide and helps catch fish. In October he leaves with other trappers for northern traplines. In the coldest days of winter he returns here to fish through the ice.

Oliver Beatty, a 40 - year - old Metis, whose grandfather gave his name to the northern community of Beatty, lives much the same, but his trapline is larger. Handed down from his grandfather and father, the line is 150 miles long and he uses an eight-dog team to cover it.

Joe Ratt's line is 62 miles north of here in what he calls "the green country," part of the forest belt. He buys supplies on credit from the trading posts here and pays for them in spring with earnings from furs and fish.

At one end of his 20-mile trapline he sleeps in the open, sometimes in 20-below weather. At the other end he has a cabin, where supplies are stored.

KEEP ON MOVE

"I wear long underwear, pants, shirt, sweater, coveralls, parka," Joe said in an interview before setting out this fall. "On the feet, just heavy socks and moccasins. You keeping moving. On the hands, leather gloves. I shoot moose and the wife tans the hide and makes gloves.

"A good bedrol." a big fire, a lean-to if I need it and I just don't feel the cold."

Beatty has an easier time than Ratt, covering his line in eight days and having seven sleeping cabins to protect him from the cold.

"I fly north at freeze-up with my dogs and their grub — 1,500 whitefish I catch and have frozen. My grub's already there. The plane brings it in when it takes me out in the spring."

WINTER FISHING

During mid - winter when temperatures drop to 40 and 60 below zero, the snowshoes back in La Ronge and Oliver comes out with his dog team. Both take part in winter fishing through the four-foot-thick ice on Lac La Ronge, then return for spring trapping when the beaver comes out to build his dams and pelts are in top quality.

On Lac La Ronge in winter, the nets are pulled in once daily. Up to 20 pairs of woollen mitts are used by men who remove the fish from the nets, changing pairs each time they freeze.

The catch is hauled by snowmobile to La Ronge where a dozen women, many of them wives of the fishermen, fillet the fish with deft knife strokes, then package and store them in freezers for sale.

In summer, the men fish from boats at Lac La Ronge and 174 other lakes. In this tourist town, gulding also provides excellent summer work for men like Joe and Oliver, who make $10 to $12 daily.

Oliver has made up to $1,000 a month during five months trapping but income generally runs much lower. Indians and Metis at Buffalo Narrows northwest of here average about $150 annually at trapping and $200 a year at commercial fishing. Fishing here nets about $150 monthly.

BIG PRODUCTION

Winter and summer, fishing in Saskatchewan produces 10,000,000 pounds of fish a year worth $1,500,-000. Most of it is whitefish.

Trapping in winter and spring last year brought 2,677,723 pelts valued at $3,715,011.

A total of 220 of the province's 20,000 lakes are open to commercial fishing, but only 175 are used. With more roads and better marketing facilities, the catch is expected to increase.

In 1941, only 139 beaver were trapped in the province, but now with live-trapping and transplanting of "nuisance beaver" in the south, the beaver population has been increased in northern areas. Production is expected to increase as a result.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Sharp entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harry Benson and party, Ivanhoe, on Sunday.

Mr. Frank Bailey, Carmel, spent last week with relatives in Toronto.

Mrs. Paul Sharp, Wellman's, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sharp and attended Mt. Pleasant church anniversary and bazaar.

Mrs. W. G. Fletcher recently entertained the nominating committee of Mount Pleasant WMS at the parsonage.

Mr. Thomas Sarles had the misfortune to fracture some ribs while carrying on his daily duties at Central cheese factory.

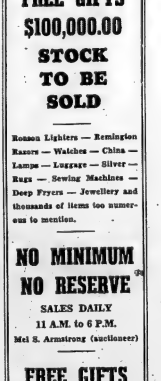
Mr. and Mrs. Francis Wrightman attended the Armistice service in Peterborough on Sunday and were dinner guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bob Bernard, and Mr. Bernard.

Last Friday evening the weather turned exceptionally cold and there was thick ice all Saturday forenoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sharp and Mrs. Paul Sharp attended the funeral of Mrs. J. Douglas in Belleville.

Mrs. A. A. Farrar, Mrs. Fred Scott, Mrs. Robert Cregney and Mrs. Fred McCrodden, Trenton, attended Mount Pleasant W.A. afternoon tea and bazaar.

Mrs. John Ryan was hostess on Thursday evening to St. James' C.W.L., with 18 in attendance. Mrs. Vincent Farrell presided and plans were made for an afternoon tea and bazaar to be held in December at the Sterling Hotel. Following the study group, the hostess served refreshments.



NEHRU TO VISIT

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru hopes to fly to Canada for a brief visit after his talks with President Eisenhower in Washington next month, it was authoritatively learned here today. A Canadian government official said in Ottawa Tuesday that the Canadian government was likely to invite Nehru to visit Ottawa after his trip to the United States.

Yankees, Russ Plan Meet For August

MELBOURNE (AP) — American and Russian athletic chiefs, pausing in their discussions to down seven vodka toasts, today made tentative plans for a series meets between the two countries beginning next August in Moscow.

The first meet in the United States, possibly in July, 1958, probably will be held in Los Angeles or New York.

The Soviets sent U.S. officials an invitation for an informal talk on the dual meet series this morning.

Dan Ferris, executive secretary of the American Amateur Athletic Union, said afterward: "We are in viewour the idea favorably. I think there is a good chance of working it out."

EXCHANGE PINS

Constantine Kupi, Ferris' Soviet counterpart, said: "We are most anxious to arrange this series of meets which we think would be a great thing for sportsmen of both countries."

The two groups began discussions by exchanging pins — the Americans giving away their red, white and blue Olympic shield in exchange for a giant pin with a Red Russian flag showing a hammer and sickle in one corner.

Ferris said one of the problems which have prevented such Russian-American meetings in the past is now being eliminated with the waiver of U.S. fingerprinting regulations for aliens.

Soviet Olympic coach Gabriel Korobkov said the invitation is the latest of a series of Olympic goodwill gestures by the Russians.

Weill Meets British Heavy

MONTREAL (CP) — Al Weill, who managed Rocky Marciano to the heavyweight boxing championship, arrived in Montreal Thursday night to meet a British heavyweight prospect.

The youngster is 20-year-old Dave Rent of Bootle, England, near Liverpool. Weill has never seen him fight but says he is interested because of Rent's record.

"All I've seen is a picture of him," said Weill. "But he's the amateur heavyweight champion of Great Britain. He's been boxing since he was 13. He started as a lightweight and came up through all the divisions."

Weill said he will send Rent to Toronto to work out there for a while until Charley Goldman, who was Marciano's trainer, has a chance to look him over.

Joey Giardello Defeats King

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Joey Giardello, the United States third-ranking middleweight, Thursday night easily avenged two defeats at the hands of Charley (King) Cotton by scoring a unanimous 10-round decision over the unranked Olivoan, Giardello weighed 159¾, Cotton 152.

Giardello, a 26-year-old Philadelphian, hopes to meet the winner of the Sugar Ray Robinson-Gene Fullmer middleweight championship bout. He pressed the fight most of the distance, trying to get inside Cotton's shell-like defence.

Despite being penalized one point in the ninth round for a low blow, Giardello was the decided choice of referee Milt Goldstein and judge Julius Goldman. Goldstein's card gave Giardello the nod 96-91, while Goldman had it 98-92. The other judge, Ralph Lewis, voted for Giardello 96-94.

Cotton, who is 27 and fights out of Toledo, showed little of the sip he displayed in beating Giardello twice last May in New York.

Jackie Parker Named MVP To Eskimos

WINNIPEG (CP) — Quarterback Jackie Parker of Edmonton Eskimos has been named the most valuable player to his team in the Western Interprovincial Football Union and will receive the Jeff Nicklin Memorial Trophy.

Parker, triple-threat quarterback from Mississippi State, compiled a landslide majority in voting by sports writers and broadcasters in the five league cities.

In 25 ballots, Parker received 18 first-place votes, six seconds and a third. Frank Tripucka, Saskatchewan Roughriders quarterback, was a distant second while Winnipeg Blue Bomber halfback Buddy Leake was third.

This is the second time in three seasons that Parker has won the Nicklin Trophy, which commemorates the exploits of the outstanding Winnipeg end and flying wing who starred in the WIFU before being killed in action in the Second World War.

Toronto St. Michael's College Majors set their sights on the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A leadership today after defeating Peterborough Petes 6-4 at Peterborough Thursday night.

The win, breaking a second-place tie with Toronto Marlboros, leaves St. Michael's four points behind the top Guelph Biltmores. Marlboros, defeated 4-3 by Hamilton Cubs in overtime, slipped into fourth place, one point behind the Cubs. Hamilton is five points off the pace and one behind St. Michael's.

McMASTER HOT

At Peterborough, Jack McMaster scored four goals for the Irish. Bob McKnight and Bob Boucher added singles.

Bill Mahoney was top sniper for the tail-end Petes with two goals. Ron Mason and Bob Ertel hit for singles.

At Hamilton, Guy Luyben scored a goal with four seconds left in overtime to give Cubs the win. It was the third straight loss for Marlboros.

Carl Brewer, Bob Nevin and Wal Boyer scored for the losers in regulation time while Jim Shropshire, Murray Oliver and Don Blackburn scored for Hamilton.

WHITBY TONIGHT!

Tonight the Whitby Dunlops will be here, and, it is to be hoped, will be accompanied by their letter-writing, columnist-manager, Wren, Blair. The last time the Dunnies played the McFarlands there was a near-Donnybrook with the referee unable to keep the game under control. Blair was in Toronto that night attending an OHA meeting and missed the game.

He got, as he admitted, a lot of "second-hand reports" on the fracas and wrote snarling, obscurious remarks in his columns anent the Belleville players, fans, etc. They were so tripish that none of the dailies on the senior "A" circuit published them.

It seems Mr. Blair has the unhappy faculty of expressing himself both in his columns and by letter in such a manner that he is not gaining any popularity with the clubs.

He accused the Kingston CKLC's of playing "chicken" hockey, deploring their tactics in no uncertain manner. The Kingston scribes have now dubbed the Whitby Arena the "Chicken Palace."

Blair's latest diatribe has been levelled at the Pembroke Lumber Kings. It seems the King's coach, like Hildebrand, jokingly declared to Blair that once the Kings got into shape the Dunlops wouldn't be able to "stay within five goals of the Kings."

The other day a letter from Blair to Hildebrand appeared in the Pembroke Observer. It said, in part: "Personally I like nothing better than good competition and the confidence you voiced. Just by way of comparison, though, from what I saw of your club in two games, plus your record in the league since then, I think you will be lucky to beat us again this season, let alone by five goals."

Hildebrand added a few comments of his own to the Blair epistle.

Quoth Hildebrand: "In view of your team's standing in the league I don't think it look too well for you on your part to forward the type of letter you send to us or to author the type of article you wrote about Kingston."

"I gave you a friendly dig because of your radio commentary to our fans complaining about the lack of competition and the monotonous regularity of wins garnered in your rink. Apparently the word 'dig' worried you enough to prompt a written reply.

"I was not crying but only stating a fact when mentioning our condition, or rather, lack of it. As I previously said, we practiced only one week with no exhibition games prior to our opener.

"As for your remarks about the Kingston hockey club, they will do more harm to hockey and our league in particular than your shortsightedness can realize. I believe your quotes were unsalted for no matter how bad a club may have performed.

"WE ordinary clubs all have certain nights we can do no right and the opposition no wrong. You must remember this your club name day may be in the lower regions of league standings and some of the teams you have to bear with now may remember your 'chicken' claims.

"I am sure you hoped your article about Kingston would help fill the arenas but I am just as positive it will have the opposite."

Pete Fowler, writing in the Kingston Whig-Standard, said "Reg Wallon, who attended the Whitby-Cornwall game which the Chevies won, was not overly impressed with the Dunlops' performance. They did not show the "drive and stamina" which Blair intimated should be shown by all teams on the road."

"Maybe," said Pete, "the esteemed Blair should look in his own backyard before going into other fields veloing his 'no punches barred' opinions."

Toronto Is 'Busting at Seams' In Anticipation of Grey Cup

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto will be jam-packed for Grey Cup weekend. It always is, of course, but the organizers confidently predict that this year the staid city will be bursting at the seams as it never has before.

It will be like old times for Torontonians, traditional hosts for the East-West Canadian football final with all its hoop-la and headaches until the Canadian Rugby Union decided last year to vary the locale and moved the big game to Vancouver.

In 1954, more than 250,000 sightseers flocked to the downtown area to watch the gigantic parade and "it's safe to say" all crowd records will be broken this year, the organizers say.

More than 2,000 visitors from Western Canada alone are expected the weekend of Nov. 24 to watch the champions of the Eastern Big Four and the Western Interprovincial Football Union battle it out in the nation's biggest annual sports spectacle.

Theme of this year's Saturday parade of 50 floats and 20 bands is the history of the Grey Cup since its inception in 1909. The Toronto Junior Board of Trade float will carry the famous trophy.

At least seven cities—Toronto, Ottawa, Vancouver, Montreal, Edmonton, Hamilton and Winnipeg—are entering floats. Vancouver will have a particularly ambitious entry of two floats and a band.

Miss Grey Cup and 11 other contestants for that title, hundreds of drum majorettes and every cheerleader in the city are to take part.

Miss Grey Cup will be selected at a special party the night before. Five girls from the West and seven others from Eastern Canada are to compete for the title.

Every hotel room in Toronto has been sold and motels in the area say they have been inundated with requests for accommodation.

Before the kickoff at 1 p.m. Saturday, the bands accompanying the two teams will perform before Miss Grey Cup is presented with a sports car.

At half-time there is to be an exhibition by 100 majorettes who will march to the music of a 50-piece band.

A civic reception is to be accorded the players, officials of the CRU and Canadian mayors later that evening.

This is to be followed by the official dinner at which Miss Grey Cup is to be honored.

Finally, at the end of a day packed with excitement and activity, a Grey Cup victory party is to be held to honor the winners of this year's game.

Beantowners Cling to Lead In Current Top-Form Drive; Toronto Fails to Beat Jinx

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto Maple Leafs probably rank among Detroit's favorite opponents. If it weren't for a string of points accumulated at the expense of the Leafs, the Red Wings wouldn't be anywhere near their present high status in the National Hockey League.

The Wings picked up their seventh point of the current season from the Leafs Thursday night, defeating Toronto 4-2 at Detroit in a game that followed the pattern of their previous encounters.

It wasn't enough to put the Wings on top of the heap, however. Boston Bruins maintained their one-point edge by whipping the lowly Black Hawks 5-3 at Chicago.

Both games produced double scorers—Don McKenney for Boston, Eddie Litzenberger for Chicago and Norm Ullman for Detroit.

Forbes Kennedy got the other Allan Stanley, Gerry Toppazzini and Real Chevrellis rounded out the Bruins' scoring, while rookie Chicago goal. Billy Dea and Metro Prystal also tallied for Detroit while the Leafs' scorers were Barry Cullen and Gerry James.

In four meetings with the Wings this year, the youthful Toronto club has salvaged only a tie. The eager Leafs have frequently sprayed rubber all over the Detroit zone only to slacken off in the final period, and that's what happened again Thursday night.

They forced Detroit goalie Glen Hall to make 29 stops while the Wings touched Ed Chadwick for only 20.

Bruins were never behind at Chicago, where Terry Sawchuk turned aside 37 drives in the Boston nets while Al Rollins made 34 stops.

Grey Cup Fever Hits Regina City Is Hot

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders today vacate the friendly confines of Taylor Field for Clarke Stadium in Edmonton, where they hope to pick up a ticket to Toronto for the Grey Cup final.

Following a late afternoon workout for the last time on home soil, the Riders are scheduled to fly to Edmonton for Saturday night's deciding battle with the Eskimos in the Western Interprovincial Football Union final.

"All the boys will be making the trip," said coach Frank Filchock, "but we don't know yet whether Rod Atchison's ankle will let him play."

The all-star guard, who missed half the regular season because of a broken ankle, aggravated the injury again in the semi-final game at Winnipeg.

INJURED TO PLAY

Mel Beckett, Bobby Marlowe, Harry Lampman, Bill Clarke and Stew Carruthers — who have been suffering from a variety of sores and bruises—will be in the lineup.

Filchock so far has kept secret any new strategems for the tussle. "We'll try to hit harder, throw more accurately and get the kicks between the posts," he said, reflecting Saskatchewan's slow, starting offence and poor placekicking in the series.

Throughout the week Reg Whitehouse, the sharpest place-kicker in the league in regular season play, braved 15-degree temperatures at Taylor Field in sustained practice sessions. Although he got the winning chance a week ago at his four other convert tries have missed the mark.

As Riders prepared for the final trek of the season to Edmonton, Grey Cup fever mounted in the city. A special CNR train will take at least 100 Rider fans from Regina and Saskatoon to Edmonton for Saturday's game. Many others are flying, going by bus or forming weekend car parties for the contest.

Alouettes Favored Over Cats Eskimos, Regina, Your Guess

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadian football — except for the big game—ends this weekend. In six leagues final games will be played, and, but for tie games, six champions will emerge.

In the Big Four the heavily-favored Montreal Alouettes take a nine-point margin into McGill Stadium for the final game of a total-point series with Hamilton Edmonton Eskimos and Regina Roughriders, both hit by injuries, meet for the final game in their best-of-three series.

Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen lay two successive championships on the line when they meet London Lords for the Ontario Rugby Football Union Senior championship in Kitchener. Lords' upset win Wednesday tied the best-of-three series 1-1.

Beleaguered, the injury-ridden University of Toronto Blues travel to Kingston to finish with Queen's University Golden Gaels for the Senior Intercollegiate title and with six regulars out, will have to accomplish wonders to keep Gaels from their second successive title.

OTHER TITLES AT STAKE

The only Sunday game is scheduled at Hurlbut Willams, where the Redskins and Hamilton Tiger-Cat Bees fight it out for the Canadian Intermediate championship. The junior crown will be decided at Toronto when Parkdale Lions and last year's winners, Winnipeg Rods, clash Saturday.

Although leader Jack Jacobs, coach and quarterback, was able to lead London to only three wins in their first year of play, his effective passing and kicking paced them through a upset semi-final win over Toronto Beaches and tied their series with Kitchener by a 34-26 win this week.

Though Indian Jack should be just as effective Saturday night, all records favor the Dutchies, who have lost only two games at home in three years and beat Lords every time during the regular schedule.

The injury jinx kept going strong in Kitchener this week. Coach Harvey Johnson had four men hurt Wednesday, one of them quarterback Bob Celeri.

Celeri's injured shoulder should not keep him out of Saturday's game, though it will reduce his effectiveness, but three others may not dress at all. They are end Don Stenson, fullback Steve Fechuk and flying wing Syl O'Hara, all with leg injuries. Stenson's is the most serious—torn knee ligaments.

Queen's tried their first injury in practice this week, but it only solved a problem for coach Frank Tindall.

Tindall had been wondering whether or not he should drop a player in order to let end John Redfern back into the lineup for the final game. Redfern had a bruised arm that kept him out of last Saturday's game, which the Gaels won, 19-13 over Blues to force a playoff.

Thursday Roy Hircock dislocated a shoulder and Tindall's dilemma was solved.

Varsity coach Dalt White announced he will probably have all-star flying-wing Ross Woods back in the lineup but he is still missing eight regulars, six of them hurt last Saturday.

Red O'Quinn May Play For Alouettes

MONTREAL (CP)—John (Red) O'Quinn, his football spirit more than willing but his muscular flesh weak around his right ankle and lungs, passed one of the more important questions today in the Big Four finals picture.

Last word from the Montreal Alouette camp was that the big red-headed end learns today whether he goes against Hamilton Tiger-Cats Saturday in the wrapup of the two-game, total-point series. The Als hold a nine-point lead from the first game, won 30-21 at Hamilton Saturday.

The question meant a lot to both clubs and to O'Quinn himself, who protested Thursday night that "a lot of other guys have played this season in worse shape."

One view was that Montreal coach Douglas (Peahead) Walker would dress O'Quinn, who caught 11 passes last Saturday but he wouldn't use him unless he had to.

Both clubs scheduled workouts today.

SECRET PRACTICE

The Als held a secret practice Thursday afternoon and Jim Trimble's Ticats drove out to McGill Stadium for an intensive chalk talk after arriving by plane.

"We won't have any alibis if we lose," said Hamilton president Jake Gaudaur.

The O'Quinn question added to Walker's reticence about the Saturday game, which he has been carefully labelling as a risky proposition despite his nine-point lead and high-powered attack.

O'Quinn has been a big part of it, in pass reception and blocking. Aside from his end's injury, Walker has tackle Jim Staton listed as doubtful with an ankle injury, although it's believed he will play too. Etcheverry, fullback Art Abbruzzi and guard Herb Trawick have been cleared for duty.

Hamilton has a flock of aches and bruises and both lineman Vince Scott and fullback Tex Robinson have knee injuries.

NO WORM

The so-called shipworm which plagues old wooden hulls is the teredo, a mollusc related to the oyster or clam.

CAHA Blasted For Not Sending Team

OTTAWA (CP)—Sandy Watson, sparkplug of Canada's 1948 Olympic and world hockey champions, Thursday bodychecked the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association for its decision not to send a team to the 1957 championships in Moscow.

"They have no gumption to put anything across," said Dr. A. G. (Sandy) Watson who helped assemble an RCAF team for the 1948 Olympics after the CAHA found itself without a squad to send to St. Moritz, Switzerland.

"They don't want to be bothered."

The CAHA announced Wednesday the executive has decided not to send a team to Moscow because of the great change that has taken place in world affairs in recent weeks.

In nearby Kemptville, W. B. (Haldy) Hunter, immediate past president of the CAHA, said plans for a special playoff between Ottawa Junior Canadians and Vernon Canadians, 1955-56 Allan Cup winners, fell through.

DIDN'T WANT PLAYOFF

The junior club was agreeable to the playoff but Vernon felt that it was entitled to be sent to Moscow without having to make the trip.

George said difficulty in raising $40,000 to send a team to the championships, at a time when the public will feel the money might better be spent for Hungarian relief, left the CAHA executive with no alternative.

"It will look as though we're told 'Let the Russians,' Watson said. "I am sure Junior Canadians or the Vernon club, with some additional strength, would beat the Russians on their own ice." circo, 10.

Cornwall, Kingston Tie 3-3 In Eastern Senior A League

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two teams were tied for second place in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A Eastern League before Thursday night's only league game and the same two teams were still tied after the game.

Kingston CKLC's and Cornwall Chevvies fought out a 3-3 overtime draw at Cornwall to remain deadlocked with 10 points each for runner-up spot four points behind Whitby Dunlops.

In the only other senior game in Ontario, South Porcupine Porkies moved back into the lead in the Porcupine Mines League by downing Abitibi Eskimos 5-3 at home.

Defenceman Don Thomson was Kingston's hero, scoring the winning goal for the CKLC's at the 19-minute mark of the third period, five seconds after the same team had come from behind to score twice in the last two minutes of regulation time.

Don Senior and Don Bellringer had given Kingston a lead but Chevvies tied it up on markers by Kitoute Joanette and Don Batten and went ahead on Joanette's second goal of the game.

Porkies were led by Billy Salomo's two goals, while Frankie Aubin, Doug Hunter and Eddie Kulik added singles. Doug Towers, Normie Prest and Lord Oneschky scored for Abitibi.

Tennessee Meets Mississippi

NEW YORK (AP)—Tennessee's, unbeaten Volunteers find out Saturday whether their new No. 1 national ranking in U.S. college football is a genuine vote of confidence or just a kiss of death—as it has been for Michigan State, UCLA, Michigan and Notre Dame in recent years.

The Vols meet in-and-out Mississippi while closing in on the Southeastern Conference crown and a bid either to the Sugar or Cotton Bowl.

Perhaps the worst national ranking "jinx" is the one confronting Missouri. The Tigers must face Oklahoma Boomers at Norman, Okla.

The battle against Oklahoma's 27-game winning streak is a last-ditch pitch by Missouri for the Orange Bowl. A defeat sends Colorado to the bowl as the Big Seven runner-up and substitute for Oklahoma, barred from a repeat trip.

The lone meeting of top 10 powers send Ohio State, No. 4, to Iowa City against Iowa's seventh-rated and Rose Bowl - hungry Hawkeyes. Minnesota still has a shot at the bowl trip, but needs a victory over Michigan State.

Gregory Peck in John Huston's "Moby Dick", Now Called Triumph in Entertainment

The Belle Theatre announces the premier presentation of John Huston's production of "Moby Dick", beginning today at the Belle Theatre.

Gregory Peck, Richard Basehart, Leo Genn and Orson Welles star in the Warner Bros. presentation of Herman Melville's great American adventure classic "Moby Dick", reportedly brought to the screen after three years of filming in England, Wales, Ireland, The Irish Sea, the Atlantic Ocean, the Madeira and Canary Islands, was filmed in the new color process by Technicolor. John Huston produced and directed "Moby Dick", the epic story of the men who searched the seven seas for the mammoths of the deep, the giant whales.

Gregory Peck is seen in the role of Captain Ahab, unchallenged tyrant of the whaler, the Pequod. Ahab, who had nearly been destroyed by the giant White Whale, Moby Dick, was possessed of a lust that was like no other vengeance in the world. Ahab had sworn to kill the White Whale and no man in his crew would be spared in the struggle.

For the role of Ishmael, who tells the story of "Moby Dick", Richard Huston chose Richard Basehart. Ismael is the romantic adventurer of the Melville classic "with the look of a poet and the strength of a giant". It is he who befriends Queequeg, the cannibal-turned harpooner.

Starbuck, first mate of the Pequod, is portrayed by Leo Genn. Starbuck is the man who first becomes aware of Captain Ahab's vengeance-lust, and he matches his will and his strength with the fury of Ahab during a terrifying tropical storm.

Orson Welles as Father Mapple makes a dynamic appearance in the role of the New Bedford preacher who unwittingly prophesied of the evil that lay brooding in Captain Ahab.

"Moby Dick" is said to mark the realization of a thirteen-year dream for producer-director John Huston. Noted for such screen achievements as "Treasure of Sierra Madre", "African Queen", "Moulin Rouge and others.

Advance reports indicate that John Huston has achieved all that he set out to do thirteen years ago.

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT CHEWING GUM

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Ribiner

Players in a world championship stumble over their own bad bids into a good contract. But it is not always the best contract for their side, as good bidding might do for them more often.

From the last world match here is deal number 12:

	NORTH
	♦ Q J 4 3 2
	♣ 9 5 3
WEST		EAST
♠ K 5		♠ Q 10 7
♥ K J 8 6 2		♥ 5 3
♦ 9		♦ A K 10 5
♣ K J 7 6		♣ Q 10 8 4
	SOUTH
	♠ A J 8 4 2
	♥ A Q 10 7
	♣ A 2

In room one the pair from the Swedish team was north and south. The bidding there went like this:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 ♦	Double
Redouble	Pass	Pass	1 ♥
Double	Pass	1 No-T	All Pass

Opening lead from south was the four of spades and declarer took eight tricks. This fulfilled his contract with one overtrick. Regardless of result, the correct contract was in clubs.

In room two the American pair was north and south. The bidding there went like this:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	Double
Redouble	1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♥	Pass	Pass

The opening lead from north was diamond queen and declarer was able to take nine tricks; the contract with one overtrick. Lucky he was when the contract in clubs would have been more correct.

True it is that making three hearts pays more than making four clubs. But this does not prove their bidding is correct. A switch of some card from south to north would hold west to eight tricks.

And in the case of room one, two no-trump does not pay as much as four clubs. So, if result is proof, how about the score there? Don't answer. I'm just talking to myself.

Little Benny's Notebook

Ma was watching pop trying not to go to sleep behind his paper after dinner, and she said, There's no question about it, William, people should not judge each other by first appearances.

Even the animals know that, pop said. Two dogs may growl when they are introduced for the first time, but instead of waiting then fighting at each other's throats in an unnecessary fight for nothing they may have to mutually apologize later, they walk slowly at each other's noses for a bad impression and after that they are lifelong buddies and attack other dogs together in friendly companionship, he said.

Anyway, William, I am glad to report that I have the very highest opinion of Clarence Brickfield's sister Awgusta, although the first time I saw her I mentally made up my mind that she was nobody I cared to know. But on closer acquaintance I saw behind her deceptive exterior and decided in no uncertain terms that she is the soul of honor and good judgement, and one of those exceptional women in a thousand who invariably say what they mean and mean what they say, besides having a dependable bridge game. That's only one point against her that rather disappointed me, he said.

Oh well, nobody is perfect, pop said, and ma said, That's what I try to tell myself. Still, it was rather a shock when I heard indirectly that her first impression of me was distinctly unfavorable. I meen I'm not accustomed to hearing that about myself. And what's so funny, William? she said.

Grace Brickfield's sister Awgusta, pop said.

And he kept on laffing.

'Jack and The Beanstalk' Mediocre on Television

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Perhaps if we had not been so built up for Jack and the Beanstalk we would not have been so badly let down. One newspaper ad said it would be another Peter Pan.

It was not. As this original musical version of the old fairy tale came across on Producers' Showcase (NBC-TV) it was just another musical fantasy, pretentious but mediocre, its occasional flashes of charm smothered in symbolism and scenery. No child whom we've heard of enjoyed it.

All resemblance between the fairy tale of childhood and the massive Producers' Showcase production was purely coincidental. It was not calculated to be that way. Those associated with the show said during rehearsal that they could see it on any of many "levels" fan academic term not meaning much except that such a work is supposed to appeal equally to the village idiot and the professor.

JACK WAS PURGED

First of all, the creators of Jack and the Beanstalk killed off the basic quality of revelation which has made all this material so durable for centuries. They did it, in part, by refusing to let Jack kill the Giant. Besides depriving his record of homicide, they purged him of burglary, in that he stole neither the bag of gold nor the magic harp nor the hen that lays the golden eggs.

The creators swallowed whole all the notions of modern psychology: No good, no evil, no revelation. It's all in your head, children; now go sleep and do not dream of violence. The whole thing, as shown on NBC, was a dream.

Folk tales should be a fertile source for television. But adapters in the medium should not tamper too much with the qualities that have made these tales endure.

Successful Broadway Director Now Aiding Movie Industry

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie industry, which needs all the help it can get, is now getting an assist from George Abbott, one of the most successful of Broadway directors.

Abbott, whose funny, fast-paced shows have brightened the stage for 30 years, is here to oversee his Pajama Game, in his Warner Brothers office, he explained why he has returned to films the first time since 1945:

"Too many times I have seen plays I have done ruined on the screen. I shudder when I think what was done to Room Service, what Warner Brothers itself did to shows like Brother Rat and Three Men on a Horse.

"So I decided to come out and see this one through. It is a system which worked out very well for me when I did Kiss and Tell for pictures. That was a success with the critics as well as at the box office."

Abbott spoke with some hoarseness, explaining that he had recently had a node removed from his larynx. He thinks the growth came from straining his voice while he starred with Helen Hayes and Mary Martin in The Skin of Our Teeth. That was his return to the footlights after an absence of many years.

"It was a very interesting experience," he smiled. "For years I have been hawling out actors because they didn't project loud enough. I thought I was doing a good job until the director came back and suggested that I should project a little more.

"I know enough not to argue with a director, so I started shouting, and that's how I think I strained my voice.

I must say that I have a lot more tolerance for actors after doing that show. I looked back on the acting business from my youth, when I was rather a ham. Then I found myself playing the show in the heat of midsummer when I would much rather have been at my place on Long Island.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

For Saturday, Nov. 17, 1956
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — If work is on your schedule today, take things philosophically and with good humor. There may be some irritations, so be on guard. Intelligence, understanding and patience will conquer them.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Don't force matters; let situations develop and resolve themselves in an orderly manner. Don't worry if you don't achieve big gains immediately. Slow and sure progress is often best.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — A good day for good deals, well done work. Generous influences for many lines of industry, outdoor work, sports, recreational activities.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Although your Moon warns against selfishness, other aspects are most encouraging. You can gain if you give a top performance. Be your agreeable, likeable self. Finances favored.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — While the Sun is not in auspicious position for heavy work such as building, engineering, etc., Jupiter and other planets favor pleasant activities, the arts, benefits through stable deeds, schools, sports, etc.

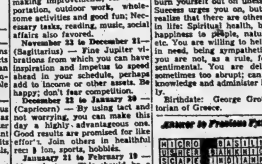
August 24 to September 23 — (Virgo) — While going about duties keep looking for better openings and methods. Support may come from unexpected sources. Be receptive to worthwhile suggestions.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra) — Greater progress will come through familiar activities than new or uncertain, though big-sounding ventures. Close cooperation with others, plain common sense will pay off now.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — A grand time for making improvements, for transportation, outdoor work, wholesome activities and good fun; Necessary tasks, reading, music, social affairs also favored.

November 23 to December 21 — (Sagittarius) — Fine Jupiter vibrations from which you can have inspiration and impetus to speed ahead in your schedule, perhaps add to income or other assets. Be happy; don't fear competition.

December 22 to January 20 — (Capricorn) — By using tact and not worrying, you can make this day a highly advantageous one. Good results are promised for like effor's. Join others in healthful sports, fun, games.



January 21 to February 19 — (Aquarius) — This should be a most encouraging, busy day—particularly if you exercise your fine God-given attributes and think of the welfare of others as you improve and advance. Your best!

February 20 to March 20 — (Pisces) — An important period! You can be in the swing of things — or out! Show your versatility, your talents and your good humor. Never feel defeated. Ask God's help and go forward!

You born today have tremendous energy, the will to achieve and determination to carry on to highly successful ends. Just don't burn yourself out on unessentials. Success urges you on, but try to realize that there are other things in life: Spiritual health, bringing happiness to people, nature, art, etc. You are willing to help those in need, being sympathetic, but you are not, as a rule, foolishly sentimental. You are deliberate, sometimes too abrupt; can absorb knowledge and administer it wisely.

Birthdate: George Grote, historian of Greece.

Cuba Asks Stop Sending Prisoners To Siberia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Cuba asked the UN General Assembly Thursday to call on the Soviet and Hungarian governments urgently to stop deporting political prisoners to Siberia.

Cuban Foreign Minister Emilio Nunez-Portuondo said in a proposed resolution that the world press and the official Budapest radio reported that the Soviet Union and Hungary agreed to send prisoners taken in the Hungarian revolt to Siberia.

His resolution also requested the return to Hungary of all political prisoners now in Soviet areas. He charged that this action was a violation of the convention of genocide, the calculated destruction of a nation, people or group.

The assembly is empowered to take up resolutions on the Hungarian situation only if two-thirds of the assembly's members approve. No plan was announced for immediate consideration.

The Hungarian government has offered to send representatives to Rome to negotiate with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold on UN aid to the destitute Hungarian people.

Maj. Gen. Burns Arrives at UN Headquarters

NEW YORK (CP) — Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burn, Canadian commander of the United Nations Middle East police force, arrived by air today for "three or four days of consultations at U. N. headquarters.

He said he is "deeply gratified by the rapid progress" and smoothness with which the first troops had been sent to Egypt.

Asked if he thought the presence of UN troops in Egypt would serve to maintain peace in the Middle East until a final determination by the United Nations, he replied:

"That and a few other things."

He told reporters in a statement:

"It was amazing to see the speed with which this plan developed from the idea stage to its endorsement by the General Assembly and to getting troops into the field."

Burns was unwilling to answer several questions put to him on the general situation in the Middle East.

Asked for the number of troops needed in the police force in Egypt, he replied:

"I don't know yet."

He was asked if the party of UN troops was being co-ordinated with a plan of withdrawal of British and French troops from Egypt.

He replied: "It is too early to answer that question."

BISHOPS ASK PEACE

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's Roman Catholic episcopate said Thursday it is "profoundly disturbed" by recent events in Eastern Europe and the Middle East and called on all to pray for peace. In a "declaration on peace," some 60 archbishops and bishops from all parts of Canada said they "urgently implore all to pray to God for the preservation of the peace of the world."

X-Ray Shows Jackpot in Child's Tummy

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) They hit a jackpot when they x-rayed two-year-old Sylvia Mackinnon. Her mother thought the child had swallowed a tiny plastic toy.

The x-ray showed the toy, all right — a two-inch plastic doll. It also showed a penny in Sylvia's stomach, next to the doll, and an open safety pin in her throat.

Physicians quickly persuaded Sylvia to eat some heavily buttered bread. That brought the pin into the stomach where it, the doll and the penny were removed by surgery Wednesday.

International Group Studies Easy Fallout Defence Tactics

OTTAWA (CP) — The average citizen can do a lot to save himself from deadly radioactive fallout in event of a nuclear bomb attack. But exactly what?

A group of high-level United Kingdom, United States and Canadian civil defence scientists today continue their efforts to reduce fallout defence to essential facts easily understood.

Canada's civil defence co-ordinator, F. F. Worthington, described some of the problems to a reporter Thursday. He wants the conference, which winds up today, to enable the average citizen to judge the amount of protection afforded by whatever shelter is available.

It is known that shelter from fallout requires thickness and not strength. Just being inside a house especially in the basement, provides some shelter from the deadly dust falling to earth after an atomic or hydrogen bomb blast.

Different types of houses and different materials give different degrees of protection.

Co-ordinator Worthington said a brick house would provide more shelter than a frame house. There would be greater protection from fallout in the basement of a two-storey house than a single-storey dwelling. The radioactive dust would settle on the roof and the farther away from it a person is the smaller the intensity of its radiation.

These facts were important because the radioactivity of fallout fades quickly, it is considered by Canadian CD officials that 48 hours would be the average time it would take for radiation intensity to fade to a safe level.

But it might be safe for a family taking shelter in the basement of a two-storey brick house to go up to the kitchen, say, within a shorter time. How much shorter, if at all, is one of the practical answers co-ordinator Worthington hopes the conference will come up with.

He said explicit instructions on what to do as protection against fallout should a nuclear attack ever come have not been issued generally in Canada because of differing opinions on the matter among civil defence experts in the three countries. The conference had been called in an effort to iron out the differences.

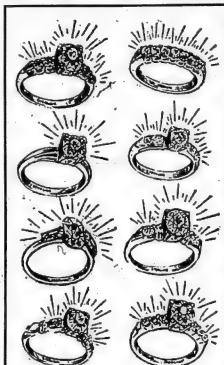
Heavy Snow Falls In U.S. Midwest

CHICAGO (AP) — The season's heaviest snowfall and coldest weather gave a wintry setting to northern sections of the midwest United States today.

The mid-November storm, moving from the Rockies across the plains, dumped a foot of snow in northern Minnesota areas.

Temperatures dropped from the Great Lakes region through the Dakotas southward through Michigan and southwestward through southern California. Readings were about 25 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier, ranging from the 40s in lower Michigan to near 10 in the Dakotas.

The heaviest snowfalls were from Minnesota through northwestern Wisconsin and into western upper Michigan. Falls generally were from six to 10 inches, but in Duluth, Minn., there were 12 inches on the ground.



The snowfall diminished as the storm moved eastward and rain was reported in the leading edge of the cold air.

THEN HE GOT UP

RHEIMS, France (Reuters)—A 24-year-old farmer, horrified because he had fired his shotgun almost pointblank at his brother-in-law in a fit of rage, turned the gun on himself Wednesday night and committed suicide. Minutes later, the brother-in-law got up from the floor where he had collapsed. The blast had missed him by inches and he had only fainted.

Russia Urges Summit Disarmament Talks

Voices Qualified Acceptance Of 'Open Skies' Plan

Balance of Power Shifted In Its Favor Says Moscow

MOSCOW (CP)—The Soviet Union today proposed a "summit" disarmament conference and expressed qualified acceptance of the American "open skies" plan for disarmament surveillance.

But it issued the warning that the balance of power is not changed that "today the Soviet forces could take over the whole of Western Europe without the use of rocket or nuclear weapons."

Premier Bulganin sent messages to President Eisenhower and the prime ministers of Britain, France, Communist China and India, suggesting that there is danger of war and offering a detailed disarmament plan to prevent a spread of the conflict.

Russia made the proposal in a 13-page statement broadcast to the world by Moscow radio.

It proposed aerial photography up to 800 miles both sides of the East-West border in Europe. This, it said, would be in the areas where the North Atlantic Pact and Warsaw treaty, forces are stationed.

The statement also called, "in view of the failure of the United Nations disarmament commission," for a "summit" conference between the U.S.S.R., U.S.A., Britain, France and India.

Russia said the Middle East situation had received the cold war, intensified the armaments race and spread "war hysteria."

The statement said Russia wants peace to develop, so her internal economy. If she had wanted war as charged by the West, this would have been the most favorable time" to carry it out because the balance of power has now shifted in her favor.

Russia's position, the statement warned, is stronger than at any time since the end of the Second World War.

WOULD BAN TESTS

Once again, Russia proposed an immediate ban on nuclear tests, a halt in the production of hydrogen and atomic bombs and the destruction of existing stocks.

The statement also called for a reduction in the armed forces of Russia, the United States and Communist China to between 1,000,000 and 1,500,000 men, and the reduction of British and French forces to 650,000 men for each country.

"The Soviet government reiterates that international relations as a whole can and must be solved by peaceful means.

"As far as the ideological struggle is concerned, the superior ideology must triumph victorious without recourse to arms."

It said the military operations launched against Egypt by Britain and France were fraught with the danger of the spread of the conflict" involving the use of modern weapons.

Other suggestions in the Soviet proposal:

"To liquidate within two years military bases in all foreign countries.

"To cut military expenditure.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) — Synopsis: The intense storm that moved across the province Friday bringing westerly gales and colder weather has moved into Central Quebec. In its place a large high-pressure area is moving from the Great Lakes United States. As winds become more southerly today skies will gradually clear and temperatures will moderate.

Another disturbance is moving rapidly eastward from the west coast and will move into Northern Ontario Sunday bringing [illegible]. Meanwhile mild [illegible] is expected over Southern Ontario.

Bloody New High Set for Deaths In Cyprus Strife

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — November — little more than half gone—already has set a bloody new high in deaths and injuries in the fight by Cypriot underground groups against British colonial authority.

British officials report 31 persons killed on this strategic Mediterranean island colony since Midnight Oct. 31. That is three times higher than the toll in any preceding month in the 18-month campaign.

The British officials blame EOKA, the underground fighting arm of the Cypriot movement seeking to unite Cyprus with Greece.

The statement also called, "in view of the failure of the United Nations disarmament commission," for a "summit" conference between the U.S.S.R., U.S.A., Britain, France and India.

"To establish strict international control to ensure that these proposals are carried out."

Russia also called for a non-aggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's members and the countries of the Warsaw pact. The Western powers have already rejected such a pact.

Today's statement said Russia was more interested in subpassing the West in industrial production of consumer goods than in atom bombs.

"But the capitalist countries, the statement said, are prepared to plunge the world into a new world war for the sake of their narrow interests.

Russian military power was in much better position today that at the end of the Second World War to take over Western Europe because the aggressive circles in the Middle East had been pulled out their forces."

The statement added the Soviet Union could take over Western Europe any time "if the slanderous plans ascribed to . . . some politicians were actually true."

"But the Soviet Union today does not desire a new war and the consolidation of peace."

The world must choose between the two alternatives of destroying the cold war, or face "a new world war more terrible than any we have ever known."

Below-Zero Experiments Aimed At Making Life in Arctic Easier

OTTAWA (CP) — Much of Canada's progress in development and defence of the North Pole will be determined by a group of Canadian scientists tackling problems created by sub - zero temperatures.

Their work ranges from the development of civilian and military equipment and ways to operate in Arctic and sub-Arctic regions to the design of buildings and clothing necessary to protect men in the cold and work in extremely low temperatures.

Most of the research is centred in three divisions here of the National Research Council—mechanical engineering biology and building research.

The below-zero experiments already have solved many problems.

One recent development is a special oil which can be used to lubricate machinery at temperatures as low as 65 degrees below zero.

The oil was required for radar equipment, but now is being used for many other military and civilian purposes as well. Developments of this type also are providing necessary to operate in Arctic areas which experience rigorous working conditions.

But the interests of Canada's cold - weather scientists extend into many other fields, including the development of frozen foods.

The biology division now is conducting an extensive research program to find a method to permit the commercial production of frozen concentrated milk, fi would be marketed much like frozen soups.

BUENOS AIRES CROWD RESCUES BABY FROM REDS

Fugitive Chauffeur's Child Held in Legation

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—A Romanian legation chauffeur today sought refuge for his family in Argentina after a dramatic struggle to break away from his Communist bosses.

A clamoring crowd of—Argentines helped the fleeing couple obtain the release of their 11-month-old son from the legation.

George Conan, the 31-year-old chauffeur, said he and his family looks forward to living out their lives here. With some surprise in his voice, he added delightedly: "I have already had offers of work."

The crowd that gathered around the legation after the family's dramatic escape was instrumental in securing the freedom of Conan's son. It held the baby in reserve when the remainder of the family broke away. The demonstrators set up loud chants of: "Let the child go."

BEING RETURNED

Coman, his wife and two boys were being returned to Bucharest after their tour of duty here. As they entered a legation car Friday, Mrs. Coman ran back to the legation for the baby while Conan sought asylum for the family. He said she was dragged inside the legation building and that Aston Mosescu, the Romanian military attache, struck her.

Mrs. Coman broke away, locked herself in a bathroom, escaped through its window and rejoined her husband.

The news spread, and the crowd assembled.

Man 'Little Mad' At Woman Said Killer of Eight

CINCINNATI (AP)—Eight murder charges were filed Friday against Arthur Lee Hodson, 31, a construction worker with an apartment house fire here early Monday in which eight persons lost their lives.

Seven of the eight victims, all Negroes, were children.

Police also filed an arson charge against Hodson who he said admitted starting the fire because he was "a little mad" at a woman friend.

The woman, Mrs. Johnetta Clark, escaped from the fire by jumping from a window but her two children were killed. Mrs. Edna Dyas, 25, and her five children also perished in the fire.

'Very Heavy Fight' Predicted To Break Hungarian Strike

VIENNA (AP)—Signs that the Hungarian government may use armed force to end the country's paralyzing general strike are reported by an Austrian Communist newspaper here.

The newspaper Volkszitung says a resumption of work in Hungary will "bring about a fight, a very heavy fight."

Earlier reports from the Hungarian capital quoted a labor spokesman there as saying that the Budapest council of workers had agreed to urge all workers in the capital to return to their jobs today. Such a return would end the paralyzing walkout which followed the shooting rebellion.

Volkszitung's indications that the Hungarian Communist government might use armed force to end the strike were contained in a front page article by a correspondent who left Budapest Friday.

The article says: "Resumption of work . . . will bring about a fight, a very heavy fight . . . which may possibly cause victims."

The correspondent, Eva Priester says the "remaining elements of a "new and progressive policies" forces being formed "to free the people from the nightmare of terror."

The Volkszitume article says several persons were killed in Budapest earlier this week when they tried to go back to work and that other workers were prevented from entering factories by armed groups at the entrances.

Supreme Court to Complete Hearings on Validity of Act

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada next week is expected to complete hearings into a test case which will decide the validity of Ontario's unemployment system of compulsory programs of marketing farm products.

The court will begin hearing argument Monday on one aspect of the controversial act, the problem of whether provincial marketing boards have power to levy charges on their farmer-members. The hearings likely will continue for two or three days, but the court's judgment is not expected until early next year.

Next week's hearings follow a request Oct. 24 by the court for further argument on the division of powers ovoir trade between the provinces and the federal government.

The case, referred to the court by the federal government last winter, involves 14 marketing plans in Ontario set up to stabilize the sale of 21 farm products, including hogs, peaches and a number of vegetables.

The main issue, argued before the court last April, is whether charges collected by the marketing boards are service fees or indirect taxes which affect consumer prices. The federal government says the sole right is for indirect taxation.

The court now wants to hear argument on the sole right to levy indirect taxation.

The court now wants to hear argument on the sole right to levy indirect taxation.

The question the court wants argued is: Does a province have authority to regulate trade in hogs and other products sold to processors for slaughter or export outside the province?

The Ontario marketing legislation originally was challenged by Theodore Parker, a Stratford hog farmer.

The court's decision could have far - reaching consequences on all other provinces.

For some months officials of Ontario and provincial governments have been making a special study of ways of strengthening the legal basis of present plans. The fear is that if the federal Supreme Court rules it ruled invalid, chaos could result unless concerted action were taken to provide alternate methods immediately.

Egypt Stands Firm Against Letting UN Police Suez Zone

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt gave every sign of standing firm today against letting United Nations Middle East police force take over occupation of the Suez Canal. The Egyptians also objected to any attempt to re-open the Israeli Negev waterway until British and French troops get out.

Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjold was to meet a second time with Egypt's foreign minister in an effort to work out the role of the international police force now building up in Abu Suweir airfield in the Canal Zone.

Hammarskjold plunged into conference with the Egyptians immediately after arriving in Cairo by plane late Friday.

From all indications, Egypt was opposing all but the most limited assignments for the UN force The Egyptians apparently insist that the force be limited to the quick withdrawal of British, French and Israeli troops from occupied Egyptian territory — and then let the Egyptians take over.

This runs counter to the positions of Britain, France and Israel. They have conditioned their withdrawal on their own arrangements to be made with the UN force.

Egypt protested indignantly today about a British-French plan to start clearing obstructions from the canal. The project already has begun at the Mediterranean end of the canal, cleared by British - French forces, and British and French authorities have made tentative plans for clearing the Red Sea end held by Egypt.

Egypt's public information officer, Abdel Kader Hatem, reiterated his country's insistence that the British and French occupation forces must withdraw before anything is done to reopen the Suez.

"If Britain and France complain about the obstruction of navigation this is due to their aggressive acts," Hatem said in a statement, "and there is no way out for them now except to implement the decision of the United Nations to withdraw from Egypt."

Egypt has given no indication when it will begin clearing the three-fourths of the canal it holds. Egypt says even with the bulkier ships the waterway were sunk by British-French bombs.

Storm Sweeps Into Quebec From Lakehead

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A storm which dropped a snow blanket on the Lakehead Thursday and Friday had swept into northern Quebec today and most of the province was experiencing normal November weather.

Nine inches of snow fell at Port Arthur and Fort William in the season's first blizzard. But the storm moved quickly with 50 mile winds, eased up about noon Friday and the twin cities began to dig out.

The storm brought gale winds to many parts of Ontario, rain to the southern part of the province, with sleet and snow farther north.

The weather office at Malton today said light snow fell overnight in the Muskoka and Huntsville district today. Elsewhere in the province the outlook was for mostly cloudy skies and moderating temperatures.

CPR FIREMEN PREPARING FOR STRIKE VOTE

Would Reinforce Stand In Contract Dispute

OTTAWA (CP) — Locomotive firemen on the CPR are preparing for a strike vote to reinforce their stand in a contract dispute with the company, their union announced Friday.

W. E. Gamble of Montreal, head of the negotiating committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (Ind.) made the statement after conciliation proceedings failed to bring an agreement in the dispute.

A three-member conciliation board concluded long public hearings in the case Wednesday, and Friday it tried unsuccessfully to bring the disputants to agreement at a private session.

Later, Mr. Gamble said in a statement:

The negotiating committee of the union announced, following the failure of conciliation, that preparations were already under way for a strike vote in the event of an unfavorable report by the board.

The fight between the CPR and the Firemen's Union revolves around the wage increase, the firemen's demand for a general 25-per-cent wage increase and a CPR counter-proposal to eliminate firemen from freight and yard engines and reduce them to to the lower-p aistguaishtee den the differential status of firemen on passenger locomotives.

The company point occupied most of the board hearings stretching over five months. About 2,000 firemen would be affected at an estimated saving of $11,000,000 a year to the company.

Egyptian Airport Said Littered With MiG Wrecks

CAPODICHINO Italy (AP)—A Swiss pilot on the UN police airlift to Egypt said today he thinks the Abu Suweir airfield is littered with wreckage of Soviet MiG planes.

"I counted at least 24 burned out MiGs I saw wrecked on their parking strips around the airfield's perimeter," he said.

The pilot returned Friday from carrying Colombian infantry into the Suez Canal zone. He said that all the airfield hangars and installations have been blown up by the British and French air attacks.

Overseas-Bound Troops at Halifax Give City Old Wartime Look

HALIFAX (CP)—The clock this week turned back in Halifax to the long years of the Second World War.

Again the streets of this old garrison seaport echoed with the tread of soldiers soon to sail for from Canadian ports.

Again a troopship had steam up, ready to sail at a moment's notice, while supplies and equipment were hoisted aboard.

The Canadian Barnstormers Street Friday night was like Barrington Street in wartime.

Restaurants had the old crowds of soldiers and sailors. Uniformed offers outnumbered civvies.

Theatres enjoyed something like the high wartime business before VE Stores were jammed. The streets were full of hurrying taxis.

Soldiers and sailors — in twos and threes and fours, some with girls, some without—crowded the sidewalks.

The soldiers were men of the 1st Battalion Queen's, Own Rifles, here on their way to the Middle East. The sailors were from the ship set to take them — the aircraft carrier Magnificent.

At Barrington and Sackville streets, crossroads of downtown Halifax, soldiers, sailors and civilians mingled in the light from store windows protected with Christmas green and tinsel.

Little more than a week ago the sailors from the Magnificent, the soldiers in Alberta, 6,000 miles apart.

"What do you think of the idea of going over?" a civilian asked a soldier at the trolley stop.

"I wouldn't be sorry if the ship sailed tomorrow," the soldier said. "I'd rather be home for Christmas."

"Well," another soldier said, "I've always wanted to see that part of the world and maybe I'll look as though I would."

For those old enough to remember it all had a familiar ring. It almost could have been November, 1939.

A blind man with a tin cup and an accordian played a tune with memories for many in the passing crowd.

"What song is that?" a man in a grey suit said to the woman on his arm.

"You know that," she said. "It's Harbor Lights. You remember when you were. . . ." they passed on and the accordian played a new tune.

Cabinet Awaits 'Green Light' From United Nations

Ministers May Meet Today To Iron Out Many Problems

External Affairs Minister Pearson was reported in New York to have said that the Ministerial Council will meet at 3 p.m. EST Sunday with 80-odd officers and men of the Queen's Own Rifles.

However, a naval spokesman in Ottawa said later that the Magnificent will be ready for sailing by 2 p.m. EST Sunday. He said the ship will not sail until the cabinet commits the troops.

St. Laurent told reporters that he was in telephone touch Friday with Mr. Pearson and with Gen. E. L. M. Burns in Ottawa. UN Middle East police force commander, now in New York.

He said the government now is waiting to hear from UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, now in Cairo, and Canada's Egyptian Premier Nasser.

"WE ARE WAITING"

"We are waiting for confirmation from the Hammarskjold that the Egyptian government is not objecting to the kind of operation that the United Nations feels is the one that they want to carry out," St. Laurent said.

Another New York report said that Canada has objected to participation by Canada and some other countries in the police force. But a spokesman for the Canadian UN delegation said he expects Egypt's objections will be resolved in Cairo by Mr. Hammarskjold.

Mr. St. Laurent told reporters that there is no disagreement between Canada and Egypt. Canada dealt not with Egypt but with the UN and the UN "had to carry out "the letter and spirit" of its Middle East police force resolution.

The prime minister said Gen. Burns, is "perfectly satisfied" with Canada's proposed contingent of some 1,200 troops.

However, Mr. Burns was not going to the Middle East "until he is satisfied that he is ready with the kind of units that will enable him to carry out his operations" Gen. Burns would not be satisfied with the force as such without the Canadian contingent.

Mr St. Laurent said the cabinet is prepared to act quickly on word from Mr. Hammarskjold.

Deportations Follow Romanian Demonstrations

VIENNA (Reuters)—Mass arrests and deportations followed pro-Hungarian demonstrations by Romanian students and Romanian towns recently, according to reports from usually reliable sources reaching Austria today.

The demonstrations expressing solidarity with the Hungarian freedom fighters, took place in several towns as well as the capital, Bucharest, the reports said.

At the same time, unrest was reported in the industrial centres of Kostanza and Petrochemi, Hunedoara and Arad. Protest meetings were held demanding democratization of the Communist Romanian government.

The Romanian Communist party took instant action, The local party leaders in Arad were reported refusing to send delegations to Bucharest to put their views before the government.

The party secretary, Gheorghiu Dej, and other member, Chivu Stoica, received delegations and promised to fulfil their demands, the reports went on.

Then the Romanian security police went into action, arresting young workers and students in the towns where anti-Soviet demonstrations had been held.

In Bucharest alone 300 students were arrested, loaded in freight cars and taken off to an unknown destination, rumored to be Siberia.

Similar deportation trains were said to have left other towns where demonstrations were held.

Halifax. The airlift would carry some additional auxiliary troops for the force and supplies.

The aircraft carrier was ready and could sail at the green light there would be no delay. But if approval did not come quickly the Magnificent would not be kept under full steam at her Halifax berth.

"This is very expensive business," he said. He added that if the ship is not kept at full steam arrangements will be made for it to be transferred to be in a position to sail in from four to eight hours.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH VERDICT OF JURY

A five-man jury at the inquest into the death of CNR brakeman John Harris Tavemer, 164 Victoria Ave., last night returned a verdict that he met death accidentally as the result of a fall from the rear of a caboose. The jury recommended that a type of gate be added to the safety bar on all vans to prevent similar accidents.

Coroner Dr. John Stark presided at the inquest.

Mr. Tavemer was killed on November 3 when he fell backwards under the safety bar at the rear of an eastbound freight. The mishap occurred three miles from Belleville.

Fire Destroys Frame Home At Green Point

PICTON — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fyrnie Richardson at Green Point, was destroyed by fire early Friday morning. All the contents were also lost as the fire gained great headway before being discovered. A strong wind fanned the flames and the frame structure was quickly demolished.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were sleeping in a room downstairs and were not awakened by the fire until it was out of control. Faulty electric wiring is believed the cause.

Many Attend Memorial Day Cenotaph Service

CAMPBELLFORD — Led by the Campbellford Citizens' Band, a lengthy parade comprising Branch 103, Canadian Legion, the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion, the Town Council, I.O.D.E. members, Girl Guides, Boy Guides, Cub Scouts and Brownies, met on Sunday morning and paraded to the Cenotaph for the annual Memorial Day service, prior to going to St. Andrew's United Church.

There was a record number of wreaths placed on the memorial, among which was the provincial government wreath, placed by Mrs. Walter Hall, Tory town wreath, placed by Mayor Locke; and the I.O.D.E. wreath, placed by the Regent, Mrs. J. O. Senior. There were 60 wreaths in all laid on the memorial.

The Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Bandsman David Rannie, and two minutes' silence observed.

"FOR THEIR BAKES"

The Rev. A. C. Love, ministers at St. John's Church, addressed those taking part in the service at the church after the Cenotaph ceremonies. Mr. Love, in his sermon, entitled his "For Their Bakes" stressed the need of turning to God in national crises as in personal perplexity. He said we should not condemn Britain in the Suez crisis until all the facts are made known."

His message was in keeping with Remembrance Day as he called for a re-dedication of lives to God's service, feeling that by this means and this means alone, we may some day cease and bring about the brotherhood of man.

The service by the large choir under the direction of Mr. George Mehalis, was in keeping with the Day of Remembrance. Mrs. Fred Tredrew sang a lovely solo, "There Is No Death, (O'Hara) and the anthem by the choir, "What Are These," (Stainer).

Canadian Dollar Sailing High On Heavy Flow of U.S. Capital

OTTAWA (CP) — The rugged Canadian dollar is sailing high in the widening river of United States capital.

Financial experts gave that impression today of the continuing strength of the Canadian dollar on world money markets. The premium strength of the dollar as become a matter of keen interest to Canadians in view of Canada's record trade deficit.

At the same time rises in the premium, said the "experts, are heavier Canadian borrowings of capital in the U.S., where money apparently is more plentiful than in Canada and where interest rates are somewhat lower.

OFFSETS TRADE DEFICIT

These borrowings, combined with large inflows of foreign money for direct investment in Canadian natural resources and industry, have boosted the over-all flow of U.S. capital to a point sufficient to offset the unfavorable impact of the trade deficit.

In other words, the authority said, it appears there is more American money in Canada than Canadian money is sending abroad, ing the Canadian dollar a premium status.

Just which way the dollar may be heading is not too clear. It went down Friday it was quoted in New York at a premium of 4-5/16 cents in terms of U.S. funds.

In the last few days it has been moving narrowly around that figure. This is a sharp climb from the premium of 3-7/8 cents that was at par. But it has not yet matched the premium of 4 5-16 cents reached in August and September of 1952.

HOPES FOR PAR

Yet, in a general way, the strength of the Canadian dollar has been remarkable. Notwithstanding that just six years ago, before the dollar was set free of government control, it was at par, and was worth at about 10 per cent.

In some circles, the rise in premium encourages imports and reacts against Canadian exports, it is said. Some feel that way of imported goods. But it may tend to make exports more attractive.

Just a few days ago Trade Minister Howe expressed the hope that the dollar would return to par. Experts said privately that the premium was "very embarrassing."

COULD INFLUENCE VALUE

The government, of course, could influence the exchange value to some extent by use of its official reserves of gold and U.S. dollars. Whether it would actually do it is not to move against the general economic trend, but to use the reserves to iron out minor fluctuations.

To put pressure on the dollar to push it back towards par, the government would have to invest huge sums in buying up more of the loose American currency in Canada.

The official reserves at the end of September totalled $1,903,000,000, highest in a year.

Brig. Flannigan Addresses Lions Club

CAMPBELLFORD — The regular meeting of the Lions Club of Campbellford, was held on Wednesday evening at the IOOF hall. President Bruce Connor presided for a nearly 100 per cent attendance.

Following the reading of the minutes and the correspondence, past president Lion Jim Clarke introduced Captain Janet Murray and Envoy Edna McKenzie, of the local Salvation Army Corps, who favored the group with a solo.

GUEST SPEAKER

Captain Murray introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Brigadier L. M. Flannigan, Belleville, Divisional Commander, of the Salvation Army for Central Ontario, who spoke highly of the work being carried on by the Lions Club of Campbellford, and urged each and every member to be a member and not a "joiner" of any service club, to enable the group to be ready to offer their assistance wherever it may be needed.

Brigadier Flannigan also spoke of the work being done by the local Salvation Army Corps, which has been so well assisted in its work by each and every individual of the community and the surrounding district. He stated that they, as members of the Salvation Army Corps are always ready to help the needy or give assistance in any way that they can.

The speaker was thanked by Lion Ralph Welch.

Cooler Weather Reduces Vendors On Local Market

Cooler weather put a quietus on the local farmers' market this morning with only a scattered few vendors putting in an appearance on the outside market square.

On the inside market egg prices were about the same with extras bringing 60c per dozen; firsts 55c; mediums 45c and pullets 35c per dozen. Fowl prices ranged from 30c for mature birds to 60c for capons.

There was a good offering of apples with top grade McIntosh, Spies and Delicious bringing 85c per six-quart basket. Jonathan Sweets were 75c. Bushel lots were $3. Apple cider brought $1 per gallon.

Potatoes sold at $2.50 per hamper or 80c per basket. Vegetables sold at last week's prices of 50c per half peck for carrots and beets. Turnips sold for 10c and ten cents each and cauliflower was 25c each. Cabbages were a dime and 15c each.

Y's Men Hear Talk on Middle East Situation

Fred Bradley, head of the social studies department, at the Belleville Collegiate Institute, found the Y's Men an attentive audience when he spoke on them on the "Middle East Situation."

Mr. Bradley dealt first with the background leading up to the attack by Israel last month. The most significant fact is the new found independence of the Arab states, who up to World War I were controlled by Turkey, and since then by Great Britain and France. The Arab states are intensely nationalistic and want total independence. The next important factor has been the organized immigration of Jews into Palestine, where in modern times has been in Arab hands.

Immigration after World War II increased to the point that the Jews were able to organize an army, and set up a Jewish state, England's post war Socialist government, not favorable to imperial policies, walked out on the problem when the U.S. declined to help them. Then, unilaterally Palestine, a solution never accepted by the Arabs, was forced on them and Arab states have been at war with the new state of Israel, which they are determined to destroy.

EGYPT

Mr. Bradley took a look at Egypt. In 1936, Britain granted Egypt independence under King Farouk, who was deposed by the Army in 1954. It is now headed by Nasser, a dictator and fanatical nationalist who wants to be leader of the Arab states from the Atlantic ocean to the Persian Gulf, and whose avowed platform is the removal of Britain and all Western influence in North Africa.

Under continuous attack and surrounded by enemies, Israel felt that last month was the time to strike, or she would be annihilated. Egypt was getting arms from Russia, but her troops had not yet learned to use them. Israel, on the other hand, could not get Western arms because she's busy in Poland and Hungary, the U.S. was preoccupied and England not friendly with Nasser.

Britain and France used this opportunity to attack the canal and to protect their economy, which is vitally dependent on the Suez Canal and Middle East oil, without which neither, could survive as a modern country.

Russia too, is a threatening influence in the Middle East. England wished to strengthen the Middle East defences against Russian infiltration.

Mr. Bradley's able and enlightening talk, considerably abridged in this report, was well received by the Y's Men's Club. He was thanked by Archie Boyd for their efforts.

Elsewhere in the evening, Gerry Hyde, Jack Schurman, Ross Booth, Harold Bunkier, and president Scott Hunter journeyed to Oshawa to discuss with an interested group, the possibilities of forming a new club there. In Scott's absence, Buzz Flindall chaired the meeting.

Obituary

MRS. CHARLES FREDERICK

The funeral of Mrs. Frances Frederick, 35 Everett Street, was held yesterday. President J. Earl Lewis, of Toronto, officiated at a service in the chapel of the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Home at 2.30 p.m. He was assisted by President Alfred T. Willis, of Belleville, and Elder Willard L. George, of Toronto. Interment was in Belleville Cemetery, Tweed.

Bearers were: John Shaw, E. A. Hall, Stanley Noble, Donald Wardhaugh, Earl Credicott and Frank Thompson.

Tweed Hunter Lacerates Knee When Axe Slips

Complete recovery from a hunting mishap is expected for Ben Burtchael of Tweed who early last week suffered a badly lacerated knee from a glancing blow of an axe.

Mr. Burtchael had downed a deer in the Lake Maxinaw area and had climbed a tree to get his trophy. Using his axe to chop some limbs he swung the axe down into the trunk of the tree and they have the glance off and cut into his knee only 3 inches from the knee-cap.

Alone at the time, he was able to apply a tourniquet and hobbled one and a half miles back to camp. He was brought back to Tweed to the office of Dr. F. J. McCue and thence to Belleville General Hospital where an operation was performed.

Anglican S.S. Teachers Hear Field Secretary

Rev. A. B. Craig, eastern field secretary for the General Board of Religious Education of the Anglican Church, was the leader at a meeting for the Hastings Deanery church school superintendents and teachers on Wednesday evening at St. Paul's, Bonarlaw. The Rev. Rural Dean H. C. Secker introduced Mr. Craig to the large gathering. Mr. Craig lives in Lennoxville, Que., and is responsible for the area between Newfoundland and the Lakehead.

Using a blackboard to illustrate his talk Mr. Craig dealt with the subject of Christian Education under the theme: "The Preparation of the Teacher," and "Preparation of the Lesson Material." The aim of Christian education is to bring about the relationship between the child Christ in and through His church. This can only be accomplished if the teacher has this relationship. Some avenues of approach are training in worship, instruction in the faith, and enlistment for service. Three take place in three areas, the home, the church school, and the congregation.

In the preparation of material three points must be considered, the child used, the theme, and the lesson plan. The teacher needs to make careful preparation and planning before presenting the lesson. This involves knowledge of the aim, the equipment to be used, the time element, introduction of the subject, the body of the lesson, the expression work, a summary of what is to be done, the evaluation, and benediction, Mr. Craig.

Mr. John Chard was in charge of the prevision and film, showing a lesson on the enlistment of teachers.

Rev. K. Blachford voiced the appreciation of the assembly to Mr. Craig for his inspiring lectures and for the film. He also thanked the ladies of Bonarlaw for the refreshments served during the evening. Rev. R. Fleming, rector of Marmora, welcomed all to St. Mark's.

200 Parents Attend Y's 'Parents Night'

Close to 200 "Y" members parents attended the 4th annual Belleville YMCA 'Parent Night' on Friday evening. The program was started by general secretary Mr. D. G. Hamilton, who welcomed the parents, commented on the 1956-57 physical program and then introduced guest speaker, rector, Jim Hefferman.

The first group, boys (8 and 10 years old) demonstrated elementary tumbling; tumbling relays and running relays. Juvenile boys (11 and 12 year olds), under the supervision of intermediate leaders Ron Foste and Larry Regenburg, followed with an excellent demonstration of marching; intermediate tumbling and basketball relays; shooting Gymnastic routines on flying rings and spring board with box horse vaulting followed by the junior boys class (13 to 15 years old). At ten minute intervals the girls, in bathing suits and juniors went in the swimming pool, giving parents a chance to see their sons' progress in swimming.

DISPLAYS PRESENTED

At the same time, in the gymnasium, the juvenile tumbling displays were presented; advanced from Tim Buckley's Tumbling club and a judo demonstration by the boys' Judo club under the supervision of instructor, Mr. Jim Driscol, and a trampoline demonstration by the Tumbling club. Members of the Tumbling club, Robbie Blaker, Stu Mainprize and Don Devereaux each had one goal. Peter Mitchell on a pass from Tim Buckley accounted for the Red Wing goal.

The Canadiens split their goals five ways with Jim Rutherford, Fred Spafford, Larry Ryan, Dean Williamson and Tommy Wilson getting the triggers. Brian Skinner assisted Ryan on with Spafford helping on another.

Two New Banks, Appliance Shop For Bancroft

Residents of the booming village of Bancroft and immediate area will no longer have to do their banking. The axe on the bank which has served the district for the past 50 years.

Within the past few weeks two banks— Toronto-Dominion Bank, and the Imperial Bank—have opened branches in the village. Both have purchased property on Hastings street.

A Belleville firm, Ireland Furniture and Appliances, will also open a store in Bancroft. It is understood that the Keller Block on Station street, has been purchased by the Belleville firm and is expected the store will be open for buiness in January.

Only Woman Ald. Likely to Seek Re-Election

Although nomination day for civic offices is less than a week away, there has been little talk in the municipal field. Seven aldermen including Mayor Gerald B. Hyde Harry J. Clarke, Bryson Reid, Ralph Graham, Enos Auld, Frank Grandmaison and Gerald B. Hyde are up for re-election if they choose to run.

Prior to today none had publicly signified an intention to seek re-election for the new-year term but it was believed that Mrs. Mc-Cabe, who is the only woman alderman on the council will be seeking re-election. Mrs. Mc-Cabe, along with Her Worship, Mayor Jane Forrester, was elected two years ago, they being the first two women to be elected to council in this city and Mrs. Forrester last year resigned to run for mayor and was successful and is again seeking the high office.

This office will enable to reach all the prospective candidates but some were called today and it was learned that Ralph Graham and Gerald B. Hyde will be definitely in the field, while Enos David stated that he had not made up his mind.

CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from neighbors, relatives and many friends We also wish to thank Rev. We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives. —

Minor Hockey

The Black Hawks squeezed out a 2-1 victory over the Bruins in the only close peewee hockey game this morning while the Rangers, Canadiens and Maple Leafs won easily.

Canadiens blanked the Browns 5-0, Rangers downed Red Wings 5-1 while the Leafs shout out the Barons 4-0.

Bill Elliott was the Black Hawks' star, scoring the deciding goal on passes from Kves and Allen Cleary. Richard Ewa potted his team's other marker while David Cox aided for the Bruins.

Jay Kiser paced the Maple Leafs to victory with two of the team's goals. Lorne Fitzpatrick and Bill Goodman also scored, all goals unassisted.

The Rangers' top scorer was Ross Woodcock with two goals while Jim Ross earned a pair of helpers. Ron Corrigan, Gord Pirie and Don Devereaux each had one goal. Peter Mitchell on a pass from Tim Buckley accounted for the Red Wing goal.

Russell Pringle Falls Overboard From Coal Carrier

PICTON — Russell Pringle, 30, was drowned early yesterday morning when he was washed overboard into Lake Ontario, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orson Pringle, R.R. 3, Picton, have been advised. He was a member of the coal carrier Coalita.

While full details of the tragedy are not known, it is believed Pringle was washed overboard shortly after the carrier left Ogdensburg, N.Y., where a clearance was just noticed for a time. The carrier past took into Ogdensburg and dragging operations started, so far without success.

The Coalita has sailed for several seasons, had taken a few days off for deer hunting and visiting his parents. She was returning to Ogdensburg Thursday morning.

Unmarried, Pringle is survived by his parents, four brothers, Morley, Orson, Lorne and Donald; four sisters, Mrs. Bill Rand, Mrs. Ken Braaksma, Mrs. Ross Smithson and Mrs. Jack Carter.

BECKA. — In loving memory of Kenneth Becka, who passed away November 17th, 1952.
The hour was great, the shock severe
We little thought the end was near;
Sad and sudden was the call
The pain of parting without farewell,
A silent prayer will be said
A little prayer will be read
Dear sweet heart, dearest friend
You may think that you are dead
But that we know the sorrow,
That lies within the heart concealed
Is the one you loved so well
Inserted by wife Cora, mother and daughter.

CONNEY. — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Alfred Conney, who passed away November 17th, 1953.
Oft times we think of you and sigh
And wish that you were back
Could we but forgotten
Or cease to miss you

A Lift for Living

Some Thoughts on the Harvest

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

As we approach the United States national season of Thanksgiving, our minds go on a pilgrimage. We turn from the noisy surroundings of the rustic scenes of the Pilgrim Fathers. Our spirits are inclined to leave the paved streets for the quiet country side. Our thoughts go back from the things man has made to the things God has made. Our human natures hear the call of nature and our voices raise the song of "harvest home".

Living in a great city, amid towering structures, I would join you in a journey back to the basic similicities of life, back to faithful old Mother Earth that feeds her children with the fruits of her soil. I would look with you at the fertile fields, at the animals nourishing their young, at homes echoing with children, and barns filled with food, at birds which sow not, nor reap, nor gather into barns and yet somehow are fed by their Heavenly Father. These are the roads our minds travel toward Thanksgiving Day.

Nevertheless, we must be realistic. When we try to get back to the simplicities of the soil, so many factors intervene. In our modern machine age, we do not seem to deal so directly with the God of the harvests as did the Pilgrim Fathers. Living close to the soil, they were conscious of the divine partnership. They reaped what they sowed and they ate what they raised. When God's providence was bountiful, they were prosperous.

But with us, it is not so simple. So many human elements stand between us and the fruits of our labors. We raise our crops, but their value depends on distant markets and trade agreements between nations. Our fathers in a simpler day lived by the labor of their hands and the sweat of their brows, but our living is determined by the labor of hands in far-off factories, and by the sweat of brows we have not seen. Our agricultural scientists worked with nature we work more and more with human nature. And in this human factors there is so much uncertainty that many question whether it is still true that "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Our situation calls to mind a puzzling passage of Scripture which almost all of us can quote, but which most of us do not seem to believe. It is this: "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days."

Think of what probably lay behind the old saying of Ecclesiastes. Picture the Nile River at flood, inundating the fields of an Egyptian farmer. It is time to sow his seed, but over his land lie the muddy waters of the swollen stream. Shall he wait until the waters recede? If so, he may delay till the time of sowing be passed. Finally, rather than wait too long, he rows out in his flat-bottomed boat and casts the seed upon the waters, Soons of it is carried away by the swirling currents, but some is deposited by the falling waters in the fertile silt left by the flood. Despite some loss, the ancient farmer thus found that it paid to cast bread upon the waters.

FARMERS' FORTITUDE

When we talk about sowing and reaping, we need to remember that we are dealing with a society that is fluid, and often even in flood. In working with human nature we must be even more patient than in handling inanimate things. I confess my admiration for the fortitude of the farmers in drought-stricken and flood-ravaged regions. But in sowing seeds in human nature we may have to wait more than seven years for a good crop.

I think of a mother who raised a crop of boys. When I first met her, she was worried about those lads. They did not seem to be showing any results of her good teaching. She thought her work had been in vain. That mother has passed away. But I wish she could see her sons now. (Perhaps she does.) They are showing the harvest of her sowing.

Recently the university students of Hungary have staged a revolt against the Soviet troops stationed in their country. Competent observers explain this uprising as the outcropping of family teaching, which the Russians never succeeded in uprooting.

Parents, take heart. "Cast your bread upon the waters and you will find it after many days."

Will Speak Here

The Reverend Harry S. Rodney, B.A., B.D., minister of Knox Presbyterian Church, St. Thomas, Ont., will be the guest minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here when the congregation will observe its one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary tomorrow. Mr. Rodney is widely known both in Canada and the United States as both pulpit preacher and after-dinner speaker. Special music has been prepared for the choir under the direction of Mr. Egerton Boyce and a ladies' trio from Wooler will assist in the service of praise. On Monday evening the congregation will meet for fellowship at 8 p.m. A program has been arranged including an address by Mr. Rodney, musical items, some historical sidelights of St. Andrew's and an opportunity for all to get better acquainted. All members, adherents, and friends of the congregation are invited.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

By WINIFRED WILSON

When crossing the Atlantic by ship, will the birdwatcher get any chance to engage in his hobby? Around migration time, birds that prefer to travel at least part of the way over water may be sighted for many miles off shore; now, when these have completed their journey south, the bird-minded person may still see 20 or more species.

Let us assume that you start from Montreal. After ice has closed navigation, some great birds backed and herring gulls winter beside the St. Lawrence. While vessels are still going in and out of the harbor, hundreds remain around. These are slate-blue and in the majority, but an occasional glaucous or iceland gull stays on.

We are apt to think that the same individuals follow a ship right across. It is more like a relay race. These river gulls turn back after a time, and are replaced by others. Numerous gulls live on the cliffs of our Maritime Provinces. [illegible] you part way over the Atlantic, then hail [illegible] vessel and return. However, your ship will not be without gulls very long, because those from the eastern shore come to meet it, and escort it to its destination.

Some littlewaes may follow you far out, even half way from their home on Sonaventure Island. Terns may enjoy the company, but no other species is likely to persist in remaining with the ship. From time to time, fulmars, little auks, turnstones, and sanderlings may be seen. These last two have a greater migration range than any other bird. Sometimes an exhausted travellet, which either has been blown off course, or has misjudged the distance, may take refuge on the ship. Not only sea and shore birds, but even land birds are frequently met when within 200 miles from either side.

In mid-ocean, where fewest birds are found, you may see some wilson's petrels, popularly known as Mother Carey's chickens, because these tiny, web-footed birds are at home in any part of any ocean except the North Pacific. No birdwatcher can mistake them if they are playing their unique and fairylike game of patting the surface of the water with both feet. Snow petrels of the Antarctic, always associated with ice, are said to aid mariners by warning them of ice conditions by their presence.

It is unusual on this imaginary trip across the North Atlantic to encounter a frigate-bird or even an albatross—but one never knows what species may turn up at any time or place, especially on these winter crossings, when storms are a hazard for ships and birds alike.

MARMORA W.I.

The November meeting of the Marmora branch of the W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Hogarth Sabine on Wednesday.

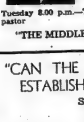
A minute's silence was observed. Mrs. R. Neal read "The Torch."

Current Events were given by Mrs. Tindale and the report of the 30th area convention held in Belleville in October, was read by Mrs. Louis Green. In February the W.I. will celebrate its 40th anniversary.

A make sale and afternoon tea was planned with a tentative date being December 15th, to be held at Mrs. Sabine's.

A report of the millinery project was given by Mrs. Hall in wearing their productions.

A contest on "Remembrance Day" was won by Mrs. F. N. Maretti.



Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Tindale with an exchange of gifts not exceeding 50 cents.

After meeting closed refreshments were served.

REMEMBER THE COMMUNITY CHEST

Red Cross offices in cities throughout Western Europe report an unprecedented response to appeals for help for the gallant Hungarians.

Much the same story is true on this side of the Atlantic.

It is well that it should be so. Here in Belleville, though, we hope that the needs of the Hungarians do not blind any of us to the necessity of beginning, but not ending, our charity at home.

The annual Community Chest appeal for funds is now in progress. A large sum, $35,000, is urgently needed to provide seven local organizations to carry on their good work in widely differing fields. These organizations are the Victorian Order of Nurses, the Children's Aid Society, the Boy Scouts, the St. John Ambulance, the Navy League, the Y.M.C.A., and the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Nobody is suggesting that the plight of 'Belleville residents is comparable to that of the Hungarians. But pain and neglect are just as hard for an individual to bear in Belleville as they are in Hungary, and suffering here is insignificant compared with that in Hungary, but there is a need which we have a particularly urgent duty to meet. These people are our neighbours, our fellow citizens. They may be completely free to join the rest of the free world in assisting the Hungarians. Let us make certain that what we give to the Hungarians is out of our own pockets and not out of a sum we have deducted from what we had originally planned to give to the Community Chest.

HEART RESEARCH POSES DIET CHANGE

As in many other branches of science, more notable progress has been achieved in medical research pertaining to arteries and the heart during the past decade than in the previous 50 years.

While effective means of combatting coronary heart disease, which causes more deaths than any other malady, have yet to be found, there is a glimmer of real hope in intensifying research efforts throughout the world.

For some time it has been known that an excess of cholesterol or fatty alcohol deposit on the walls of the arteries is characteristic of heart attack victims.

This coating of excess fat compounds on the walls of the arteries so restricts the flow of blood to the heart muscle that the heart is forced to work harder and pump faster to meet the insatiable demands for the life giving fluid from all parts of the body.

In determining the origin of this fatty deposit and the relative prevalence of coronary heart disease geographically, researchers were amazed to learn that the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and Great Britain, the countries with the highest standard of living and the largest intake of food including animal and dairy product fats, also have the highest rate of coronary attacks. Similarly, the Japs, Chinese and Italians who derive their fats mainly from fish, rice and wheat are almost immune to coronary trouble.

However, additional experiments noted in a recent issue of Time Magazine indicate that this black and white conclusion on the role of animal and vegetable fats may have to be considerably modified.

Dr. Jan Stewart of the University of Cape Town failed to find a satisfactory explanation of why Eskimos who consume vast quantities of animal fat and blubber (actually the world's lowest coronary incidence. The South African researcher then fed seal oil to local natives confirming his suspicion that certain types of animal oil were actually beneficial in reducing of the offending cholesterol content.

The Time medical columnist offers an explanation of this puzzling paradox. "Evidently the dividing line between fats that raise the blood cholesterol and fats that don't is not simply animal vs. vegetable. What is it? Fats are divided into two groups: most oils from vegetables, fish and marine mammals are 'unsaturated' i.e., their molecular structure is such that there is room for some extra hydrogen atoms. Most animal fats (including coconut and palm oils) are saturated. It is Bronte-Stewart's theory that saturated fats help to raise cholesterol levels while unsaturated fats help to lower them."

Dr. Norman Jolliffe, famed Manhattan nutritionist, so far agrees with the South African's conclusions as to recommend a diet reversal that the saturated fats which have increased by 41 per cent in the American diet of the past 30 years.

As a test of Dr. Jolliffe's reasoning, New York City Health Commissioner Dr. Leona Baumgartner has announced a full scale diet test of 5,000 volunteers over a five year period.

Major Canadian research on the affect of oils in the blood has been waged at Queen's University for the past three years and further information on the results achieved should be posted with interest.

It is possible that this most significant medical research will bring about a radical change in the diet of the "best fed" peoples on earth and the greatest increase of life expectancy heralded.

IT ISN'T SO EASY

It isn't so easy to smile
When troubles are heaped on your back,
When you are depressed all the while
And all of your future looks black.
It isn't so easy to grin
When you struggle along in despair,
But the things that are easy to win
Don't call for much fortitude rare.

And the things that are easy to do
Aren't worth very much after It's the man who can smile when he's blue
Who can grin when he's had a bad fall,
Who can give blow for blow with a smile
That the world cannot always keep down;
It's the difficult thing that's worth while.
That's why we don't value a frown.

It isn't so easy to smile
When troubles are coming your way,
But you'll find that the effort's worth while;
A stout heart will laugh at stormy
It isn't so easy to grin
When you find that your plans have gone wrong,
But the man who can do it will win
He cannot be hindered for long.

Softies Not Wanted

By Harry McNeill in the Windsor Star

One of the most namby-pamby ideas in a long time is that advanced by the Times of London, which suggests that prospective British emigrants to Canada be given an opportunity to take a look around before deciding whether or not to come for good. To this end, the London paper suggested last week by a U.K. travel agency that the currency restrictions be relaxed to make this possible.

There are many objections to this arrangement, but the principal one, to our mind, is that the kind of settler who would want to make sure he has a soft bed to lie on before leaving the security of his own surroundings is exactly the kind Canada doesn't want.

This consideration aside, what immigration or Canada would the prospective immigrant take back to England with him?

First he would see that everyone is apparently well fed, is clothed and housed and has been years to have plenty of money to spend.

On the streets he would see flashy automobiles crowded to capacity. Whether he would look at the average home and think it a palace in comparison to the average home in England, he would read in the newspapers of Canada's expanding economy, of her abundance of mineral riches and the wide open spaces crying out to be occupied.

He would read rags to riches stories that revolve around persons ing more and more commonplace. He would read of the big land grants who came over here in the years immediately preceding World War II and of the men to whom would probably tell him that when a wonderful country Canada is.

These impressions would be correct ones but they don't tell the story as it should be told.

They don't tell the story of how these things came about; how they needed courage and endurance, the ability to stick it out when the going was tough.

So, he would go back to England and tell all his friends of the Utopia just across the Atlantic, and there would be a great exodus from the old land to the sides to pack bags and be off to this modern Promised Land.

Among those who would arrive in Canada would be many who had the required determination to succeed; on the other hand there would be a predominant number of weaklings who would not only form a malcontent faction, but would drag down the progress Canada is making.

There is no room in this country for faint-hearted persons who must always play it safe — which is precisely what the "lookers around first" would represent.

Furthermore, what is England coming to when it can even be suggested there that a cautious peek be taken at unknown horizons before venturing toward them?

During the first six months of this year, 69,843 immigrants landed in Canada. Of these, more than one-third were from Britain. Ask them why they came and you will be surprised at the variety of soundly practical reasons you will get—yet all of them will be but a thin veneer overlaying the real reason, which is a hankering for adventure. A more prosaic type of adventure than other ages have offered, it is true, but the challenge is just as great and the demands on courage hardly less.

Many Canadians find it difficult to believe that there are immigrants who came here, not because Canada was their goal but because they wanted to be a part of a country where adventure was placed on self-reliance.

This is certainly true of the majority of British immigrants. In England today, an ability to stand in line, sheep-fashion, and submit to consumption the substacles thrown up by bureaucracy spells success, and that downright apathy, is a prime requirement.

The British immigrant who tells you he came here because Canada offers a better standard of living is just fooling you, and perhaps, ultimately, himself.

To the dickens with the look-around-fisters. Emigrating is no game for softies, even to a country as well-favored as Canada.

Let them stay home.

The fellow who would look before he leaps is the type who will want to peer timidly around St. Peter's pearly form to see what's on the other side of the Pearly Gates before striding through. And just as Canada has no use for him, neither will heaven.

Israel Trod There Before

Montreal Gazette

The Israeli troops which fought their way across the Sinai Peninsula were crossing ground where the Israelites had passed before. And their passage is recorded in the Old Testament.

Excavations in the last century have disclosed that the two principal highways of the ancient world were used as forced labor on Egyptian building projects lay west of the Gulf of Suez. One route was 30 miles southwest of Port Said; the other, 60 miles southeast. Both can be visited today by car; they lie 60 miles east of Cairo, near where the Israelis crossed the canal at Suez.

It was from these cities that Moses led the Israelites out of bondage after the plagues had forced unwilling Egyptian permission which Pharaoh promptly withdrew, understandably regretted.

But the east side of the Suez takes Egypt had built a fortified line, the Prince's Wall, to thwart the Israelites' shore-route toward Canaan which was then an Egyptian post. Instead, the Moses Exodus veered from Raamses down the west side of the present waterway to Pithom to avoid the wall, and it was near this point that the famous miraculous crossing was made.

The Israelites had arrived on the western rim of the Bitter Lakes region. Their travels took them down almost its entire length before they turned eastward to cross through the Promised Land. The migration included a stop on the Gulf of Aqaba, which was to become Ezion-Geber, beside Elath, a port and a source of iron and copper mining in the great days of David and Solomon.

Modern Israeli forces swept out of Aqaba this week to smash the Egyptian batteries which have made it impossible for them to use this traditional port.

Further north a second column moved across the waist of Sinai to Nitzana, Auja, where it was permitted in ancient times. The third column, near the Mediterranean coast, had the most hazardous/orden job of all.

Starting west, they swinging back northeast up the coast, this column captured the Gaza Strip, the coastal finger held by Egypt since 1949 and used as a base for suicide raids. The strip was once part of Philistia, the land of the Philistines, and its city, Gaza, is where Samson was blinded before brought down the temple upon a host of Israel's enemies.

Then the column turned west again, along the ancient coastal route which had been denied to Moses. Moses' goal was east Jordan, and by Israel and the Egyptians were pursuing him. These Israelis were moving west and the Egyptians retreated before them.

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

THE GREAT NOW

Sir William Osler, often referred to as the greatest physician in medical history, had much to say on problems of practical living. He was himself a man of personality, known and admired throughout the entire scientific world. He knew how to get the most out of everyday living, to be unspoiled by fame, and to carry on his work in a spirit of dedication.

Above everything, he urged people to live their lives day by day and not to be anxious about tomorrow. In his own experience he attributed his success to the fact that every day he settled down to the work before him, closed the door on yesterday, refused to open the door tomorrow, and did the best he could with the tasks that were before him.

"Life," he declared "is important when it is lived in the Great Now."

Of course there is a danger in living one's life wholly in the "Great Now." The pleasure that lives in the present, and so does the person who gives each moment to the promptings of his conscience. But Osler was right in his emphasis that we worry over yesterday, anxious foreboding over tomorrow, and the many distractions of today can ruin one's purposeful service. Assuming that a person is honest and sincerely wants to do right, then Osler's counsel about the "Great Now" is 100% sound and the only workable scheme for happy, purposeful living.

Jesus recognized this when he declared, "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

November 17, 1936

"Jimmy" Watson, a fair-haired youth of eleven summers, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Watson of Harold and a pupil of Miss G. L. Reynolds of School Section No. 8 Rawdon township with his well-nigh perfect enunciation in the delivery of his address on the occasion of His late Majesty King George V" won the Hastings County oratorical championship over nine other candidates for the honor in the annual Hastings County public speaking contest which was held at Shire Hall tuesday night and the chance to win further honors for himself and his county at the Inter-county oratorical contest which will be held in Toronto next February. Little Miss Irene Laster of School Section No. 4 Tyendinaga won the County Warden's gold medal for high girl. The presentation was held before a tribunal of judges, members of the Agricultural Board of the Hastings County and a representative gathering of county people.

They say there is gold in this country From our file copy at this time in 1896: "Ald. W. A. Hungerford has returned to the city after a visit to the gold region in the northern part of this country. He reports that the country there is full of prospectors and that a big boom will inevitably come next spring."

Some real old timers will remember the great ice cop of that year as this time in 1888: "An open air ice skating rink 100 feet by 50 feet is being built on the west corner of Queen and Albert Streets."

30 YEARS AGO

The sum of $549.00 was collected here on Poppy Fund tag day.

Miss Carole Stortz was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. I. Mulligan in this city.

Eggs were selling on the market today at 75 cents per dozen but dropped to 63 cents and 60 cents per dozen about noon. Butter was plentiful and sold at 31 cents and 33 cents per pound. Chickens sold at 50 cents to $1.25 each and ducks at $1.25 to $1.35 each. Potatoes sold at $2.. per bag.

Miss Minnie Kane of Montreal is visiting friends here.

The Rev. E. C. Currie of John Street Church is attending a meeting of Queen's University Alumni in Kingston.

The boys of Mr. R. J. Graham's bible class in John Street Church Sunday School are under a deep debt to the Rev. Wm. their teacher who generously sent them to the Boys' Work convention in Toronto last week at his own expense.

A party belonging to Mr. J. E. Sprague of Prince Edward County Church held an interesting tea meeting in the Roslin Presbyterian Church on Thursday. C. Mikel, K.C., of this city occupied the chair most acceptably.

Miss Margaret Burns of Roslin, N.Y., is visiting friends here.

Miss Bertha Lasler of Hartford, Conn., formerly of Belleville, is visiting friends here.

Dr. Coughlin, the new superintendent of the D. and D. institute, Trent Road, has received a hearty welcome from the staff and pupils at the institution.

Sealed tenders will be received up to five o'clock p.m. on November 20th for the work of remodeling the former Merchants Bank building which was presented to the city for use as a public library by Mr. H. Corby. Plans may be seen at the present public library.

Mr. Abel Pitney has accepted a position as an electrician in Napanee.

Miss Nellson, John Street, has returned home after spending several months in New York City.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Among the things that puzzle new Canadians is the absence of name on the map of Britain as well as in practically all European countries, a feature of the markets and provision shops in Britain at this season of all kinds of wild game—grouse, pheasants, duck, hare, rabbits as well as venison. True, it is a luxury item in all countries. But a very considerable percentage of all new Canadians come from a level of their former community that would afford that luxury such as game.

The reason, of course, that wild game is available in Britain and Europe is that there are large landowners who raise and protect game on their estates for sport, and who sell the product of their labor and their guests' hunting for an income that partly and often largely pays the staff of game keepers they employ. Indeed, on many British and continental estates, the income from the wild game they market is a highly important one. The late King Edward Seven was extremely miffed, on one occasion, when he was invited to shoot on a lordly estate, to discover that the host preferred not to. Scot, had shipped all his May-jesty's birds to market instead of to Sandringham.

In Canada, no vast estates were parcelled out in the early budding days of pioneer days, though valiant attempts were made in the early eighteen hundreds by certain gentlemen of large ideas to nobble off huge chunks of the public domain as replicas of the sort of lordships that existed in all the British colonizing experiments before like you and me put a stop to that. The game laws of the early dominion, and until actually the start of the century, marked the rise of industrialism, and the trade of slaughtering game, rendered the service to the professional business and the markets that the gamekeepers and landowners of the Old Country rendered so less profitably but more economically to their communities. So somewhere around the start of this century, the public became aware that the market hunters were relentlessly destroying the wild game, making no effort, as did the landowners of Britain and Europe, to conserve it, crop it, employ it as a renewable source of income.

So the fall on market hunting. Only certain species, in limited seasons, and with restricted bags, were permitted to shoot wild game by the public domain, and to put the market hunters right out of business. The law forbade the sale of any game.

Our new Canadians with a taste for game must learn to hunt their own.

Personal Health Talks

By DR. WM. BRADY

Keep Your Mouth Clean

A dentist of the nineteenth century school assured me that real casual filling is out of the question in the environment of the ordinary dentist's office because it is practically impossible to work under aseptic conditions in the office, and such work demands . . .

At the time I had and still have a tooth which for years has functioned perfectly—thanks to root canal filling by an ordinary dentist. The old-timer had not had the advantage of proper training in aseptic technique, that's all. A physician, surgeon, dentist, nurse who has had proper training in asepis (the word means free from infection, everything sterile) can apply the technique successfully under most conditions, in medicine, surgery, dentistry or obstetrics.

Asepsis means absolute cleanliness and does not mean lavish use of antiseptic or germicidal agents. The nineteenth century nurse who loves to tincture the environment with powerful odors and impregnate the air is reprehensible where asepsis is required.

Notwithstanding occasional two-bit comments on the "filthy" condition of the mouth of a person who does not brush his teeth, I'm sure just rinsing the mouth after eating or at least at bedtime with soap and water (ordinary toilet soap) or just plain water keeps the mouth and teeth as clean as brushing teeth and using any kind of germ-killer does—and I'm ready to submit my experience to any real challenge with that of any group of professional people of my age, by recognized experts.

Anyone old enough to wash behind the ears should know that you can't save teeth by brushing 'em with the latest dentifrice or with anything else. That's monkey business prevented tooth decay, the American Dental Association people should have the best teeth in the world, for they are the best customers for the vendors of brushes and glorified soap. The shameful truth is that Americas and English teeth are the worst in the world. Yet a hundred million stinzyklammers . . .

If there were a grain of sense in it, I, who place the highest value on a sound tooth or a functional denture, would be installed in its place, would brush my teeth right down to the gum line after each meal and at bedtime, but life is short, the bowling greens are in full operation and so are my forty pipes. Because, my mouth is clean, and I don't relish the thought of putting a used toothbrush in it.

For cleaning up a mouth in preparation for surgery, or a mouth containing a decayed tooth or several bad teeth or a mouth showing signs of pyorrhea, I'd use Talbot's Solution (Glycerite of Iodine and Zinc Chloride, N.F.) as recommended, I think, to any antibiotic, bacteriostatic, antiseptic, or germicidal intended since carbolic acid and iodoform were discarded.

Dr. Talbot recommended the regular painting of the teeth, gums and adjacent mucous membranes with his solution containing zinc-iodide glycerine water solution once a week prevented many tuberculous infections in tuberculous children. I know of no clinical test of the efficacy of this.

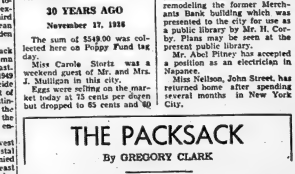
For what the nineteenth century dentists were fond of calling "pink and pinkish" inflammation of the structural tissue of the gums, I'd paint on the mild Talbot's solution a half-dozen times at intervals of from one to two hours and I'd be quite beneficial. Mop gums, teeth and mucous membranes with the solution on cotton wrapped on toothpick or similar wooden applicator. Rinse lips and cheeks and contact with teeth until the liquid dries. Put the remainder on at bedtime to clean deeply.

If your druggist boggles at your request for Talbot's solution, you might wangle a prescription from a physician or a dentist if you can find one who thinks you're intelligent enough to handle such strong medicine. If not, you can hardly ask me, a stranger, to do so.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

BE KIND



I was reading of the example of a man that a friend of mine was writing about, and in that article he said: "He was the kindest man I ever met." What a wonderful thing to have any man—in these days when the love of money takes precedence over the homely virtues, that are the backbone of all worth, just the art of being kind becomes quite passed him by, but not the Good Samaritan. He had time for the sick and stricken and took him to an inn and paid for his temporary needs. That was kindness personified.

We have so many opportunities to show our kindness to others, but let most of them pass without recording a kindness that will carry us to higher ground and a personal satisfaction like to bring to those satisfactions. You never lose by going out of your way to do a kindness for someone else.

Winnie Had Word for It

St. Thomas Times-Journal

During the heated debate on the Suez question in the British House of Commons a Labor Member asked what would be the Parliamentary expression if he comes closest to the meaning of the word liar. To use that simple, four-letter word is banned by the rules of the House, but that is no doubt what the Labor Member wished to call the Prime Minister, Mr. Churchill, with his great command of language, surmounted that difficulty many years ago in about it. We can forgive so much in other people so long as they are kind.

The art of kindness, in its highest, is most eloquently painted in the story of the Good Samaritan, as told in the Bible. Here was a man who had apparently fallen among thieves, was robbed, and left injured by the roadside. Most people passed him by, but not the Good Samaritan. He had time for the sick and stricken and took him to an inn and paid for his temporary needs. That was kindness personified.

We have so many opportunities to show our kindness to others, but let most of them pass without recording a kindness that will carry us to higher ground and a personal satisfaction like to bring to those satisfactions. You never lose by going out of your way to do a kindness for someone else.

The Face of The Stamp

World's Greatest Discoverer

By NICHOLAS MIKA

On the 12th of October every year all America honors the man who discovered the New World more than four hundred and sixty years ago.

Millions of words have been written about this man and over a hundred monuments have been erected in his honor. His portrait appears on thousands of stamps issued by eighteen different countries.

This famous man whose name is known today to every child in the world, died in a shabby room. The only decoration of his room was a few maps he had drawn himself and a heavy chain on the wall in which he had been chained as a prisoner, before he was released.

He had been promised the title of an admiral of the ocean and viceroy of India. But it remained only a promise. The Vice-Royalty which he discovered was not even named after him but after an almost unknown cartographer, Amerigo Vespucci.

Actually, he was not the first man who discovered the new continent. History tells that many centuries before him Norsemen visited the shores of America without realizing what a magnificent discovery they had made. The vast continent was unclaimed and forgotten until that day in 1492 when the Spanish flag was anchored in San Salvador in the Bahamas. The names of the boats were, Santa Maria, Nina and Pinta. The commander of this little fleet was an Italian sailor.

As a small boy he had to help his father at the weaving loom. He lived in the seaport of Genoa, an exciting place for a boy with a lively imagination. At night he would sneak out and run to the harbor where he could watch the boats unload and listen to the fantastic tales of the sailors. The more fascinating stories he heard the more he hated the weaving loom. And pretty soon he made up his mind that he would earn his living as an apprentice of his father's workshop and sail into the world.

READ EXCITING STORIES

One day a book by the famous adventurer Marco Polo fell into his hands. Reading the exciting stories about far-off worlds, a strange idea was born in the boy's mind. He said to himself: The world must be round! And what more he insisted that if he would sail westward, he would eventually reach the East, and if he kept on going he would come back to the point he started from. Learned men and seafaring people shook their heads. How could a normal man have such a crazy perception. But he was convinced that this way he could reach India and also discover new lands.

For seventeen years he wandered from his native Italy to Portugal, France and Spain. Seventeen years he kept looking in vain for some one who would finance his journey. Twice he succeeded to have an audience with Queen Isabella of Spain and twice his plans were rejected. Penniless, and disappointed he prepared to leave Spain to find another country where he would believe him and help him to fulfill his destiny. On the border between Spain and France messengers from the Queen reached him in time to tell him that his wish was granted. The Queen put three ships at his disposal, made him the commander and ordered him to sail. And how? He had no trouble. He tried to live did-not want to go, not even for the most tempting wages. The fantastic idea of voyage into the unknown scared them. So instead of having an experienced crew of regular sailors, he had to pick his men among convicts and vagabonds going from one jail to another promising them freedom if they would sail with him. The rest was made up of drunkards who were forced right from the street to go on board.

THREE-MONTH TRIP

For three months they sailed westward seeing nothing but the grey sky and endless water. Then one day the crew mutinied and refused to go on. He pleaded with the men to keep on sailing westward for a few more days. When the time had passed and they still did not see land, they threatened to kill him. He promised by his life to sail back if they would hold out one more day. And this one day decided the most important even in history. This day was the birthday of the New World. This was his greatest triumph. Loaded with gold and spices the ships sailed by six husky Indians he sailed home. In Barcelona the church bell rang. The King and Queen welcomed him. After the celebrations and a short rest he set out on a second voyage to discover the South American mainland and to explore the Gulf of Mexico.

But soon after his victory bitter disappointment followed. The first settlers were killed by Indians and he himself was accused of being unfaithful to Spain. He was arrested, put in chains and sent back across the ocean as a prisoner. From this defeat he did not rise again. Envy and jealousy of others had broken his courage. But though he died without honor, today he is honored by millions as one of the world's most famous men, as discoverer of America, Christopher Columbus.

Christopher Columbus appeared on Spanish stamps in 1930.

Complete Good Tune-up Restores Engine Rhythm

By EUGENE MILMOE

A good engine tune-up usually works wonders when car performance begins slipping below par. Harder starting, loss of pep and more frequent trips to the gas pump become inevitable if this service is neglected.

It's probably true the average driver will not overlook regular inspection of spark plugs, ignition points and carburetor adjustments: A complete tune-up goes further than this.

Your car could be acting up because of a clogged air cleaner, a plugged manifold heat valve, an accelerating pump that isn't operating properly or a defective choke. Faulty distributor operation is another common troublemaker to keep in check.

Be sure ignition cables, coil, fuel pump, thermostat and throttle linkage are also on the inspection schedule. And, of course, don't overlook the job finished until ignition timing is doublechecked.

P.O. asks: "Which will cause low oil pressure—worn main bearings or worn rod bearings?"

(A) Either can; and so will worn crankshaft bearings.

From G.M.: "A few months ago I bought a 1955 used sedan and after the first two weeks, I put in a new battery. Since then, I have found it necessary to have this new battery recharged several times and it appears to be losing all its life. Do you think a new generator is the cure for this constant battery failure?"

(A) Battery failure may be completely innocent . . . it's the regulator that is often the real trouble-maker. As a matter of fact, a faulty regulator can be responsible for both battery and generator woes.

R.C. writes: "My 1954 engine is beginning to burn a little more oil than usual. One garage checked the rings with a compression and oil test and gave them a clean bill of health but said the valves were to blame. Not satisfied, I went to a new service station and the neighborhood. They took a compression reading and said that the valves seem to be OK. In both cases, the highest cylinder reading was about nine pounds more than the lowest. Who is right about the valves?"

(A) According to the readings, the difference is certainly not enough to indicate valve trouble. A ten-pound variation is often found even in factory-new engines. However, if you wish, your mechanic can doublecheck the valves with a vacuum gauge test.

From J.C.: "I have a 1956 car that performs poorly. The motor idles badly and I blame the carburetor. It performs best when the idle mixture screw on the carburetor is turned in completely, which seems strange to me. I've had it back to my dealer twice with no better results or explanation. My gas mileage is poor and at the end of the exhaust pipe is always damp. Can you explain?"

(A) Apparently fuel mixture is too rich, and a thorough checkup of carburetor and automatic choke adjustments should be made. The fuel pump may also be considered a suspect, although it's more or less unusual to find too much pump pressure.

The Week's News

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

IKE'S STAND

With the U.S. presidential election out of the way, the world looked to Washington for some declaration of American policy in the Middle East crisis.

President Eisenhower gave the answer. It was a cautious answer. He said the U.S. would oppose through the UN any Russian intervention. The U.S. would take no unilateral military action. He emphasized the UN has more effective ways of opposing aggression than the passing of resolutions.

CANADIAN CONTINGENT

Canada's contribution to the UN emergency force is ready to embark. The 1st Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles, completed its movement from Calgary to Halifax. With auxiliary units, the battalion will move to the Middle East aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent, or by airlift should a hurry-up call be received.

Prime Minister St. Laurent cautioned that the Canadian troops have not yet been committed to the UN. But he meant they are still under full-Canadian control and that the advance group already in Egypt is not yet part of the UN force.

HUNGARIANS DEFIANT

The military end of the Hungarian insurrection seemed to be ended—for now anyway. But a political tug-of-war continued, and workers kept life practically at a standstill by staying away from their jobs.

A spirit of patriotic defiance made it tough for the Russian-backed Kadar regime. Kadar tried to strengthen his position by getting Imre Nagy back into the government.

Nagy, in refuge at the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest, would have none of it. He is the so-called Titoist premier under whom the uprising nearly succeeded. Then the Russians doublecrossed him, installed the puppet Kadar and with overwhelming military force crushed the rebellion.

EDEN SUPPORTED

The volume of criticism and abuse that descended on the head of Sir Anthony Eden after the British - French action against Egypt was without precedent in Britain. Many thought it was the finish of Eden.

This week even the Labor opposition, Britain's loyalist opposition, has come round to Sir Anthony's support. And in a by-election at Chester, the Conservatives won. The government majority was lower but that is normal in by elections.

BIG QUESTION MARK

The first contingents of the UN emergency force—Danes, Norwegians and Colombians in bright blue helmets and wearing UN armbands—reached Egypt. Dag Hammarskjold, secretary - general of the UN, flew into Cairo to confer with President Nasser.

Presumably Hammarskjold is tackling personally the big question mark of the situation: How to reconcile the seemingly irreconcilable positions of Egypt on one hand and of the French-British-Allies, on the other.

Nasser sees the UN force as supervising the British-French withdrawal from the canal zone, then handing out of Egypt to the Egyptian-Israeli armistice lines and leaving the canal in Egypt's hands. Britain and France insist the UN force must take over the canal zone until its future as an international waterway can be worked out.

Duke Shoots First Crocodile

DARWIN, Australia (AP) — The Duke of Edinburgh shot his first crocodile today—smack between the eyes as it wallowed in Darwin harbor.

It was the only crocodile bagged in a night hunt in which four brothers—Michael, Nigel, George and Jack Harries—took the duke to the hunting ground in a Royal Australian Air Force crash boat. The brothers are former crocodile hunting companions of the eastern territory.

The duke is on his way to Melbourne to open the Olympic Game next Thursday.

Special Tax Could Net Ontario Millions

TORONTO (CP) — A special truck tax based on weight and distance travelled could net Ontario about $12,000,000 a year, George Gathercole, deputy minister of Ontario's economics department, said Thursday.

He told the legislature's select committee on toll roads that the estimate was based on rates now in use in the State of Oregon, which has led in the United States in imposing the weight-distance tax.

He said Oregon has been using that special tax for trucks for more than 20 years, and has found it more equitable than flat-rate taxes.

Truckers who use heavier loads or travel farther pay more than other users under the plan.

The estimate for Ontario's revenue was based on "all sorts of assumptions and untried hypotheses." The gross revenue would be about $13,000,000, but some taxes now paid by truckers would have to be readjusted so they would not be overtaxed.

More Russians Leave Egypt

ROME (AP)—A second large group of Soviet and Eastern European military and arms experts passed through Rome Friday on the way home from Egypt.

It was a hush-hush movement. The 34 Soviet technicians did not leave the airport during their stopover and Soviet embassy officials declined comment.

Sources close to the Italian defence ministry said they learned that the first group of more than 30 passed through Rome last weekend.

The technicians are believed by Italian officials to be those who went to Egypt over a year ago to teach Egyptians how to use and maintain Communist tanks, planes and guns sent to Egypt.

WARNED OF RATIONING

PARIS (AP)—The French government warned motorists today to cut down on gasoline or have it rationed. French refineries are cutting deliveries 20 per cent because of the Suez conflict. In Bern, the Swiss government also warned private motorists to cut their use of gasoline to a minimum.

Uneven Progress In Auto Output

DETROIT (AP)—Ward's automotive reports said today that slow production progress in some automobile plants is being matched by near-peak assemblies at others.

This, it added, will bring an estimated 145,609 car assemblies this week in U.S. factories, compared with 132,067 last week.

Truck output this week is placed at 2,138 units against 21,190 last week.

In Canada car output will come to 7,660 units, plus 2,103 trucks. Last week Canadian plants built 7,345 cars and 1,669 trucks. In the corresponding 1955 week 6,139 cars and 822 trucks were completed.

New Method of Keeping Apples Called Controlled Atmosphere

TRENTON. (Special.)— A long term "late market" prices. In low cement block building on the late J. Alfred Crews' farm, a half mile west of Trenton has the outward appearance of a "hush-hush" project.

The atmosphere as you approach the place prompts a feeling of mystery perhaps because the recently constructed premises situated in the middle of a field that was once a highly productive fruit orchard is almost sheltered from view on all sides by trees and hedgerows.

In reality however a visitor is about to see what may be the greatest boon to the local apple farmer since the commercial cold storage was first made available to the growers in this locale in the late 20's.

The new method of keeping apples after harvesting is called controlled atmosphere storage and fruit people predict that ten years from now commercial growers will store almost all their apples for late markets in CA storages.

Central Cold Storage Co-operative Limited headed by Colin Creen, R.R. 1, Trenton, built the CA storage here for public use. It cost 30 per cent more for construction than the regular storage. The present building provides storage space for 21,000 bushels.

The CA storage has been common in England for 15 or 20 years. The method was brought to the States about ten years ago and since has been developed and perfected. The equipment is all automatic except for testing of the atmosphere inside the rooms twice daily.

LIVING RATE SLOWS DOWN

The CA storage involves storing fruit in refrigerated, earthtight rooms under low oxygen and high carbon dioxide atmospheres. Under these conditions the respiration rate or living rate of the apples is slowed down allowing them to live longer.

Last year CA storages in the New York and New England states permitted growers to hold their apples in good condition until April, May and June when the fruit commanded good prem-

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Poste, 37 Hamilton Road, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Frances Mary, to Harold Earle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maracle of Shannonville, Ontario. Marriage to take place in All Saints' church, Shannonville, on Saturday, December 1st, at 2 p.m.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. Versailles Ambrose McMurray of Gilmour, Ontario, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kayla Jean, to John McMurray, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McMurray, Belfast, Northern Ireland. The marriage will take place on December 15, at 7:30 o'clock in Gilmour United church.

Mr. Charles Doolittle, 17 Octavia Street, is a patient in Kingston General Hospital.

Christians' Duty To Others Topic At Holloway W.A.

The ladies of Holloway Street United church met recently and election held their November meeting in the church parlors with the president, Mrs. Ross, presiding, who offered prayer and read a lovely poem, "Heart Gardens."

"Our hearts are as gardens, where thought-flowers grow,
The thoughts that we think, are the seeds that we sow,
Every kind loving thought, bears a kind flower,
But the thoughts that are selfish, bear no fruit or bower.
We must watch what we think, every minute each day,
And pull out the weed-thoughts and throw them away,
And plant loving flower-thoughts, so think in the rows
That there will not be room, for the weed-thoughts to grow."

The business period consisted of reports from the various secretaries: Mrs. Bowerman gave a full report of the bazaar and finances to date. It was decided to use the proceeds of the bazaar on the new chancel. Thank-you notes are to be sent to the many organizations that each helped to make the bazaar a success.

Mrs. Symons gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Canning sent cheques, letters for flowers and cards received during illness or bereavement.

An invitation was accepted to attend Wesley bazaar, Nov. 20. The December meeting is to be a turkey dinner. Miss Tuite has kindly consented to give a Christmas story.

The worship service was conducted by the W.A. president, Mrs. Wilson gave the Scripture lesson, Romans 12.

Mrs. Welburn gave the meditation basing her thoughts on "Fellowship."

"There is the joy of Christian fellowship, the fellowship in sharing a Christian. The church is Christ's organization on earth where we meet God; learn His word and fellowship with other Christians. Our Christian fellowship is the busy Christian. We need each other and we have a duty and we have a responsibility toward each other. The road is less lonely when shared with others who are seeking the same destination. It is within the church that this fellowship should be found. In Romans 12 Paul speaks of us as having gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us.

USE GOD'S GIFTS

"We are coming to the end of another year, officers will be needed to carry on the various organizations. Let us use our gifts which God has given us to His glory and the furtherance of His Kingdom, and enjoy our Christian fellowship. Peace with God and the fellowship and fellowman is more to be desired than anything the world has to offer."

Mrs. T. A. Townsend favored with a lovely solo, "Life is a Weaving," with Mrs. Hubbs as accompanist.

Rev. S. E. Larman introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Ray Rowley of Tabernacle church, chairman of the Belleville Presbytery. Mr. Rowley spoke of women who are not in the church; not working in church organizations. A great many are outside the church, some working some in other and various other organizations. But only the church can give that living peace.

"God is a missionary God; God of every race, color or creed. We are a middle class church. The Master went out in the byways and highways among the people.

"GO TE"

"Peter was a fisherman. The command was to go into all the world and preach to every creature. We have to think of a world-wide church and we a part of that fellowship. We have to travel to use the power we have to draw from God. We have a great responsibility to our fellowmen and in our union as we have wonderful resources. We need to open our doors to the millions.

St. Michael's Subdivision Sponsors Successful Yuletide Bazaar

Tall, dark evergreens with glowing lights in red, green, yellow and blue sentinelled the entrance to the spacious auditorium of St. Michael's Academy yesterday afternoon for the Christmas bazaar and tea held under the auspices of St. Michael's Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League of Canada.

Through this open portal a vista of softly glowing lights, stately, red cedars, and gaily decked booths in red and green and lovely lace baskets of poinsettias mingled with Scotch firs could be seen lining the stage; adorning the entrance and exit to the tea room and highlighting the four, large windows to the east.

Welcoming the guests into this atmosphere of Yuletide festivity were the convenors, Mrs. Ben E. Burley, president of the League, and Mrs. Thomas Hurley.

ATTRACTIVE TEA ROOM

The tea room, with its white fireplace and Christmas greens and glistening globes of crimson, gold, blue and green was attractively arranged with white-covered quartet tables, each with its silver bride; fluted with Scotch pine needles centred by a single, red poinsettia bloom and a red taper table, with its white damask was appointed with a lovely and unusual grouping of white and white chrysanthemums mingled with British Columbia autumn leaf sprays and asparagus fern in triple effect, the outside clusters rising from a central base and a delicate bamboo combination with four white tapers, two in the centre and two in white. Gleaming silver candelabra completed the lovely arrangement.

Those who presided during the afternoon were the past presidents of the C.W.L. and included: Mrs. A. E. Bush, Mrs. M. F. Butler; Mrs. D. V. Doyle and Miss Kate Dolan; Mrs. J. E. Boyd and Mrs. Thomas Hurley.

Inviting to the tea room: Mrs. E. G. Bush, Mrs. W. A. Sheridan, Mrs. H. Barrett; while Mrs. J. Savage was in charge of the tea room tickets.

SERVING

Serving were served: Merdames R. Collins, F. Robinson, D. Black, Wilcox, Doyle, J. Sheridan, Moran, L. Belanger, C. Casey, S. Kvarda, W. Woolford, A. Clouthier, A. Black, C. Hutchison, Cleary, J. Chapiecki, M. Bradden, Miss Anne Lafferty, and Miss Ann Sommerville.

The tea arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Hospitality Committee of the League which included, Mrs. Albert Bowerman, Mrs. J. J. Trudeau, Mrs. Sam P. Domenico, Mrs. R. P. Madden, Miss Mary McLellan and Mrs. George O'Brien.

Replenishing the well-attempted trays of sandwiches and dainty cakes, were, Mrs. J. Boyle, Mrs. H. Trepanier, Mrs. M. Bowerman, H. Trepanier, Mrs. M. Robertson, Mrs. T. Jones, Mrs. Albert Bowerman, Mrs. R. McDougall was busy making tea, while Mrs. Joseph Lanyar was in charge of the china and silver.

Tripping around were the little Brownies, cute in their brown uniforms, and carrying baskets of prettily wrapped surprise packages. These little Brownies were from the Academy, and included: Misses Shawn Doyle, Michelle McFadden, Kathleen Cleary, Maureen Collins, Catherine Glat and Joe-Anne Goyer.

WELCOMING BOARD

The pretty booths, with their Yuletide trimmings, were arranged along the southern portion of the auditorium, and the various drawing cards at strategic points and there were: The welcoming cards' included a delicious assortment of candy nicely boxed, which went to the holder of the lucky ticket, Mrs. J. R. Rashotte, city; a lovely nightgown in mauve net with waistband of colorful smocking, went to Mrs. A. McFall; a pretty crocheted afghan in colorful blocks, to Mrs. Hanley of Read, Ont.; the cosy bassock, to Mrs. G. Coutoure, city; the child's dress, to Mrs. E. Finlay, and the delicious angel cake with peaks of pink frosting, donated by Mrs. Fred Robinson, to Mrs. Richard Rashotte; the $100 bond to D. Dyden of 78 Cedar street, convenor of this was Mrs. J. E. Boyd, assisted by Mrs. R. Ackerman. The Black Diamond dress, convened by Mrs. W. Davidson and Mrs. D. Beaton, was won by Mrs. S. E. Brown, Dufferin Ave.; the lovely doll-bride and her dowery of $10, convened by Mrs. W. A. Graham, assisted by Mrs. D. Green and Mrs. C. Lapp, the cake won by Baby Lloyd of Foster Avenue, who was just one day old. The doll bed was donated by Miss Anna Mulligan and the stocking with three-tier Christmas cake, made by Mrs. M. J. (Theda) Lynch and convened by Miss A. Doyle, went to Mrs. J. Lone Island Chatham Street.

Directly in the centre of the auditorium was the magazine

"We wish every one would do something to feed the hungry of our world. How many have said to some one in the last couple of weeks, 'I know Christ is my Saviour. Can I help you to know Him?' Practise the presence of Christ and we will come to know Him."

Mr. Rowley closed with prayer.

A social half hour was enjoyed.

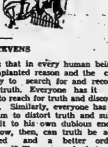
This --- and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

Saturday it has come to be a custom to offer a weekend thought. This idea is neither original nor new but has been the cause of some favorable comment. Today we want to respect the words of Julie d'Etournelles. She is the chairman of the committee of correspondence, a woman's organization in New York. She has addressed women leaders from the Far East who were in New York by request to attend a workshop. During these days, when the seeds of fear are being sown, we are justified in wondering if there are any gardeners working with the hoes of peace to weed out prejudice and hatred.

"May we take a look at those two tremendous words, respectability and freedom? Their meaning is essentially why we are here; their significance will occupy us for many hours to come, and be revealed to us in many ways as yet unperceived.

"One of the definitions given in the dictionary for the word responsibility is—'able to respond to an answer for one's conduct.' And, in defining freedom the dictionary says it is—'the power of acting without restraint or control from other persons or circumstances.'



"We will grapple with that definition in future gatherings. I would like to suggest to you some of the elements which are essential to the existence of freedom and its nourishment.

"Freedom is, basically, a personal thing. It is what is in the minds and hearts of millions of people. But, as someone has said, it cannot endure without, first, knowledge—without, as the acquiring mind which is constantly re-learning the old and discovering the new.

"Second, it must be nourished by faith. Freedom, by its very nature, by its definition as above is given the capacity to choose for oneself, asserts the worth of the individual. The basis for this is simply the belief—the faith—the man is the child of God, that he holds within himself some portion of divinity.

"Freedom can survive only in peace. If the atom is exploded in anger, freedom is no longer a reality.

"If freedom, then, asserts the worth of the individual it also holds that in every human being is implanted reason and the capacity for truth, for love and recognize truth. Everyone has it in him to reach for truth and discover it. Similarly, everyone has it in him to distort truth and substitute in his own dubious ends.

"How, then, can truth be advanced and a better order established? Surely not that no man should be refused his part in the search, because, if the search is honest, the fuller, better answer will come.

"Such a process implies criticism. Criticism is the method by which existing ideas and institutions are submitted to the test of principles, ideals and possibilities. But the function of criticism in the search for truth can be realized only if its purpose is honest. Criticism at its best is a testament of power degenerates into the technique of deceit and smear. And freedom has never been served by slander or by silence.

"In this workshop let us encourage the attitude of questioning. But the function of criticism upon respect for other people's rightful approach to the criticism must have an atmosphere where mutual trust is strong. Tolerance and sympathy come in here as a form. Tolerance may be a dull word, but it makes use of your imagination, for it means you put yourself in another's place. It is not weakness, because putting up with people is not the same as giving in to them. We think it is better to discuss a question without settling it than to settle it without discussing it.

"We are grateful to each of you for coming this great distance to join us in this search for peace, in this testament of mutual trust, in this faith in the worth of the individual and in his new and glorious sense of the responsibilities of freedom.

"May we form a small band of the courageous, as we work together to search out our role in achieving our common goal—a world of justice, a peace and freedom.

T & T has not done this before. Julie d'Etournelles, speaking before her friends from the East, offers so much, so simply, so profoundly, we discussed our regular column to pass on her thoughts for the critical weekend. There is something very deeply heart warming to know that there does exist little bands like this workshop, women busy with their hoes, striving against terrific odds to destroy the weeds.

C.A.S. Will Extend Services To Tyendinaga Reserve

The regular meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held on Thursday, Mr. C. B. Morgan, the president of the board, presided. In reporting on the work done by the society during the month of October, Mr. Arrow, the local director, said that there was again a decided increase in the children in care and that at the present time Mrs. J. Daley, assisted by Mrs. N. McCallum, Mrs. J. Black, Mrs. G. Coutoure and Mrs. J. Bennett.

The treasurer for the afternoon was Mrs. J. Kroninak, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Soden.

Mrs. H. F. Robinson and Mrs. William Hunter were appointed secretary transportation of the supplies, and Mrs. R. Slavin, Mrs. J. Hurley and Miss Arlene Cox assisted in handling the supplies as they were received.

A most attractive and successful bazaar tea, nicely convened by Mrs. Ben E. Burley and Mrs. Thomas J. Flurry, with convenors in charge of the various booths, Mrs. Lafferty for the lovely decorations, and appreciation to the generous donors; also to those who built the booths, Messrs. T. J. Flurry, S. P. Domenico, B. E. Burley, Michael Cowan, Keith Bly and Dale Burley.

St. Joseph's CWL Holds Euchre

Under the auspices of St. Joseph's C.W.L. another very enjoyable euchre party was held in the parish hall on Thursday evening. There were 15 tables of euchre in play. Mrs. T. Hopkins and Mrs. Lone Island

Winners were, ladies' 1st, Mrs. R. J. Black, 2nd, Mrs. B. Mowery; consolation, Mrs. L. Allore. Men's 1st, E. Dafoe; 2nd, G. McWilliams, consolation, W. Lone Island winner was E. Dafoe. Mrs. S. Haley won the door prize. Mrs. J. Anton convened the raffle on a Christmas pudding which was won by Mrs. St. Denis.

Refreshments were served by the convenors, Mrs. V. Muldoon, assisted by Mrs. M. Doran, Mrs. L. Barton, Mrs. R. O'Neill, Mrs. L. Goyer and Mrs. W. Sweet.

Disneyland Park Makes Trip To Los Angeles Worthwhile

ANAHEIM, Calif.—One of the few failures of American imagination has been in the amusement park.

You become aware of this if, like us, you travel with children and stop at roadside places in hopes of relaxing for a few hours long hours in the car. A monotonous sameness of broken-down carrousels, dinky trains and rattly cars going around in circles seldom does the trick.

It's taken the genius of Walt Disney to rescue his country from this ignominy. In addition to being probably the country's greatest showman he is also, in all likelihood, the only one in the group who really knows how to appeal to children.

Like Howard Hughes and a few other men, everything he touches turns to gold. His enormous mouse Mickey Mouse, put him on an hourly pay TV station with a collection of old cartoons and kid talent, and millions of children sit entranced before the screen for hours on end.

And now it's Disneyland, a 160-acre miniature wonderland. Part of which is to the typical amusement park just about what the Hawaiian Islands are to Coney Island. It makes a trip to Los Angeles worth the price for the whole family—children, whatever the disappointments of smog, traffic and the rest.

FOUR FICTIONAL WORLDS

With the characteristic Disney flair for cashing in on his own creations, he has divided the park into the four fictional Disney worlds that have become familiar: bold words—Adventureland, Frontierland, Fantasyland and Tomorrowland. Each has an assortment of carnival rides and a decor full of the forms and colors of Walt Disney's movies and television shows. The effect is terrific. Each area is striven for —literally bringing to life for children a wonderland that has hitherto existed only in pictures and words. It's unlike anything we've seen and we were as excited as to as kids and, in short, it's fascinating.

With everything scaled down to five-eighths of life size, there is a peace theater showing the "Mickey Mouse Club" TV routine in three dimensions and color, the only amusement of any kind ever to hold our 2½ and 4-year-old immobile for as long as an hour. Another ride through the eerie forest in which Snow White got lost; a trip on an honest-to-goodness steamboat river boat, the only one built in the last 30 years; a 20-minute like swing on cables over the park; a train ride around the park on a bind an authentic 19th-century lo

By MRS. BEECKMAN

WEDDING CAKE FOR POSTPONED RECEPTION

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

For over two years my brother has been on a special assignment with our Service in Germany, and several months ago married an American girl also employed there. Now he has written us that they will be returning soon. Mother and I would like to plan to have a party for them very soon after their return, a combination reception and "Welcome Home" party. We thought it would be a good idea to plan this occasion as nearly as possible along the lines of the wedding reception they did not have after their marriage. I'd like even to have a handsome wedding cake for them to cut, but Mother insists this is not proper after the day of the wedding. What's your advice, Mrs. Beeckman? — Sister

No reason at all why you should not have a wedding cake, as handsome a cake as you wish. The wedding cake is a decorative and festive item . . . has no significance that must be limited to the wedding day.) Make this cake a gala feature . . . the right moment, have all the guests gather around the place where the wedding cake is, to watch the bride cut the first slice of the cake the bridegroom's right hand over her right hand) and share it with her bridegroom. And have somebody good at cheer-leading lead the guests in singing "Here Comes the Cake!" A memory-making moment for the bride and groom. And, of course, plan to have toasts also.

QUESTIONS ABOUT CHRISTENINGS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Please answer for me several questions concerning christening plans.

1. We have been told that the godmother and the best man are not expected to be asked to be godparents for the first child. Is this really so?

2. Should the baby's godfather or the father give the christening fee to the minister?

3. Is it necessary for the baby's parents to give some kind of party at their home after the christening in church?

1. No. Occasionally this is the plan, but it is not to be taken for granted.

2. It is the responsibility of the child's father to give this contribution to the minister.

3. Very often the parents do give a simple, dainty party at their home after the church christening, but this is not at all a "must" and depends on convenience.

FAMILY PROCEDURE BETWEEN ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Since our daughter's fiance's home is in a distant state, she has never met his family. We have no. When they became engaged, his mother wrote a very lovely letter to my daughter, telling her they were so happy about the engagement, and "welcoming" her into their family. She also wrote my husband and me a very friendly letter. My daughter has written her to thank her for her loving letter, and I have written to thank her for the letter from her family to ours. Since then, we have not corresponded. Now that the plans for the wedding are being made, what should be "going on" between the two families? Also, when the invitations are to be sent, should an invitation be sent to his parents? — Mother

In these days of weeks or months . . . whatever it is . . . your daughter should be in close touch with her fiance's motherand father-in-law-to-be. I hardly think them or won't be able to meet them before the wedding), talking over with them all the plans for the wedding. You also, as the hostess of the wedding, should write mother-to-mother letters from time to time to the fiance's mother, generously sharing with her the plans and the news. These graceful and gracious gestures establish and build up that so-important son-in-law/daughter-in-law relationship between the two families, make it thrive.

In the time you should, of course, discuss with the fiance's mother your plans for your costume, sending her, when you are sure of your plan, a sample of the material for your dress, for her to choose a color which will harmonize; telling her about the length of dress you plan to wear (very, very important these days of varying dress-lengths for "the mothers"); perhaps about accessories, but most importantly,

After all this interchange of wedding news, it would not, of course, be actually necessary to send the groom's mother and father an invitation, but the thoughtful bride-to-be, when she receives the invitations from the stationer, immediately encloses two of them in a little envelope, and also encloses a little note to say, for example, "I thought you'd like to have these invitations. And we're all looking forward to seeing you soon." And then she'll

By MME. QUI VIVE

ELEGANT FASHIONS CALL FOR "HEADY" PERFUMES

The "finishing touch" —a cloud of perfume to complement her glamorous clothes.

The perfumed past, particularly the "opressive years" from 1910-1920, with its fascinating mingling of oriental allure and heady perfumes, is living again in the new elaboration of clothes and the new delicacy of beauty. And no less an authority on glamour than Lilly Dache foresees, as a result, an aura of perfume surrounding every well-dressed woman. Not only more perfume, but the more seductive, deeper fragrances will return to favor, she predicts, with each woman searching for her own memorable scent—"heady but not heavy."

Along with her advice that you make the most each unit of a special perfume a planned move in your glamour pattern for Fall and Winter, Miss Dache has some specific tips on developing new fragrance habits. They are:

1. Do not be a perfume hummingbird, with an aimless collection of bottles on your dressing table and a dot here and there as an occasional "accessory." Let it be known to your family and friends that you love and wear one special perfume for daytime, another for evening. It helps them at gift-giving times, and it certainly helps you.

2. Provide yourself with the three expressions of each fragrance: the perfume, the toilet water and the cologne, and use each properly. The result will be a lasting, delightful aura of scent all around you as you move—neither too heavy nor too vague. This is the secret of the perfectly groomed woman with true knowledge of allure.

Cologne is meant to be splashed all over the body (or smoothed over it if the stick type is preferred). Toilet water is meant to be sprayed liberally on the hair, on lingerie, veils, the hem of your skirt. Perfume is the luxurious final addition, like the beautiful hat or jewels. A little should be poured first into the cup of one hand, then spread over both hands, whence it is patted firmly on throat, clothing and arms. Repeat the ritual two or three times before going out. A last minute touch of perfume to each eyebrow makes them gleam.

ADVICE To The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

YOU'RE RIGHT, LADY; HE'S STILL IMMATURE

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

Both my husband and myself were very young when we were married, so that now, although we have two children, we're still real young. Sometimes I think that is the cause of the problem I have—that my husband isn't old enough yet to be really mature.

He's a good worker, provides well for his family and is an affectionate husband to me and a loving father to the children, but there is still this one problem. This is that any time we have other young couples at the house, some time during the evening my husband gets too free with his hands around some of the girls.

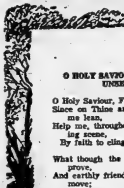
At the time, I pretend not to notice, because I don't want to call attention to it, but after the guests have left, I tell him how I feel about it. He always says he's sorry and that it won't happen again, but the next time it's the same old story all over.

I don't want to break up my home over it, but, if it keeps on, perhaps I'll have to, unless you can help me. — Mrs. O.T.

Dear Mrs. O.T.:

I don't think you'll have to go as far as breaking up your home over this problem.

If you ignore it, it will probably right itself eventually, and it's because some time some girl with whom he gets familiar will unbodily put him in his place. But if you feel you can't stand it any longer, then the next time you see anything of the kind going on, you might just have an errand to send you in that direction and, as you go by, say lightly to him, "Would you like to play him? He's asking for it."



It's very unfortunate thing that there are many men who seem unable to keep their hands to themselves when in the company of a pretty girl, no matter what their age. Usually they regard that sort of thing as just a little bigger that has nothing whatever to do with their own home life, and apparently feel that their wives should look at it in the same way.

Sometimes a wife will try to handle the matter by going in for a little hoyby herself with some man, but I certainly don't advise you to try that. Such a thing not only ignores the real issue, but accomplishes nothing except to aggravate the problem.

So have too much self-respect to stoop to any tricks, and see if by waiting awhile, someone else may not do a job on your husband for you. If not, then you can try the suggestion I made earlier. Since your husband has all the good qualities you mention, then I think this is something that will pass. As time goes on, he'll probably get ashamed of himself and stop his nonsense of his own accord.

Stories of Famous Hymns

by HORACE S. POWELL

O HOLY SAVIOUR, FRIEND UNSEEN

O Holy Saviour, Friend unseen,
Since on Thine arm Thou bidd'st me lean,
Help me, throughout life's changing scene,
By faith to cling to Thee.

What though the world deceitful prove,
And earthly friends and hopes remove;
With patient, uncomplaining love,
Still would I cling to Thee.

Though oft I seem to tread alone
Life's dreary waste, with thorns o'ergrown,
Thy voice of love, in gentlest tone,
Still whispers, "Cling to Me!"

Though faith and hope are often tried,
I am not, need not, ought beside;
So safe, so calm, so satisfied,
The soul that clings to Thee.

Faith-testing sorrow has ever made Christians appreciate anew their dependence on Christ, the great Comforter of whom Charlotte Elliott sang as beautifully in her devotional hymn, "O Holy Saviour, Friend Unseen".

Miss Elliott herself was passing through a time of deep sorrow when she wrote her verses. She had lost her father and the allusions in her hymn to "life's changing scene", a "deceitful world", "treading alone life's dreary waste", and the loss of "earthly hopes and friends" are taken as references to her bereavement.

Throughout the song there is an undercurrent of sadness but its message is one of assurance to the author's reliance on Christ in tribulation and it has served through the years to comfort countless other souls in sorrow.

It was written by Miss Elliott in 1834 and appeared the same year in her friend's Hymn Book". There were more than 100 sacred songs in that famous little volume including the popular evangelistic gem, "Just As I Am Without One Plea" which many evangelists have called the world's most effective soul-winning hymn.

Miss Elliott, whose father was Charles Elliott of Clapham and Brighton, England, was born on March 18, 1789. She enjoyed unusual educational advantages and showed a good deal of time and interest to music and art during the age of 22, she fell prey to an illness which was to cast a shadow over all of her later years. For half a century she was an invalid and much of her literary work and most of her hymns were written from the sick bed on which she spent so many weary years.

But her Christ-like spirit carried her through every tribulation. On one occasion, she wrote:

"My Bible is my church. It is always open and there is my Pulpit. Priest ever waiting to receive me. There I have my confessional, my thanksgiving, my psalm of praise, a field of promises, and a congregation of saints the world is not worthy — prophets and apostles and martyrs and confessors—in short, all I want there I find".

Miss Elliott and her sister used to begin each day with simple devotions—a prayer and Bible reading. On the morning of the day on which she died, the text which they read together in Isaiah 33:17 gave a foreglean of the call to glory which was to come, a few hours later:

"Thine eyes shall see the King in His beauty: they shall behold the land that is very far off".

Patron Saint of Queens

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Monday, Nov. 19 — The patron saint of queens is St. Elizabeth of Hungary, herself a queen. The number of royal ladies who come under her protection has so greatly diminished since Elizabeth's time (12th century) one wonders what a patron saint does when his category finally becomes extinct.

Perhaps if monarchs through the ages had always been as dedicated as Elizabeth to the welfare of their subjects, there would be more of them on thrones today. Her benefactions to her people were so great they sometimes brought criticism upon her head, in a time of famine she gave away so much food the royal household itself was in danger of starvation. There were periods when she fed as many as 900 people daily at the castle gate.

Elizabeth was concerned, too, about the sick. She founded two hospitals, in which she often tended the patients herself, making their beds and feeding them with her own hands. She was particularly drawn to those whose condition was so repulsive no one else could bear to look at them. It is because of her devotion to extreme cases of illness that many hospitals today are named St. Elizabeth's.

BEAUTIFUL STORY

The story of Elizabeth's love and marriage is a story of childhood romance, one of the most beautiful in history or literature. Betrothed to Ludwig, son of the King of Thuringia, when she was 4 and Ludwig was 11, she was brought up once to her future husband's home, where the two grew up together. Some of the best influences in her attitude that might have been expected to develop in such a relationship these two were proof against hearts from the time they met. As children they reached the age of 21 they were married.

The marriage lasted, however, only six years. Ludwig died, shortly all king and noblemen in those times, went on one of the Crusades to liberate Palestine from the Mohammedans but never reached the Holy Land. One of the plagues so common in medieval Europe struck him down en route. When Elizabeth heard of Ludwig's death, she made provision for their three children and then, on Good Friday, 1228, took the vows of the Order of St. Francis.

BIBLE READING

Thursday, Nov. 22 — Back in the days of World War II a marine on Guadalcanal wrote to his parents in the U.S. suggesting they join him every day in reading a chapter of the New Testament. The parents readily agreed, a list was made for the daily readings, and the family custom began.

Since that time the matter might have rested forever but for the mother who told this simple story to the American Bible Society. The alert society saw in the incident an idea that would link not just one family but millions around the world in the unity the Holy Spirit gives when people read the Scriptures together.

And so, under the sponsorship of the society, began an annual observance of World Bible Reading from Thanksgiving Day until Christmas. Now in its 12th year, Worldwide Bible Reading is covered in 40 countries besides the United States.

This year's theme, selected by representatives of 50 Christian denominations, is "The Bible Speaks Today." A list of Bible readings, for observances

Egyptians Breach Water Supply Of Port Said

LONDON (Reuters) —Egyptians have cut the water supply to Port Said by breaching the Sweet Water Canal, the city's main source, the foreign office announced tonight.

A spokesman said this move is more likely to harm the 200,000 Egyptian civilians in the area than the Anglo-French forces there. The military have their own facilities for obtaining drinking water.

The spokesman added that the Sweet Water Canal, which runs roughly parallel to the Suez Canal, had been cut in at least 40 places.

Low-Cost Imports Hurt Canada Says Needles

KITCHENER (CP) — Industrialist Ira G. Needles said Friday the impact of low-labor-cost imports will throw many Canadians out of work or eventually reduce the standard of living here.

Mr. Needles, president of the B. F. Goodrich Company, spoke in reply to criticism from Toronto lawyer Malcolm Robb, who spoke here Wednesday night at the Kitchener-Waterloo Foremen's Club.

Mr. Robb said:

"I'm sick and tired of Mr. Needles preaching tariff protection in Ottawa to save some little rubber industry here in Kitchener."

Said Mr. Needles:

"We consider it our duty to place before the public the problems which confront our industry and its workers and request remedial action by those who have the power and authority."

New Accents in House Plants

By FLORA M. SAVILLE

Now that our attention is centered on the plant material indoors examine the plants on hand with a critical eye. Some of our plants could be improved with better care and we should add a few new plants each season. A variety of textures, leaf forms and color add new interest to your collection.

There are several comparatively new plants that you may not have considered as house plants. Many of them have dramatic qualities that set them apart as sole performers for a special place. One of these can be the focal point for a tiny hall or give a lift to a dull spot in the living or dining room.

Such a plant is the horse-head philodendron. It is a native of the jungle country of Brazil. It was first cultivated in the famed Royal Botanical Kew gardens in England. After World War II cuttings from it were brought over to the States by an American service man who came from a family of nurserymen. They planted the cuttings and soon they took root. From these propagators have come hundreds of plants. It needs a piece of bark, or similar material for support. The name Philodendron means tree loving. It likes a temperature of from 60 to 70 degrees, semi shade and moist atmosphere.

MANY VARIETIES

There are many varieties of philodendrons. The best known is the one with heart-shaped leaves. It will grow happily on the mantle in water or in pots of soil. It does not like sun and this makes it ideal for the coffee table, book shelf or a north window. A few drops of liquid plant food added to the water used for watering this plant will keep the leaves large, glossy and healthy. If the leaves become small and space between them long, the plant needs extra nourishment.

Plants with mottled, striped or vari-colored leaves are as colorful as flowers and we find them in groups in planters and as accents in modern decor. Dumb Cane or Dieffenbachia imperialis is such a plant. Its name comes from the fact that if the stems are chewed, the mouth and throat swells and the power of speech is lost for several days. The leaves are notched dark green and light yellowish green. They are large, long and shiny. The plants are eighteen to 24 inches tall and dislike cold drafts so do not place it near open outside door. This one needs subdued light and prefers moist atmosphere, but it withstands dry atmosphere quite well.

Another two-tone plant which also dislikes cold drafts is Dracaena longi. It has long corn-like leaves in green and white stripes. This is a cousin of the Hawaii 'ti plant. Keep it healthy by spraying the foliage daily with tepid water. Temperatures from 55 to 70 degrees.

Many of the begonias have handsome large colorful leaves. These are the rhizome begonias with thick fleshy roots which lie along the surface of the soil. The roots turn down into the soil and stems for leaves and flowers form the top side and turn upward. Star begonia is one with large star shaped leaves. The flower stocks grow well above the leaves in fragile shell pink clusters. The blooms last well and the plant is free-flowering. A temperature of 55 to 65 seem to be best. They do like some sun, but not direct sun for the whole day.

WAX BEGONIA POPULAR

Another begonia that stands high in favor as a house plant is the wax begonia. Originally this one came from Mexico. It is happy in full sun, or half a day's sunlight will satisfy it. As for moisture it likes a fairly moist atmosphere, but dislikes wet roots. Over watering will cause root rot. As this is a free blooming plant it should receive liquid fertilizer once a week. The blooms are white, blush pink, deep pink and rosy red. There is also a double variety. The flowers are like small roses.

Coleus offer a lot of color for a little effort. They are natives of Java and come in colors from pale yellow through pink, orange and red to chocolate brown. The very large leaf types are handsome but the small leaf types seem to have more compact growth, and are better suited to display on tables. Some have trailing habits with colored stems and small leaves, they too make interesting specimen plants. The flowers are insignificant and should be pinched off as they take nourishment that should go to the leaves. Full sun and fairly cool temperatures suit this plant with plenty of moisture. When the plant becomes pot-bound (potfull of roots) re-pot in larger pot. Do not disturb the roots.

A missionary sent cuttings from Indo-China of the aluminum plant to France in 1938. Five years ago the plant was brought to the States and has become quite popular. You will find it in your florist shop, or they can get it for you. The shiny oval leaves have bright metallic markings on each leaf in a broken stripe. It likes a moist atmosphere, partial sun and a temperature of 60 to 70 degrees. When the plant gets too tall, pinch off the tips of stems and root in Peat moss. The creamy-white flowers are borne in small clusters near the top of each branch.

STIRLING

Laurel Rebekah Lodge Celebrates 36th Anniversary

STIRLING.—On Tuesday evening, 50 members of Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 211, enjoyed a delicious pot-luck supper in the lodge dining hall on the occasion of the 36th birthday anniversary.

The tables were nicely arranged with green crepe favors, birthday serviettes and the new dawn pink china, by the lunch committee under the direction of Mrs. Ray Shortt. The tables were laden with a large array of hot food, cold meats, salads, jellies, cakes, tarts and a variety of pie. Chrysanthemums were used as table decorations.

Following the supper, the ladies adjourned to the lodge hall for the regular meeting and several other members came later.

A long table across the front of the lodge hall was covered with a snowy linen cloth, on which reposed the beautiful birthday cake, made by Past Noble Grand, Mrs. Erma Clancy. The cake was made in the shape of an open book. The icing was in white with green and pink laurel and lettering on one side being "Our Birthday Book," and the other, "Laurel Rebekah Lodge". The pages were outlined in golden yellow and looked like a real book. The cake was flanked with green candle holders made of icing with 36 pink candles. On either side were silver candelabra with white tapers. At the back of the cake a large silver basket of orange and bronze 'mums. The group enjoyed this pretty picture during lodge proceedings.

PROGRAM

At the close of lodge, Noble Grand, Miss Mary Hulin, presided over a brief program. Two minutes' silence was observed in commemoration of Armistice, after which Mrs. Roy Eggleton and Mrs. Harry Philp rendered a vocal duet "A Tribute to the Fallen," with Mrs. Harry Morrow as accompanist.

Mrs. Dorothy McCaughen conducted an interesting game and quiz with ten in a group. Later everyone was given a treat of homemade candy.

Mrs. Florence MacMullen gave a humorous poem entitled "Why Worry?"

Miss Evelyn Bailey PDDP, said it was a privilege and an honor to cut the cake after the candles had been lit by the newest member, Mrs. Dorothy McCaughen. She congratulated the past Grand, Mrs. Erma Clancy on her year of work, honor, pleasure and friendship. She closed with a sincere wish that Laurel lodge would have many more happy birthdays.

The lunch committee served the prebervial cup of tea with a special souvenir serviette of Laurel lodge, assorted cookies and birthday cake.

The members enjoyed a short fellowship and several expressed thanks for the delightful birthday party.

Mrs. Clancy plans to remember several sick members this week with a slice of cake.

OMHA CONVENTION

TORONTO — What started out as a six-weeks' job, entered a new phase today when Jack Christie of this city, resigned as secretary of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association to become that body's president by acclamation.

Nearly 300 delegates from all parts of Ontario, including the not-so-office "Lower Canada," represented by Doug Patterson of Stirling; this reporter; Belleville Minor Hockey Association president, Bill Gault; Mel Richards and others, from the surrounding district, gave the popular Christie well-deserved acclaim on his accession to the minor hockey throne.

He took office here in the Royal York "roof," home of the convention, succeeding the popular mayor of Lindsay, Bert Hick. He received a thunderous ovation, mixed with congratulations from other sports organization bigwigs, from the OHA, OASA, and others.

The story of Jack Christie is one that will never be forgotten by those who work for the maintenance and betterment of minor hockey. His name may not be so well known to 20,000 puck-chasing moppets of Ontario, but it will always be respected, honored and revered by those who worked with him in an executive capacity and mostly by the hundreds of men of the province who have been guided and advised by him as the OMHA secretary.

Today he heads an organization which is almost five times as large as it was when he began his post, during a term of secretarial office. Today the organization is affiliated with 350 teams. In 1942 there were 78. At that time it had a budget of $1,000 yearly. Last year it spent almost $10,000.

Christie's association with the OMHA began because of a friendship with Jack Stafford, then its secretary. In 1942 he casually offered to help Stafford clear a stack of correspondence before the association's annual meeting.

"It was only a six-weeks' temporary chore as far as I was concerned," Christie said. "However, a week before the meeting, Stafford, eager to relinquish his post, declared the secretarial post should be mine. That was in the fall of 1942. And so the job became mine for 13 following years."

Though proud of the association's growth, Christie is just as impressed by the more overall increase in minor league hockey.

"Just as all 78 teams represented practically all minor hockey in Ontario a little better than a decade ago," he said. "Today there are at least 1,050 teams and almost every village, town or city has a league of its own."

At this time of filing there are no results of the elections but it is safe to bet the proposal Doug Patterson of Stirling will be re-elected to his executive post. Doug represents "Lower Canada," as it is known in OMHA circles, and a finer boy could not have come a finer job.

Up here in convention hall, Doug is craving as popular cause, these guys term "Upper Canada." Western Ontario to those folks, as he is down home. The press table here took Doug in "in again."

This is it, so far. There's a deadline.

When sportsmen from all over Ontario convene at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto for the Ontario Minor Hockey Association's annual meeting this Saturday, they will have before them seven proposals of varied importance. Some are merely clarifications of existing legislation; some are intended to plug "loop-holes" in present rules, one is an entirely new rule, and another a suggestion for an experiment that may eventually bring about a change in the rules of organized hockey.

The first amendment that will be placed before the delegates is primarily a clarification of the list of officers as set out in the constitution, but would empower the president to make up to five "appointed executive members." The executive seeks for the president this right in order to ensure proper territorial representation, by appointment if necessary.

Next is a request by the executive for authority to affiliate with other sports governing bodies of a suitable nature when the need is felt. At present the executive is authorized only to affiliate with the O.H.A., C.A.H.A. and O.A.S.A.

The third proposal, and the first proposed change to the regulations, may be a contentious one. In order to give teams playing in groups longer period in which to select their teams, the proposal has been submitted that the last date for signing players be extended to the commencement of group play-downs.

No. 4 in the list of proposals suggests that teams be allowed to sign one player more than in the past, bringing the total up to the C.A.H.A. permitted total. If passed, OMHA teams will be permitted to dress fifteen players plus a spare goalie, rather than fifteen including a spare goalie.

THE OMHA executive has finally produced what appears to be a solution to the old bug-bear of players arriving late through transportation difficulties. Sometimes prevented from playing because of lack of legislation or understanding, they will now be permitted to take part in the game immediately upon arrival, and sign the referee's report at the first intermission following their arrival—that is, if the proposed legislation meets the approval of the accredited delegates.

The sixth item on the convention agenda is a routine affair, requesting authority for the president and secretary of the OMHA to revise the handbook without changing the meaning or intent of any rules.

Final proposal submitted by the executive is in the nature of an experiment that may have wide repercussions. The executive, long noted for their fight for cleaner hockey, are suggesting that teams in group play, local leagues and exhibition games eliminate the right to lee the puck during the duration of a penalty. It is felt that this will make penalties more severe, resulting in fewer penalties and cleaner hockey. Results of the experiment will be collected and passed along to the C.A.H.A. and the joint Rules Committee.

Hundreds of Football Players Will Put Away Cleats, Gear After Firing Over Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hundreds of Canadian football players will put away their cleats, shoulder pads and jerseys after this weekend as 12 teams go down to the wire for six divisional and Canadian championships.

The two big games were today in Montreal and Edmonton, where the four top professional clubs battled to decide who will meet next Saturday in Toronto for the Grey Cup.

Alouettes, scheduled to be at full strength after mid-week reports that veteran end Red O'Quinn would not be dressed, were favored to increase their nine-point margin to 21 over Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the second game of the Big Four Union total-point series and meet the West for the third successive year.

If observers were correct, Als next week will face their two-time conquerors, Edmonton Eskimos, again. Saskatchewan Roughriders tonight in the deciding game of the best-of-three series for the Western Interprovincial Football Union crown.

OTHERS IN EAST

Two other titles were to be decided today, at Ottawa and Kingston.

In the former, the hometown Dutchmen will try to win the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union title for the first straight year as their battle the upstart London Lords, starting at 2:30 p.m. (EST). The one is the third game of a best-of-three series.

The Ottawa Intercollegiate League's two oldest rivals — the University of Ottawa Gee-Gees and Queen's University Golden Gaels —were in Kingston under Richardson Stadium at 1 p.m. for the college crown, with Gaels favored to repeat over Gee-Gee Blues.

Sunday, the Intermediate and Junior teams will settle Canadian championships at Fort William and Toronto.

SNOW AT LAKEHEAD

At the Lakehead, where nine inches of snow fell Thursday, Fort William Redskins and Hamilton Tiger-Cat Bees will play for the Intermediate title at 2:15 p.m. and in Toronto, Parkdale Lions and Winnipeg Rods, defending champions, meet at 1:30 for the Junior crown.

Coach Harvey Johnson of the Dutchmen said issuing cries for help after last Wednesday's game when Queen's Gordie Kitchener to even the ORFU series, but there was no strong feeling things weren't as set as Johnson painted them.

Johnson said he had hardly a sound player left and claimed even quarterback Bob Celeri would not be playing at top form. Critics led by London president Ralph Sazio, however, would not wait; and see.

Even with injuries, Dutchmen seemed too strong at every position and too potent in the scoring column to miss their third championship. Lords pinned their hopes on the passing arm and kicking foot of Indian Jack Jacobs and the fact that they have won two of their last three games after a disappointing season.

Kitchener ran into trouble this week with four men injured Wednesday, when London's Sazio tied the best-of-three series 1-1. Celeri is expected to be back in uniform but Don Sjerman, fullback Steve Fochuk and flying wing Syl O'Hara will only be out of action with leg injuries.

In the college game, Blues seemed to have only spirit to have only spirit to throw against a healthy, well-balanced Queen's squad.

Blues were undefeated until the last game of the season, but in that one, a 19-12 loss to Gaels that forced the playoff, they lost six men from their first line.

Even the weather conditions seemed to favor Queen's. The forecast was for cold, damp weather, with a possibility of either rain or snow. Gaels, with a full team of healthy regulars, seemed in a better position to conduct the sort of infantry warfare this weather would call for.

The Blues were in sad shape, minus eight regulars including star quarterback Harry Wilson. Six collected their infirmities against Queen's last week.

The Gaels this week suffered only one injury—to end Roy Hitcock—and this served to open a spot in the lineup for end John Redfern, back from the casualty list.

Gerry Goyer Gets Insurance Marker For Guelph Biltmores

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Guelph Biltmores are progressing by leaps and bounds towards a goal they last achieved five years ago, the Memorial Cup.

In 1951-52 the Bilts, a main source of hockey talent for their parent New York club in the National Hockey League, defeated Regina for the Canadian Junior championship. Since then, they haven't gone as far as the Eastern final.

But this season, the Biltmores are playing as if they expect to have first place in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series wrapped up by Christmas.

AVENGES LOSS

Friday night they shut out St. Catharines Teepees 3-0 in Guelph to extend their first-place lead to five points, quite a margin considering they've played only nine games.

It was their fifth consecutive victory and also was sweet revenge over the only team that has beaten them so far this season. St. Catharines hung this season's only loss on the Biltmores a 6-0 shutout...two weeks ago today.

In Friday night's only other game Hamilton Cubs edged the floundering Flyers 3-2 in overtime at Barrie to climb into second place. Gerry Goyer, former Guelph, has won only one game in 10 decisions, also holding a tie.

SCORES RECORD SHUTOUT

Bruce Gamble came up with his second shutout of the season in netting down Teepees. He blocked 26 shots while Bill Ezinicki handicapped 22 in the St. Catharines net.

Eddie Shack fired the winning goal halfway through the first period when he connected with a long screen shot. Gerry Goyer added the insurance marker early in the third period.

At Barrie, John Ree scored 48 seconds after the start of overtime to give Hamilton the victory. It was his second goal. Whitey Youngworth got the other.

Tommy Black and Dick Cherry scored for Flyers.

Snooper Has To Get Down When Car Starts

MONTREAL (CP) — An unknown man who climbed atop his car and peered at Montreal Alouettes through binoculars provided the only light touch Friday as the Als and Hamilton Tiger-Cats worked out in mud and rain in last practices.

Coach Sandy Beahead Walker's immediate concern for a few minutes was the presence of the unwelcome visitor in the field, the Als' practice field.

He called Beahead to think somecone would attempt to defy the secret-workout edict. Outside the field, at the end of the field, man stood on the roof of his car, gazing steadily through binoculars.

Coach Walker summoned Danny Pickett, Alouette equipment manager.

Danny climbed the fence and told the man the coach would like him to move on, please. The man said he was within his rights. It occurred to Danny to help him move. He reached inside the car and released the brake.

The car started rolling along a slight incline. The man hopped down from the top. There was no altercation.

Only Handful Last Season's Draft Choices Now in Big Time

WINNIPEG (CP)—Coaches in the Big Four and Western Interprovincial Football Unions hope for better pickings when the Canadian college draft comes up in January.

Only a handful of last season's 24 draft choices remained in the big time. Team officials are hoping for a better percentage of year.

Officials of the Canadian Football Council are considering taking steps to eliminate any situation in which a college player is not placed on the draft list and is signed by a pro club. It happened twice on the 1956 draft.

Halfback Don Stewart, an all-star from Queen's University, was not named to the list by Queen's officials because he said he would return to college this fall to continue studies. Stewart played with Queen's this season and Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four put him on their negotiation list. This means he will not show on the 1957 draft.

OTTAWA GRABBED ONE

Another case was that of Gary Schreider, a halt at Queen's who went with the Big Four Ottawa Rough Riders this season. Schreider returned to Queen's last summer to write supplemental examinations. He then signed with Ottawa and was outstanding during the 1956 season. Riders presumably have him either signed or under option for next year.

When the next draft choices are made there is expected to be plenty of hollering from other clubs in the two leagues to prevent such moves. The national draft system was instituted last January at the annual meeting of the Canadian Rugby Union at Winnipeg.

Apparently college players not named in the draft can be placed on a team's negotiating list. Ottawa was quick to grab Schreider while Als latched on to Stewart when they realized he wouldn't be on the new list.

The draft was started with the idea of cutting down expensive bidding for players and also to give the lower - place teams a chance to strengthen by having the first choices.

TROUBLE STICKING

Last year, only one college graduate finished the season with a WIFU club. Halfback Phil Muntz from the University of Toronto was first choice of the bottom-place Calgary Stampeders.

College grads to stick in the East included Toronto Argonaut tackle Gerry O'Flanagan from the University of British Columbia and Ottawa end Lou Bruce from Queen's and Fred Smale from Toronto.

This year, deals already are are being made by teams for the 1957 draft. Argonauts relinquished their first draft choice to B.C. to get quarterback Jackie Parilla as a replacement for injured Tom Dublinski during the 1956 schedule. Calgary did the same to obtain halfback Ron Clinkscale from Loose.

The draft list takes in players in the graduating year at the universities of Toronto, Western Ontario, Queen's, McGill, McMaster and British Columbia.

Harold Carter Keeps on Winning

NEW YORK (AP) — If Harold Carter keeps on winning, they may have to revise his schedule that calls for a heavyweight title bout by 1958.

"We're in no hurry," said Gene Holmes, manager of the 22-year-old Linden, N.J., boxer after Friday night's 10-round unanimous decision over young Jack Johnson of Los Angeles. "Harold needs more experience. He's had only 25 fights and he's winning despite his mistakes."

Johnson who towered over the chunky Carter, fought only in brief spurts, leaning on his opponent most of the way. He weighed 201 to Carter's 194 1-4.

Whitby Tightens Grip On Top Spot With 7-5 Victory Over McFarlands

Dunlops Profit From Locals' Loose Play; Third Period Penalties Kill Late Rally

By GARRY ALEXANDER

The league-leading Whitby Dunlops increased their lead in the OHA Eastern Ontario Senior "A" hockey league last night when they handed a hot-and-cold Belleville McFarland squad a 7-5 setback before 2,940 paying customers in Memorial Arena.

McFarlands produced fine hockey at times and skated like world beaters, especially in the opening period when they held a 2-1 margin and again for about nine minutes in the third. The remainder of the night was all Whitby as the Dunlops took advantage of Belleville mistakes to nail the game away.

Larin, the local boss, appeared shaky on several goals while the team as a whole played poorly in their own zone, failing to clear loose pucks or losing possession.

The Dunlops roared into the lead in the second period when they outscored the homesters 3-0.

All three Whitby markers were assisted, the result of good clearing by McFarlands twice and a pass interception the third. One goal was scored with the Dunlops a man short on the ice.

Belleville stopped their lead to 6-3 in less than four minutes of the third before Belleville came back to life.

The Mass showed their first-period form briefly, potted two quick goals and pressed for more equalizers that Whitby Benoit drew his third penalty of the night at 17.13 and just 25 seconds later the Dunlops added their fifth to surmount the power penalty to Real Larouche at 18.35 left the loser's helpless as to a game-closing drive.

George Samolenko sparked the winners pointwise, firing two goals and assisting on a third. Goodie Myles also scored twice while Harry Sinden had a goal and assist. Bobby Atterley and Fred Eicher also scored with Chuck Taylor, Ken O'Connor, Bus Gagnon and Don McBeth gaining assists.

MINNIE MENARD SPEARHEAD

Minnie Menard spearheaded the attack in a losing cause with a pair of goals, his tenth and eleventh in seven and one assist. The McFarlands have acquired the services of defenceman Bernie Lemonde and coach Guidolin moved up to a wing position with Menard at centre and, the latter two each gathering a brace of assists. Larin, Gilbert and Real Larouche each had a goal and assist while Floyd Crawford got the other goal. John Muretich also assisted on a pair. Jack Dooley and Gaston Bell had close calls in the opening minutes of the game which resulted probably the closest hockey of the night. Bep Guidolin paved the way for the games' initial score at 6.33 when he lad-to Menard who completed the sustained Belleville attack with a short backhander.

Then came the Belleville penalties and a two-man Benoit drew a misconduct for a remark to referee Shropshire at 8.01. Larouche was thumbed for high sticking at 8.56 and Lemonde drew two minutes for cross checking at 9.36. Gordie Myles was the marksman with the clock reading 9.52.

Real Larouche put the Macs back in front at 16.06 when he steered the disc into an open heel. Muretich and Gilbert went in on the net from one wing and when Dooley sprawled to that side, Larouche directed the pass home.

Minnie Menard and Guidolin had several other good chances in the period only to be turned back by Dooley. Defenceman Ted O'Connor broke up more than one dangerous rush to bone-rattling body-checks at the Whitby blueline.

RANGE IN REBOUND

The middle session opened with fast end to end hockey until Sinden banged in his own rebound for a 3-2 score at 6.18 when Belleville failed to clear and Larin moved slowly ster going down. O'Connor was sitting out an elbowing penalty when the Dunlops barged ahead.

Eicher intercepted a pass behind the McFarland net, circled in front and scored unmolested with apparent ease.

The Payette-M. Menard-Guidolin line again worked well for the boosters and at 14.34, with Gagnon in the sin bin, Menard beat Dooley. His linemates got assists after Guidolin carried to the corner and relayed to Minnie in front. Samolenko closed the period scoring at 16.36 when he shot from a corner caromed in off Larin's side for the 4-3 score.

Whitby took over from the first whistle in the third, Samolenko getting his second at 2.53. Less than a minute later Bob Atterley drove one by Larin's gloved side after Samolenko's pass.

Belleville revived at the 8.00 minute mark and brought the crowd to it's feet with exciting rushes. Crawford's blast deflected home off Sinden at 10.45 with Muretich and Menard assisting. They continued to press and the packed house rose in an uproar when Lorden Gilbert pushed home Lorasche's shot at 11.36. The shot had beaten Dooley but lay behind him on the line when Gilbert swept the puck into the twine to narrow the margin to 6-5.

MINNIE MENARD

HAD GOOD CHANCE

Guidolin worked his way to Dooley's doorstep with two minutes remaining but the big goaltodian turned him back. This was the last good scoring opportunity for the losers as Benoit was called for high sticking seconds later. Myles gunned the insurance marker at 17.38 and Larouche's penalty followed.

Referee Jack Shropshire handled the game in excellent form. He assessed nine penalties in all. Whitby drawing only three minutes on the clean contest. While the Belleville penalties were not numerous, they came at inopportune times and hurt the cause considerably.

The Dunlops now hold a six-point lead over the second place Kingston and Carlaw Garrett clubs. McFarlands are still tied for third with Ottawa, each with nine points, one back of the runner-up and one ahead of last place Pembroke. They take on the Lumber Kings in Pembroke tonight and play host to the same team here on Sunday night.

LANDY FIT

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia's John Landy, the world's fastest miler who has been troubled by various injuries which have upset his Olympic training schedule, said today he felt "100 per cent fit."

Als, TiCats Will Play Game in Perfect Weather

MONTREAL (CP)—The weatherman appeared to be a Montreal fan today as the Alouettes prepared to go against the Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the final game of the Big Four Football League playoff.

The forecast was for sunny skies which would dry out the rain that fell on McGill Stadium Friday. The Alouettes, with their attack based mainly on passing, had hoped for the dry field as quarterback Sam Etcheverry would not be hampered by a greasy ball.

Still in doubt, however, was the status of one of Etcheverry's favorite receivers, John (Red) O'Quinn, four-time all-star end. O'Quinn still insisted he would play despite a painful case of tarsitis in the foot. Coach Doug (Peahead) Walker of the Montreal Alouette officials still weren't sure, however. "I'll be saying more when we warm up," said Walker. "O'Quinn wants to play. He's improved a lot in the last couple of days."

STARRED LAST WEEK

O'Quinn was Etcheverry's top target last week, taking 11 passes as the Alouettes defeated the Tiger-Cats 21-14 in the second of the total-point series.

The first touchdown of the game was scored by both coaches as they ran their teams through final workouts Friday.

"We're nine points down but if we get those points we'll be in the ball game to beat," said coach Jim Trimble of the Tiger-Cats. "We've got a fighting club and we're ready."

Trimble said he would probably make more use of Ralph Goldston as a running halfback than he did in the first game. He also had import end Jack Saggaud would play more than he did last week. Saggaud fell off late in the season after a fine start in Canada.

On the other hand, if Montreal comes up with the first touchdown, the Tiger-Cats will have a tough time overcoming the 13 or 14 point deficit.

WITH OR WITHOUT

President Jake Gaudaur of the Hamilton club said "We know he will be good to beat O'Quinn."

Report from O'Quinn, other Alouettes recovering from injuries were Dick Staten, Herb Trawick and Pat Abbruzzi, but all reported they were ready for the game. Vince Scott and Dave Thompson of Hamilton had knee injuries but they too were ready.

Montreal won three of its four meetings between the teams during the regular schedule, one an 82-14 trouncing in their last game here. Hamilton came back for the fourth win to whip the Als 30-14 in Hamilton.

A record crowd of more than 23,000 was assured for the game despite forecasts that was not expected to go above 34 degrees.

NHL Standings Over Weekend Could Be Radically Changed

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Chicago Black Hawks, it has been said, are the best last-place team in hockey. It's like being called the best horse in a glue factory.

The Hawks, with only two wins in 15 games of the National Hockey League's 1956-57 campaign, have what could be termed a terrible record. However, there have been excuses. Some experts say they habe been unlucky; others say they have good talent but just can't seem to work together as a potent force; whatever it is, Hawks, who have ended up last in eight of the last 10 seasons, will have another chance tonight to get untracked when they meet the Maple Leafs in Toronto.

Leafs are fourth and have won three of four games against Chicago this season.

COULD BE SHAKEUP

In other action tonight, Detroit Red Wings could regain first place when they meet Montreal Canadiens in Montreal but the league-leading Boston Bruins will have to face the fifth-place Rangers at New York.

Sunday night, Canadiens are at home to visit Boston and Rangers go to Chicago.

Tommy Ivan, the genial manager and coach of Hawks, accepts any praise of his team's potential but he couldn't be blamed for wasting more players, not accolades.

One of the few pleasant developments for team so far this season has been the performance of a line he devised a week or so after the season started. Rookie Forbes Kennedy, Harry Watson and Jack Evans, obtained from the Leafs, are some of the top lines in the league.

Kilmberger two years ago was two voted rookie of the - the - year after scoring 21 goals and adding on 8 others. Then, like many other gifted rookies, he ran into trouble in his second season, scoring only 10 goals and collecting 29 assists. This season he could surpass his freshman goal production. He has scored seven goals so far.

Western Canada Title Will Be Decided on Frozen Field

EDMONTON (CP) — Western Canada's Grey Cup representative will be decided tonight.

The Big Four MST Edmonton Eskimos, defending Grey Cup football champions, and Saskatchewan's challenging Roughriders will meet on a frozen field at Clarke Stadium.

The weather is forecast fair, with little wind. Cloudy, temperature about 30 degrees and wind 15 miles an hour. About 21,000 fans are expected.

This deciding game is the best-of-three Western Interprovincial Football Union final was forced by Eskimos when they whipped Saskatchewan 30-13 at home Monday night. On the previous Saturday, Riders had turned almost certain defeat into a 23-22 victory.

HAS IT FIGURED

Tonight, coaches Frank (Pop) Ivy of Riders and Jack Jones, chock of Riders learn how well they planned their strategy.

"Yes," Ivy said, "we're one of the game, "I've got it all figured out." "Yes sir, all figured out."

"There's only one trouble — somebody's always spoiling the figures."

Has Filchock got it figured out too?

"I sure hope so," said flingin' Frank, who was on the other side of the fence in 1952 when he coached Eskimos to the Western championship. Now he's trying to take Riders to the Grey Cup final for the first time since 1951.

PRETTY GOOD RIDER FRIDAY

Filchock said Friday night all-star guard Bill Aitchison definitely won't be dressed. Ivy said all-star defensive end Ken Ploen definitely won't be dressed but there's a question of how long he will be able to play before aggravating a painful back injury.

Otherwise, clubs are in reasonably good physical condition. Ivy sent Eskimos through light, 45-minute workout Friday night. Filchock put Riders through a 90-minute session in Regina Friday, then loaded them aboard a plane for Edmonton.

Probably foremost speculation today was whether Ivy will start regular quarter Jackie Parker, or go again with Canadian Don Getty. Getty called most of Monday night's game so Ivy could play Parker at halfback in place of Fort Lindley, forced out with a shoulder dislocation.

Bruno Betzel Will Not Be Back as Manager

TORONTO (CP)—The management of the Toronto Maple Leafs baseball team decided Friday night a little more than a week ago not to manage night give them the International League title they lost instead last season.

General manager Rudie Schaffer announced that 42-year-old Bruno Betzel, who took Leafs to the pennant last year, but lost out in Rochester Red Wings in the final, will not be back with the club in 1957.

Schaffer said his successor will not be named until the minor league winter meeting next month. But since rumors of Betzel's firing began right after the playoffs ended Rochester manager Dixie Walker has been the favored choice to replace him. Also mentioned is Leaf coach Lou Kahn, who piloted a string of Leaf pitchers.

Betzel said after the season finished he would like to stay with Leafs, but, in spite of other considerations, his contract was not renewed.

His retirement would end a 25-year managing career, spent with farm clubs of the New York Yankees, Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers. He was a second-baseman in his playing days and a contemporary and teammate of Rogers Hornsby on the Cardinals.

REIGNS CHOOSE VP

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — John C. Stilgimeier, general manager of the Buffalo Bisons of International League, was elected executive vice-president of the Buffalo Baseball Club Friday at a meeting of the board of directors.

TEAM WITHDRAWS

SIMCOE (CP)—Lack of players has forced Simcoe Gunners to drop out of the Ontario Hockey Association Intermediate B group, club officials announced Friday. Only about 10 players have been turning out to recent practices.

Stood Against Wall After Couple of Slams

EDMONTON (CP)—Lyle Greenwood, 34, and Phillip Breland, 32, were sentenced Friday to three years for entering a room with intent to commit an indictable offence.

They were convicted of entering the room of Miles Volcan, 25, of Hamilton, a tackle with Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Volcan told the court he awoke to find a man sling through his pockets. He grabbed him and "made him stand against the wall while I dressed."

"Was he willing to stand against the wall?" asked Mr. Justice J. B. McBride.

"Fairly willing," said Volcan. Formerly paired with Ed Kichener-Waterloo Dutchmen. "At first I had a slam him against the wall a few times."

Avery Brundage Blasts Teams for Pulling Out

MELBOURNE (AP) — Avery Brundage, militant president of the International Olympic Committee, came to Melbourne Friday night with praise for Olympic athletes in a sharp blast at countries which pulled out of the Games.

He also said he doubted there would be any organized protests over contests for individuals and not teams.

Supporters of Hungary were reported ready to ask the Olympic Committee to bar the Games because of military intercession in Hungary.

SHOULDN'T MIX POLITICS

Brundage said: "Every civilized person should be appalled by the savage slaughter in Hungary but that is no reason to destroy the nucleus of the goodwill of this great festival. I'm thrilled with the Games every time politicians got the world in a mess, we never would have Games."

Brundage said he was keenly disappointed at the withdrawal of six countries and was particularly shocked at the attitude of Holland, "which is the seat of our Olympic headquarters." Of others which have withdrawn are Communist China, Holland, Egypt, Spain, Lebanon and Iraq.

Brundage added, however, that it is encouraging that there is to be the largest entry list ever, saw fit to travel "10,000 miles from nowhere" at great expense to attend the Games.

Ontario Minor Hockey Honor Award Presented to Donald Kirk, Havelock

TORONTO. — Minor hockey's top award, the OMHA Honor Award, for outstanding service to minor hockey, was this afternoon presented to Mr. D. "Doc" Kirk of Havelock. The announcement and presentation of the award to Mr. Kirk was made at the luncheon following the twenty-third annual meeting of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association.

Mr. Kirk, long associated with minor hockey in eastern Ontario, becomes the ninth winner of the award, and first recipient east of Toronto. Previous winners were John Ovens, Kitchener; J. Stanley Elliott, St. Catharines; Bert Sullivan, Ihuli; Marv Dolex, Elmira; William Garner, Port Dover; the late Errol Russell, Sarnia; L. O. "Nip" Whetstone, Goderich, and Dunc Pollock, Preston.

The citation in connection with the awarding of the OMHA Honor Award to Mr. Kirk is as follows:

"In 1947 "Doc" organized minor hockey in Havelock and was instrumental in promoting minor hockey in other centres, among them Flinton and Kaladar.

Before 1947, Havelock had no arena, so Mr. Kirk took his teams to the road to play their games. Through the efforts of "Doc" and several other interested citizens, an arena was built and serves as a busy minor hockey centre.

In promoting minor hockey, "Doc" has always shown professional sportsmanship. On occasions, he has given half of his club's stick, goalie equipment to opposing visiting play-off teams. He has also entertained visiting play-off teams and has letted them overnight, because of dangerous roads.

"In addition to sponsoring minor hockey and bringing two Juvenile finalist cups to Havelock, "Doc" is responsible for the organizing of a softball league for the boys and girls of Havelock. He takes great pride in the fact that many boys graduate from minor hockey have developed the ability to manage and coach teams for softball.

"The past two years "Doc" has coached and managed Bantam teams in the OMHA, with no hope of real success. This has not deterred him, and you will find that, win or lose, Don Kirk will be found around with his "kids" in Havelock.

"Mr. Kirk has contributed, in no small measure, to the development of sportsmanship among the youth of Havelock and, to our mind, lays the foundation for good citizens of tomorrow."

SEASON ENDS

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian thoroughbred racing season came to an end today with the running of the Valedictory Stakes at New Woodbine. The longest season in the history of Canadian racing opened at the Fort Erie Jockey Club April 14.

HORSE OF YEAR

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian Champ, winner of $122,080 in two seasons of racing, has been voted 1956 horse of the year in Canada.

DID YOU KNOW...

The Y.M.C.A. provides recreational and educational facilities for young people who otherwise would have no outlet for the natural energies that are a part of youth.

There were 1,759 different 'Y' members on register last year. Gross attendance was 49,963.

The 'Y' has a dynamic appeal to boys and fathers — because it stands for principles and translates into everyday life the practical teachings of Christianity.

There are 52 physical education classes meeting regularly each week; and approximately 20 'Y' club activities and committee meetings; and an average of 15 non-'Y' groups using the 'Y' facilities each week.

Two Judo classes, an extra swim class for girls and a Phalanx Club are four new activities added to the Y's program of activities this Fall.

Detroit Lions and Chicago Bears, co-leaders in the Western Division, haven't got it in touch. Both will be at home, the Lions taking on third-place Baltimore and the Bears meeting fifth-place Los Angeles.

Chicago Cardinals, one game behind the Giants with a 5-2 record, also don't figure to have too bad a time of it. They will meet the last-place Steelers at Pittsburgh.

In other games, Cleveland travels to Philadelphia and Green Bay is host to San Francisco.

Matinee Idol John Conte Is Most Popular of All Time

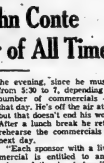
By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To John Conte goes the distinction of being perhaps the most popular matinee idol of all time. He also could be the hardest-working.

Conte, handsome veteran of radio, movies and plays, is host, salesman and occasionally the star of NBC-TV's "Matinee Theatre." This is the network's ambitious project to present an hour of adult drama in color every weekday.

"Of all the fields of show business I have been in," said Conte, "I think this has given me the most satisfaction. The mail response has been tremendous."

Conte's daily audience is estimated at 3,000,000. This dwarfs the audiences of John Barrymore, Lou Tellegen and other matinee idols of yore. Those fellows could have played on the stage all their lives and not reached Conte's daily audience.



What is his appeal? For the benefit of those who cannot get to a TV set during the day, I can report that Conte generates a warmth that is communicated to his audience. He has the polish of an accomplished actor such as he is, yet there is an intimate, sincere quality as well.

This quality brings him a large quantity of mail, "but it doesn't get out of hand," Conte reported. "Usually after about five exchanges of correspondence, I can establish a normal relationship with the ardent fans. I do this by the subtle introduction of my wife into the letters."

Enthusiastic females aren't his only correspondents. He also hears from a remarkable number of clergymen, many retired people and shut-ins. He maintains a staff to answer every piece of mail.

Conte's matinee idore requires him to live spartan habits. He generally folds up around 10:30 in the evening, since he must arise from 5:30 to 7, depending on the number of commercials he has that day. He's off the air at 1 p.m., but that doesn't end his work day. After a lunch break he returns to rehearse the commercials for the next day.

"Each sponsor with a live commercial is entitled to an hour's rehearsal the day before," he explains, "sometimes there are as many as five of them, so you can see where my day goes."

The players in a world championship should take a simple hint. If is that they should learn how to tell each other the number of tricks they have. Look here at deal number 13:

	♠ K 10 6 4
	♦ J 10 2
	♣ K J 8 6 4
WEST		EAST
♠ A 7		♠ J 8 5 3
♥ A 7 6		♥ K 10 9 3 2
♦ Q 7 6 5		♦ A 8

SOUTH
♠ Q 9 2
♥ Q J 5 4
♦ K 9 4 3
♣ Q 10

The American team in eastwest of room one bid like this:

East	West
Pass	1 ♣
1 ♥	1 No-T
All pass

Opening lead from north was club six which west took with the ace. Heart jack was led and finessed, losing to south queen. Club return from south was overtaken by north who cashed four clubs.

Diamond return was grabbed by east's ace. He then cashed four hearts and spade ace to make his needed seven tricks. He could have made more by playing it better.

However, give this pair credit for being in a safe contract. Which is not what can be said of the pair from the Sweden team that sat east and west in room two. They bid like this:

East	West
Pass	1 ♠
1 ♥	2 ♠
4 ♥	All pass

By careful play this declarer held his loss down to only one trick. But he never should be in four. His partner fooled him into going there by a raise when he did not have both tricks for it.

Correct bidding stops them at one no-trump. Pushed by an opponent they would get to two hearts or even three hearts. But a good bidding method would tell them not to reach four.

A champion player needs more than a prayer.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

Monday, November 19, 1956

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Some influences may be irritating now so be on guard. However, the Moon is in friendly aspect so you can achieve by being reasonably cooperative and industrious. Give special attention to details.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — The Moon, dominant today, favors personal affairs; delicate, artistic matters; home, family interests. Other planetary aspects stress care in business matters.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — It is easier to get after the tasks that need doing than to put them off and be crowded for time later. Today has good offerings. It's up to you to find them.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Your Moon most generous now. You are in first place for favors, happy returns for sincere and worthy efforts. But you must work for achievement; it will be worth it. Good luck!

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Don't fret if results from efforts are not immediately forthcoming; they will show soon. No good deed is ever lost.

August 24 to September 23 — (Virgo) — You can join the winning class if you take advantage of improvements and devices designed to increase production, and waste no precious hours. Eliminate red tape.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra) — Read Taurus and Cancer. With adroitness you can handle all tasks well. You are tactful, resourceful and capable. Teamed together ably these traits can do wonders.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — Show agreeableness even though some will be unfriendly. Be sensibly composed but alert, too. Advantages will appear now or soon. Continue the routine that pays.

November 23 to December 21 — (Sagittarius) — Some benefic influences carry over from yesterday but day, on the whole, is not so stimulating. Do your very best and do not expect too much; accept returns graciously.

December 22 to January 20 — (Capricorn) — Because you are innately industrious and patient you may have less trouble than others now. You would have a dull time indeed if everything came your way without struggle. Ahead!

January 21 to February 19 — (Aquarius) — Read, heed Scorpio now. Much will be up to your attitude and efforts now.

February 20 to March 20 — (Pisces) — Mild influences for the most part. You be the judge of what needs stimulus, smart planning. Don't give way to inertia. Keep up enthusiasm, ambition for good results.

You born today are in the Scorpio group, although you have some fine traits from oncoming Sagittarius — splendid judgment, capability and intelligence. You have some faults, too, including a tendency to override others' opinions and underestimate certain values. You can succeed in a profession, trade, the home wherever you keep perfecting your talents. Humility is a need, also patience. Don't dally when you should be using your fine talents, assets.

Birthdate: Jas. A. Garfield, 20th U.S. pres.; Ferdinand de Lesseps, French diplomat, builder of the Suez Canal; Charles I, King of England.

HOME DESTROYED

LISTOWEL (CP) — Fire early Friday destroyed a large frame farmhouse on the outskirts of this town occupied by John Mc-Cracken, one of Ontario's top horse showmen, and his brother, David, and his wife. A valuable collection of McCracken trophies was lost in the $15,000 blaze. The cause was undetermined.

UN Waits Word From Secretary On Cairo Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations today awaited word from its secretary-general on his talks with Egyptian authorities on the makeup and operation of the new UN emergency force.

So far Dag Hammarskjold has made no public comment. But comments from Egyptian sources indicate that President Nasser and his aides are putting up stiff opposition to many phases of the forces activities.

It is known that Egypt also has objected to the participation in the force of several countries—particularly Canada which would contribute the major part of the police force.

And in Ottawa today, the Canadian cabinet also was awaiting a report from Hammarskjold before passing the order-in-council consigning the 1,200-man contingent to the UN command.

At the UN, Canadian delegates said they were optimistic that obstacles raised by Egypt against Canadian participation and operation of the force in general would be eliminated during the talks with Hammarskjold.

Under the original Egyptian-UN agreement, Egypt agreed to accept the emergency force, and has no veto power over participation by any country.

But even if Egypt sticks by the agreement, UN officials are anxious not to antagonize her by seeding in forces to which she is opposed.

May Propose Municipal Income Tax

TORONTO (CP)—Frederick G. Gardiner, chairman of Toronto Metropolitan Council, said Friday he will seriously consider proposing a municipal income tax early next year.

Mr. Gardiner said he had reached the conclusion that an income tax would be "better than an auto tax and fairer than a sales tax."

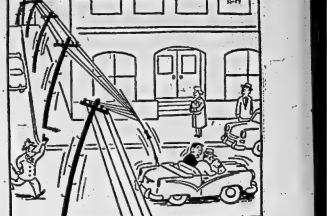
Last April he suggested the last two to supplement provincial government grants. This year the council's $53,000,000 1956 budget and a 15-year $1,000,000 capital investment program.

He said the Metropolitan residents "will soon have to choose" between the federal government agencies to tax Canadians and request for an additional $100,000,000 grant for 1957.

The Metropolitan Council provides certain services for Toronto and 12 surround ! municipalities.

Dockers' Strike In U.S. Spreads; 150 Ships Idle

NEW YORK (AP)—A spreading dock workers' strike hit more United States Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico ports today and sparked "sympathy" walkouts on the west coast.



At midnight Friday night longshoremen struck at Miami and Port Everglades, Fla. Others were due to walk out at Tampa later today.

The new strikers joined more than 60,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Association who deserted docks from Maine to Texas Friday.

More than 150 ships—a thing of them in New York—were tied up at the piers. Union officials called the strike "100 per cent effective."

Meanwhile, negotiators for the ILA and the New York Shipping Association agreed to sit down here again today in an effort to settle their contract dispute. The association speaks for 170 shipping and stevedoring firms.

Maggie Ready To Take Aboard Queen's Own

HALIFAX (CP)—The navy said Friday night the aircraft carrier Magnificent will begin taking aboard at 1 a.m. Sunday the 1st Battalion of the Queen's Own Rifles in Canadian contribution to the Middle East police force.

The 950 infantrymen were flown to Halifax from Calgary in a giant RCAF aircraft which began last Tuesday. It was the most quickly organized mass airlift of troops in the nation's peacetime history.

The Magnificent won't weigh anchor for Italy until the government gets an official okay from the United Nations. But External Affairs Minister Lester Pearson said in New York that the ship probably would sail at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Army trucks instead of aircraft were being bolsted to the broad, floodlit deck o the Magnificent Friday.

A total of 108 railway flatcars of vehicles and heavy equipment were wailing to be loaded. This task is expected to be completed about 6 a.m. Sunday.

LASHED ON DECK

This equipment, being lashed to eagle irons welded on the deck, includes two army Auster aircraft and two navy helicopters, as well as trucks, jeeps, ambulances and machinery. The last supply item to be hoisted aboard will be 27 tons of fresh meat.

Workmen have been on the job around the clock since the Maggie arrived here from Scotland Tuesday night. This involved dismantling armament and gun turrets to allow the ship to serve only as a troop-ship and floating headquarters for the Canadian contingent.

Rows of bunks and hammocks were installed in the below-deck hangars.

Justice Kearney Transport Board Head to Leave

OTTAWA (CP)—A top federal agency controlling Canada's vast railway and pipeline empires—the board of transport commissioners —is to have a new head.

Mr. Justice J. D. Kearney, chief commissioner, is expected to leave the job shortly and take up less strenuous duties as a judge of the Exchequer Court of Canada here.

The 62-year-old chief commissioner, who suffered a mild heart attack last summer, is a member of the Exchequer Court by the terms of his appointment. However, he has not yet sat on the Exchequer Bench.

The Montreal-born chief commissioner will take a $1,000-a-year salary cut in moving from the board to the court. The Exchequer judges get $16,000, and the government adds $1,000 to this for the chief commissioner's post.

Mr. Justice Kearney became chief commissioner in 1951, moving from the post of ambassador to Argentina at a time when the board was engaged in major freight rate cases and moving into the multi-million-dollar realm of oil and gas pipeline on a big scale.

SERVED IN IRELAND

Before that, he had been high commissioner to Ireland and India and Canada's minister to Norway and Denmark. In his law practice in Montreal, he was a partner of the late Hon. J. L. Ralston, defence minister in the Second World War.

Apart from dealing with major freight rate increase cases under his chief commissionership, the board launched one of the biggest projects in its half-century history —that of trying to equalize rates across the country. It has been at this for some five years, with some years yet to go.

Pending before the board now is an application by the railways for a general 15-per-cent freight rate increase. Mr. Justice Kearney was presiding over the case when it began. How his illness and impending retirement will affect the outcome was not known.

Nor was there any information as to who will succeed him. It was reported, though, that the successor will be one from among the other five board members.

Cooler Weather For Five Days

DETROIT (CP) — Five - day weather forecast for the Lake Ontario and Lake Erie regions as issued by the weather office here:

Temperatures will average four to eight degrees below normal; normal maximum 44-47 north 48-52 in south; normal minimum 30-33 north to 35-35 south; rather cold throughout the period with only minor day to day changes; precipitation will average .30 - .50 inch in the north to little if any in the south, as occasional periods of light snow or snowflurries.

BELIEVED BLOWN IN

TORONTO (CP)—Dragging operations were to begin today for the body of Samuel Milligan, 46, believed to have been blown into Lake Ontario by 70-mile-an-hour winds as he worked at a Toronto dock Friday.

Marmora

MARMORA — Mrs. Annie Grant celebrated her 91st birthday on November 14th complete with birthday cake and candles. Mrs. Grant was able to be up in a wheel chair to receive her guests and family, looking petite and wearing a corsage presented by Mrs. Alexander. Mrs. Grant received many cards and remembrances from friends and relatives.

Mrs. Hugh Warren, of Trenton, a onetime resident of Marmora some 40 years ago, was a weekend visitor with Miss Grace Warren.

The Rev. F. W. Madden is sufficiently recovered from his illness to return to his home here after several weeks in Civic-Hospital, Peterborough.

Mrs. Lewis Phillips visited her son, Gordon on Tuesday, who is suffering with a broken jaw and bruises following an accident when he car went out of control on No. 14 highway and into a deep ditch. A passing motorist brought him in to town where he received first aid. He was taken to Civic Hospital.

Mr. John Richardson has returned to his home in Delora after a few weeks in Queensboro in Mrs. Alexander's Nursing Home.

The community of Deloro and Marmora extend sympathy to Mrs. J. R. Hegadorn and family in the loss of a husband and father.

The W. A. of St. Andrew's United Church attended the Blinco Mission in Peterborough, on Thursday evening.

West Huntingdon

WEST HUNTINGDON. — Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ashley, Barbara and Bernard, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kilpatrick of Belleville.

Mrs. Garnet Skinkle and Josephine of Belleville, spent the weekend with Mrs. Floyd Shefield, Margaret and Mr. James Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Burris of Hillier, were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Fitchett.

Mr. George Morrow of Frankford; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morrow of Barrie, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrow of Stirling, were Saturday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson of Mill St.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Saries attended the McGee-Bonter wedding at Holloway Street United church, Belleville, on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. John Wallace, Mr. Delbert McCurdy and Mr. John Moorcroft are in the north country, deer hunting.

Miss Nancy Wilson, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson of Fuller, fell from her high chair and fractured her collar bone.

Mrs. William Gray left on Tuesday to spend the winter months with her daughters at Belleville. Mr. and Mrs. Alex McCurdy and Kenneth spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Sandy McCurdy and Joan of Belleville.

This division has also discovered why some Christmas dinners are spoiled by tough frozen turkeys and other fowl. Extensive tests show that the meat of fowl will be tender only if the bird is not frozen until it has been dead 24 hours.

Most of the experiments on equipment and material for the far north are being conducted by the mechanical engineering division in low - temperature laboratories. It operates two cold rooms in which the temperature can be dropped to 70 degrees below zero.

Work now is in progress in the cold rooms on methods to enable ground radar installations in the Arctic to shed ice. Experiments are also being made on de-icing equipment for aircraft and helicopters and to prevent jet engines accumulating ice.

The cold-weather scientists recently developed automatic instruments to measure icing conditions in flight. The instruments are suitable for military aircraft but do not yet meet civilian requirements.

Land vehicles are being tested to see how they act under Arctic conditions. This includes the development of new brake fluids, greases and fuel systems for better operation at frigid temperatures.

The armed services are testing new and old equipment. One of the main problems is the development of recoil and shell loading mechanisms which will protect guns against cold-weather failure.

The cold chambers have expedited the development of suitable clothing for Arctic use.

The Biology division also is trying to reach a better understanding of how humans can live in the north, through tests on small mammals.

The biologists have determined that the cold-resistance of deer mice captured in winter is much greater than that of mice snared in summer. They also have learned that exercise doesn't help keep animals warm in winter.

These tests may eventually result in findings that will enable humans to live more comfortably in the Arctic winter.

Experiments on the development of homes and buildings which will withstand the north's sub-zero weather are being conducted by the division of building research. The studies also include construction of suitable roads, bridges and other structures.

The cold rooms are warm compared with the frigid temperatures necessary for experiments in the low-temperature and solid-states division of NRC. This division conducts tests which it hopes will lead man to a better understanding of the fundamental laws of matter.

A machine used by this division can drop the temperature of liquid helium to about 456 degrees below zero, some four degrees short of absolute zero. The lowest temperature ever recorded in Canada was 18 degrees below zero at Snag, Yukon, in February, 1947.

Soviet Army, Red Allies End General Strike In Budapest

Hungarian Workers Resort To Defiant Slowdown Strike

BUDAPEST (AP) — The Soviet army and its Hungarian Communist allies today broke the general strike in Budapest, but Hungarian workers immediately resorted to a defiant slowdown strike.

Between 30 and 39 per cent of Budapest's industrial workers reported for work in the city's factories today.

Many of them declared they returned not because they believed the promises of Janos Kadar, the Soviet-imposed premier, "but because we realize that winter is here, with its misery of cold and hunger."

Western correspondents who were permitted to visit workshops found workers standing around in groups—talking but doing little work.

A Vienna report that the Russians were replacing their tank units in Hungary with 30 fresh infantry divisions lacked confirmation here. No correspondent in Budapest can claim reliably to know anything of the kind.

NO POWER YET

Radio Budapest said that, although 45 per cent of the workshops reported at some of the nation's major plants, "in most cases production could not be resumed for lack of power." It attributed the absence of other workers to "transport difficulties."

At Csepel Island, Hungary's biggest industrial complex, workers remained defiant. They showed up in their work clothes, but nobody did any work.

"We think this is the only sound thing we can do," a worker told a spokesman said. "We show up at the gate because we have got to get our wages and also because we have to stick together here. If we continue to remain at home the plant fates would be locked. Elinot us one day and it would be easier for the government to pick us off individually to deal with at home. But if we are here in the factories and stand together."

TWO MEN REPAIR BIKES

Only two men did any work in the plants Western correspondents were able to visit today. It turned out they were repairing their bicycles.

About half the workers at the Hungarian Optical Works and the Ganz electrical works in Budapest appeared this morning. Each has about 4,000 employees.

Of the 10,000-man work force of the MAGAVIR state machinery factory, about 3,000 turned up. About 30 per cent of the 30,000 workers reported at the Csepel iron and steel plants.

Western army officers, as well as Western correspondents, visited these plants in recent weeks. The Russians inquired what the Soviet Army could do to help and asked how it would help speed up the government's request to end the general strike.

LEAVE US ALONE

The president of the workers' council in the CANZ factory said:

"We ask the Russians to do only help we need from them is that they should leave us alone."

"Apparently our contact with the Russians is better than that of Kadar government. We succeeded in obtaining the release of 16 students and four workers who were arrested by the Russians."

The deportation of students and worker rebels, originally reported last week by Radio Budapest and then denied by the same station, has been one of the sore points with workers prolonging the strike.)

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: Slightly higher temperatures are expected today, as milder air enters Ontario from the West. Ahead of this warmer air, snowflurries or showers will occur in Central and Northern Ontario. This trend toward warmer temperatures will continue throughout Tuesday.

POLAND SIGNS EQUALITY PACT WITH RUSSIANS

Poles Get Veto Power Over Soviet Army Moves

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist leaders of the Soviet Union and Poland have signed a declaration of "indestructible union and fraternal friendship" but have agreed upon changes that their future relations will be on a basis of "complete equality."

Winding up four days of talks, the two parties declared that Moscow troops must remain in Poland. But the Poles were given veto power over Russian troop movements in their country, as well as promises of help in mending Poland's economic crisis.

Results of the talks were summed up in a communique issued before the departure for Warsaw Sunday night of the new Polish Communist party chief, Wladyslaw Gomulka. Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz and their delegation of officials and experts.

The agreement was signed by Gomulka and Cyrankiewicz, and Premier Bulganin and the Soviet Communist party chief, Nikita Khrushchev.

SAME WITH FEARS

Gomulka, who had led the move for Polish freedom from Moscow's domination, spoke at a reception following the signing:

"We came here with fears that the leaders of the Soviet Union would not evaluate fully and correctly the changes which are taking place in our country.

"We can say with joy that such fears were not confirmed by the position the Soviet government took on the questions raised by them."

The Polish Communist party in a statement hailed the agreement as a "great success for Poland."

Observers in Warsaw said it appeared Gomulka had got all he asked for.

OTHER PROMISES

In addition to the new arrangements covering Soviet troops in Poland, the Russians promised:

1. To deliver 1,400,000 tons of coal, a department of 1957.

2. Long-term credits totalling 700,000,000 rubles ($175,000,000 at the official exchange rate) to pay for "mutually agreed" commodities "and additional supply Poland;

3 Settlement of outstanding financial questions between the two

4. Further repatriation of Poles still in the Soviet Union who want to go home.

5. Submission to the presidium of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) of a proposal for the "early release and repatriation or the handing over to the Polish persons in captivity to the Polish authorities."

FEW RESERVATIONS

The communique said Soviet troops were still necessary in Poland because of (1) German refusal to accept Poland's annexation of East Germany territory at the end of the war; (2) A lack of "sufficient guarantees against a rebirth of German militarism;" (3) The presence of Soviet troops in East Germany; and (4) the existing international situation."

First Hungarian Refugees Arrive, Will Continue Fight

MONTREAL (CP)—The first refugees from rebellion-torn Hungary arrived here during the weekend and vowed they would continue the fight to free their homeland from Russian domination.

Four Hungarians, including a baby 12 months old, stepped off an airliner Sunday morning at Montreal's Dorval Airport and a few hours later asked to be taken to church to offer a prayer of thanks.

A few suitcases of clothing donated by a relief organization in Vienna, a shopping bag with personal effects, $8.47 in cash and a baby carriage that wheeled little Beata Marton into Austria, made up the group's entire possessions.

"Hungarians will keep up the struggle for liberty by any possible means, both inside and outside Hungary," said Solyom Andras, a 38-year-old former Budapest auto mechanic.

Mr. Andras arrived Saturday night. He was followed early today by Mr. and Mrs. Karoly Marton and their daughter Beata and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pecs.

A total of 40 Hungarian refugees are expected to arrive in Canada by next Friday. Seventeen are destined for Montreal and the rest are scheduled to go to Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

The weekend arrivals were received by representatives of the department of citizenship and immigration and the local Hungarian community. Included in welcoming group were members of a Parliament Claude S. Richardson, representing the federal government, and W. A. McFaul, immigration superintendent here.

Mr. McFaul said employment for the three men was assured.

Marton, a mining engineer, said Soviet troops blockaded Hungary a few minutes after he and his wife fled into Austria, pushing their child in the baby carriage. However, he said, some Soviet troops had helped the freedom fighters by supplying them with arms during the early part of the uprising.

"Many of the troops wanted the revolt to succeed. They had families living in Hungary and wanted freedom just as we did. They gave us tten guns, rifles and ammunition.

Khrushchev in Fiery Tirade Tells West 'We Will Bury You'

MOSCOW (AP)—Red-faced and gesticulating, Nikita S. Khrushchev told the West Sunday night: "We will bury you."

For the second consecutive night, the Soviet Communist party leader delivered an anti-Western tirade so bitter that diplomats from the Atlantic alliance and Israel left the room. Khrushchev's main themes at a Polish Embassy reception were Egypt and Hungary.

Obviously speaking to the Western diplomats in attendance, Khrushchev said:

"If you don't like us, don't accept our invitations and don't invite us to come to see you.

"Whether you like it or not, history is on our side. We will bury you."

The Western envoys, including United States Ambassador Charles Bohlen, referred to an outer room where one aide said: "Entertainment is much more pleasant." They returned to the hall where the Poles were toasting a just-signed Moscow - Warsaw joint declaration after Khrushchev finished speaking.

The night before, Khrushchev had denounced "Fascist gangs" in Hungary and "imperialists and their agents" in the Egyptian war during a Kremlin reception for the Poles.

On that occasion the Western diplomats stalked out and did not return.

Sunday night's party followed agreement on a joint Polish-Russian statement which some Poles consider a virtual declaration of independence — although Poland remains firmly within the Moscow-led alliance.

Khrushchev began calmly:

"We are Bolsheviks. We stick firmly to the Lenin precepts— Don't be afraid to say that you are wrong, but don't give in if you are right."

He said the Communist countries can find solutions to all their problems on the basis of mutual understanding and equality.

But then, seemingly directing his remarks at the Western diplomats, he said:

"We urge that not only for the Socialist states who are more akin to us. We base ourselves on the idea that we must peacefully coexist. About the capitalist states, it doesn't depend on you whether or not we exist."

Khrushchev then announced that history was on the Communists' side and that "We will bury you." Other Russian leaders burst into applause.

British Papers See Soviet Proposal For Disarmament Propaganda Move

LONDON (Reuters)—Most British newspapers have attacked Russia's latest disarmament proposals as a propaganda cover for Soviet repression of Hungary, but say the opportunity for top-level talks in the present state of world tension cannot be ignored.

The Russians in new proposals to Secretary-General Hammarskjold the announgement of a new nuclear explosion — pave qualified acceptance to President Eisenhower's "open skies" aerial inspection plan, and propose a ban on tests of nuclear weapons and a reduction of ground forces.

A foreign office spokesman today said the British government will start consultations with the United States shortly on the proposals, but he would make no further comment.

The Manchester Guardian says the Soviet government "seems merely to be trying to distract attention from its brutal action in Hungary."

"However, there will have to be new negotiations with Russia—unless the desperation of the Hungarian and Western governments have plunged us into a third world war."

The Times says that partly for propaganda reasons and partly for the intrinsic urgency of the thing, the proposals cannot be ignored by those to whom they are addressed."

The Western powers can never refuse a debate on disarmament, whatever the time or ground chosen for it may be."

In West Germany, the independent Donn Die Welt says the proposals show a Soviet decline in spite of Hungary and the Middle East, to continue negotiations with the West. The Russian note had been "rather in concessions than in the past.

HAMMARSKJOLD PROMISES HELP TO CLEAR CANAL

Flies Back to Report To UN on His Talks

LONDON (CP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold flew back to New York today to tell the United Nations General Assembly the results of his talks with Egyptian officials on guarding the cease-fire in the Middle East.

He promised to begin steps immediately after his arrival to arrange UN help in reopening the blocked Suez Canal — a gigantic salvage job expected to take at least six months.

Before leaving Cairo Sunday, Hammarskjold said the Egyptian government had asked for assistance to clear the waterway, and that he had agreed in principle. He declined to discuss other matters.

Nasser's chief political aide, Wing Cmdr. Ali Sabry, said in an interview that the Egyptians would clear the canal with UN help. The Egyptians have already protested British clearance operations under way at the mouth of the canal as a violation of Egyptian sovereignty and of the cease-fire.

TALKED OF UN FORCE

Hammarskjold talked with Nasser and other Egyptian leaders for three days about the duties of the new UN police force, which now has more than 500 men standing by at a base in the Canal Zone, and other details of the cease-fire the General Assembly ordered 11 days ago between the Egyptians and British, French and Israeli troops.

There was no indication after the talks that the Egyptians had modified their demand for speedy withdrawal of all foreign troops and stationing of the UN forces at points on the old 1945 armistice line between Egypt and Israel. Sabry said Egypt expected the withdrawal to begin during the coming week and be completed by the time for the UN troops to take over.

Some of the British-French conditions in agreeing to the ceasefire was that the UN force would be competent to "secure and supervise" reopening of the canal, and "take over" from them when they expect the UN troops to take over occupation duties and when they pull their own forces out. The British and French troops hold the Canal Zone at the waterway.

PINEAU BELIEF

Foreign Minister Christian Pineau of France indicated Sunday night that he thought the Egyptian appeal for UN assistance meant that the UN force would be stationed in the Canal Zone, despite persistent Egyptian denials. In New York with Premier Guy Mollet, Pineau said on a television program (French-American-ABC):

"The United Nations would not be able to clear the canal unless they had their forces on the canal."

Four Rescued By Helicopter

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four men marooned without food at the northern tip of Vancouver Island—three of them for more than two weeks—were rescued by helicopter Monday and the RCAF reported here.

One of the men, identified as Roland Heiherington of Seattle, was flown directly to Port Hardy, also in northern Vancouver Island, for treatment of a slight heart attack.

The others—L. C. Work and R. Radra of Seattle and S. J. Sillett, 21, a department of fisheries employee, of Vancouver—were flown by helicopter to a lagoon three miles away and from there by float-equipped aircraft to Port Hardy. All were reported in good condition.

The three Seattle men are employed by the U.S. coast and geodetic survey. They were stranded at Cape Scott and had been marooned for more than two weeks. Most of their equipment and food had been taken off the cape before bad weather made further boat operations impossible.

RAFT FROM SKY

MONTREAL (CP)—An RCAF spokesman said Sunday night a life-raft found Saturday morning on the roof of a house here apparently did not fall from an air force plane as was once feared to be missing a raft. Residents of an apartment building were awakened by a loud crash, and revealed hearing plane overhead. Next morning the raft was found on a nearby roof.

Egypt Objects But Canadians To Go Eventually

Expect Withdrawal Units Will Make Trip First

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) A spokesman for the Canadian United Nations delegation said today that because of Egyptian objections a Canadian infantry battalion will not be sent to the Middle East immediately to join the UN peace force. Instead, housekeeping and administrative units will go.

The spokesman said the cabinet was to meet in Ottawa today to decide what means of transportation could be used to get the newly-designated units to Egypt. He said air-airlift was under consideration.

The 1st battalion, Queen's Own Rifles, had been designated the chief unit of Canada's contribution to the UN force, and has been in Halifax waiting to sail aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent.

The spokesman said the Egyptians objected to the Queen's Own Rifles because their name implied the British imperial tradition.

DIFFERENT STORY

In Ottawa, reliable sources said the Queen's Own Rifles probably will be delayed in the Middle East eventually, but that the UN commander, Gen. E. L. M. Burns, wants more headquarters staff on hand before the main body of troops arrives.

The Canadian spokesman said delays of the sailings in connection of the Canadian force and in the means of transport are being worked out at the UN between Gen. Burns and his staff and Lt.-Gen. H. D. Graham, chief of the Canadian general staff, and Air Marshal C. R. Slemon, chief of air staff.

Friends Think It Would Be A Lousy Trick'

WICKENDURG, Ariz. (AP) Seeking action on a long overdue bill, automobile dealer Bernard Hill wrote the following letter to a customer:

"Dear friend: What would all your neighbors think if we came to your town and repossessed your car?"

The customer wrote back:

"Just go ahead. I'll confer up with my neighbors and they all think it would be a lousy trick."

EVACUATE HOSPITAL

VANCOUVER (CP) — One hundred Spanish refugees have been evacuated Sunday from St. Paul's Hospital here in the first such civil defence exercise on the North American continent. Called "Operation Lifeboat," it took place over and 29 minutes from the time the siren was sounded warning of impending atomic attack. One hundred civil defence volunteers, assuming various degrees of illness or convalescence, participated.

Pravda Says Tito Shows Tendency To Interfere in Other Red Lands

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda has accused Yugoslavia's Tito of showing "tendencies to interfere in the affairs of other Communist states."

A dispatch from Belgrade to the Soviet Communist party newspaper told the Russian people today for the first time that Tito had criticized the current Soviet line in a speech Nov. 11.

The dispatch linked Tito with "reactionary propaganda" in explaining the causes of Stalinism, branding the Yugoslav Communist party from the Cominform in 1948 for "nationalism," but the present Soviet leaders have been trying to restore good relations between Russia and Yuoslavia.

Pravda adds that Tito said that the cult of the personality of Stalin was "the product of a definite system." The paper claims that this is precisely what reactionary propaganda" is trying to do in its struggle with Marxism-Leninism.

The party paper deplores Tito's "attempt to divide the Communists and the Stalinist and 'non-Stalinist.'"

Pravda failed to quote Tito's sharpest attack on Russia and the Soviet-installed regime in Hungary. He said the decision to call in Soviet troops to crush the revolt was "a fatal error."

Tito also came under fire today from Czechoslovak Communists for the first time since his "rehabilitation" this year at the 20th congress of the Soviet Communist party.

In the first reaction published in Czechoslovakia of Tito's speech, Rude Pravo, the Communist party newspaper, charges the Yugoslav leader with interference in the affairs of other Communist parties.

Gen. Burns Is Said To Want More Headquarters Staff

OTTAWA (CP) — Reliable sources said today the 1st battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, probably will be dispatched to the Middle East though its departure date from Halifax may be delayed.

They said there has been no question that administrative personnel be substituted for the rifle battalion as Canada's contribution to the United Nations Middle East police force.

Talks were still proceeding in New York today between Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Ottawa, UN truce force commander, and senior Canadian officials on the nature of the Canadian contribution.

After the officials report to Ottawa, the cabinet will make the final decision on composition of the Canadian force. The cabinet did not meet this morning but was prepared to convene later today.

Officials said the question now of sending additional Canadian units will go first to the Middle East.

Gen. Burns is said to want more headquarters staff in the Middle East before the main body of troops arrive there.

Thus the present thinking that a Canadian staff will be dispatched to the Middle East ahead of the battalion which is holding itself in readiness at Halifax to sail for the Middle East aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent.

However, officials emphasized that nothing will be definite until the cabinet discusses the matter.

Officials said that the picture is unclear. It probably would remain an until cabinet had dealt with the composition of the Canadian contingent.

CANADIANS WILL GO

About the only thing that was definite here was that Canadian soldiers will go to the Middle East.

Nobody had decided that the Queen's Own Rifles shouldn't join the UN force and the battalion probably would still be needed in the Middle East.

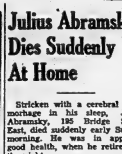
Mayor Forrester Asks Support Of 'Blitz Night'

This is "Blitz Night" in Belleville. Tonight is the night volunteer canvassers for the 1956 Belleville Community Chest will knock at every door in the city to collect as much of the $35,000 objective as possible.

The blitz will start shortly after supper and will continue until every house is canvassed. There are seven agencies which will benefit from our generous donation. They are the St. John Ambulance, the Children's Aid Society, the Boy Scouts, the Navy League, the YMCA, the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society and the Victorian Order of Nurses. Each of these agencies has received a tremendous effort in the past year to help the sick and underprivileged of Belleville and district. Your financial support is necessary if they are to continue their work.

Mayor Jane Forrester in support-ing the blitz said, "The Community Chest presents you with a concrete opportunity to participate in making Belleville a happier place in which to live — a city in which we can be proud to live with a heart. And I underline that word 'heart'.

"This appeal is being made by an army of volunteers on behalf of seven organizations dependent on volunteers, providing services which are essential to the well being of our community, touching every age group.



"No municipality could possibly manage its affairs without the unselfish assistance from groups of individuals like those mentioned above. Where would the municipality be if it had dumped into its doorstep the cost of voluntary welfare work?

"Tonight when that volunteer approaches your door, I implore you to the united Community Chest appeal on behalf of the Victorian Order of Nurses, the Children's Aid Society, the Boy Scouts, the St. John Ambulance, the Navy League, the YMCA, and the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society groups that will be your opportunity to volunteer financial assistance so that these essential community groups may carry on their invaluable services without embarrassment.

"I urge you as warm hearted individuals, as sympathetic men and women, as responsible citizens, as hard headed tax payers, to welcome that volunteer and in turn to volunteer your own generous financial support.

"Belleville is known as the 'Friendly City'. Let us unite to create a band to organize this reputation, 'a friend in need is a friend indeed'."

"Canadians show great concern about the troubles of people in far off lands, and at the time of disaster at home. But it is not often we pay much attention to troubles of people less fortunate than those in our own city. For tonight, let's remember those among us who need the services of the seven agencies in the Community Chest. Give, and give generously."

Former Foxboro Boy Obtains Ph.D. Degree

John W. Ketcheson, of Guelph, son of Mrs. L. Ketcheson, of Foxboro, and the late Mr. Lawrence Ketcheson, recently received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Illinois Graduate College, specializing in agronomy.

"Jack" was reared on the farm of his father, in Tudenham, and received his early education at Wallbridge public school and Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School.

He entered the Ontario Agriculture College, Guelph, in 1940, and received his B.S.A. in 1944. In 1946 he obtained his M.S.A. degree at the college, and entered the University of Illinois, at Urbana, obtaining his M.S.A. in 1950. In 1953 he returned to Illinois for graduate work, in terms of soil phosphorus, on which plants are dependent.

Through this course of study, Jack pursued his interest in soils, and his training in this association on the home farm.

In 1942 he married the former Miss Betty Foster, of Moira; they have one daughter and two sons.

Woman Hunter To Address Fish, Game Club

Mrs. F. W. Wallis of Trent Road will be the guest speaker at the Belleville Fish and Game Association's monthly meeting in the YMCA starting eight o'clock tomorrow night.

Mrs. Wallis who lived a long time in the north is a hunter of repute, and her own taxidermy and is an ardent outdoor exponent. Wives of the members of the association have been especially invited to hear Mrs. Wallis.

Also on the entertainment agenda are two films "Spinning for Speckle." and "Tackle Busters."

Lockwood's Trial Opens Today in County Court

The trial of Charles Lockwood, former police chief at the village of Marmora — charges with theft from Her Majesty's mails, was scheduled to get underway today at the Court House sessions of the Peace and Jury Sittings for the County of Hastings.

The Lockwood case is the only criminal case on the docket. Besides the Lockwood case there are five other jury cases, all actions arising out of motor car accidents.

In addition there are 12 non-jury cases listed, ten of which are actions arising out of automobile accidents, one a breach of contract and another assessment of damages.

Bench duties at the session will be shared by His Honor Judge G. F. Smith of Napanee, and Judge W. S. Lane of Picton.

Judge Smith was on the bench this morning as proceedings opened with choosing of jury members. The Lockwood case went before the Grand Jury today.

Julius Abramsky Dies Suddenly At Home

Stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage in his sleep, Julius Abramsky, 125 Bridge Street East, died suddenly early Sunday morning. He was in apparent good health, when he retired for the night.

The late Mr. Abramsky was born in Kingston, 47 years ago, being the son of Mrs. Lena Abramsky and the late Alexander Abramsky. He received his early education in Kingston and moved to this city, 31 years ago. For many years he has operated a dress shop here upper Front Street and has enjoyed a wide district clientele.

He was well known and highly respected in this community. Mr. Abramsky was active in the Sons of Jacob Synagogue taking a particular interest in the plans and construction of the new synagogue. He was interested in community affairs and was always willing to give his time and effort to all worthwhile projects. Fraternally he was a member of Moira Lodge AF & AM No. 11.

He was also a member of Hillel and Ad Club, being one of the charter members and he took a great interest in these groups being treasurer of the organization that brought the National Ballet Company to this city on two occasions.

Surviving are his wife, the former Jennie Springer of this city; his mother, Mrs. Lena Abramsky of Kingston; one son, Barry at home; one daughter, Miss Barbara Abramsky of Montreal; one brother, Benjamin Abramsky of Belleville; two sisters, Mrs. Saul (Beth) Malinoff of Kingston and Mrs. Jerome (Dorothy) Fisher of Hamilton.

The funeral for the late Julius Abramsky will be held from the John R. Bush Funeral Home, Highland Avenue on Sunday afternoon, Rabbi M. Bonn, assisted by Rabbi M. H. Babiss of Peterborough, conducted the service in the chapel and also the committal rites in the Sons of Jacob cemetery on the Trent Road.

The bearers were Samuel Springer, Paul Malinoff, Jerome Pollock, Arthur Black, Ben Safer, Stanley Safer, Morris Cramer and Ted Schwab.

Potentate Initiates Son Into Shrine

Featured by the only unit of its kind in Canada, the Belleville Shrine Temple held its annual fall ceremonial in Toronto on Saturday.

The Belleville unit with their bands and raiment attracted a large crowd with its parade from the city hall to the cenotaph thence to the Royal York Hotel where a banquet and the entertainment was held.

Imperial Potentate D. L. Storey of Belleville with his Temple Divan assisted in the initiation of forty candidates from the Temple district.

The initiation ceremonies were unique in the fact that the Imperial Potentate for the first time in history had the honor of initiating his son. He was Doug Storey of this city.

The Belleville Camel Herders in their colorful raiment marched with other Temple units in the parade. They were headed by Chief Camel Herder Rev. Gilbert Agar, 24 of the membership of 50 were in attendance. Officials of the "Stable" were Jack Bush, Camel Leader; Lee Collier, keeper of the pile; Bill Daly, keeper of the records; Orlilf Lloyd, keeper of the oasis; Ken Vivian, keeper of the stable; Lance Davern, keeper of the brooms; Tom McCoy, keeper of the water hole, and Lee Grills, keeper of the camels' milk.

Marmora Bakery Damaged by Unexplained Blast

MARMORA — An unexplained explosion in the kitchen of the R. C. Eaton Bakery and Grill on Forsyth Street in Marmora late Saturday night ripped out windows in the premises, blew shattered pieces of plate glass windows across the street and caused injury to the bakery operator and his wife.

Mr. Russell Eaton and Mrs. Eaton were treated for burns at the office of Dr. G. D. Ranger. A sales girl standing behind the counter was uninjured.

There were no customers in the grill at the time of the mishap and although occupants of an upstairs apartment heard the explosion no other ill effects were suffered.

The bakery manager was unable to give a reason for the explosion but gas from the gas operated oven was suggested as a likely cause. No estimate of the damage was given.

Obituary

JOHN PHILLIP SNODDON

Suffering a heart attack near his place of business early Saturday evening, John Phillip Snoddon, R.R. 1, Foxboro, proprietor of Snoddon's Variety Store on the Madoc Road, was rushed to the Belleville General Hospital, but died shortly after admittance.

He was born at Sunderland 88 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Snoddon. Receiving his education in his native town, he later entered the car business when that industry was in its infancy and had been selling cars of all makes for many years.

He moved to this city he was employed by several car dealers and four years ago opened a car lot on College Street, later moving to his present location. He was well known and highly respected in a highly competitive business and his wide circle of friends will sincerely regret his sudden death.

He was an attendant of the United Church, and surviving are one son, Earl William Snoddon, of Sunderland; two daughters, Miss Irene Snoddon of Toronto; Mrs. Harry (Pearl) Ashton, of Foxboro.

Three sisters, Mrs. Stanley (Myrtle) Mill, and Mrs. Oscar (Hazel) Gorrell of Sunderland; Mrs. Percival (Ethel) Hutchinson of Markham; three brothers, Lorne Snoddon of Little Britain; Ervine Snoddon of Sunderland; Ernest Snoddon of Blackwater, and three grandchildren.

Resting at the John R. Bush Funeral Home, Highland Ave. The funeral service will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. with interment in Sons of Jacob Cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM HENRY VANCE

In failing health for some time Mrs. Mabel Vance, 58 College Street, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Sunday morning. She was born in Tyendinaga Township, Hastings, 65 years ago, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gray.

Mrs. Vance had resided in this community for the last 45 years, coming from Roslin and had enjoyed the high regard of a wide circle of friends. She was a member of College Hill United Church and active in the Women's Auxiliary at Rossmore.

Surviving are her husband, William Henry Vance; one son, Herbert Vance at home; one daughter, Mrs. Lorne (Viola) Tucker at Quinte; three brothers, Henry Gray and Alfred Gray of Roslin, and William Gray, of Campbellford; also surviving are two grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Resting at the John R. Bush Funeral Home, Highland Ave. The funeral service will be held two years elsewhere in this edition.

W. FRANK BRUMELL

The funeral of W. Frank Brumell was held from the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral chapel on Saturday afternoon. The service in the chapel was conducted by the Rev. T. J. Wilson, assisted by Capt. T. Ivany of the Salvation Army, while Mr. Townsend conducted the committal rites at Carrying Place.

The bearers were Edward Hogle, Ralph Dudgeon, John Harwood, Bruce Sills, Arthur Halsey, Arthur Greenwood.

Youth Receives Shotgun Blast In Arm, Shoulder

MARMORA — Michael Doyle, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Doyle of Marmora, is in St. Joseph's Hospital at Peterborough with a shotgun blast in his upper arm and shoulder following a hunting accident near Deloro late Saturday afternoon.

Michael was with a group of Marmora boys hunting birds when the shotgun discharged in the hands of one of the party who as it was being loaded. The boys were said to have been standing in a group when the accident happened.

The injured lad was brought to Marmora by Don Bedore, on whose farm the party was hunting.

The boy was taken to the office of Dr. H. G. Parkin where he was given treatment before being rushed to hospital at Peterborough.

Reports were that the boy received the full force of the shot gun in his arm and shoulder and also suffered smoke burns in his face.

Heavy Damage To Two Cars in Separate Crashes

A morning sun, shining on a frosted windshield and a broken column tie-rod were the primary cause of separate motor car accidents in the city over the week-end.

Saturday, shortly before noon, Arthur Bristow, R.R. 2, Belleville, was driving on Coleman St., when the tie-rod connecting of his steering column broke, allowing the car to go out of control. The vehicle swerved to the right and slammed into two parked cars, causing total damage estimated at about $500.

This morning at the overhead railway bridge on North Front Street, Ernest H. Farquhar, 80 North Park Gardens, was southbound on North Front Street when as he approached the overhead bridge the sun shining on his frosted windshield. The vehicle struck the side of the bridge doing considerable damage to the right front of his car.

TEENAGERS HUNT PRESLEY

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—The rumor said that Elvis Presley would visit a patient in Christ Hospital here. It wasn't true—in fact no one knows exactly how it all started—but that didn't stop 400 teen-agers from filling crannies into the corridors and disturbing patients with loud shouts Friday night. Police with loudspeakers dispersed the crowd.

FIREMEN ACCEPT NEGROES

BALTIMORE (AP) — The last vestiges of racial segregation have been ordered removed from Baltimore's firehouses. A fire department spokesman said Friday that "all signs restricting use of beds, toilets, washbowls or other facilities of the company's quarters must be removed immediately." The department, which began hiring Negroes three years ago, has 120 among its 1,853 members.

IN MEMORIAM

THOMPSON — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandson, who passed away November 19th, 1953.
When evening shades are falling,
And we sit in quiet alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing
For the voice we used to know.
Friends may think we have forgotten
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the heartache
Our smiles hide all the while.
—Sadly missed and remembered by daughter Ruth, son Arthur and grandchildren.

THOMPSON — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandpa, George W. Thompson, who passed away November 19th, 1955.
One night in November,
Three the saddest years,
The Saviour came to take you
From our home in tears.
He took you gently
In my heart I hold a picture,
Of the sweetest smile you wore
And as each day goes passing by
I miss you ever more.
There is no way to tell you
How much we miss you,
But how lovingly memories took you
But someday we will meet again
Now rest on, dear Jodd, in heaven,
And when my work is o'er
Please come to thy gates and meet me
We'll be together for evermore.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife Pearl, son Cecil and George, daughters Gladys and Florence.

THOMPSON — In memory of my dear husband, George W. (Judd) Thompson, who passed away one year ago today, November 19th.
Resting in God's garden of rest,
His memory will never grow dim,
Till we meet in the heavenly mansions of sunshine.
He made his heart out of gold,
He carried it in his hand,
He gave it to a friend in need,
He left it in the cold world of sorrow
He took it out and mended it,
He put it back and cherished it ever remembered by daughter Pearl Thompson and Jack Jeffs, Belleville.

THOMPSON — In loving memory of dearest Wellington Thompson, who passed away November 19th, 1953.
Years of silent memories take place,
Loving and grieving hearts ache for the one we love,
A cherished smile, a heart of gold
In the dearest father the world could hold.
Happy memories, fond and true
From us you thought the world of you,
Sadly missed by John, Evelyn and grandchildren.

THOMPSON — In loving memory of our dear father, George Thompson, who passed away November 19th, 1953.
Sadly missed, never forgotten,
Keeps his memory ever dear.
Each day we miss him more and grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Lovingly remembered by Harold and Alice and daughter-in-law family.

KEMP. — In loving memory of a dear husband, Frederick Kemp, who passed away four years ago today.
We were so fond of him,
We were so proud of him,
To part from him
Was more than we could bear.
God saw we suffered
So gave him rest.
Sadly missed by his wife and son's last wish.
Go down in the far-off west,
Where the sun in the soft blue light
Passes on
Where hearts can never close our hearts
And the lamp of our love is still burning
Her heart's the truest in all the wide world
Her love the best to recall
For no one on earth could take her place
She is still the dearest of all.
Ever lovingly remembered by her daughter Carol.

Napanee Hunter Bags Bear Cub

The bear population near Denbigh was decreased by one over the weekend, when a member of the brulin clan fell prey to a sixman deer hunting party.

D. M. "Sandy" Sandford of Napanee was the man who shot the bear. The party, which included Toronto and Belleville hunters, also bagged a yearling buck.

Sandford nailed the black cub, estimated to be about a year old, when one of the group's dogs entered a marsh and was followed out by the bear. Sandford pumped two shells into the bear's head, dropping him in his tracks. Brother Brain weighed 132 pounds and can be seen in the shop window of Clarke and Miles on Belleville's lower Front Street. Robert Miles was a member of the party.

The yearling buck was shot by Mr. Bill Long of Toronto.

Roblin Youth Missing Since November 14th

Provincial police have been asked to assist in locating John Thurlow Bean, 15-year-old Roblin youth, who has been missing since November 14th.

The lad is said to have reported at school last Wednesday and was sent home by his principal but never turned up at home.

The boy is 5 feet, 5 inches in height; weighs 120 pounds, has fair complexion, brown hair and was wearing blue jeans, a white checkered shirt, wine sweater with white stripes and brown shoes. Anyone seeing the boy is asked to get in touch with Inspector A. McDougall at the provincial police office at Belleville.

Paper Making Machine Damaged At Glen Miller

Fire at the Miller Bros. paper making plant at Glen Miller brought out four fire trucks from three municipalities early Sunday morning.

The fire started in one of the paper making machines possibly from a hot bearing with flames shooting out through roof skylights before it was brought under control. Two fire trucks from Trenton came from Belleville and one from Frankford answered the alarm.

An official at the paper making plant stated damage was principally to machinery with one of the paper making machines expected to be out of operation for two or three days.

The fire put the lights out at the plant otherwise the blaze would likely have been extinguished by plant personnel using emergency equipment. When plant lights failed fire fighting equipment from neighboring municipalities was called in.

JET RIPS UP TRACKS

EL TORO, Calif. (AP) — A United States Marine fighter pilot was killed Friday in a crash that ripped up 200 feet of railroad track, halting train traffic between Los Angeles and San Diego for four hours. Lieut. Danny G. Clemens, 24, was killed when his jet plane snagged a power line and crashed at the edge of El Toro Marine air base as he was coming in for a landing.

Priest Orders Girls to Cease 'Going Steady'

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A Franciscan priest here has issued an ultimatum to a Roman Catholic youth group of 150 girls to cease "going steady" or withdraw from the organization.

Rev. Matthew P. L. Gaskin, director of the Third Order of St. Francis unit at Sacred Heart Academy here, told the girls Sunday that they must pledge to avoid a "steady" boy friend during their four years at high school or drop membership in the order.

Father Gaskin defined "going steady" as "any agreement between the couple that they will date each other exclusively . . . a frequency in their association by which they either date the same person three or four times a week or devote whatever time is allowed for dating by parents to the same person."

"It sometimes occasions what we might call forced marriages; it is a menace to the purity of our youth and can become an occasion of serious sin."

Obituary

JOSEPH CRAFT

Thurlow Township

Joseph Craft, a well-known Thurlow township merchant, died on Sunday at Barrie, Ont., where he had been visiting for the past six weeks. He died in his 56th year, followed a short illness and will occasion deep sorrow amongst a wide circle of friends.

Deceased was a native of Burk's Falls, Ont., a son of the late William and Betty Cottingham Craft. He came to this district from Novar, Ont., in 1945, his home being on R.R. 3, Belleville. Since 1950 he had operated a grocery store.

Surviving to mourn his death the late Mr. Craft leaves his wife, the former Jessie Rattray; three sons, Roland, Bruce and Joseph, all of Thurlow township, and one daughter, Mrs. Donald (Betty) MacInnes of Sidney township. He is also survived by three brothers, William, Arthur and Albert, all of Barrie. At the time of his death he was visiting his brother Albert.

In religion the late Mr. Craft was an Anglican. He was a member of Frankford Masonic Lodge.

The body is resting at Jennett's Funeral Home at Barrie. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this issue.

More Danes Fly To Suez Zone

COPENHAGEN, Italy (AP) — Three more flights left today carrying 106 Danish officers and men to join the growing United Nations police force in the Suez Canal zone.

More than 500 men of the force already are in barracks near Ismailia, awaiting transportation or arrangements for them to move out to Gaza, policing the cease-fire and withdrawal of British, French and Israeli troops.

A UN spokesman meanwhile announced plans to speed up the airlift of troops to Egypt. He said 10 Italian air force C-119 Flying Boxcars will be placed "on temporary loan" to the UN.

PAMPERED PIG GOES TO MARKET SOONER

This little piggy could go to market much quicker than his predecessors, thanks to air-conditioning. William G. Hillen shows the interested little porker a chart revealing the effects of temperature on the time and cost to raise a pig for market. According to research by the Universities of Purdue and California, pigs raised in 65-degree surroundings require less time and feed to reach marketable weight. So now it appears air-conditioned hog houses may soon be a standard item for breeders who previously have been hard hit by summertime drops in hog production. (Central Press Canadian).

SAY AGENTS JAILED

BERLIN (Reuters) — Three alleged agents of the American Secret Service were sentenced Friday by an East German court to terms ranging from four to 10 years, the East German news agency ADN reported. The indictment accused the three—a Czech, a West German and an East German—of espionage against Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Theatre Guild

Its dress rehearsal and nothing is going right—the actors are speaking their lines with all the animation of wooden Indians, the furniture seems fiendishly designed to trip unsuspecting feet, doors mysteriously refuse to open, and a general air of confusion prevails. But somehow on opening night, wheels that were set in motion weeks before suddenly start spinning smoothly—the last nail has been pounded in; the final touch of make-up applied and the actors are ready for the first cue. This description could apply to any amateur theatre group before a public presentation.

Director Jim Alexander of the Belleville Theatre Guild claims no exception to the trials and tribulations facing a production for public presentation but he is also confident that his cast of "The White Sheep of the Family" will add another dashing success to the Theatre Guild's long list of fine performances. The Belleville group has won distinction for Belleville in various district festivals and deserves the support of all community-minded citizens.

October Jobless At Low Level

OTTAWA (CP) — The government reported today that the Canadian working force was more fully occupied in October than in any corresponding month since 1951.

A joint monthly statement issued by the bureau of statistics and the labor department said employment and unemployment figures for the month remained virtually unchanged as compared with September.

Number of persons with jobs was estimated at 5,674,000, down by some 2,000 from the previous month but 197,000 higher than in October, 1955.

The bureau of statistics estimated that the number of persons without jobs and seeking work at OCT. 29 totalled 98,000, compared with 97,000 at Sept. 2 and 142,000 at Oct. 2, 1955.

Registrations for employment at National Employment Service offices totalled 157,400, a drop of 1,400 from Sept. 29 and a decline of 35,300 from Oct. 30, 1955.

The decline was due to a reduction of layoffs in Ontario. Applications on file in other regions showed moderate increases.

ENGLISH OPINION CHANGES

The swing of opinion in England from disapproval to support of Sir Anthony Eden's attack on Egypt is a remarkable change of public opinion.

When word of this action was first reported it was almost unanimously condemned in the United Nations. Eden was publicly rebuked by Eisenhower and censured by several members of the Commonwealth.

Disapproval of an apparent tri-nation aggression against a small country found almost as wide expression in Britain itself.

The Labor opposition under Hugh Gaitskell, many leading newspapers and other organs of public opinion expressed the loss of internationalist prestige inherent in this policy. It was termed a foolhardy gamble.

Two Conservative ministers resigned and several backbenchers expressed their misgivings in speeches and by abstaining on votes endorsing the government's policy.

Why did France, Britain and Israel take an action which appeared at first to place them so much out of step with the rest of the Western world?

A partial explanation is that France, Britain and Israel claim to have simultaneously received secret information regarding a master plan by Nasser to drive Israel into the sea and take over the whole Middle East.

Evidence of extraordinary Russian collusion pointed to eventual Soviet domination of Mid East oil, if not the Suez Canal itself.

This ominous threat, unless blocked, would have annihilated Israel, isolated the colonial interests of France and Britain in Africa and undermined the global position of the entire Western world including that of the United States which was playing a part election-year hand.

Eden was faced with the alternative of accepting these consequences, reducing his country to a second rate power, or of taking bold military action.

The effect of military action based on necessity rather than choice has been to change opinion in England to the point that Britain and Israel have performed a police action which would have been undertaken by the United Nations long ago.

Far from weakening the United Nations, defiance of that body has actually spurred it into forming the allnecessary police force without which it is little more than a debating society and a forum of world opinion.

The strong stand of France, Britain and Israel may have been made at one of the turning points of history.

In Great Britain itself, the Labor party expected to ride into power on the crest of anti-Conservative feeling. Conservatives but now is by no means as confident. A poll of public opinion throughout the whole nation shows that Eden's move has actually enhanced the position of the government.

Independent British newspapers which have opposed military action now say the letters they are receiving show an increasing trend toward the government.

A key example is that of The Observer which reports that of 1,227 letters it received up to last Sunday, 866 opposed the newspaper's stand against the government compared with 302 in favor.

The Daily Mirror in an editorial says the campaign which it and others conducted "has not convinced the public of the justice of the policy on Suez."

Opposition leader Hugh Gaitskell is reported to have admitted in a private meeting that one reason for the swing is "the apparent view of many people that the prime minister had stopped a war."

GARAGE STYLES WILL HAVE TO CHANGE

An advertisement in a recent issue of The Ontario Intelligencer announced a new garage, "with the forward look."

To match the "forward look" in cars, no doubt.

Few people change their garages as often as they change their car. Yet garages should be tailored-to-measure. And car measurements have altered enormously during the past decade. So, too, have the measurements of many an individual car owner, but the tailor has managed to keep pace with these changes. The family car, however, has not been so fortunate. In many cases garages have remained unchanged. Now it is become imperative. Even when it placed its nose against the farwall, the 1956 car found its bustle exposed to the weather. The garage got a little bib tacked on to its length, sometimes in a completely different architectural style.

Now with the height of cars dwindling as fast as their length and width is increasing, there seems to be real need for a complete redesigning of the garage. In fact, home-owners might find that there is an ideal place to tuck away the family chariot in what was formerly unused space. Underneath the front veranda there is a ready-made garage for the 1956 car — or there would be if 1956 homes still had front verandas.

JUST IN TIME

Let no man criticize the speed at which the courts move. The wisdom of those entrusted with handling the throttle of our court machinery has just been proved in striking style. At Ottawa on Thursday fines totalling $12,000 were levied against six Ottawa firms. Their offence—violating the city's early closing law. When? During the 1955 Christmas season. The verdict comes just in time to serve as a warning to stores getting ready for the 1956 Christmas rush.

WRITING

They rapped my knuckles now and then
When I began to use a pen.
They said it would be downright shame
If I could never sign my name.

My father guided with his hand
My way through script's mysterious land,
And said to me one happy night
"The boy is learning how to write."

Painstakingly, as I recall,
I grew to know the letters small.
One great achievement it became
When I had learned to sign my name.

Throughout life's journey from the start
Good writing is a needed art.
Yet, I have friends, and sad their plight,
Grown old, who never learned to write.

Portrait of Betty Co-Ed

By Jack Sullivan, in the Marquette (university) Tribune

Between the innocence of girlhood and the dignity of womanhood we find the amazing creature called the co-ed.

Co-eds come in assorted sizes and weights, but all have the same creed: To make it known with loud fanfare that they are on a date or that they have had it at mealtime.

Co-eds are found everywhere on the campus — blocking doorways, going up the down stairways, yapping in the library and piping off curbs in front of trucks, whispering in the library and losing their pens in church.

Mothers worry about them, fathers dote on them, little brothers hate them, teachers tolerate them and college boys can't make up their minds. A co-ed is permanent with a run in its stocking, beauty with a smudge on its hair and sophistication with its lipstick smeared.

When you are trying to be serious and are studying, co-eds wear either a bright colored swinging bundle of glee. But say something witty and expect her to laugh, and her brain recedes, and she looks at you wide-eyed, although the keen point in your witty funny has been said.

A co-ed is a composite—she has the persuasiveness of a Philadelphia lawyer, the charm and grace of a Mona Lisa, the mind of a Machiavelli, and the tenacity of a shark, she non-sweetness of a child, saint, the optimism of a gambler and the patience of a turtle when it comes to jelly-fears.

She likes new clothes, dates, boys, Christmas vacation, eating out, talking, conversation, athletes, furry stuffed animals, good looking teachers, spring, being sophisticated, and expensive drinks.

She's not much for last year's formal, beards, final exams, dormitory food, studying on Saturday night, 8 a.m. classes, the color of her own hair, that cute girl down the hall, winter, or being on time.

Nobody else can attend college without deciding in what she is majoring. Co-eds can get so much fun out of sunlamps, window shopping or ticket stubs. Nobody else can cram into one small handbag three weeks' history notes, four tubes of lipstick, a manicure set, 27 cents in change, a comb, 13 bobby pins, three keys, a bid to last year's senior prom, a powder puff, two chewed pencils, a package of filter cigarets (no matches, of course), three theme papers, a dog-eared graphed picture of Julius La Rosa.

A co-ed is a magical creature—you can lock your heart against her, but she will get in, you can keep her out of your life, but you can't keep her out of your mind. Might as well give your money is your captor, your boss and your master.

But when you bring her home at night from a date with only the starched prints of her head to roll left she can make you feel like a million men on the breadline as those five magic words: "I had a wonderful time."

Letter To The Editor

Replies to Editorial About Big Trucks

Editor:
Ontario Intelligencer:

I would like to make some comment on your editorial of Saturday, November 10th, which is entitled, "Too Big".

You refer to a large cement-carrying truck and condemn it, and with which is rather an unusual sight on Ontario highways but is a common sight in Quebec, for the U.S., and has been for some years. We have had for some considerable time with four wheeled trailers in Ontario, some years ago but these were found to be unsuitable and unsafe, especially during the winter months and as a result are being gradually discontinued. To take their place, longer semi-trailers were built and in recent years provisions were raised the carrying capacity of a single unit vehicle, able to carry the same weight as the double hook-up, as it was then known.

Obviously you have not consulted with the Department of the Highway Traffic Act or the Public Commercial Vehicle Regulations before writing this article, for had you done so you would have been advised that any carrier is not to use more than any carrier to put on three or four trailers since the maximum length of any vehicle is 65 feet, and may not exceed 50 feet. Any vehicle exceeding these limits may only travel on a special permit issued by the Department and must only travel during daylight hours.

The reference to the struggle which the motorist encounters when experiencing on the Bridge St. hill might well indicate that the unit was overloaded or that it had some mechanical trouble. Those carriers who are known to overload their trucks in many instances and this is a problem which is difficult to overcome can prevent, by weighing more of their vehicles and prosecuting those for overloading. Too few are weighed and summonsed and fined; consequently we find it profitable to take a chance and derive the additional revenue from the extra load or overload. More highway scales or officers manning the scales for one hour a day, or the day and night would effect this remedy in short order.

Now, as to trucks ruining the highways with the weight carried, this is a valid argument which crops up quite often and is usually a result of ignorance of the facts, or deliberate attempt to discredit highway carriers in the eyes of the general public in favor of the railroads. You must take into consideration that the heavily laden gasoline vehicles depend solely on the number of axles on which the weight is distributed and the width of the tires on the vehicle. Again these factors are decided, not by the carriers, but by the Provinces who own and maintain the highways as well as legislate. Many engineers test strips of road under traffic and recommend the size needed for the various weights carried so that damage to the roads will not occur. On top of this, many of the highway carriers use tires larger than needed to persevere the tires and lengthen their life on the road, thus giving more consideration to the road than is called for by law.

As to trucks paying their share of the costs of road building and maintenance, again one needs the facts. Trucks using gasoline or diesel fuel pay 11 cents per gallon tax, just the same as cars but the average loaded transport only covers 4½ to 5 miles per Imperial gallon of gas or diesel fuel, less than one fifth the distance a car would go for the same amount of gasoline tax. Also the fees paid in licences would not be the average motorist. If it be were to know the amounts, they run into thousands of dollars for each vehicle, not $5. or $7 or $10 or $15 as it the case of passenger cars.

We all are looking forward to the day when we will be able to travel ways such as 401, when completed. The trucks do not look as large on four-lane roads and, for the best safety traffic if it wishes to pass, so that no one need be endangered is directed to speeding up the arrival of the day when we can go the four corners.

In conclusion Mr. Editor, I would like to point out one thing and that is the fact that this was not written to start any controversy and expect it will not to any of our friends on the CNR or the CPR who, we are pleased to say, have graciously to accept us after many years of differences of opinion. We trust that before this letter of transportation have their respective places in the sun and can live and let live. It was written however under the old maxim that "there is good in every evil" and no reply would indicate that all were in accord with your remarks. With the co-operation we will find that professional drivers are taught how to drive safely, respect the rights of motorists, and that their employers are paying them a living wage. Articles such as yours are damaging to the co-operative effort put forth by the public commercial vehicle operators and their employers who, in the majority, have fair division points, greatly outnumber railroad employees.

Electronic Secretary

Calgary Albertan

We have just had our first experience with an "electronic secretary". We didn't like it. We think other impressionable people should be warned before the encounter like ours can throw a cold fit into the strife for half a day.

You ring your number. You hear a click at the other end. Then a low buzz. Then a rather startling voice says, "Hello, this is an electronic secretary. There is no one here now." But she invites you to dictate a message.

Probably the second time it wouldn't be. But the unsuspecting first time rather leaves a fellow speechless. What can you say? You feel silly asking when the boss will be back, and the secretary is momentarily bowled over you'd probably be able to dictate a message into the machine at the other end. Executive types are not used to dictating into machines would probably feel right at home, but ordinary Joe is struck speechless.

Next time we'll be ready for 'em. We're going to borrow the boss's machine, make a recording of the most offensive radio singing commercial we can find on the radio dial (that will be the tough part, because there's so much to choose from), and then we're going to play that into the telephone next time we encounter an electronic secretary.

Boy, somebody's going to get paid back plenty for throwing that thing at us.

"I asked Mother if you could have a goodnight kiss and she said 'yes'."

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

NOVEMBER 10, 1936

At the annual meeting of the South Hastings Branch of the Rural Mail Carriers' Association which was held recently in the YMCA here, the following officers were elected: President, W. Cruickshank, Tweed; vice-president, E. G. York, Marlbank; secretary, J. S. Elliott, Tweed; treasurer, A. B. Wannamaker, Foxboro, and J. E. Proulx, Frankford, adjuster. At the close of the business meeting Mr. Charles A. Cameron, M.P., gave an interesting and informative address on the most effective procedure in parliament at Ottawa.

Local news item taken from our file copy at this time in 1886: "An inebriate caused some excitement on Front street near Hotel Street (now Victoria Ave.) at noon today by proclaiming that he would give a premium to any person who would dare "to tread on the tail of his coat." No one took up the challenge and the incident was soon over and the street once more at peace.

The joint congregations at Prescott and Picton, Rev. Rollin and Fuller have extended a call to the Rev. J. W. Maclennan, B.A., of Bath River, New Brunswick, to become their pastor. It was decided upon at a meeting in the Presbyterian Church at Foxboro at which the District Moderator, the Rev. W. A. Hunter, of Madoc, presided.

The Hev. Dr. E. N. Baker, President Emeritus of Albert College, observed yesterday the 84th anniversary of his birth at his home on the campus and received the congratulations and good wishes of many friends.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

I VOTED

Always the proudest moment in my life, at the time, is when I vote. I voted Nobember 6th, and as I came out of the booth, where I marked my wishes and convictions, I looked back on the years, the despair, suffering and death in Hungary, where there were absolutely no free elections and the innocent human beings, for no reason at all. How those people would be overjoyed to be able to live in a country that was free, with the private voting booth in which to enter and record their wishes to their kind of life and government.

I thought of those famous words of Patrick Henry, in the old Colonial days, when he cried in protest, "We have encircled the globe, "Give me liberty, or give me death!" That is the American creed today. Men were willing to die—and did—that they might be free to live a land with no restrictions as to color, religion or nationality. In America all are as one in citizenship.

The gift of the vote is one of the treasures of this citizenship. It is the silent voice of democracy. This is one of the great gifts of freedom. It is a privilege that should never be neglected. I have never been able to understand the indifference of a person toward exercising the opportunity of voting. What wouldn't many people give just to be able to vote their conscience, their own choice.

Voting, just at the few times when I have the privilege, gives me a sense of responsibility and fills me with pride for having been born free in a free land. I am glad that women now may vote, and glad that giving the vote to the youth of our land as soon as the age of 18 has been reached. For so long as they offer up their lives to fight for the freedom that they enjoy, certainly they deserve the vote!

Minnesota Lady Encounters the Hoofla

Six years ago the lady consulted several doctors about something which worried her for a year or more, every few days or few weeks, a drop of blood appeared on her clothing over the left breast. All the doctors took the same attitude — it was serious. But she returned several times to one doctor with the same complaint, and he finally referred her to a specialist, to put her mind at rest.

The specialist said: "There is something definitely wrong, but it doesn't appear to be anything serious. However, if it gets worse you should have something done about it."

As far as the lady could tell, it got no worse therefore.

One day she asked the physician in the health service department of the company where she was employed for something to relieve stiffness of the muscle between shoulder and breast. The doctor didn't like the look of her breast on the other side and urged her to have a surgery staff doctor see it.

Upshot of the whole thing was that a lump was found in the left breast, tissue removed under local anesthesia and examined under microscope by pathologist). The pathologist found malignancy (cancer), and the lady underwent a mastectomy (removal of the breast).

The operation was four years ago last March and although the doctors are not yet ready to say safe she still lives in fear of recurrence.

Now the lady asks some embarrassing questions, which I'd attempt to answer only if I could first discuss the case with each of the doctors she consulted.

"Now, why," asks the lady, "should a doctor, knowing the importance of such small things as bleeding, however slight, be so unconcerned as to brush a person off with 'Oh, it doesn't look like anything'?

"Even the specialist she first consulted didn't suggest a biopsy, says the lady. When a person's life is at stake why gamble?

(Mrs. W. B. R.)

I would like to hear from some good doctors, surgeons, pathologists who have answers to these questions. This Minnesota lady and a million of her sisters are entitled to the best answers the medical profession has for such questions.

You don't know what hoofla means? It means the attitude of all the doctors the lady first consulted except the last trouble was "not serious." And the first specialist, did a masterful job of hedging, procrastinating, or protecting his professional reputation. Had a biopsy been done at that time they were not open and honest. Biopsy would have put off with a subterfuge, "nothing serious," "no organic trouble," or other irrelevant, but negative suggestion. Of course the lady's unuttered question was "is it a cancer of the breast?" and of course the doctors had nothing else to say. Biopsy would have pointed the trouble was "not serious."

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

In view of the prevailing discussion of John Foster Dulles, it is mean to go searching through my 1954 diary to find the following topic: immediately.

"John Foster Dulles makes me think of a large loose bowel. Premium rock hen who, instead of sitting firmly on her eggs, keeps scratching around in the barnyard. Her (his) eggs will addle."

There is something evangelical in the physical appearance of Dulles. That is the intention of his utterance. Maybe he missed his calling. The first time I saw him was at the San Francisco conference in 1945, and I mistook him for a parson. Then after a lapse of years he had the frank look of a man who has been in the pulpit and the clergymen are expected to wear opera. At that time his zeal was such that though a Republican, he had already been accepted by Democrats. Later he was hailed as the instrument of their policy in highest level negotiations with Russia, with Russia, and in framing treaties with Japan. It was a foregone conclusion that he would be secretary of state when the Republicans came into office.

Whether the missions with which he had been entrusted by the Democrats pleased him into a missionary, or whether he got those assignments because he was a missionary by half a dozen times I have glimpsed him since, though not presuming to any intimacy. Once, however, I had been reminded of the character when I was sitting in a Sunday School and fraternal plenics, who, with his coat off and his vest unbuttoned, was busy helping with everything, unloading the picnic provisions from the station, setting up the ropes for the children's races, speaing to the trestles for the tables, here, there and everywhere, subduing the boisterous, lighting the fires, and finally taking action as official starter for the race rees, and, with his vest buttoned and his coat on, he held sway on the Spot to welcome the pastor when he arrived, and presiding him in the heart of the scene, and, indeed, in a voice not equalled even by the pastor's, introducing him to the gathering.

The whole impression, personal, all-seeing type of citizen who is determined that the picnic will be a success.

Strength for The Day

OUR NATURES CAN BE CHANGED

When James A Garfield was in his teens, he wrote these words: "I will make myself a man." And if I succeed in that, I shall succeed in everything else."

He was the son of a widow who had to wash to give her son an education. Immediately after Garfield had taken his seat in the House of the United States, he turned about and kissed his mother. Nobody saw him even him but the opportunity to succeed.

If young people only know how plastic their lives are and how easy it is for them to make out of themselves practically anything they want to become, there would be few failures in the world. The disposition of unregenerate old human nature is to respond to environment and take the broad easy going highway which always leads down. There is no effort in a person who follows a tendency. Even Jesus was tempted, but the Heavenly Father knew human nature and brought it to its full human maturity by means of these temptations.

Someone has said that an evil thought is the work of the devil, whereas a good man is was in God's hands and grows to stature. We are put here in the world to grow. God could bring us into the world mature and perfect beings if He wanted to do so, but there appears to be something in that He wants to do more, namely, to give us a chance to become. For it is good privilege among all the other creatures of the world, to grow souls as well as bodies.

Diefenbaker Asks Support for Conservatives

SARNIA (CP)—If the Progressive Conservative government is voted into office at the next federal election, it will put an end to the "arrogance" of the cabinet and restore the supremacy of the people in Parliament, John Diefenbaker, a candidate for the Progressive Conservative national leadership, said Saturday night.

The cabinet now "seems to regard the House of Commons as a constitutional nuisance and as a robot tape recorder of the wishes of the cabinet," he said in a speech prepared for a district nomination meeting.

"We would encourage private enterprise to launch a national development crusade for Canada," Mr. Diefenbaker, member of Parliament for Prince Albert, continued. "We would reduce the costs of government and thereby be in a position to reduce taxation. . . .

"We would assure agriculture of a fair share of the national income.

"We would maintain a close Commonwealth relationship. Instead of whittling it away by surreptitious means or by public criticism of other parts of the Commonwealth we would, encourage a strengthening of the Commonwealth by the expansion of trade within the Commonwealth."

Referring to the party's national convention, called for next month in Ottawa to choose a successor to George Drew as national leader, he said:

"I suggest that rank and file representatives of industry, labor, agriculture—all walks of life—to be invited to join with unity of purpose in a redeclaration of the philosophy and principles of the party, to the end that a government will be elected which will be servant and not master of the people."

3 HURT IN FIRE

MONTREAL (CP)—A two-alarm fire roared through a three-storey building in suburban Rosemount Saturday, damaging a hardware store, a bowling alley and a sportswear factory, where three youths were injured.

Wants Russia Kicked Out of United Nations

NEW YORK (AP)—A Soviet intelligence officer who defected to the West two years ago said Sunday the people of the United States should "detach themselves" from fear a third world war and thus "immediately lessen the chances of that war erupting."

Nikolai Khokhlov said Americans should realize that people behind the Iron Curtain will continue to revolt until they have secured their freedom from Communist domination.

"Take all the chances you can" Khokhlov said. "Let the people know you support them. Kick Russia out of the United Nations, cut off diplomatic relations with Russia.

"Such steps will win millions of people—soldiers—to your side and immediately lessen the chance of war."

SHOULD CREATE FORCE

Khokhlov told a television panel show (Meet the Press) the United States should create an "international volunteer force for freedom."

Such a force, he said, should be raised by private means rather than by the government, and operate like a volunteer fire brigade. Thousands all over the world would join it.

He said "the Kremlin is bluffing" and the West is "surrendering to that bluff."

Greener Thumbs

BY JOYCE SMITH

A quart mason jar serves for forcing hyacinth bulb as well as preserving food. Put inch each of charcoal and pebbles on bottom; fill with water and place bulb on top of opening. (If bulb is smaller than opening, support with tooth picks.) Keep in dark cool place until roots reach bottom of jar — nine to 14 weeks. Then put in slightly warmer spot covered with paper cone until foliage is well sprouted, when it is set in sunny window to bloom.

Astrophysics Professor Dies

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. Clarence Augustus Chant, 91, founder of the David Dunlap Observatory here and professor of astrophysics at the University of Toronto, died Saturday.

Dr. Chant founded the astrophysics department at the University of Toronto after the Senate approved a decree course in astronomy in 1905.

He planned the observatory, saw to its financing and construction, and directed its operations. He presided over every step, from the pouring of the 74-inch mirror with 2¼ tons of glass, to the observatory opening in 1935.

Hungarians Have Not Lost Sense of Humor

VIENNA, Austria (Reuters)—Even amid the ruins of shattered Budapest, Hungarians have not lost their sense of humor.

Reports here Sunday quoted the wording of posters put in the city streets. One read:

Wanted, a Hungarian prime minister.

Qualifications—a criminal record and Russian passport. Character and backbone unnecessary."

Another read:

Wanted applications for admission to the Hungarian Socialist Workers' party (the new name for the Communists).

If more than 10 are received, a mass meeting will immediately be held.

NO SALUTE, JAILED

DENVER (AP)—A United States Air Force court-martial has sentenced a 20-year-old airman to a maximum 5½ years at hard labor and dishonorable discharge for refusing to salute an officer. Orville Cupp of Dayton, Va., hasn't saluted since the day he was baptized a Jehovah's Witness six months ago. He told the court that regardless of the outcome of his trial he still would refuse to salute or take orders he believed were contrary to the will of God.

Laurel Rebekah Tea, Bazaar Most Attractive, Successful

STIRLING.— On Thursday approximately 160 ladies attended the afternoon tea and bazaar sponsored by Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 211 in the Odd Fellows' hall, Charlotte street.

Mrs. Bessie Patterson was the convener and she with some 160 assistants were responsible for a successful afternoon when approximately $250. was realized.

The dining hall was attractively decorated in a color scheme of red and white. Deep red crepe fringe hung from the ceiling and also from the booths. Various Christmas decorations were arranged in strategic points and this included "Santa and his Reindeer", garlands of roping, candy canes, Santa Claus, baskets of poinsettias and wee lighted evergreens.

The booths were spaced along the east and south walls and part of the west wall in an unbroken pattern and all presented a festive atmosphere.

The tea room was surrounded with large potted Christmas trees all efficiently lighted. White gates were used for entrance to the room and inside were ten quartet tables and the head table.

The long table was covered with a white damask cloth, tri-branched graduated holders with three red tapers, flanked by two glittering cornucopias overflowing with glittery Christmas globes, which scintillated in the electric lights. Two silver services, Christmas serviettes and plates of delicious sandwiches, cookies and relishes added to the beauty. Large pine cones were hung along the west wall, directly behind the table.

Each quartet table was covered with a embroidered luncheon cloth centred with a unique Christmas arrangements in bon effect which held dainty after dinner mints.

Posters were used to advertise the event and a large Christmas cluster of bells decorated the main front door.

The guests were received by Miss Mary Rollin, Noble Grand and Mrs. Olive Whitehead, Vice-Grand and those who wished could view the lodge room before going to the dining hall below. There was ample space to leave their coats in the large hallway.

Mrs. Lydia McKee was treasurer while Mrs. Marion Hall and Mrs. Maud Bell were in charge of the tea room.

The hostesses, who graciously invited the guests inside the booths were Mrs. Leatha Thompson and Mrs. Effie Bailey, PDDP.

POURING

Those who poured at various hours were: Mrs. Mary Plumpton of Belleville, acting District Deputy President for Miss Helen Miller, who is ill and Mrs. W. J. V. Walker; Mrs. Edna Fox, PDDP, and Mrs. W. G. Fletcher. Miss Evelyn Bailey, PDDP and Mrs. H. C. Secker.

Those who served were Sisters, Marjorie Stapley, Helen Neal, Isobel Heasman, June Parnell, Mabel Hall, Joyce Rowland-son, Martha Wells, Mildred Morrow, Keitha Morton, Florence Post, Cleta Elliott, Ollie Thompson, Dorothy Green, and Irene Pollock.

The kitchen was convened by Laura Shortt, and her assistants, Ethel Mumby, Delia Fairfield, Jean Clancy, Lela Belcour, Vera Bailey, Helen Bailey and Margaret Bush.

A record player, loaned by Dorothy McCaughen, provided soft music throughout the afternoon.

The fancy work and novelties booth was convened by Annie Warren with her assistants, Neva Vandervoort, Cora Eggleton and Gena Spry. Here were displayed children's knitted mitts in a variety of colors and sizes, crocheted baskets for warm rolls, baby sets, handkerchiefs with edges of tatting in pastel colors, non-drip candle holders, hot dish mats in crocheted rose design also matching sets of knitted holders, and a large array of small articles suitable for Christmas gifts.

Hazel Mumby convened the candy booth assisted by Nora Wannamaker and Erma Clancy. The table was filled with boxes of chocolate creams and chocolate fudge, a large assortment of maple creams all decorated with nuts and cherries. There were cellophane bags of mixed candy also small boxes assorted or all of one variety. This group had no trouble in disposing of their sweet concoctions.

They also sold Christmas and variety cards, note paper and wrapping paper for the Past Noble Grands.

The apron booth, convened by Gladys Elliott, assisted by Pansie Kane and Dorothy Hall.

There were large coverall aprons in floral print; medium sized aprons in print and broadcloth, and dozens of half size aprons for everyday wear and for dress up occasions. Some were trimmed with fruit applique, others had a deep double flounce, outlined in tic-tac braid, some were made of the floral fruit designs and others were of organdy and broadcloth.

Farmers' market was spaced along the south wall and convened by Marion Carlisle and her assistants, Helen Williams, Mary Costello, Iva Philp, Florence MacMullen and Nina Neal.

The displays included dozens of new laid eggs, baskets of potatoes, some especially decorated with 'mums; baskets and cellophane bundles of carrots, turnips, pumpkins, cauliflower, cabbage; a large assortment of potted mixed African violets, flowering geraniums, jars of grape jam, mayonnaise, maple syrup, cherries, jellies and a large variety of pickled beets, mixed pickles and sliced cucumbers, relishes, horseradish and canned goods. There were several containers of cream, but unfortunately, there was none available for customers.

WISHING WELL

The wishing well was set up next, with a miniature old-fashioned well and oaken bucket. Here mystery parcles, all wrapped in Christmas paper, valued at a quarter each, were drawn up from the bottom of the well. Isobel McIntosh and Ella Davidson did a brisk business and brought out their "sold out" shingle about 4.30 p.m.

The home cooking booth was spread in the south west corner and the long booths were laden with mother's watering food. Pie racks were filled with many varieties of cherry, raisin, pumpkin, apple and lemon, etc. All shapes and sizes of taffy and berry tarts, fresh baked cookies, layer cake, both white and chocolate, log roll cakes, a large assortment of cup cakes, cookies, both dropped and rolled, jam - jams, seven varieties, fruit slices and the eager buyers soon carried off their many food parcels. This was convened by Ethel Dunn, assisted by Edith Tilman, Isobel Barnes, Mary Vandervoort, Edith Bradshaw and Grace Vandervoort.

GROCERY DRAW

In a small centred booth, convened by Verna Woodcock and Bessie Rodgers was a large decorated bushel hamper and two six quart baskets all filled with grocery donations brought in by the lodge members. The winners of these were: large hamper — Mrs. Ed.

Bethlehem Shrine Marks 30th Anniversary

The years may pass, bringing many changes, but the years do not change the beliefs of Order as was once again demonstrated when the Sojourners of the White Shrine of Jerusalem No. 11 met with high ranking officers from many distant points to celebrate their 30th anniversary in the IOOF Hall.

Besides being the annual inspection, ceremonial was conferred on two candidates.

Adah Smith, WHP, welcomed the many visitors.

The Supreme Worthy High Priestess, Bernice Merrill of Detroit, Michigan, gave an inspiring message.

Meta Pointer, PSWHP, of Toronto, Soj Margaret Steele of Toronto and Soj. May Steele DD, Ottawa and Soj. Margaret McKee of Ottawa, also brought greetings from their Shrines, while visitors from Montreal and Kingston also presented.

Following business the Sojourners retired to the upstairs hall, where a delightful repast had been prepared by Soj Dorothy Bushall, Nan Cathcart and committee.

The hall was beautifully decorated with tall standards of yellow and white 'mums, colors of the order. The flags of the two nations were banked with yellow, bronze and rose 'mums.

Eight of the chartered members were honored with corsages.

The tea table was laid with a three-tiered cake in the centre, silver candelabra with yellow and white candles on each side with the plates of lovely sandwiches and cakes showed the many hours of work of the committee.

The toast to the Queen was proposed by Soj. Herb. Reid PWOGS, to the White Shrine by Soj. C. Adams PWHP, and replied to by Soj. Margaret Merrill SWHP, a toast to the chartered members by Soj. Emily Stevens PWHP, to which Soj.L. Austin of Wooler, replied.

The birthday cake was cut by Soj. F. Westover PWOS, bringing another year to a close with visions of more prosperous years to come in close harmony for all Sojourners of the White Shrine of Jerusalem No. 11 of Belleville.

Bateman, Springbrook, small baskets — Mrs. Roy Neal, Belleville and Mrs. George Noble, Stirling.

Convener: Ethel Duffin; assisted by Edith Urman, Mabel Barlow, Mary Vandervoort, Edith Bradshaw and Grace Vandervoort.

Guests were in attendance from Tweed, Thomasburg, Belleville and Campbellford Rebekah Lodges, from Marmora, Frankford and all the nearby centres as well as ladies from the village.

Nearly everything was disposed of by 5 p.m. and the bazaar and tea was a decided success despite the vagaries of the weather here.

The members were thrilled to have their new hall where everything was so convenient and appreciative thanks are due to all those who contributed in any way to the success of the event.

College Hill Bazaar Most Successful

On Wednesday afternoon the Women's Association of College Hill United Church held its annual bazaar and tea in the Sunday School room, which was attractively decorated with evergreens and painted weeds.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. A. Dickens and Mrs. B. Besley, with Mrs. E. Price at the treasurer's table.

Mrs. Bruce Besley, wife of the minister, gave a gracious welcome to the visitors, and after a word of prayer, declared the bazaar officially open.

Immediately a brisk business began at the various booths.

The candy booth, with its eye-catching array of little baskets and cellophane bags containing almost every variety of homemade candy, drew many customers. These were served by Mrs. H. Clarke and Mrs. F. Rodgers.

A long table across one end of the room held a luscious display of home cooking. There were pies, cakes, cookies, buns, tarts, angel cake, and pickles. Those in charge were: Mrs. G. Waite, Mrs. C. Sine, Mrs. H. Nickle and Mrs. J. Ritz.

At a small table Mrs. D. Hunter took orders for Christmas cakes and puddings which were on display.

The sewing booth offered for sale every variety of apron from coveralls to wee tots' bibs, made by a group of ladies under the convenorship of Mrs. Clare Sine. Mrs. H. Nickle and Mrs. J. Ritz.

The knitting booth, with its many skeins of wool in all colors, offered sox, mitts, gloves, pot holders, knit girls' plaid skirts, and novelties. The customers here were served by Mrs. A. Greenwood, Mrs. F. Watson and Mrs. C. Bailey.

At noon, at 4 o'clock, the fish pond became a hive of activity when the children arrived to buy the "fish". Mrs. G. West and Mrs. E. Pine were in charge of this booth.

WELCOME REFRESHMENTS

The tea room offered welcome refreshments. The tea table was lovely with its tea cloth centered by a silver basket containing white, yellow and bronze 'mums, with silver candelabrums, silver holders, set in fluted vases.

Presiding at the tea services during the afternoon were: Miss Ethel Wilson, Mrs. J. Brown and Mrs. A. Treverton.

Convener of the tea room was: Mrs. E. Flunder. Those serving the tasty sandwiches and dainty cookies were: Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. D. Watson, Mrs. J. Sproule, Mrs. H. Elvins and Mrs. J. Townsend.

Replenishing the plates were: Mrs. K. Smith, Mrs. J. Ketchenson and Mrs. M. Vanderpoort.

Mrs. Ritz was also thanked for her help to make the afternoon such a success and the financial returns so gratifying.

Avondale H-S Assoc. Views Teaching of Deaf

Mr. Alec Gordon and his class of pupils from the Ontario School for the Deaf supplied a most enlightening program for the second meeting of the year for the Avondale Home and School Association.

The program conveners were, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Clare. Mr. Clare introduced Mr. Gordon, who most ably and well, illustrated the methods of teaching a child with a hearing loss to speak. To emphasize his points, he called upon a selection of boys and girls from the School for the Deaf. He used the words "Remembrance Day" as an example in speech correction. Also a fine rhythm band to show how a hard-of-hearing child feels vibrations through his feet.

Mr. Gordon stated that there is a junior school, an intermediate and a senior school. Part of each day is spent learning academic subjects; part in crafts; printing, sewing, agriculture or other vocational subjects. When one remembers that the children at the School for the Deaf are, because of their handicap, retarded as far as speech is concerned, after five or six years of teaching a person a miraculous thing to listen to them. All teachers are "a special breed," but the teachers of handicapped children, must indeed, be dedicated.

Dr. Morris Smith expressed the sincere thanks of Mr. Gordon and his OSD children for their demonstration.

The ladies served the children tasty refreshments.

The business meeting consisted of the minutes; the treasurer's report and a discussion as to what should be done to landscape the school grounds.

A motion by Mrs. Ponton, seconded by Mr. J. Musgrove, that the nursery rhyme in one of the plant shrubs and evergreens, was carried.

The meeting ended with a social half-hour and refreshments.

Hospital Aux. Plans Colorful Fashion Fiesta

The forthcoming Style Show being presented by The Women's Hospital Auxiliary promises to be one of the most exciting and colorful yet offered. It is entitled "Fashion Fiesta" and it certainly shall project an atmosphere of rhythmic festivity.

Music provided by Miss Cara Butler will set the tempo and the program which has been planned by the committee in charge with the co-operation of the exhibitors leaves nothing to be desired.

In the afternoon, commencing at 2.30 the first performance will take place. It is being followed by a tea party. However, for those patrons who wish to go on to another event in the afternoon, be assured you may see a complete style show and still have plenty of time to go elsewhere in the late afternoon. Twelve handsome prizes will be drawn for in the afternoon, including an Elgin watch.

In the evening, commencing at 8.30, the second performance will be presented. It is being followed by a coffee party. And twelve more prizes will be drawn for, into the draw on the fur jacket will be the final item. Ladies have a choice of mink, gray or black lamb, squirrel or $300 toward the purchase of a fur coat. The hospital auxiliary style show has always been welcomed by the style-conscious feminine populace of Belleville and area and this time, as always, it is assured they will not be disappointed with the offerings of the various exhibitors.

As the proceeds of "Fashion Fiesta" have been earmarked largely to defray the expenses of setting up and equipping the recently re-opened "Coffee Snack Bar" in its new location in the hospital. The Women's Hospital Auxiliary launched this project two years ago, to provide a long felt need to the public as well as the staff and patients, and now the Coffee Snack Bar has been enlarged, modernized and beautifully appointed and thus will serve a greater number of people more efficiently.

PROBE FIRE

CHATHAM (CP) — Provincial police are investigating a fire at James Rhodes called a "suspicious" fire that destroyed a large barn on his nearby Fletcher line early Friday, with a loss of $15.-000. He said everything was in order when he checked the barn at 11 p.m.

BRUSHES—FOR THAT WELL-SCRUBBED LOOK

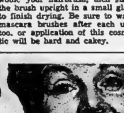
A soft lipstick brush makes application of eye-shadow easier, but brush must be kept absolutely clean for best results.

There's a freshly scrubbed look about today's glamour girl. It is a glistening clean kind of beauty which derives from the use of soap water and brushes.

So many of our beauty routines now involve the use of one brush or another. We brush on mascara and push back the cuticle from finger and toe nails with a stubby oiled brush. And some smart lit girls have even discovered a new trick—the use of a soft lipstick brush to smooth on eye-shadow. Carefully done, it's much more efficient than applying it with the fingertips.



If you like to luxuriate, as no doubt you do, in a warm tub bath, you surely possess a set of bath brushes—especially a long-handled back brush that gets at the spots you'd miss with a wash cloth. Bar sides removing soil and leaving the skin in a glow, a bath brush of stout but flexible bristles stimulates the circulation and relaxes the kinked-up muscles between shoulders and back.

A smaller brush, perhaps one with a strap handle for convenience, lets you give the same beauty treatment to parts across the abdomen and upper and forearms. This same type of brush is also fine for elbows which, from constant rubbing against woollen sweaters and frocks, make a scrubby appearance that's no beauty asset.

A nail brush is a positive necessity for any girl who pounds a typewriter and works with carbon paper. And, of course, there are your hair brushes and your clothes brushes. And all of these require care if you'd keep them working as efficiently as possible.

Don't leave your hairbrushes on your dressing table. They should be kept in a drawer for protection against dust. And don't leave them soaking in the basin when you wash them. Use a mild soap or powder for your hair brush; laundry, rinse well, shake to remove excess moisture, dry a bit with a towel, then stand them on their sides to finish drying. Do not stand brushes on their bristles to dry and do not dry them on a radiator or stove.

Your entire set of brushes deserves a regular washing. That applies to lipstick brushes, also. Even in your bathroom cabinet they are exposed to some dust. Follow about the same procedure in washing a good lipstick brush for eye-shadow brush as you would your hairbrush, then stand the brush upright in a small glass to finish drying. Be sure to wash mascara brushes after each use, too, or application of this cosmetic will be hard and cakey.

FEELING SLUGGISH due to constipation?

Not me!

I'd never heard of a diuretic when my Old Country neighbour suggested that was what I needed to get over feeling listless and run-down. But I tried Kruschen on her advice and it's made a new woman of me! Now I realize that a diuretic can be just as important as a laxative in ridding the body of clogging waste. Kruschen is both a gentle laxative and a diuretic. Actually the salts in Kruschen are similar to those in famous healing Spas and they act in the same way to tone up a sluggish system. Get Kruschen and see how much better you'll feel.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

TODAY'S HINT FOR PLEASING MANNERS

Graciousness . . . Friendliness . . . Amiability. Here is a charming personality-trip, an endearing trio. The possessor of this . . . makes you loved by your friends . . . makes you popular with your co-workers . . . makes you a social success . . . makes you "so nice to come to see by."

THREE BIRTHSTONES ASSIGNED TO DECEMBER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Will you please tell me what is generally considered the December birthstone? I've heard several mentioned, and I'm confused. My mother's birthday is in the last week of December, and my father and her sister are, and I would like to give her a piece of jewelry, perhaps a clip or a pin set with her birthstone. We also had the birthstone idea, and we think she will be pleased.

Actually there are three birthstones assigned to December . . . all of them blue, and all interesting shades of blue. Turquoise . . . zircon . . . Lapis Lazuli . . . any turquoise may be of a beautiful azure blue, or it may be a lovely green-ish-blue. The Lapis Lazuli—which is full of ancient lore and mystery, is a deep, rich blue. The Blue Zircon, the third of December's birthstones, is very popular today. Because it is so radiant, so full of sparkle. Although the Zircon comes in several brilliant colors, the Blue Zircon, in glowing aquamarine tones, is the most lovely. Happily it blends with all colors, and with all other shades of blue.

SHOWER IS STYLE "MRS. WILLIAM SMITH"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband died last month. There has been some discussion as to whether I should now use the form of name "Mrs. William Smith" or "Mrs. Elizabeth Smith." Please tell me which is correct.

—Widow

When a woman is widowed, she still retains her husband's name . . . Mrs. William Smith . . . for all social contacts for the rest of her life (unless, of course, she remarries). If a widow is in business, she may use "Mrs. Elizabeth Smith," as her business name, but this is never correct socially.

SHE SHOWED COURTESY AND RESPECT BY RISING

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Recently a dear friend in our group of friends died. At the Funeral Home our group were seated across one side at the end of the room, the women in front of the men at the rear. I happened to be the one seated nearest the door.

When I saw one of the girls bringing the deceased's mother and father-in-law toward us, I immediately rose and took a couple of steps toward them and extended my hand, in sympathy. I was about right away as they moved on down the line, but none of the other ladies in our group stood up. Was I right in standing, as I did, or should I have remained seated, as the others did? — A.T.

My deep salutations to you for your courteously rising at once to show your respect and warm understanding. Your fine instant to rise at once and to extend your hand in sympathy was absolutely right. All the others in your group, every one of them as well as every man, should, of course and naturally, have risen . . . even if they hadn't done this as instinctively as you did, your courtesy in rising should have given them the example to rise.

Cooking Is Fun With An Electric Frying Pan

By Mary Moore

What I like about my electric frying-pan is that I can work beside it, chopping things, tossing them into it, giving them a stir, then on to the next ingredient. In other words it is right under my nose and handy while I prepare or measure.

Some of you people would have chuckled to see me getting these meat balls (below) ready for the photographer to come and take pictures of them bubbling. As soon as he was finished I ran them over to Eleanor's house for their dinner at about one minute to six.

I couldn't bear to waste them and we didn't have time to eat them for there were other pictures to be taken of the 1956 fruit cake . . . and me. As usual those of me look like passport or prison photos.

Ideal for your nice new electric frying pan are

MEAT BALLS IN ITALIAN SAUCE

One lb. ground beef, 1 slice whole wheat bread soaked in 1-4 cup hot water, 1 medium-sized egg, 2 grinding of pepper, 1-8 teaspoon each MSG and garlic salt, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Note—If desired you may use 1-4 raw garlic clove chopped finely but remember there is some in the sauce too. Mix all ingredients together and shape into 1 1-2 inch balls or smaller. Saute in electric frying pan 2 or 3 tablespoons olive or corn oil until brown on all sides. Lift out of pan and put on a plate while you make the Sauce—To the oil left in the pan after browning the meat balls add a little more to make it up to 2 or 3 tablespoons again. To this oil add 1-4 of a large Spanish onion chopped coarsely, 1-2 garlic clove chopped finely, 1 cup chopped celery tops, 1-4 of a green pepper cut in slivers. Saute them gently until they are limp then add 1 2-oz. tin tomato paste, 1 20-oz. tin tomato juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1-4 teaspoon nutmeg, grinding of pepper and simmer gently 1 hour, but 1-2 hour before this time is up add the meat balls. Five minutes before the hour is up add 1-2 cup chopped parsley and 2 tablespoons grated old cheese. Cook 8 oz. spaghetti in very large amount of salted water until tender. Drain well. Serve this under the meat balls and sauce. Pass extra grated cheese, and for fun Italian bread sticks.

Did you know you could make

in your electric frying-pan? Allow heat melt 1-3 cup butter and stir in 1 1-2 cups brown sugar. Cover bottom of pan with pineapple rings, swimming in this syrup. Sprinkle them with 1-3 cup pecans and if desired fill centres of rings with whole maraschino cherries. Spread over them this batter—Cream 1-3 cup shortening with 3-4 cup sugar. Beat in 2 eggs. Sift together 2 1-4 cups sifted flour, 2 1-4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt. Add them to butter-egg mixture alternately with 1-4 cup milk, stirring until smooth. When batter is spread over syrup and fruit and cook at 325 deg. for 25 to 30 minutes or until batter springs back when touched. Place large plate over frying-pan and invert. Serve hot.

ADVICE To The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

JUST WHAT IS IT YOU'RE "HUNTING"?

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

At my age—I'm in my late forties—I suppose I should know all the answers in regard to getting along with a man.

I've been a widow for some time, but have never lacked for male companionship. However you know how people talk about such things, so I've decided to remarry.

Not long after I made up my mind to do this, a very attractive man came along who had been cast aside by his bookworm girl friend. Since he was feeling rather low at the time, he was easy enough to catch.

However, now that I have him I don't feel I could stand him the rest of my life. I guess some of his former girl friend's bookishness were off on him and I find him as awful bore. So far, I can usually direct his attention my way, but if I should marry him, would I be able to shake him occasionally for a little fun and relaxation with my own friends? He's like a child in his efforts to please and also like a child in that you can't get rid of him when you want to.

I might be better off to hunt for someone else. What do you think? — Mrs. E.P.

Dear Mrs. E.P.:

I think it all depends on what you're hunting for—merely a new husband, just for the sake of having a man around the house, or a mate who will share your interests, and whose interests you can share, so you'll be happy companions.

If you want the former, what difference does it make who you marry? If you want the latter, would you really be such an idiot as to marry a man who already bores you, to whom you obviously consider yourself vastly superior, and whom you would wish to "shake" when you wanted to enjoy yourself?

As for thinking that you might be better off to "hunt" for another one, I suggest you substitute the phrase "watchful waiting" for the word "hunting" in considering.

By this, I don't mean for a minute that you should just sit around home and wait for some eligible man to come up and knock on your door. What I do mean is that you should take part in all the activities you can that offer an opportunity to meet new people—women as well as men, for women do have male relatives, you know, including, sometimes, bachelor brothers, cousins, or brothers-in-law, to whom you might get introduced.

If you want to call that "hunting," all right. But my idea is, rather, to have just as active a social life as you can, so that you'll be having good times whether eligible men come around or not, and so that you'll avoid giving the impression that you're hunting a man, which, of course, is the surest way to make any man run for cover.

If you genuinely concentrate on making friends, and having good times for their own sake, instead of concentrating on hunting a possible husband, you're more likely to find the man you want. It may be, you know, that if you were really concentrating all your effort, instead of on the second, you wouldn't have got stuck with such a bore.

And one more word. You say you "know how people feel about such things." Well, I know that people don't usually talk unless they have something to talk about. So watch your step.

INDIA GETS RUSS CREDIT

NEW DELHI (AP)—India has received a long-term credit of 600,000,000 rupees ($126,000,000) from the Soviet Union, a government spokesman announced Thursday. The money, repayable within 12 years at 2½ per cent interest, will be used to buy machinery, coal mining equipment and materials for a fertilizer-oil refinery from Russia.

J. Booth Speaks On 'Terylene' At So-Ed Club

The So-Ed Club of the Belleville Y.M.C.A. held its 7th meeting of the fall session at the Campbell Street Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday night.

The meeting began with interest activities during which reviews were made of the material taken in preceding instruction periods.

After the interest activities, the groups gathered for the guest speaker, Mr. J. Booth was introduced by Reta Christie. Mr. Booth is technical service superintendent Textile Fibre Division, Canadian Industries Ltd. of Kingston. Mr. Booth spoke on terylene plastics which are similar to dacron and which have become exceedingly popular in the U.S.A. Mr. Booth kept the meeting's interest at a high pitch especially the humour and showed various items of clothing made from terylene.

The guest speaker was thanked by Bert Hiles, So-Ed president, and presented with a momento of his visit.

Bert Hiles also presented the appreciation certificate to Ed Dog McDougall who conducted the badminton classes and Messrs. Townsend and Mott who conducted the bridge class. To these people, So-Ed is indeed grateful.

Refreshments were served after the presentations consisting of coffee, baked beans and brown bread and crackers.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to dancing with various ladies' ing dances in keeping with the Sadie Hawkins theme of the evening. As is the custom of the So-Ed dances were chosen to cater to a wide variety of tastes and the evening was a great success.

Next week's meeting will mark the finale of the So-Ed 'Fall '56 session and will take the form of a ball on deck of the "S. S. So-Ed" with the usual carnival of dancing and refreshments.

The So-Ed Club is planning a dancing party later in November to which the membership look forward with trepidation of another enjoyable evening.

IT'S "OPEN SEASON"

For Christmas Shoppers--

Naturally, there is nothing that delights the heart of a child more than to receive some sort of toy or game at Christmas time. We would like to point out to the shopping public of this district that toys for children of all ages are a line unto themselves. We, at Schwab's, have made a study of this type of goods, and we maintain a large toy department for 52 weeks of every year. In other words, we haven't gone out to purchase any old toys . . . improvise a department— and try to "get on the bandwagon" as it were, because people are looking for toys. We shop the world market almost a year in advance for the best toys that are available and we back up your purchase with our tried and true guarantee that you must be satisfied, or you get your money back. If anything should go wrong with the toy buy, you are sure that SCHWAB'S will still be in the toy business to make your purchase right. Our toys will not be packed away for another year to await the "open season" on toy shoppers. So when you're shopping for toys, why take second best? Come where the selection is large, the prices are right, and the service is there. Shop at Schwab's for your toy needs.

Years Have Mellowed Fiery Priest Of Shrine of The Little Flower

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — The years have mellowed the fiery priest of the Shrine of the Little Flower.

At 65, Rev. Charles E. Coughlin in his pulpit at the Roman Catholic shrine speaks and looks like a philosopher. He gave up his controversial radio career 16 years ago.

He still has the eloquence that made his name a household word a generation ago. Today, instead of denouncing politicians and bankers, he is centring his fire on the devil.

Father Coughlin's fame reached its peak in the depression years of the 1930s as a champion of the poor.

From the start of his radio career in 1926, he had the backing of his superior, Bishop Michael J. Gallagher of Detroit, until the bishop's death early in 1937. The bishop once said:

"Father Coughlin speaks on behalf of millions who are denied their just share of this world's goods."

Father Coughlin stopped broadcasting for a short while after Bishop Gallagher's death, but later in 1937 he started a new series of broadcasts. He soon was in hot water again although his radio speeches were on the mild side. He was quoted as saying at a press conference that a good Catholic could no more be a member of the CIO than a Mohammedan. His new superior, Archbishop Edward Mooney of Detroit, who later became a cardinal, said the priest was in error. The archbishop said there was no incompatibility between the CIO and the church. Father Coughlin rejoinded his predecessor.

Back on the air in 1938, the priest got into a row with Jewish groups over who started the revolution in Russia, but he denied anti-Semitism.

Father Coughlin definitely left the air waves in 1940. He dissociated himself from the magazine Social Justice he had founded to advocate his political and economic views of the National Union for Social Justice.

Abandoning public controversy, the priest devoted his full attention to his parish. When he founded it in 1926, he had a small shingled church and a congregation of 50.

Radio listeners, Protestant and Jewish as well as Catholic who were charmed by the priest's eloquence, poured in gifts that helped build a new church. It is an imposing octagonal stone structure with a crucifixion tower standing as a landmark on the main northern entry into Detroit.

In celebrating the shrine's 25th anniversary, Father Coughlin said, "If I had it to do over again I would not talk about economic and political change, but would speak in terms of ethical changes and Christ's way of life."

Father Coughlin observed his 40th anniversary as a priest this year. Before becoming a parish priest, he taught philosophy at Assumption College, Windsor, Ont. He is a native of Hamilton.

WILL BACK U.N., SAYS PRIME MINISTER

Two of the 2,000 guests, Mrs. D. H. Hahn and Mrs. D. Stanley, who gathered in Toronto to hear an address by Prime Minister St. Laurent, congratulate him on the anniversary of his eight years in office. The prime minister said the government was prepared to back U.N. administrator General Burns in his policing of the Suez. Canadians in the Suez force would be policemen, not soldiers, he said, but they would repulse any attack. (Central Press Canadian).

CENTENARY

W.A. Sponsors Most Successful Tea, Bazaar

CENTENARY — In the beautiful sunshine of Wednesday afternoon a good number of ladies attended the Centenary W.A. tea and bazaar. Mrs. L. Pearson and Mrs. F. Edmondson took turns in taking care of the nursery for small children so the mothers could feel free to enjoy the afternoon.

The church hall was lovely with new curtains of wine, yellow and white, hung with streamers of yellow and white, making a background for the booths arranged in a U shape at the end of the hall around to the tea-room. Pots of chrysanthemums in various shades added much to the beauty of the hall.

The president, Mrs. F. M. Nobes and Mrs. R. Percival welcomed the guests as they arrived. The fees were in charge of Mrs. Edgar Ray. Guests were in attendance from Wesley, White's, Wallbridge, Stone, Aikens, Johnstown, Avondale, Cannifton, Foxboro and Belleville.

Mrs. Byron Harder was in charge of the "Touch and Take" and "White Elephant" table, wherein a great collection of pictures, cheese dishes, shoes, jewelry, an oil lamp, cushions, Christmas novelties and a magazine rack along with other treasures intrigued the buyers.

LOVELY DISPLAY

The doll and children's clothing table was in charge of Mrs. John Reid; she had a lovely display of children's sweaters, dresses, pyjamas and pyjama-bags, bedrolls, mittens and gloves, playaprons, with compartments in the skirt which held a box of crayons, and an assortment of clothing for a doll's wardrobe.

Mrs. P. Aikens and Mrs. W. Calvert were in charge of a most tempting array of home cooking; the tables were loaded with candy, layer cakes, cup-cakes, tarts, pies, individual pumpkin pies, home-made bread, buns, angel cakes, donuts, novelty snowmen made from apples, chili sauce, pickles, and grapejuice along with other good foods, all making a toothsome display and finding a ready market.

Mrs. D. Hahn and Mrs. J. W Sargent were in charge of the flower booth which was most attractive with a beautiful display of African violets, ivies, ferns, parsley, babies' tears, geraniums and pansies.

The novelty and apron booth was in charge of Mrs. P. Ray, Mrs. H. Hancock and Mrs. Ralph Losey. On this table were found ornamental ivies, teapot stands, children's books, earrings, pins, and brooches; a doll's chesterfield and separate chairs. There were also some lovely bits of hand crochet, embroidered work and potholders, while aprons of every description were piled high.

TEA ROOM

Mrs. Roy Thrasher invited the guests to the tearoom where the tea table was laid with its long white cloth, centred with a vase of mums, silver candlesticks with lighted yellow candles and silver tea services. Mrs. M. Mooney and Mrs. H. G. McLeod poured tea for the first half of the afternoon and Mrs. R. Hart and Mrs. R. Percival for the later half.

Each table for four was covered with a snowy white cloth and centred with a vase of mums. The refreshing cup of tea was served, with ample helpings of dainty sandwiches, relishes and tiny cookies and tarts, by Mrs. J. Emerson, Mrs. K. Johnston, Mrs. W. Lewington, Mrs. J. Murray, Mrs. P. Sutherland and Mrs. W. Shortt. The tea table was replenished by Mrs. F. Edmondson and Mrs. S. L. Pearson.

The tea room and kitchen were in the capable care of Mrs. R. Edmondson, Mrs. G. Sills and Mrs. R. Cummings assisted, while Mrs. E. Hart made the tea.

Everyone, guests, conveners and committees in charged seemed to enjoy themselves and all felt that the bazaar was a decided success. The financial returns will be reported by the W.A. over $130.

Centenary

CENTENARY — The Young People enjoyed a skating party sponsored by the South Hastings Y.P.U. in the Belleville arena on Monday evening.

Mr. Robert Percival delivered a fine sermon on "Remembrance" at Centenary Sunday morning service.

The stewards and elders held a business meeting at the church on Friday evening. At this meeting they declared the new hall free of debt.

Sgt. and Mrs. F. Titus, Ottawa, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Means.

Mr. W. M. Hitchon spent the earlier part of the week with a hunting party at Coe Hill. Happy to report that Bill got his deer.

Several persons in the neighborhood are suffering with heavy colds and mumps have appeared among the school children.

Master Gordon Donnelly has returned to hospital for further treatment on his leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Marshall, Billie and Ray spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ray.

Mr. Harold Hancock is spending a few days at the Royal Winter Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Vader have taken up residence on the Frankford Road.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Downey, London, were overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Edmondson, on Wednesday.

The executive of the Christian Educational Council of Sidney and Trenton held a supper meeting in Centenary Church hall on Thursday evening; during this meeting plans were made for a rally and worship for all teachers and those interested in Sunday School work to be held in Centenary Church hall at 7 p.m.

Gore

GORE — The Victoria Mission Band had a food sale on Belleville market on Saturday and realized a nice sum.

Mr. Roger Redner, of the Kemptville Agricultural School spent the weekend at his home here.

Mrs. Kenneth Green, Ronald and Sandra were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Green, Keene.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Palmer, Beverly and Howard spent Sunday with Mrs. M. Humphrey and John, 3rd concession.

Miss Mary Lou Black, of McDonald College, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Redner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Price and Howard, of Shelby, were Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Pulver.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Townsend motored to Toronto on Monday and are spending a few days with their son, Asabel, and family.

Mr. Arnold Fox, Peterborough, visited his grandmother, Mrs. Julia Fox, and uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Fox, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Redner entertained to a family dinner party on Sunday in honor of the 35th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Black of Bloomfield.

Mrs. Roscoe Vandewater, Belleville, has been convalescing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Redner.

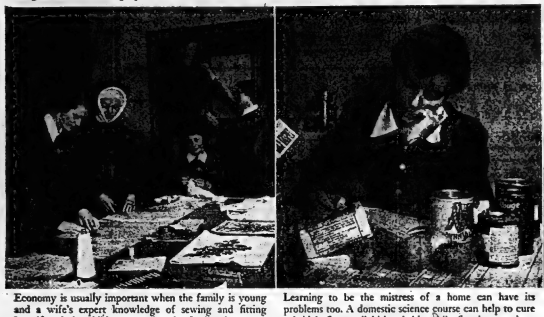
Housekeeping School



Good housekeepers don't grow like Topsy. Grandma learned by the trial and error method but today's young women can take one of Canada's numerous courses in domestic science. At St. Jacques-de-L'Achigan, Quebec, arts and handicrafts are part of a well designed curriculum to prepare the student for her future role as homemaker.

A fourth year student keeps a young visitor amused between bites. The care of children is an aspect particularly stressed in homemaking courses. A ten day stay in a public nursery under careful medical supervision is a compulsory part of a course in family education.

The student receives an aptitude or competence certificate after two or three years of study, and on completion of the full four year course, a university degree which entitles her to teach in the primary classes of a domestic science school.

Economy is usually important when the family is young and a wife's expert knowledge of sewing and fitting herself and the children can give the family that smart look necessary to an up-and-coming businessman.

Learning to be the mistress of a home can have its problems too. A domestic science course can help to cure a bride's fingernail biting habit while figuring out how to provide a nourishing diet on a balanced budget.

Making and watching the garden grow is a happy hobby that pays off in a well-stocked larder. The School Farm gives students a basic knowledge of gardening as well as plant life for home medicinal purposes.

The social graces are an important part of the training. Top physical education teachers provide the girls with lessons in dancing as well as gymnastics.

Ford to Produce New 'Edsel' Cars

TORONTO — An entirely new line of automobiles, bearing the name "Edsel", will appear on Canadian highways next fall. The Edsel will be produced and distributed in Canada by Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited.

President Rhys M. Sale made the announcement here today, coinciding with a similar statement at Detroit by Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Company in the United States.

The advent of the new car has been a matter of public conjecture for months. It has been referred to as the "X" car ("X" for experimental) by engineers, and as the "Venture" by stylists, but Mr. Ford confirmed today that some automotive writers had been correct in their guesses that the name would be "Edsel". The name was chosen after company officials had sifted through 18,000 suggestions, and honors Mr. Ford's father, Edsel Bryant Ford, who had been president of Ford U. S. for 24 years prior to his death in 1943. Edsel Ford also was president of Ford of Canada from 1927 to 1939, and took a deep interest in the affairs of the Canadian company.

"The Edsel results from years of study," Mr. Sale said. "The styling and engineering of the car are now complete, the tools for production are being made, and the Edsel will be introduced next fall.

CHILD HANGS SELF

WINDSOR (CP) — Nine-year-old Michael Kenny accidentally hanged himself with his dressing gown cord Sunday night. His parents found him hanging from the top of a double-decker bunk.

Little Benny's Notebook

Ma was looking at the movie page in the paper to help pop decide what picture she wanted him to take her to see, and she said, Everybody says Dolly Darley is wonderful in The Tiger Woman.

Everybody must be delirious, pop said. Dolly Darley couldn't be wonderful even if she appeerd in person handing out 50 dollar bills, he said, and ma said, Now William, be fair.

Okay, I admit if she handed out 50 dollar bills she might seem almost attractive, pop said. I'll go even farther than that. There was a time when I would of considered her wonderful, he said, and ma said, When do you mean?

In my extreme youth when I was intristed in paper dolls, pop said. I've heard on good authority that Dolly Darley got her start as a model in a paper doll factory. You cant name a thing that her face doesn't express, except emotion, he said, and ma said, That's where you do her a grate injustice. Everybody knows reserve and repression are the highest form of art, and that's just why audiences flock to her pictures in droves, she said.

By golliee that's the anser, pop said. Guessing games are the most popular form of sport, and millions of people can spend an hour and a half at a Dolly Darley picture trying to guess by her facial expression if she is wondering whether to take a nap or if she has meerly learned that she has to have a leg amputated just above the hip. You're absilutely right about her, my dear. Furthermore, it's a woman's werld, and I'm helpless in it, he said.

Meening he would take her to see Dolly Darley in The Tiger Woman.

Soviet Secret Police Tried To Kill Hungarian Primate

MODENA, Italy (AP)—An Italian newspaper correspondent Sunday quoted an aide of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty as saying Soviet secret police tried three times to kill the Roman Catholic Church's Hungarian primate.

Correspondent Angelo Orl of the Gazzetta de Modena said his source was Rev. Bela Ispenky, protocol aide to the cardinal, interviewed last week in Vienna. Father Ispenky is believed to be in a refugee camp at present.

Ori said Father Ispenky told him the attempts were made from 1945 to 1949. Ispenky was sentenced to life imprisonment with Cardinal Mindszenty under the Communist regime in Hungary in 1949.

A Hungarian court cut the sentence to four years a month after the trial but he told Ori he was released from jail with the cardinal in the recent Hungarian uprising. The cardinal took temporary refuge in the U.S. Embassy in Budapest. Ispenky escaped across the frontier into Austria.

GIVES ACCOUNT

This was the substance of the Italian journalist's account, as told to him by Ispenky.

The first attempt on the cardinal's life was made in 1945 after the primate urged Hungarian Catholics not to vote for the Communist party. A Russian secret police major in Budapest tried to induce Rev. Sandor Szepesdy, of the cardinal's entourage, to put poison in Mindszenty's food. Szepesdy warned the cardinal.

The same Soviet major tried — twice more — seeking to "arrange" highway accidents in which Mindszenty's automobile would be rammed by heavy trucks. The "accidents" were avoided because the cardinal was warned.

BEAUTY STEALS MINK

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Police are searching for a woman who took a $1,000 stole Thursday. The attractive miss walked into a swanky fur store, asked to be shown "something nice" and tried on a $1,000 white mink cape. As a saleslady turned her back, the young lady strolled out the front door and disappeared.

WAR-SCARE IN LATVIA

MOSCOW (AP) — People in Latvia have started war-panic buying of matches, soap and salt, the Communist official Latvian newspaper Sovietskaya Latvia says. "War is not coming," says the newspaper, "but even if it were and even if each of you bought a ten of soap there would still be plenty more."

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

ROCKETING

Have you ever seen a bird mount perpendicularly from a road, rock, meadow, or your own feeding tray? It seemed to fly without any preliminary run. As a matter of fact, it leapt, aided by its wings.

The river ducks are able to rise abruptly from the water. From the birds' sitting position, a good portion of the body being under water, their wings cannot flap to gain height without hitting the water; and so they must first leap — then, in a fraction of a second, the wings are able to be of some help.

Black ducks, (details thought to be the most intelligent and wary of the whole duck family), very often mallards, and blue-winged teal when surprised rocket in this way. As their bodies are heavy, their legs for the pounding against water is not nearly as satisfactory as pushing against solid ground, the effort put into this must be very great.

But their pinions are particularly strong and stiff, so that once the leap has taken their webbed feet above the surface of the water. For some time water splashes under the huge, webbed feet which give the impression of snowshoes. Then the water if left behind as it appears to rise—but the legs keep on working, and the Duck appears to be running in the air. Finally, the usual flight position is taken, and off goes the bird, head, body, and tail pretty much in line, neck stretched forward, rather short, pointed wings flapping stiffly and rapidly up and down, feet neatly tucked under the usually short little tail.

Other ducks can rise rapidly. The splash of water and roar of wings occasioned by this feat is something to witness when a whole flock flies up at our approach, bodies at an angle of 45 degrees or perhaps even vertical.

However, not all ducks take off in this manner. That very fast flyer, blue-winged teal, ordinarily acts like the sea ducks, such as scaup, ring-necked duck, and canvas-back, all of which begin by straightening up—that is by pushing themselves above the water with their wings. Then they patter for skitter, as it is sometimes called) along the surface, often for a considerable distance before they are able to rise, gradually gaining height before they actually fly.

A really comical sight is one of these birds taking enormous strides over the top of the water, wings raised, head eagerly poking forward. For some time water splashes under the huge, webbed feet which give the impression of snowshoes. Then the water if left behind as it appears to rise—but the legs keep on working, and the Duck appears to be running in the air. Finally, the usual flight position is taken, and off goes the bird, head, body, and tail pretty much in line, neck stretched forward, rather short, pointed wings flapping stiffly and rapidly up and down, feet neatly tucked under the usually short little tail.

REACHES HALF

STRATFORD (CP)—The Stratford Shakespearean Festival has reached the halfway mark in its campaign to raise $1,500,000 for a permanent theatre fund, President A. M. Bell reported at the annual meeting Friday night. Net festival loss this year was $24,700, which Mr. Bell said was made up largely of depreciation of the tent which has served the festival since it started four years ago.

By 1960 Saskatchewan's Mines May Produce as Much Wealth As Province's Wheat Fields

LA RONGE, Sask. (CP)—Known for 200 years as a producer of fish and furs, Saskatchewan's northland is emerging as a mineral-rich land that may make this province one of the continent's leading mining areas.

This part of the wheat province is moving underground to bolster its one-crop economy, and government officials predict that by 1960 mineral production will equal the grain crop in value.

Mining companies have invested $75,000,000 in recent exploration and development in Saskatchewan's 100,000 square miles of precambrian shield, and Labor Minister C. C. Williams says mineral production will be "worth $300,000,000 annually by 1960," ultimately equal to the annual return from wheat.

ACTIVE DEVELOPMENT

The uranium finds in far northern Saskatchewan already have made mining history. But La Ronge is beginning to steal the thunder from placers like Uranium City and Beaverlodge. Copper, nickel and other base metals are the talk of other areas.

This settlement of 500 persons on the southwest shore of Lac La Ronge, 170 miles north of Prince Albert, already has overtones of Uranium City as a centre of claim staking, and the influence of the mining development can be seen in the changing economy.

In the 12 months preceding to the province during September, 709 were in the Lake Athabasca uranium area and 1,100 in this district, filed through the claims office here.

Evidence of mining activity increases daily. Diamond drilling rigs are plentiful, and drillers are becoming as numerous as fishermen and hunters. Drilling reports are examined with the same enthusiasm as fine trout in this famed fishing centre.

Northeast and east of here are mining camps where test pits and shafts are going into operation. A 300-foot shaft with four levels has been sunk on a property at Moose Point, jutting into the lake from the northeast. Another company is sinking a $1,000,000 shaft 51 miles east of here.

STEADY INFLUX

The two properties were the first copper finds in the area and strikes there started a rush last year in which 2,500 claims were filed in a single month.

The steady influx of miners, geologists, drillers and exploration workers and their families has doubled business in the village of 1,000 persons used to die down in winter when tourists left, but trade now is steady all year.

The Saskatchewan government trading post and the Hudson's Bay Company have new stores where they can outfit a tourist, fisherman, trapper, prospector and provide months of supplies.

Services offered include staking, assessing, sampling and prospecting of properties. Also provided by various firms are geiger and engineering services, consultant geologists, diamond drilling and mine development. Prospectors can purchase ready-made cabins from other suppliers.

TRANSPORT COSTLY

Prices are high because of transport costs, but wages are high, too. Miners and drillers can earn $500 to $600 monthly.

Today, only the road and the airways link this village with Prince Albert, Saskatchewan's northernmost city. Government and mining men hope that record visits by railway officials mean a railroad will be built to La Ronge soon.

The chamber of mines at Prince Albert says if enough mines reach production stage, a central smelter likely will be built. La Ronge believes it has a good chance of being the site.

Much of the prospecting in northern Saskatchewan now is done by large companies with highly-trained teams of geophysicists, geologists and technicians, working in air and ground parties. But there are still many individual prospectors leading a lonely, rugged life.

HIGH RETURNS

For some, the dream comes true. Gunnar Uranium's rich property on Lake Athabasca was found by prospector Albert Zeeman when he walked out of his tent into a swampy pasture of yellow uranium oxides. He made $250,000 on the find.

Equal amounts went to prospectors George E. Blier and Frederick Glasspoole for a base metal discovery 290 miles north of here.

La Ronge, hoping its mining development will be as rapid as the uranium field farther north, points to the statement by A. D. Fairweather, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways: "Industrial development in Saskatchewan begins north of Prince Albert."

RAISES RELIEF

DELHI, Ont. (CP)—The Delhi Hungarian Club, one of the largest in Ontario, said Friday it has raised $3,000 of a $10,000 objective for stricken people in Hungary.

Besides that, several tons of clothing have been collected and 520 persons donated blood.

Nehru Certain Hungarians Will Win Eventually

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru declared today that "the arms and brutal coercion of armed might against unarmed nations" in Egypt and Hungary would fail.

Events have shown that undoubtedly the government in Hungary is not a free government but an imposed one, and the Hungarian people are not satisfied with it, he told the Indian parliament.

"I have no doubt that sooner or later the Hungarian people will have demonstrated so vividly their desire for freedom will triumph."

Nehru has been criticized at home and abroad for his attitude towards events in Hungary, particularly since India voted against a resolution in the United Nations calling for free elections there under UN supervision.

WANTS OBSERVERS

In his speech to the House of the People (lower house) today, Nehru said impartial observers, preferably from the UN, should be allowed to visit Hungary and the occupied areas of Egypt to report on the facts.

He hoped the governments and authorities in both places would allow observers to enter their territory.

Nehru said he was more impressed by the passive resistance in Hungary than by the fighting. Dealing with events in Egypt, he said any kind of foreign aggression or intervention is an outrage on liberty.

Parliament was not being given to outsiders to go to Port Said or other parts of Egypt where there were foreign forces, as the situation was not clear.

But he had reason to believe that casualties among the Egyptians and among the Anglo-French forces were much heavier than have been announced.

Two Cleveland Men Rescued

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Two Cleveland men were rescued Sunday when their 38-foot cruiser went off course and ran aground in the Niagara River about two miles above the Falls.

A coast guard cutter, summoned by a ship-to-shore telephone on the yacht, pulled the craft off a reef about 1,000 feet from shore.

Aboard were Robert Jamieson, 62, the owner, and Loren Bullard, 38, both of Cleveland. The cruiser which left Buffalo Sunday, missed the turn into the Erie Canal, authorities said.

The yacht was towed to a shipyard for repairs to damaged propellers. No injuries were reported.

WED IN SINAI

EL ARISH, Sinai Peninsula (AP) — Two Israeli soldiers, Lieut. Gerald Rubin, 26, and Miss Orah Mordecai, a 21-year-old corporal, were married here Sunday night by the light of captured Egyptian flares and rockets. Both bride and bridegroom are members of the Israeli force which captured the Egyptian Sinai Peninsula three weeks ago. They are the first Israelis to be married in the area since the occupation.

HUNGARIANS JUMP SHIP

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Six young Hungarian seamen jumped ship here Thursday night and asked the American Embassy for admission to the United States. Their spokesman said they did not want to "return to a country which again has lost its liberty."

BACK AGAIN FOR CHRISTMAS ORDERS

Old St. Nick is here again, taking orders from little boys and girls across Canada to fill their stockings at Christmas time. He'll have a busy time of it this year as there are more stockings to fill than ever before. But he has never failed yet, and once he has heard from every young girl and boy he'll be off to the North Pole to pick up the toys and be on his way with Donner and Blitzen and all the other reindeer that pull his sleigh.

Ontario Leads In Accidents With 13 Deaths

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Thirty-five persons died accidental deaths in Canada this weekend, 29 of them on the country's highways.

Ontario once again contributed the major portion of the toll, a Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. local time until midnight Sunday showed, with 13 deaths, 12 of them in traffic accidents.

Only Prince Edward Island reported no fatalities. Quebec had six, New Brunswick five, British Columbia four, Alberta three, Nova Scotia two and Saskatchewan and Newfoundland one each. Ontario weekend death toll included:

Donald Carron 18, of Delaware, when his car went out of control and crashed into a utility pole and tree on Highway 2 near London.

HIT BY TRAIN

William Recollect, 33, when struck by a car on the outskirts of Blind River.

Constable Aarvo Ristimiki, 31, of the McKim Township police force, in a car collision at Sudbury.

Gordon Lomax, 20, of Hamilton, when thrown over the handles of a motorcycle.

Edvard Dvernechuk, 25, of Toronto, in hospital after a head-on car collision.

Darwin Christie, 16, of Kemptville, when his car crashed into a tree near Osgoode, 15 miles south of Ottawa.

RANKS TRAITOR

John Gordon Hayes, 16, of Hamilton, when struck by a car.

John Jurgis, 35, when his car rammed the rear of a stationary boom-transport in Etobicoke near Toronto.

Mrs. James Glendenning, 77, in hospital with injuries suffered when struck by a car while crossing a dark street in Orillia.

Ralph A. Mainprize, 32, of Oshawa, and his brother Jack, 24, of Milton, in a collision between their car and a gravel truck.

Irene Sabo, 26, of Scotland, Ont., when his car hit a tree near Brantford.

Michael Kenay, 9, of Windor, accidentally hanged with his dressing gown cord. His parents found the boy hanging from the top of a double-decker bunk.

Gen. A.M. Gruenther Enters Private Life Tuesday After 38 Years As a Soldier

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Alfred Gruenther is known to the world as supreme Allied commander in Europe, a post he will resign next Tuesday to enter private life after 38 years a soldier.

But at Buckingham Palace in London Gruenther also is known as the man who once brought presents.

Palace attendants recall that the general arrived for a courtesy call on the Queen trailed by a Scots aide in kilts whose both arms clutched a large box wrapped in ordinary brown paper.

When the Queen opened the box she found a mechanical doll for her daughter, Princess Anne, and a mechanical bear for her son, Prince Charles.

The presents made a hit with the Royal Family and served to distract them from the attention to the little, personal things that have kindled friendship and the spirit of alliance in the West.

THIRD COMMANDER

Considered one of the U.S. Army's best brains, Eisenhower was appointed supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) defence forces in Europe after President Eisenhower pulled Matthew B. Ridgway off the job to make him U.S. Army chief of staff in 1953.

When he was boss of supreme headquarters Allied power in Europe (SHAPE), Eisenhower called Gruenther his "right hand."

Gruenther has been at SHAPE since 1951, first as chief of staff to Gen. Eisenhower, then as chief of staff to Gen. Ridgway, and finally as supreme commander. He will be succeeded next week by Gen. Lauris Norstad, who has served as his air deputy.

When Eisenhower and Gruenther arrived in Europe to set up SHAPE the common quip was that "all the Russians would need to get to Cherbourg is shoes."

Today SHAPE extends more than 4,8 active divisions along a 4,000-mile front that extends from Norway to Turkey. A similar number of reserve divisions are reportedly ready for front - line duty within 20 days of an outbreak of war.

Military problems are not the only ones that have come Gen. Gruenther's way. He also has worried and worked over economic conditions in each NATO country and carefully evaluated the psychological impact of any decision he has made involving any one of them.

Gruenther is known as a man who focuses a photographic memory, an insatiable curiosity and an amazing ability for analysis on any problem that comes up. No subject has been too unimportant for him to consider; no detail too small.

Gruenther's passion for knowing about every detail has made him invaluable as a staff officer. He has held only two commands—in an artillery battalion and at SHAPE. Between the two world wars he spent 17 years as a lieutenant but when he was promoted to full general in August 1951 he was the youngest the army ever had.

When his retirement was announced last April, Gruenther indicated one of the reasons that prompted him to step down was a feeling that he should "be moving out of the picture" to make room for younger men. He has not disclosed his future plans.

Cause of Death Not Established

HAMILTON (CP)—Police said Saturday night that an autopsy on the body of Geraldine Glover, 35, of Niagara Falls, found a month ago on Hamilton mountain has failed to establish a cause, of death.

No marks of violence were found on the body, however, and the possibility of violence was ruled out.

Investigation was continuing.

QUAKE IN MANILA

MANILA (AP)—A mild earthquake—the fourth within a week —shook Manila Friday night for 20 seconds. No damage was reported.

Plane Collision Kills 3 Airmen

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A jet fighter landing at the Lincoln air force base smashed into two parked B-47 bombers Saturday night killing three persons and destroying nearly $6,000,000 worth of aircraft.

The dead included the fighter pilot and two airmen who were at or near the bombers when the crashes set off a holocaust of hooked fuel.

Seven airmen were injured.

Catholic 'Social Life' Meet Hears Message by Pope Pius

TORONTO (CP) — A message from Pope Pius XII, read Sunday night to the opening session of the Catholic social life conference, calls on Catholics to turn from the "more of less adventurous solicitations of modern thought" to the enduring values of Roman Catholic social teaching.

The message, read to 400 delegates by James Cardinal McGuigan, archbishop of Toronto, emphasized the importance of the teaching of social doctrine in the Roman Catholic Church and said it has precise applications to present world social and economic problems.

Social training must be considered as integral part of the education of Christian youth, it said. Training of a social conscience in social matters was a three-way responsibility of the church, family and civic groups.

It had to extend to all age groups, and every social and professional level.

There were too many young persons today whose ambition was limited to their "little world of personal comforts." They should set up noble and disinterested aims for themselves.

"There is no magical virtue which can transform ideals into reality, except a firm will and the sincere dedication of one's forces. Moral goods are not received from others as a gift, like a legacy, but must be conquered by personal efforts."

Most Rev. Francis Carroll, bishop of Calgary, said religious thought must play a greater part in its day-to-day activities.

"What do you mean by plotting behind my back? I wanted to be an only child!"

25,000 Weary Hungarian Refugees Aided by Red Cross

TORONTO (CP) — The Red Cross has just successfully airlifted more than 25,000 road-weary Hungarian refugees who have straggled by wagon, truck and on foot into Austria, Lt.-Gen. Howard Gluns, public relations director of the Canadian Red Cross Society, said Sunday.

Mr. Gluns, who flew to Vienna with the first shipment of Canadian Red Cross relief supplies Oct. 29, returned to Toronto Saturday.

"Conditions in 15 refugee camps, each accommodating 3,000 to 3,000 persons, are satisfactory," Mr. Gluns reported at a press conference.

"I heard no complaints about food, or other conditions. Our chief threat is the possibility of epidemic, but so far we have adequate medical supplies and facilities."

He expected the operation will continue for some months and as much as $1,000,000 may be required from Canada, with the U.S. the largest contributor to the relief fund.

"The refugees I saw and spoke to in the three large camps I visited seemed healthy, but above all, bewildered. More than 2,500 were arriving daily when I left, and it is expected the Red Cross may have to deal with as many as 40,000 persons.

"Stores of supplies at Red Cross headquarters at Geneva have been exhausted, and we have begun shipping supplies from Marseilles, but the chief problem is one of transportation rather than lack of supply. . ."

So far, the Canadian Red Cross has contributed $200,000 for Hungarian relief supplies. Still more funds were needed and these would come from the Canadian Hungarian Relief Fund which has an objective of $500,000. In its first week, this fund raised about $44,000.

Although shipments inside Hungary at present were restricted, they were not interfered with, and the Red Cross was able to give basic food rations to people in the blockaded city of Budapest as well as other centres.

He met members of European aristocracy working side by side with tourists, and observers who formed the units of thousands of volunteers handling everything from medical duties to warehousing.

Religious Freedom Is Denied in Russia

TORONTO (CP) — Religious freedom is denied in Russia, Rev. Dr. Ernest Thomas, general secretary of the Canadian Bible Society, said Sunday.

Dr. Thomas, who has visited Russia, said the Bible is not available to the people there.

"Religious freedom is denied in Russia," he said. "Only a few Bibles are printed for the whole country."

HOME BECOMES NURSERY AS PRINCESS GRACE PREPARES FOR ARRIVAL OF MONACAN HEIR

Prince Rainier would like a boy, but, boy or girl, the new arrival will be welcome to Princess Grace who expects the event to occur around the first of February. The princess, formerly screen actress Grace Kelly, and her husband, Prince Rainier of Monaco, are living in a New York apartment which has become a nursery in anticipation of the new heir or heiress to the Monacan throne. An interested observer to all the activity in the household is their poodle, Camilla, who, left, snoops enquiringly as Grace prepares a "treasure chest" basket that will hold her offspring. Prince Rainier, too, is taught all about baby clothes, centre, and is an enthusiastic pupil in training to be a father. Grace spends much of her time sewing, right, to have everything prepared for the day the new member of the family sees his home for the first time. (Central Press Canadian).

To Resign Unless Tiger Officials Are Disciplined

TORONTO (CP)—Football referee Harry Bowden said Sunday night he and the four officials who worked Saturday's Big Four final in Montreal will resign unless the president and coach of Hamilton Tiger-Cats are disciplined by the league for accusations made after the game.

Bowden said a letter to this effect has been sent to Judge Allan Fraser, Big Four commissioner, Jim McCaffrey, league president, and secretary D. Wes Four final in Montreal will resign unless the president and coach of Hamilton Tiger-Cats are disciplined by the league for accusations made after the game.

Bowden said a letter to this effect has been sent to Judge Allan Fraser, Big Four commissioner, Jim McCaffrey, league president, and secretary D. Wes Four final in Montreal will resign unless the president and coach of Hamilton Tiger-Cats are disciplined by the league for accusations made after the game.

Bowden said a letter to this effect has been sent to Judge Allan Fraser, Big Four commissioner, Jim McCaffrey, league president, and secretary D. Wes Four of Ottawa.

Though Hamilton president Jake Gaudaur and coach Jim Trimble have officially protested two decisions made during the game, Bowden said the officials' action was taken because the two invaded the referees' dressing room after the game. Ticats lost 48-41 and were reported to have accused the officials of favoring Alouettes.

"It would be bad enough if they had come to complain about specific plays but their suggestions were aimed at our character," Bowden said.

CALLED DISGRACE

He said that he, Tommy Daly of Ottawa, Norm Crichton and Bob Lyle of Hamilton and Ray Boucher of Montreal were in their dressing room when Gaudaur and Trimble burst into the room.

Trimble, he said, walked over to him and said "Montreal Alouettes are too good a football team to require the services of five extra men. You are a disgrace, you're hurting Canadian football."

"And then," added Bowden, "he asked us how many penalties we had called. No one answered him so he said, 'I'm asking you many penalties? Do you intend to answer or haven't you the courage.'

"Then Gaudaur stepped up. He said 'You've just heard an American—now listen to a Canadian. You fellows are . . . (Bowden said he could not repeat what followed.)'

There were 19 penalties called, seven against Hamilton. Two players, Tom Hugo of Montreal and Jim Norman of Hamilton, were thrown out of the game for fighting and Ticats were penalized 15 yards for what was described as Trimble's cursing of an official.

MUNICH (Reuters) — The West German federal railways are experimenting here with a radio-controlled electric shunting locomotive which can be operated without an engineer. The "pilot" sits before a control panel in a freight yard control centre keeping touch with the locomotive by short wave radio, which can transmit 15 different sets of instructions to the engine's mechanism.

Redskins Thump Giants 33-7; Layne Leads Lions

NEW YORK (AP) — Professional football apparently has found a successor to Otto Graham, but he won't do Cleveland coach Paul Brown a yard of good. He plays for Detroit Lions.

For almost a decade, Graham, the fabulous quarterback of the Browns, was the game's glory boy, a role which falls traditionally to the leading quarterback. Only twice in the last nine years did Graham fail to win all-pro honors—and one of those times was 1952 when Bobby Layne of the Lions was honored.

Now Layne again has emerged as the top headliner in the National Football League. Sunday he again played a major role as Detroit whipped Baltimore 27-3 in the Motor City. The win kept the Lions tied for the western division lead with Chicago Bears who won their seventh straight, 30-21 over the visiting Los Angeles Rams. The co-leaders have 7-1 records.

Late-starting Washington continued to cause trouble in the East. The Redskins, who lost their first three games, have now won four in a row, the latest a smashing 33-7 victory over New York Giants, division pacesetters. The Giants (6-2) managed to hold the top rung by themselves only because Chicago Cards (5-3) lost in Pittsburgh, 14-7.

Iowa Qualifies For Rose Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Iowa Hawkeyes Saturday clinched their first trip to the Rose Bowl by defeating Ohio State 6-0.

Minnesota upset Michigan State 14-13 in a futile bid to retain a Rose Bowl chance.

Oregon State, the Pacific Coast Conference team Iowa will meet at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's Day, had a tough time with Idaho but battled from behind to win 14-10. Stanford bowed out of the picture with a 34-13 defeat by Washington.

Tennessee, the No. 1 team in the U.S., rolled to a 27-7 victory over Mississippi and will play in either the Sugar Bowl or the Cotton Bowl. The second - rated team, Oklahoma, won its 38th straight game by walloping Missouri 67-14.

Duke pushed a bid to represent the Atlantic Coast Conference in the Orange Bowl with a 25-0 triumph over Wake Forest.

In other contests, Georgia Tech battered Alabama 27-6 in a shot at a sixth consecutive bowl appearance, presumably either the Sugar or Cotton Bowl. Texas Christian romped over Texas 46-0 in a claim for the Cotton Bowl host spot.

ATTENTION: CAT OWNERS

because of this news

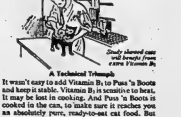
millions of cats will be healthier, happier!

Puss'n Boots now contains extra Vitamin B_1 (thiamin)

A great scientific advance in pet nutrition... A serious problem solved for your cat.

You know from health lessons learned in your school days how important Vitamin B_1 is to your own well-being. But did you know that it's just as important for your cat to have an adequate daily supply of this essential "nerve vitamin"?

Because it is so important, Puss 'n Boots Cat Food now contains an extra supply of Vitamin B_1 in every can . . . purposely added in scientifically measured quantities, as the result of Puss 'n Boots' continuing study of cat nutrition.



73 cats were studied for 2 years in our cat nursery

Does your Cat get Enough Vitamin B_1 Now?

Some cats need a larger supply of Vitamin B_1 than others. Such cats (like many humans) need supplementary B_1. Unless they receive it they will lose appetite, weight and energy. They will be irritable instead of happily playful, dull looking instead of sleekly beautiful. So Puss 'n Boots, already rich in vitamins and minerals, now contains added Vitamin B_1 for two reasons:

1. To provide the supplementary Vitamin B_1 that some cats need.
2. To provide "Vitamin B_1 insurance" as a margin of safety for all cats.

Closely observed cats will benefit from extra Vitamin B_1

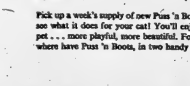
A Technical Triumph

It wasn't easy to add Vitamin B_1 to Puss 'n Boots and keep it stable. Vitamin B_1 is sensitive to heat. It may be lost in cooking. And Puss 'n Boots is cooked in the can, to make sure it reaches you as absolutely pure, ready-to-eat cat food. But constant technical research and many experiments, we solved the problem. The vitamin is kept stable throughout the cooking.

Today, when you open a can of Puss 'n Boots you can be sure the added Vitamin B_1 is there, with all the health-giving benefit that mean so much to your cat's welfare.

Now—see what extra Vitamin B_1 does for your cat—

What we Learned about Your Cat



More than five years ago we established a colony of 73 cats in model quarters. We fed them fresh food, canned food, every kind of food you ever see or likely to feed your cat. Our veterinarian and nutritional specialists patiently observed the cats and their kittens, day after day, year after year, and kept detailed records of their diets and their physical condition.

From this study one crystal-clear conclusion emerged: A most important problem in feeding your cat is to make sure that it gets the adequate daily supply of Vitamin B_1 which it needs.

Puss 'n Boots Cat Food, made from fresh-caught whole fish (not from scraps or by-products), contains nature's own ideal balance of life-giving nutrients. The chart shows how the proteins, the vitamins, the minerals and other vital elements are retained in nature's balance. And for all-round nutrition, seven scientifically selected cereals are added.

If you have been feeding Puss 'n Boots, you know how your cat thrives on it. Now, with extra Vitamin B_1, you'll see an additional beneficial effect, especially if your cat is one of those requiring vitamin supplementation.

Pick up a week's supply of new Puss 'n Boots, with extra Vitamin B_1, and see what it does for your cat! You'll enjoy an altogether more lovable pet . . . more playful, more beautiful. Food stores and pet shops everywhere have Puss 'n Boots, in two handy sizes.

FILETS OF HERRING, rich in important growth-promoting proteins. Usually removed by human cleaners but retained in Puss 'n Boots.

BONE STRUCTURE, for calcium and phosphorus. Are evenly ground. Made crumbly and digestible and retained in Puss 'n Boots.

LIVER AND GLANDS, for minerals, vitamins A, B, D. Vital for well-being. Often extracted for medicinal use. Retained in Puss 'n Boots.

Every can of Puss 'n Boots contains an added amount of the "nerve vitamin,"

VITAMIN B_1 (Thiamin)

This vitamin is essential for a cat's health and well-being. Regular feeding of Puss 'n Boots assures an adequate daily supply.

Queen's Wins College Title With 4-2 Win Over Varsity

KINGSTON (CP)—Ron Stewart, college football's top star, provided Jocko Thompson with the opportunity to put his accurate toe to work and the Queen's University kicking specialist once again turned out to be the ruination of the University of Toronto Blues.

Thompson, a medical student from St. Catharines, came through under pressure as he kicked a last-minute 37-yard field goal Saturday to give the Golden Gaels a 4-2 victory and their second straight senior Intercollegiate championship.

Thompson and Stewart were the heroes of the tensely-fought penalty-free game. Stewart closed out his college football career with a sparkling run that paved the way for the game-winning field goal. It made up for an earlier fumble that might have made him the goat of the game.

RAN AROUND END

The 22-year-old physical education student, an explosive runner who is reported headed for a pro career with Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four football Union, ripped around end for 20 yards to the Blues' 39-yard line to bring the Gaels within field goal kicking range.

Three plays later Thompson stepped back to the 37-yard strip to boot the field goal that wiped out a 3-1 Toronto lead. The ball started up low, but it got added height when it hit a Varsity player's helmet and then barely cleared the cross-bar as the crowd of 10,000 went wild.

It turned what looked like certain victory into a shattering defeat for the Blues, who had finished the regular season in first place tie with the Gaels. Last year Queen's blanked the Blues 19-0 in a playoff to win their first college crown in 17 years.

The injury - weakened Blues, with six regulars out of action, outplayed the Gaels Saturday except in the dying minutes. They had opportunities to pick up more points but each time they fizzled them away.

ALSO COUNTED EARLIER

Thompson also scored the Gaels' other point, kicking a single early in the second quarter to put them ahead 1-0. Peter Maik tied the score for Varsity late in the third quarter when his 25-yard field goal attempt went wide for a single. Midway through the fourth quarter Ross Woods kicked a single from the Blues' 35-yard line to give the Blues a 2-1 lead.

Twice in the first quarter the Toronto team had chances to score and both times they were stopped by fumbles. The first time they marched 84 yards to the Gaels' one-yard line where quarterback Ed Skrzypek fumbled and Stewart recovered for Queen's. Then another opportunity was washed out when Dave Creswell bobbled on the Queen's 31 and Jim Hughes recovered for the Gaels.

The Blues elected to go for a single on Woods' kick rather than gamble from the 1-yard line for a first down with two yards to go or try a field goal from a bad angle. Larry Joyst, who divided the Blues' quarterbacking with Skrzypek, decided to go for the single point after Tim Reid went wide instead of off tackle on a plunge that was supposed to keep the ball at a good angle for a field goal try.

Besides scoring all the Gaels' points Thompson had a big part in keeping the Blues from threatening more often. Time and time again his booming punts drove Varsity back when it appeared they had the Gaels hemmed in their own end.

IT'S A HABIT

Thompson appears to make a habit of personally ruining the Blues. In the first game of the season he kicked a single in the dying seconds to give the Gaels a 7-7 tie and in the final game of the regular schedule that Queen's won 15-12 to force a playoff he scored seven points on two field goals and a convert.

In last year's Queen's playoff victory he paced the scorers with eight points on two field goals, a convert and a single and earlier in the season in another game against the Blues he booted a last-minute field goal to give the Gaels an 11-10 victory.

Stewart was Queen's top gainer Saturday, piling up 106 yards in 16 rushing attempts as the Gaels' ran up a total of 184 yards on the ground. The Blues gained 155 yards rushing with Tim Reid being their top ball carrier with 79 yards in 17 attempts. Quarterback John Moschelle of Queen's completed three of seven pass attempts and Skrzypek and Joyst connected on seven of 19 tosses for the Blues.

Olympics Can Set Example For Politicians

MELBOURNE (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, said today the Olympic movement, without money or soldiers, can help stop warfare by setting examples of fair play and sportsmanship for politicians to follow.

Brundage spoke at the annual International Olympic Committee meeting, opening phase of the 16th Olympiad Games. Competition runs from Thursday through Dec. 8.

Rumors circulated in Melbourne that several IOC members were trying to line up support either to censure Russia for its actions in Hungary or to expel the Russians entirely from the Olympic movement.

Several IOC members discounted the rumor and at least two others said that even if a discussion on expelling the Russians came up during the two-day IOC meeting it would fail to enlist widespread support.

General Sir Dallas Brooks, Governor of the State of Victoria, declared open the IOC meeting after speeches from Brundage and Robert G. Menzies, Australian prime minister.

MUST KEEP CLEAN

Brundage, who is from Chicago official, got his speech by saying the Games "must not become a battleground for national ascendancy, a contest between the political participants and officials or a circus or carnival to groom participants for a professional career to line the pockets of promoters."

Premier Menzies turned to political philosophy, saying, "I have never been able to understand the minds of those who profess to believe that the perfect world will be one in which there will be no competition or contest, a world in which I suppose some government will guarantee us all a four-minute mile or a seven foot leap."

Elsewhere in Melbourne, there has been speculation that members of some of the Iron Curtain countries might camp and seek refuge in Australia, particularly the Hungarians.

Some 4,360 athletes and officials from 66 nations are on hand, awaiting the solemn opening Thursday at which the Duke of Edinburgh will preside.

EASTERN DIVISION TOP TEN

Cornwall's Kitsonia Jeanette, Minnie Menard of Belleville and Ron Gagnon of Whitby are making things plenty rough for the Eastern Ontario Senior "A" League's point leader, Bobby Attersley. The Whitby forward scored two goals this past week and still tops the league with 19 points but Jeanette is on his heels with 18 points. Menard surged from nowhere into a third-place tie with Gagnon, each with 17 points.

Gordie Myles, Menard and Pete Paystie of Cornwall lead the goal scorers with 11 each while Jeanette and Jeanette's 11 assists tops that department. Belleville's Maurice Benoit has taken over the penalty leadership with 40 minutes served, including a major penalty, a game misconduct and two misconducts.

Goalie averages went up this week with the exception of Cornwall's Jerry Devaney and Kingston's Bert Brooks. Ottawa's Boisvert still leads for goalies who have played more than one game.

Solunar Notes

Some Think About Next Season

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT,
(Noted Sportsman, Author and Creator of Solunar Tables)

Henry P. Davis, public relations director of the Remington Arms Company, sends out a monthly news letter which invariably contains food for thought. In one of his more recent letters, Henry was talking about the importance of the preservation of the game supply.

All too few hunters give much thought to their own personal part in game preservation. Most of them simply go shooting and let the game take care of itself.

Take quail shooting, for example. All quail shooters agree that it is best for the quail that the covers be shot and the birds scattered each season. Otherwise, inbreeding sets in and the supply of quail decreases in numbers and size.

All quail shooters agree, also, that it is wrong to shoot a cover down to the last bird. To do so means that the land which was used by that covey will have no seed stock and thus hold no birds next season unless a new covey happens to move in from some other area.

Yet, believe it or not, there are some quail shooters who will violate this basic rule and hunt down every last single. They know it is wrong—every quail shooter does—yet the quail are there, their day's bag is skimpy, so they take all they can. Let next season take care of itself.

A man who lives in Richmond, Virginia, took a newcomer shooting two years ago. That was a mistake, but the fellow seemed like a good scout so he took him along.

There was plenty of birds using the field of his choice and they had excellent shooting. On the way home this man explained to his guest that the field should not be shot again for at least a week; overshooting would cause the birds to leave.

A week later he returned to that field. Not a bird to be seen. Later he learned that his guest had shot the field every single day, killing many birds, wounding many more and, eventually, driving the flock to another area. There are some people like that.

Duck shooters know that it is important not to shoot the same blind day after day. The more successful duck hunters use a series of blinds on their marsh areas, rotating them so that each blind is shot at no more than every third day.

Simply because a bird happens to be of a migratory species doesn't mean that the bird cannot be overshot. After all, the same several groups of migratory species use the same general areas year after year. Overshoot that group and you will damage the sport of future seasons.

Game birds, be they migratory or non-migratory, are a natural, renewable crop. In common with all crops, careful harvesting and wise management should be practiced if that crop is to be kept at its annual best.

Leaving some birds for seed is just the same as planting grain in a plowed field. Without seed, naturally there will be no crop next season.

So follow Henry Davis' suggestion; give some thought to next season while you are hunting this fall. Here is a set of rules that he sets down regarding individual conservation:

Don't shoot a covey down to the last bird.

Don't set the limit as a must every time you go hunting.

Stop when you've had a fair amount of sport.

Don't return time and again to the same area just because you had good shooting there yesterday.

Follow these rules and see if you don't have better shooting in your favorite areas year after year.

MINORS

It was a great day for the kiddies in Toronto on Saturday. Thousands of excited young moppets thrilled to the annual Santa Claus parade while up in the Royal York Roof the Ontario Minor Hockey Association were taking care of the puck-chasing activities of the young male fry of the province.

It was easily the best convention the OMHA can inscribe in its archieves. Nearly 350 delegates, a truly representative cross section of Ontario, heard fine reports; elected their executive of last year back to office; honored retiring secretary Christie with the presidency and elected Gary McLeod, popular football official to the secretarial seat.

They argued somewhat lengthily over a few points, and heard an address by George Dudley, CAHA secretary of Midland. Bigwigs of other prominent sports bodies were present, including Frank Buckland, OHA prexy, his vice-president, Lorne Cooke, Kingston, and W. A. Hewitt, registrar. Officials of the OASA, the Toronto Hockey League, the Western Ontario Athletic Association also were present.

In the business session the OMHA amended its regulations to allow each team to dress 16 players, including a spare goalkeeper. Existing rules allow each team to have not more than 15 in uniform, including two goalies. The regulation limiting teams to 18 signed players was unchanged.

The rule relating to affiliation was broadened to allow the association to affiliate with the Ontario branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, the Ontario Hockey Association or any other suitable organization, at the discretion of the executive officers. The OMHA is now permitted to affiliate only with the Ontario branch of the AAU and the OHA.

Treasurer Dr. Leon Hipwell announced an operating profit for the 1955-56 season of $1,981.70, the highest in the association's history. Receipts totalled $10,530 and expenditures $8,549.

Eastern Ontario again will be represented by those two fine executive members, Doug Patterson of Stirling, and Albert Watkins of Peterborough. Doug had the honor of presenting the OMHA Honor Award to "Doc" Kirk of Havelock, the first time in history that the honorary trophy has come to this section of Ontario. Plans are in the making to give "Doc" a "night" in Havelock under the auspices of the Rotary Club where the trophy will be presented locally by the popular sportsman who has done so much for the Havelock and district young hockey players.

Jack Christie and his wife, the popular Dorothy, were also honored with gifts from the association, Jack receiving an expensive camera and Dorothy a set of "earvers" (no relation.)

Representing the Belleville Minor Hockey Association were president Bill Gault, secretary Bill Hurst, Lloyd "Red" Dorsa, Mel Richards and Bill Brennan.

On the hockey front the McFarlands slipped into the Eastern Ontario Senior "A" cellar, dropping an 8-4 decision to the Pembroke Lumber Kings Saturday night. The Mann have nine points with Cornwall, Kingston and Pembroke each having ten. Ottawa has eleven and the surging Whitby Dunlops, who thumped Kingston 12-5, while Ottawa was edging Cornwall in Verdun, 18 points.

Tomorrow night the Macs entertain the Lumber Kings again and a win will shoot them back into a second-place tie.

TALL TALES

Here's another for Chick Appel's collectors' item tall tales. It seems this fishing addict had a yen for operating with the water at the proper temperature. So on this occasion he took a clinical thermometer, attached it to a piece of fishing line and lowered it into the water of his favorite fishing spot.

A big bass swallowed the thermometer but coughed it up when he discovered his temperature was normal.

Hawks' McIntyre Gets Four In 6-3 Victory Over Leafs; Howe, Lindsay Up Averages

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Goal-scorers broke out madly in the National Hockey League during the weekend. And those baffling Boston Bruins ran up a nine-game unbeaten streak that is causing much bewilderment among other big-league teams.

The hot snipers:

Jack McIntyre, Chicago Black Hawks, four goals Saturday.

Ted Lindsay, Detroit Red Wings, three, including the 300th of his 13-year NHL career, Sunday.

Gordie Howe, Detroit, two Saturday, two more Sunday.

Real Chevrefils, Boston, three Saturday, one Sunday.

BEAT THE LEAFS

The most amazing production came from McIntyre, 26-year-old right winger who had registered only one assist in 15 games. He erupted for four goals as he led the last-place Hawks to a 6-3 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs at Detroit. In other Saturday engagements, Canadiens whipped the Wings 6-3, in Montreal and the Bruins and Rangers battled to a 4-4 draw in New York.

On Sunday, Wings clobbered Canadiens 8-3 and Chicago edged Leafs 4-3 at Boston and Rangers and Hawks deadlocked 3-3 at Chicago.

When it was all over, Bruins were still in the league lead, holding a two-point edge over the second-place Wings.

Saturday, 13,003 customers saw McIntyre give Hawks a 2-0 lead in the first period and then score his hat trick with three goals. He also set up the opening goal.

Left winger John Wilson and centre Glen Skov were the other Hawk marksmen. Right winger George Armstrong, left winger Dick Duff and centre Bill Harris tallied for Leafs.

It was the third win in 16 games for Hawks, after they picked up their tie against Rangers' Vezina goaltending phenom, a New York castoff, scored in the final period before 8,638 fans. Ed Litzenberger and Dutch Reibel also cago goal. Red Sullivan and Gerry Foley were the Ranger scorers.

Things got rough in the third period as fans began hurling chairs. A few Ranger players as they left for their dressing room. Police and ushers broke up one duel, in which New York's Lou Fontinato was slashing his stick at the face of Jerry Toppazzini and then stage a runaway.

Lindsay, 33-year-old left winger from Renfrew, Ont., is the fourth player in NHL history to pass the 300-goal mark. He has also Nels Stewart, first to do it, stopped at 324 when he retired. Montreal's Rocket Richard now has reached 467. Howe has 318.

Howe got a pair of goals, while Billy McNeill, Dutch Reibel and Red Kelly added singles. The Rocket, Provost and Dean Prentiss tallied for Canadiens.

Chevrefils scored Bruins' first three goals in New York Saturday but the visitors wasn't good enough to give Boston a win. Gerry Toppazzini got the other Bruin goal. Fontinato Hicke, Larry Popein and Parker MacDonald were the Ranger snipers.

At Boston, veteran Cal Gardner scored at 4:35 of the third period to give Bruins their win over Leafs. Chevrefils got his fourth unassisted goal in this game. Don McKenney and Vic Stasiuk were the other Bruin scorers.

Defencemen Ron Stewart picked up two Leaf goals. Sid Smith got the other.

A PREDICTION?

METZ, France (Reuters) — Eastern Canada beat Western Canada 40-32 Saturday in a football game between RCAF teams from the Canadian air base here.

The game was a return version of Canada's Grey Cup classic. A crowd of about 2,500 watched the match, the second annual game of its type.

Guelph Wins Six in Row; Barrie Blanked

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Even with a substitute goaltender in the nets, Guelph Biltmores are first-class opposition for any team in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior "A" series.

Besides only once in 10 games this year, Biltmores saw their regular goalie, Bruce Gamble, leave the game at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens Sunday because of a sore foot.

Substitute Barry Smith donned the pads and held St. Michael's College Majors scoreless for a 3-0 Guelph victory. The win, sixth straight for Biltmores, boosted their league lead to seven points over idle Hamilton Cubs.

In the second game of a Toronto twin bill, Toronto Marlboros blanked Barrie Flyers 2-0 and moved into a third-place tie with St. Michael's, eight points out of first.

The only other weekend game in the OHA Junior "A" Saturday—saw Teepees hustle to a 6-2 victory over last-place Peterborough Petes.

The win gave Teepees sole possession of fifth place.

Gamble and Smith turned back 28 efforts by Majors.

Don Delisle, Ed Shack and Doug Robinson shot the Guelph markers. Glen Horkins and Ron Knight found the mark for Majors.

Kre Girard provided the winning goal for Marlboros in the second period. It was the first period, Defenceman Harry Neale rounded out the scoring for the day with an unassisted goal after a rink-length rush early in the third.

Len Broderick handled 19 shots in posting the shutout. Barrie netminder Ross Brooks fanned on two of 24 Marlboro drives.

At St. Catharines, captain Ed Hoekstra and John McKenzie each scored goals to lead Teepees. Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull were the other St. Catharines snipers. Bob Chuck and Chuck Hamilton tallied for Peterborough.

Teepees led 2-1 after one period, 5-2 after the second, and added a single goal in the third. Referee Larry Lewin called 18 minor penalties.

Senior A Hockey

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Competition in the Western Division of the Ontario Hockey Association's Senior A series is getting so keen that no team is safe from anybody except Owen Sound Mercurys.

Only five points separate the top four clubs in the five-team league. Owen Sound is 11 points out of first place and slipping badly.

Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen tightened the standings during the weekend, whipping the touring Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds of the Northern Association 6-1 Saturday to move within two points of the leading Stratford Indians, who were idle.

Windsor Bulldogs missed a chance to move up Sunday, dropping a 6-4 decision to Greyhounds. Mercurys took an 8-1 shellacking from North Bay Trappers of the NOHA in an interlocking game.

Things are different in the Eastern Division, where Whitby Dunlops keep pulling away from the pack. Dunlops surged into a seven point lead Saturday with a 12-5 win over Kingston CKLC's.

Pembroke Lumber Kings beat Belleville McFarlands 8-4 Saturday and Cornwall Chevies edged Ottawa overtime thriller to runner-up Ottawa Junior-Canadiens at Verdun Sunday.

In the NOHA, Sudbury Wolves lost 4-1 Sunday to last-place Soo Indians.

Timmins Flyers regained the lead of the Porcupine Mines Senior League Sunday, downing South Porcupine Porkers 3-1. Timmins goals by Kenny Trevenna and one by Eric Prentice. Bobby McNeil scored for Porkies.

At Kitchener, 2,221 fans were in the stands as right winger George Scholes trapped on two goals. Singlers went to Don Rupp, Paul Knox, Jack McKenzie and Abner Martin while left winger John Bailey fired Soo's only marker.

Sunday at Windsor, however, Hounds looked better for 3,200 spectators as Soo netminder Don Campbell kicked out 38 shots. Ronnie Lay scored two goals for the Soo, while Bailey, Pete Hocek, Don McLean and Marcel Clemente each bagged one. Gord Haidy and Don Ward accounted for the Windsor goals, each scoring twice.

At North Bay, Art Stratton contributed three goals and assisted on two others to lead Trappers to their landslide victory. Ches Kenney and George Gosselin added two each and Bill Needham a single. Roy Leckie scored for Mercurys.

At Whitby, two - goal outputs came from Dunlops' Charlie Burns, Tom O'Connor, George Samolenko and playing-coach Bus Chagnon, with singles going to Fred Etcher, Gordie Myles, Bob Attersley and Frank Smillie.

Jerry Moore had two for Kingston, with Frank Chiarelli At Lasnoo and Hank Sherrin contributing one each.

At Pembroke, Jim Maxwell, Kenny Campbell and Bruce Glesebrecht each fired two goals to spark Kings. Lorne Woods and Clark notched singles. Belleville marksmen were Lucien Gilbert, Guidolin, Payette and Minnie Menard.

Gordie Heale, Bigley Dimma, Laurie Peterson and Johnny Offiziani scored for Indians, with Frank O'Grady counting the lone Sudbury goal.

The lone was Cornwall's first in seven games. Gerry Wilson shot the winning goal after 2:45 of overtime. Other Ottawa marksmen were Ralph Backstrom, Murray Balfour, Dave Reid and Dick Dumouchel.

Counting for Cornwall were Moe Savard with two goals, Don Batten and Ron Muir.

Quebec League

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Trois - Rivieres Lions Sunday moved into third place in the Quebec Hockey League when they overpowered the front - running Quebec Aces 4-1 at Quebec.

The victory gave the Lions 14 points, one more than Montreal Royals who lost 9-2 to Chicoutimi Saguenens at Chicoutimi. The Aces top the standings with 23 points.

The Chicoutimi scoring outburst was the greatest made by any team in the QHL this season and put the Saguenens within three points of Royals.

Montreal Alouettes, Edmonton Eskimos Meet For 3rd Time For Grey Cup

Larks Scramble to 48-41 Win Over Hamilton in Weird Tilt; Last Minutes Decide Issue

By MEL MORRIS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes scrambled to a 48-41 victory over Hamilton Tiger-Cats in a wild and weird Big Four playoff game Saturday and for the third year in a row won the right to play Edmonton Eskimos for the Grey Cup.

The victory gave Alouettes the two-game, total-point series 79-62 but they weren't sure of winning either the game or the playoff set against the scrappy and determined Tiger-Cats until the last three minutes of play.

The 22,280 fans who jammed into McGill Stadium saw just about everything in the football book—a 94-yard run, 11 fumbles, seven intercepted passes, a slugging match and two 50-yard touchdown passes by Hamilton quarterback Tony Curcillo that were almost matched by two 49-yard touchdown passes thrown by Montreal quarterback Sam Etcheverry.

From a technical standpoint, the game was erratic and loosely played but it had enough excitement to brave the fans limp and hoarse at the end.

RECORDS BROKEN

Two records were broken. The total yardage gained of 1,363 wiped out the previous mark of 1,289 and the 887 yards made on parring alone broke the previous record of 823. The broken marks were set in a Hamilton-Montreal game at Hamilton Sept. 29.

Fat Adonis Cuzzi, the four-scoring champion, picked up three touchdowns, two plunging and one on a screen pass. Hal Patterson, Red O'Quinn and Fob James gathered in touchdown passes from Etcheverry and Herb Trahan's touchdown over for a single after taking a lateral from Abruzzi.

Curcillo passed for five of Hamilton's six touchdowns, three going to halfback Hal Waggoner and one each to Paul Dekker and Cookie Gilchrist. Ralph Goldston got the other score on a 49-yard run after intercepting a pass.

Bill Bewley converted six of Montreal's seven touchdowns and Steve Oneschuk booted five in a row for Hamilton after his first attempt went wide.

LED THREE TIMES

Hamilton led the game three times but never went ahead on the round. They went into the game trailing by nine points and they closed the gap to three and once to two points.

The hard-hitting, hard-blocking contest led to a flare-up in the second quarter when Tom Hugo, Montreal's all-star centre, and Jim Norman of the Tiger-Cats traded punches in a gilt-edged. Several fans swarmed onto the field and one kicked a Hamilton player before police forced them back. Hugo and Norman were ejected from the game.

Captain Eddie Bevan of Hamilton protested vocally at halftime about a pass interference call that gave Alouettes" the ball after the Tiger-Cats had marched to the Montreal 34. But club president Late Gaudaur said later the call hinged on the officials' judgment and it will not be followed up.

"We've got no bad breaks on the calls by the officials but we're not making any official protests," he said. "We thought we deserved to win the game. Decisions went against us frequently. But we're not lodging a protest."

RULE INTERFERENCE

On the play Bevan questioned, Curcillo passed to Ralph Toohey. The officials ruled it was a forward pass and that Fred Miller had illegally blocked out a potential Montreal receiver. Hamilton players argued that the pass did not go over the line of scrimmage and Miller was entitled to block. They protested so violently that they were given a 15-yard penalty which gave Montreal the ball on its own 49.

The Als took the lead in the game before many of the fans had settled into their seats. Juan Sanchian recovered a Hamilton fumble on the third play of the game on the Tiger-Cats 30. Three plays later Etcheverry fired to James from 10 yards out for a touchdown.

But the Tiger-Cats, fired up by an offer of a $10,000 bonus if they won the series, came roaring back for two touchdowns. Curcillo hit Waggoner for a 21-yard touchdown play after Pete Neumann had recovered a Montreal fumble and Goldston ran 43 yards off a pass interception for another score.

Montreal regained a 14-13 lead before the quarter ended when Tommy Joe Coffey completed a pass on the Alouettes 10-yard line and ran all the way to the Hamilton six. From there, Abbruzzi plunged over.

ALS UP AT HALF

Gilchrist scored on an 34-yard pass play early in the second quarter for Hamilton but Montreal came back on a 49-yard pass-and-run play for a touchdown by Patterson and Abbruzzi's 10-yard score on a reverse pass. The Als led 27-20 at halftime.

Early in the third, Curcillo hit Dekker with an 18-yard touchdown pass which O'Quinn matched on a 45-yard pass play from Etcheverry. Then Hamilton struck for two quick touchdowns that put them within two points of tying the series. On both plays, Waggoner and Dave Stiller, one of the real pass defenders and gathered in Curcillo's passes. Each touchdown carried 50 yards.

Guard Trahan, who the Alouettes obtained from a lateral from Abruzzi as the Montreal fullback was being tackled by Hamilton 10-yard line and waddled over before the quarter ended.

Patterson intercepted a pass in the end zone to stall a Hamilton fourth - quarter drive and Abruzzi's final touchdown wiped out all hope for the Tiger-Cats. Patterson's interception was one of five made by Montreal. Hamilton intercepted two.

McFarlands Slip to Cellar After Bowing to Pembroke In Wacky Senior A Scramble

PEMBROKE — (Special) — A three-goal first period deficit was too much for the Belleville McFarlands on Saturday night as they dropped an 8-4 decision to the Pembroke Lumber Kings. It was the McFarland's third consecutive defeat and left them in last place in the six-team loop with nine points, one point behind Pembroke, Kingston and Cornwall.

Belleville matched the Kings at a goal each in the middle session then came back strong in the early minutes of the last period. Three three goals to Pembroke's one in the first ten minutes but a double penalty to Minnie Menard at 10.53 quelled the rally. The Lumber Kings promptly fired shots at referees to wrap up the decision.

The line of Bruce Giesebrecht, Ken Sarault and Jim Maxwell personally handled the McFarlands downstairs. Each man on the line fired two goals and two assists. Woods and Clarke also scored while Mike Pavette assisted on a pair. Rouse and Simoneau also drew helpers.

Minne Menard again sparked the Belleville attack. He scored one goal and assisted on two more and with linemates Bep Guidolin and Paul Payette formed the top Belleville line. Coach Guidolin tallied a goal, his first of the season, and one assist while Payette equalled the feat. Lucien Gilbert scored on the loser's other goal while also assisting on one. Defenceman Floyd Crawford and forward John Bailey each tallied on one goal.

Don "Turk" Barclay replaced Don Larin in the Belleville nets and turned in a sparkling performance despite the high total. He turned aside 28 shots while Rollie Sarault in the opposite end was called on for only 19 saves. Pembroke carried the play most of the night and outshot the visitors in every period.

Referee Gord Pranschka dished out 13 penalties in all with the McFarlands getting eight. This included a misconduct to Andre Morrisette at the 16.35 mark of the second period. Minnie Menard was thumbed three times and the Kings took advantage for two goals while Belleville was shorthanded one in the first and another in the third.

Jim Maxwell opened the game scoring at 3.12 of the first period with Bruce Giesebrecht assisting. Campbell added another at 14.26 and with Jim Rouse assisting at 16.34, defenceman Lorne Woods made it 3-0.

Campbell fired his second goal of the night at 3.24 of the second. Lorelei Brown and Bruce Giesebrecht got the nod on the assists. Bep Guidolin cut the margin to 4-2 at 5.47 with help from Payette and Menard. Bruce Giesebrecht got that one back almost after but again the visitors fought back. Payette tallied at 8.37 with Gilbert and Crawford assisting on. Menard narrowed the margin to 5-4 at 10.41 with Guidolin assisted on this tally.

Then came the penalty jinx. Menard and Maxwell became involved in a roughing duel at 10.53 and Maxwell did the same at 15.42. Bobby Clarke completed the scoring at 18.35.

These same two clubs hook up in Belleville's Memorial Arena on Tuesday night at 8.30 p.m. The McFarlands then trek to Whitby on Thursday and play host to Cornwall Chevvies on Friday.

White Sox Propose Changes

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago White Sox Saturday proposed changes in baseball's controversial "bonus rule" which the club said would improve a growing player's initiative and speed his progress to the major leagues.

Working through their Three I League affiliate at Waterloo, Iowa, the White Sox announced its "premium player" draft would go on the agenda of the minor league meetings next month at Jacksonville, Fla.

The changes were proposed by Roy Eitan, a member of the White Sox board of directors.

Under the bonus rule, a major league club signing a player for more than a $4,000 bonus is required to carry him for two years.

Northern Electric Hockey League

The Indians ran roughshod over the Flyers by an 11-1 score in their weekend in one of two Northern Electric Interdepartmental hockey league fixtures. In the other game Defensive specialist Ken Hall of Canada Packer, played a "terrific" game Saturday.

Getty threw 12 forward passes and with a solid line in front of him and sure-fingered receivers as targets, he completed 10 of them including four for touchdowns.

His club thus won a berth in the Canadian final for the third consecutive year and the fourth time in five years. For the third year in a row, International Alouettes is in the Canadian final, won by Edmonton the last-two years.

Edmonton will open title in London, Ont.

The entire Eskimo machine played a terrific game, displaying awesome power defensively and a defensive pattern that brought four important pass interceptions against Frank Tripucka, five-year pro from Notre Dame, who reverts Western passing record marks this season.

A record Edmonton crowd of 22,280 persons, chilled to the bone by a bitterly-cold wind gusting to 35 miles an hour, jammed Clarke Stadium to watch the deciding game. Riders had won the first game 23-22 at home and lost the second here 30-12.

Despite vicious tackling and clutching line play, neither club suffered serious injury in the contest. Eskimos came out of it with nothing worse than a few added bruises, despite the fact some players were in action on hobbled injuries from earlier games.

Parker, the Mississippi State graduate who as a halfback in 1954 and quarter in 1955 was a major cog in Eskimos' Grey Cup victories, was shifted to halfback for the last two games of the Western final because of injuries to other Edmonton halves.

Saturday night he caught three Getty forward passes for touchdowns, the first going 17 yards, the second 30 and the third 34. Parker also pounded for two singles for a 30-point night.

Fullback Johnny Wright put two touchdowns plunging from nine yards out on the second play of the game to open the scoring, then crashing through the line for 32 yards.

Ted Lapham and Bill Walker got a touchdown on a 35-yard passing sequence play and kicked for a single. Fullback—Normie Kwong, the Calgary-born China Clipper, smashed either end for one yard to cap a 73-yard march.

Calgarian and Joe Mobra kicked six converts.

For Riders, Tripucka threw a 45-yard scoring pass to veteran halfback Sully Glaaser for a touchdown and guard Reggie White came out a single on a 25-yard placement attempt that went wide.

Doug Kilbar fumbled the opening kickoff, the only lost bobble of the game, was recovered by Eskimos' Bob Kimoff at the Saskatchewan nine and on the second play of play game, Bright scored. Eskimos led 22-1 after the first, 22-1 after the second and 31-7 after the third.

Belleville Minor Hockey Association

Low scores featured the bantam hockey games of Belleville Minor on Saturday morning with only a total of eleven goals scored in the four games.

The Red Wings scored the highest, downing the Rangers 3-1 while the Black Hawks blanked the Bruins 1-0 in the lowest scoring affair. Maple Leafs and Habs battled to a 2-2 deadlock while the Browns blanked the Canadiens 2-0.

Stu Muirhead tallied both goals in the Browns' triumph with Dennis Hull assisting on one.

J. Chase was the Hawk hero, potting the game's lone goal on Brown's helper.

Teddy Sowland accounted for both Browns' tallies while Bob Jeffery earned one assist. Thompson and Johnstone were the Leaf scorers and L. Trudeau had one assist.

The Red Wings split their scoring with D. Chalmers, Dugan and Polster each scoring once. Pointer also assisted on one and did Scott, Doug Fuller was the lone Ranger. Marksman with Muirhead assisting.

Tiger-Cats Miss $10,000 Bonus Through Defeat

MONTREAL (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats missed out on a $10,000 bonus by failing to overtake Montreal Alouettes Saturday in the game of the Big Four Football League title.

The offer was made by president Jake Gaudaur as the players prepared to take the field Saturday trailing the Als by nine points in the total-point series. The Tiger-Cats won a game by, closing the gap to two points in the third quarter of the game, but eventually bowed 48-41 on the game and 79-62 on the round.

Gaudaur, however, the individual star for Hamilton with three touchdowns, took the defeat hardest of all the players. He paced up and down the dressing room, grumbling to himself but refusing to talk to anyone.

"I thought the officiating could have been a lot better," said rugged Ralph Toohey, an end with the years Big Four experience. "But don't get me wrong: I don't want you to think I'm griping first because we lost and I don't want to take anything away from the Alouettes."

Western Champions Head East After Crushing Sasky Riders With Powerful Two-way Effort

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos, who became Western football champions Saturday by crushing Saskatchewan Roughriders 31-7, were to head East today for their second defence of the Grey Cup.

With the team comes speculation whether Canadian Don Getty, a former player for the University of Western Ontario who sparkplugged Edmonton's two victories in the Western Interprovincial Football Union best-of-three final, will be quarterback in the Canadian championship.

Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy says the 23-year-old Getty, a second-year Eskimo and understudy last and most of the year to Jackie Parker, played a "terrific" game Saturday.

Getty threw 12 forward passes and with a solid line in front of him and sure-fingered receivers as targets, he completed 10 of them including four for touchdowns.

His club thus won a berth in the Canadian final for the third consecutive year and the fourth time in five years. For the third year in a row, International Alouettes is in the Canadian final, won by Edmonton the last-two years.

Edmonton will open title in London, Ont.

The entire Eskimo machine played a terrific game, displaying awesome power defensively and a defensive pattern that brought four important pass interceptions against Frank Tripucka, five-year pro from Notre Dame, who reverts Western passing record marks this season.

A record Edmonton crowd of 22,280 persons, chilled to the bone by a bitterly-cold wind gusting to 35 miles an hour, jammed Clarke Stadium to watch the deciding game. Riders had won the first game 23-22 at home and lost the second here 30-12.

Despite vicious tackling and clutching line play, neither club suffered serious injury in the contest. Eskimos came out of it with nothing worse than a few added bruises, despite the fact some players were in action on hobbled injuries from earlier games.

Parker, the Mississippi State graduate who as a halfback in 1954 and quarter in 1955 was a major cog in Eskimos' Grey Cup victories, was shifted to halfback for the last two games of the Western final because of injuries to other Edmonton halves.

Saturday night he caught three Getty forward passes for touchdowns, the first going 17 yards, the second 30 and the third 34. Parker also pounded for two singles for a 30-point night.

Fullback Johnny Wright put two touchdowns plunging from nine yards out on the second play of the game to open the scoring, then crashing through the line for 32 yards.

Ted Lapham and Bill Walker got a touchdown on a 35-yard passing sequence play and kicked for a single. Fullback—Normie Kwong, the Calgary-born China Clipper, smashed either end for one yard to cap a 73-yard march.

Calgarian and Joe Mobra kicked six converts.

For Riders, Tripucka threw a 45-yard scoring pass to veteran halfback Sully Glaaser for a touchdown and guard Reggie White came out a single on a 25-yard placement attempt that went wide.

Doug Kilbar fumbled the opening kickoff, the only lost bobble of the game, was recovered by Eskimos' Bob Kimoff at the Saskatchewan nine and on the second play of play game, Bright scored. Eskimos led 22-1 after the first, 22-1 after the second and 31-7 after the third.

HOW TO BUY A GOOD USED CAR
BLOWING BUBBLES . . .
Bubble blowing may be fun for children but it can be costly in an automobile radiator.
To check for this condition, let the engine warm up to normal temperature and then look in the radiator. If you see bubbles in an oily scum, it's an indication of a combustion leak causing wasted gas. The reason may be anything from a blown gasket to a cracked block — with a wide variation in the cost of repairs.
By careful checking and servicing their used cars, Pinder's bring these troubles to light and remedy them. Faults and defects are carefully corrected — even though they might pass unnoticed by the average car buyer.

'Tick Tock' Wins Big Race

NEW YORK (CP)—Tick Tock won the $28,975 Sophomore Special by a neck Saturday after battling down to the wire against Mother Line before a crowd of 19,000 at Narragansett Park at Pawtucket, R.I.

Tick Tock, owned by Howell E. Jackson, paid $5.20, $3.40 and $2.80 after his fifth victory of the year which was worth $13,950 to his owner.

At Pimlico in Baltimore, Romanilis strengthened her claim to the two-year-old filly crown by winning the $10,000-added Marequerite Stakes.

Count Chick won the $15,945 Villa Chartier Handicap at Bay Meadows head in front of the fast-closing Argentine Holanics II.

Favored Swoon's Son raced to his 10th victory in 12 starts as a three-year-old to win the 52nd running of the $21,925 Clark Handicap at Churchill Downs.

DECIDE TITLES

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Assumption High of Windsor won its second straight Western Ontario Secondary Schools Association Senior A football crown Saturday in the Purple Bowl, whipping Beck of London 31-8 before 3,000 fans. Delhi swamped Clinton 47-13 for the Senior B championship and Leamington edged South Huron of Exeter 13-6.

The supermen bridge masters of our time use opening suit bids of three as no humans should. They think it pays. But whether it pays even them is still a matter of conjecture.

In the world championship it was announced that the American pairs used such bids two ways; either with strength or weakness; pairs of the Swedish team used it with length and no strength.

Here is deal number 14.

NORTH
♠Q 10 5
♥10 9 4
♦A 9 6

WEST	EAST
♠K 2	♠A J 9 8

SOUTH
♥A K J 7 6 3
♦K J 4
♣8 7 2

The east and west pair of the American team were in room one where the bidding went like this:

East	South	West	North
3 ♣	Pass	Pass	Pass

In room two sat the east and west pair of the team from Sweden. The bidding there went like this:

East	South	West	North
3 ♣	4 ♥	4 ♠	4 No-T
Pass	5 ♦	Pass	5 ♥
Pass	Pass	Pass

In the first room the south player from Sweden was not yet able to determine if this three bid was strength or weakness. His pass gave his north partner a chance to decide.

The room two American in south knew the three bid was length and lack of much strength. Therefore, it was advisable for him to show his partner the strength and length he possessed.

The fourth no-trump by north was the ace showing convention. Five diamonds in reply was signal for showing one ace. North then decided to stop at five hearts instead of going slam.

Three spades in room one went down one. Five hearts in room two went down one. Sweden won both sides of this board.

A three bid is a mess that makes the others guess.

Russian Star Injured in Auto Crash

MELBOURNE (AP) — Vladimir Kut, Russia's ace distance runner was injured in an automobile accident today at Olympic village.

Trying out an Australian car, he ran the auto into a telephone pole in front of the Russian headquarters and suffered a gashed head.

Later a spokesman said Kuts' injury was minor and he went out after the accident to resume training for the Games.

Kuts, who holds the world record of 28:30.4 for the 10,000 metres, is favored in both the 5,000- and 10,000-metre races in the Olympic Games.

AT THE PARK — Prepare for a thrill session when "Gorilla at Large" comes tonight to the Park Theatre for its first showing. Shock by shock, this suspense mystery brings you with the breathtaking realism of Technicolor, the gaudy lights and the shady doings of the midway, the soaring excitement of the trapeze world and the mob terror when murder and a maddened gorilla are loosed on a pleasure-bent public. Cameron Mitchell and Anne Bancroft co-star in the Panoramic Production released through Twentieth Century-Fox. On the same program a top detective story "Where the Sidewalk Ends", starring Dana Andrews and Gene Tierney. The big double attraction is playing two days only, tonight and Tuesday.

AT THE BELLE — The White Whale is Sighted — Harpoon in hand, Gregory Peck as Captain Ahab nears the dreaded sea mammoth "Moby Dick", in the film playing today and Tuesday at the Belle Theatre. John Huston's production of the Herman Melville classic, is reportedly one of the year's major films.

Where Neighbour Means Friend

Hometown has an intrinsically friendly sound to the residents of the big city, and for a good reason. Hometown folk are a friendly lot. Not because they're different from big city people, but because there's more time to get acquainted. People stay put in one place longer —cultivating their gardens, and the respect and friendship of their neighbours.

Where "everybody knows everybody else," everybody is interested in what neighbours and fellow citizens are doing. This is where the local daily newspaper come in. It publishes the most readable reading in the world—local news! Its affect on local policies and local life is beyond measure.

This has one fundamental meaning for national advertisers — Hometown Ontario's 27 local daily newspapers are the right media for telling, and selling, the "billion-dollar-plus" provincial market. You'll get enthusiastic dealer co-operation as well when you use the same medium in which he spends almost his entire advertising budget. Use the local daily newspapers to ring every bell-on the streets of Hometown Ontario. Ask your advertising agency.

HOMETOWN ONTARIO

That vast market outside Ontario's Metropolitan areas — sold effectively only by 27 Local Daily Newspapers.

During 1955 local retailers purchased far in excess of 100,000,000 lines of advertising in Hometown Ontario daily Newspapers.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Tuesday, Nov. 20, 1956

March 21 to April 21 (Aries) — Ambition, patience, faith and hope should see you happily through this day. Handle your financial matters among top favored now.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Day should return dividends if you attend to essentials and show initiative and determination. Care stressed in all money transactions, investments, etc. A good day generally.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Not wholly stimulating where mental work is concerned, but a good day for finishing incompleted work, handling familiar matters. Study, research, experimenting favored.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — It will pay to be discerning, careful. This does not mean to worry or doubt. Try to better your methods, plans, and the quality of your endeavors. Improve your knowledge; avoid extravagance.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — A good outlook. Day can be fruitfully productive. It is really up to you how you manage, how steady and careful you are. Don't overreach for objectives nor underestimate your own ability or that of others.

August 24 to September 23 — (Virgo) — Some valor and astuteness will be essential to get ahead — as you really can. Work and matters pertaining to your personal interests can run smoothly, progressively if you use your know-how.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra) — Difficult tasks, menial work, household affairs, etc. need the same care and respect as do the more pretentious matters but both are favored. In fact, all honest work can advance now.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — Earnest study and analysis of your plans and work will bring quicker, better solutions. Day asks attentiveness, conscientious treatment. Without anxiety or strain you can gain.

November 23 to December 21— (Sagittarius) — Your personal interests, also money transactions, require close scrutiny, good judgment, otherwise the day promises good returns in most lines of work, professions, etc. Try.

December 22 to January 20 — (Capricorn) — Some days you have to fight harder than others for results. On others, you often attain without much effort. Today is such that achievement will be more satisfying through labor. Be encouraged.

January 21 to February 19 — (Aquarius) — Allocate duties, tasks carefully — so as not to waste time, energy or money. You can achieve by not dallying with unessentials. Stay with urgent duties.

February 20 to March 20 — (Pisces) — You are innately gifted id days like today. You are usually studious, conscientious, willing to work for goals. Be ambitious but not unreasonable in demands and you will gain.

You born today have imagination, genuine ability, good commercial talents; are admirably suited to profession, business management or a skilled trade; may develop literary ability or a gift for oratory: make splendid surgeons, physicians, honest government and political leaders. Do not be too severe in discipline nor too exacting of self or others. Remember, it is the variety in humans as in other matters that makes life so interesting, challenging. Go forward with faith. Birthdate: Thos. Chatterton, Eng. poet, writer; Josiah Royce, educator, philosopher; Selma Lagerlof, Swed. novelist.

Little Benny's Notebook

We got our report cards today, and me and Glasses Magee were walking home from school with Flora and Dora the bewty looking twins, and Flora said, We both got 5 E's for excellent on our reports; didn't we, Dora?

Yes, both of us, what did you boys get? Dora said, and I said I haven't even bothered to look at mine yet.

Neither have I, Glasses said. Report cards aint so important, he said, and I said, Sure, it's what you've got in your head, not on your report card. That's the important thing. For instance bet you girls didn't know there's a river near South America in the shape of the figure eleven.

I knew it, Glasses said. That's the very name of it. The Eleven River. It's just 2 strate lines, one going up and one going down. Did you ever hear of a tribe of Irish Indians that eat without swallowing? he said, and I said, Sure, you mean the Clubdown Indians. Their language sounds just like canary birds talking. And hey, speaking of birds, there's a bird in the Chinese mountains that lays one egg exactly every 20 years, I said.

Total's right, the Choo Few bird, Glasses said. The trubble with them is, hardly any of them get to be more than 15 years old, so their eggs are getting scarcer and scarrer, and so are they, he said, and Flora said, Oh if you know so much, we dare you to show us your mports.

We dobble dare you, Dora said, and I said, I dont beleeve in showing off.

Neither do I, it's agenst my principlas, Glasses said, and just then they came to their house and went in laffing like 2 geris that dont believe everything they hear.

LESS NAUSEOUS NAME

AMSTERDAM (Reuters) — Amsterdam's tailn Avenue today became Freedom Avenue after all members of the Dutch city's council except the Communists agreed that events in Hungary made the name of the late Russian ruler "unbearable."

PRECARIOUS POSITION

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — A house owned-by Roy Wines balanced today over a 40-foot-wide crater 700 feet deep. The hole was caused by the collapse of an old mine shaft. Eighty truckloads of sand have been poured into the chasm but at least 120 truckloads are needed to fill up the hole.

Little Benny's Notebook

I was walking along with Glasses Magee just walking along, and we came to a little hill bouncing a ball and another little kid almost crying and saying, Give me back my ball, do you hear? I want my ball, do you hear?

Being a little kid with his hair parted neet, and the other kid said, You'll get it back when I'm good and ready, see?

Being a bigger little kid with a Jorn swetter, and I said to Glasses, That kid ought to be ashamed of himself picking on somebody less than his size.

Sure, and we ought to be ashamed of ourselves for standing here and letting him do it, Glasses said, and I said, Sure, let's teetch him a lesson he'll never forget.

And I reetched out and caught the ball, and the kid said, May, what's a matter with you? Why dont you take somebody your size if you think you're so tuff? May, give me back that ball, hey, he said.

Which just then a tuff looking kid about a head bigger than us walked up to us and said, What's the idea picking on my little brother? I guess you both want a crack in the snoot, he said, and Glasses said, Aw, who's picking on anybody, I mean that little kid wouldn't let him use his ball, he said and I said, Sure I just wanted to teetch this stingy little kid a lerson by bouncing it once or twice for it is, but I said,

And I quick handed the ball back to the little kid in the torn swetter, and we kept on going, Glasses saying, Oh well, it wasn't any of our business, and he always tells me to stay out of other peeple's bizness, he said.

So docs mine, and they're both right, I said.

Making us feel better in the conscience.

TOO MANY TANKS FOR FREEDOM FIGHTERS

This Russian armored car is burning in a Budapest street after it was set afire by Hungarian patriots in their gallant fight for freedom. The job was probably done with a Molotov cocktail—a bottle of gasoline fastened to a hand grenade — which was the favorite weapon against Russian armor. The man in gray is trying to salvage something from the burning vehicle. Though the freedom fighters destroyed many tanks and vehicles, there were always more to replace them. (Central Press Canadian).

Winter Fair Closes Doors On Saturday

TORONTO (CP) — The 1956 Royal Agricultural Winter Fair shut its barn doors Saturday night with tons of food—the pick of Canada's larder—in the hands of buyers.

Top butter honey, milk and other products entered in the fair will be consumed mostly in Toronto and throughout Ontario.

Some 300 tons of red and blue brand beef were sold just before the fair closed at an auction of 622 head of market cattle entries. Most of the meat bought by big meat packing companies. The prize-winning baby beef steer and the prize-winning market beef were auctioned for $1.75 a pound to Toronto supermarkets.

Other prices ranged from 27 to 45 cents a pound.

OSHAWA MAN WINS

After the auction the Canadian horse shoe pitching championship was auctioned—for the 10th straight year—to Dean McLaughlin of Oshawa.

At the evening horse show Canadian horsemen took three of the four $1,000 stakes offered for show champions.

The Schenon Stake for the champion harness pony was won by the entry of Mrs. Elgin Armstrong of Brampton, Ont., a nine-year-old bay gelding flamed Cupid's Beau. Champion harness horse award, the Perry Stake, was won by a U.S. horse, Hawthorn Synerostation, entered by Hawthorn Melody Farms of Libertyville, Ill.

The Smallman Stake for the champion three - gaited saddle horse was won by Fancy Beauchamp, a chestnut gelding owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Hurdman of Hurdman's Bridge, Ont.

KHRUSHCHEV

HE'S "SORRY"

On Hungary, Khrushchev said: "We are very sorry that such a situation exists there. We are sure that the Hungarian working class will find the strength to overcome the difficulties. But the most important thing is that the counter-revolution must be shattered."

Of Egypt:

"The Western powers are trying to denigrate Nasser . . . the situation is serious and we are realists. The fire must be put out. I think the British and French will be wise enough to withdraw their forces and then Egypt will emerge stronger than ever."

REFERS TO WEST

Again referring to the West, Khrushchev said:

"You say we want war, but you now have got yourselves into a position I would call idiotic. . . .

"But we don't want to profit by it. If you withdraw your troops from Germany, France and Britain—I'm speaking of American troops—we will not stay one day in Poland, Hungary and Romania.

"But no, mister capitalists, we are beginning to understand your methods. You have given us a lesson in Egypt. If we had a charter of our present friendships for the Poles, Czechs and Slovaks before the war, (Second World War) the war would never have started."

FIRST HUNGARIAN

"When the Mongolian troops arrived they killed everyone in their path. Many of them apparently didn't even know where they were. All they knew was they had to kill."

ASKED PREFERENCE

In a refugee camp near Vienna, Hungarians were asked what country they wanted to come to.

"There were many offers," said Mrs. Veronica Pecs. "But we chose Canada because we thought we would have the most freedom there."

Solyom left Budapest to drive wounded to Vienna. He said he met Soviet occupation troops along the way but they did not attempt to stop him.

"I had more trouble with the freedom fighters. They kept asking for identification."

By the time he had transferred his wounded, the Iron Curtain was down. He joined the other refugees in Hungary.

Pecs said Hungarians feel their only hope of freedom lies with the United Nations.

"They cherish the desire that the UN will make the Russians get out of their country."

It was a miracle resistance had lasted until now, Marton said. Refusal to work is the only weapon the Hungarians have left, he added.

ROCKET FIRES

FORT CHURCHILL, Man. (CP) — After a dramatic misfire due to a safety device being left on, the fifth rocket of the Fort Churchill project, the Aerobee-Hi rocket left the launching tower on the second count-down Saturday, Lt.-Col. L.G. Smith, project officer, said this was the third rocket in a week, which constituted a record in itself.

HAMMARSKJOLD

The blocking of the 103-mile arterry linking the Red Sea and the Mediterranean already has begun to hurt Western Europe, which got much of its oil through the Suez before fighting broke out. Forty-seven ships were sunk in the canal before British and French paratroopers landed there Nov. 5.

Rationing of petroleum products has already begun and is on the way in many countries. Highways in Switzerland, Sweden and Denmark were practically deserted during the weekend as motorists stayed home either voluntarily or by government order. Other countries face shortages in the near future.

Sabry proposed that the United States cut off western hemisphere oil supplies to Britain, France and Israel if the three powers do not pull their forces out of Egypt.

He said Egypt had decided not to ask for "volunteers" from Russia and other countries in order to give the UN a chance to work out a peaceful solution.

Israel's Premier David Ben-Gurion Sunday rejected a Soviet demand that Israel pay Egypt compensation for the Israeli invasion. In a sharp reply to Premier Bulgasin, Ben-Gurion said that if the Soviet zone was entitled to compensation it was Israel, because of Egypt's actions during the last eight years.

DEMANDED REPARATIONS

Bulgania had demanded that Israel, Britain and France all pay Egypt reparations. Sabry made the same demand Sunday night. Hostilities broke out again Sunday night across the cease-fire line separating Egyptian and British-French troops 30 miles south of Port Said. The British-French command said the Egyptians fired on their lines for more than four hours—but that the British and French troops did not shoot back. There were no casualties.

In Port Said, Lt.-Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, the British commander, said Egypt was guilty of an UN-against the Egyptian breach of the cease-fire.

There was also shooting on the Israeli front during the weekend. Israel charged that an Egyptian patrol had violated the cease-fire by probing into the Israeli-held Sinai Peninsula Saturday. Israel said her soldiers killed five Egyptian soldiers. The Israeli Army also told of killing seven Arabs and capturing five in an Arab attack on a Negev settlement in Israel.

Stockwell told correspondents: "The Egyptians are trying to make us fire, but I am not rising to it. It seems a damn stupid thing. I requested United Nations observers here to investigate the shooting. They are doing their best to keep things quiet."

Referring to an Egyptian complaint to the UN that the British force was moving armored cars down the canal road to forward positions at El Cap, 25 miles south of Port Said, Stockwell said: "I do not know what they are referring to. We have no armored cars."

He said that the Egyptians were doing the same to the Anglo-French forces in the canal zone as they had done to the Israelis on the Gaza front.

"They are like naughty boys, and a good kick in the pants keeps them bouncing for a week," the general added.

CUTS COSTELLO'S LEAD

DUBLIN (Reuters)—Prime Minister John Costello's majority in the Dail has been cut to about five votes following two by-election victories by Eamon de Valera's Fianna Fail party. The Dublin South West result was a gain for Fianna Fail. There was no change at Carlow-Kilkenny.

FIVE ASPHYXIATED

LUTSEN, Minn. (AP) — Five deer hunters were found asphyxiated Sunday in a homemade trailer near a logging camp in the wilderness area north of Lake Superior. The victims were discovered by the camp owner's wife, who went to investigate when the hunters did not leave their trailer to continue hunting.

FIRST U.N. TROOPS ARRIVE IN EGYPT FROM NAPLES

The first troops of the United Nations peace force march off to quarters near Abu Suweir airdrome in Egypt. The contingent was made up of 95 Norwegian and Danish troops flown in from the staging area in Naples. Abu Suweir is one of the main airfields in the canal zone and was one field the British retained as an RAF staging base after occupation forces withdrew last June. Egyptian troops escort the U.N. troops. (Central Press Canadian).

Toronto Deer Hunter Rescued Near Whitney

WHITNEY, Ont. (CP) — Bob White, 35-year-old Toronto deer hunter, was spotted from an airplane Saturday and rescued from dense bush where he had spent two days and nights.

Hope for the missing hunter was dimming when a Peterborough-based plane circled the area and saw a smoke spiral.

The plane dropped down to a small lake and a forest ranger trekked to where White, cold and hungry, was lying in the snow.

"I don't think I could have lasted another night out there," he said. "I tried to keep a fire going but I'd fall asleep and it'd go out. I woke up this morning and found a deer sleeping right beside me. But I wasn't in any mood for hunting and I guess he knew it."

White, who had been hunting with four others, disappeared about 25 miles southeast of here Thursday morning.

Whitney is on the southern boundary of Algonquin Park.

Burglar Trying To Escape Drowns In Welland River

WELLAND (CP) — A burglar who was interrupted by a police man while emptying the safe of the Canadian National Railways radial station, was drowned in the Welland River Saturday night while attempting to escape.

Police identified the victim as Anthony Barca, 28, of Welland.

Constable John Chunick interrupted the robbery and chased the burglar through the Welland High School football field. He then heard cries from the river which flows alongside the field.

The body was recovered Sunday.

MOSCOW AIDS EGYPT

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is sending 15,000,000 rubles worth of emergency aid supplies to the Egyptian Red Cross and Red Crescent societies. It was announced here Sunday night. Fifteen million rubles is the equivalent at the official Soviet exchange rate of $3,750,000. Supplies will include 3,000 tons of wheat, 500,000 cans of condensed milk, a field hospital for 200 patients and 10 ambulances.

HUNT COIN HOARD

CALIFORNIA, England (Reuters) — They've struck gold in this Norfolk seaside town — but gold seekers here are combing the beach instead of the hills for precious metal. The hunt began earlier this week when a man dug up a 17th-century gold coin on the beach. Several other old coins have been found since, believed to come from a family treasure buried 300 years ago.

Militia Group Holds Annual Pistol Shoot

105 Manning Depot, Kingston, finished first in a field of several units of 13 Militia Group in the annual pistol shoot held at Remy Barracks ranges on Sunday, under the supervision of Lieut. Colonel Eric H. Warwick of Gananoque.

In second position were the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment of Belleville and Port Hope with the 33 Locating Battery, Brockville, finishing in third place.

Other units taking part in the shoot included the 50 Heavy Anti-Aircraft Battery, Peterborough; 3 Medium Battery, Gananoque; the PWOR, of Kingston and the 27th Technical Squadron, of Belleville.

Each unit used four-man teams.

ARENA DESTROYED

LEWISTON, Me. (AP)—A spectacular fire, fanned by Maine's first severe snow storm of the season, leveled St. Dom's Arena here in 20 minutes Sunday.

GUIDED MISSILE FIRED FROM SUB

Regulus I, the U.S. navy's surface-to-surface guided missile, is fired from a launching platform aboard the submarine Tunny, somewhere in the central Pacific. Top, the missile is set in firing position after removal from storage hangar in front of conning tower. Centre, thick exhaust spews from the weapon as it starts its flight from the landing platform. Bottom, the missile is shown soaring skyward leaving a trail of smoke that obscures the submarine. (Central Press Canadian).

HIGHER PRICES EXPECTED IN U.S. FOR OIL AND GAS

Not Likely Rationing Will Be Put in Effect

WASHINGTON (AP) — The East Coast blockage may bring higher gasoline and fuel oil prices in the United States, officials acknowledged today, but they are repeating that it will not necessitate rationing.

A spokesman for the Office of Defence Mobilization renewed his no-rationing assurance as most of western Europe curtailed motor travel and faced the prospect or actuality of gasoline rationing.

In the U.S., where petroleum output is restricted to a rate below the industry's potential, stocks in storage are high and plans are ready for a big boost in oil production if necessary.

Some industry sources, however, have estimated that strain on the American industry might be sufficient to shove fuel-oil prices up cent a gallon above present levels.

STIES SPECULATION

The international tension has stirred some speculation over whether the Eisenhower administration might ask Congress to demand - by authority to impose price, gage, rationing and container credit controls.

Responsible officials have discounted such speculation. One informed official said today: "There is no indication that any such request may be made to the new Congress."

It was learned last week that the government had decided not to go ahead with its emergency plans to assure western Europe of oil supplies through the United Nations agency it established itself in Egypt and British and French troops have been withdrawn.

SAW HUGE INCREASE

These plans, worked out with petroleum industry committees after Egypt's President Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal, envisaged huge increases in western hemisphere crude oil production and exports.

It would be possible to ship up to 1,100,000 barrels of crude oil daily to Europe, an ODM-has said, without creating any shortage in the U.S.

The government has turned down an informal request by 18 European countries to put the emergency plans into effect now.

Any question of action now to send oil to Britain and France might entail approval by efforts of the UN, Washington officials said, by appearing to range the U.S. in support of Britain and France and against the Arab states.

ROSS DYING COURIER

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)— A thief stole a runway load from Peter Catsgas Monday as Catsgas lay dying of a heart attack on a sidewalk. Catsgas, about 60, was carrying the receipts from his restaurant as he had two blocks away when he was stricken. As a crowd gathered, a man darted through them at Lisbon airport en route to Cairo.

India, Ceylon and Indonesia Urge UN Action in Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) Russian efforts to block United Nations action on Hungary faced new opposition today. Three Asian neutrals unexpectedly backed moves to send a fact-finding on-the-spot check in the battered satellite.

The latest action came as the General Assembly went into its second day of debate on the repression of the Hungarian revolt by Soviet troops.

India, Ceylon and Indonesia—which had kept aloof from the Hungarian dispute—put in a resolution calling on Russia to withdraw muniit government to grant Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjold a request to let in UN observers.

Hungary's puppet regime has refused to admit such observers, but has said it would allow relief supplies with UN representatives to enter Hungary. However, it has not handed a request from Hammarskjold that he be admitted as head of the relief mission.

The assembly Monday debated Cuba's call for the Soviet Union to stop deportations of Hungarians but V. K. Krishna Menon of India later was reported to have asked that the proposal by the three Asian powers be given priority.

Neither resolution is expected to run into much opposition except from the Soviet bloc, which has declared that Hungary's affairs are an internal affair and none of the business.

Informed sources said the Russians were pertitioned over the move by the three Asian countries, whom they had expected to keep silent during the debate. But India's Prime Minister Nehru, after insistent prodding by opposition Socialists and some newspapers, told his Parliament Monday that Soviet troops were camped in Hungary against the wishes of the Hungarian people.

Hungarian Refugees Continue Flow West in Great Numbers

VIENNA (Reuters) — Nephews of Cardinal Mindszenty and ex-Premier Imre Nagy have arrived together in Austria among the refugees still streaming out of stricken Hungary. The borders closed here today.

Ted Heltai, deposed prime minister is reported to be still sheltering in the Yugoslav Embassy here where cardinal has taken shelter in the United States Embassy.

An official statement said Monday that 2,722 refugees had came over into Austria in the last 12 hours.

The majority of the refugees who arrived in Austria Monday said individual Hungarian soldiers and officers had taken all their money, watches and jewelry before letting them cross the border.

Refugees who crossed the border near Andau, Austria, said they were charged a "fee" of 200 forints (about $10.80 at the official rate) by the soldiers.

Three planes have already about 130 refugees left Salzburg, Austria, for England Monday. A train with 276 other refugees arrived there Monday evening.

Sixty refugees from Soviet terror were on their way to homes

PARLIAMENT WILL BE CALLED NEXT MONDAY

First Troops Leave By Air in Day or So

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent announced today that Parliament will be recalled to meet into special session Monday, Nov. 26 at 2:30 p.m. EST to authorize funds for dispatch of up to 2,500 men to the Middle East.

Following a three-hour cabinet meeting, Mr. St. Laurent told reporters that the first of the troops may be leaving by air within 24 to 48 hours.

Troops will leave in accordance with the priority set out by Maj.-Gen. E. A. M. Burns, Canadian commander of the UN emergency force in Egypt. Gen. Burns has asked for an augmented RCAF transport squadron as well as administrative and housekeeping troops for the UN headquarters staff.

QUE MUST WAIT

Mr. St. Laurent said the bulk of the Queen's Own Rifles, now awaiting embarkation aboard the aircraft carrier Magnificent, at Halifax, will not be moved right away.

"I can't tell how long they will remain there," he said. "I can't tell how long it will be before they are dispatched to the Middle East. They will not leave. But in the command of the UN force. Mr. St. Laurent pointed out that the equipment has to have the Magnificent as a floating base in the Middle East. And apparently Gen. Burns now was thinking in terms of a head base in Egypt and a forward base in the area of operations.

The cabinet asked the prime minister what proportion of the QOR would be included in the makeup of Canada's contribution of up to 2,500 men and Mr. St. Laurent replied that a "very small proportion" of the Rifles would be included.

TWO SUBJECTS

The special session of Parliament would have two main subjects, he said. One would be authorization of funds to pay the costs of the Canadian contribution to the Middle East force, and the other would be to approve of the Canadian participation in the UN emergency force.

Questioned as to Egypt's position in connection with withdrawal of British troops for the UN force, Mr. St. Laurent emphasized that Egypt had agreed freely with the UN. He said reporters would have to ask Foreign Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold what discussions he has had with Egyptian President Nasser.

He said also that it had been up to the UN to determine with the host country what was to be done in connection with a UN force.

This will be the first special session of Parliament since 1950 when Parliament sat from Aug. 29 to Sept. 15 to deal with the Canadian forces and other forces dispatched to Korea.

Eden Takes Rest, Butler Assumes Premier's Duties

Severe Overstrain Causes Doctor to Order Vacation

LONDON (CP)—R. A. Butler, Britain's lord privy seal, today assumed the duties temporarily laid down by Prime Minister Eden, who is taking a rest on doctor's orders.

Butler, widely assumed to be No. 2 man in the Conservative leadership, presided at a cabinet meeting as acting prime minister. Eden is expected to take a holiday and may not return before the parliamentary Christmas recess.

A doctor who examined Eden this morning said progress was satisfactory, but that he was sleeping only "the most essential" hours.

A midnight announcement said Eden is suffering from severe overstrain and has cancelled immediate public engagements. He had had a break from Downing Street since the summer of 1955, and for several weeks has been at the centre of one of the most intense political crises Britain has witnessed in peacetime.

DIPLOMATIC ILLNESS

The news of Eden's illness came as the latest diplomatic development by newspapers which have opposed him in the Suez crisis. In Paris, the afternoon newspaper France Soir says Eden is suffering a "diplomatic illness" caused by the first step in the removal of a political leader.

France Soir says, "It was not easy for Conservatives opposed to Socialism to overthrow their party's leader. It can be considered now that his succession is opened."

Despite the controversy stirred at home by Eden's Middle East policies, it has never been considered likely here that he would be overthrown as prime minister in a frontal attack.

The Conservative government has a 61-vote majority in the Egyptian House of Commons, and has comfortably beaten off all no-confidence moves by the Labor party.

Any successful attempt to oust Eden would be likely to come from within his own party. Traditionally, this would take the form of backroom conversations among party leaders to impress the prime minister with the necessity for his retirement—followed by an announcement that he had decided to do so.

Since the Suez dispute began unfolding last July 26, the 59-year-old Eden has worked almost without letup. During the week of the Anglo-French intervention in Egypt he was under superhuman strain as the force of world opinion was made clear in a flow of messages to Downing Street.

British Starts Gas Rationing On December 17

LONDON (Reuters) — Gasoline rationing will be introduced in Britain Dec. 17, Fuel Minister Antony Jones announced today.

There will be a basic ration for all motorists, with a limited supplementary allowance for essential purposes.

Jones said ration books for private vehicles will be issued beginning Thursday.

The rationing order came as the direct resulting from the blockage of the Suez Canal was being felt with increasing intensity. Drought-stricken Denmark

Jones gave no immediate indication as to what ration allowances would be granted to motorists.

OPEN ANIMAL HOME

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has opened a new $250,000 Bronx shelter with accommodations for 300 animals. Its "adoption kennel" is enclosed in glass so the public can make a direct appeal to persons passing the building.

German Vessel Grounded After St. Lawrence Collision

ST. LAURENT, Que. (CP)—One ocean freighter was aground on the rocky St. Lawrence River shore here and another was headed into Quebec harbor with a heavily-damaged bow after a violent mid-stream collision near this Orleans Island village Monday night.

The German freighter Wolfgang Russ, 2,963 gross tons, a gaping hole in her starboard side, was run aground by her crew after she was in collision with the Canada steamship's cargo vessel Alsterufer. The bow of the 8,723-ton Cunard freighter punched into the German vessel's side just forward of the bridge.

No injuries were reported aboard either ship.

The collision occurred about two miles upstream from St. Laurent, on the south shore of the Island of Orleans, about 10 miles east of Quebec City. The Wolfgang Russ, operated by the firm Ernst Russ oc Hamburg, Germany, was moving upriver for Sorel, Que. The Alsterufer was bound for London from Quebec.

The stricken German vessel, holed so badly that an observer said "it was only a matter of time" until she sank, was run aground about a mile downstream from the point of impact.

TAKEN IN TOW

Two tugs took the Asia in tow, with pieces of the Wolfgang Russ's hull and superstructure jammed into her heavily-damaged bow. They hauled her to Quebec.

The 25 members of the Wolfgang Russ crew remained on board. All wore lifebelts, but appeared unconcerned as the water lapped about two feet below the deck level shortly after the grounding.

It swirled into the forward hold through the garage - door - sized hole.

There was a full moon and a slight mist over the river at the time of the collision.

Burns Declares Egypt Cannot Bar Canadians

LISBON (AP)—Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, commander of the UN Middle East police force, said today that Egypt had accepted the presence of UN troops on Egyptian soil and therefore must accept Canadian and Pakistani members as part of the force.

Any divergence from this acceptance is a matter for the UN Security Council and General Assembly to discuss, Gen. Burns told a press conference while spending a few hours at Lisbon airport en route to Cairo.

Grey Cup Football Classic to Be Received With Oomph in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—The Grey Cup football classic, traditional high spot on the Toronto sporting calendar, is coming home with an unprecedented roar after a year's absence.

Toronto will play host to Montreal Alouettes and Edmonton Eskimos as the top eastern and western teams clash for the 44th consecutive year. Montreal still is looking for a victory.

"In previous years," a member of the junior Board of Trade arrangements committee said, "visitors have been allowed to sneak into town with no functions for them until the night before the game.

"We're trying to do better this year."

Last year, when the game was played in Vancouver, the coast city turned on a three-day carnival and provided a tumultuous welcome for visiting fans.

This year, staid Toronto is taking a leaf out of the westerners' book. Beauty queens, 13 of them from 12 cities, will appear on television Thursday and at noon Friday a Festival Fair Luncheon will be held to honor visitors.

The annual Grey Cup party—at $2.50 a head—will go Friday night with three bands and a square dance caller, breaking up at 3 a.m. Saturday. Miss Grey Cup will be chosen at the party.

Meanwhile, in another part of a downtown hotel, the Grey Cup dinner will be held, the yearly honoring of men who have made outstanding contributions to football in Canada.

Saturday morning will see the traditional parade, with floats representing each of the country—including a secret entry from Vancouver rumored to have cost approximately $25,000.

"We will have greeters boarding the incoming trains to call visitors by name," the Board of Trade spokesman said. Greeters will carry shopping-bag-sized kits with maps, cigarets and all sorts of useful items.

CPR and CNR officials were busy Monday working out special schedules Monday night. Trans-Canada Air Lines plan an extra flight Thursday serving Vancouver, Calgary and Edmonton. Friday, three extra planes will fly the Montreal-to-Toronto run with two extras on the western leg.

Hotels, booked solid for the festival weekend since last spring, report extra cots will be put into meeting halls.

Pearson Says Changed Plans Are Not Concession to Egypt

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) The United Nations has agreed to Canada's request for an administrative unit to the Middle East police force and a transport squadron to help fly force personnel into Egypt.

But if the request is granted, a Canadian UN spokesman says, it will not change Canada's original plan to contribute a 1,200-man force.

The announcement Monday night by External Affairs Minister Pearson ended considerable speculation at UN headquarters that Canadian participation was being delayed in the face of strong Egyptian objections to having Canadian troops on Egyptian soil.

Pearson did not deny that there had been such objection, but he said the size of the plans was dictated by the immediate needs of the international force being assembled and not a concession to Egypt's will.

The request came from Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canadian commander of the UN force.

(Reuters reported Monday from the UN that Egypt's opposition to Canadian infantry troops being part of the UN emergency force is understood to be based on three main arguments.

(These are:

(1) Canada abstained in the special assembly vote recommending that Britain, France and Israel should be withdrawn from their troops from Egypt; 2. The historically close association of Canadian and British forces in past combat; and 3. The similarity of Canadian and British uniforms, which would be likely to offend the Egyptian people (Canadian troops patrolled their territory.)

Egypt was reported meanwhile to have let it be known that part of Secretary Dag Hammarskjold in its demand that the UN force leave the Suez Canal Zone following a British-French withdrawal. With Britain, France and Israel standing firm in their opposition, UN diplomats were said to be seriously concerned over the delay in finding a formula to resolve the deadlock.

Hammarskjold's view of the function of the police force, based on principles contributed to the report adopted by the General Assembly, had been reported to include possible early plans for the clearing of the blocked waterway. Egypt has demanded that British, French and Israel immediately withdraw their forces before any clearing of the blocked waterway. Egypt has demanded that British, France

Former Chief To Stand Trial On Theft Charge

A 13-man Grand Jury Monday afternoon returned a true bill on a charge of theft from the mails against Norman Marmora, police chief Charles Lockwood. He will stand trial before Judge G. F. Smith, of Napanee, and a jury at County Court here on Wednesday morning.

The charge of theft was laid on August 29 after two weeks of investigation by Ontario Provincial Police into the disappearance of $8,500 in U.S. currency from a registered mail bag at the Marmora post office. Most of the money has been recovered.

Lockwood was arrested by O.P.P. Corporal Douglas Sears of the Madoc detachment and turned over to Criminal Investigations Branch Inspectors Vern Whiteley and Robert Wannell. He has been lodged in Hastings county jail since his arrest, although property bail was reduced from $20,000 to $10,000.

The accused will be defended by Arthur Fair, of Peterborough, and Crown Attorney Alex Hall, of Oshawa, will be for the prosecution.

Hockey Games Cut Attendance At Council

Senior "A" hockey games being played at the Belleville Memorial Arena are responsible for the counter-attraction to city council committee meetings with the result that attendance at the latter is being affected.

This was pointed out at city council Monday evening by Alderman Charles L. Hyde who referred to "this unfortunate fact" in view of aldermen at council committee meetings on the night of the game.

He noted that at one recent meeting of council there were on hand at the commencement of the meeting only to have this number drop away to mere five as the evening progressed.

"It is not fair to other councillors," he said.

There was a brief discussion as to the advisability of changing the night of committee meetings but no action was taken when it was observed there was no hockey game on the night of the next meeting.

Council Approves Bus Fare Increase But Won't Allow Abandoning Crosstown Route

Belleville city council Monday evening gave formal approval for Rawson Bus Lines to increase fares, but turned down the request of the bus company for permission to discontinue the Crosstown bus route.

The by-law covering amendments to the Rawson Bus Lines agreement with the city was up for approval of council on two weeks ago but was referred back for further consideration when two West Hill delegations objected strongly to the Crosstown bus route being discontinued.

Last night in giving three readings to the by-law council approved of the proposed 50 per cent increase in fares from three tickets for a quarter to two tickets for a quarter and the cash fare and also approved of slight changes in the Dunbar-Cedar and 15-minute East Hill bus schedules. Children's cash fare will be seven cents, instead of five cents.

Council turned down the request to discontinue the Crosstown bus and deleted certain clauses to the agreement.

Included among the clauses added by council was one giving the Rawson Bus Lines Ltd. as a party to the agreement along with the name of Thomas Frederick Rawson with whom the original agreement was signed back in 1951.

Council will also ask for a covenant guaranteeing that all services and fares be maintained to the end of the contract and that there be no further assignments to the company without permission from the city.

However, council turned down a clause calling for the bus company to post a surety bond guaranteeing performance to the termination of the contract.

Each of the amendments and proposed added clauses was voted on separately by council.

Since the bus lines agreement by-law was referred back by council two weeks ago the city auditor has gone over books of the bus lines covering operations for the past five years and submitted a 14-page report. On studying the report council generally agreed the bus line was losing money.

Alderman Ben Safe wanted to know whether Rawson Bus Lines Ltd., or Mr. Rawson personally was responsible for carrying out the terms of the agreement with the city.

He was told by K. A. Pringle, city solicitor, that Mr. Rawson was responsible but added the only redress council would have for failure to live up to the agreement was to cancel the bus company's franchise.

Alderman Robert Temple noted that if no performance bond had been posted by the company such a bond should have been given. "We are asking the impossible," said Alderman Graham, as council voted on the clauses asking the bus company to guarantee performance until the end of the contract. "Mr. Rawson will retire, and then we will be right back where we started."

Council was strongly in favor of the Crosstown bus route being continued. Ald. Temple said there had been little or no objection to proposed increased fares but the fact the Crosstown route should be continued to give service to the Bakelite plant should not stand for any further decrease in service.

He said he would vote for the fare increase on one provision: that council reserve the right to have the city auditor make another check "in six months' time to see if the fare increase had been warranted. When put to a vote the alderman's objection was strongly defeated.

Alderman William Argue claimed council was taking a short range view of the whole bus line situation and warned the city might be in the bus business on the expiration of the Rawson contract.

"If for one wouldn't want to see a municipally owned bus service, it would be the tax payers who'd paid," he said.

Aldermen Argue and Graham were the only two members approving of discontinuing the Crosstown bus route, while Alderman Reid and McCabe opposed the fare increase.

Police Blotter

City and provincial police reported a quiet night. Allen Lester, 38 West Bridge Street, reported to city police this morning that some time after midnight his car, which was parked in a garage, was ransacked but nothing taken. Another was that the same garage was broken into and a small camera taken, in addition, a quantity of ginger ale were stolen from a shed.

Charge Dropped, Other Reduced By Magistrate

Magistrate R. B. Baxter of Cobourg, presiding Monday dropped a charge of murder which was laid against 24-year-old Clifford Whyte, Belleville, and reduced the same charge against Kenneth White, 18, of Fort William, to manslaughter.

White will stand trial in Cobourg in January at the next Supreme Court Assizes.

Brough, who was defended by Belleville barrister Kenneth G. M. Ross, was freed yesterday afternoon, in fact man for the first time since his arrest on the night of August 31.

White, who is being defended by Stuart Ryan, of Port Hope, was arrested on the same night after he fired two shots from a 16-calibre rifle and killed Wadsworth farmer Roy Rogers. It is understood that Crown Attorney Harold R. Deyrmen, of Cobourg, will submit an appeal for bail to the magistrate.

The preliminary hearing into the two murder charges was held in Brighton a few weeks ago. Magistrate Baxter withheld his decision until yesterday.

'Blitz Night' For Community Chest Success

It appears that last night's Community Chest "blitz" was an unqualified success. Although no figures have been released because all canvassers have not reported in, a few errors were missed, and because there is some back-canvassing to do, a campaign spokesman said this morning, "We are very pleased with the result of last night's blitz. However, it will be another week before we can be more accurately just how much was collected."

The Hi-Y Club of the YMCA has volunteered to visit those areas that were missed last night and also to call on folks who asked them to return. Next Monday night will see 27 members knocking at doors in the city in an effort to find the chimney at which people have indicated they would like to make.

If you haven't already donated and would like to, simply address an envelope to the Community Chest, care of the YMCA, 20 Campbell Street, Belleville. The enclosed cheque should be made out to the Community Chest.

Curling Rink Will Be Placed On Fair Grounds

With the approval of the Parks Board and the City Council for the leasing of a portion of land on the Fair Grounds on which a curling rink can be erected, the meeting of the Quinte Curling Club called for the City Hall this evening, will get down to business in preparing a plan, choosing a site and completing any other arrangements that may be necessary to get the project in motion.

It has been a hard, uphill fight to get this project underway but the directorate and the membership have not relaxed in their efforts to finish. When finished it will provide many hours of healthful recreation to a large number during the winter and district and will also be the place where many social functions can be held.

The members have decided to erect a four-sheet rink to start with and to add to in the years to come if found necessary. At the meeting tonight it is expected a number of new members will be presented by the membership committee of the club. A discussion as to the type of building to be constructed will be held and it is the wish of the directorate that all take part in these talks for from the discussion a better plan be formed. The board has a number of plans to submit and probably will have an estimated cost of the building and ice plant.

A large attendance is requested by the president so that work can be started at once.

John F. Quinn, Tweed District, Killed by Car

TWEED — John Francis Quinn, 59, Tweed district farmer, was fatally injured late Monday afternoon when struck by a car as he was driving a team of horses on Highway 37, near his home. The accident occurred about three miles south of Actinolite.

Police said that Mr. Quinn was proceeding north along the highway driving the horses attached to a wagon and hauling a farm mower behind.

Rev. Allan King, 228 East 44th Street, Hamilton, was also northbound and is said to have been dazzled by the lights of an approaching car and failed to see the horses and farm wagon ahead of him. The car struck the wagon killing Mr. Quinn and injuring one of the horses so badly it had to be destroyed. The King car is then said to have swung to the left and struck a glancing blow to the southbound car driven by Mrs. Dorothy Argue, 155 Charles Street, Belleville. The Argue car was only slightly damaged.

Ontario Provincial Police Cpl. Douglas Sears of Madoc, who investigated the accident, Crown Attorney John A. Pringle had ordered an inquest.

Smoke Nuisance In Several Areas To Be Eliminated

City Manager Dennis Herring will be asked to take whatever steps are necessary to abate the objectionable smoke nuisance in the city which is the cause of many complaints from residents in the North Coleman street area.

A motion to this effect was passed by council Monday evening with Mr. Herring noting that while there is no by-law limited to take action, where the city smoke, by-law is now under consideration.

Council was told that the Belle Cleaners on Coleman street was an offender, and that it also was noted that complaints have been received that the chimney at Queen Elizabeth public school belching colored smoke at times.

Enforcing the smoke by-law is quite a problem councillors were told after a meeting had been called that the city building inspector be an official "smoke watcher."

The city manager said the building inspector just did not have the time to do this and to enforce the by-law. He said, however, that as much co-operation as possible would be given.

Council approved of a recommendation asking that the attorney general's department be asked to investigate jewellery auction sales such as are nightly being held in Belleville. Alderman Enos David noted that such auctions have ceased in Peterborough.

COUNCIL GIVES APPROVAL

"Something should be done about them," he said.

Council approved the action of the city Parks Board in their proposal to provide a site at the Belleville Fair Grounds for a new curling rink proposed to be built by the local curling club.

Alderman C. D. Tice said negotiations for a curling clubhouse building to be used both by the fair board and the curling club had fallen through with the curling club members having decided to go ahead on their own.

He said the Parks Board was agreeable, but council approval was also sought. "No definite location for the building at the Fair Grounds had been decided on," he said.

Alderman Ben Safe wanted to know if the interests of the city were being protected. He was assured the club would pay the required taxes.

Alderman Ralph Graham said there should be no question of city approval of the proposal as now unused space at the Fair Grounds would be utilized. The only point on which there might be negotiation was the exact location on the ground.

Alderman Art Keegan asked that council take some action to assure that the road allowance in Fosier Ward, now taken up by the junk yard, be kept open for city use. He said the junk yard, to which few local residents had strongly objected, was about to be moved to another location north of the city. Alderman Argue, Temple and Keegan were named a committee to investigate.

Senior Hockey Team Guests Of Rotary Club

Belleville Rotarians yesterday played hosts to the Belleville "McFarlands," club manager and treasurer Drury Denyes, and playing coach "Bep" Guidolin. Rotarian Bill Gault introduced Mr. Denyes, who said that for the past three years Belleville hockey was limited to four imports. However, this year, in a last bid to keep senior hockey alive here the arena commission hired him to get out and find a coach and a team. Mr. Denyes interviewed four or five coaching prospects, but finally settled on "Bep" Guidolin, who started playing hockey professionally at the age of 16 for Boston.

At the present time Mr. Denyes is trying to settle team members for the season's schedule. Most of them have permanent accommodation and when they have been settled in Belleville, it is hoped they will keep playing for Belleville for some years to come. The team manager then introduced "Bep" Guidolin.

The playing coach introduced the members of the Belleville team, who will be known as the "Dunlops" will give every team in the league a tough battle this year, but we are not going to concede first spot to them this early in the season. We are give Whitby a run for their money yet.

Even now on, anybody on the team who doesn't give his best won't be with us long. We want everyone to know that we will do our best to represent Belleville in hockey circles this winter.

The guests were thanked by Rotarian Cyril Dufour and President E. C. Gurnett.

In thanking the guests Mr. Dufour branded as "the spirit of true sportsmanship among amateur players" the fact that most of the players are turning out to coach the eight hundred youngsters playing hockey who are interested in hockey in, the minor leagues.

Obituary

THOMAS J. COLSTON
Toronto - Belleville

In ill health for the past few months, Thomas J. Colston, of Raglan Avenue, Toronto, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ethel Bowen, Bridge Street, in this city, late Monday afternoon. He was born in Birmingham, England, 79 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. Colston and had lived in Toronto for many years. He had resided with his daughter for the last few months, but lived in Toronto for many years, where he was employed by the provincial government.

Resting at the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Chapel. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

MRS. JOHN HINDS

Following an illness of three months, Mrs. Agnes Hinds, Symington Drive, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Monday afternoon. She was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Dryden and had resided in Belleville during the past half century. She was well known and highly regarded in her community.

A member of Bridge Street United Church, she is survived by her husband, John Hinds, one daughter, Mrs. Cameron E. (Isabell) Wallbridge, of this city and one sister, Mrs. B. Byford, of Hemet, California.

Resting at the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Chapel. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

Advance Voting Poll Will Be Open Three Days

An advance voting poll will be open at Queen Victoria School, Pine St., Belleville Ward, subdivision No. 12 on Thursday, Friday and Saturday Nov. 29, 30 and Dec. 1 from 8.00 a.m., to 6 p.m. This poll is being held for the purpose of receiving votes of citizens of Belleville who will be absent in the ordinary course of business or employment on the municipal election will be held on Monday, December 3rd.

All eligible voters are privileged to vote on any one of the above mentioned days.

The qualifications for eligibility to vote were defined by City Assessor Al Smith, "to be house owner or tenant having one or two rooms in which he or she eats, sleeps and prepares meals."

People who have an assessment of less than $400 or live in less than two rooms are not eligible to vote.

Mr. Smith said the compilation of the voters list starts with house to house poll of the entire city from May until the end of Aug. The names of all house owners and tenants are verified at home an the record is kept up to date on hundreds of people who have moved, died, or become, entered or left the city.

If anybody is home at the time the assessors call, a card is left requesting the owner or tenants of the home to phone the Assessment office. Last summer the department left 1500 such cards and got only a response of 35 calls. However, a follow up notice and form asking the recipient to write in the requested information with a warning that failure to do so would mean a fine drew almost 100 per cent compliance.

Of the voters book, which contains 7,000 names, closed Sept. 30, any person who was not on the commission of his or her name was given an opportunity to qualify at a court of appeal held by Judge J. F. Smith of Napanee on Friday Nov. 16, at which only eight took up on this privilege.

All the citizens who are not sure if their names are presently on the voting list for the municipal election may verify this information with City Clerk Mrs. A. M. Hagerty until vote closing time on Monday, Dec. 3 at 7 p.m.

New City Hall Employee Changes Mind About Job

Indulgence by councillors in personalities during council meetings, which are broadcast over radio station CJBQ has resulted in a new city hall employee to change his mind about coming to work in Belleville.

Two weeks ago council was told a new public works official had been hired and was expected for duty on December 1st. Last night council was told that the man after learning of conditions which had taken place in council, had decided against coming to the city.

City Manager Dennis Herring suggested to council that comments on personalities should not be made in open council but should be confined to the committee of the whole.

He observed that prospective employees from outside didn't appreciate having their lives laid open like a goldfish bowl and suggested that any employee at city hall was entitled to the same personal privacy as would be granted an employee in industry.

"I feel that it is the duty of a councillor to state any comments which he sees fit," returned Alderman Ben Safe.

Before meetings of the committee of the whole where such comments are supposed," said the city manager.

Alderman William Argue felt that council meetings should be free and open for any discussion.

When deliberations of this council are hampered because of the microphones, it is time to get rid of them," he said.

Mayor Jane Forrester said points on both sides were well taken but agreed that personalities should not be discussed over the radio.

Lake St. Peter Hunting Camp Nearing Quota

A Lake St. Peter district hunting camp composed of Belleville, Sidney township and Stirling area hunters, is having its full share of luck during the present season in the north.

Already a 400-pound moose and six deer have been shot by the hunters.

The group are Winfield Harder, Dr. Harry Burns, Al Francis, Wallace McCaffrey, Bill Hubbell, George McLean and Gordon McIntosh.

Herbert Maines of this city and his son, Kenneth Maines of Ottawa have bagged their deer while hunting in the Millbridge area.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market slipped today during morning trading for the fifth straight session.

Base metals and industrials led the downward trend with index losses of more than a point. Western oils declined one-quarter of a point.

Algoma Steel, one of the 20 industrial stocks used to compile the section's index, was the heaviest loser with a drop of 3¼ points.

All gains were minor fractions. B-A Oil, U.S. Ford, and A. V. Roe were winners.

Senior mines lost fractional ground. Among the losers were Falconbridge and Ventures, off ⅝, and Hudson Bay, International Nickel and Labrador, down ½.

C of C Secretary Asks Support of Tourist Booklet

Continued city support for the Chamber of Commerce sponsored tourist booklet, The Highlands of Hastings, was urged at council Monday evening by Robert Hamilton, Belleville Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Speaking on plans for the 1957 tourist folder, Mr. Hamilton said that already many of the resort operators in the north part of the county had been canvassed with the intention to again have about 10,000 of the folders printed.

The 1957 edition of the booklet will have an interesting cover picture in full color and inside will be profusely illustrated with pictures of county attractions and other features. Mr. Hamilton suggested that an additional two or three thousand booklets might be required if there was attendance at the two sportsmen's shows contemplated by the Lake Ontario Development Association of which the city is a member.

The "Highlands of Hastings" tourist folder is planned and published by the Chamber of Commerce with the city and county of Hastings contributing equal shares to its support. This year the city contributed $500.

It was expected that the same contribution from the city would be adequate.

Alderman Ben Safe referred to the Lake Ontario Development Association tourist booklet and asked if there was any duplication of services.

In reply Mr. Hamilton pointed out that the development association covers six separate tourist areas, but that it was up to each district in the area to sell its own attractions.

All Employees Of School Board To Have X-ray

In keeping with a directive from the Ontario Department of Education, all employees of the Belleville Public School Board will undergo a chest X-ray for tuberculosis.

Members of the local board at their regular monthly meeting held Monday evening approved for details of the clinic to be worked out with the city medical officer of health. The X-ray will be done by mobile equipment under the direction of the local T.B. clinic. Dates for the X-ray are still to be worked out.

All members of the school board were on hand for the meeting, which saw only comparatively minor business transacted.

At the request of Police Inspector J. Clair Hayes consideration in next year's budget will be given for a school fence on Octavia and Catherine Streets to enclose the Queen Mary School grounds.

TENDER ACCEPTED

The tender of C. L. Hyde and Son Ltd. at $254 was accepted for installation of an extra radiator in the auditorium at the Sir Winston Churchill School.

Appreciation was expressed to the Belleville Poppy Fund for the provision of 3,000 poppies for school children on Remembrance Day.

October accounts amounting to $33,393.39 were passed including October payroll of $29,037.33 were ordered paid.

The annual report on legislative grants for the year was presented to the board.

It was noted that the board had received $87,822.02 in regular grants, plus a special grant of $6 per pupil, amounting to $14,-639.96.

Present at the meeting were: Chairman H. W. Trill and members, Mrs. Dorothy Tugnett, Bruce Bishop, William Ironside, Lyle Langabeer, Morley Lovelace, Don McKinney, George Olsen, J. Ritchie, Dr. J. Russell Scott, F. Young, F. Symons, Wm. VanTassel and J. Ward.

Camp of Fourteen Got Deer Quota In Two Days

TRENTON. (Special.) — A Trenton man was one of a party of 14 deer hunters who shot 14 deer in the Chalk River district last week. But Ed Thomas, the local bus station operator who bagged a 140-pound buck, complained because the hunt was over too soon. The hunters planned to stay a week and by the second day out had their entire count. The remainder of the stay they found monotonous putting in the time. The party completely fed-up with the inactivity finally broke camp on the fourth day and headed to their different homes across Ontario.

The party annual visitors to the Chalk River area is known as the Keen gang including this year Percy Alfred, Ernie, Sidney and Keith Keen with Don Nichols, George Fields, John Peachy, Earl Hawkins, Carl Malcolm, George Tennant, Gordon Ferris, John VanBridges and Ed Thomas.

Two days of shooting netted the party seven bucks and as many does. The largest buck weighed over 200 pounds.

Members of the party reported seeing six bears although none of them were close enough to make good targets. They heard of a camp owned by three Perth men had taken six moose, but ran across none themselves.

The Otter Lake Hunt club comprising six Trenton shooters and one from Toronto accounted for only two deer in seven days. A spokesman for the party said the weather was bad most of the time. A buck and a doe fell before their guns the first day in the bush. The club comprises: Councillor George Brown, Bob Cretney, Vic Auger, Wenty Miller, Ken Orr, W. House all of Trenton and W. T. Shutt of Toronto.

REPORTS NEW CASES

WINNIPEG (CP) — The city health department said Monday 10 new diphtheria cases have brought the city's total this year to 34, and made it the worst outbreak on the continent. Three new carriers of the disease also were reported.

Fire Damage Not as Serious As Expected

TRENTON (Special) — Damage caused by the spectacular flash fire at the Miller Bros papermill at Glen Miller on Sunday was not as serious as first expected according to a company official. The one paper-making machine seared by the flames went back into production yesterday while the second machine may be repaired by Thursday.

Fire beleived to have started in the ventilating system raged fiercely in the machine building when firemen from three places, Belleville, Trenton and Frankford arrived. After two-and-a-half hours the danger had been eliminated. Fire chief Clarence Orser of Trenton said the concrete roof confined the fire and gave firemen with hoses a chance to get at it before any bad break-through developed.

A company spokesman said it was a miracle the wind did not shift and send the fire into the buildings where the paper stocks are kept.

There were 24 men working the swing shift when the outbreak was discovered in the ceiling near a ventilation outlet.

A temporary hydro shut-off due to the fire put the papermill firefighting equipment out of action. Meanwhile firemen called to the scene pumped water from the river alongside the mill.

FIREMAN SCORES ASSIST

Local fireman Gerald Lewis scored an assist on a fire here on Sunday morning.

As his way home from the call to Glen Miller he noticed a pal of smoke in the David's Electric store on Dundas Street East.

He continued on home phoned in the alarm to a fellow fireman then returned to the scene to be of help if needed.

A short-circuit in a combination radio-phonograph created an acrid smelling smoke that soon cleared the premises after the cause was eliminated and the place aired out.

Youths Plead Guilty to Theft Of Three Cars

Six teen-aged boys who were charged with causing a disturbance on Bridge Street near the Armouries on Hallowe'en night were remanded to December 1st when they appeared before Magistrate T. Y. Wills here this morning.

The six were apprehended by city police from among a crowd of about 300 other teen-agers.

William Tripple, 18, and Lloyd Thompson, 17, both from out of the city, pleaded guilty to three charges of car theft and elected trial by magistrate. After hearing the evidence Magistrate Wills remanded them in custody for sentencing on Friday.

Denis Towns was sentenced to three months in jail this morning for breach of recognizance. Last year he was placed on one year suspended sentence after being found guilty of two charges of breaking and entering.

the Wallace Wood family lives at Hart's Corners in north Trenton. Loss was placed at $600, the result of fire and water damage.

Fire chief Clarence Orser blamed the outbreak to spontaneous combustion since there is no electric wiring in the house and the upstairs was used only as a place to store old clothing and sundry articles.

The house belongs to the Hoolihan estate.

SHOULD BAN ALL VOLUNTEERS

The Soviet Union, after a solid week in which newspapers and radio programs voiced an unceasing stream of appeals for "volunteers" to assist Egypt, soft-pedalled its campaign on Friday.

It is to be hoped that the Kremlin has thought better of its dangerous meddling in a situation which will require the display of the utmost tact and caution by all of the world is to escape an incendiary situation which would supply the fuse for the fireworks.

Few people, however, will consider this lull in the Russian gadfly program as anything more than a tactical manoeuvre. The Kremlin appears blindly determined to play the most dangerous game in the world, prodding the world towards the brink of war and then endeavoring to avoid the consequences itself. There is a frightening tinge of insanity about any group of politicians who would even contemplate such a course.

Aside from the immediate situation, though, the Russian talk about "volunteers" should serve to focus the eyes of the United Nations on a problem which deserves serious consideration.

Ought not the world to outlaw "volunteers?" To ask the question is to beg the scornful reply that no agreement reached with Communists is worth the paper on which it is written. That attitude, though, ignores the value of a code which law-abiding nations are expected to follow. The Geneva Convention on the treatment of prisoners of war was not without its value during the Second Great War. It did not prevent prisoners being abused in many cases, but it almost certainly resulted in better treatment than would have been accorded prisoners had there been no such international agreement. An agreement by the nations of the world to refuse to permit their citizens to volunteer to fight for another nation might have the same effect.

There will be those who will consider any such agreement impractical. There was a day when the soldier of fortune was considered to be plying an honorable trade. We doubt though, whether there are many civilized people today who do not scorn the man who hires himself out to kill or be killed in a quarrel with an international convention outlawing this trade.

The soldier of fortune, though, is not the only man who in recent years has participated in wars in which his own nation was not involved. For instance there was the International Brigade, which fought with the Loyalists in Spain. Now, it is true, that these men fought for money. Some may have fought for the love of fighting. Most of them, though, fought for a principle. There are many who say that the principle was wrong, or that these men were under a delusion as to the true nature of the Loyalist regime, but the fact remains that these men from many nations fought for the Loyalists because they believed the Loyalists were right.

One suspects, too, that this same belief in a principle was a real influence behind the men who composed General Chennault's famous "Flying Tigers" who assisted Chiang Kai-Shek in his struggle against the Japs in World War Two.

There is no question but that many believers in freedom and justice would volunteer to assist the Hungarians, if any effective method of aiding them could be devised.

Men who fight for a principle are in a different class from men who fight for money, but it is doubtful whether the world can any longer afford the luxury of permitting men to enlist in the cause of a nation which is not their own.

Communists dedit a death blow at this "free enterprise" approach to the problem by the despatch of thousands of Chinese "volunteers" to the aid of North Korea. Nobody in his right senses believes that these men were "volunteers" in the usual sense of the word. Few who were delighted to go, but most of them went because they were ordered to do so.

If Russia's "volunteers" go to Egypt, there is little real doubt that they will essentially be in the same class as the Chinese "volunteers" during the Korean war. The Soviet Union is erecting a facade by appeals in newspapers and over radio, but behind this facade we can be certain that there will be heavy official pressure to force a response in keeping with the desires of the Kremlin. Moreover, the equipping of the Chinese "volunteers" by China, and the fact that Russian "volunteers" in Egypt would be using Russian-made equipment, strips this method of waging a "non-official" war of its last lingering pretences.

Yet it would appear to be difficult, if not impossible, to draft any clear-cut convention which would distinguish between "volunteers" and "mercenaries" in such a manner that there could be no doubt as to which class each and every volunteer fell into. It follows that the only practical solution is to prohibit the use of all volunteers. The appropriate penalty might well be the loss of citizenship in the native land — and if this did not prove a sufficiently powerful deterrent the forfeiture of all rights as a legitimate belligerent. A volunteer would then be treated as a common murderer instead of a combatant.

They wondered how they'd find more,

and yet the little fellow came and they were charged with

No one can guess what God

And by and by, as time went on,
in school it came to pass
That little fellow grew to be the

They'd found the time to care for

Baying at the Moon

By John Gould in The Christian Science Monitor

During the night, without previous warning or announcement, our family pooch, who is part collie, part mongrel, and the rest dog, stretched up on his hind legs, inserted his proboscis into the nether distance, and let go with a long, loud, mournful howl which sounded, as much as anything, like a banshee which had successfully wrung a large and forceful rat trap with its tail.

I came out of bed still standing, wondering what dire and distressing surprise had been prepared for our comfort at the moment. I draw his midnight confusedly to a fine point and cut it off. He then looked about in the moonlight, as if to see if anybody had seen him do such utterly fiendish thing, and crawled back on the steps where he resorted to repose and made no more noise.

There are dogs which like the cozy comfort of the countryside and will sleep content on the master's bed. Prince is one of them. But there are also owners and mothers who do not think this a fine point and cut it off. He then in the house at night his best spot is the hard planking. He prefers the garage, and he likes it all right because Prince has a deep sense of responsibility and a daily production out of guarding the establishment against encroachments.

During the evening he likes to come in the kitchen part but then family discussions and show he is interested in what goes on. But when the time comes for covering the impression that he is going to bed, he goes out and lies beautifully reluctantly, well knowing that he might just as well be up and about because he will be back spring bed. He generally looks at this time, as if he had just been given a wig with a stove-poker, a quarry slave scurryed.

Sensitive

During the long night he defends us manfully against approaching footsteps in the night, our remote setting, scarcely anything approaches. After one night's howling, I was up at dawn to find Prince huddled miserably under the lilac bush, looking as if he had failed utterly at some important task and had resolved to be severely rebuked. He hung down his head, and his tail drooped. He was afraid to greet me, or run for his stick to be thrown. He was abject.

Then I saw marks on the ground, and dropping to one knee to read the signs. I found a rabbit track and two cow mouse had passed that way within recent hours. Investigation of the matter at his post had detected the approach of these lower beasts, and he, knowing that discretion is the better part of valor had decided to hold that fence. This was the last thing in the world I want in a dog. I like to raise a dog who, because some mouse want to cross our lawn. I patted him and told him that he was a good dog, and then he ran for his stick.

Now, what set him off the other night, as I see it, was a combination of circumstances, mostly psychology. It was a crisp fall evening with the near-full moon bright in the eastern sky. On such a night the noises of the countryside carry tremendously, and sounds that on other evenings would scarcely be noticed are accented and increased. And this would be a night every hound dog in miles around would be out chasing raccoons. None of them had been near our place, but the horizon resounded with the baying.

Coon dogs, around here, come in an assortment, and their voices are distinctive, but they are two groups—usually an experienced old hand is given a runway of younger dogs who are learning the trade, and the instructions are loud. Then, too, the nightly hikers who frolic o'er hill and dale with these hounds also holler and whoop, and cajole and advise each other and urge on the dogs, all in a high tone.

A man four miles away on such a night can call—and I say "can"—Charlie!" and sound as if he was right under the window. Then when somebody cusses, "He went home!" and both voices seem to be right on the back door step, prevents the racoon hunt from seeming to be over in the next township. We get little sleep through it, and it isn't too bad.

Now Prince, being part collie, etc., has a bark, as distinguished from a bay, bellow, bugle. Not being a hound, he is not expected to circle the day or so three apparently dogs who sniff the puckerbrush and sample the spoor. I am glad, but evidently Prince feels he is bereft. Perhaps he reflects on his primitive ancestors who lived and died in the moonlight on the steppes and shivered the spines of campfire Mongols. Perhaps he thinks of those carefree days of the pack, when dog days of the year lamented on 'coon-hunting nights, that he is now domesticated and must bide. He has a set idea of his life preyed on what we euphemistically refer to as his mind, although there is the moonlight, alert and ready waiting to warn off peddlers and hitchhikers who never come. Below and in the moonlight on the steppes and shivered the spines of campfire Mongols. Perhaps he thinks of those carefree days of the pack, when dog days of the year lamented on 'coon-hunting nights, that he is now domesticated and must bide. He has a set idea of his life preyed on what we euphemistically refer to as his mind, although there is the moonlight, alert and ready waiting to warn off peddlers and hitchhikers who never come. Below his sentry post faithfully in fair weather and in foul he pines and pity to him he could not regard as his grandsires did of yore. Below him in the valley, within view, halloo and the tumult where the hounds have sayed a raccoon from the hills behind him he could hear the bellowing bugle of the beagles in full cry, a fresh scent, and he permitted the thing to wear him down.

Instead, he sits and eats of the swains, the resounding echo of their joyous calls, and the night time is alive with unbridled pleasure in which he, poor dog, cannot not join. So he is thinking about it, much as the bached-elor lonely-hearts look at the jolly sailor dreams of his cottage, the city slicker goes to horticultural exhibits, and the gentle craftsman reads the travel folders. Prince, bless his heart, wondered if he could be a hound.

So he tried to bark. He did bugle, and curled up hair into tight ringlets, and instantly received how friendship was for a trusted bailiff, custodian, confidant, companion, and worker. I think that's what happened.

This New Sin Overlooked

A guest editorial in the Toronto Telegram, by Farquhar Oliver Oddman, Editor of the Napanee Post-Express

When a driver is arrested for speeding and hauled into court he is annoyed. He feels he did not deserve to be caught by the insignificant box inside the average-looking automobile which the police have invented to break the law.

The number of drivers on arrested is testimony to the frequency with which the Highways Traffic Act is violated. Few of the drivers feel any sense of moral guilt at all.

The public does not scorn the man who breaks the traffic laws with the same vigor it scorns the common drunk. We have no statistics to prove our contention, but we suspect the overall total of hardship caused by traffic violators is far, far greater than the total of hardship occasioned by over-consumption of alcohol.

If all the traffic laws were carefully obeyed, the highway fatality would be a rarity. Can the public be convinced that it is just as immoral to break the Highway Traffic Act as the Liquor Control Act and far more dangerous?

Is it not true that the cold sober man who drives in excess of the speed limit is committing a greater sin insofar as the security of the family is concerned than the man who is convicted of public drunkenness?

Yet the fine of $10 and court costs is the same in both instances. The man who is arrested as a common drunk is held up as an object of contempt because he is wrecking himself and his family. The high speed driver is considered a sort of devil-may-care dandy.

This reckless disregard of the Highways Traffic Act is a relatively new sin. It is rarely the subject of a sermon possibly because it is so novel. It is a young crime when compared with the foibles of the human race in the last 2,000 years. Yet to develop a public conscience sensitive to that existing against over-indulgence in alcohol strikes us as a challenge for the church.

Through the ages, the church has proved time and again it can succeed where everything else has failed. Here in our present century is a new social problem, devastating in its cumulative effect, yet so far unrecognized from the point of view of public morality.

Cures Worse Than Disease

Upland Times

Your house can be kept free from rats by placing a cat in each room. Turning loose three or four average size cats in your bedroom before retiring will soon rid the room of mosquitoes. Flies, moths, detest the smell of goats and by tying a couple of strong smelling onguns in your pantry the ants will soon disappear. Hornets are sure death to flies and a nest in the kitchen will save a lot of swatting.

Solid Gold Toothpicks

Calgary Albertan

"The toothpick is not likely to appeal to many people as a symbol of gracious living. Nevertheless the fact remains, according to the Wall Street Journal, that solid gold toothpicks at $23 each are selling like mad in the present luxurious, sky-is-the-limit U.S. retail market.

What we would really like to know though is not so much who are the people buying them, as the person who decided that there was a market for them.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Over the radio Sunday I listened to a very eloquent and gifted orator who left me in a state of complete irritation when his time he ended. He was an oratorical panhandler. He filled his sermon with some of the most beautiful phrases, the shrewdest aphorisms and most touching observations, but one of which we left with could he never acknowledged a single thought as his own.

"As someone has said . . ." he enunciated, quoting a glorious line from Browning. "Oh, what a pity it has it been remarked . . .", and he pinched a whole page out of Private Henry L. Mencken's. "Can we not agree with . . ." and there were rolled out two lines of Donne so spoken that you would not notice they were lines of Donne at all.

All his punch lines were quoted. But not one of them was his own! Indeed, if I had had the sense to take the sermon down in shorthand, I'd have had a pretty good idea that all its force and most of its meaning was carried out of a book of famous quotations, and that all the preacher contributed to it was a sonorous delivery, a fine voice, and an uncanny skill at ghostwriting. Without one exception, all his richest sources were "someone", "the poet", or "as has been said."

It was when the ladies of the choate spoke up after the sermon that my irritation subsided. They were superlative in their praise of the morning's passages of it had held them spellbound. It suddenly dawned on me that it was entirely by means of the art of not reading that I had been aware of the dermon at all. Certain that was best in the address. Many of the articulable number of radio listeners will likely be familiar with Browning. Not so many would recognize the early 17th century John Donne; and I did, merely because a scholar had been in our fishing party a few years ago and read Donne to us every night around the camp fire. And as for cantankerous old H. L. Mencken, how many ladies would have patience with him?

Even if the reverend picker up of unconsidered trifles had quoted his sources, what would it have meant? It would only have delayed the flight of his oratio. And anyway, we are all derivative. I have a nasty suspicion that I have read somewhere before all that I have just written above.

TRUE FREEDOM

We live in an age in which people pride themselves on being emancipated.

But are we really emancipated? Don't we have just about as many problems to solve as people have always had? Is not life a pilgrimage still? In the realm of personal conduct, are people have thrown off what they denounced as the yoke of restraint and are now living a free existence, free of moral scruple. But are these people happier? They have taken upon themselves a burden which even every particular that one can only be sorry for the situations in which they have involved themselves.

The skeptic who has gone the whole way and become an atheist is not a free man but a fool, for the Bible declares that it is the fool who hath said in his heart, "There is no God." The libertine, the people who are trying to drown their sorrows and gain happiness by doping themselves with alcohol, are slaves are two counts. First, they are denying themselves of their God-given birthright by substituting the sordid for things truly satisfying; and second, they are getting themselves enslaved by their appetites to such an extent that they are becoming hopelessly held by powers with which they cannot cope.

The Word of God indicates the only way out: "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty."

Magistrates In Early Days

St. John's, Nfld., Sunday Herald

There are some humorous stories told about the judgments of outport magistrates of days gone by — the peculiar decisions of men who were not versed in the law.

One such relates how the man on the bench asked for a seconder when a visiting lawyer moved for a dismissal, and then threw the case out of court after he had put the motion to the spectators and it was seconded and carried.

While it is most unlikely that such an exhibition of mob law was ever staged here — in recent years at least — the fact remains that, owing to the difficulty of getting professional men to live on isolated parts of the coast, it has always been the practice to appoint men with no legal training to the magistracy and in the circumstances this inevitably does occur.

Appointments to the magistracy are, of course, still being made on the same basis and for the same reason. And candidates today, besides being highly educated men, are given some legal training and practical experience before taking up their duties.

Nevertheless the question as to whether this training is sufficiently broad and deep to qualify laymen to cope with all the intricacies of the law remains a moot one, because justice is a mighty important thing.

Poland May Seek Economic Help From West

WARSAW, Poland (Reuters) — Russian aid to Poland will meet only half her pressing economic needs and the Polish government may seek financial assistance from the West, it was learned here Monday night.

Poland's immediate needs are estimated to be 2,000,000,000 rubles (4$8,000,000). It was reliably learned.

Only half of this has been met by the agreement signed with the Soviet Union to deliver 1,400,000 tons of grain worth 300,000,000 rubles in 1957, and to make a long-term loan amounting to 700,000,000 rubles.

The Polish government may therefore seek to cover the other half by financial assistance from the West—the United States, Britain or France.

GOMULKA RETURNS

The news that Russia's promised aid to Poland covers only half the needs of the country became known a few hours after the return here from Moscow of a Polish government delegation headed by the Communist party chief, Wladyslaw Gomulka.

Gomulka was greeted with cheers by a wildly excited crowd as he stepped off the train, together with Prime Minister Josef Cyrankiewicz and Aleksander Zawadski, Polish head of state.

In a short speech, Gomulka told the Poles of Russian economic promises and of an agreement to cancel outstanding Polish debts to Russia, totalling 2,000,000,000 rubles.

All controversies between Poland and the Soviet Union have been successfully solved, Gomulka told the demonstrating Poles, and "all obstacles to friendship needed so much by both of us have been removed."

Coldwell Wants Special Session Of Parliament

OTTAWA (CP) — CCF leader Coldwell said Monday night Parliament should be called into special session in time to meet before any Canadian troops leave for service with the United Nations emergency force in the Suez area.

Mr. Coldwell said he welcomes formation of the force, but he criticized the government's present plan to summon Parliament after Canadian participation has been authorized. Parliament should not be in a position of rubber-stamping the decision.

He said he hopes the international force will be the first step toward a permanent police force such as was envisaged at the UN's founding in 1945.

Mr. Coldwell spoke over CBC television in the free-time political series The Nation's Business.

He said that although he understands Israel's reasons for attacking Egypt, he cannot condone the action. He equally regretted the armed intervention by Britain and France, which was in violation of the UN charter and without consultation among Commonwealth members or NATO allies.

The intervention instead of achieving its objective of protecting the Suez Canal, had had the opposite result. The canal had been blocked, the flow of oil reduced to a trickle and future oil supplies placed in jeopardy.

EX-SLAVE, 111, DIES

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Winnie Wilson, 111, a former slave, died Monday night. The mother of 17 children, she had lived in Dallas for the last 60 years, and had been an active church member despite her age.

Riots Reported In Polish Town

VIENNA (AP)—A Polish newspaper says demonstrations and riots erupted in Poland while Poland's Communist party chief was in Moscow negotiating on future relations with Russia.

The newspaper Express Wiecorne, received in Austria today, says disorders occurred Sunday at Bromberg, where students and young workers set fire to the city's radio station and then fought off police and fire brigades.

This account of trouble contrasted with dispatches Monday night from Warsaw which said the Polish Communist chief, Wladyslaw Gomulka, was greeted by cheering crowds on his journey from Moscow back to Warsaw.

Political observers here said, however, there was no doubt that riots broke out after the announcement that the new agreement between Gomulka and the Kremlin leadership did not include provision for the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Poland.

WIDESPREAD TENSION

The independent Vienna newspaper Neuer Kurier reports "tension and disturbances" throughout Poland due to Gomulka's "taking the Moscow line."

Another Polish paper, the Glos Olratynski, tells of an anti-Soviet demonstration by students at Olstzyn (Allenstein), in former German East Prussia.

Allowed to Plead Guilty to Charge Of Manslaughter

MONTREAL (CP) — Marcel Grandchamps, 42, who told police he shot his wife to death last April because she had caused him suffering for 19 years, Monday was permitted to plead guilty to a reduced charge of manslaughter.

During his trial on a murder charge, crown witnesses had testified the hotel keeper was in an advanced state of inebriation at the time of the shooting. Grandchamps is to be sentenced Nov. 26 by Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure in Court of Queen's Bench.

Mr. Justice Lazure told the jury a murder conviction requires proof that the accused is capable at the time of forming an intention to commit the act. He said Grandchamps' consumption of a 40-ounce bottle of whisky during the hours before the shooting made this a doubtful assumption.

Cobbler Charged With Murder

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A 39-year-old cobbler was charged with murder Monday night in the fatal beating of an elderly tavern proprietor earlier in the day.

Police said Albert M. D'Orlando had signed a statement admitting that he beat Theodore Carandras, 63, during an argument over money. Carandras was found lying down at the rear of his bar room.

D'Orlando denied taking $60 reportedly missing from the cash register.

Parley Called To Enforce Law On Desegregation

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Attorney-General Herbert Brownell Monday summoned federal prosecutors in 14 southern states to a Washington conference on how to carry out the Supreme Court decree against racial segregation on buses.

He set the date, in a circular letter to the 34 U.S. district attorneys in the 14 states, as Dec. 10.

Brownell's letter said that it is clear from the Supreme Court decision of Nov. 13 on a Montgomery, Ala., bus segregation case, that discrimination against bus passengers on account of race is "a crime against the United States."

The Montgomery case was marked by a long bus boycott by Negroes against segregated travel.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

SURPRISE PARTY

A surprise birthday party was held on Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Melissa Bell, Trent Road, by her friends and neighbors, on the occasion of her 80th birthday.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent in a social get-together, and in listening to appropriate readings by Mrs. Clarence Holmes.

Miss Bell is enjoying the best of health; lives alone, and does all her own work.

She was the recipient of many fine gifts, for which she expressed her appreciation, both by words, and by the happy and delighted smile as she opened each surprise package.

Refreshments, provided by the guests, concluded a happy event.

'Ireland' Its People, Politics Topic at U.W.C.

The University Women's Club of Belleville and district held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. W. G. Hurst with about 50 members present. A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. F. T. Seibert.

Mrs. A. Lewis announced that plans were well underway for the annual Christmas dinner-meeting of the club, which will be held at St. Thomas' Parish House on December 6. Mrs. Lewis and her committee promise a variety of entertainment for members following the dinner.

Three study groups are in the process of being formed within the club. They are book club; group on international affairs and, group on education. Interested members were invited to take advantage of joining these groups.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. J. Haig expressed her pleasure in introducing the guest speaker, Mr. Frank Murray, assistant manager of CJBQ. Mr. Murray, who was born in Waterford, Ireland, the only son of Professor and Mrs. Murray, was well qualified to speak on the topic "Ireland." The speaker who supplemented his remarks with photographs, maps and newspapers from Ireland, dealt with his impressions of Ireland, touching on her people, politics, social customs, the economic picture and the arts.

Mr. Murray pointed out that shadows of the past have never left Ireland. Irish people are peaceful and quiet and the visitor from North America is conscious that in Ireland, the people are neither units nor cogs. Despite the quiet atmosphere, great progress is being made in housing, airports and hydro developments.

The speaker briefly outlined the political history of Ireland, pointing out that political unhappiness has perhaps done much for Ireland. The country as such is actually only 36 years old but even now has a sense of responsibility to assist the free world. One important fact is that the family is recognized as an important group in society and marriage as an institution to be protected. Religion is not endowed by the state.

The guest speaker also emphasized that Ireland is much behind Britain in the industries, but now there is a movement to get young people to stay at home, to help their young country grow and to develop it industrially. For example, Ireland now possesses an efficient tribunal-type system which helps to attract the tourist trade. In the arts a real contribution of Ireland is largely verbal, that is, poetry, drama and the novel. This is probably due to the fact that there was no money to further arts requiring expensive tools.

Mr. Murray concluded with reminiscences of his boyhood in Ireland, stating that within the last 30 years the Irish people have witnessed the birth of a nation.

Mrs. J. Nelles thanked Mr. Murray for his enlightening and interesting talk.

The evening concluded with a social hour when refreshments were served by Mrs. W. Berger and her assistants. Miss Gloriana Martineau and Miss Josephine Tickell presided over the coffee cups.

Belle Haven Club Welcomes Advisory Board

The third annual meeting of the Belle Haven Rehabilitation club, was held at the home of the president, Mrs. W. R. McMurray.

The president spoke of the passing of Mr. William Grant, one of the first members of the club, of his staunch loyalty and belief in a club of this kind.

The governors are happy to welcome as advisory members, Mrs. D. Bateman, child psychiatrist of this city; also Mrs. Ina Gilchrist newly arrived in Belleville from Edinburgh, Scotland. Mrs. Gilchrist has had five years' experience with handicapped children while acting as a member of the city paid trained personnel.

Mr. Earle Vandervoort spoke on future constructive therapy and the coming Christmas party.

A travelogue on Canada, loaned by the Carty Public Library was shown by Mr. Merrill Yates.

Refreshments were served by Miss Kortan, Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Cook.

Women of the Moose

The Women of the Moose, Belleville Chapter 433, held the first meeting of the month on Thursday evening in Moose Hall, Victoria Avenue, with Senior Regent, Nellie Seymour, presiding.

The meeting was called to order by the Senior Regent with the officers, escorts and committee chairmen taking part in the opening ceremony.

Recorder Grace Bartlett called the roll call of officers, escorts and committee chairman.

One candidate, Edna Rawlings, was initiated into the defending degree.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Recorder Grace Bartlett and a thank-you card was received from co-worker Mabel Bailey.

Captain Ivany of the Salvation Army, was escorted to the altar and presented with a cheque to provide Christmas cheer for the underprivileged children of Belleville. He gave an interesting talk of his experience with parents and children at Christmas time and how this money would help out at such a happy time, to bring Christmas into a home where some child might have had to do without.

A draw, donated by Ina Lloyd, was won by Nellie Burke. Tickets were sold by Junior Graduate Regent Mary VanDusen and Ina Lloyd.

The meeting was brought to a close by Sr. Regent Nellie Scrymgeour.

After the meeting, cards were played and refreshments were served by Ina Lloyd and her committee. The next regular meeting will be held on November 22 at eight o'clock.

SUCCESSFUL BAZAAR AND TEA

On Wednesday afternoon, the Women of the Moose, Belleville Chapter 433, held their annual bazaar and tea in the Moose Hall convened by the Junior Graduate Regent Mary VanDusen, which was a wonderful success.

The cushion table, convened by Edith Meeks, was colorful with contrasting shades of wine, blue, grey, green and red. This table consisted of cushions in every shape which were lovely; also on this table were needleceases, bobby pins, and many small articles.

A lovely display of doll clothes made up another picturesque table. There was everything from dresses, night gowns, kimonos, to jeans and plaid shirts matching in colors; pinafores, skirts, and blouses. This table attracted all eyes especially those of the little girls. It was convened by co-worker Kay Pitt.

Junior Graduate Regent Mary Van Dusen displayed an attractive table of aprons in all different styles and colors; tea aprons, overall aprons, and the bib apron. Every apron was made of a different pattern giving a variety of choice to those interested.

FANCY WORK

At the fancy work table an all time favorite, were table cloths, pillow cases, with lovely embroidery work, towels, wash cloths, tea towels and many more small articles. This table was displayed by Nora Kaiser.

The knitted wear table was pretty with its colorful booties mitts, sweaters and knitted sets, which were lovely in the different shades. Nellie Shandraw was in charge.

Lovely baby clothes were also displayed in charge of Selina Isles of Trenton.

The home baking table with Irene Gamble in charge, looked appetizing and made an attractive showing with cakes, cookies, pup cakes, tarts, and macaroons. The home made candy table, which was in charge of Annie Young and Mary Frederick, was attractive with all its different kinds and colors of creams, taffy, butterscotch and chocolates. Edith Meeks looked after the Country Store which contained a great variety of all kinds of canned goods.

ATTRACTIVE GUEST TABLES

Small tea tables in the centre of the hall were set with lovely linen tea cloths, colored servieties and centered with bouquets of colorful fall flowers. Small fancy sandwiches, cookies and tea were served by Elizabeth Simpson.

Soroptimist Club Views 'Plastics' Film

Soroptimist International of Belleville met in Lattimer's Town Room for the regular dinner meeting.

The highlight of the program was the induction of Mrs. Bernice Grills into membership in the club. Mrs. Frances Bennett assisted by Mrs. Muriel Yorke, convener of the membership committee, conducted the induction in an impressive ceremony.

Mrs. Lazetta Stirland introduced Miss Mary Thain and Mrs. Pearson of the staff of the Bakelite Company who presented an informative picture film "At Home with Plastics", telling the story of the modern plastics industry to appreciative listeners.

Pointing out that plastics are not "just substitutes", but actually superior replacements.

There were illustrations of plastics properly used that ranged from hair to room foods, and milk trucks to dolls.

Plastics are now used extensively in exterior and interior decorating and lend in diversified forms to endless uses.

Miss Thain and Mrs. Pearson were thanked for their instructive contribution by Miss Dorothy Matthews.

Women's Activities

WHITE'S W.A.

WHITE'S DISTRICT — Mrs. Lawrence Dafoe was hostess to the ladies of White's Women's Association on Thursday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Albert Hockaday presiding.

Twelve members were present and two visitors.

Mrs. Frank Sandercock was in charge of the devotional service with Mrs. Walter Jones reading the Scripture, Psalm 118. Mrs. Casey Ketcheson gave a reading, "If You Ask Me the Future is Now."

Delegates were named to attend the W.A. Rally at Aiken's Church. Mrs. Percival asked that the Christmas meeting be held at her home on Thursday afternoon, December 13th. It was decided to give clothing for the disaster victims at Springhill, Nova Scotia, and there will be left at the home of Mrs. Casey Ketcheson before December 1st.

Christmas gifts will not be exchanged. Mrs. Reid made donations to the cent-a-day fund and the Parsonage fund, and Mrs. Hockaday gave to the cent-a-day fund and the birthday box; a "Happy Birthday" was sung.

Plastic shopping bags made by Mrs. Ernest Curtis, Mrs. Albert Hockaday and Mrs. Casey Ketcheson were sold. Mrs. Yateman is making plastic school bags. Mrs. Ernest Curtis also has shoulder-strap purses which will be completed for the December meeting.

The program was taken by Mrs. Ritchie Ketcheson, who read "Remembrance," and "The Arithmetic of God, Look Up, Look Down."

A contest was won by Mrs. W. Jeffery who received a box of tasty notes.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and a social time was enjoyed.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Dafoe for her hospitality. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Glenn Meyers, who was a former member and president.

served by Grace Bartlett and Nellie Burke.

The afternoon tea was convened by Mary Peoples, assisted by the Senior Regent, Nellie Scrymgeour.

Tickets on a draw, of a pair of chickens won by Ina Lloyd, were sold by Elizabeth Simpson.

German-Born Woman Doctor Gets Licence

HEART VALLEY, Alta. (CP)— A German - born woman doctor who came to this Peace River settlement six years ago to become a farmer's wife has decided to give up farming and continue her medical career.

Margaret Boeske, who received a medical degree from Goettingen University in Germany in 1944, decided to obtain her Canadian medical licence after farming alone for three years following the death of her husband in 1953.

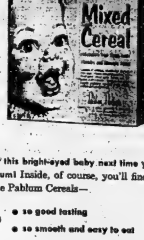
The 35-year-old widow recently packed her bags and joined the staff of the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton as Dr. Margaret Boeske, senior interne.

In her new home in Edmonton, she lives with her three-year-old son, Hans, and her mother, who arrived from Germany to look after the youngster.

Until the end of the Second World War, the former Margaret Ziegenbein worked in German hospitals. Later she worked on hospital staffs in East Germany.

The young doctor then came to Canada to marry Ina Boeske, a German immigrant who had taken up a homestead in the Peace River country in 1928. They were married in 1950.

"I'd never been on a farm before but I loved it here by the valley," she said, "after husband and I were very happy."



Her husband contracted cancer and died in January, 1953, a month before the birth of young Hans.

ADVICE To The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

COME RIGHT OUT AND ASK, FRANK

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

There's a girl of whom I'm very fond, but I don't get to take her out very often, because for some reason, her mother doesn't approve of me.

We graduated from high school last year, and both of us have a job, so it seems to me we're old enough to go out together without anyone interfering. Because of her mother's attitude, however, this girl and I have to meet on the sly, and neither of us like that sort of business. We also see no reason for it.

I'd like to know if you can suggest some way I can find out just what her mother has against me, so that I'd know just how I stand.

Frank R.

Dear Frank R.:

I'm a great believer in direct action, which in your case would mean going straight to your girl's mother and asking her in a polite, respectful way, to please tell you frankly why she objects to her friendship with her daughter. Tell her how much you think of her daughter, and say that neither of you wants to do anything of which she'll disapprove. Follow this up by saying that if there has been anything in your conduct or attitude that has displeased her, you want to know it, so that you can adjust things.

Unless this mother is the very possessive type who wants to head off any threat of her daughter being taken away from her by marriage, I think she'd respond in a cooperative manner to such a straight forward and manly approach. So find out from your girl friend what evening you'd be likely to find her mother home, then go over and say that you'd like to have a little talk with her. It might be nice, too—and also diplomatic—to take her some flowers when you go. A little attention like that might help soften her heart.

TAXIS ACROSS U.S.

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—With the meter down, an elderly lady left Friday on a taxicab jaunt across the United States. The fare, whose name was not disclosed by the cab company, wanted a "careful driver who's respectful to a passenger" for the trip to Florida, Denver and home. The lady will pay $40 a day plus driver Charles Kamp's expenses.

BEAUTY

By MME. QUI-VIVE

WILL ENCHANTMENT LAST IN DAYLIGHT'S GLARE?

"Colors seen by candle-light Will not seem the same by day."

When Elizabeth Barrett Browning wrote those words she wasn't thinking about beauty at all, but about the ideal of marriage — from a woman's point of view. In other words, the man she wooed so fascinating under the soft, romantic spell of candle-light seemed an entirely different creature in the harsh light of day. But the idea works in reverse, too. Let's put it this way:

Does your skin look as lovely in daylight as it does under soft lights?

Is your hair as shining and lustrous under the same circumstances?

From head to toe, are you as enchanting to the man in your life in the noonday glare as you were at the witching hour of last midnight?

It's something to think about now that holidays are ahead and there will be parties galore. Something especially to think about if there isn't a man in your life but you hope you soon.

Well, if all isn't perfection where your skin is concerned, it's not too late. Take a little time now and get ready for the holiday season and you'll have no fear of baring shoulders, arms and neck in low-cut evening gowns or cocktail dresses. The reconditioning is easy. You can manage it in a few extra minutes during your morning or evening bath. For the basic preparation—soap and water—are right at hand.

Your skin needs extra cleansing at this season of the year, too, because there's more dirt and grime around to clog the pores and produce tiny blackheads or whiteheads. Your shoulders and back, especially, are prone to create a problem in winter—partly because they're not getting the beneficial effects of sunlight, partly because you may not be giving them the thorough washing they need.

So the first step is to treat your back to a good scrubbing with a brush and plenty of soapsuds. Repeat the process with the shoulders and down the arms. There, too, you may run into tiny blemishes which will respond to the suds-and-scrub beauty routine. If your elbows have developed the texture of sandpaper because of cold weather, you'll find that it, long, hot soak in the tub will soften them considerably. Then rub gently with a pumice stone well lubricated with soapsuds. Don't go at it too hard or for too long, though. When you've through with your bath and have dried yourself thoroughly, apply some cold cream to your elbows so they'll stay soft.

Your neck, which is certain to get a lot of attention in holiday clothes, should have a special going-over with complexion brush or washcloth and lots of soap. And since you'll want your face to look especially pretty now, treat it to a twice-daily cleansing brush and suds routine. Pay special attention to the spots where dirt is likely to accumulate around the nose, the chin, and in the eyebrows. And you'll avoid last-minute complexion problems.

Of course your hands are constantly on display, no matter what the season or the costume. But, especially now, you don't want to rush to make sure that this friend meant the invitation to be as her guest. I certainly wouldn't want to make the mistake of misinterpreting the friend's invitation in any way. But some of the others in the group disagreed with me, maintaining that if the friend invites you to lunch, then she expects to pay the check, and that's that. This is a situation that quite often arises, and we would very much appreciate your opinion.

— Six readers of your column

I agree with you that a casual "that's that" is by no means always the solution of this situation that so very often arises today. Of course the friend doing the inviting really should make clear the idea by the way she words her invitation. When someone asks, "Will you lunch with me next Tuesday?" that really should mean as "my guest." If this isn't the idea, she should word the invitation, for example, "Shall we lunch together someday soon?" or "Let's lunch together next Tuesday." However, if you have any doubt about the hospitality-intention, it would be entirely proper for you to offer to pay your share of the check as a matter of course. If the friend says a definite "No, please, I invited you to lunch with me," that makes the idea clear, and nothing more need be or should be said about the payment-question.

MEMORIAL FLOWERS FOR SON KILLED IN WAR

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband and I very often attend Sunday morning service in a church quite near where we live. We are not members of this church. Every Sunday the altar is decorated with flowers "in memory of"; the announcement about the flowers is made in the printed church bulletin. We would so much like to send flowers in memory of our son, killed in World War II. Would this be proper? — His Mother and Dad

Indeed giving the flowers would be proper, and a loving memorial gesture. But you should talk over your wish with the clergyman as that he will be able to arrign to you the date you may particularly wish, or in any case a date not already assigned. Besides having the opportunity of welcoming your generous suggestion, the clergyman will, of course, be most happy to greet you and your husband and to have the opportunity of welcoming you personally. The contact you will bring about by your good suggestion will, I am sure, be of deep comfort to you both.

IS IT RUDE TO OFFER TO SHARE LUNCHEON CHECK?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When a friend invites me to have lunch with her, is it absolutely rude of me, when the check arrives, to offer to pay my share of the check? Last evening a group of my friends were discussing this, and their opinions differed. Personally I don't see why it should be considered so terribly rude to make sure that this friend meant the invitation to be as her guest. I certainly wouldn't want to make the mistake of misinterpreting the friend's invitation in any way. But some of the others in the group disagreed with me, maintaining that if the friend invites you to lunch, then she expects to pay the check, and that's that. This is a situation that quite often arises, and we would very much appreciate your opinion.

Get Steam up for Pudding

By Mary Moore

Before I plunge into this spicy business of making steam puddings I want to tell you something that is very close to my heart. I am sure that some of you have been wondering if my son-in-law Herbie's unit is the First Battalion of the Queen's Own Rifles. It is and he is adjutant and with the United Nations troops policing the Near East . . . and Marianne and Gary are coming home to me.

When she telephoned all the way across the country to me her first words were "Would you like two star boarders?" She hardly needed a telephone wire to hear my "Yes!" As I hear more news I'll pass it on to you. Meanwhile it is a good thing I'm making plum puddings by the potful. (Please teacher when do bay bables start eating plum pudding?)

MRS. WATSON'S RICH PLUM PUDDING

Mrs. Watson is my sister-in-law's mother and a very superior cook. We always have Christmas dinner at my brother's home and Mrs. Watson makes this pudding for it. She adds "I glad candy"—but you know me—I'd say to you make that pineapple or apple juice—not I—so. Two lbs. each stoned raisins, clean currants, chopped beef suet, loaf sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 lb. citron peel, 2 lbs. breadcrumbs, 1 pint boiling hot milk, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 8 eggs, 1-3 lb. blanched almonds, 1 tube 8 oz. controversial liquid. Pour the boiling hot milk over the sugar lumps, stir, add the fruit, then suet and remaining ingredients in order beating the eggs. Pour into well-greased molds, cover and boil or steam 8 hours. Mrs. Watson's note: "Make in November."

CHRISTMAS PLUM PUDDING

(A little less rich and a smaller amount—serves 12)

One cup finely chopped suet, 1 cup brown sugar, 1-2 cup milk, 3 well-beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 cups seedless raisins, 3-4 cup ready-cut mixed orange and lemon peel, 1-4 cups chopped citron peel, 1-2 cup chopped Brazil nuts, 1 cup day-old breadcrumbs. Beat together until blended the suet, brown sugar, milk, eggs and vanilla. Sift together 3-4 cup flour, soda, salt and spices. Combine raisins, peel and nuts and sprinkle with remaining flour and breadcrumbs. Now add dry ingredients and fruit mixture to suet mixture and blend well. Fill greased and floured pudding molds 2-3 full, cover and steam three hours in covered steamer.

THRIFT CARROT PUDDING

This is a dandy so don't overlook it. Mix together in order given 1 cup each grated carrot, grated potato, seeded raisins, clean currants, brown sugar, 1 1-4 cups breadcrumbs (stale), 3-4 cup finely chopped suet, 2 tablespoons sour milk, 1-2 teaspoon each baking soda and allspice, 1-2 cup flour, 1 teaspoon each salt and cinnamon, 1-8 teaspoon nutmeg. Turn into well-greased molds, cover and steam three hours. I'll give you pudding sauces when Christmas Day draws nearer.

Farewell Gifts Presented to Departing Family

RAWDON — On Wednesday evening approximately 75 neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McGee, Rawdon township to spend a social evening with them before their departure to reside in Stirling village.

Mr. Volney Richardson was master of ceremonies and spoke briefly.

A round of community singing was conducted by Mr. Grant Richardson with Mrs. Vernon Matthews as accompanist. The latter also contributed a piano selection.

Readings were given by Mrs. Hiram Rodgers, Mrs. Percy McGee, and Phil Carr, and the Misses Donna and Sharon Hammond sang with guitar accompaniment.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Richardson gave a duet.

Brief addresses were given by Messrs Verney Heath, and Kenneth Mumby, after which an address of appreciation to the McGee family was read by Mr. Cecil Nelson. Messrs Clifford Heath and James Mitts presented Mr. and Mrs. McGee with an upholstered platform rocker and master Leslie Nelson presented Jean McGee with a silver bracelet, and Billy Heath presented Delbert McGee with a matching set of silver cuff links and tie pin.

Each recipient voiced grateful thanks for the gifts and the farewell party after which refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

WINS P.S. CONTEST

MADOC — On Monday evening the sneak-off for the public school pupils of Hastings, No. 3, Inspectorate, was held in the auditorium of Marmora high school.

Of the 18 contestants, Faye Robertson of Madoc public school, was the winner. She received a cheque from the Hastings County council and the Warden's medal as a token of her achievement. Faye was a pupil of Grade 7, when the competition began last spring. Since she has been promoted to Grade 8. The county speak-off was held in Havelock on Friday, where Faye competed for county honors where she was successful in standing and receiving the silver cup, which is passed along every year, and a miniature silver cup as a personal gift.

MADOC C.W.L.

The November meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held at the home of Mrs. Francis Meraw with the president, Mrs. Francis Tobin, presiding.

A vote of thanks was given to those who helped in any way to make the month and the annual bazaar a success. The roll call was answered on "Ideas of How to Make Money for the Winter Months". Conveners were appointed for the different sections of the parish to canvass for subscribers to the Canadian Register in Kingston Archdiocese. Plans were also made for the banquet to be held in the armouries on December 4th.

During the past month boxes of clothing and literature have been sent to the Madonna House at Combermere.

Mrs. James Fahey gave a talk on "Sick Call Requirements," and a paper on "A Holy and Wholesome Thought for November."

After the meeting was adjourned, a pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all present. Conveners for the luncheon were Mrs. Francis Feeney, Mrs. C. Mulrooney and Mrs. Ed. Burke.

Mrs. R. O'Riordan moved a vote of thanks to the hostess and her assistants.

ENDEAVOR CLASS

WEST HUNTINGDON — Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cooke entertained the members of the Endeavor Sunday School class for the November meeting. Mrs. Howard Cooke presided over the worship service and business period, and Mrs. Jean McCurdy was chairman for the program. Mr. Arthur Wilson read the Scripture lesson and offered prayer. Helpful readings were presented by Mrs. Alex McCurdy, and Mrs. Dan Cooke; Mrs. William Hutchison and David Cooke each contributed solos.

Mrs. Volney Richardson was the guest speaker, and gave an excellent address on the Middle East situation.

Alex McCurdy voiced the appreciation of the class to Mrs. Richardson, to Dan and Olive for opening their home and all others who helped with the program.

Following the benediction, a contest was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Burris, of Niagara, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammond.

Mrs. Carl Bateman and daughters of Oak Lake spent a few days recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fitchett and Marilyn were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Fitchett, of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Sarles and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ray and family spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilson.

The Fuller community was visited on Friday at mid-night with another fire this time the dwelling belonging to Mr. Sherman Brady was totally destroyed. The Shortt family, who occupied the house escaped in their night attire. Neighbors and others who were attracted by the reflection saved the other buildings.

FIND HIDDEN WEALTH

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A woman believed by friends to have died penniless had almost $25,000 secreted in the base of a lamp in her living room. Warehousemen, called Friday to move effects from the home of Mrs. Emma Sovereign, decided to take apart a lamp. In the base they found $2,200 in cash in two envelopes and a cloth bag and coin purse containing loose diamonds, rubies and set stones valued at more than $22,000.

Old Model Cars First Love Of Two Burnaby Brothers

BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—In the parking lot adjoining the home of Hugh and Will Silver here are often arrayed the most splendid of late-model automobiles. The brothers scoff at them.

Hugh and Will, sons of one of the B.C. lower mainland's pioneer auto dealers, keep in their garage and basement four old cars—one of them vintage 1913—and aver that today's gleaming roadsters cannot compare with them.

The brothers have repaired cars in Burnaby for more than 20 years but now confine their efforts to keeping their durable models in good condition and repairing autos owned by other old - line enthusiasts.

Hugh kicked the wheel of their blocked-up 1913 Peerless, bought by their father as their mother's personal car the year it was made.

"You can't budge those wheels unless you turn the steering wheel," Hugh said approvingly. "The full reversible worm the car has makes for safer riding. No matter how big a rock you hit the steering will not be affected."

He pointed out the tilt of the black wheels, which he said is another safety factor, along with the large size of all the wheels.

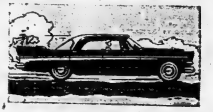
"Take a look at this 1930 Stutz Bearcat," Hugh continued. "See the heavy bumper in front. Notice how the engine is set back from the radiator. It would take quite a lot to hurt that front end or the motor. It has hydraulic brakes and shorter power brakes, too."

The Silvers' other two vintage models are 1915 and 1918 Pierce Arrows. None of the four has been on the road for several years but all are kept in good running condition.

SWEDES ALERT FORCES

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Sweden today ordered military leaves because of the international tension.

New '57 DODGE brings you dramatic new beauty, remarkable new riding comfort, exciting new go, new, safer stop-power, and it's still priced low!



Dodge Mayfair 4-Door Hardtop

New BEAUTY with FLIGHT-SWEEP STYLING

Come see the low, sweeping lines of this exciting new Dodge, close-up. See how its massive bumper-grille . . . how the gentle tail fins dramatize its forward-thrusting look. And note that its Flight-Sweep design gives you full road clearance. Dodge is a beauty inside, too!

New COMFORT with TORSION-AIRE RIDE

Come try a new kind of ride—Torsion-Aire. A revolutionary new torsion-bar suspension system teams up with new super-soft tires, famous Oriflow shock absorbers, new "Levelizer" rear springs and new low-friction steering to produce superb handling ease, incredibly smooth, riding comfort.

New POWER with HIGH-TORQUE V-8 GO

Come fast the new power Dodge gives you. New high-torque V-8 will more than surpass any demands you might make of it. Yet it's so advanced in design it produces peak power on regular gas. Or perhaps you'd prefer the famous Dodge 6. Take your choice. With either 6 or V-8 the big buy in the low-price field is Dodge.

New SAFETY with TOTAL-CONTACT BRAKES

Come prove the new safety of Total-Contact brakes . . . brakes that stop you more surely from any speed. Total-Contact design spreads brake pressure evenly over entire brake-lining surface. With this new design, braking takes less effort . . . requires less pedal pressure. Just one more reason to buy Dodge.

Push-button driving lets you select your drive range with the touch of a finger—shifting is completely automatic, operation is mechanical. Proved-in-use push-button controls are located safely on your left.

Because Total-Contact brakes with Cyclebond riveted linings make uniform contact over entire lining area, brake linings wear evenly, last longer.

You're always a step ahead in cars of the Forward Look

Quick Thinkers Stop Riot At Olympics

MELBOURNE (AP) — Two quick-thinking caretakers stopped a riot of disappointed Olympic spectators at the Games velodrome Monday night.

The spectators had flocked to the velodrome to see Olympic cyclists training—but the cyclists were competing at Geelong 50 miles away.

When the crowd became restless and threatened to damage the Olympic arena, the caretakers doused track garb and pedalled racing cycles around the track.

The crowd applauded and children rushed to them for autographs.

One of the caretakers, Frank Douglas, said afterwards "I hadn't been on a bike for 18 years."

Royals to Buy Key Players

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Royals of the International Baseball League announced Monday general manager Hector Lamoyre has been allotted $30,000 to purchase "three or four key players" for next season.

For this purpose the Royals will be looking for two lefthanded pitchers and one outfielder.

The announcement followed a weekend meeting of the board of directors. No change was made but elections will be held at the next meeting of the club in mid-December.

P. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi, president of the Royals and vice-president of the parent Brooklyn Dodgers, told the meeting that "a powerful lefthanded hitter" will be acquired for the first-base job next season.

There is expectation that Dodger infielder Don Zimmer and possibly shortstop Chico Fernandez will be with the Royals in 1957.

Quebec League

MONTREAL (CP)—Stan Smrke of Chicoutimi Saguenenns picked up four points last week to move into a three-way tie with Skip Teal and Marcel Bonin of Quebec Aces in the race for the Quebec Hockey League scoring championship. All three have 19 points each.

Smrke leads the goal-scoring department with 12 while Bonin's 15 assists top that division.

Other leaders, with goals, assists and total points:

Hicks, Chicoutimi, 10-8—18; Tessier, Quebec, 10-7—17; Burnett, Montreal, 8-9—17; Corriveau, Montreal, 5-13—17; L. Smrke, Chicoutimi, 6-10—16; Perreault, Chicoutimi, 4-12—16; Kapusta, Trois-Rivieres, 7-11—16.

The United Nations estimates that 150 million families in underdeveloped areas lack adequate housing.

One answer is a frameless, build-it-yourself house designed by Canadians of Canadian aluminum. It needs no foundation; is non-corrosive and vermin-proof; is so light-weight that it is packed in cartons easily carried by plane, jeep or even burro.

The Colombian government has ordered 3,000 of them to help relieve the shortage of rural housing in that South American country. So it's not surprising, with aluminum travelling so far and doing so much, that Alcan is again increasing its smelting capacity in both Quebec and British Columbia.

British Star Says Germans May Be Track Dark Horses

MELBOURNE (CP). — The United States and Russia may figure to clean up in the track and field events in the 16th modern Olympiad but there is one world-known authority who disagrees. He's Jack Crump of Britain, who sent out word Monday—watch Germany and Britain.

The athletics tapeworm off training in another chill, windy day at Olympic Village, for the final action sports festival, Crump warned that the Germans could be "the dark horses of the Olympics in track from sprint right through to the distance events."

"They could be the sleepers of the Games."

The grey-haired Crump, who has been connected with track and field for most of his 30 years and is manager of the British team, said he "wouldn't dare go home without at least one Gold Medal" —Britain's first since 1936 when Harold Whitlock won the 50-kilometre walk and the 1,600-metre relay team beat out the United States.

COULD WIN FOUR

"We could even go back with two winners, especially in events from 1,500-metres and longer."

At the same time, Crump gave Canada little hope.

"I can't see Canadian athletes winning a Gold Medal or seriously threatening. Canadians haven't had enough international competition—the country has the potential, but due to great distances to travel in Canada, athletes don't get enough competition at home or abroad.

It is apparent Crump is putting a lot of confidence in Gordon Pirie this time. The 25-year-old paint salesman, who trains 365 days a year, holds the world record for the 3,000-metre dash in 13:36.8. He is co-favorite with Vladimir Kuts of Russia in the 10,000 metres.

Other United Kingdom athletes he is keen on are Chris Brasher in the steeplechase and possibly the 1,500, Brian Hewson in the 1,500, and Chris Chataway and Derek Ibbotson, both four-minute milers, in the 5,000.

The first injury among the Canadians was reported as cyclist Fred Markus of Montreal took a spill Sunday and suffered a flesh wound in the thigh. Officials said the injury is not serious.

The swimming and track and field teams held time trials Sunday but no performances were given out.

Swim coach Tommy Walker of Toronto said only he was "happy" with the workout.

Marksman Gilmour Boa of Toronto, who arrived Friday, practised on the ranges Sunday. The boxers, weightlifters and gymnasts are working out twice daily. The basketball players, who meet Russia in a qualifying round Thursday night, have one training session a day.

Meanwhile, the Olympic fever hit Melbourne as more than 10,000 persons tried to crash into the swimming stadium—which holds 5,000—to see the entrants practice. Officials of a big department store asked for police help in controlling thousands of persons crushing through the premises in an effort to reach a counter where standing room tickets were available for track events.

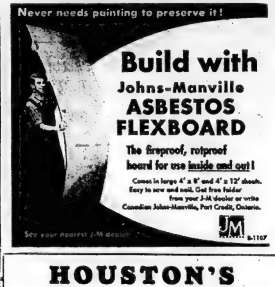
Don Newcombe Slapped With $25,000 Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—An assault charge against pitcher Don Newcombe of Brooklyn Dodgers was dismissed Monday but the big righthander was slapped with a civil suit asking $25,000 damages.

Michael Brown, an Ebbets Field parking lot attendant, claims he was punched in the stomach by Newcombe after he made a remark to the pitcher who had been knocked out of the box during the second game of the world series.



Brown said he was punched after he asked Newcombe, "What's the matter, things getting too tough for you?"

"I expect to throw this guy a couple of touchdown passes 'an I don't want him to drop 'em!"

The assault charge was dismissed by magistrate Matthew Fagan. Immediately afterward, Newcombe was served with a summons asking monetary damages.

NEW GOALIE

A new face will be between the pipes for the McFarlands when they clash with Pembroke Lumber Kings in Memorial Arena tonight. He is Gordy Bell, a custodian with a wealth of experience under his pads, if hockey work is a criterion.

Gordy was signed yesterday by Manager Drury Denyes and Don Larlin was given his outright release. Bell turned out for practice for the first time last night.

Bep Guidolin is happy. Gordy is another old buddy of the coach and Bep knows his capabilities and worth to the club. Andre Morrisette has also been released by the club, while Real Lavoeche will be out for three weeks with a double fracture of the jaw, sustained in the game with the Kings last Saturday in Pembroke. As is already known, Henri Theraudeau was released some time ago and now wears a Kingston uniform.

Bell came here from the Three Rivers club of the Quebec League, and was a member of the New York Rangers family which have a working agreement with the French-Canadian club. Bell was waived by the league and comes to Belleville under the reinstated professional clause. He played four games with Three Rivers this year and allowed but ten goals during those games. He played four games with the New York Rangers during the playoffs last season.

Gordy is 30 years of age, weighs 160 in his birthday suit, and tips the beam at five feet ten. He was born in Portage La Prairie where he learned his minor hockey, finishing his amateur career with the Portage Terriers, a junior "A" club. He turned professional when he was at the tender age of 17 and is one of the few players to hit the moniel ranks without benefit of junior experience.

He played his first professional season with the Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League in 1942-43 and spent the next two years in the armed services. After his discharge in 1945-46 he joined the Toronto Maple Leafs, playing eight games with the Smythian crew before being sent to Providence. He is well known in the American Hockey League having spent the most of the time with clubs of that league. He played with Providence, Pittsburgh, Springfield, Buffalo and Syracuse, playing from 1951 to 1953 with that club. The next year he was with Springfield and also spent part of the season with the Indians before going to Three Rivers. He was recalled by the Rangers for the playoffs. His record says he is credited with a scoring sensi.

The acquisition of Bell and Bernie Lamonde on the defence should put a end about relieve Manager Denyes of his player troubles. Now Bep Guidolin can return to his first love up on the front line. Bep played outstanding hockey the other night flanking Minnie Menard with Paul Payette, while the fact he was playing on his wrong wing. While Bep came up with a good showing behind the blueliues before the club got in the defence troops he was out of his natural hockey arsenal. Now that he can play up front you will see the kind of hockey he can play.

And Minnie Menard is coming into his own as a high-scoring forward. Minnie came out of almost nowhere to surge to the top and at the moment is tied with Gordie Myles of Whitby for goal-getting honors, both having hit the hemp an even dozen times. Pete Payette is just behind them with eleven.

The Pembroke Lumber Kings are here tonight and it is hoped the acquisition of Gordy Bell in the nets will give the troops up front more confidence. Larin was erratic at times and it doesn't take but very few "softies" to cause the uptesters loss of confidence. The McFarlands defence hasn't been as good lately and it could be that Manager Denyes put his finger on the right pulse when he went all-out to secure the services of Bell. Tonight should tell part of the tale.

'My Oil Well for a Ticket'

'Let's Go-Three in a Row' Is Edmonton Fans' Slogan

EDMONTON (CP)—Demand in Edmonton for Grey Cup tickets is expected to far exceed the supply as Eskimo fans rooting for their team's third Dominion football title in a row head East with the slogan "Let's go—three in a row."

Edmonton club officials said Monday night that more than 4,200 applications have been received for the 2,800 seats allotted the Western Interprovincial Football Union club in Toronto's Varsity Stadium where the Esks meet the Big Four champion Montreal Alouettes Saturday for the third consecutive time.

"We wouldn't make regulations tough to get the tickets if the demand wasn't so heavy," said club treasurer Bruce Collins, who is handling ticket distribution.

He said only season-ticket holders on Edmonton games are eligible. They are split into three groups:

Persons who applied for tickets before the final Saturday in which Edmonton defeated the visiting Saskatchewan Roughriders 35-7. There were 680 applications by Friday night; season ticket holders who decided to go to the game after Saturday's game; and persons who wanted to get tickets for relatives or friends in the East. Only 500 of these were allowed in a draw to decide the winners.

A fourth group, non - season ticket holders, "may be in for disappointment," Collins said.

"The applications are coming in from all over the place—today was awful," he said.

Some supporters have left already. Others will continue to leave on Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways and Trans-Canada air Lines regular schedule runs.

An airlines official said another 300 "and more" will leave on scheduled and two special flights. He said he was making arrangements for a third special flight but applications for reservations would still not be filled.

Ticket agents for both railways said they were "swamped with applications," requiring special trains. Long special trains to Toronto would be lengthened by additional cars at points along the route.

Walter Sprague, Grey Cup parade chairman for the Edmonton club, and his assistants left for Toronto Monday night to complete parade arrangements. He said there is "still a lot to do" but they will try to at least equal the show put on by Calgary when the Stampeders won the cup in 1948.

He said there will be city of Edmonton, Eskimo club and province of Alberta floats, along with Miss Eskimo, June Mackie, in a chauffeur-driven car decked in Eskimo green and gold colors.

Howe Big Gun With 8 Points But Lindsay Takes Over Lead; Beliveau Two Goals Behind

MONTREAL (CP) — Detroit's production line of Ted Lindsay, Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman was just that during last week's National Hockey League action, picking up 15 points in three games.

Howe was the big gun with four goals and four assists, but His performance was overshadowed somewhat by the fact that Lindsay took over the lead in the individual scoring race from flashy Jean Beliveau of Montreal.

Lindsay and Beliveau have 22 points apiece, but the Detroit star has scored two goals more than Beliveau and claims the leadership. Lindsay's six points last week included three tallies which boosted his goal total to 12. Beliveau picked up five points, including two goals, raising his goal production to eight.

Howe's effort increased his point total to 21—eight goals and 13 assists—and advanced him into third place from fifth a week ago.

ROCKET COMING

Next is Maurice (Rocket) Richard of the Canadiens with 17 points, including seven goals. He scored two goals and got two assists last week.

Ullman, the third member of Detroit's big line, scored two goals and picked up assists to advance into fifth place from 13th. He now has 16 points, including five goals.

Lindsay and Dickie Moore of the Canadiens, who is in a tie for 10th place, are deadlocked for the goal-scoring leadership with 10 apiece. Beliveau and teammate Doug Harvey have 14 assists apiece to lead that department. Harvey is in a tie for sixth place.

The league - leading Boston Bruins continued to show their superiority by winning two games and tying one last week. They have a total of 24 points, two more than the second-place Red Wings who won two and lost one.

The Canadiens are third with 19 points, Toronto Maple Leafs have 14 points for fourth place. New York Rangers are next with 11 and the Black Hawks continued to occupy the league cellar with eight.

Larks Fans Figure Etchevery Moses in Grey Cup Wilderness

MONTREAL (CP)—Coach Doug (Peahead) Walker of the Montreal Alouettes is waiting to football-lining.

With the Als' weekend conquest of Hamilton Tiger-Cats barely digested, Peahead Monday night sent his Big Four Grey Cup candidates through a closed, two-hour workout.

All players were reported on hand for the drive toward Saturday's third straight attempt by the Alouettes to conquer Edmonton Eskimos, Western champions for the third year and Grey Cup kings the last two years.

Off the practice field, Walker met for several hours with assistant coach Jimmy Dunn, back from scouting the Eskimos' Western game at Edmonton. The pointer to the theme of the Montreal preparations appeared to be Walker's remarks after losing at Vancouver last year.

DEFENCE LAPSE

"Our defensive team let us down," he said then.

Also at Monday night's practice were Joe (Zombie) Zajeski, former Winnipeg Blue Bomber and understudy to Montreal quarterback Sam Etcheverry a season or two ago. Zaleski, playing-coach of Sherbrooke Bears in the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union this year, helped scout Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Those who know him best say Walker is thinking Grey Cup 24 hours a day.

Almost since the final gun banged Saturday, Walker has been talking to his assistants and scouts, to club doctor and trainer, checking injuries and poring over reports and charts. Never known for loquacity, the say-behind coach is fast reaching the stage of utter silence—except when he talks to his players.

IN GOOD SHAPE

From all reports, the Als came out of the vicious Eastern final in good physical shape. Quarterback Sam Etcheverry, who the Montreal faithful are sure will be the Moore to lead them out of the Grey Cup wilderness, was having a little trouble with a swollen ankle.

The injury was a mark from Saturday's game. Before that it was a gimpy knee, which seems to have mended. Red O'Quinn, whose foot misery—bursitis, it was called—had fans running around in circles all last week, was praised in acceptable fashion against the Ticats and apparently accumulated no more aches and pains.

The Alouettes are, flying to Toronto Friday and it was believed they would schedule a workout somewhere in the Toronto area that day.

TICKET DROUGHT

Meanwhile, the ticket scramble turned the Alouette office into the busiest place in town with hundreds lined up for Grey Cup ducats and many disgruntled by learning they had applied too late.

Travel officials said reservations are the heaviest ever from Montreal. An estimated 7,000 may descend on Toronto by air, rail and auto.

The 65-piece Alouette band, plus the 16 majorettes, are to travel together on a special train and will appear in the Grey Cup parade. But it appeared Monday night they may have to miss the game.

Officials said they don't see at this point how they can get that many more persons inside Varsity Stadium.

Klukay Leads Western 'A' Scoring Race

TORONTO (CP)—Joe Klukay, a veteran of nine National Hockey League seasons with Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins, is heading the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A Western Division scoring race.

Now with Windsor Bulldogs, Joe Aileen has eight Haidy six assists, for 16 points. He leads three other Bulldogs in a virtual monopoly of the top spots in the scoring race.

Reg Abbott, Gord Haidy and Bob Brown are tied for second place with Kitchener's Don Rope, each with 14 points.

Rope leads in goals scored with 10. Aileen has eight, Haidy six and Brown five.

Marv Edwards of Chatham Maroons leads goaltenders, with 31 goals against in 12 games for a 2.58 average. Bob Dale of Stratford Indians follows with 3.18 and Bob Senior of Kitchener is third with 3.42.

Normie Kwong Named Native Canadian Star

TORONTO (CP) — Normie Kwong, powerful running back for Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, Monday was named native Canadian football player of the year for a record second-year award.

The announcement was made by the board of trustees of the Canadian Schenley Awards. Kaye Vaughan of Ottawa Rough Riders was voted lineman of the year in the poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

The Calgary-born Kwong, only Chinese playing senior football in Canada, this season rolled—up a WIFU record of 1,431 yards rushing to beat the previous record of 1,250 yards he established in 1953.

Meanwhile, in Montreal, it was announced that Hal Patterson, a star at end and defensive halfback for Montreal Alouettes, has been named the second repeat winner of the Lord Calvert Trophy which goes to the most popular Montreal player on the basis of a vote of fans.

The Kansas-born import had a total of 8,072 votes, 1,414 more than runner-up Tommy Hugo, his teammate. Alouette guard Herb Trawick, who won in 1950 and 1951, was the first to win the award twice.

Celeri, Graham Win ORFU Top Honors

KITCHENER (CP)—Two star players with Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, have captured the Ontario Rugby Football Union Senior crown this year for the third straight time, have won the major awards in the league.

ORFU secretary George Schmidt announced today that quarterback Bob Celeri has been named winner of the Dunnett Trophy for the third successive season. He is an import who starred at the University of California before coming to the National Football League.

Hometrew halfback Bill Graham, two votes back and close by Celeri last season with Dutchmen, has been voted winner of the Dow Award, up for the first year of competition.

WINS BY LANDSLIDE

This is open to Canadian players and Graham won by a landslide. The only other player in the running was fullback Dale Creighton of London Lords, beaten by Kitchener in the best-of-three final series 2-1.

Graham wins a trophy and $200 in cash. His selection came almost automatically after a season in which he scored 137 points in 11 league games to set a Canadian scoring record by a wide margin.

Celeri, a veteran of many years of campaigning at age of 34, has been the outstanding quarterback in the ORFU for three years. He won the trophy by a slight vote over Bernie Custis of Toronto Beaches. In third place was Graham, two votes back and close by were Dick Dixon of Sarnia Golden Bears and Harry Babcock of Toronto.

Celeri, among the best in Canada in ball handling, passes with skill, led the ORFU in running, and is one of the best defensive backs in the land. For the last half of the season, after a series of injuries had removed four backfielders from the Dutchmen lineup he played nearly 60 minutes in every game.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Dapper Jockey Eddie Arcaro Has All the Nerve, No Nerves

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Arcaro is a dapper, effervescent little fellow with rather wide, starry eyes and a ready grin that is stopped only by his ears.

Calling him little is a bit redundant, because if he weren't little he wouldn't be a jockey.

He's not just a jockey; he's the plutocrat of horse jockeys, and a fellow whose reputation is so formidable that his mount gets backing even if, on his record, it should be a field of rheumatic turtles.

We came upon him in the entrance to the jockey quarters at Laurel, where he was chatting with Sonny Workman, another highly regarded rider who has retired and is living in Florida.

Other jockeys brushed past him on their way to or from a race, some of them exchanging the cuverlay with the awe of a rookie eyeing Ted Williams. He was unaware of their glances as he and Workman chatted, mostly about golf, for Workman asked Arcaro if he had any weight troubles, as he's no longer a kid and many a man has to fight middle-age spread.

"No," he said, "I watch my diet. It gets to be a habit. You automatically order the things you can eat without gaining. If you gain, you have to use the steam room. Seen the steam room here? Come on, I'll show you."

He led the way briskly up a short flight of stairs to a warm room with a steam cabinet in one corner. "I don't like that, wouldn't be anything left of me," he commented. A second room was warmer yet, and finally there was the torture chamber—a tiny room with a bed of hot rock. The rocks are heated, and then doused with water to create live steam.

"That's the way they do in Finland," Eddie explained. He led the way back through the big room where a score or more jockeys, assisted by their khaki-clad valets, were changing gear between races.

Out on the adjoining veranda several jockeys perched idly on the railing.

There were Johnny Longden, a venerable, seamy-faced veteran who has ridden more winners than any rider in history; Johnny Adams a stubby powerful fellow with a fullback's shoulders; and two of three others still building their reputations.

During the general conversations, someone asked if the sometimes bootie attitude of a crowd ever bothered him. He laughed.

"Not any more," he said. "Sometimes you hear personal remarks you don't like when you're in the paddock. I tell you who it really bothers—Ted Atkinson. He gets spitting mad, I better go now and get dressed."

He left abruptly, walking briskly into the jockey room like a fellow who was going to take a quick shower and be right back. Yet in a few minutes he would be risking life and limb in a race which would be run mainly to him if his horse won. These little guys have all the nerve in the world, but no nerves.

Eskimos Start 3-Day Drills Behind London Locked Gates

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Banged up a bit after their Western title series but in good spirits, the Edmonton Eskimos today started three days of drilling on Saturday's Grey Cup football classic at Toronto's Exhibition Stadium.

The Edmonton party of 40, including 29 players, arrived here Monday night, via a special Trans-Canada Air Lines plane to be met by a shivering crowd of more than 200, fans at London Airport.

The team will work out behind locked gates at University of Western Ontario's Little Memorial Stadium, and will move to Toronto Friday.

It was the intention to keep the team in Edmonton until the end of the week, but cold weather prompted officials to move to the east earlier.

LINDLEY LEFT AT HOME

Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy said his boys were in little danger of "getting up" after last Saturday's final when they walloped Saskatchewan Roughriders 37-7 to take the Western Canada title. He had no serious injuries to worry about but he left import halfback Earl Lindley, laid up with a shoulder injury, at home.

Ivy wouldn't say whether ex-Loudoner Don Getty, who quarterbacked the Eskimos in the last two games of the Western final, would start the signal - calling against Alouettes.

"It's a bit early to make an announcement," said the big Oklahoman who is seeking his third Grey Cup victory. Getty was a star at Western a few seasons ago.

In the glare of flash bulbs, Getty was the first to step out of the plane and his first handshake came from his old coach, Johnny Metras of Western, who was the official greeter at the airport.

HERO'S WELCOME

Then the 22-year-old 190-pound Edmonton lad was off to see his mother, Mrs. Ross Getty, whom his father stood beaming behind her.

"Wow, what a welcome," laughed Getty as a crowd of Western and high school players gave their hometown hero a resounding roar.

The plane was first due in London about 1:15 p.m., but did not arrive until 10:40 and the impatient welcome party surged out on the tarmac and around the ramp. Attendants kept the plane's door closed a few minutes until the crowd had moved back several yards.

Ivy was surrounded by well-wishers but lost little time herding his charges into a bus for a hotel where 20 double rooms and a few suites were ready. After a snack, the team went to bed for a good rest before the first day's practice.

Ivy stressed there was no time for any social doings in London but agreed to one official function—a dinner tonight for his team with London Lords, finalists in the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union this season.

Cloudy Skies Forecast for Grey Cup Day

TORONTO (CP) — Unless there is a reversal of the weather trend of the last 10 years, the best football fans can hope for the Grey Cup game this Saturday is cloudy skies.

Weather records show it has been cloudy in Toronto on Nov. 24 in each of the last 10 years. In eight of those years, the day has been either rain or snow or a mixture of both.

The biggest snowfall was in 1950, with 12 inches. In terms of precipitation, that was matched in 1947 with an inch of rain (which weather men reckon as roughly the equivalent of 10 inches of snow) and two inches of snow.

Here is the record for Nov. 24 for the 10 years:

1955—Cloudy, with snowflurries.
1954—Cloudy, ½ inch of rain.
1953—Cloudy, showers.
1952—Cloudy, rain.
1951—Cloudy, snowflurries.
1950—Cloudy, 12 inches of snow.
1949—Overcast, 4¼ inches of snow and ¼ inches of snow.
1947—Overcast, one inch of rain and two inches of snow.
1946—cloudy.

Argonauts Form Fifteen-Man Advisory Body

TORONTO (CP)—Lew Hayman, managing director of Toronto Argonauts, announced today formation of a 15-man advisory council to assist the Big Four football club "in its activities as a community enterprise."

"It will advise, recommend and participate in such activities as are desirable for a pleasant and close relationship among the Toronto fans, players and football club," Hayman said in a statement.

The men, described as a cross-section of Toronto life, would serve on committees responsible for entertainment at home games, finding jobs for players, season ticket promotion and social activities involving players and fans.

John Bassett, publisher of the Toronto Telegram, who was recently named as one of the members of the club's new management committee, will be chairman of the advisory council.

Humez Verdicts Tiger Jones in Slambang Bout

PARIS (AP)—Charles Humez of France Monday night outpointed Ralph (Tiger) Jones of the United States in a slambang 10-round middleweight fight with both slugging toe-to-toe at the bell.

As a result of the decisive victory, Humez hopes to get a shot at Sugar Ray Robinson's championship crown. Humez claimed he was robbed when he dropped a split decision to Jones at New York March 23.

A crowd of 13,000 cheered the two fighters throughout as they slugged each other from the opening bell. Humez won on the strength of a flickering left hand that kept Jones from boring in whenever the Frenchman appeared in trouble. Jones, from Yonkers, N.Y., weighed in at 157 pounds and Humez at 160.

Both fighters were bleeding at the final bell. Humez had a cut over the left eye which opened up in the third round and a cut inside the mouth which was started in the seventh.

The latest ratings by both the National Boxing Association and Ring Magazine list Humez No. 2 among the middleweight contenders. Jones was No. 3 with the NBA and No. 3 with Ring.

Robinson is defending his title against Gene Fullmer in New York Dec. 12.

Big Four Referee Situation Assumes Crisis Proportions

TORONTO (CP)—Refereeing in the Big Four Football Union, a contentious subject all season, this week assumed the proportions of a crisis as league officials and owners gathered here for the Grey Cup game.

Triggering the flare-up were the president and coach of Hamilton Tiger-Cats — Jake Gaudaur and Jim Trimble—who were reported to have invaded the referees' dressing room Saturday after the Big Four final in Montreal and accused the officials of favoring the Alouettes, who won 48-41.

Toronto referee Harry Bowden, the target of the double blast, returned to Toronto Sunday and said he and his fellow officials reported the incident to the league head-quarters and that the five would resign if Gaudaur and Trimble were not disciplined.

By Monday night, Judge Allan Fraser of Ottawa, the Big Four's commissioner, said he had not received the complaint from Bowden, Tom Daly and Ray Boocher of Ottawa and Norm Crichton and Bob Lye of Hamilton.

In Toronto, Jim McCaffrey of Ottawa, league president, said the Big Four will announce its decision on the affair "by next week." McCaffrey said he expects a report on the incident from Hamilton's Seymour Wilson, the Big Four's referee-in-chief, Wednesday.

Ten penalties were called during the Montreal game, seven of them against Tiger-Cats. One was a 15-yard penalty called because of Trimble's comments to an official.

In Hamilton Monday night Gaudaur said: "If the officials and the league want to bring this thing to a head, we'll meet them halfway. We can supply plenty of evidence that would bring this entire affair out in the open—where it belongs."

At one time or another during the season every team in the Big Four except Toronto Argonauts made protests about officiating.

After one Montreal - Hamilton game in Montreal, referee Jimmy Simpson was said to have been swung on by an irate fan, and Simpson was subsequently reprimanded by Wilson after he first banished Toronto end Al Pfeifer from the field, then allowed him to continue.

Olympics Body Votes Down Brundage 'Oath' Proposal

MELBOURNE (AP) — The International Olympic Committee on the eve of the opening of the 1956 Games rebuffed its president, Avery Brundage, and voted down his proposal to include in the oath a promise by athletes that they intend to remain amateurs.

The action at the secret meeting in Melbourne town hall was disclosed by committee members who declined use of their names. It stirred a previous decision of the executive committee, Brundage, a champion of amateurism in the purest form, frowns on athletes who capitalize on their Olympic fame by turning professional.

Workmen are still toiling frantically to get the Melbourne Cricket Grounds in shape for the opening ceremonies Thursday. Painting remains to be done and much debris must be cleared out.

Melbourne itself is alive with crowds and covered with flags and Olympic symbols. At the Olympic village there was the usual feeling of tension that precedes the world's greatest sport event. On hand are nearly 5,000 athletes and coaches from 66 nations.

EXPECT FINE WEATHER

The best pieces of advice from the viewpoint of spectators and athletes alike was a weather bureau forecast that Thursday would be warm and sunny. This is springtime in the southern hemisphere and up to now it has been just as cold, rainy, and nasty as spring can be anywhere.

The controversy over the Olympic oath has been boiling all week. For a time it appeared many American athletes might refuse to participate because they could not sign the pledge with a clear conscience. It originally prompted the IOC oath required athletes to state "on my honour I am an amateur and I intend to remain an amateur." The committee action today struck out "I intend to remain."

In other action the committee ensured the seven nations that withdrew from these Games for political reasons.

For the first time in Olympic history a public effort was made to discourage the keeping of national point totals. On the great signboard on which the names of winners will be flashed is this notice: "Classification of points on a national basis is not recommended."

Despite this there is a public demand for tabulating unofficial points and interest is sharp in the sports battle of the two great athletic powers, the United States and Russia. At the 1952 Games in Helsinki, America won out by a narrow margin.

As matters shape up now, the United States is expected to dominate men's track and field, win the basketball championship, and score well in swimming, weightlifting, boxing, and rowing. Russia should win its first Gold Medal or two in men's track, clean up in women's track, dominate gymnastics, and show well in weightlifting, wrestling, rowing, shooting, and some of the lesser-known events.

Back of the United States and Russia come Hungary and Australia. The Hungarians were third at Helsinki but Dr. Josef Sir, in charge of their training, says he expected only 10 Gold Medals against 15 at Helsinki.

"The team is training well but half of their hearts are in Hungary and half here," he said.

Bilts' Top Line Reason for Team Showing

TORONTO (CP) — One good reason why Guelph Biltmores are rolling along, second place ahead of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A pack, is given in individual scoring statistics supplied by the league.

The Bilts' top line of Bill Sweeney, Ed Shack and Dan Bellisle has scored 24 of the team's 44 goals to date. Sweeney and Shack are tied for first place in individual scoring, each with 17 points, while Bellisle is tied with two others with 14 points for fourth place.

Sweeney and Bellisle each have nine goals, while Shack has six. Captain Ed Hoekstra of St. Catharines Teepees is in third place with six goals and 10 assists.

Carl Wetzel of Hamilton Cubs leads regular goaltenders with 12 goals against him in six games for a 2.17 average. Len Broderick of Toronto Marlboros has allowed 23 goals in nine games for a 2.56 average, while Bob Savage of Toronto St. Michael's has been beaten 26 times in 10 games for a 2.6 average. Bruce Gamble of Guelph follows closely with a 2.67 mark.

New Batting Title Rule Goes in Book

CHICAGO (AP)—A new batting title requirement rule, based on total appearances at the plate, Monday was written into the books for organized baseball.

The rule was adopted by baseball's playing rules committee and supercedes the old regulation requiring 400 official times at bat to qualify for the championship.

Jim Gallagher, chairman of the committee, said the new rule reads:

"The individual batting champion shall be the player with the highest batting average, provided he is credited with as many or more total appearances at the plate in league championship games as the number of games scheduled for each club in his league that season, multiplied by 3.1.

"Example: The major league schedules 154 games for each club per season; 154 x 3.1 equals 47. Some minor leagues schedules 140 games. Multiplied by 3.1 this is 434.

"Total appearances at the plate shall include official times at bat, plus bases on balls, times hit by pitcher, sacrifice hits, sacrifice flies, and times awarded first base because of interference or obstruction."

Will Harridge and Warren Giles, presidents of the American and National Leagues, both recommended the new rule.

Petes Blank Hamilton 5-0

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—Goalie Chuck Adamson helped pull Peterborough Petes out of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A cellar Monday night when Petes shut out second-place Hamilton Cubs 5-0 in a fast, rugged game before 2,100 fans.

Petes now are in sixth place.

George Montague led the winners with two goals and Chuck Hamilton, Len Marshall and Guy Black scored the others.

Cubs drew 11 of the 19 penalties.

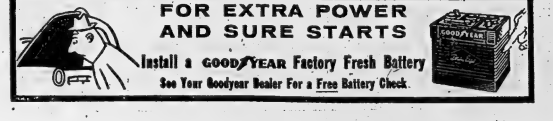
Winter roads no problem for these busy men

1 Quebec, Que.—Mr. Edouard Grenier, Manager of Yellow Taxis Limited in Quebec city, writes: "We have used Suburbanites for about five years.

Before that, broken chains often caused damage to our cars and lost time for our drivers. But since we started using Suburbanites, we have done away with all these troubles and no longer buy chains."

2 Calgary, Alberta—Mr. J. R. Andrews, an employee of the Calgary Post Office, says: "It wasn't until I actually put these tires on and tried them that I knew how jobs, spinning wheels on icy roads, are a thing of the past. My Suburbanites will be on and pushing every winter from now on."

3 Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan —Mr. C. Fletcher, who commutes by car from his work at Libby Auto Service daily, says: "I have had a set of Suburbanites on my car for three and a half years. On my way to and from work, I have to negotiate two long, steep hills and I have yet to be stalled due to snowy or icy conditions. I have passed literally hundreds of other Moose Jaw motorists who have been stalled due to lack of traction."



4 Toronto, Ontario—Mr. W. E. Waters, Sales Manager, writes: "I've done a lot of winter driving since my family took up skiing as a winter sport. Last weekend, on the narrow snow-covered road from Huntsville to Limberlost Lodge, an oncoming car forced me into the ditch. But our Suburbanites got us out quite easily. Many times, my Suburbanites have kept us rolling when cars with other tires were stuck in the snow or on hills."

5 Winnipeg, Manitoba—Mr. Ron Ayers, Commercial Photographer, praises his Suburbanites like this: "Doing construction photography takes me into all the new developments around Winnipeg. This winter has been the toughest I've ever known for snow and poor roads. I can thank our Goodyear Suburbanites for getting me in and out of these places with no loss of time. I use them year 'round because they are terrific in mud too."

6 Here's why: See those 484 separate tread blocks. They're set at angles to grab into the snow, much like a skier's skis climbing a hill. And they're flexible—don't clog up with snow —always ready to bite. Quiet running on bare pavement, too. See your Goodyear Dealer for Suburbanites, either tubeless or tube-type, black or white wall.

Olympic Briefs

MELBOURNE (AP) — World record-holder Darry O'Brien, who is a virtual cinch in the shot put, gets an keyed up at this stage of the Olympic Games that he must —like Greta Garbo—be alone. As at Helsinki, the muscle man from Southern California, now an air force man, is slipping off to sleep in an empty laundry room. "Party can't stand chatter when the big event gets close," said a friend.

As an idea of what the weather in Melbourne is like with opening of the Games just two days away, Bob Glegengack, assistant track coach, says, "it's like March in New Jersey." Embarressed Australians, from cab drivers to high officials, mutter grimly, "It's that blarsted storm bomb."

Jackie Macdonald, Canada's blonde shotputter and one of the prettiest women athletes in the village, says it's been so cold she and her teammates sleep in their sweatsuits. "We're used to cold weather in the Great Northwest," says Jackie, "but there we sleep for it—I wish I had brought along my parka."

The Duke of Walkiki—dapper, grey haired Duke Kahanamoku of Hawaii—checked in with a dashing white cap, sheriff's badge and a suggestion of red to brought blushes to Olympic organizers.

"If swimmers were made to swim in the nude," he said, "they would shatter even more records."

The duke said in his time he had to wear long, one-piece suits which hampered swimmers effortlebess, he—was able to hold virtually every sprint record in the book at one time.

Scalpers continue to have a field day with Games tickets. Fifty thousand tickets for certain main stadium events were put on sale at Myers, large midtown department store, at 11 shillings (81.40) each. Scalpers stood outside the store and did a thriving business at 30 shilling prices.

Montreal Track Total Betting Over 16 Million

MONTREAL (CP) — Richelieu Park, which has just completed its full 100-day season of harness racing, had a total betting handle of $16,322,751 and total attendance of 3389,913, the park announced Monday.

Last season the park operated 92 days, instead of 100, because there weren't enough off-dates to utilize in catching up with postponed meetings because of weather conditions. In the 92-day run last year the handle was $12,510,292 and attendance 345,894.

Purses totalled $14,000 this year, compared with $524,000.

The heaviest betting on any one day was $226,212, it was Nov. 4. Throughout the season the average bet of each person was about $42.

Richelieu Park, owned and operated by Provincial Racetracks Inc., on the eastern tip of Montreal Island, was the setting for the Canadian trotting record last Sept. 24. The winner was Scott Frost and the time was 2:03 2-5.

The mark bettered by 2 1-5 seconds the previous record set by Khala Kay. Richelieu now claims both pacing and trotting Canadian records. Meadow Paymond Hal set a mark of 2:00 2-5.

Taylor Horses Won $235,000 For Top Money

TORONTO (CP) — Horses running out of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Taylor's Toronto stable collected a total of $235,000 in purses to make the Taylors Canadian owners again this year.

Of the total, $190,000 was won by horses bred on the Taylor Windfields Farm, the rest by imported animals. In all, Taylor horses won 75 races and set six track or Canadian records.

For the fifth consecutive year the Toronto sportsman was top Canadian breeders. Their Windfields was the top money-winning sire this year and Bolesleo the leading dam,

Sugar Hart Stops Constance

NEW YORK (AP) — Garnett (Sugar) Hart of Philadelphia stopped Hector Constance, 27, Trinidad on a technical knockout Monday night at 1:49 of the 10th round at St. Nicholas Arena after a free-swinging brawl. Hart weighed 145½. Constance 146½ pounds.

Constance, never before stopped in 44 pro fights, was taking a heavy battering when referee Roy Miller stepped between the two men to end it.

Hart was out front on all three judges cards at the end of the ninth. It was his 19th victory in 19 pro fights.

David Niven Easiest Person In Hollywood to Interview

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLWOOD (AP) — Ask any reporter who is the most delightful person to interview in Hollywood and the chances are he'll answer David Niven.

Year in and year out Niven comes up with bright and amusing dialogue. This contrasts with some stars who always appear morose and distant.

How does Niven manage to remain gay and cheerful? I put the question to him. His reply:

"I guess it's the constant realization of what a lucky character I really am. I get paid very nicely for the kind of work I love. I get free trips all over the world. And I work with some of the nicest people I know — not just fellow actors, but the movie crews, as well.

WAR CHANGED HIM

"This sort of realization doesn't come overnight. Before the war, I could have been a real worrier.

"But 6½ years in the war changed all that. When you're sitting in a trench with mortar shells flying all around you, some things seem pretty small. You realize how lucky you are just to get out of those trenches.

If Niven seems even jollier than usual these days, it's not without reason. His career is bigger than ever. He's the lead in Around the World in 80 Days, a great new hit. He just returned from abroad where he made The Little Hut with Ava Gardner and Stewart Granger. And how he's with Dan Dailey and Ginger Rogers in Oh Men, Oh Women.

He was frank in admitting that his services were not always in such demand.

PAY CHEQUE MISSING

"I fought tooth and nail to get out of my contract with Sam Goldwyn," he recalled. "Finally he released me and I was free for the first time in 15 years. Then a Wednesday came along and I thought to myself, something is wrong, something is missing.

"I suddenly realized I wouldn't be getting that weekly cheque. I was terrified."

It was during this low period that he grabbed at a number of pictures he wouldn't have considered before. He did things like Toast of New Orleans, which he'd just as soon forget.

"That's when I got into television," he said. "I felt I had to."

Again, luck was with him. He lined up with Dick Powell and Charles Boyer in their Four Star productions and now it's a multi-million-dollar enterprise.

AT THE BELLE — Gregory Peck is co-starred with Richard Basehart, Leo Genn and Orson Welles, in the John Huston production of "Moby Dick", which opens tonight for the last times at the Belle Theatre.

Chuvalo Wins Over Biehler In 8 Rounds

TORONTO (CP) — George Chuvalo, Toronto's 19-year-old heavyweight hope, Monday night punched out an eight-round decision over Bob Biehler of Rochester, N.Y.

In a second feature bout, also scheduled for eight rounds, Arthur King, Toronto welterweight veteran, sent Frank Alotta of Allentown, Pa., down for the count with a left hook at 29 seconds of the first round.

Biehler, at 26 a much more experienced fighter than Chuvalo, never could get set against the heavy body and hind blows of his heavier opponent and absorbed a bad beating in the late rounds, refused to go down.

The loss was Biehler's fifth in 22 bouts, while Chuvalo won his fourth pro bout fight in five starts.

King and Alotta were slugging toe-to-toe from the start and the former lightweight champion of the British Empire sent a left hook into his opponent's stomach. Alotta stumbled to the lower strand of the ropes and was unable to rise before the end of the count.

Piper Laurie Gets First Starring TV Role Sunday

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time there was a girl who had something that millions of girls wanted. She was a Hollywood "star," with all the fame and fortune attendant on that word.

But she found that being a "star" is not all that it's reputed to be. She wanted to earn the title through accomplishment as a dramatic actress—and she found that Hollywood was not giving her the types of roles that would develop her as a dramatic actress. So—except for one picture a year —she gave up her lucrative contract and began seeking other things.

Her name is Piper Laurie, a pretty, red-haired young woman who became known for her roles in movie sagebrush sagas.

Next Sunday she takes on her first starring television role in CBS-TV's The Road that Led Afar. She—and several professional actors—are pretty excited with what she does with the role.

In a recorded interview on the Millie Considine show (United network), Bing Crosby publicly expresses for the first time his opinion of Elvis Presley.

Presley is a "really good singer —carries a tune quite well," says Crosby. But he claims that Presley "could be even more successful" if he (1) dresses better, (2) gets a decent haircut, (3) shaves off those sideburns, and (4) "stops that wriggling."

"As a matter of fact," adds Crosby, "I've got some extra sports jackets, and I'll let him have them—just to show him how good he can look on stage."

and accomplish wonders if your intuition and all-round capability are functioning in high gear.

October 24 to November 23 — (Scorpio) — Here's a time to show your astute judgment. Don't waste time on unessentials; start and keep after the urgent tasks. Benefits can be had through your work and other worthwhile interests.

November 23 to December 31 — (Sagittarius) — Some good offerings — especially if you think smartly and choose the right course. Personal attention to essentials, home and family matters necessary. No nonsense.

December 22 to January 20 — (Capricorn) — Be most careful in dangerous work; assignments, confidences, handling machinery, tools. Good, steady application to daily duties will net benefits. Be progressive. Use talents rightly.

January 21 to February 19 — (Aquarius) — A vivid strain and pointless associations. Stay with wholesome activities. Push matters for which you have training, knowledge. Cooperation with superiors necessary.

February 20 to March 20 — (Pisces) — Good opportunities now. Plan, execute plans, study, try new methods and materials. Be progressive. Don't daily.

You born today are determined, sturdy in intent and application, highly intelligent and, if true to your finer qualities, are honorable, straightforward and just. It is important, however, that you curb a tendency to dictate to others. Cultivate your God - given talents daily. You may have the ability to write, and for music or oratory; could organize and handle big undertakings. Never stop learning, studying. Birthdate: Desire Mercier, Belgian hero Cardinal; Voltaire, French author.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, Nov. 21, 1956,

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Your Mars and the Moon, in friendly aspects, augur well for most activities and interests. Saturn warns not to be careless in hazardous work, travel, etc. Give your best in order to achieve sound gains now.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — You may have to supply the impetus and vigor now. Everyday affairs may seem slow-going unless you inject new interest, added zest. Fine aspects for military and personal affairs.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — The influences are still restrictive where mental work is concerned, but as the day advances aspects become much better. Exercise good reasoning and stick-to-itiveness in essentials and things will be pleasant, productive.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Some caution urged in artistic affairs, matters where finesse is needed. Sturdy activities, building, mining, work with machinery, tools and in the nuclear fields highly sponsored.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Engineers, contractors, iron and other metal work, building, school enterprises around top favored. Police, firemen, those in work requiring strength and resourcefulness also honored.

August 24 to September 23 — (Virgo) — All activities can and should be constructive — not destructive — on this splendid Mars day. Moon encourages personal achievement. Smart thinking and management will be needed, however.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra) — Similar to Taurus and Virgo now. Work along sure lines, You can rise above the mediocre

EDITOR DIES

PALATKA, Fla. (AP) — Albert Beverly Baker, 58, editor and publisher of the Palatka Daily News, died Monday night. He was a native of Tillsonburg, Ont. Survivors are his widow, a son, and his father, K. L. Baker of Tillsonburg.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Don't pack it, Margaret. I'll just carry it over my arm, and my husband will think I'm bringing it home from the cleaners."

Little Benny's Notebook

ME and Glasses Magee took Flora and Dora the bewty looking twins to the Saturday Kid Show at the Lido Grand, buying them pop corn and everything. Being expensive but worth it on account of me being stuck on Flora and Glasses feeling stuck on Dora, and we were talking about it on my front steps, and Glasses said, G, wouldn't it be funny if we all grew up and got married?

How do we know they would wait for us? I said, and Glasses said, I bet they will if we ask them.

But heck, suppose we ask them and they say they will, that will mean we're engaged to them, and they'll expect us to spend all our money on ice cream cones and things for them, and maybe even run their errands for them, I said.

Good night, that's libel to take all the fun out of it. I said, and Glasses said, sure, and guessing they get fat and ugly while they're waiting.

Or even skinny and ugly, I said, and Glasses said, Yeah, and then if we change our minds, they'll claim we're not acting like gentlemen, and they're even libel to sue us for bigamy or something.

Oh well, maybe they'll wait and then if that don't happen, and then if we change our minds they wont expect anything to me to for, I said, and Glasses said, Yeah, that's if we wont be engaged to them, so it'd still be our own bosses.

But G, they wont know we expect them to wait if we dont tell them, and all of a sudden the first thing we know they'll be married to some other guys, I said, and Glasses said, Heck, I guess we'll just have to keep on being our own bosses and take a chance.

Being what we are doing.

LUKEWARM SUPPORTER

Butler is believed to have led a section of the Polish cabinet which was uneasy about forceful solutions to the Suez problem. Some observers note that he did not make outright statements of support of administration policy until last week. There have been published suggestions, mainly in left-wing papers, that he made the statement of support under pressure from cabinet colleagues and back-benchers.

U.S. Will Seek Explanation Of Soviet Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States probably will ask Russia to explain the Soviet rejection of two of the Soviet disarmament proposals set forth by Premier Bulganin in his note to President Eisenhower Saturday.

There seems virtually no chance, however, that the White House will agree to a proposed "summit" conference of the Big Four countries, plus India, to discuss the disarmament problem.

EDEN

He was under extreme fire from the Labor Opposition in the House of Commons. Crowds booed him as he left the House two weeks ago—though at least an equal number cheered. As a man who has always placed great importance on the Commonwealth association, he must have been distressed by the reaction to the Anglo-French action of such countries as Canada and the Asian Commonwealth members.

There is considerable evidence to suggest that the cabinet was sorely tried. Some accounts indicate that Eden accepted the United Nations cease-fire in Egypt on the insistence of a group in the cabinet led by Butler.

Although initial reaction suggested that the British people were deeply divided on Suez, once the troops went into action there appeared to be a rallying behind Eden. Despite two ministerial resignations and hints of misgivings from some backbenchers, the Conservative party showed increasing confidence.

During the tense weeks since the Anglo-French ultimatum to Egypt there have been conflicting accounts of the prime minister's bearing. Some said he seemed brash, bored and confident, others believed himself on the way to a notable triumph.

NEAR EXHAUSTION

The Evening Standard, which has stoutly supported the government through the crisis, said that Eden had suffered "near exhaustion — drawn, grey-faced, heavy-eyed."

The prime minister's severest critics, numbering among them virtually all of Britain's London newspapers, never for a moment challenged the sincerity of Eden's politics, but felt them to be a tragic misjudgment of a complex situation.

In a radio broadcast Nov. 3, Eden defended the government's decision to use force and said wearily: "I am a man of peace." His voice betrayed bitter intense emotion.

Eden had three abdominal operations in 1953 and it seemed then that his public career might suffer setbacks. He made a rapid recovery and in 1954 emerged as the leading proponent for the West at the Indochina conference on Far East problems. Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson called him the "indispensable man" of the conference.

As Eden's temporary replacement, Butler may face a renewed Labor attack, with the emphasis switching to suggestions that the Anglo - French attack was concerned with Israel.

Nehru said the bitter resistance of Hungarian workers had "powerfully affected" Russia's prestige in eastern Europe and elsewhere, and that UN observers should be admitted to determine the actual situation.

REARD OF DEPORTATIONS

During the debate on the Cuban resolution, the chief United States delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, said Washington had information that Russia has deported 200,000 Germans in boxcars from Budapest alone. "It is inevitable," Lodge declared, "that many of the men . . . will die from cold and exposure . . . just as the unfortunate victims of the Nazi concentration camps died."

Lodge said these reports made even more urgent the need for compliance with previous assembly resolutions calling for withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Hungary, and UN observers on the scene.

PEARSON ASKS

Canada's External Affairs Minister Pearson also called for an end to "the frightful device" of deporting people from their homelands.

Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov of Russia earlier had accused the U.S. and other non-Communist countries of touching off the Hungarian revolt by encouraging Hungary's Foreign Minister Imre Horvath formed the reports of mass deportations "lies."

The Soviet diplomat warned that any move to send a UN police force to Hungary would endanger world peace.

"Alternatively, they might have been flown out in Russian transport aircraft, and they might have taken part in operations on their own initiative; that too, is unlikely."

"The evidence of complicity between the French and Israeli governments is almost inevitable. What of Britain's part?"

A French defence ministry spokesman was most emphatically denied The Guardian's report.

Five Perish In Lockport Fire

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP) — A farm couple and three of their five children were believed to have been burned to death in a roaring fire that destroyed their frame house Monday.

Missing and presumed dead were Linus Ball, his wife, Hilda, and three of their children, Arthur, nine months, Frank, 4, and Dennis, 8.

Two daughters, Sharon, 6, and Elaine, 13, jumped from upper windows of the flaming house. Elaine was taken to a hospital here with severe burns. Sharon, apparently uninjured, was taken to the home of friends.

Transport Board To Have Youngest Chief in History

OTTAWA (CP)—The board of transport commissioners, key federal agency regulating railways and pipelines, soon will have the youngest chief in its 50-year history.

Clarence D. Shepard, 42-year-old Winnipeg lawyer, will shift from pleader's table before the board to the $17,000-a-year position of chief commissioner.

Informants said Monday the appointment, which also entails Mr. Shepard becoming a justice of the Exchequer Court of Canada, will be announced soon by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Mr. Shepard—who has represented the Manitoba government before the board in freight rate cases since 1945—will become the youngest member of the Exchequer Court. He will not sit on the Exchequer bench. By legislation, the commissioner must be an Exchequer judge.

SUCCEEDS JUSTICE

Mr. Shepard will succeed Mr. Justice J. D. Kearney, 62, who suffered a mild heart attack last summer and is expected to move soon to the less arduous duties of the Exchequer Court.

The chief commissioner is regarded as one of the toughest jobs in the government service, physically and mentally, particularly since the onset of the post-war series of freight rate and pipeline cases. Though the appointment is for 10 years, Mr. Shepard will be the fourth chief since 1946.

This time, the government has picked not only one of the country's top legal experts on freight rates but also a burly and athletic six-footer physically up to the grind of the exacting job.

It has combined this with a move calculated to pacify prairie demands for geographical representation on the board. Shepard will be the first chief commissioner from the Prairies.

NAB FLEEING CONVICTS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Five tough convicts clad in guards' uniforms escaped from Kilby Prison Monday after slugging a guard and locking eight others in a cold storage room. They were recaptured quickly following a wild chase and might have made a clean getaway, said Warden C. B. Burford, except for the suspicious eye of a tower guard, who wondered why five uniformed men would be leaving the prison at that hour, about 2 a.m.

Stop Fiddling, Settle Strike, Federal Warning

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal mediator has warned union and management negotiators to "stop fiddling around" and settle the dock strike in United States eastern ports.

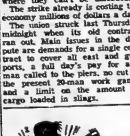
But the paralyzing walkout by 40,000 dock workers moved into its fifth day today with no sign of settlement. Almost 200 ships remained idle at deserted piers from Maine to Texas.

Negotiators for the International Longshoremen's Association and the New York Shipping Association were to resume contract talks today under government pressure to reach quick agreement.

After fruitless session Monday, Robert Moore, chief federal mediator in the dispute, said he had told both sides they "might as well stop fiddling around."

The White House also appealed to both sides to settle their differences quickly for the good of the public.

MAY JOIN STRIKE



Meanwhile, on the west coast, Harry Bridges', International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union started polling its members to determine their stand on the strike. Results are to be announced Wednesday.

The union has already refused to handle ships carrying cargo for sailing for strikebound ports. And Monday the west coast longshoremen started a 24-hour walkout to discuss the strike.

As the contract talks continued, the economic pinch caused by the strike grew more painful. Railroads ordered a halt to shipment of almost all export freight to all strikebound ports. The order was aimed at blocking a massive tieup of freight cars at ports where they can't be unloaded.

The strike already is costing the economy millions of dollars a day.

The union struck last Thursday midnight when the old contract ran out. Main issues in the dispute are demands for a single contract to cover all east and gulf ports, a full day's pay for any man called to the piers, no cut in the present 20-man work gangs and a limit on the amount of cargo loaded in slings.

ZENITH HEARING AID USERS KNOW:
Quality and quality alone...
has made Zenith the world's largest-selling hearing aid!

For many years Zenith Quality has made Zenith Hearing Aids the choice of world leaders in every field. Scientists, physicians, judges, explorers, statesmen, bankers. And engineers, who are best qualified to judge electronic and acoustical qualities. They know of Zenith's leadership in the field of electronics and of Zenith's vast technical research laboratory facilities. Zenith is by far the first choice of these people who can afford any price or type of hearing aid.

Zenith's sensible prices are possible because we cut out unnecessary overhead expenses, costly displays, lavish convention ballyhoo and exorbitant sales commissions to distributors, dealers, and white-jacketed salesmen. If we paid a sales commission of $160 to $180, as some others do, the retail prices of Zenith instruments would have to be drastically increased—our $50 model alone would have to sell for more than $200!

Try a Zenith Quality Hearing Aid on our No-Risk Home Trial Plan. Seven superb 4- and 3-transistor models include a new 10-in-1 eyeglass-type hearing aid, and a tiny aid worn entirely at the ear! Our prices, $50 to $150 with 10-Day Money-Back Guarantee, 1-Year Warranty, 5-Year Service Plan. Easy Time Payments. Campney Reveals Canadian Makeup UN Air Support

2,500 Troops Committed To Middle East Force

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Campney has announced makeup of Canada's air support for the United Nations police force. The announcement came Tuesday night a few hours after a cabinet meeting committed up to 2,500 Canadian troops to the Middle East force.

Meanwhile, Parliament has been called into special session to meet next Monday at 2:30 p.m. EST to approve the funds needed for the overseas troops as well as $200,000 for Hungarian relief.

However, there were doubts in some federal quarters whether the full 2,500 would go because of Egyptian opposition to use of Canadians in the UN operation.

Mr. Campney said, in a statement, that 435 Transport Squadron from Namao, Alta., will operate 12 C-119 Flying Boxcars from an air base at Naples, Italy, to provide air transport for Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UN force commander.

TO LEAVE TODAY

Four of the twin-engine transport planes are to leave Toronto today. They will be followed in the next in two groups of four each.

They will be ready to operate between 400 and 600 ground crew members, their own spare parts and ground handling equipment to enable the squadron to operate on a self-sufficient basis.

Mr. Campney also announced that the Naples base will be commanded by RCAF Group Capt. A. Morrison, 36, of Winnipeg and Lawrier, Man., a staff officer at air force headquarters. However, as air force spokesman said Wing Cmdr. W. C. Klassen, 39, of North Battleford, Sask., will continue as commander of the squadron.

RCAF 436 Squadron will supply additional personnel and C-119 planes to augment the operation from Naples in the first peacetime move of an RCAF transport squadron from Canada to operate from an overseas base.

North Stars from 436 Squadron, stationed at Montreal's Dorval airport, will help move personnel and equipment to Naples but will not participate in UN force operations there.

Report Russians To Turn Captives Over to Hungary

VIENNA (AP)—Hungarian nationals arrested by Russian troops during and after the rebellion will be turned over to Hungarian authorities, Radio Budapest said today.

The newscast failed to disclose the number of those jailed by the Soviet forces—estimated by Hungarian refugees to total several thousands—but did it say when the turnover will take place.

Political observers here regarded the announcement as another measure by the Kadar government to quiet the Hungarian public, infuriated by the mass deportations of rebels to the Soviet Union.

Active resistance against deportations is reported still alive in Hungary. Hungarian railwaymen, who arrived here Tuesday with other refugees, said they blew up a railway bridge near the town of Szombathely last week when it became known that the Russians were marshalling a train with prisoners.

Soon after the explosion a substantial number of those awaiting deportation were able to free themselves.

ARTISTS ESCAPE

Two world-famous Hungarian artists who crossed Austria's border Tuesday also testified that they escaped deportation by sheer luck. They are Vera Pastor, prima ballerina of the Budapest State Opera, and her husband, Ernest Vashegyi, ballet master and solo dancer. Vashegyi said he was warned by the Russians that he managed his escape by bribing a Russian sentry. With his wife disguised as an old woman they fled to Austria.

Coal Shortage In Hungary Grows Critical

VIENNA (AP)—Torn by Russian armed revolt without leadership after a month of resistance, Hungary was confronted today with a coal shortage of grave proportions as cold winds swept across the country.

Budapest radio appealed repeatedly to miners to end their strike and start mining the 80,000 tons of coal needed daily.

In Budapest, where temperatures still below freezing, coal was needed to heat children's hospitals, where thousands of wounded from the Russian onslaught of Nov. 4 still lie.

SEEK IMPORTS

The government newspaper says Hungarian officials are negotiating with the Soviet Union for emergency coal supplies. But Radio Budapest admitted that rail lines leading into Hungary are still unusable.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: A fierce storm, one of the worst on Michigan, brought copious rain to Southern Ontario during the night. There was snow and freezing rain in Central Ontario and farther north conditions were worse. The centre will move across the Timmins-Kapuskasing region this afternoon and into Quebec province by Wednesday night. As it does, colder air from the northwest will be swept across Southern Ontario, putting an end to the current spell of relatively mild weather. For Thursday, cloudy skies and scattered snow-flurries accompanied by strong northwesterly winds are forecast for the entire province.

FEDERAL ACTION IN DOCK STRIKE SEEMS IMMINENT

No Progress Yet Made In Crippling Tie-up

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal action to halt the crippling United States east coast waterfront strike was reported imminent today.

The possibilities were raised by President Eisenhower to invoke the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act or action by the National Labor Relations Board on a pending employer complaint in the contract dispute.

Further negotiations were scheduled between the striking International Longshoremen's Association and the New York Shipping Association, representing 170 shipping and stevedoring firms in the port of New York area.

No concrete progress had been made in its six days toward settlement of the strike of 60,000 ILA members which has closed U.S. Atlantic and Gulf coast ports except for military shipments and movement or some bulk cargo.

WOULD MEAN INJUNCTION

If the parties avoid invoking national emergency provisions of the Taft - Hartley Act, this would mean normally that a cooling-off period an 80-day "cooling - off" period. However, Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said Tuesday night: "So far as I know there is no plan at this moment to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act."

In view of Snyder's comment, the more likely course might be for the NLRB to act on unfair labor charges by the Shipping Association. The employers group complained several weeks ago that the ILA had violated the Taft-Hartley Act by insisting on bargaining for an Atlantic and Gulf coast contract with the port of New York employer group.

Official sources said the prime minister's doctor, Sir Horace Evans, called on him briefly this

Eden Not Ill Again as in '53 But Just Utterly Exhausted

LONDON (AP) — An associate says Prime Minister Eden has not suffered a recurrence of his critical 1953 illness, but is "utterly exhausted."

Eden cancelled some public duties Monday night to rest from "severe overstrain." He underwent three operations in 1953 after he was stricken by a liver complaint.

His Parliamentary private secretary, Cmdr. Robert Allan, Tuesday night said the prime minister has experienced "no recurrence, discomfort or pain from the abdominal trouble from which he suffered three years ago." Lady Eden told a political reporter that there is nothing wrong with her husband which a rest won't cure. "He is just tired," she said. "During these past few weeks I have felt as though the Suez Canal was flowing through our drawing room."

Official sources said the prime minister's doctor, Sir Horace Evans, called on him briefly this morning. Their sources reiterated that Sir Eden is not suffering from any organic disease and is merely exhausted by overwork, there is no need for regular bulletins on his progress.

Authoritative quarters said only questions of top importance are being referred to Eden.

Eden has turned his official engagements over to R. A. (Rab) Butler, Lord Privy Seal, who has been mentioned as his possible successor when Eden, now 59, retires.

Only one national British newspaper, the Communist Daily Worker, has expressed the belief that Eden's illness will be used as an excuse for his departure from office. Other papers, including some which have been urging his resignation because they oppose his sending British troops into Egypt, only wish him well.

Sir Winston Churchill, Eden's predecessor, was reported Tuesday night by his secretary to be "quite well" after suffering from a cold.

Rising Tide of Indignation Against Russia Sweeping UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) A rising tide of indignation over deportation of Hungarian patriots appeared today to assure overwhelming United Nations support for renewed pressure on the Soviet Union to change its policy in Hungary.

But a high Russian source indicated that the Soviet Union would not back down on its stand that the events in Hungary are none of the UN's business.

Italian delegate V. K. Krushna Menon was scheduled to take the General Assembly floor today on behalf of the proposal by neutral Asians seeking to break down Hungary's rejection of any UN observer team. A high Soviet source said this resolution was not acceptable.

Anti-Communist voices in the assembly Tuesday and during Tuesday, and cautious Asian and African states were discarding their earlier reserve in the issue and was expected to mean heavy majorities for action Soviet resolutions and a number of amendments.

A Cuban proposal linked the Soviet Union with genocide—the calculated destruction of a nation, people or group. It urged immediate steps to stop the deportations of Hungarians, and called for a return of those already deported.

NOTED REFUGEES

A second resolution submitted by India, Indonesia and Ceylon asked conflicting reports on whether deportation was taking place and urged Hungary to receive UN observers. Hungarian authorities have refused to allow an on-the-spot check.

Throughout Tuesday — second day of continuous debate on Hungary—the Soviet Union and Hungary were repeatedly asked why they objected to observers if they had nothing to hide.

An urgent plan was presented to the assembly to meet the immediate needs of thousands of refugees streaming westward into neighboring Austria, it came from Argentina, Belgium, Denmark and the United States.

Russians Know How to Cover Their Misdeeds

BUDAPEST (AP) — The Russians know how to cover up their misdeeds.

According to unofficial information reaching here from the Hungarian State Railways, four railway stevedores refused Soviet Russian deportees crossed into Russia at the border point of Zahony.

The last deportee to board the train was Sandor Szucs, the stationmaster at Zahony and the man who keeps a record of trains passing through the station.

Labor Party Paper Joins Guardian To Ask Probe of Collusion Charges

LONDON (Reuters)—The Labor party's Daily Herald had joined the influential Liberal newspaper Manchester Guardian in calling for an investigation into claims of Anglo-French collusion with Israel in planning operations against Egypt.

But two Conservative newspapers, The Daily Telegraph and The Yorkshire Post, declared there was no clear evidence to support such a charge.

The Guardian today reports official denials of French complicity in the Israeli attack against Egypt as well as two more items by correspondents which it describes as "evidence that French arms, unmanned by French pilots, did take part." An official says:

"The French denial is universal and categorical, but not precise. Why should not the French defence ministry wish to draw its line?

"Presumably it would not suggest that Mystere fighters and French transport aircraft are—or have been—in Israel, and that at some stage they were handled by French pilots.

"Is it, then, limiting its denial to the flying of French pilots in the Sinai offensive and to advance French knowledge of the offensive? One would like to know more. The matter is too important to be left with the denials."

Going on to comment on reports of British collusion, the Manchester newspaper adds: "The government has not yet made clear if it trusts the question lightly.

"Is it to be believed that whether the British action in Egypt was legally justified or not, and whether there was a deliberate deception of the United States."

The Daily Herald declares: "Whatever the truth may be, the United States and much of the world are convinced there was collusion.

"Nothing will stop this somewhat growing except the clearest investigation, on behalf of Parliament, of all steps leading up to the attack on Egypt."

The Daily Telegraph comments: "If 'American' state department officers convey conflicting reports on whether deportation was taking place and urged Hungary to receive UN observers. Hungarian authorities have refused to allow an on-the-spot check.

Throughout Tuesday — second day of continuous debate on Hungary—the Soviet Union and Hungary were repeatedly asked why they objected to observers if they had nothing to hide.

An urgent plan was presented to the assembly to meet the immediate needs of thousands of refugees streaming westward into neighboring Austria, it came from Argentina, Belgium, Denmark and the United States.

German Freighter Had Hull Ripped In Collision

ST. LAURENT, Island of Orleans, Que. (CP)—Divers are continuing their investigation of underwater damage to the hull of the grounded German freighter Wolfgang Russ, bound for Montreal from Monday evening after a midriver collision with the Cunard cargo vessel Asia.

The hull of the 2,963-ton German ship has been ripped open by the bow of the Asia, 8,253 tons, when the two ships were within the south shore of the Island of Orleans, 10 miles down the St. Lawrence River from Quebec. No injuries were reported by either ship.

Salvage workers continued to unload cargo from the Wolfgang Russ. Cargo is being transferred between the stranded ship and lighters at the rate of 400 packages continued. The Asia, in dock at Quebec, is also being unloaded before entering drydock for repairs.

Canadian Maritime Ltd., is directing salvage operations on the Wolfgang Russ freighter. She will probably be towed to drydock in the shipbuilding centre of Lauzon, on the south shore of the St. Lawrence, east of Quebec, after being refloated.

55-Mile-an-Hour Winds Predicted

TORONTO (CP)—The Dominion weather office here today issued a special gale warning for Southern Ontario, including Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions.

The warning, signed by chief forecaster Bob Turnbull, said southerly winds of 30 to 40 miles an hour over Southern Ontario this morning would shift to westerly 40 to 55 miles an hour in the western sections during the morning and in eastern sections during the afternoon.

HAMMARSKJOLD ASKS UN FOR BROAD POWERS

Authority to Arrange Deployment Sought

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold today asked the General Assembly to give him broad powers to work out with Egypt agreements on the deployment of the Middle East police force.

He told the assembly he and President Nasser had worked out certain broad principles on the use of the force, but his report left unanswered the big question whether any of the UN troops would police the Suez Canal area after the withdrawal of British and French forces.

Hammarskjold said he and Nasser had agreed to proceed immediately. If the assembly approves, "to explore jointly concrete aspects of the functioning of UNEF (the UN emergency force), including its stationing and the question of the lines of communication and supplies."

The negotiations, Hammarskjold said, would be based on two basic principles:

1. Egypt's sovereignty will be respected in the functioning of the presence and functioning of the UN force.

2. The UN will maintain the force in Egypt until it has completed its task of supervising the cease-fire and the withdrawal of troops.

Hammarskjold told the assembly the functioning of the force in Egypt would be "in accordance with that "as yet no withdrawals have taken place in accordance with the resolutions of the General Assembly" adopted Nov. 2 and 7.

He declared he had asked Britain, France and Israel for information about their plans to withdraw and told the assembly he would report again "as soon as I receive clarifications from the governments concerned."

WANTS EARLY ACTION

The secretary-general said that if the assembly gave him a go-ahead in initial talks with Nasser would form a foundation "on which the co-operation could be developed with a view to reaching agreements on various details be elaborated."

There was no immediate comment from the British, French or Israeli delegations. There also was no word when they would reply to Hammarskjold's request for a statement on their withdrawal plans.

The secretary-general, in a separate report, asked the assembly to give him authority to make arrangements with private salvage firms to clear the waterway of vessels and bridges from the Suez Canal.

He said he was unable now to estimate how much the clearance might cost but added that he expected authority to make initial financial commitments in the amount of $10 million with the understanding he would report back later with detailed cost estimates. Some experts have said the operations might cost as much as $40,000,000.

Hammarskjold told the assembly Mr. Eban already approached some Danish and Dutch firms on the clearance problem and was told he would be called as soon as he got the assembly's approval.

Britain Steps Backward in Time To Dark Days of Austerity Living

LONDON (AP)—Britain is taking a step backward in time to the days of austerity living.

It was announced Tuesday night that all petroleum products will be rationed as-of Dec. 17. But even before the fuel rationing was issued, the chilling effect of the order started making itself felt.

Automobile traffic was thinner this morning. Public transport was more crowded.

Gasoline lines swamped by automobile owners wanting to make sure of a full tank. Stores of fuel oil and other combustibles reported an upsurge of sales to motorists waiting to have even something more.

The black market operator and the hoarder received renewed attention from the press and politician.

In another aspect of the crisis, 1,000 truck drivers went on strike today in protest of a government decision taking 10 per cent of its industrial vehicles off the road.

The drivers are employees of the nationalized British Road Services, engaged in hauling general goods and foodstuffs other than meat.

It was the second walkout in two days to threaten supply in food and other industries.

Several hundred thousand transport workers walked out two days ago, but returned after BRS withdrew the order to lay their particular fleet.

Many garages closed early Tuesday night and others instituted rationing of their own. Signs read "regular customers only" appeared at some stations.

Headlines such as "petrol and you," "the great foot slog," and "200 miles a month" tell the news to which most Britons had been resigned.

It was a familiar story to a country which saw wartime petrol rationing end in 1950 and then rationing persist until only two years ago.

Norwegian Troops Seeking To Ease Port Said Tension

Charges Made of Atrocities And Cease-Fire Violations

CAIRO (CP) — A unit of 190 battle - clad Norwegian troops moved into the northern sector of the Suez Canal Zone today "to tackle the United Nations police force's first active Middle East peace-keeping mission.

A spokesman said the contingent would try to ease tension between Egyptians and British-French forces holding Port Said, at the north end of the canal.

The operation will be attached from both Egypt and the British-French military authorities, but it was announced that it was not connected with any withdrawal of British or French troops from the canal zone.

The British-French commander at Port Said announced he was not pulling out any of his men.

WENT BY TRAIN

Wearing blue helmets—the UN color — the Norwegian soldiers moved north by train from the police force assembly area at Abu Suweir, behind Egyptian lines near the canal's half-way point. They were part of an international force of some 700 airlifted into the area from the Italian naval base standing by in barracks for further orders.

Cairo said has been a centre of tension since a cease-fire halted fighting in the canal area. Egypt has charged the occupying forces with atrocities against Egyptian civilians. British and French authorities have complained of cease-fire violations and have claimed that a calculated campaign is being conducted to prevent the city's civilian population from co-operating with their occupation.

Egypt still was demanding, as the UN force moved in, that all British, French and Israeli forces pull out immediately. Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi said their continued presence was "dynamiting" peace.

Child Burned To Death in House Fire

ST. THOMAS (CP)—Three-year-old Debbie Dawdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Dawdy, was burned to death in their home last night when fire destroyed her two-story frame house on the northwest edge of here.

While her father made a frantic effort to save her the child was trapped in the bathroom of the home at Payne's Hills on Dis. 3 highway.

The flames leveled the structure in less than an hour despite efforts of three fire departments.

Mr. Dawdy was taken to hospital with superficial burns to his face and shoulders. His wife was also admitted to hospital, suffering shock.

Papers Late Due to Breakdown

Due to a breakdown of the newspaper's press motor, the deliveries of The Ontario Intelligencer will not begin until after 7.30 until further announcement.

The main motor of the press burned out yesterday afternoon and until repairs are made the newspaper will be printed in Kingston through the courtesy of the Kingston Whig Standard. This will mean unavoidable delay in the time the newspapers will be delivered in Bellville.

Trouble with the press motor started just after noon time yesterday and this was the reason the papers were not delivered until a late hour. The newspaper carrier boys are co-operating wholeheartedly with the management.

The Ontario Intelligencer asks the indulgence of its readers in this respect.

Authority Will Show 30-Minute Sound, Color Film

First local showing of "The Moira Valley", a 30 minute sound and color film produced for the Moira River Conservation Authority will be made Wednesday evening, Nov. 28th at the Belleville Collegiate auditorium.

The film, produced by the film unit of the Ontario Department of Planning and Development's Conservation Branch, shows the Moira from its source in the marshes of mid-Hastings, down through the many lakes where it enters the Bay of Quinte at Belleville.

Included in the movie are colorful shots of Hastings county farm life, maple sugar making, attractive fishing spots, and industries along the river. The program at the film premiere will include other conservation movies and a display of photographs, maps and other publications.

Attendance at the premiere will be by invitation, with invitations being sent out to all members of municipal councils within the county of Hastings, Authority members, school principals and teachers and to members of service organizations and other interested groups.

The final meeting of the Moira River Conservation Authority will be held at Thurlow township municipal building at Canniton on the afternoon prior to the showing of the film.

Obituary

WILLIAM KENNEDY

Ill or some time, Mr. William Kennedy, 30 East Moira street, died Tuesday at the Belleville General Hospital. He was in his 82nd year.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, he was born in Belleville and had lived here all his life. During his active years he had worked as a machinist with the Canadian National Railways. He was a member of the United Church; a life member of Benjamin in L.O.L. No. 274 and also a life member of the Royal Black Preceptory, Orange Lodge and member of L.O.B.A. No. 350.

Pre-deceased by his wife, the former Carrie M. Howe, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Dora Elvidge, Trent Road and Mrs. Elizabeth Stock of Toronto, and one son Clare Kennedy of Belleville. There are two grandsons, J. C. Carson, and M. C. Carson, both of Belleville, and two great grandchildren. He was the last of his family.

Resting at the John R. Bush Funeral Home; the funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

Gillis, Belleville; Bruce Burke, Trenton; William McStravick of Tudor township; Gerald Jackson, Faraday township; Sanderock, Sidney township; Earl Anderson, Thurlow township; Ray Stickle, Sidney township; Raymond Rivers, Tweed; Clifford Hicks, Bangor; W. J. McMullin, Sidney township, and Kenneth M. Fraser, Deseronto.

Picton Lawyer Disbarred by Law Society

TORONTO (CP)—Ralph Charles Geddes, a Picton lawyer, has been disbarred for "professional misconduct and conduct unbecoming a barrister and solicitor," the law society of Upper Canada announced Tuesday.

A statement issued by the society said its discipline committee found Mr. Geddes had "refused or neglected to account for or pay over certain trust moneys in his hands, to complete certain real estate transactions and to deliver the relevant deeds or other documents to the persons entitled thereto."

It also said he "failed to carry out his undertaking with reference to a certain estate, . . . and refused or neglected to reply to letters from the Law Society of Upper Canada in connection with complaints against his professional conduct."

FOLAND TO SEEK CREDITS

WARSAW (AP)—Poland is expected soon to renew contacts on possible long-term economic aid from the United States and Western financial agencies. Talks with Canada on short-term credits to buy grain already have started, the sources said Tuesday night.

Trapper's Life in Far Reaches Aptly Described by Speaker

An informal description of a trapper's life in the far reaches of Northern Ontario was given by Mrs. F. W. Wallis of Trent Road R.R. 3, to the Belleville Fish and Game Association at the YMCA last night.

Mrs. Wallis said she became a trapper as a girl when her father was advised to live in the open spaces by doctors. Mrs. Wallis's family made a home on the bank of the Abitibi River. Trapping and hunting was both a necessity and an excellent means of livelihood producing from two to four thousand dollars per season for beaver, otter, mink, martes and fox. She said beaver was the best money maker bringing from $25 to $80 per pelt on the grower market. Silver fox was worth $100 but was less plentiful.

The trapping season extended from September until March and the territory included the area between Cochrane and James Bay. The only inhabitants were Indians, Eskimos and few white people. One white woman she met.

The Wallis family would make a trap line in a circle of 100 miles with a new cabin and a flag camp every 10 miles. They chopped trees to build cabins and the Indians resident made everything they needed such as canoes, paddles, axe handles and everything else necessary for survival.

They would hunt in pairs, Mrs. Wallis and her father and her four brothers each making the round of their trap line separately every five or five hundred miles. This was done for companionship and for the accidents while setting and cleaning traps.

The biggest nuisance in keeping the traps clear Mrs. Wallis said, were beaver dams. A small stream like weasels which blocked the traps up and tremendously strong timber wolves which would bend the metal bars."

LYNX EASILY CAUGHT

She named the lynx the most stupid and easily caught of all animals. They will follow a blazed trail to the trap.

She said the giant moose were plentiful and could easily fight off the wolves if they didn't become bogged down in the snow which was eight to 10 feet on the level. The moose would make a yard and a half out all the trees and foliage before moving on to another open area. They would come to a call from five miles away.

The speaker said that moose nose was considered to be a great delicacy and that packers of one area favored fish heads and intestines over other parts. She said the latter contained the vitamins which would have otherwise been lacking from the diet of the Indians. At the same time she said that eggs in season were substantial food than fish and both men and dogs work better on game.

Mrs. Wallis said her inclination to raise dogs was the reason she sometimes upset her family. Her pet fox jumped on the table and ate her father's bacon and shortcake but later met its just desert when it wandered into the camp of ever hungry husky team.

Mrs. Wallis said a bear cub will make a pet just like a dog but cannot be counted on when it grows up. When cornering a bear with cubs is approached she will stand on end and will try to make a teeth grinding threat, which can be heard for some distance away. The mother during the bear goes on coming out of hibernation is to scrape a balsam tree with its claws for gum which appears to supply something his body needs.

The bull moose is the most feminine and highly intelligent when angry but Mrs. Wallis said that, despite the almost constant presence of all these formidable animals she was never attacked.

Mrs. Wallis described a wolf's fowl expedition to Hudson Bay with her son and the flat terrain covered only with deer moss and a few shrubs. The ground is so level the tide rises and falls for 17 miles. The trout in the streams were so plentiful and hungry they tried to eat the eyelids off the rubber boots of those fording the streams.

QUALIFIED TAXIDERMIST

While living in the North, Mrs. Wallis learned the art of mounting animal heads and she is now a qualified taxidermist.

The meeting was treated to a display of Canada Goose, Blue Geese, Snow Geese and Elder ducks she has shot and preserved in that territory.

She said all the blankets which kept them warm in temperatures which sometimes sank to 60 below zero were studded with luxuriant feathers of the Elder duck.

The speaker was introduced and thanked by Don MacEachnon, president of the Belleville Fish and Game Association.

Two beautiful color films of fishing and the great outdoors were shown during the evening.

NEW FISHERIES VESSEL

GODERICH (CP) — The MV Stenodus, a 45-foot motor vessel built for fishing research, slid down the ways Tuesday afternoon. The all-steel craft will go into service next spring on Great Slave Lake. The vessel will proceed to Sault Ste. Marie within the next few days and by up at the Head of the Lakes for the winter.

IT'S A LONG WAY UP

—Central Press Canadian

Iron worker Eddie Moran is preparing to climb a TV tower at North Bergen, N.J., to help in dismantling the structure which was struck by a plane that crashed into an apartment house, killing four persons. The workers scaled 600 feet up the tower and were taking down six tons of the 250-foot top section which was to be removed.

Unemployment Figures Lowest In Three Years

With the number of persons unemployed in Belleville and district running considerably below that of last year for the same period, officials at the Belleville unemployment office were optimistic today that the number of persons out of work this winter will remain under the peak of last winter.

Mr. H. H. Reed, local manager of the office reported 376 as compared with 482 for the same period last year. Unplaced female applicants totalled 255 as compared with 338 last year.

The number of men on ordinary claim is 124 with 111 women on ordinary claim in Belleville and immediate area. Postal claims total 185 for men and 71 for women.

Last year at this time 198 men and 173 women were on ordinary claim; with 258 men and 95 women on postal claims.

October 18 saw the low period of unemployment for 1956, Mr. Reed said, and at the same time was the lowest period of unemployment in the past three years. At that time 237 men and 186 women were looking for jobs with 79 men and 99 women being on ordinary claims and 96 men and 49 women on postal claims.

"The open fall has helped the situation considerably," Mr. Reed said, "and we're hoping our winter unemployment peak will be at least 200 or 300 below that of last winter."

SOMETHING BETTER AHEAD

SINGAPORE (Reuters) — Chou En-lai, Communist China's premier, was quoted here as saying he is quite sure that after communism would come "something better" than it. Another Dr. Hu Shi-an, who recently visited China said Chou was asked whether communism would stay in China, replied: "I can't speak about the future. I'm quite sure that after communism will come something better."

OSD Teaching Demonstrated to H-S Association

A demonstration of the teaching of students at the Ontario School for the Deaf featured the monthly meeting of the Queen Alexandra Home and School Association Tuesday evening.

The demonstration was carried out by a class of 13 boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 15 under the direction of Miss Joy A. Wanamaker, supervisor of the school's intermediate classes.

Prior to the demonstration Mr. J. G. Demeza, superintendent of the OSD, in a brief address outlined the methods of teaching and the subjects which were taught. He pointed out the difference in the instructional development between children deaf from birth or early infancy, and hearing children. The contrast, he said, was that hearing children enter kindergarten with a vocabulary of about 3,000 words, and they are taught using the known words. Deaf children have no words because they cannot hear.

"Our job," Mr. Demeza said, "is to provide them with words, build them into a language, then use this language to teach the regular school subjects. We use a four-fold approach in this teaching, lip-reading, reading, writing and speech."

Mrs. Wanamaker demonstrated the methods with her students using sound, arithmetic, speech and language.

At the conclusion of the demonstration Mrs. N. C. Fisher moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Demeza, Mrs. Wanamaker and the students. Refreshments were given special reference at the conclusion of the meeting.

In a brief business session prior to the demonstration Mrs. I. Stinson gave a report on the regional convention held in Lindsay in October.

The association endorsed a motion by Mayor Jane Forrester and Mrs. Pat Scott that $10 be donated to the Red Cross.

Association president Mrs. Robert Jones announced that a school guard had been placed at the corner of Ann and Bridge streets.

President M. M. Hackett extended the welcome of the association to Mr. Demeza, who in turn introduced Mrs. Wanamaker.

Mrs. Smykaluk's room was the winner of the room count of the highest attendance of parents.

Egypt Reported Seeking Arms From Russia

NEW YORK (CP) — The New York Times says in a London dispatch that Egypt is negotiating with Moscow for new warplanes and tanks and trucks and tanks to replace those destroyed by British, French and Israeli forces.

The dispatch, by Drew Middleton, says it is expected that deliveries by Russia "featuring . . . jets" probably increasing. Egypt's armament agreement for 1956, Mr. Middleton said, "will be completed by the end of this winter."

The United Union, it is believed, will then be in a position to "re-equip and modernize" and unpublished President Gamal Abdel Nasser to resume his policy of eliminating Western influence from the Middle East."

Observers says it is "fervently hoped" in Britain that the United States will understand the "full significance of this new evidence of collaboration between the Soviet Union and Egypt."

Test Pilot Killed

TORONTO (CP)—Raymor Moy of Brampton was killed Tuesday in an accident at the Avro aircraft plant at nearby Malton.

Moy was working on a CF-100 plane when the drogue mechanism which assists the emergency release of the pilot's seat inadvertently discharged. He was hit in the chest.

Tires Stolen From Warehouse

A still undetermined number of automobile tires were believed stolen from the tire warehouse of the British American Oil Company on South Pinnacle St. during the night.

Police said intruders pried a bar off a window of the warehouse, then broke a glass and raised the window to gain entrance to the building.

The break-in was discovered this morning when employees reported for work. The oil company branch manager was unable to say how many tires were missing until an inventory was taken of stocks.

UN Spokesman Says Reds Shoot Refugees

VIENNA (AP) — Russian soldiers are shooting down Hungarian refugees as they seek to prevent them from escaping into Austria, a UN agency reported today.

A statement issued in Geneva by a spokesman for the office of UN high commissioner for refugees reported that nearly 52,000 Hungarians have fled to Austria since the rebellion began, including 8,000 who arrived in the Eisenstadt area during the last few days.

Among these latest arrivals, there are many wounded, because Soviet infantry has arrived at the border and has opened fire on the refugees," the spokesman said "nevertheless, the refugees are continuing to cross the border in great numbers."

The UN report was borde out by a U.S. congressman who said he saw Russian soldiers shoot down a refugee on Hungarian soil near the Austrian frontier today.

ANTI-COSE GROWING

LONDON (AP)—Defence Minister Antony Head said Tuesday night the United States and Russia ultimately may become the only countries in the world able to afford to produce costly modern weapons in quantity.

IN MEMORIAM

MILLER. — In loving memory of our dear mother who passed away one year ago, November 21st, 1955.

Quiet, dear mother, eyes forever,
Closed to view your smiling face,
But you left us to remember,
Memories we can never lose.
If we could speak with Mum today,
We'd say with her in the same old way,
Hear her voice and see her smile,
Yes, indeed, how sweet would be the words
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sadly Mum's heart longed to still.
But death has left a loneliness
That only Mum can fill.
—Lovingly remembered by daughters Marie and Evelyn and son of Peterborough.

SMITH. — In loving memory of a dear mother, Miss Reid, who passed away November 21st, 1943.
Years of striving, little of play,
Thinking of others, self put away.
A cheerful smile, a heart of gold,
Such was Mother, so sweet, so kind,
She could hold.
Happy memories fond and true,
From us who thought the world of you.
—Sadly missed by Doris and Bill.

REEVES. — In loving memory of a dear mother, Agnes Reeves, who passed away November 21st, 1946.
There is no parting from those we love,
No distance can divide.
For they are always in our garden,
In the heart that's by our side.
Each dawning day a thought of her,
At evening time a prayer,
And in the hearts that loved her,
She always will be there.
—Lovingly remembered by daughter Nora, Carl and family.

REEVES. — In loving memory of our mother, Agnes Reeves, who passed away November 21st, 1946.
A day like this is sacred
Sacred to memory.
Sweet memories cling to her name;
Shine on her grave in silent rest,
Sing low her in death, just the same,
We'll ever lovingly remembered by daughter Ora.

CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks in all my dealings with the Belleville Police and the many acts of kindness shown while I was a patient in the Belleville General Hospital and since returning home. The cheery messages by card, the beautiful flowers and visits and friendly calls and baskets of fruit, all helped to make it possible for me to say "Thank you" to Doctors Empson, Martin and Allore for their kindness and attention and the nurses for their kindly care. Thanks again to everyone.
—Mrs. Ralph Sills.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The base metal and industrial indices showed gains today but the stock market was mixed in morning trading.

General Dynamics showed the best Industrial advance, one point.

Abitibi, Algoma, B-A Oil, Imperial Oil and Consolidated Paper, all index stocks, gained fractions.

Senior base metals showed fractional changes, with a few more gains than losses.

Junior base metals eased with losses ranging to 20 cents by Copper Rand and Temagami.

Duplessis Says University Grants Will Be Increased

QUEBEC (CP)—Premier Duplessis has re-affirmed his government's disapproval of federal aid to universities and announced provincial grants to institutions of higher learning are going to be substantially increased.

Mr. Duplessis told the legislative assembly Tuesday he is ready to discuss demand of Quebec's universities for regular annual grants instead of discretionary grants.

He made no direct reference in a hint in the speech from the throne of an increase in provincial taxes although he said his government needs additional "millions" of dollars to meet the needs of a rapidly growing province.

The premier said Prime Minister St. Laurent's proposal to increase to $16,000,000 from 58,000,000 the annual grants for federal aid to universities, and to have the sums distributed by the National Conference of Canadian Universities, is all part of a "general offensive" by the federal government to "take possession" of exclusive provincial rights in matters of education.

QUOTED RULING

Mr. Duplessis said that Mr. St. Laurent, to back up the federal government's program, quoted from a ruling of the Imperial Privy Council in England in a case involving the government of Canada and the government of Ontario.

The portion quoted did not concern directly the meaning of the ruling, Mr. Duplessis said. He added that Mr. St. Laurent's action in quoting only part of the ruling was "regrettable." He said he did not believe Mr. St. Laurent was personally responsible for the partial quote although the prime minister had been one of the lawyers who pleaded the case before the Privy Council.

"Visualize the situation. Here was a meeting of all heads of Canadian universities, including a few from Quebec, and the prime minister quotes a ruling in such a way that it will convey an impression contrary to what it really says."

Earlier, Rene Hamel, acting Liberal Opposition leader in the House, said the Quebec government should let the universities decide for themselves whether or not they should accept federal aid.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices unchanged today.

The egg market was barely steady on A large and medium with offerings in excess of quiet demand.

Butter solids: Canada, first grade, Ontario tenderable 85; nontenderable 38½; western 46½ nominal). Trading was light.

Coal-Burning Gas Turbine Engine Studied

MONTREAL (CP) — Scientists from Britain, the United States and Canada meet at McGill University today to study a coal-burning gas turbine engine developed there.

McGill scientists headed by Prof. D. L. Mordell have designed and tested an exhaust-heated coal-burning gas turbine which may compete with diesel engines as an efficient and economical locomotive, experts say.

Prof. Mordell, native of Britain, stated: "In many parts of the world there is a demand for a coal-burning locomotive capable of operation without water."

Lamport Appeals Damage Award

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Transit Commission Chairman Allan Lamport of Toronto is appealing the award of $25,000 damages to Toronto taxi operator Thomas Ross in a libel action last week.

Notice of appeal has been filed at Osgoode Hall by John J. Robinette, lawyer for Mr. Lamport.

The notice of appeal contends that the damages awarded were excessively high. Mr. Ross claimed Mr. Lamport libelled him in 1953, when Mr. Lamport as mayor of Toronto headed the Toronto police commission.

25 Cottages Ransacked on Two Beaches

TRENTON (Special) — More than 25 summer cottages at Cedardale and Barcovan Beach, on Lake Ontario, have been ransacked and considerable damage caused, according to Provincial Police at Brighton.

Each week one of the owners goes to the beaches to see that all is in order and after a trip on Sunday, a report was given. Many of the cottages had windows broken, window sashes slashed and in some cases doors torn from the casings. As one owner put it, "the place looked like a shambles." Nothing of value was taken but the furnishings in the inside of the cottages were strewn about the buildings.

Mrs. M. T. O'Flynn and Ervine Shulman of Belleville have cottages on the beaches, while from Trenton, Police Chief F. J. Taylor, Eben James, Mrs. Ed. Simmons Frank Sherbert and "Bus" Nemtin own cottages in that area. The loss will be considerable.

ONLY FOR EXERCISE

OTTAWA (CP)—Ships of the navy's Pacific command have been put on an alert for exercise purposes and not because of the present international situation, a naval headquarters spokesman said Tuesday. He was commenting on a report that most ships of Pacific command are on four hours notice of steam and that all except overnight leaves have been cancelled.

Communism Still Serious Threat Says St. Laurent

TORONTO (CP) — Communism has practically ceased to attract people but it is still a serious threat to the world, Prime Minister St. Laurent says.

It remains a tragic challenge for all who believe in freedom and in spiritual values, he told the closing session Tuesday night of the Catholic social life conference.

Communism was still aiming at world conquest. He quoted a 1925 writing of Pope Pius XI that "to obtain these ends, Communists shrink from nothing and fear nothing."

"And when they have attained power, it is unbelievable . . . how cruel and inhuman they show themselves to be."

ALTERNATIVE NEEDED

Mr. St. Laurent said that recent events in Hungary have demonstrated that Communists have not changed since 1925. But it was fist enough to oppose communism. An alternative had to be presented to an unstable world.

On the domestic scene, he said it is the urgent business of all levels of government to see that agricultural production keeps up with an increasing population and thus provide the farming population with a fair share of the national income.

And this, some farmers on unproductive lands in eastern Canada should be moved to more arable farms, and their present farms be returned to forests and water conservation uses.

"There is a not unimportant portion of those lands now included in the farmed area (of Eastern Canada) which is quite unfit for ordinary agricultural uses and on which it is deplorable and, in this country, unnecessary to allow back-breaking work to be continued when it is so obvious that it cannot yield a decent family livelihood.

"I say that should not be necessary because we are blessed, by providence in this country with such great and valuable resources that any man's consistent arduous work could and should provide him with adequate returns. . . ."

NOT SO SIMPLE

The Royal Bank of Canada has issued a report which states that Canadians are wasting a "tragically large" portion of their great wealth and that there is a great wastage in manufacturing and other industries.

This surprises the Windsor Star. It says that "the average layman has assumed that modern efficiency had eliminated most of the wasteful practices" which might have occurred in the past.

"Waste is expensive," continues the Star, "whatever form it may take. If there is such wastage in Canada, the Canadian people are paying for it in one way or another. When it appears in industry, it represents inefficiency and ineffectiveness in management.

If this were wimply true, we could confidently expect industry to remedy the situation. Unfortunately it is rarely half true. Waste is costly, but not always to the person who is responsible for it, or to the generation that wastes.

"Where materials are at a premium and costs must be kept down, there is always a concentration of efforts to eliminate waste," says the Windsor paper. "But sheer abundance of materials here is no excuse for it." It is no excuse, actually, for the wastage of materials are wasted, not because waste increases costs of production but because it reduces them. It is cheaper to waste than to attempt to salvage. "This abundance of raw materials is one of the great natural advantages which Canadian industries enjoy in their competition for a share of the world market, an advantage which serves to offset other disadvantages, such as the comparatively small size of the home market, the long distances over which goods must be hauled, our relatively high wage level compared with our post-war productivity and our severe climate.

"The present generation is enjoying the cost-cutting benefits of our being able to afford to waste materials. The next generation, or the one after that, will have to pay for it. That is why waste must be eliminated.

But unfortunately it is not true that waste, when it appears in industry, necessarily "represents inefficiency and ineffectiveness always in the sense of being costly here and now, to the person or corporation responsible for the waste.

USE OF GUN REQUIRES EDUCATION

A dispatch from Orillia stating that a 15-year-old Toronto boy was shot in the back by police when attempting to escape is disturbing in the extreme. But the boy reported to be in critical condition but also because the officers of the law considered the circumstances justified such action.

The police picked up the boy for questioning when he tried to sell a late model car to a dealer but could not produce the ignition key or ownership papers. They attempted to push him into a car but he broke away. The police chased him for 15 minutes, firing several times and finally bringing him down about two blocks away from their cruiser with a long range shot through the liver.

It seems about time that the police be educated to different scale between crimes warranting such drastic measures and other incidents which might indicate that some healthy practice in the art of using their legs might help them to overtake their man on such an occasion.

It is deplorable that in this enlightened age car stealing should be treated like a "most-wanted" criminal.

We are pleased to learn the Orillia police have given the victim blood transfusions and hope these donations have been inspired by something more than a guilty conscience.

NEEDED INVENTION

Add needed inventions—a theatre with all seats on the aisle.

Just another of those impossibilities, which everybody will dismiss with a laugh? Apparently not. For a recent letter in the Toronto Telegram, signed "An Usher," observed that "None should expect the seats of their choice to be empty every time." This was the first time we had had a hint that any moviegoers have this expectation. But apparently some have.

Another thing, according to the usher, is that moviegoers in aisle seats "Must expect to be disturbed and not remark 'Oh, no, not again!' or 'Here we go again' and such." A reasonable observation. But, if theatre architects cannot devise a theatre with all seats on the aisle, how about the management supplying carpet slippers for all patrons over 200 pounds? And no spike heels please, even on the 110-pound bundles of blonde loveliness.

BATHROOM REVOLUTION

The chairman of the board of a U.S. company says that the old-fashioned bar of soap is doomed to disappear. It will be replaced, he states, by body-cleaning detergents which will emulsify, rather than "and leave no ring in the bathtub."

This development will solve several problems. No more danger of slipping on the soap. And no backbending scrubbing of the tub, to remove it from the grime which has sought a new home after being removed from the back of the scrubber.

However, as with many modern inventions, it will also create a few new problems.

How is mother going to be sure that Junior really scrubbed himself if the bath tub ring is not there as evidence?

Fine Land to Be Lost In

By John Allan May writing from London England, in The Christian Science Monitor.

The advice I would give to all visitors to England next year is to get lost.

I mean this literally, of course. And in the gentlest way.

There is no finer country for losing yourself in. And few easier.

There are so many of them, its byways, and tracks that it is impossible to find your way on a map with a scale of less (or is it more?) than a mile to two-and-a-half inches. Several coverings even the south of England with the aid of such maps would not a glove compartment in the front of his car but a bookcase. Even with a map on a half-inch map—the optimum size—a driver will be sure of getting lost somewhere along the way. The advantages are enormous.

This summer I loaned my cousin Anatole my map of Sussex. He was, in particular by when, somewhere between Warehorne and Bodiam. Following the map, he took the second right and found himself eventually in the vanyard. The farmer came out. Anatole showed him the map and how it was a small road there to the railway track and on beyond. The farmer looked at the railway and the railway if you follow the path across the field."

So cousin Anatole followed the path across the big field and found himself on a railway track, after bumping along for a bit, he got to the railway, sure enough. There was no way of crossing it.

Cousin Anatole admired the view and listened to the birds and then contemplated the railway. Then he turned round and drove back and thanked the farmer and got back onto the road and took the next road to the right.

He had a vague idea he drew up by the railway, but the more he thought about it the more he admired the farmer.

Along the broads the whole countryside seems to be busy about its business and being quite content to let you go about yours. Perfect. Undefined, and priceless in the present day. It is refreshing.

When Joy and I went down to the old country last autumn to follow a special road atlas of the broads produced by a national newspaper, we drove for an hour on the main-road traffic. Our road ran inland from Yarmouth, Burgh-le-lieu, Criddlestyle, Squirrel's Corner, Pleck, Benville Bridge, Toller Down Gates, Dorchester, Bridport, and Moncton Wold Cross. It turned out to be a road that may not have been on the map they were not on any signposts.

Dorset, Dorset, is anywhere, must be a section of Dorset. Burgh-le-lieu, Squirrel's Corner, Pleck, Benville Bridge and Toller Down Gates could not be identified. They could only be imagined. And when you have been there you've been there. We were lost in Dorset.

We drove on through an enchanted land of little farms and wavelike green hills and deep mysterious woods.

Duck Haven Dictatorship

Vancouver Sun

In the interests of nature lovers it's time Stanley Park deported some of its duck population.

One of the prime purposes of the zoo is to display the brilliant variety of wildlife species with which the province is endowed. The park's duck ponds however are beginning to look more like the freak show at the midway.

The bird watchers, who are a study in the imbalance which nature can sometimes achieve.

Trouble is, when man gives birth is helping hand—as he does in our park, he breeds more. In this case they are the mallards. They're bigger, stronger and maybe smarter than other species of duck.

The result is that the duck population in the park's ponds is now 80 per cent mallard. Plus a half of one percent that is half mallard.

Most of the sparkling little baldpates have been driven elsewhere. One gentlemanly-looking pintail drake has managed to keep up appearances and there's a brawny ruvanduck which won't allow himself to be bullied. Apart from them, there is only a handful of wood ducks and imported foreign birds.

There are no harlequins, seldom if ever any green wing teal, blue wing or cinnamon teal, scaup, redhead, butterballs, ruddies, goldeneye, gadwall or shovellers.

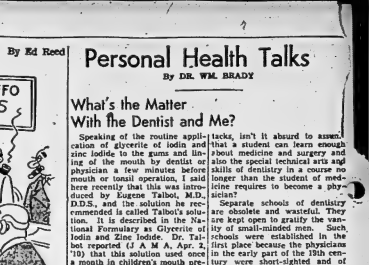
Stanley Park's mallards have, moreover, added absolutely to insult upon the other species. They have very obviously forced unwelcome attention upon the hens of a number of species and produced a truly strange assortment of crossbreeds, of which the best that can be said is that they are sterile and will probably never reproduce their kind themselves. There are mallard-widgeon crosses, mallard-pintail crosses, and something else which looks like the result of an affair between a mallard and the domestic pekin duck.

Admittedly the problem isn't easy for zoo curator Alan Rest. He says he doubts if he can cure his ducks of mallard fever by culling and carrying them into exile. Birds, says, have a homing instinct and home for the park mallards is where Mr. Rest's curtsies are.

Perhaps more drastic action is the answer. Such as providing a few hundred roast duck dinners for our hospitals or old age pensioners' homes and starting again with some new, fresh beaks in the duck ponds.

Hurt by Plea To Be Saint

Bournemouth Echo



Vicar of St. Francis church, Bournemouth, Rev. Maurice Rudd, was taken aback the other day when a woman objected to something he had said in a sermon.

He had said that we were all called upon to be saints.

He comments: "The good lady seemed to think that I was giving people ideas above their station; and she couldn't have been more shocked if I had been preaching violent revolution. Isn't it strange that people can come to church regularly for years without even realizing what Christianity is all about?"

Mrs. C. R. Tilbrook of this city is showing a number of her fine class Springer Spaniel dogs at the Winter Fair in Toronto this week.

The Mock Parliament here years ago was a source of entertainment and also gave an opportunity to young men to become more fluent in public speaking. We quote the following from our file copy at this time in 1916: "The Mock Parliament assembled at the YMCA last night. There was a good turnout of young men as the ballot before the house was the "Resolving of Marriage" and it was of special interest to them. The speakers on the Government side were the Hon. David Barragar, James Reeve, W. Simmons, Leo Fredette and Bert Frederick. The opposition was ably supported by Messrs. Ord, Ed. Butler, Quinn and W. C. Mikel. The bill was passed, Victor Emerson was a Mock Parliament some time prior to the parliament and the proceedings were conducted in the county council room at Shire Hall.

Mr. Walter H. Reeves of this city will be one of the judges of fancy at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

From our file copy at this time in 1836: "The first snow storm of the season commenced this morning and is still going strong, the city clock became snow bound at noon".

ON ACCUMULATING ENERGY

We all know it is energy that runs the world. Through machines, we get heat and powerful things that electricity serves, as well as many other forms of fuel, energy is created. It is because of the energy of men that so much in the world has been accomplished.

How often we have been advised to "conserve energy" and since it, then rest that it may be made greater and to serve in larger measure. Stored in athletes is an abundance of energy. But it must be conserved for the important events.

By worrying, idleness, and billeteers we empty this choice and precious thing that we term energy. It leaves us for no purpose. We even shrink in health and well-being when we refuse to labor or this God-given energy and waste it as of no account. How inspiring it is when with great energy and who makes it a point to inspire others with it, while there are others who walk among us with this wonderful substance leaking from their pockets and efforts without doing any good for anyone.

Think of the energy that the sun distributes all over the earth. We should like to thank God for having created it to bless mankind. The mind is full of energy, and as it is fed increasing knowledge ifs generously carries on and keeps increasing itself. We should store all the energy possible, for without it there remains to people hardly the factor of hope.

Just think of the energy that is lost through hair, fear and bitter-keep girls on their toes.

Tea Expert Deplores Bags

Cape Breton Post

A top man of India's tea business doesn't like tea bags. He is Dr. Kanti Chandra Mitra of Calcutta, chairman of the India Tea Association. Vancouver he said, "these little tea bags have been the ruin of tea. You can't extract the best of the tea through one of these bags.

Some Cape Breton tea enthusiasts will agree, but the dealers in tea insist that Canadians prefer their tea packaged because it is convenient and time-saving. There is nothing to prevent one who likes his tea out of the bag from cutting the bag open and pouring the tea leaves into the pot.

What's the Matter With the Dentist and Me?

Speaking of the routine application of glycerite of iodin and zinc iodide to the gums and lining of the mouth by dentist or physician a few minutes before mouth or tonsil operation, I said here recently that this was introduced by Eugene Talbot, M.D., D.D.S., and the solution he recommended is called Talbot's solution. It is described in the National Formulary as Glycerite of Iodin and Zinc Iodide. Dr. Talbot reported (J A M A, Apr. 2, '10) that this solution used once a month in children's mouth prevents tooth decay.

So far it was all factual. But unfortunately I added a comment of my own.. Talbot, I said, was both physician and dentist—as I think every dentist should be."

That tore it. The dentists, at least dentists of the nineteenth century school, reacted like hornets. If anyone should be a physician, they argued, then every physician should have at least four years additional training for the degree of D.D.S.

Well, now, I don't say that. I say that I leave it to the dentists to estimate how much in the way of training the student who intends to practise dentistry would get in a straight four years' medical school course. I venture to say that, having received the degree M.D., the student could get the necessary postgraduate training for mastery in his or her practice of dentistry in not more than two years.

When we get down to brass tacks, isn't it absurd to assert that a student can learn enough about medicine and surgery and also the special technical arts and skills of dentistry in a course no longer than the student of medicine requires to become a physician?

Separate schools of dentistry are obsolete and wasteful. They had their open to gratify the vanity of small-minded men. Such schools were established in the first place because the physicians in the early part of the 19th century were short-sighted and narrow calibre—various medical schools declined to found dental chairs. And so, instead of becoming one of the branches of medicine, the leaders of the dentists virtually said the heck with you, we'll set up our own dental schools. The first separate dental school, Baltimore College of Dentists, was established in 1839.

Nearly thirty years later Harvard University opened a dental department and began teaching dentistry as a branch of medicine or as nearly as the staid old ladies of the University dared—give the graduates the degree D. M. D., Doctor of Dental Medicine.

Within a few short years, I confidently predict, the silly Yankee aberration of hitching the teeth to the face, forgotten, separate dental schools will have been closed for the public welfare and economy, and only physicians will be permitted to practise dentistry.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

When does a barber go for lunch? Pete Peavey, whose barber shop is situated in the basement under the Toronto Men's Press Club and is therefore known in newspapers all around the world, says he goes without lunch on an average of two days a week, and the other three he manages to sneak out to the bank and have a breakfast-sandwich and a pot and a cup of coffee.

"What can you do?" he asks. "Things in a barber shop begin to speed up about eleven a.m. By twelve there are going full blast—the pressure keeps up all through the afternoon. Whether you have three chairs or ten chairs, there are usually four or five people sitting reading the magazines all the time during this period. Many of them wait ten, fifteen, minutes for their turn at the first vacant chair. Can you simply fold up your chair and walk out on the man that's next?

"All men must eat," I mentioned.

"Not barbers," said Pete. "I get Joe, our shoe shine boy, to slip out and bring me in a sandwich and a milk shake or a cup of coffee. But if he doesn't do it very becircumspectly, and take them out in the back room to consume, for the customer who is next, when I flip out the sheet with a flourish, is almost certain to swell up with indignation."

"I imagine," I suggested, "that you have certain customers who are old friends, who would be quite content to wait."

"It's a curious thing about the old customers," said Pete. "Your old friends, and customers of long-time, make hay while the sun shines."

If your barber wears a lean and hungry look the next time you are in for a haircut, just ponder the weight of this good man, without whom what a frowzy lot we would

MYSTERY IN RELIGION

Gravitation is probably the most mysterious of all physical forces. That a magnetic power exists which inevitably turn in a certain direction because of this force is a circulating fact, and science has become less amazing with the passage of time. What this force is is nobody knows. It does not appear to be confined to this planet, but operates throughout the whole solar system. As science has grown in knowledge of this powerful force exerts upon every object in the physical world. And after knowing of its existence for centuries, man is still as ignorant of the nature of this power as were his forebears.

All this is indicative of the power of an unseen forces in general. Electricity is another power in the physical world which appears to defy analysis beyond a certain point. When we enter the spiritual world, we encounter forces which are so mysterious as to be awe-inspiring. God—His will, His power, His love, His solicitude for mankind; these things are essentially mysterious in nature. And this, of course, leads us to observe how little religion understands of God, this powerful force exerts upon every object in the physical world. And after knowing of its existence for centuries, man is still as ignorant of the nature of this power as were his forebears.

All this is indicative of the power of an unseen forces in general. Electricity is another power in the

Deer Hunter Shot, Killed

HUNTSVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Finley W. McLachlan, 54, of Toronto, president of three major construction and lumber supply firms, was shot and killed Tuesday in a hunting accident in Algonquin Park.

He had been north for the last 10 days and was due back in Toronto in two to three days.

Mr. McLachlan was president of Finley W. McLachlan Ltd., Finley W. McLachlan Construction Company Ltd., and Dufferin Lumber and Supply, Ltd.

Police said he had been out hunting with a party of six, which included his brother, and was posted on a deer trail 3½ miles from the party's camp at Crown Lake. Mr. McLachlan was hit in the chest by a shot apparently fired by a member of the group.

BORN NEAR NORTH BAY

Born in Commanda near Trout Creek, 30 miles south of North Bay, he was an avid hunter and fisherman and made a fall hunting trip annually to his camp at Crown Lake.

Mr. McLachlan started in the lumber business in Northern Ontario and moved to Toronto about 1954 as a house building contractor. He expanded his business and his firms now specialize in highway and industrial construction.

Surviving are his widow, and two sons. One of the sons, William George, 19, is a North American skating champion.

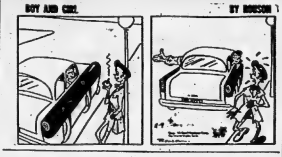
Robert Fitton Dies on Gallows For Sex Slaying

TORONTO (CP)—Robert Fitton, 22-year-old father of three small children, was executed on the gallows early today for the sex killing of Linda Lymphin, 11.

Dr. W. H. Lillien surgeon at Toronto's east-end Don Jail, pronounced Fitton dead at 12:25 a.m. EST, 19 minutes after the trap was sprung in a barren room on the second floor of the jail.

Fitton, a truck driver of slight build, was calm to the end. From the time he was led handcuffed from his cell he didn't utter a word. A crowd of about 200 persons waited outside the jail until official announcements of the execution were posted.

Fitton was convicted last April of murder in the strangling of the Lampkin girl, whose body was found on a deserted street near Cherry Beach. Evidence at the trial was that Fitton picked up the girl in his mail-truck as she was returning from dancing lessons, raped and strangled her.



The federal cabinet Tuesday declined to interfere with the court's death sentence despite the jury's recommendation for mercy.

ORDERED NEW TRIAL

Last June the Ontario Appeal Court in a split decision ordered a new trial. One consideration was admissibility of a statement signed by the condemned man admitting the strangling but saying "I didn't mean to do it."

The crown appealed this decision to the Supreme Court of Canada, which restored the original conviction.

Fitton was not allowed to see his 19-year-old wife, Florence, or his mother, on his last day. His mother had visited him more than 60 times since his conviction. During that time he did not see his three children, and the youngest, Kenneth John, five weeks, he had never seen.

Mr. Leo Belanger, R.R. 7, Belleville, is a patient in the Veterans' Pavilion of the Kingston General Hospital.

Canadian Legion LA. Plans Events

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Legion Branch 99, took place in the club rooms on Tuesday, with Comrade Jeffs in the chair.

Comrade 1st Vice Everett Liddle of the newly branch, was introduced to the ladies and gave them a report on the "Poppy Day" returns, which was a decided success. He then made the draw for the winning tickets from books that were previously sold by the members. The winners were: Allan Colden, Point Anne, $25; G. Roelpons, Belleville, $15; and Len Burford, Belleville, $10.

A new member was initiated into the Auxiliary namely Jannette Clark. Two ladies were voted upon and decided as Gwendoline and Mrs. Lorraine Clandorp will be initiated at the next meeting.

Accounts were read and placed on file. All outstanding bills are to be paid.

A letter was read from Descanto concerning the D. Bell Heart Fund and it was decided to send $10.

A collection was taken up for the new baby fund. Mrs. Beaumont has given a new mattress, a blanket and a silver cup will be given for baby.

A draw on an apron was won by Comrade Clark.

Comrades Newsom, Helm and Haley are reported in the hospital.

BAZAAR REPORT

Comrade Legacey gave her report on the bazaar, which was a wonderful success. She thanked all the girls who had worked so well in making it successful.

Comrade Hodge gave the report on parties and cookies.

Mary Bailey thanked the ladies for selling the books of tickets.

The children's Christmas party will be held in the club rooms on Saturday, December 15 from 3:30 to 6.30. This party will be for members' children up to 10 years old only. Any members having children 10 and under, are asked to send in their names to Mrs. Jeffs on or before December first.

The annual Christmas party will be held in the club rooms for the Branch on December 21, in the evening.

Mrs. Bradford gave her financial report.

Refreshments were served by the ladies.

Dispelling the Shadow of "Doubt"

Like doubting Thomas, mankind largely remains incredulous that Jesus' healing work was the action of divine law; and doubts that prayer can heal today.

This doubt can now be honestly dispelled. To any sincere seeker there is proof, ample, abundant, and at hand, that the law of God is available for every need.

SCIENCE AND HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy

Weddings

HENDERSON—WELLMAN

CAMPBELLFORD. —St. Mark's Anglican church at Bonarlaw, was the setting on Saturday for the wedding of Faye, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wellman to David S. Henderson of Toronto, son of Mrs. Henderson of Toronto and the late John Henderson.

Officiating in the ceremony was the Rev. S. J. Fleming. Mr. Wellman gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a strapless ballerina-length gown of lace and embroidered nylon net over satin with a matching lace bolero, with lily-pointed sleeves. Her waist-length veil was held in place by a small circular hat of matching lace, outlined with seed pearls, rhinestones and sequins. She carried red Talisman roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Margaret Henderson, sister of the bridegroom, and bridesmaid was Miss Joan Henderson, both sisters of the bridegroom, who were gowned in waltz-length gowns of coral and blue crystalette over taffeta. The dresses featured low waistlines extended by bustle bows. They wore bandeaux and mittens trimmed with rhinestones. Their nosegays were of red and white roses, carnations and baby carnations.

The soloist, Miss Linda Wellman, a cousin of the bride, wore a low-waisted frock of pink crystal charm, also accented with a bustle bow. She rang "Love Divine," and "O Perfect Love". Mrs. S. J. Fleming played the wedding music.

Attending the bridegroom was his brother, Mr. John Henderson of Toronto. Ushers were friends of the bridegroom, also from Toronto.

A reception was held in the parish hall with guests from Toronto, Marmora, Madoc and Bonarlaw attending.

The bride's mother wore a beige wool suit for the occasion, and brown accessories with bronze mums. The bridegroom's mother chose navy crepe and coral accessories and her corsage was of dark pink roses.

For a brief trip to New York and Boston, the bride donned a beige cashmere sheath dress matching accessories and her going away corsage was of yellow roses.

Good shopping?

Sometimes before and after T & T goes on its weekly round in our Belleville shops, we inquire of ourself, what is that word about shopping news contain, or what is it really all about. We have not followed any pattern and we quite unconsciously have wandered here and there and talk about this and that. It is a pleasant weekly task and each time our meandering is a revelation. We have wonderful shops in Belleville. Not long ago we overheard a conversation which indicate that we do not have to go to the great cities. A friend had just returned from a business trip in New York and she was envied because of all the shopping she must have done. "Oh," she replied, "all I bought was a scarf and a pair of cotton gloves, both purchases being less than one dollar." She is a great travelleer, but always a mighty booster of our fine local stores and their merchandise.

This week we saw for the first time underwear, panties in the delicate pastel colours of nature. It is claimed that the new article is better fitting and will be worn which will give greater comfort.

We were pleased to find that the useful electric cooker or fryer is now obtainable in the lower price range. You can purchase an aluminum pot now which will serve to make either tea or coffee. The tea or the coffee, as the case may be, is placed in the same place in the percolator. The water never boils. It cannot boil, but simply percolates.

Christmas gift choices become daily more evident in the shops. One store has German roller canaries that trill beautifully. This year, you can buy gift wrapping paper in continuous rolls which will prove more economical than sheets. We saw rubber slippers that are priced within everyone's reach and which should prove very useful. A new atomizer for milady's purse will no doubt prove to be a popular innovation for gifts. This new perfume atomizer is proof against accident. One, and only one whiff can escape at one time. Before another whiff can be taken the top must be given a quarter turn. We could go on and on, but these few unusual items caught our eye.

We believe that the housewife will have discovered little if any change in her shopping from either her range of choice or in prices excepting of course the drastic cuts in prices rise in her milk requirements. We inquired about the prospects for turkey and have been told that the price of turkey is expected to be lower than last year.

Good shopping!

On Monday of this week we were talking with a local gentleman who in days gone by, played in local orchestras and bands. He loves music and hopes that more and more will be done to foster and encourage music appreciation in our schools. He asked us "what would this world be like if it didn't have music?" He pointed out that there was no color, no creed, no boundary lines no tariff, no nationalism in the world of music. Although he is particularly interested in music he expressed the belief that art is in the same category. He has arrived at his faith in the influence of music because he feels that our world needs the "good" more than anything and in his view music is a medium for good. Our friend desires to remain anonymous because he does not pretend to be a philosopher. Rather, he just believes in music.

Last week it was our privileges to visit Woodbine House in Thurlow township which has been occupied by the Leslie family for five generations. Woodbine House reeks with local historical lore. T & T wishes to take this opportunity of drawing attention to the hope entertained by some of us for a Hastings County Historical Society. Your reporter's guilt is too obvious to hide under a flimsy container in the effort to get a society organized and functioning. The immediate need is to find the citizen who will step forward to act as leader and president for the all important first year. If somebody can read today's column can and will volunteer to lead the Hastings Historical Society, T & T asks that you contact it via either the radio station or through the mail. Locale is a vital and useful need for our history-laden community to have a historical society to aid in the preservation of the past is a guide along the road of the future.

Cannifton, Corbyville W.I. Views U.N. Film

On Wednesday evening, the Cannifton and Corbyville Women's Institute held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Holgate with 16 members present. The president, Mrs. A. Denille, opened the meeting in the usual manner. Minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary, Mrs. H. Holgate. Reports were read by the standing committee.

Mrs. J. Latchford gave a report on the area convention. Total election made by the Women's Institute and sent to the Blind was $62.35.

It was decided to cater again this year for the postmasters' banquet on November 28 and Mrs. F. Windsor was appointed convener. The Institute members also plan to have a banquet on their regular meeting night in December.

At this time the meeting was turned over to the leader, Mrs. S. Pound, who introduced Geths Jeslin, who had won a trip to Washington and New York through her Junior Farmer and Junior Institute work. Geths showed a film of her trip by bus from Niagara Falls to Washington, then on to New York. The pictures and explanations gave one of the United Nations building in New York at this particular time seemed most interesting although the entire film created much interest.

Mrs. Pound thanked Geths and Mrs. Bird presented her with a gift.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. F. Windsor and her helpers of the Junch committee.

RYLSTONE UNITED CHURCH W.A.

RYLSTONE — The November meeting of the Women's Association of Rylstone United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Ellis Jones on Wednesday afternoon with 12 ladies and five children present. Mrs. Ray Stewart, president, had charge of the meeting.

The Scripture reading, John 14: 1-14, was read by Mrs. R. Stewart.

An invitation to attend the afternoon tea at the Stephen's new church at Hoard's Station, was read.

Readings were given as follows: "Lord of the Harvest," by Mrs. Ray Stewart; "Lending a Hand," by Mrs. Thomas H. Mc-Keown, and "The Three Bidders," by Mrs. Fred McKeown.

Plans were made for catering to the community sale on Monday night. Refershments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Wilfred Spencer and Mrs. Ray Stewart.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Sanford G. Meiklejohn, Springbrook on December 12. Program convener will be Mrs. (Rev.) H. E. Beare and Mrs. Ellis B. Jones.

The November meeting of Ivanhoe WI took the form of a pot-luck supper on Wednesday evening at Ivanhoe Town Hall for the members and their families with about 60 in attendance.

After a bountiful supper, the president, Mrs. John McInroy, presided over the following program: community singing with Mrs. Bray at the piano; trio by Joe, Glenn and Grant Hagerman who showed slides of her trip to Scotland and England last year. The pictures were most interesting.

Miss Jayne Gay, thanked Miss Parks and presented her with a small gift, on behalf of the institute.

The president thanked everyone for their help on the program and also for the supper.

ADVICE To The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

YOU'RE GOING ABOUT THINGS THE WRONG WAY

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I'm 29 years old and my husband is 31. We've been married for three years and have a little girl.

My husband has been going out with other girls and I can't see what makes him do it. He has told me that if I say anything to one of these girls he'll leave me, and I love him enough to do what he says. Also, he quarrels with me about everything I do. I never answer him, in order to avoid arguing or quarreling.

He says that he doesn't love me and hasn't loved me since we were first married, but I don't believe him. If he didn't love me a little, he wouldn't come back to me, too. He's talked about a divorce, but I won't give him one. I'd see him die before I'd see him go to another woman.

The only times I see him is when he comes out of bed in the morning and when he gets back from work. He won't talk to me much, even though I try and talk about his work and everything else I think he'd be interested in. — Mrs. P.J.

Dear Mrs. P.J.: If you really want to keep your husband, you're going about it the wrong way when you refuse to consider divorce. This may sound very strange to you, but it actually does happen that if a wife makes her husband feel the choice is his to leave her, or stay with her, he's far more apt to stay than if she keeps telling him that everything in her power to prevent him from leaving. Human beings are so mad that they just don't like to feel some one is determined to force them to do some particular thing, whereas if they feel free to do what they want, they often choose the course of action the other person desires.

You say you don't believe your husband doesn't love you. If you're right in thinking he does love you, then you might win out if you do what I'm going to suggest. This is, that the next time he speaks of divorce, tell him very quietly and calmly that you love him so much that you put his happiness above your own, and that if he feels he'd be happier away from you, you'll do nothing to stop him.

In the meantime, instead of trying to think of things you might be able to get him to talk about with you, try to get out more, if you can, and find some new interests of your own you could tell him about. Perhaps you've become so tied down at home that you just don't have anything interesting to talk about, and your husband has become thoroughly bored. Moreover, if you found something that would be fun for you to do together, he might gradually take an interest.

If you haven't done so already, I suggest that you go and have a talk with the pastor of your church about this problem. It's a good thing to confide in someone who is close at hand, so that you can turn to that person for help and advice when you have special need.

BEAUTY

By MME. QUI VIVE

BELTS ARE IMPORTANT ACCESSORIZES; CHOOSE THEM WELL

Girls with slim, trim figures can wear any type of belt; others must be conservative.

If a girl has a divinely slim figure and a waistline that rates whistles, there's one sure way to call attention to it: with a belt! It's for this reason that belts, whether made of leather for tailored wear, or jeweled, silken and, whatha-you for more dressy occasions, are important accessories. Choosing the right belt, however, is something of an art. So, if you'd make the most of this necessary adjunct to your prettiest frocks, here are a few beauty rules it would be well to observe. The slim girl can skip most of them, of course, since her figure shows off beautifully in almost any kind of a belt—from the high, wide and handsome ones that contrast with her dress or separates to the ones covered to match the fabric of her frock.

The heavier woman, however, must, as with other wardrobe items, be conservative. No bright-colored belts for her. No belts in contrasting colors, either. They will only make her look heavier, for they'll focus attention on too-wide hips and on that all too obvious "spare tire." Her best bet is to wear a belt that's the same color as her dress—and, preferably, in self-material.

Another belt tip: make sure your belt slides through the belt loops provided for it on the side seams of a dress. The loops were put there for a definite reason: to keep the belt in place and keep it from sliding up, if they break, mend them immediately. Nothing looks so sloppy as a hanging loop.

Even though it's such a comparatively small item in your accessory wardrobe, remember that a belt can "make or break" the appearance of your outfit and buy a new one. So, when it starts to become worn, discard it. The buckles of fabric belts have a tendency to wear out long before any other part of the dress, so watch them especially. If you look smart otherwise, why mar the perfect picture by looking shabby at the waistline?

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

PROPER TO SERVE BUFFET MEAL AFTER BLESSING OF HOME?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Our daughter is going to buy our new home next month. We would like to have our relatives and our most intimate friends present on this occasion, but we don't wish at all to give the impression that this is a housewarming. Would it be proper to serve a simple buffet meal afterward? A.S.

I should think it would be entirely proper to have a simple buffet meal following this ceremony. But if you have any bit of doubt about the propriety, please do talk it over with the minister.

WEDDING RING AND ENGAGEMENT RING

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have been married almost two years, and I have always worn my wedding ring on the inside of my engagement ring—that is, my engagement ring nearest my chin or nail. Now I have been told that it should be the opposite, because the engagement ring is received first. Will you please set me straight about this? Am I right or wrong? — B.T.

You are right. The wedding ring should be put on the finger first, then the engagement ring over that. That's why the bride, during the marriage service, wears her engagement ring on the right hand . . . then after the ceremony she switches it, transferring the ring to her finger, above the wedding ring.

EVERY GIRL TO INVITE A BOY FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My sister will be 13 years old next month and, as she has never had a birthday party, I would like to give a small birthday party for her. I'm going to invite her closest girl friends, and I know they would have a better time if they were to invite their boy friends. Two or three of these girls have "steady" boy friends, but most of them play the field, and I wouldn't know what they they prefer at the moment! What form of invitation would you suggest to include this invitation to the boys also? — Her Sister

It would be proper, and a most practical and direct way, for you to give these invitations verbally or by telephone. In the first place it would then be easy for you to emphasize that the party is to be a surprise . . . please don't tell. Then you could explain that you'd like to have each girl invite a boy friend to come with her to the party. Also you can find out at once how many guests to provide for. However, a note of invitation is proper, of course, if you prefer . . . in this you give the same information.

PAY FOR LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE CALL?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Please settle a discussion my husband and I are having about who may not paying a telephone call. The other afternoon I attended a Committee meeting at the home of a friend of mine. Before the meeting began I suddenly remembered that I had to make a long distance telephone call. I asked the hostess' permission, and said I would pay for the call. She insisted that I was not to pay for the call. So I didn't. My husband insists that it was most inconsiderate and unsolicitous, and that I should not have taken her "no" as an answer, Was I so wrong about what I did? — L.M.

Yes, I agree with your husband that you should not have taken the hostess' "no" as an answer, and that you certainly should have paid for your long distance call. You should have asked the long distance operator in advance to call back and tell you the charge, and you should have left this amount, with the number you called, on a piece of paper by the telephone.

Dorothy W.'s Budget-Cutter

Steps have to be taken. Suddenly crowds of you have decided that I have the recipes that you want for your Christmas baking (I do have them too!); suddenly Marianne and Gary are coming home "indefinitely" with, Herbie's in Egypt; suddenly I want to instal a new heating adjunct to our system; suddenly I decide to take a 3-day trip.

The calm, cool way to approach this avalanche is to give more space to readers' letters in this column. Seems simple enough even if it all means less non-column writers.

Dorothy W.'s contribution in our economy campaign of this fall has been nagging my considerers for weeks. It is splendid and here it is:

"Dear Mrs. Moore: Here are the economical recipes you asked for and other ideas you may find useful.

HAM RIND NAVY BEAN SOUP:

One cup navy beans, 2 quarts cold water, 1 ham rind, 1 teaspoon celery salt, 6 to 10 peppercorns (if desired), 2 carrots diced, 2 onions sliced, 2 potatoes diced, 1 20oz. tin tomatoes, 1 bay leaf, 1-2 teaspoon thyme, 1 cup cut-up ham if available. Soak beans overnight in cold water. Next day drain and place in soup kettle with cold water and ham rind. Bring to boil and add celery, salt and peppercorns if use a little black pepper). Cover and simmer over low heat for 1 hour. Add carrots, onions, potatoes, tomatoes, bay leaf and thyme. Cover and simmer another hour or until beans are tender. Taste for seasoning and add ham if available. Bacon rind could replace ham.

DOROTHY W'S BASIC MIX FOR CAKE

Four and one-half cups all-purpose flour, 4 1-2 cups whole wheat flour, 1 tablespoon salt, 1-3 cup baking powder (I use single ing), 1 cup skim milk powder, 2 cups lard. Green's note: The lard is cut into the sifted together dry ingredients, including bran from whole wheat. Store covered in icebox.

APPLESAUCE CAKE

(Using basic mix)

Three cups mix (above), 2-3 cup sugar, 3-4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-4 teaspoon cloves, 1 cup raisins (optional), 1 cup thick applesauce, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg beaten. Mix dry ingredients and add raisins if used. Add apples, egg, vanilla and beaten egg.

If too thick add enough milk available to give more space to readers' letters in this column. Seems simple enough even if it all means less non-column writers.

Bay of Quinte W.I. Holds Fine Meeting

The Bay of Quinte Women's Institute held its November meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Clapp on Wednesday evening, with a fine attendance; the second vice-president, Mrs. Don Sandercock, presiding.

During the business session it was announced that Mrs. Fred Aikens won the blanket on which the Institute had a draw on the night of the W.I. party, and that Mrs. Floyd Sandercock had demonstrated how to make strawberry cookies at the October meeting.

A note was received from Mrs. A. Ketcheson. Mrs. DeCleru sent in her resignation on her doctor's orders, which was accepted with regret, as Mrs. DeCleru has been a great help; all are hoping she will join again later on when feeling better.

Mrs. Alva Meyers was asked to give her report of the first day at the W.I. convention held in Belleville Collegiate on the 22nd of October. Mrs. Don Sandercock gave her report for the second day.

Mrs. John Reid read the names of the new officers who were elected at this convention. A motion was made that the expenses of the delegates be paid.

Mrs. Clarence Holmes convener of "Resolutions," was in charge of this part of the program, which was opened by singing of three tunes, "The More We Get Together." After the first rendition to turn and shake hands with one's neighbor, then at the third to take your neighbor's arm. The important thing at the meetings, said Mrs. Holmes, was to be friendly, and also as at Remembrance Day had just passed it should be remembered, too.

At the short service Mrs. Palmer gave a reading, "In Flanders Fields" and "You Love Your Country," by Mrs. Ted Hoxie. Mrs. Don Sandercock then entertained with a humorous reading called "Dollar Day."

RESOLUTIONS

Mrs. Holmes stated she would like to see the Bay of Quinte Institute send in a resolution and if acceptable, it would be sent on to the government. Mrs. Holmes said that through resolutions the Institute has been able to do much, such as the government passing a law that all manufacturers must make dyed goods colorfast before being sold; that hospitalization came into being in Ontario. It was the W.I. organization that started adult education; a law was passed that crime comics are not allowed to be sold to children. She also spoke on what the Belleville area Women's Institute had accomplished in the last 30 years.

In June, 1926, an organization meeting was held to consider having a district convention in Belleville. Over 300 persons attended that convention held in the city hall. The banquet was free, the food being donated. The Redmersville band played selections and prizes were awarded for different contests.

Through the years there have been 14 convention chairmen. In describing the first convention highlights, she summed up with the W.I. ideal, "We treasure the past, but we face the future and may we ever keep before our eyes our great motto, 'For Home and Country.' This is a challenge. This is an opportunity."

Mrs. Holmes' talk was so interesting that she was asked at the convention to allow her reading to be printed so that each W.I. might have it for their Tweedsmuir History Books, which she agreed to.

PRESENT 30 YEARS AGO

There were three ladies present at Mrs. Clapp's on Wednesday night at the W. I. meeting who were present at that first convention 30 years ago. Mrs. Holmes said she was pleased to have Mrs. Weese present who was made the first district president at that time, and told what a wonderful woman she was, then asked her "if she would like to say anything," to which Mrs. Weese replied that she noticed that Mrs. Holmes praised everyone else but herself. Turning to the rest of the ladies she said "you should be very proud to have Mrs. Holmes belonging to your Institute" and Mrs. Holmes was asked to stand and take a bow, since she had had a number of offices in the district and province and had also been Dominion president as well and had always done a great job." As a token of esteem Mrs. Holmes asked Mrs. Weese to accept a small gift She also handed Miss A. Reid a parcel as a token in remembrance of her days in the Institute, as she now lives in Belleville.

The convener directed a contest concerning resolutions. Another contest concerned the identifications of different substances by touch. The first of these was won by Mrs. Van Gates; the second, by Mrs. Palmer. The third contest was the naming of the 14 area chairmen in the last 30 years, which was won by Mrs. Casey Ketcheson.

The Christmas party will be held at Mrs. F. Wilson's. There will be an exchange of gifts, worth not more than 50 cents. Mrs. Don Sandercock and Mrs. C. Curtis will have charge of the program.

The meeting closed with Auld Lang Syne. Refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Ribbed fabrics are much liked by the big designers on either side of the Atlantic. And it's nice to note that some of the members of the haute courture in Paris regard with high favor, fabrics that stem from American synthetics. Orlon acrylic fibre, wool and silk blended into a ribbed rep in a rich red was chosen by Patou for a striking black cocktail dress. It is styled with the ballet-Empire look that he favors—raised but line, emphasized by seaming placed immediately below the bosom, then shaped out, princess fashion into a bell skirt.

FRANKFORD UNITED CHURCH WA

The WA of the Frankford United church holds its November meeting on Thursday afternoon in the Perkins Room of Rose Lowery Hall with Mrs. Frank Rabel, president, presiding. Mrs. G. Montgomery conducted the devotional period, her theme being "Remembrance Day".

Mrs. Fred Charlesworth read the Scripture Psalm 46, and Mrs. Montgomery commented on the theme.

Mrs. C. E. Clarke gave an inspiring talk on 'Armistice'.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. A. Stickle, secretary and Mrs. G. Montgomery, treasurer, gave financial report which showed a gain for 1956. The various committees reported. Mrs. F. Charlesworth reported on the parsonage committee meeting and told of various items needed at the parsonage. The birthday jar was passed and several added pennies for birthdays in November. Roll call showed 23 members and two visitors present.

Correspondence was read which included an invitation from Wooler WA to attend their bazaar and tea; also an invitation from the Blinko Mission at Peterborough. The members decided to have a social evening for the WA and their husbands on December 7 in Rose Lowery Hall.

The WA will sponsor a Christmas party for the choir at a later date. For the Christmas meeting each member is asked to bring a gift for an underprivileged child. Final plans were made for the WA fall bazaar and tea.

A donation was given to the Building Fund.

After the meeting closed refreshments were served by Mrs. S. Martin and Mrs. A. Patrick.

Tea hostesses for the December meeting will be Mrs. Grills, Mrs. G. Herrington and Mrs. J. Morris.

HOLLOWAY E.B.W.A.

The evening group of Holloway Street United Church W.A. held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Deline.

The meeting opened with a devotional service conducted by M. Richardson and Jackie Dorland. Elizabeth Deline convened the meeting.

A short business period followed during which the treasurer asked that all talent money and dues for 1956 be turned in by 1st of December.

The president, Mrs. Brown, thanked every one for their help in making the bazaar such a success.

The December meeting will be a special Christmas meeting and it is hoped every member will be at for this event, to be held the second Thursday.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. F. Wilson, who is the "Chairman of the Candidates for the Ministry Committee." Mrs. Wilson gave an interesting talk on "The Changing Times", and the need for young people to enter church work as a vocation.

The speaker was introduced and thanked by Mrs. Dobbs.

Refreshments served by Elizabeth Deline and her group brought the meeting to a close.

'Citizenship' Topic at H-S Association

The Foxboro Home and School Association's monthly meeting was held in the school auditorium on November 13.

Mr. J. Churchill reported on the Cubs and Scouts which groups are sponsored by the Home and School.

The new principal, Mr. C. Reid, gave a brief summary of his ideas for new projects for the Home and School to carry out.

The speaker for the evening was Miss Barbara Brown of Queen Mary School, who was introduced by Mrs. W. Rombough.

Miss Brown's subject was "Citizenship," and named the following three different ways of living: "to lounge, which is the way of the wealthy; to lunge which is the way of the uncertain; when matters of the future are decided without giving them complete thought, and lastly the perfect way which is love and that one could have no better example than that of the Master who told us to "love the Lord, thy God and Him only shalt thou serve," and "to love thy neighbor as thyself."

"The home should have first place in our lives," said the speaker, "and to place the love of our country above the love of oneself. We can't all be leaders. Some must be supporters."

The speaker was thanked by Miss M. Parks, intermediate teacher in the school.

The next meeting is to be held at the school and as the Christmas treats for the school and pre-school children are to be packed then, it is hoped that there will be a good attendance at that particular meeting.

Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

HOLLOWAY STREET UNITED EVENING AUXILIARY

The November meeting of the Holloway Street United church Evening Auxiliary was held in the church parlors with the president, Bernice Fox, in the chair.

The nominating committee for the 1957 officers was elected, comprised of Jean Campbell, Eleanor Roblin and June Wright. The meeting was turned over to Elfreida Vader and her group.

Dorothy Craighead gave the Scripture reading. Marjorie Miller, June Wright, Elfreida and Eleanor Roblin formed a panel discussion on the new study book which was interesting.

A quiz on the Bible was given by Elfreida which tested the knowledge of the girls and was won by Alice Hessman.

Refreshments were served by Elfreida's group.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY Miss Jean Sinclair, DIETITIAN OF ST. T.

Brisker weather ahead doesn't mean you have to eliminate baby's daily outing (unless it's unusually cold). Babies thrive on fresh air . . . it rosies cheeks and brightens appetites. A few winter reminders:

• Good idea to check weather reports before venturing out.

• Dress baby cosily but loosely. Tight bundling restricts movements.

• Rub a bit of baby oil over baby's face to prevent chapping.

Winter or Summer, cereal is pretty much a daily "must" on most every baby's menu. Gerber Baby Cereals are pre-cooked and prepared to meet many of the nutritional needs of little ones. All five — Rice, Barley, Oatmeal, Wheat and Mixed Cereal, are fortified with iron, calcium and B-vitamins. Mild, pleasant flavors combined with a smooth texture make Gerber Cereals a welcome dish for a wee one. For a toddler, Gerber Cereals are delicious when served "hot." Simply add hot milk or water.

* * *

Shampoo cue. Easy way to prevent stinging eyes during shampoo time. Just rub a bit of cold cream above baby's eyebrows. Wonderful how it sidetracks suds, keeps 'em from trickling into baby's eyes.

* * *

Laundry tip from a column-reading mother: "Socks and booties are so small they're hard to keep track of in a big wash. I put them in an old nylon stocking. Knot the top and toss the whole thing into the washing machine. Suds wash through nylon —and sorting is a cinch afterwards."

* * *

Fruit runs high on the list of menu favorites for small fry. Especially when it's one of those good-tasting Gerber Strained Fruits! Such delicate true-fruit flavors! Such a yummily purrfect consistency it's small wonder babies favor these luscious fruits. Gerber Baby Foods, Niagara Falls, Canada.

MOVING MOUNTAINS

The most rugged construction job on the Trans-Canada highway is expected to be on the stretch over the Rocky Mountains between Banff, Alta., and Revelstoke, B.C. In this photo, a big mechanical shovel scoops up the debris left when a mountain-side was torn loose by a dynamite blast during construction west of Banff. The big truck will carry the loose rock to other sections where a solid base is needed for the road which will pass over old river beds. Because of the rugged terrain, some stretches of the road in Banff and Yoho national parks will cost an average of $90,000 a mile compared with a cost of $75,000-$100,000 a mile for similar roads across the prairies. (CP Photo).

Rugged Work on Canadian Highway Encounted in Banff And Yoho National Parks

FIELD, B.C. (CP)—The tough- from which waters flow both east at sections of the trans-Canada and west. highway are being blasted through the Rocky Mountains. Final bridge struc- urkload by truckload it is being tures are being placed and pav- ing should begin next year.

IN FAMOUS PASS

It is in the Kicking Horse Pass area just east of Field that the most costly and hardest work now is going on. It is estimated that one or two of the most difficult miles in this area will cost between $750,000 and $1,000,000 each.

Mannix Ltd., general contractors, are working on a seven-mile stretch and their contract, calling for building the base but not for paving and finishing, is for $2,100,000 — an average of nearly $400,000 a mile.

This section is over one of the narrowest parts of the pass at an altitude of approximately 5,500 feet. It is at the same point that the Canadian Pacific Railway constructed two spiral tunnels, 3,206 and 2,890 feet long, into the heart of two mountains to gain 95 feet in elevation.

The highway construction at this point is carving a road from the rocky sides of two mountains and using the rock fill to plunge river gorges and reduce the incline. This is perhaps the most difficult piece of road work in the Parks.

Blowing the surface rock and earth with dynamite and giant tractors, trucks, cranes and scrapers is only part of the job. Overcoming underground and surface water problems, which are many, is another major operation, as are sloping mountain cuts to prevent slides in rain or snow and to relieve ice net—in some sections finding bed rock.

SILT, SAND BASE

Jack G. Linton, district engineer for the trans-Canada highway Authority, which comes under the federal public works department, said that in some areas, at one time mountain valleys, the base is silt and sand, and rock fill up to 250 feet deep has had to be dumped to provide a solid bottom. Similar conditions existed in a spot that once was a mountain lake.

At one point, parts of the work were delayed when the remains of an old glacier, believed either the receding Illecillewaet glacier, were encountered. Mr. Linton said it couldn't be blown apart with explosives because the ice around the rock made it like rubber. It took two months to melt the chunk.

There hazards, however, are taken for granted by the men on the job and they are being overcome through one or another means—sometimes by engineering ingenuity, other times by sheer brute force. More than 20 bridge structures are being installed to solve surface and underground water riddles.

By 1960, when the trans-Canada highway section from Banff to Revelstoke, through the Kicking Horse and Rogers passes is completed, the narrow, winding gravelled road will be replaced by a highway wide enough for two lanes in each direction that will provide a scenic, safe and fast motor route through the Rockies

Service at White's Church was conducted on Sunday morning by Mr. Robert Percival, who used as his text, "If any man love me he will keep my words." (John 14:21) Mr. Percival said, "True love is a practice. Our love if we keep it to ourselves is just a theory. Only when we use it practically is it true love, as when caring for the sick, doing for others or the many ways we can spend our time profitably for others. If we truly love Jesus, we will do as He says in our daily lives."

Light For Living

by PEGGY LIDSTONE
Home Lighting Specialist

Do you use lighting in your home merely to see what's on the shelves? Home lighting should be given a much more important role than this!

Dramatically and psychologically, light and colour are the two strongest influences in home decoration. They can endure easily . . . add zest to your work . . . bring new charm to your way of living.

Try out your own stage, lighting-wise, during the hours when your home is most used. Carefully-planned lighting can influence and intensify the pleasant atmosphere of your home.

Kitchen chores become less tedious when your kitchen's working areas are individually lighted. Lamps should be shielded from the eyes, and should reflect onto working surfaces.

Bedrooms, when well lighted, are an aid to better grooming. Adequate lighting will help you see into bureau and dressing drawers . . . make relaxing easier.

Dining room should have fairly strong overhead lighting to bring dramatic sparkle to the table, plus soft surrounding light from a wall bracket or valance. Place the centre fixture directly over the table . . . have the wall bracket six feet above the floor on the nearest wall.

Television should never be viewed in a darkened room. A general lighting will save the eyestrain caused by strong contrast between the screen and the surrounding area. Use floor and table lamps, but be sure the shades do not appear brighter than the screen. Lighted valances and torchieres may also be used.

For further lighting tips, write to: Peggy Lidstone, c/o Lighting Institute, Canadian General Electric Co. Ltd., 163 Dufferin Street, Toronto.

Govt. to Join Rails to Bring In Immigrants

OTTAWA (CP)—Special projects will be launched by the government in co-operation with the CNR and the CPR in an attempt to stimulate the flow of immigrants to Canada next year.

An official of the immigration department said Monday it is hoped the joint effort will bring some 4,000 European immigrants to Canada in 1957. Three-quarters of the immigrants will be recruited for track and gang workers for the two railways, some 1,000 will be Italian farm workers and an undetermined number will be farm workers of Yugoslav origin.

The official said the immigrants will start arriving in Canada next spring. The move was in-line with the government's policy of encouraging immigration at a time when the country's economy is buoyant and expanding.

SEEK TRACK WORKERS

Representatives of the railways shortly will leave for Europe to look for track and gang workers in refugee camps in Germany, Austria and Italy. About 1,075 will be sought for the CPR and 1,500 to 1,800 for the CNR.

All immigrants must be checked by the immigration department before sailing to Canada.

Meanwhile, Immigration Minister Pickersgill, speaking Monday at Victoria, said there is as yet "no great rush" of Hungarians applying for immigration to Canada following strife in Hungary.

"At last word we had between 50 and 100 who applied following Canada's offer to take refugees," he said. "We don't expect a very large number, at least for a while."

However, steps were being taken to increase the department's staff in Vienna to handle any increased flow. The first refugees arrived in Montreal last weekend.

Federal Economists Say '56 Most Prosperous Year in Canadian History; '57 Same

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The tone of production and trade is the same in most parts of Canada: Prosperity.

Federal economists say 1956 is the most prosperous year in Canadian history. They predict another big year in 1957.

For most Canadians, prosperity has brought more jobs, higher pay and the chance to buy some of the things missed in earlier years.

The wheels of industry are spinning faster than ever. Corporation profits are reaching new highs. Spending is at a peak. National production, say the economists, will reach a record this year of $29,300,000,000, much higher than expected, and about $2,700,000,000 higher than 1955.

INFLATION QUESTION

The general building boom appeared to have no limits. It was this boom and the world demand for Canada's raw materials that sparked the brightness of prosperity. But at the same time they lighted the economy with the prospect of inflation.

Economists consider the inflation mild. Yet living costs, that hold thirty steadily for years, suddenly rose to beat all records. Earnings rose faster than costs, so that real purchasing power increased.

But for those living on small, fixed incomes, a rising economy spells trouble. The Bank of Canada rushed to tighten credit, to ease the demand for scarce goods. But it was a question of how far the bank could go without hindering the general boom and perhaps causing some unemployment.

Farmers, too, view the year in varying moods. The butter-surplus crisis seems to be over. Stocks are easing up as consumption keeps up with production. Meat prices generally are strong. Grain sales are higher. But the west still has great surpluses of unsold wheat.

World wheat markets appear to be improving, but there is strong competition for Canadian wheat-growers, particularly from the United States.

And in the Atlantic provinces the cry is heard that federal credit restrictions are hampering development of vital maritimes industry.

RECORD INVESTMENT

At the roots of prosperity is capital investment. Plants for 1956 involved a record $8,000,000,000 worth of capital expansion — in new machinery, plants, bridges, roads, office buildings and houses, churches, schools and hospitals.

A program of this size would be $1,700,000,000 greater than that of 1955.

Experts said the country could not accomplish all that in one year even with tremendous imports of goods from the U.S. as a result went out from James Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, urging industry to stretch out their plans, to hold off construction for a year or two to ease the strain on steel, cement and other essentials.

Now, however, it becomes evident that much of this work will be accomplished, perhaps about $7,500,000,000 worth, and that there will be a big carryover of work for 1957. Trade Minister Howe predicts the 1957 capital investment program will be as large as 1956, perhaps larger.

Federal officials estimate that exports this year will reach a high of $4,700,000,000, or $400,000,000 higher than 1955. The main increase has been in essential raw materials and some finished goods such as newsprint, copper, nickel and aluminum, woodpulp, grains and chemicals.

It was this big market for essential products that helped spark the economic expansion this year. Big portions of the expansion have been among those industries feeding export markets, such as paper, metals, minerals and chemicals.

Far less spectacular were the expansion plans of industries which could depend mainly on the domestic market, such as textiles, rubber and clothing. The textile industry has recovered slightly from the decline of previous years, but synthetics are still finding markets tough. Rubber footwear producers complain of being undersold by low - priced imports from Hong Kong and Japan.

TRADE DEFICIT

The rise has been spectacular in imports, used mainly to help supply materials for industry's expansion. Total imports for the year may rise to some $5,700,000,000, a jump of $1,000,000,000 from 1955.

This would mean a foreign trade deficit of about $1,000,000,000, more than double the $400,000,000 of last year. Such a deficit would add to Canada's foreign debt, of course.

But at home, the song of prosperity drowns out warnings about the future. The number of Canadians with jobs climbed to a record 3,800,000 in August, from 5,640,000 the previous August. The Labor Department estimated about 150,000 Canadians were looking for work, compared with 200,000 last year. There was a scarcity of engineers, plumbers, cement mixers and others employed in the construction trade.

Labor income has risen to a high of about $14,200,000,000 from $12,800,000,000 in 1955. Some of the earnings has gone into savings, some for automobiles, washing machines, television sets, new homes and furniture.

Customers keeping abreast of the times this year, using cash and credit, are spending an estimated $18,000,000,000 which is sharply higher than $16,900,000,000 in 1955.

Factories are turning out more goods. Volume of industrial production has climbed by some six per cent. The railways have been doing bigger business — earnings were estimated unofficially at a record monthly average of $72,000 cars, compared with 339,000 last year.

Wholesalers and retailers are cracking records for business turnover. The unofficial estimates put wholesale sales past the $600,000,000 mark, some eight per cent higher than 1955. The same figure ing places retail sales also eight per cent higher, the year's total cracking the $1,100,000,000 mark for the first time.

Battle Lines Clearly Drawn in Britain's Debate

LONDON (CP)—Battle lines are becoming more clearly drawn in Britain's continuing debate on Suez. It's the eggheads versus the "lumpen proletariat."

The eggheads, of course, are British intellectuals most of whom strongly oppose the Anglo-French "police action" in Egypt.

Lumpen proletariat is a term being applied to ordinary, everyday Britons, who by and large want to see Egypt's Col. Nasser put in his place. "Lumpen" is the plural of the German word lump, meaning a rascally fellow.

The term sprang into prominence when it became apparent that events in Egypt were broadly dividing the country into two camps, with the line of demarcation being determined by the degree of political consciousness.

OPINION CHANGING

Thus, while non - committed newspapers condemned the police action, public opinion was shown in straw polls to be swinging in favor of the intervention.

Hugh Massingham, political correspondent of The Observer, commented during the weekend on the "sudden divorce" between the supply materials for Britain's defence when regard themselves as informed, intellectual or liberal." The Observer, an independent newspaper, opposes the government on the Suez issue.

The Daily Express, a pro-government paper, began the new phrase. "Good morning fellow lumpen," political writer Derek Marks says in opening a feature article.

If it is true that Britons generally now support a policy of intervention, it may be that the opening of opinion arises from national pride. Various factors, such as British troops going into action, a resentment at United States policies, fear that loss of the Middle East would mean a big drop in British prestige and standard of living, have probably combined to arouse a backs-to-the-wall spirit — a kind of dogged determination and outraged patriotism. Such a mood could have a considerable political significance.

MOVIES DRAW FIRE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bishop William A. Scully of Albany, N.Y. reported Monday that 25 per cent of the American movies reviewed by the Roman Catholic Legion of Decency in the last year were found to be "morally objectionable in part" for all patrons. This is a better record than the previous 12 months, when about 33 per cent of the films were disapproved, the bishop said.

X-RAYS MOSTLY HELPFUL

NEW YORK (AP)—Physicians of the American College of Radiology are fighting what they call a public misunderstanding of radiation risks from medical x-rays. They say such x-rays do more good than harm and the public should not become over-alarmed about getting x-rayed.

Two Hungarians Sole Survivors Of Band of 13

LONDON (Reuters) — Two 16-year-old Hungarian boys described Tuesday how they were the sole survivors of a band of 13 children who attempted to cross the frontier into Austria during the Hungarian rebellion.

The rest were shot or captured, they said.

Armed with captured Russian rifles, Pista and Gyula, former classmates in school, told how they left their hometown and joined a band of 120 boys fighting near the uranium mines at Pecs.

A week ago they escaped.

Their families still are in Hungary. Sitting at a table in a London hostel Tuesday, the boys wrote messages to their families which the BBC will broadcast, without disclosing their surnames.

ROPER HEADS FUND

NEW YORK (AP)—Elmo Roper public opinion analyst, has been elected board chairman of the Fund for the Republic. He succeeds Paul G. Hoffman, who will continue as a director. The fund was set up in 1953 with a $15,000,000 endowment from the Ford Foundation, "to study and disclose the facts about all threats to civil liberties, including communism."

Catholic Social Conference Wants More Hungarian Aid

TORONTO (CP)—Bitter disappointment over the lack of adequate aid for Hungarian rebels was expressed Tuesday night in a resolution by the Catholic social life conference.

The resolution, read specially by James Cardinal McGuigan, archbishop of Toronto, called on the Canadian government to give vigorous and unremitting leadership in protesting Russia's tactics in crushing the revolt.

It also expressed the conference's "profound admiration and prayerful sympathy" for the Hungarians.

The people of Hungary, the resolution said, have shown magnificent heroism in resisting, against all human probability, the brutal and savage repression inflicted on them by Russian occupation troops.

Their fight, alone and against overwhelming odds, was an inspiring testimony of their powerful devotion to Christian social and political principles.

Continued protests before the United Nations and directly to Russia and by every other legitimate means at its disposal should be made by Canada.

The conference, which closed its three-day meeting with a banquet, also heard Archbishop Calling for more teaching of the Catholic social doctrine in every phase of life.

Theme of the conference was the place of the doctrine in education.

Most Rev. Francis Marrocco, auxiliary Bishop of Toronto, summing up the three-day conference, said there is an obvious intensification of a sense of responsibility among Canadian Catholics.

"There also has been a revitalizing and encouraging of so many people everywhere who are trying to make the world and more better copies of the original design of God."

Guardian's Report Called Worthless Gossip

LONDON. (Reuters) — British today described reports that French air force pilots flew for Israel and dropped napalm bombs on Egyptians in the Sinai desert as "worthless gossip."

The report appeared in the Liberal Manchester Guardian this morning. The newspaper demanded the government's resignation unless it explained away allegations of Anglo-French collusion with Israel.

War Secretary John Hare told the House of Commons that the war office "received no advance information of the Israeli attack."

He was replying to Labor member Leslie Hale who also asked when the decision was taken to send French planes into action "to drop napalm bombs upon Arab men, women and children."

Hare replied: "Mr. Hale is just repeating worthless gossip."

PLOT REPORTED

The Manchester Guardian had asked information about reports that Britain and France plotted the attack with Israel and then misled the United States.

Laborite Richard Stokes referred in the House of Commons to a reported Washington statement that the U.S. state department has evidence of Anglo-French and Israeli collusion.

As Stokes asked the government about this statement, he was interrupted by Speaker W. S. Morrison who said a minister could not be asked about statements made in Washington unless they were made to the British government.

Despite protests, Stokes was forced to sit down without getting an answer to his questions.

Vehement denials of collusion were also made in Paris today. A French foreign ministry spokesman said there had been many "romantic speculations" in the American press about the subject and the Manchester Guardian was following suit.

FORMAL DENIAL

The spokesman said: "The national defence ministry has issued a formal denial that any French military personnel took part in any form in the Israeli operations. I have nothing to add to the denial."

If France and Britain had plotted the attack with Israel, the spokesman said, they would not have waited seven days after the Israeli operation started before landing in the Suez Canal zone.

Earlier today, the foreign office also poured cold water on the collusion reports but refrained from issuing another formal denial.

FEAR TOT KIDNAPPED

ROMFORD, Eng. (Reuters)—Police interrupted school children at their lessons here Monday to appeal for any information that might help them to trace 3½-year-old Boyd Fearon, now believed to have been kidnapped or murdered since his disappearance five days ago. The child's mother, Mrs. Len Fearon, appealed Sunday night on television for the return of her only child.

RAWDON

Mt. Pleasant, Rawdon WMS, WA, Hold Joint Meeting

RAWDON — On Wednesday Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Fletcher entertained Mount Pelasant WMS and WA at Rawdon parsonage, with 22-in attendance.

Mrs. Kenneth Weaver was pianist for the afternoon and opened with quiet music.

Mrs. Milford Wrightman, president WMS read a selection on "Peace." "If we are to have peace, as a way of life, to guide all nations, we will need the symbol of Christ on the outside and the spirit of Christ on the inside. When peace becomes enthroned within, the reign of peace among the nations of the earth will be established."

All sang "Peace, Perfect Peace" followed by prayer.

Eleven members answered the WMS roll call. The offering was gathered by Judy McAdam and dedicated by Mrs. Percy MacMullen, and the missionary, Miss Millichamp House, Africa, was remembered in the prayer.

The treasurer reported $44.13 for October. Mrs. Fletcher read the report of the nominating committee after which the Rev. W. G. Fletcher conducted the election of officers for 1957. Most of the officers will be the same as formerly.

Mrs. Frank Jeffs read extracts from the book "So Send I You," based on citizenship. This explained the mission of the church in the world today, ways of furthering the work and the admonition to give your gift.

Mrs. W. G. Fletcher read a stewardship letter from Presbyterial secretary, Mrs. Coulter. The allocation for 1957 will be the same as formerly, $440, and the missionary for prayer for two years will be the Rev. Florence M. Hunter, of Vancouver, B.C.

Mrs. Will Potts recorded several community friendship calls made in homes and hospital.

Thanks were extended for hospitality.

Mrs. Donald Johnson outlined Taiwan, better known as Formosa. This is a semi-tropical island off the southeast coast of China. The Japanese controlled the island until World War II and they provided schools, health services, law and order.

In 1627 the Dutch began definite missionary work, then in 1865 Dr. James Maxwell began work and in 1872 Rev. George L. MacKay of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, settled in the north.

Due to the efforts of a middle-aged woman, there were 4,000 tribal Christians who had built 13 churches and they eventually won the right to follow the Christian faith. Since then, a training school for Evangelists has been successful.

The Methodists have erected a unique church of prefabricated aluminum manufactured on the island. It is estimated that there are 100,000 Protestant Christians in Taiwon.

The WMS closed their meeting with "Abide With Me."

W. A.

The W.A. president read "Do You Profess to be a Christian?" Mrs. Merle Spencer read thank-you letters and an invitation to visit St. Andrew's, Stirling, and Hoard's.

The Christmas meeting will be held the end of November and a nominating committee was appointed to bring in a slate of officers for 1957.

At the recent bazaar $207 was cleared. A donation was made to help purchase Sunday School supplies. Those who attended the W.A. rally at Carmel each presented a highlight.

Mrs. Ira David presided over the program. Psalm 46 was read and Miss Ruth Linn contributed a piano solo.

Mrs. Ross Jeffs read "A Deeper Note Than Victory." The cold of Oliver Cromwell and all that he did to organize victory, yet the outcome was in higher hands. He stressed Luther's psalm "The City of God Remaineth." In closing she read a prayer re the rock of everlasting strength. Judy McAdam sang "Thanks Dear Lord," with her mother, Mrs. Will McAdam, as accompanist.

Mrs. Clayton Thompson, of Hoard's, was introduced and gave a ten-minute address on "Peace." She quoted a poem defining the meaning of peace in the homes and said we must set the example for a happy home life, where there are common interests for every person in the family. She synopsized friendship in the home, community and the nation. A friendly spirit, recreation for our children with good supervision, a pride in our country and faith in the United Nations are all necessary. She presented some worthwhile thoughts on the theme.

Mrs. Will McAdam extended thanks for her message.

The host and hostess served light refreshments and the group enjoyed a friendly chat.

Nova Scotia Seaman Awarded Humane Society Silver Medal For Saving 18 of Trawler Crew

HAMILTON (CP) — A seaman who risked his life in boiling surf to save the lives of 18 crew members of a foundering trawler has been honored for bravery.

The Royal Canadian Humane Association, today announced award of its silver medal to Ernest Thornhill of West Dover, Halifax, N.S., the 36-year-old trawlerman in winter darkness swam 250 feet through the surf, climbed a cliff and secured a line when the Cape Agulhas, its radar equipment out of commission, went aground January 6 near Chebucto Head.

Rough seas prevented lifeboats being launched, but when Mr. Thornhill and the captain went in the trawler's bow they saw that their vessel was about 250 feet from a cliff.

BRAVE VOLUNTEER

Mr. Thornhill, carrying a line, dived into the water and crashed against a rock as he was swept inshore. But in about seven minutes he was clambering up the rocky cliff. Within 15 minutes of leaving the trawler he had secured a line.

Seventeen crew members and the captain went ashore on the line and reached safety only minutes before the vessel sank.

Mr. Thornhill was in hospital for several days recovering from a leg injury he suffered when he was dashed against the rock.

The association also announced the award for heroic acts of three bronze medals, including one to a 15-year-old girl, and 24 parchment certificates, many to teenagers.

DIVED INTO LOCK

Edward Taylor, 16 of Toronto (1 Hutton Avenue) gets a bronze medal for diving into a lock on the Severn River, near Washago, Aug. 9 and rescuing Lorraine Cook, 15, also of Toronto (41 Liggett avenue). Lorraine, a summer visitor suffered severe injuries when she struck projecting iron work as she fell 30 feet from the lock gates. Edward promptly dived in and held her head above the water until boats came to their rescue.

Patricia Power, 10, of Summerside, Bay of Islands, Nfld., won a bronze medal for rescuing Glenn Ruth, 14, on Feb. 11 when the ice on which they were skating gave way and he sank to his armpits. She dug her skates into the ice, lay down on the ice and pulled him clear.

Glen Allen Stuart, of Vancouver (2467 West 5th street) was awarded the bronze medal for rescuing a small girl from a blazing house at Harrison Lake, B.C., Nov. 21, 1953.

Driven back by smoke when he first tried to enter, he crawled on the floor to where he could hear a girl crying and dragged her to safety. Another baby perished in the fire.

OTHER AWARDS

Parchment certificates are awarded to:

Mrs. June Anderson of South Burnaby, (1439 Stride avenue) B.C., for rescuing Judy Joeanne Miranda from drowning at Anacis Pool, New Westminster, B.C., July 23.

Mabel Koochin, 15, of New Westminster, (220 Boyce Street) for rescuing Donna Miranda from drowning at the same time.

Kenneth McLennan, 11, of Port Coquitlam, B.C., (2259 Pitt River road) for saving Frances Matson from drowning in the Coquitlam River, July 21.

Eskimos Are Free From Injury Ready and 'Rarin' for Game

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Soggy field or not, Edmonton Eskimos settled down today to two days of hard drill before Saturday's Grey Cup football final in Toronto in which they hope to beat Montreal Alouettes for the third year in a row.

"This drizzle is still better than a frozen field out West," said coach Frank (Pop) Ivy. "All I hope is that it isn't freezing in Toronto for the game." If he was hinting at some strategy, he wouldn't admit it.

The Eskies are working out at the University of Western Ontario Stadium behind locked and guarded gates. Only a handful of sideliners, mostly college personnel, watched Tuesday's practice in the rain but Ivy wasn't altogether satisfied.

SPIES SPOTTED

For one thing, enterprising UWO engineering students had set up tripods in trees outside the stadium and trained glasses on the light-drilling Westerners in sweat shirts. A couple of others were spotted high in the stadium seats with binoculars.

"You never can tell, there might be some Alouette guys around and I don't want them," Ivy told UWO coach John McIrae, his best. McIrae promised a stiffer guard for today when scrimmaging will start in earnest.

The good-natured Ivy was a bit miffed when pressed about a byline newspaper story by Jackie Parker saying that he would stay in the halfback spot Saturday and London homebrew Don Getty would continue as quarterback.

"That's all conjecture," said Ivy. "We haven't decided yet."

Getty, a UWO star a few years ago, directed the Eskimos in their last two wins in the Western finals and threw four touchdown passes against Saskatchewan Roughriders last Saturday.

Parker had been moved to half to replace injured import Earl Lindley.

The 22-year-old Getty said Tuesday night: "I am not too worried about running the team in the Grey Cup. You can't go wrong on Pop Ivy's system behind the kind of a line we have."

A clue to observers was that Getty ran most of the plays in Tuesday's drill.

Ivy said his 29 players who are driving here—28 will be dressed for the game at Varsity Stadium in Toronto—are injury-free, and that now they are fairly well rested from the Roughriders series and the plane trip to London Monday night.

West. Ontario May Share in Grey Cup Glory

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Edmonton Eskimos are going to try to win the Grey Cup for the third time in a row against Montreal Alouettes Saturday, not only for Western Canada, but also for Western Ontario.

Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy of the Western Interprovincial football champions made that promise Tuesday night at an informal testimonial dinner sponsored by the London Lords and with the City of London as co-hosts.

He referred specially to sophomore quarterback Don Getty of London, a former University of Western Ontario star, who directed the Eskies in the last two games to the West title.

Ivy also referred to University of Western Ontario, whose field is being used by the Eskimos, and to Bill Smith and Hal Krebbs of the Lords, scheduled to move up to the Eskimos next year.

TEST AIR SIREN

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Monday heard the first test of its new air raid warning siren. Three separate blasts were sounded by the rotating siren, atop a building on downtown Yonge Street. Some citizens held their hands over their ears, some looked around for the source of the noise, but most just looked amused, officials said.

...I could scream!

Confidence Runs High In Larks' Nest; 'We're Going To Win This Time'

Sport Slices

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

NICE ONE TO WIN

Coach Bep Guidolin injected some second-and-third period Vitamin G into his McFarlands last night and they bounced back like a rubber check to whip the hunky Pembroke Lumber Kings 6-4 and climb into a second-place tie.

They looked loose around their own net in a late first-period and the Kings didn't pass up the opportunity to whip home two quick goals for a 3-1 lead. It was no fault of the new goalie, Gordie Bell.

They showed much better form in the second heat to cut the margin to 6-3, then in the third went all out on a pay-dirt offensive. Former Belleville goalie Roly Saranit stood between them and a larger score.

Experience showed plainly in Gordie Bell's first appearance in the Macs' net. He is as cool as a cucumber, always makes the second move, can clear the puck beautifully and can stickhandle. He also appeared to be a cooling influence on the rare occasions when McFarland tempers threatened to flare.

To their distinct credit the McFarlands used their heads, instead of losing them. Their cannon, experienced Kings tempted them on several occasions, but the Macs swallowed hard and refused to become involved in any penalty-getting altercations. Only once did they break out and it was nothing too serious.

The Macs' new defenceman "Bouncing Bernie" Lamonde caught the eye of the fans. Bernie is built like a bulldozer on two legs and uses his weight to advantage. At the moment he is liberally larded about the midriff but Guidolin has every intention of removing the surplus. When Bernie "unrounds" into shape he will be a distinct asset to the Macs' blueline division.

The front line of Guidolin, Minnie Menard and Paul Fayette took the offensive honors, each scoring a goal and getting assists. Paul won a well-deserved player of the night award with a fine all-round performance.

Now if they can repeat against Whitby tomorrow night . . .

NOT GOOD

A little while ago after his team had drubbed the Kingston CKCL's by a 10-1 score, the Whitby Dunlops' manager, Wren Blair, charged the Kingston club with playing "chicken hockey."

The best of clubs in any phase of sport have their off nights. Most of the teams in the Eastern Senior "A" League are not blessed with the consistency that has thus far featured the play of the Dunlops. The majority of sports writers in the circuit felt Blair was unfair in this type of criticism.

Kingston officials, scribes and fans were said to be in more or less of an uproar over the charge. They scarcely could be blamed.

Now what happens. According to a story in the Kingston paper the CKLC's on their Saturday night visit to Whitby were shy four defencemen, or practically the whole blueline corps. They were forced to pull Bob Landry out of retirement and use forwards Hub Macey and Toppazzini on the defence.

What happened that the entire blueline force was absent was not explained.

Unless there is a good reason, and it had better be a good one, some next explaining will have to be made by the Kingston club. This corner is not in a position to offer the right kind of criticism because it is not in possession of the true facts.

But if this is the idea of revenge for being charged with playing "chicken hockey," it smacks of poor sportsmanship. The Kingston team was decisively defeated 12-5 in what was a rout instead of a hockey game.

Max Jackson in his television program Monday night stated that "any club that draws an average of 3,000 in their home arena should field their strongest club in their away games." He also announced that a statement would be forthcoming from the CKCL's management regarding the situation.

Eastern Ontario hockey fans are being treated to the best hockey this season they have seen in years, if not in the puck-chasing history of this part of the province. The western division of the OHA senior "A" league has its eyes on its eastern brothers. They are watching with more than passing interest the development of senior "A" hockey down this way. Thus far, despite the fact that Whitby Dunlops are well out in front, the clubs are closely-knit in the league standings and fans all over the circuit are taking to the new brand of hockey with large doses of enthusiasm.

In a league as evenly balanced as this one, no team can afford to take chances with weakening its manpower. No club would try to do so unless the reasons were unavoidable, such as injuries, etc. If the four Kingston players stayed away deliberately then the management should take drastic disciplinary action. If not the league or the OHA might have something to say about it.

The "box-office" has been upped all over the circuit. Fandom wants to see good hockey and is willing to pay for it. But if the clubs are going to send half-a-team on their away junkets it could mean the death-knell of senior "A" hockey in the district almost before it is born.

The latest word is that the Kingston management has released outright players Nicholson and Irvine.

Are Determined to Avenge Two Setbacks by Edmonton; 'Owe This One to The Fans'

MONTREAL (CP)—If determination is the key, Montreal Alouettes may be able to break the Edmonton jinx Saturday in their third straight meeting with the Eskimos for the Grey Cup.

"We're going to beat them this time," said quarterback Sam Etcheverry after the Alouettes had run through another secret practice Tuesday night. Other players shared his determination to avenge two consecutive losses to the Eskimos.

"We owe this one to the Montreal fans," said soft-spoken Herb Trawick, 246-pound team captain who is the last remaining member of the original Alouettes.

"Since I came here in 1946 we've only won one Grey Cup," he said. "The fans have supported us wonderfully and I think we should win this one for them and all the boys feel the same way."

SEVEN YEAR WAIT

The Als' only Grey Cup victory was in 1949 over Calgary. Edmonton beat them 26-25 in 1954 on Jackie Parker's 85-yard touchdown run with less than four minutes left to play. Last year the Als bowed to the Eskimos 50-27 in Vancouver.

Although the Alouettes worked out in secret and will continue to do so for the rest of the week, it was not revealed that part of their practices have been devoted to finding a way to stop the strong Edmonton ground attack. The Esks rolled up a record of 440 yards in last year's game.

The Alouettes, with their attack based mainly on passing, are hoping for a dry field Saturday.

ESKIE LINE BETTER

Coach Doug Walker tried Tuesday night to compare this year's Edmonton team with last year's squad. Backfield coach Jimmy Dunn scouted Edmonton's last game of the season and all three of the playoff games against Saskatchewan and brought back a detailed report.

Walker said he thinks the Edmonton line is stronger than last year, despite the loss of centre Kurt Burris and tackle Dale Meinen. In both standouts in last year's Grey Cup game.

"But I don't think their backfield is quite as strong as last year, because of Jack Nei of Earl Lindley," Walker said.

Lindley, a two-way performer for the Eskimos, suffered a shoulder separation in the first game of the final series with Saskatchewan and will not be able to play.

END IN VITAL ROLE

Walker said the play of Montreal's defensive ends, Jim Miller and Mickey Mitchell, will be important to the outcome of the game.

The Alouettes reported they came out of last Saturday's game against Hamilton with only bumps and bruises.

Leo Dandurand, veteran Montreal sportsman and president of the Alouettes, said Tuesday he isn't as afraid of the Eskimos as he was of Hamilton. But, he cautioned, "that isn't a forecast of the outcome of the Grey Cup game."

Pegger to See Game on TV

WINNIPEG (CP)—Hotels here report a rush for accommodation this Saturday with only one question asked: "Have you got a TV set?"

The people seeking rooms are football fans who want to watch the Grey Cup game in Toronto. Winnipeg is the most westerly point on the Canadian microwave network to carry the game live. Fans are coming here from Port Arthur and Melville in Saskatchewan and Kenora, Fort Frances and Dryden in Ontario.

In 1954 and 1955 dozens of Winnipeg fans travelled to Fargo, N.D., to watch the game on television.

One large hotel here is putting on a buffet luncheon with easy chairs and TV sets in the ballroom with space for 200 guests. Several other hotels report from 40 to 100 guests registered and "more still coming."

Biltmores Edge Ottawa Canadiens In Overtime

(OTTAWA (CP) — An overtime goal by Brian Webber gave Guelph Biltmores of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A league a 6-5 Laurier Cup victory over Ottawa Junior Canadiens Tuesday night.

The Guelph win stopped Canadiens' unbeaten streak in the Laurier series at three games and was the victors' 10th win in 11 games this season.

Webber's goal, his second of the game, came at 2:35 of the sudden-death overtime period.

Ed Shack, Bill Sweeney, Gord Brown and Bob Robinson scored the other Guelph goals.

Ralph Backstrom scored twice for the Junior Habs while Bill Carter, Murray Balfour and Gerry Wilson tallied singles.

Y Basketball

The Little Hound Dogs won their first game Saturday by defeating the Honest Johns 22 to 17. The Hound Dogs outscored the Honest Johns in the first half with the half time score 12 to 4. Sparked by Captain Steve Wilson the Honest Johns started a terrific comeback in the second half but the score was too great to overcome and time ran out giving the victory to the Hound Dogs. Highscorers for the game were S. Wilson 15, J. Peoples 12 and L. Campbell 3.

The second game saw the "Y" clowns bow to defeat to the Nightriders in a fast, hard played game. The "Y" Clowns led up to half time but without substitutes they soon became tired and the Nightriders with a full team won 28 to 18. High scorers for this game were B. Martin 11, D. Skinner 8, and S. Muirhead 7.

Teams: Little Hound Dogs, 22, Capt. J. Peoples 12, B. Sickle 2, J. Clapp, L. Campbell 8, C. Reedell, L. Doxsee.

Honest John's 17 — Capt. S. Wilson 15, J. Fisher 2, H. MacDonald, N. Kinkaid, H. Bolton.

Nightriders 28 — Capt. D. Skinner 8, C. Moxam 6, R. Blakely 4, A. Hudson 2, S. Rendell, B. Vance 6, C. Ruttan 2.

"Y" Clowns 18 — Capt. S. Muirhead 7, B. McMartin 11, D. Shortt, G. Rainbird, H. Kinkaid.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Larks Band Won't See Game

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes' famous band and majorettes will go to Toronto but they can't see the Grey Cup game. They haven't tickets.

They can't even buy their way into Varsity Stadium. They have tried everywhere, willing to pay out of their own pockets. But they'll put on a show for Torontonians and visitors in the open-air centre of Union Station Friday evening.

Since the colorful organization came into existence two years ago this will be the first time the bandsmen and pretty majorettes have missed seeing the Grey Cup game.

The organization is sponsored by the Alouette Football Council, an organization of public-spirited citizens who support the club, and by a local brewery. They help pay the shot for the shows at every home stand and they're helping pay the shot for the trip to Toronto. But they can't buy tickets to get the red-and-white uniformed troupe into next Saturday's game.

ANNOYED AT TORONTO

"We're certainly annoyed," said J. G. Carrique, chairman of the council's band committee. "We have been trying to buy tickets even in Winnipeg and Regina . . .

"We feel we're making a mistake. All big games in the United States have the bands and majorette groups associated with the teams at the games."

Top musicians in Montreal make up the 50-piece band. Many of them are band leaders themselves, who conduct their bands on night clubs. They're all rated football fans. So are the 18 majorettes.

Friday evening at Union Station they'll give a "jazz concert." They will all march in the Grey Cup parade Saturday morning and will put on a pre-game show in Varsity Stadium.

Ten-Dollar Top

Tickets Scarcer Than Peace Scalpers Asking $75 Per

TORONTO (CP)—Grey Cup fans just won't take "no" for an answer in their quest for a pair of the 28,485 costly and colorful tickets to the big game Saturday.

Those lucky enough to get them will pay a $10 top to watch Montreal Alouettes and Edmonton Eskimos in their third consecutive battle in the East-West classic.

Official ticket prices range from $5 to $10. Scalpers are asking as much as $75 for a ducat.

Everybody and his uncle seems to be short of tickets," says Harry McBrien, secretary of the Canadian Rugby Union, the body responsible for ticket allocation.

"I don't know if that's because they're really short or because they want more than they're entitled to."

HYSTERIA IN OFFICE

Lew Hayman, managing director of Toronto Argonauts, was out of town and office manager George Stockwell had a hint of hysteria in his voice Tuesday when asked how ticket sales were going.

"The situation is really good," he said. "Send down a photographer; it's quite a picture. I was half asleep when this started and now I'm going all the way. There's a crowd camping at my door and you're taking up precious time and stopping progress. Goodbye, please."

He said Argos' 2,750 tickets were all gone. The fans couldn't seem to believe it.

Jim McAffrey, president of Ottawa Rough Riders and past president of the CRU, said he came to Toronto a week ahead of the game to escape the deadening which comes up every Grey Cup week.

"I've had three long-distance calls from Ottawa in the last five minutes, all wanting tickets. And I got out of town to get away from it all."

He said Ottawa's 1,750 tickets were allotted on a priority basis after the directors and players "have taken care of."

"The tickets are all gone," he said.

Jake Gaudaur, president of Hamilton Tiger - Cats, said his club's tickets go out today.

"We allot our tickets on a priority basis—the first person to buy a season's ticket in 1950 when the club was formed gets the first Grey Cup ticket. We haven't even enough tickets to service the people who have supported the team since 1950. Even fans who came along in 1951 and stuck with us ever since are out of luck and they just can't seem to understand it . . . You may say the demand is brisk."

EDMONTON BAND

EDMONTON (CP) — Fifty-five members of the Edmonton schoolboys' band will take part in Grey Cup celebrations Saturday in Toronto, the public school board has decided.

McFarlands Vault Into Second-Place Tie With 6-4 Win Over Pembroke

Spot Foemen Two in First Whittle Margin in Second; Take Over With 3 in Third

By GEORGE H. CARVER
Sports Editor

Bep Guidolin's McFarlands bounced back in a furious third-period offensive to win a clean-cut 6-4 victory over the Pembroke Lumber Kings before 1500 fans here last night.

Down 3-1 after a loosely-played first period, the McFarlands outscored the Kings 3-1 in the second heat, then went all out to score three unanswered goals in the third period to grab the victory.

The victory gave the Macs a second-place tie with the Ottawa Canadiens in the Eastern Ontario Senior "A" League standing. They meet Whitby on the latter's ice tomorrow night and entertain the Cornwall Cheerios here on Friday.

In a hard - checking fast skating game, Referee Art Casterton handed out sixteen penalties, six of them to the Kings. The MacFarlands showed plenty of restraint and as a result stayed on the ice in a game that could have been rough and rugged. The only untoward incident came when Keith MacDonald and Campbell of the Kings started a pushing match that resulted in each getting a minor and a major.

The MacFarlands did not greet their new goalie Gordie Bell with the tightest defence work in the world in the first period. They went one on then lapsed in some of their nets allowing the Kings to drive home three tallies, four on them within a minute at the end of the period.

They tightened up in the second frame driving home two goals to a single return but their best effort came in the third period when they unleashed a sustained all-out offensive that was good for three goals and no replies. Roly Sarault in the Kings nets played brilliantly and thwarted every MacFarland sortie on his citadel.

The MacFarlands see line of Guidolin, Minnie Menard and Paul Payette stole the scoring thunder accounting for eight points between them. Each got a goal with Menard and Payette drawing two assists and Guidolin one. Keith MacDonald, Maurice Bentz and Floyd Crawford were the other MacFarland trigger men. The Macs outshot the Kings 36-29 on the night's play.

The Giesebrecht brothers looked the best for the Kings up front but Clark, Simoneau, Scott and Maxwell were the goal-getters.

The Macs started off like a house afire and for the first part of the period had the better of play with Sarault playing brilliantly. Keith MacDonald blasted the first score of the game taking Dotley's pass near the goalmouth.

MacDonald and Campbell drew their double penalties, and had scarcely returned when Clark fired a hard shot from left wing to tie the count. The MacFarland defence was sloppy and slow in clearing. The second Pembroke goal was rather fluky Simoneau making a wild backhand stab going away, that caught the puck and drove it into the net. Forty-five seconds later with the Macs defence still threatening a little Maxwell slipped the rubber into the net with a screened drive.

Paul Payette with one of the prettiest goals of the night cut the margin to 3-2 after two minutes in the second heat, teaming neatly with Menard for the tally. Guidolin was alone but Sarault outguessed him. A minute later Scott went in on the MacFarland defence and drove a screened drive past Bell to widen the margin to 4-2. That ended the scoring for the Kings.

Midway through the period Minnie Menard was fed a beautiful pass by Payette and the left winger made no mistake with a hard drive.

Minnie and Jack Giesebrecht both went off for highsticking to start the third period but no damage was done. Bell came up with some fine saves then Menard got the nod for the second time.

With a man advantage the Kings raced to the attack and gave Bell some busy moments. Then Murdoch set Benoit broke away and the centre fed Maurice a beautiful pass behind the blueline. He heaved in, hesitated in front of the goal then fired home the tying marker.

Midway through the heat with the clubs battling desperately for the tiebreaker Crawford rolled the puck to the goal line and in the scramble rolled into the net to give the Macs a goal advantage.

The Kings tore back in a desperation drive but the Macs defence had slackened and with Bell standing out the visitors were held scoreless. With eight minutes to go Guidolin and Payette teamed in a beautiful criss-cross combination that resulted in the coach driving the puck into the net for the insurance marker.

The Macs kept up the pressure and a penalty to the Kings' Marshall at 17.17 reduced their offensive power and any chances they had of pulling the game out of the fire.

Rangers Play Better When Tossing Weight

Phil Watson's latest venture into figures: Jotting down the number of bodychecks thrown by his National Hockey League players.

It seems Rangers play better hockey when they toss their weight around. Boston, Ranger coach, wants to make sure his boys get a little tougher on the opposition.

It wasn't so long ago that Watson figured he could get the Rangers among the league leaders by telling each player the number of goals he was expected to score. He told the team it would have to cut down the number of goals scored by the enemy. The Rangers haven't been producing enough goals so Watson has started working on checks.

OPTIMISM HIGH

"I think I have the solution now to our problems," Phil said Tuesday as he prepared Rangers for their game against Toronto Maple Leafs in New York tonight.

"Two games back I started keeping track of the number of times our players handed out bodychecks. Then I showed the players the figures after the game. And you know what? My chart shows that we play our best hockey when we hit. The players know it now."

Phil is miffed because Rangers are fifth in the league race.

"We're definitely a third- or fourth-place club," he said, "and haven't won a game since I recently sent three players down to Providence. I thought I was strengthening the team. . . . some of the players I got will give confidence in by keeping them on the team have let me down. . . ."

FRAISES NEW LINE

Rangers dropped six straight games, but they have tied their last two. Although not happy about the performances of some of his players, Watson is elated about others. His best line, he says, is composed of Red Sullivan, Parker MacDonald and Jerry Foley.

Leafs and Rangers meet in the only game of the night. Rangers have 11 points, three behind the fourth-place Leafs. Toronto is five points behind the third-place Montreal Canadiens. Boston Bruins lead with 24 points, two more than Montreal Canadiens. Chicago Black Hawks are last with eight points.

Three games are scheduled for Thursday night. Canadiens are at Chicago, Leafs go to Detroit and Rangers meet Bruins in Boston.

Don Newcombe Edges Maglie For National League's MVP

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Don Newcombe, whose 27 victories made him the biggest Brooklyn winner in 32 years, was voted today the most valuable player in the National League for 1956 by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The big righthander edged out his mound mate, Sal Maglie, by a scant 40 points in one of the most spirited MVP races in recent years.

The 30-year-old Newcombe, who lost only seven games all season and but two of his last 20 decisions, topped the list with 223 points. His sub-par world series performance—he was knocked out of the box in both starts—did not figure in the balloting.

Maglie, who won 13 games including a no-hitter while losing only five after joining the Dodgers in mid-May, was second with 183 points. Then came Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, 146, and Warren Spahn, 128. Junior Gilliam, another Dodger, rounded out the first five with 103 points.

Brooklyn players dominated the first-place voter. Big Newk, the only man whose name appeared on all the ballots, received eight. Maglie and Gilliam got four each. Roy McMillan, Cincinnati's spectacular shortstop who wound up a strong sixth with 96 points, and pitcher Pee Wee Reese, the Dodgers' ageless captain, had three first-place votes apiece. One each went to Spahn, the grand old veteran, and Brooklyn's Duke Snider.

Not a single vote was given to Roy Campanella, who captured his third MVP award last year.

Only one rookie was honored in the voting. He is Frank Robinson, the Redlegs' slugging left fielder, who placed seventh with 79 points. Reese was eighth, Stan Musial, St. Louis, was ninth and Snider 10th.

Duke Will Open Olympics Before Sellout Crowd 110,000

MELBOURNE (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh will open the 16th Olympic Games Thursday—before a sellout 110,000 and there is hope Melbourne's nasty spring weather will turn to warm sunshine.

The dissension that has plagued the Games from the start seems to have subsided away amid final preparations for the stately ceremony.

More than 4,000 athletes from 68 countries will compete in 16 sports between now and Dec. 8. Major honors are expected to go to the United States and Russia, with Australia and Italy gunning for third place in the unofficial point standings.

For the last seven years, the Melbourne Games have been the center of controversy. At the start they were a political football and preparations were so slowed Avery Brundage, International Olympic Committee president, threatened to take the games to another country. Then, in recent weeks, the political situation in the Middle East and Hungary brought the withdrawal of seven nations.

But to the throngs on the gilly-decorated streets of Melbourne all this was forgotten today.

The ceremonies begin at 3 p.m. Australian time Thursday (mid-night EST tonight) when the Duke of Edinburgh enters the great oval of the Melbourne Cricket Club and service bands play the National Anthem.

Then will come the march of athletes in their uniforms and many colors—with team officials, a total of 5,800 men and women.

As thousands of pigeons are released, the duke will read the simple words that start the two sports festival:

"I declare open the Olympic Games of Melbourne celebrating the 16th Olympiad of the modern era."

He travelled 13,000 miles from London to reach the 16 words.

TORCH CEREMONY

Then will come the dramatic arrival of the Olympic torch that was kindled at Mount Olympus in Greece and brought by plane to Australia. From Darwin to Melbourne it was carried by 2,850 athletes, each running one mile. Who will have the honor of bringing it in to the stadium and setting afire the big bronze torch has not—following traditions—been announced. The torch will burn day and night until the Games are over.

A choir of 2,000 will sing the Olympic hymn.

There will be a brief dedicatory address by the Archbishop of Melbourne, and then the singing of the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah.

With the flagbearers of all nations forming a semi-circle on each side of the rostrum, an Australian athlete—also as yet undesignated — will pronounce the Olympic oath on behalf of all competitors.

RUSSIA VS. CANADA

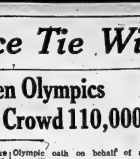
Old Slava the Queen will be played again, and the athletes will march out. Actual competition begins at 8 p.m. (5 a.m. EST Thursday) when Korea meets Nationalist China in basketball. Russia plays Canada in the second game of the evening.

Full - scale competition starts Friday in track and field, fencing, the modern pentathlon, rowing, field hockey, soccer, weightlifting, and boxing.

Every effort is made by Olympic officials to discourage the tabulation of points on a national basis, but traditionally they are kept unofficially on a basis of 10 for each gold medal, and 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 for the next five places.

The United States barely edged Russia at the 1952 Games in Helsinki, although the American track and field team won an amazing 11 first places.

Player Asks Another Chance



CHICAGO (AP) — Quarterback Lamar McHan has pleaded for another chance with Chicago Cardinals after the club indefinitely suspended him for "insubordination" and fined him $3,000—largest assessment in National Football League history.

The Cardinals said they fined McHan after he told his teammates that he "didn't feel like playing today" at the outset of the game with the Steelers in Pittsburgh Sunday.

The Cardinals, with McHan eventually playing more than half the game, lost 14-7.

The suspension followed McHan's refusal to work out with the team at Comiskey Park Tuesday.

Head coach Ray Richards said McHan will continue to work out with the club and if he merits the opportunity to be reinstated, he will be.

Senior A Hockey

It took veteran Buck Forslund, 13 games to score three goals in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series. He matched that output last night in 45 minutes and 55 seconds.

Forslund fired three goals and picked up an assist to lead Owen Sound Mercurys to a surprising 9-5 victory over Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen. It was only the third win in 14 engagements for Mercurys, tailenders in the association's Western division.

Nearly 1,000 fans at Owen Sound saw Dutchmen, in second place behind Stratford Indians, suffer their fifth loss.

In the Eastern section, Belleville McFarlands moved into a tie for second place with a 6-4 win over Pembroke Lumber Kings before 1,324 customers.

In the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A Southern group, Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Indians moved to within two points of third spot by defeating the leading North Bay Trappers 5-2. Sault Peewee Perkins beat Kapuskasing Huskies 5-3 in a Porcupine Mines senior game.

SCORING SPLURGE

At Owen Sound, Forslund beat goaltender Bobby Gillson at 3:39 of the first period. He scored his second at 2:38 of the third and finished off at 14:54.

Tom Wilson and Arnold Smith each scored twice for Mercurys. Ken Douglas and Jack Stoddard added the others. Gerry Theberge picked up two Kitchener goals, with Ken Laufman, Ralph Hosking and Harry Paulka getting singles.

Laufman also registered four assists.

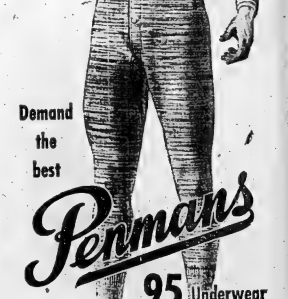
At Belleville, McFarlands came up with three unanswered goals in the third period to overpower the Lumber Kings. Paul Payette, Minnie Menard, Keith McDonald, Bep Guidolin, Maurice Benoit and Floyd Crawford scored for the winners. Bobby Clarke, Ray Simoneau, Jim Maxwell and Harry Scott were the Pembroke marksmen.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Joe Maio and Gordie Heale each tallied twice to lead the Indian attack. Laurie Peterson accounted for the other goo goal. Bob Barlow and Eddie Reigle scored for North Bay.

The turnout of 815 fans was the smallest in five years at the Soo, Mich. Trapper goaltender Dennis Brodeur suffered a knee injury at 5:28 of the second period and defenseman Fiori Georgetti volunteered to put on the pads and finish the game.

Paulks regained first place with their win at South Porcupine. Bill Leonard, Eddie Feder, Gordie McGinn, Lina Dimarchi and Doug Hunter fired goals for Porkies. Steve Russak, Scrappy Richardson and Ted McCaskill registered the Husky goals.

Pembroke is at Kingston tonight in the OHA eastern division and Chatham at Stratford in the western section.



In the NOHA, North Bay is at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Belleville Lamberts Edge RMC 4-3 To Win First OHA Junior B Tussle

The Belleville Lambert Juniors fired two unanswered goals in the third period in Gananoque to shade Royal Military College 4-3 last night in their opening game of the Eastern Ontario OHA Junior "B" League.

It marked the third time in the game that Belleville had overcome an RMC deficit. The clubs traded goals in the initial period but RMC went ahead 3-2 in the middle session, setting up the Lamberts' rally.

Leo St. Denis fired the tying marker, his second of the contest, in a solo effort at 11.14 of the third.

The clock read 11.56 when Gary Rowbotham tallied the winner. He took passes from brother Chuck and Ab Wright to bang the disc by Morton in the RMC net.

The game was evenly fought all the way with few penalties marring activities. Referees Stan Scrutton and Eddie Dean assessed only five minor penalties with the honors club drawing the odd one.

Coaves opened the scoring at 1.20 to give RMC a 1-0 lead with Argue and Stein drawing assists. Belleville battled back and finally knotted the score with just over a minute remaining in the period. St. Denis scoring on Gary Rowbotham's assist.

The teams traded goals early in the second period. Richardson made it 2-1 for RMC at 4.56 but a retaliatory penalty at 5.22 to Fryer gave Belleville a man advantage. Bill Foster fed the puck at 5.34 with St. Denis earning an assist. Sheridan potted the Stirlers' final goal for a 3-2 lead at 18.15 and that's the way it stayed until the third period.

Leo St. Denis topped the Lambert scorers, firing a brace of goals and assisting on a third. Gary Rowbotham had one and one, assisting the winner while Bill Foster got the odd goal. Wright and Chuck Rowbotham had assists.

Coaves, Richardson and Sheridan were the RMC marksmen with assists going to Steiner, McCullough, Stein and Argue.

The Lamberts play host to RMC next Tuesday night in Belleville Memorial Arena, their first home date.

Jack Gilby is the Belleville pilot, and Morton of RMC, turned in fine performance.

Line-ups:

Belleville — Gilby, Irwin, Skerlo, St. Louis, St. Denis, Foster, Wright, Gill, G. Rowbotham, C. Rowbotham, Garrison, Thomas, Reynolds, Fraser, Culloden.

RMC — Morton, Kells, Rochester, Argue, Couves, Stein, Fryer, Steiner, McCullough, Lamb, Richardson, Sheridan, McQuiggan.

Referees — Stan Scrutton and Eddie Dean.

Name Patterson Top Player Of Season

TORONTO (CP)—Hal Patterson of Montreal Alouettes' brilliant pass-catching end and defensive halfback, has been selected by a group of sports writers and broadcasters as Canada's outstanding football player this season.

The former University of Kansas star edged out quarterback Jackie Parker of Edmonton Eskimos in a close vote, in a poll conducted for the Canadian Schenley Awards.

Patterson, who caught 88 passes to lead the receivers in the Big Four, won a $1,000 Canada savings bond, a trophy, a diamond tie bar and a plaque.

A solid eastern vote won the award for the 24-year-old Patterson. The vote in the West was split with 15 per cent picking Parker, formerly with Mississippi State, and 25 per cent Patterson.

It is the third straight season that a Montreal player was named as the outstanding player. Quarterback Sam Etcheverry was chosen in 1954 and halfback Pat Abbruzzi last year.

AT THE PARK — James Stewart and June Allyson are heart-warming husband and wife team in Paramount's "Strategic Air Command" in VistaVision and color by Technicolor opening at Park and at the Park Theatre. The same program "Thunder Over Arizona" in Naturama and Trucolor. The big outdoor attraction features Skip Homeier, Kristine Miller, George Macready and Wallace Ford. "Thunder Over Arizona" is a first Belleville showing.

Ray Anthony Is Versatile Bandsman, Leader, Now Actor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD. (AP) — Ray Anthony has taken a tip from big business. He's diversifying.

Diversification in a two-bit band is a practice many big companies have employed in recent years. Instead of putting all their eggs in one basket, the firms get into a variety of enterprises.

Anthony decided two years ago that he needed to do more than merely front a band.

"The music business has changed a great deal in recent years," he reasoned. "In the old days you could make a lot of money in 'locations'—lengthy stands in big city ballrooms.

"Nowadays there are no locations. You can still make money in the band business, but you've got to keep traveling 52 weeks of the year. The money has to be split in parties and one-night stands."

TOOK ACTING LESSONS

Such a life might be all right for a youngster enamored with the music business. But Anthony is a hardy veteran of buses and one-nighters. He has spent 17 years on him these days. Small wonder, when it contains Mamie Van Doren and their new young ster.

"After I appeared in Daddy-Long Legs, I decided I'd better branch out," the band leader explained. "So far two years I took acting lessons, singing lessons, some dancing and even a memory course. That helped me in remembering lines and lyrics; I could memorize music on first reading, but the words of songs stumped me."

His studies have paid off. He's now appearing on his own TV show every night over ABC. He recently finished a role in The Girl Can't Help It with Jayne Mansfield, Tom Ewell and Edmond O'Brien. Now he's acting in "The Best of the Night with Jean Simmons and Paul Douglas.

All this other activity doesn't mean that Anthony has given up the band business.

"I plan to go out and play two or three weeks a few times each year. But I hope I never have to go back to the long tours."

AT THE McCARTHY — Family Terry Moore, Elizabeth Kenyon, Jim Hutton and Geraldine Brooks in "Between Heaven and Hell" opening Thursday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. Broderick Crawford and Buddy Ebsen also featured.

Bowler Rolled High Triple of 1,023 But He Had Two Artificial Legs

WINNIPEG (CP)—At a bowling alley here recently Ted Elliott put together games of 393, 385 and 245 for a triple of 1,023, the highest three-game total marked up in the city so far this year. This is a good figure in any man's book, but it was a standout for Elliott—he has artificial legs.

Elliott lost both legs below the knee during the Second World War. He was wounded early in 1945 when in Italy with Lord Strathcona's Horse, a tank unit with the 5th Armored Division.

Elliott and his unit were to be relieved of duty for rest in Rome. Just before they were due to leave word came that enemy forces had broken through Allied lines and every available man was needed to stop them.

Elliott and his tank crew headed for the trouble spot but before they reached it an enemy shell knocked the tank out of action.

None of the crew was injured but as they ran for shelter Elliott was struck in the legs by a bazooka bomb.

A husky six-footer in his 30s, he returned to the bandstage size him from continuing an active life when he returned to civilian life.

He is a business machine mechanic for a Winnipeg department store. He was married in 1949 and has one daughter.

Elliott's artificial limbs did not permit him to go on playing hockey, baseball and softball. Prior to the war he had bowled a little but in 1947 he took it up seriously. Since 1949 his average has never slipped below 200.

Now one of the top bowlers in Winnipeg he takes part in all events sponsored by the city five pin bowling association.

NHL Goalies

TORONTO (CP) — Al Rollins, lanky netminder of Chicago Black Hawks, performed some heroic acrobatic work in the National Hockey League last week to improve his average in the efficiency ratings for goaltenders.

The other goalkeepers, however, lost ground. In nine games, 68 goals were scored, an average of more than seven a game.

Rollins stopped 101 of the 111 shots fired at him for a .910 average on the week, which boosted his season's mark to .908 and shoved him into fifth place in the ratings.

Jacques Plante of Montreal Canadiens remained on the injury list—for the second straight week but his average of .951 is still tops. Gerry McNeil, Plante's replacement, had the roughest time of any goalie, gave up 13 goals, including eight in one game to Detroit, for .870. Wings' his average is .879 for the eight games he has played.

SAWCHUK SECOND

Glenn Hall of Wings lost second place to Boston's Jack Gelineau. Sawchuk, Hall allowed 11 goals in 95 shots, lowering his season's record 10 points to .906.

Sawchuk and Lorne Worsley of New York Rangers each stopped 33 of 103 shots, leaving Sawchuk with a .928 percentage and Worsley fourth with .912.

Toronto Maple Leafs' Ed Chadwick dropped to last place among six regulars as he was beaten 14 times out of 93 shots. His season's rating fell 13 points to .896.

Fielder Tops Western League

SEATTLE (AP)—Guyle Fielder of Seattle Americans continued his week to make a runaway of the Western Hockey League individual scoring race.

The Seattle ace ran his total points to 37, which was 11 ahead of his closest rival. His 28 assists doubled the number for any of the other leading scorers.

Statistics for games up to and including Nov. 17 show Ray Kinasewich, Seattle, and Del Pinney, Calgary, were tied for second spot with total points with 26. Kinasewich's 13 goals topped that department.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, Nov. 22, 1956

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Highly-stimulating mental vibrations from most planets. New and familiar matters, big undertakings and lesser tasks equally honored. You can make good if you try.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Your Venus among favorably aspected planets. Have good cheer; you can make this a "red letter" period if you combine your talents and good judgment. Have no regrets.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Mercury, Moon and Sun auspicious for your special capabilities and the many fields in which you can advance. Private matters, business and every day interests highly sponsored.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — You are on a fortunate planetary list, too. Get quickly at your program, let nothing interfere with sound accomplishment. Seemingly unimportant details may help along the bigger projects.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — A generous, prosperous outlook. Be a go-getter but, at the same time, be just, reasonable. Unusual benefits should accrue if you put forth your best efforts.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — You will undoubtedly be acquisitive, eager to learn, and apply that learning now. Aspects favor new business, finances, teaching, study, the arts, industry, trades, too. Fine rays!

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra)—Forget annoyances, worries. Get into your working clothes and show what you can accomplish. Advantages are promising. Employee, employer, student, teacher, technician: Advance!

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — Deal with those in authority; build, repair and improve where, what you can. This should be a progressive, remunerative time for sound planning, good work. Honors! Labor rewarded.

November 23 to December 21 — (Sagittarius) — Fresh advantages, new leads of value, gains through sensible cooperation. Infiltrate. There's abundant planetary help for the sincere, capable you.

December 22 to January 20 — (Capricorn) — The truly difficult in most lines of endeavor should be favored more smoothly. Government interests, weighty conferences, agreements among the many encouraged activities.

January 21 to February 19 — (Aquarius) — Repairs, building, railroad and other construction under new favor. Science, trades, professions honored. Hasty actions or decisions not advised.

February 20 to March 20 — (Pisces) — Have care in confidential matters, handling chemicals, oil, medicines, etc. You can push ahead faster in other lines — familiar matters, household affairs, organization work. Good rays!

You born today are interesting, clever, determined. You are often dilatory about your own advancement but can and usually will catch up and do an excellent job. Scorpio - Sagittarius cuspals (you born at the change of Signs) have unlimited talents, strength, fine mental ability. Who needs more? Use these God-given assets honorably and progressively each day and you will have the right kind of success as well as contentment. Give health proper attention and take well earned rest and relaxation.

BIG NON-ATOMIC BLAST

LAKESIDE, Utah (AP)—Construction crews set off 500,000 pounds of explosives Tuesday, ripping more than 1,000,000 tons of rock off a cliffside in one of the largest non-atomic blasts in history. The Southern Pacific Railroad said the blasted rock in construction of a 12-mile fill across the Great Salt Lake.

CAMPNEY

The men have received inoculations and are expected to go on receiving word from Gen. Burns.

The cabinet order said movement of the 1st Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles, now stationed at Halifax, where the aircraft carrier Magnificent is berthed, has been "deferred."

The deferment, taken on General Burns' advice, would last until "reconsideration of the detailed requirements of the force permits him to determine where and when the battalion can best be used."

DOES NOT KNOW

Prime Minister St. Laurent, questioned by reporters after the cabinet meeting, said he does not know when the Queen's Own would move. He was awaiting word from Gen. Burns.

Gen. Burns ...

There have been reports that Egyptian Premier Nasser had agreed to let Canadian combatant troops in the UN force keep control of the similarity of their uniforms and those of the United Kingdom Army. Another reason was Canada's membership in the Commonwealth.

Questioned on the reports, Mr. St. Laurent said Canada "can't" with the UN, not with Premier Nasser.

At Ilyden, Gen. Burns was quoted as saying Egypt had accepted the presence of UN troops and therefore must accept Canadians as members of the UN force.

RAISES DOUBTS

Mr. St. Laurent also raised doubts whether the Magnificent would be used as a floating base for the force as suggested by Gen. Burns now is thinking in terms of a land base in Egypt, he said.

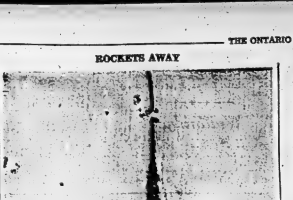
Army and navy authorities said they had no orders to move the Magnificent or the battalion. However, it appeared likely that if Egypt's opposition to the presence of Canadian combat troops could be overcome, the 900-man battalion might eventually be moved to the Middle East theatre it was moved to the east coast in a three-day train trip.

Experienced RCAF transport officers are heading up the overseas operation.

VETERAN PILOTS

Group Capt. Morrison and Wing Cmdr. Masters are both veteran bomber pilots of the Second World War. Both completed five operational tours and hold the Distinguished Flying Cross. Group Capt. Morrison also holds the Distinguished Service Order.

Ferrying aircraft across the Atlantic is old stuff for RCAF Squadron 435.



Men of the 435 flew over western Germany of 1944, when the squadron was set up, stepny Barnes, the record Himalayas, and the vast Canadian Arctic.

The squadron was formed in England during the late stages of the Second World War to parachute supplies to British troops on the Berlin line in Western Germany. It also did a short stint in Burma, flying from the "hump" of the Himalayas supplying Allied troops.

CALL OFF HUNT

DETROIT (CP)—Search for a missing jet trainer with two marines aboard was called off Tuesday. The plane disappeared Thursday in the Lake St. Clair district after reporting it was in trouble on a flight from Dallas, Tex. No trace of the plane or the flyers was found.

ROCKETS AWAY

Fifth in a series of rockets fired from a new launching tower on the tundra near Fort Churchill, Man., a military base 610 miles north of Winnipeg, a United States Aerobee-hi rocket streaks into clear sky for a journey 130 miles into space. Officials said firing was "perfect." Test is part of International Geophysical Year. This photo was taken by Earl F. Gessell of the White Sands, N.M., Signal Corps Agency. (CP Photo).

Canadian Commerce Chamber Hits Federal Hospital Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Chamber of Commerce today told Prime Minister St. Laurent it is opposed to the federal government's hospital insurance proposals.

Such a plan would lead inevitably to compulsory health insurance of a comprehensive nature and to state medicine," the chamber said in its annual submission to the cabinet.

"... Any financial assistance provided by the federal government should be directed to those areas in which the individual is presently unable to help himself, by reason of indigency, the aged, the chronically ill and to those who suffer catastrophic medical expenses."

The chamber, representing more than 270 boards of trade and chambers of commerce, was referring to federal proposals to share with the provinces the costs of a hospital insurance plan as the first step toward a wider health insurance program.

Its comments on the hospital insurance plan highlighted a wide-ranging 20-point brief in which the chamber said corporation and personal income taxes are too high and urged that active government participation in business be curtailed and kept to a minimum.

On business and trade, the chamber said it is "opposed in all state interventions and controls beyond those clearly necessary to protect some accurately defined public interest."

In foreign trade there should be a minimum of government buying and selling of commodities.

The functions of all existing crown corporations should be reviewed by an independent agency established by Parliament.

The chamber said a Canadian population of 23,000,000 by 1975 is a desirable goal but Canada is likely to fall far short of this without a more aggressive policy to bring in more immigrants. Immigration from the United States should be encouraged.

Dealing with agriculture, the chamber said producers should not be compelled to participate in governmental marketing agencies. It urged a uniform plan for agricultural credit on a national basis.

The chamber's submission included these other points:

Defence efforts should not be raised until there are definite and concrete gains in international tension. The strength of reserve forces was inadequate to meet a national emergency. If there was not more support for Canada's voluntary system of forces recruiting, it would fail.

Federal and provincial governments should seek agreement on uniform time observances to avoid confusion from varied observances of Daylight and Standard Time.

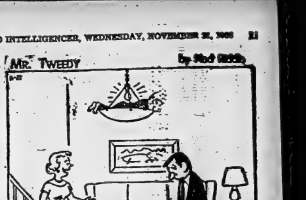
Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' examinations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while results relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.



And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "I'm free at last!" "Gone completely!" "Can't believe it!"

How was this new healing substance found? It was discovered by a famous research institute. Best of all, results of the most extensive clinical tests on record were announced.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

NORWEGIAN

In Amman, Parliament urged without a dissenting vote that Jordan end its military subsidy alliances with Britain and establish relations with Russia and Communist China. The military alliance stemmed from the First World War, when Britain fostered the creation of the Arab Kingdom. Pro-Egyptian candidates won a majority in Jordan's Oct. 21 elections, and it was believed then that the ending of the agreement was only a matter of time.

Jordan's Premier Suleiman Nabulsi said in an interview that Jordan will establish diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union "when it suits" Jordan's interests. But he added: "We will do our best not to become Communists."

Reports from Lebanon said widespread violence had erupted in Beirut, and Lebanese army was called out to restore order. Tanks were reported patrolling Beirut's streets after the French-owned bank of Syria and Lebanon was bombed by unidentified persons.

REPORT ATTEMPTS

Syrian newspapers earlier reported two unsuccessful attempts to blow up the Lebanese presidential palace and the foreign ministry building in Beirut.

Lebanon's government has been embroiled in a crisis since the British-French invasion of Egypt. Premier Abdullah Yafil resigned last week when President Camille Chamoun refused to agree to his demands that Lebanon sever relations with Britain and France. The violence in the Lebanese capital appeared to be directed at Chamoun as well as British and French properties in Beirut.

In Damascus, the Syrian government announced the cancellation of all contracts with British and French companies, and barred the piping of oil through Syria for western Europe.

The move appeared to be a first step in breaking off economic relations with Britain and France. Syria severed diplomatic relations with the two Western powers a few weeks ago.

ANGRY CONSERVATIVES THREATEN REVOLT

Family Of Four Asphyxiated In Eastview Home

All Dead on Arrival At Hospital in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — A man his wife and two of their children were fatally gassed in their suburban Eastview apartment home after the mother apparently made a vain attempt to save them by turning off the hissing gas jet on a kitchen stove.

Dead are Gordon Dubien and his wife, a daughter, Shirley, 14, and a son, Joseph Gordon, nine.

Police said the father was found sprawled across a bed, fully clothed. The children were found in their beds in pyjamas.

The body of the mother, clad in a dressing gown, was found in front of the kitchen gas range, with her head turned toward it.

A spokesman for the utility company supplying the gas said no gas jets were on when firemen and police got to the scene, summoned by neighbor Edward Phillips who awoke and smelled gas in the apartment building. Investigators said there were no leaks in the gas system.

Police suggested that Mrs. Dubien, or some other member of the family may have accidentally brushed open a gas jet as they passed the stove sometime during the night. They said they believe Mrs. Dubien may have awakened some time later and, realizing gas was escaping, staggered into the kitchen in a last ill effort before she collapsed.

Sinclair Denies B.C. Premier's Political Charge

OTTAWA (CP) — Premier Bennett of British Columbia has accused Fisheries Minister Sinclair of a "cheap political manoeuvre." But Mr. Sinclair says his action was "perfectly proper."

The subject under discussion was Mr. Sinclair's announcement Wednesday of a federal - B.C. agreement on the route of the trans-Canada highway in the westernmost province.

The Social Credit premier, who has been discussing B.C. matters with several cabinet ministers for the last three days, told reporters Wednesday night that Mr. Sinclair had violated an understanding between Mr. Bennett and Trade Minister Howe that nothing would be announced until the matter had gone through cabinet.

Mr. Sinclair's announcement said the two governments had agreed the trans-Canada highway in B.C. will be extended across Vancouver harbor through Mr. Sinclair's Coast-Capilano constituency.

SHARE COSTS

It will involve federal participation in a new bridge across the Fraser River and in the second narrows bridge being built by the provincial government from Vancouver to North Vancouver.

Bridge and highway costs—estimated by Mr. Bennett at more than $20,000,000—are to be shared 50-50 by the two governments. It was understood the plan is to go to the cabinet today.

Said Mr. Bennett:

"The announcement by Mr. Sinclair is a straight political one. We resent this, at a time when we are trying to establish good relations with Ottawa."

Said Mr. Sinclair:

"It is perfectly proper for the B.C. federal minister to announce federal participation in these projects."

Trade Minister Howe said he and the B.C. premier had an arrangement that neither of them would make an announcement at the moment.

He said he had not discussed the matter with Mr. Sinclair but it was "understandable" that the fisheries minister could announce it.

FOLKLORE GRANT

NEW YORK (CP) — Professor Luc Lacourciere, of Laval University, Quebec City, was awarded a $6,000 grant by the Rockefeller Foundation to study French-Canadian folklore, it was announced Wednesday.

Wife: "It would be cheaper than moving."

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: Fresh northwesterly winds are sweeping colder air across the province in the wake of yesterday's storm. Snowflurries are prevalent with greatest accumulations in excess of two Lake Huron and Georgian Bay regions. The south country was blanketed with anywhere from three to seven inches of fresh snow Wednesday.

Winds will abate rapidly this evening, and it will be a cold night in Northern Ontario. Lows forecast temperatures ranging between zero and 15 below. In southern Ontario, the lakes will moderate the cold and tonight's minimums for the lower lakes regions will range between 20 and 25 degrees.

Another low pressure area is getting under way in northwestern Canada today likely bring some more snow to Northern Ontario Friday.

Woodstock Mayor Seeking Sixth Term of Office

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Woodstock Mayor Bernadette Sinclair is asking for her ninth consecutive term in office, opposed by Alderman Charles M. Tatham.

Mr. Tatham, in just completing his first term as an alderman. A former flying officer with the RCAF, he is married and has two boys and two girls.

Mayor Peter Laing of St. Thomas has two candidates opposing him, Mathias Moore and John M. Stirling.

Both cities are assured contests, but each stands. In Woodstock, eight candidates are up for five seats, while in St. Thomas the seven aldermanic offices in St. Thomas.

Nominations are due today and Friday in 15 Ontario communities, Kitchener, Peterborough, Sarnia and Sault Ste. Marie are to choose candidates today and Brantford, Cornwall, Fort William, Hamilton, Kingston, North Bay, Ottawa, Port Arthur and Windsor have school board nominations Friday.

All but nine of these communities will vote Dec. 3; Hamilton, Ottawa and Windsor voters are out Dec. 5 and Fort William polls will open Dec. 10.

Push Boy in Wheelchair 25 Miles In Flight From Reds in Hungary

CAMP KILMER, N.J. (AP)—Mile after mile they fled, the boy in the wheelchair, the boy's mother, the teen-age sister.

Behind was their home at Gyor, Hungary, and Communist rule. Ahead, far ahead, was the Austrian border and freedom even in America.

Wearily, 16-year-old Imre Heredics sat in his wheelchair here Wednesday night and told the story to a Hungarian-speaking reporter.

A few hours had passed since he and 59 other Hungarian refugees, including his family, arrived at the camp.

Imre said his father, a 48-year-old restaurant manager also named Imre, was born in Buffalo, N.Y., where the family lived in Depression years, but later returned to Gyor.

When the Hungarians rose against the Communist regime the boy worked with his father, Al-bert, as a paraplegic, he prepared leaflets for distribution.

The time came to flee and the Heredics headed for the nearest Austrian village, 25 miles away. After 10 miles, they began to run into obstacles.

For 15 miles, they crossed trench after trench—about 200 of them, they said—filled with water and other impediments. At last they arrived at the Austrian village—still pushing the wheelchair.

RUSSIA IGNORES NEW DEMAND FOR HUNGARY PROBE

Asian Support Fails To Alter Reds' Stand

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) The Soviet Union and its puppet Hungarian government showed no sign today of capitulating in the massive new United Nations appeal for on-the-spot investigation of the bloody suppression of the rebellious eastern European satellite.

Voting 57 to 8, the General Assembly Wednesday night approved a call for Hungary, Russia and Hungary to admit UN observers to investigate the charges of deportations which both the Soviet Union and the Red Budapest regime have denied or belittled.

Both Russia and Hungary had rejected an earlier assembly request for admission of UN observers to investigate the general situation in Hungary. The Communists contended the rebellion was an internal affair.

The assembly also adopted, 5 to 10, a Cuban resolution urging the Russian and Hungarian governments to cease deportation of Hungarians and demand return those already deported.

DENIES DEPORTATIONS

Deputy Premier told the assembly there was no truth whatever to the reports that rebels were being deported to Siberia by Russia. He did not comment on the Asian resolution that called for investigation.

The Asian resolution was sponsored by India, Indonesia and Ceylon. Other neutral Asian countries which previously tried to avoid taking a stand on the Hungarian situation lined up to support the resolution.

Some delegates had hoped this would help the uncommitted Asians meet indifference the Soviet Union to minimize its objections to UN observers. But there was no sign of any Russian backing down today.

ASKS MENON TO REPORT

In New Delhi, an Indian government spokesman said Parliament Minister Nehru had asked his ambassadors in Russia and Hungary K. P. S. Menon, to go to Budapest to see what was happening there. Mr. Nehru also cancelled three days of debate on Hungary with approval of emergency measures to help the steadily growing number of refugees streaming into Austria—amid signs that the refugees would become the object of political wrangling.

The assembly voted 69 to 4 with 10 abstentions to set up a committee to aid and foster efforts for early and resettlement of Hungarian refugees. It also approved a series of Hungarian amendments—one of them recommending repatriation of refugees.

Horse Mutilated

TORONTO (CP) — Suburban Scarborough police are investigating the slashing of his mane and tail of a four-year-old horse found mutilated in an Agincourt area pasture.

Two other horses were similarly mutilated in the Woodside area near here a year ago, one of them dying.

Jay Agincourt, a Shetland mare owned by Lionel Purcell, real estate agent and Shetland breeder, was found with one ear amputated and other parts mutilated.

Gales Cause Heavy Damage In Ont., Lake Vessels in Trouble

TORONTO (CP) — Gale-force winds whipped across the Great Lakes and through Southern Ontario Wednesday. Several lake vessels ran into difficulty, trees were uprooted, windows broken by flying debris and power lines ripped down.

An unmanned 35-foot launch owned by Ontario Northland Boat Lines was shattered and sunk by high winds on Lake Timagami. Twenty-five fishing craft returned safely to mooring at Kingsmill and Port Burwell after fighting 55-mile-an-hour winds on Lake Erie.

The freighter J. P. Wells of the Nicholson Transit Company broke out a distress signal when it lost its rudder on Lake Superior, 20 miles north of Whitefish Point. The U.S. coast guard sent its cutter Mesquite Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., 30 miles away, to aid the grain-laden 7,200-ton ship.

The Wells was last reported moving slowly under its own power toward the shore of Michipicoten Island in an attempt to ride out the storm.

Winds with gusts of more than 90 miles an hour caused extensive damage throughout the Toronto area. Toronto's Malton airport recorded winds averaging 60 miles an hour, with gusts up to 85. All aircraft were grounded.

Barometer readings at Toronto dropped to an unusually low 29.28. Lowest on record is 28.19 in 1885. Normal reading for October is 29.53.

Several hydro-electric lines were down in Toronto. The subway system was interrupted for 25 minutes after a flag pole was blown down, cutting the power supply.

Telegraph services were disrupted between Toronto and Windsor, Toronto, Sault Ste. Marie, St. Thomas, Sarnia, Kitchener and Brantford.

Mrs. Michael Bader, 57, suffered two black eyes and a broken nose when struck by a piece of wood political sign board ripped from its stake and hurled 40 feet by the gale in a wind in Toronto.

Winds also knocked over television aerials, and played havoc with signs and telegraph lines in northwestern Ontario. A 10-minute blackout in the Sudbury district affected every community from Port Arthur to Lake Superior, 20 miles north of Whitefish Point. The U.S. coast guard sent its cutter Mesquite Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., 30 miles away, to aid the grain-laden 7,200-ton ship.

FIRST RCAF PLANE LEAVES FOR MIDDLE EAST

The first six of some 25 planes which Canada will contribute to the United Nations police force in Egypt left Downsview airport Wednesday for overseas. The six, four C-119 Flying Boxcars of the RCAF's 435 Squadron, and two North Stars, are bound for Naples, Italy. The Boxcars will ferry UN troops to the Suez Canal zone. In the above picture, F/O. Bill Empringham of Agincourt, Ont., on the left, checks flight data with Wing Commander John McCutcheon before he took the controls of the first plane to leave. (Central Press Canadian).

First Six of Planes for UN Force Wing Way Over Ocean

TORONTO (CP) — Six RCAF aircraft — the first of Canada's contribution to the United Nations police force in Egypt—were due to touch down today at the Azores, on the airways' mid-Atlantic stopping point.

At Downsview airport near Toronto, four more troop transports, part of the group of 12 C-119s Flying Boxcars—which will ferry UN troops from Naples, Italy, to the Suez Canal zone, were scheduled to leave.

Of these heading over the Atlantic, four are the twin-engined, heavy-bellied Green carriers and two are the sleek, four-engined North Stars, which are aiding in the ferry operation to Naples, but will return to Canada when No. 435 Squadron is settled into its work in Italy.

Squadron 435, usually based at Namao, Alta., received only 48 hours warning before leaving Wednesday. But all pilots and crew are experienced transport flyers, ready to leave at a moment's notice.

Changing conditions in the Middle East actually made the departure itself something of an anti-climax. When the UN police force was first proposed it was seen as a 24 hour job for the Montreal before being held up. Then, after nearly two days of waiting, word was given Monday that the operation was definitely on.

At Downsview Wednesday 500 overalls drew up in orderly ranks at a hangar door for a final word of encouragement by Air Vice-Marshal C. H. (Larry) Dunlap.

In front of the hangars some 25 giant aircraft, their RCAF roundels replaced by a reddish-tan United Nations stencilled on the wings and fuselages and a UN crest on each tail boom.

"My task becomes a good one," he told the men, "and you can do a great deal towards cementing a heterogeneous force into a unified group." Air Vice-Marshal Dunlap told them.

Minutes later, at 2:51 p.m., the first Flying Boxcar, piloted by F/O W. W. Empringham of Agincourt, roared down the runway, bound for Gander, Nfld., first stop on the long flight.

UN POLICE FORCE STARTS PATROLS IN PORT SAID

Burns Reaches Egypt To Take Over Command

PORT SAID, Egypt (CP) — United Nations emergency force troops today prepared to patrol Port Said streets for the first time along with Anglo-French soldiers and Egyptian police.

Lt.-Col. Christian Moe of Norway, deputy commander of UN forces in Egypt said, the blue-helmeted troops would make their first walk through the streets today. But the British commander, Lt.-Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, said he did not think the joint patrols would start until Friday.

The arrival of the 29 Norwegians in Port Said Wednesday touched off demonstrations by Egyptians which led to French forces killing two Egyptian teenagers.

The Egyptians started shouting "Nasser, Nasser" and "British go home" and surrounded the UN troops as they left the rail station. British troops used bayonets to break up the crowds.

14,000 BRITISH

"Soon after the Norwegian troops settled in their camp, about 10,000 Arab guerrillas carrying pictures of President Nasser assembled in the street chanting 'British go.'"

Reinforced military police detachments have since kept people into almost through the crowd trying to get there nearby. The crowd would rut budge and the jeeps were but in a way of waving arms and shouting but no response.

The attacks cleared at dusk, with the normal curfew coming into force.

Today British forces lightened their preparations, and plans were made to prevent further demonstrations.

Shooting diminished there was "nothing vicious" in the demonstrations, he added: "I do not consider this in any way to be a form of rioting."

Then there are 1,000 UN troops in Egypt from Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Colombia, India and Yugoslavia.

CANADIANS ARRIVE

At the Naples, Italy, staging point for flying the UN force into Egypt, 19 Canadian transport planes arrived today in an RCAF-North Star plane.

Also arriving in Naples were about 250 evacuees from Egypt, mostly Britons, in the Italian liner Ancona.

Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns arrived at Naples Airport Wednesday to take personal command of the UN troops.

He came from the Capodichino staging area near Naples. Before he left, the general officer described his force as a symbol for peace, but said it was prepared to fight if attacked.

With the arrival of the latest RCAF contingent of 76 Norwegians —the UN police outfit now totals 661 men in Egypt.

Of this group 318 are Norwegians, nearly 200 are Scandinavians, 16 Indians and 29 Swedes.

CHIANG FEARS MISSILES

TAIPEI, Formosa (Reuters)—Chiang Kai - shek today warned Formosa that it might be subjected at any time to a surprise attack from the air. A Chinese Nationalist military spokesman said he had said Chinese Communists have built three launching sites for guided missiles on the coastline facing this Nationalist island stronghold.

Fifty Supporters Formally Demand Eden Stand Firm

Oppose Troops' Withdrawal; UN Told Some Already Gone

LONDON (CP) — Ailing Prime Minister Eden faces a "massive revolt" of supporters in Parliament if he agrees to an immediate withdrawal of British troops from Egypt.

In turbulent and angry mood, a group of Conservative members of the House of Commons—variously estimated up to 50—formally told Eden Wednesday night that they were opposed to such a withdrawal.

They demanded that Britain firmly get firm guarantees that the United Nations could effectively keep the peace in the Middle East before they blocked Suez Canal before removing her soldiers.

Observers, they said in a letter to the chief government whip in Commons, they may stop supporting Eden in Parliament.

The Eden government has a 62-vote majority in the House of Commons, and in theory, at least, could stay in power without the support of the rebellious rank-and-file. But in all likelihood it would resign if the rebels refused to support a withdrawal policy when asked to do so.

Still uncertain is how far the revolt will go in carrying out their threats. Conservative moderates stand behind the government in crisis.

HOLIDAY IN JAMAICA

The final decision on what Britain will do about withdrawing from Egypt will be taken by the cabinet before Eden flies off to Jamaica Friday for a three-week holiday in the sunshine to recuperate from overwork and exhaustion.

A statement from No. 10 Downing Street Wednesday night said:

"The prime minister's medical advisers have recommended that in order to obtain the complete rest which they think essential he should go abroad for a few weeks.

"He has accordingly decided to go aboard about three weeks to Jamaica.

"He will leave London Friday evening by air accompanied by Lady Eden."

BUTLER TO ACT

Eden, described by his doctors as suffering from "severe overstrain," has designated Richard A. Butler as acting prime minister during his absence. Butler is the government leader in the House of Commons.

The doctor will travel with the prime minister and his wife. But it is understood he will be allowed to fly back to general practice in Jamaica to make sure that satisfactory progress is being maintained.

He will reach Jamaica Saturday morning (local time), covering the 11-hour flight in a new British Overseas Air Corp. Comet-type DC-7C airliner known as the Seven Seas.

Official quarters stressed again that there is nothing organically wrong with the prime minister and that all the needs is rest after he embarked on work during the Suez crisis.

BORN IN CHATHAM

WINDSOR (CP) — The funeral was to be held here today of Arthur J. McLean, a prominent merchant. Born in Chatham, he lived in St. Thomas a number of years before coming here in 1918.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)— The UN General Assembly was formally notified today that Britain, France and Israel have begun to withdraw their forces from the areas they held in Egypt.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold sent the 79-nation assembly letters from the three governments reporting:

1. France has withdrawn approximately one-third of the forces it had landed in the Suez Canal area.

2. Britain has decided to withdraw one battalion as a token measure pending further development of the Middle East peace force.

3. Israel has withdrawn its forces "for varying distances along the entire Egyptian front."

WAIT FOR UN PROOF

All three governments indicated the complete withdrawal of their forces will be delayed until there are fully satisfied with arrangements for the UN force to carry out its peace-supervising functions.

Hammarskjold, in submitting the communications, withheld comment on the accompanying report, he merely said:

"At the present stage the secretary general does not wish to present any observations concerning the state of compliance reflected in the replies received. Nor does he find it to the purpose now to comment on the reports about the circumstances under which compliance was to be established."

MUST ENSURE QUIET

The Israeli communication declared the French government is studying plans for withdrawal, but said "it is difficult to make them final until the necessary contacts have been made between the Franco-British command and the command of the international emergency force."

The communication said France has particularly stressed that the force be capable of seeing that the ceasefire in Egypt "in all respects is strictly observed, ensuring quiet during the withdrawal of the British and French forces."

Britain told Hammarskjold "no significant progress has yet been taken place," but said that "as soon as Her Majesty's government is satisfied that the United (UN Emergency Force) is in a position to assume effectively the tasks assigned to it under the assembly resolutions, the Anglo-French forces will be withdrawn."

Life of Man in Israel Is Saved By Ontario Radio Ham's Alertness

LINDSAY (CP) — An Ontario radio ham has been credited with helping save the life of a man in Israel by passing on information which enabled a life-saving drug to be flown from New York to an Israeli doctor.

Jack Coulton of nearby Valentia heard a plea on his short-wave radio Thursday to the Voice of Zion. He heard a Dr. Ehrlet at a hospital in Israel make an urgent appeal to any one listing in the United States for the drug, known as mystecin, tetracycline mycostatin.

The drug had to be on a plane which left New York Wednesday and in order to get to Israel in time to save the man.

Coulton passed on the information to the RCAF ground observer corps in Peterborough and by 6:30 p.m. the corps had relayed the message via air force channels to Canadian and United States officials in Chicago and New York.

Meanwhile, New York harbor officials had picked up parts of the Israeli broadcast but had missed the drug's name. TV stations broadcast an appeal for information from anyone who had listened to the broadcast.

The Red Cross supplied this information to "Israeli representatives in New York City and the drug was put aboard the plane in time.

Former Police Chief on Trial For Money Theft

The trial of Charles Lockwood, former police chief at Marmora, started at County Court here Wednesday morning. Lockwood stands charged with stealing $8,500 in American bills from the village post office on August 15, and having stolen money in his possession between August 15 and September 6. His trial continued on Thursday.

A 22-year-old friend of the accused, James Dikun, of Deloro, testified that Lockwood had told him of the alleged theft shortly after midnight on August 16. Frank Jenson, area postal supervisor-intendent, said he reported the missing money to the chief on August 17, at which time Lockwood fully co-operated during the investigations.

A service station owner, Mrs. Ethel Russell, testified that she gave Lockwood change for a $10 American bill on the evening of August 15. Thirteen days later Inspector Robert Wannell, of the O. P. F. Criminal Investigations Branch at Toronto, went to her service station and collected 14 American $10 bills, which Mrs. Russell had, against a circular of the serial numbers of some of the missing bills which the accused had drawn up earlier. One of the bills had been in the shipment of money.

LOANED KEYS TO POST OFFICE

Kenneth Snider, caretaker of the village buildings and justice of the peace, said he loaned Lockwood his key to the post office on August 18 when the chief said he wanted to get into the fire hall to get a bottle of pyrene. The keys were returned later in the day.

H. A. Krouch, a railway mail clerk aboard the eastbound CPR train which picked up two bags of mail at Bonarlaw on August 15, said he noticed an eight-inch slash along a seam of one of the mail bags after he dumped the contents on the sorting table. He reported the incident to W. T. Cooper, clerk in charge of the mail car.

James Heath, whose duty it is to carry mail from the Marmora post office and throw it on the train at Bonarlaw, did not notice a slit in the bag when he picked up the mail at the post office at about 1.30 p.m. on August 15.

Lockwood is being defended by Arthur Pair, of Peterborough. Crown Attorney Alec Hall, of Odessa, is for the prosecution. Judge W. S. Lane, of Picton, is presiding.

Child Got Tired Of Being in Bush, Went Home

A five-year-old Madoc girl who disappeared from sight in the woods north of the Old Marmora Road, got tired of her father's hollering and walked home.

The little girl, Lynn Hashey, daughter of Leo Hashey, had gone with her father to the woods Wednesday afternoon to gather wood. Some time later Mr. Hashey looked up and saw his wife and child walking hand in hand. He thought nothing of it, but when he turned around to go to the car, he found his daughter had disappeared.

He made a frantic search, and failing to find her, notified provincial police. They started to form a search party when they learned the girl was safe at home.

Mrs. Hashey becoming tired of staying in the woods, the little girl had started her way to No. 7 highway where she thumbed a ride to Madoc.

Says Men, Women Were Slaughtered By Russians

MONTREAL (CP) — A 25-year-old Hungarian barber who took part in the Budapest uprising broke down and cried at Montreal airport Wednesday, after telling of women and children being slaughtered by Russians.

Ferenc Hoffman was one of three Hungarian freedom fighters who arrived here from London aboard a Transcanada Air Lines plane. Two of them wore Hungarian officers' boots and breeches.

Hoffman, 28, spokesman, repaired in German to reporters' questions and TCA ground hostess Ingrid van Biesen acted as interpreter.

For a while he spoke calmly. Then, suddenly, jumping up excitedly from his chair, he went through the motions of people being killed by bayonet and trampled underfoot.

FRIENDS SHOT DOWN

"I cannot bear to tell you . . . if they (the Russians) found out you were fighting against them, they shot your friends—just took them and shot them," he declared.

"They seized women and children and chopped them down with their knives and left them lying in the streets. They actually tramped upon many who were cut down. It was terrible, terrible, I tell you."

He added: "We waited and hoped some help would come. It wasn't sure where or how. . . ."

Then he collapsed in a chair, sobbing.

Hoffman's companions were Gyoergy Nemeth, 23, and Gabor Herceg, 24. The three will make their home in Toronto.

Misfortune Strikes Family

OTTAWA (CP)—Misfortune today struck the Cardinal family of nearby Rockland, in rapid sequence:

Maurice Cardinal was rushed to St. Louis Marie de Montfort Hospital in suburban Eastview with a serious operation.

His wife, who visited him, was struck by a car as she left the hospital. She was brought back into the building as relief operation.

Her father, Joseph Steff of Wendover, Ont., saw his daughter lying on the road as he crossed the street to enter the hospital to visit his son - in - law. He was treated for shock.

In the car that hit Mrs. Cardinal were Peter Stasiuk and his bride coming from a honeymoon in Western Canada to their home at Rockcliffe. Mr. Stasiuk is a police constable with the department of transport.

An advance voting poll will be open in Victoria Public School, Pine St., on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 29, 30 and Dec. 1. This poll is being held for the purpose of receiving votes from those who will be absent from the city in the ordinary course of business or employment on the regular election day Dec. 3.

Leon Balcer, 39, Candidate for PC Leadership

MONTREAL (CP)—Leon Balcer, 39-year-old president of the National Progressive Conservative Association, announced Wednesday he will be a candidate for the national leadership of the party.

He is the only French-Canadian among the four candidates who have so far announced their candidatures for the office.

Choice of a successor to Hon. George Drew, who resigned because of ill health will be made at a national convention in Ottawa beginning Dec. 10.

Mr. Balcer, who represents Trois-Rivieres, Que., in the House of Commons, has had the task of organizing the Ottawa convention.

Other candidates for party leadership are John Diefenbaker, 61, member for Prince Albert, Sask.; Edmund Davie Fulton, 40, member for Kamloops, B.C.; and Donald Fleming, 51, member for Toronto-Eglinton.

Announcing his candidature, Mr. Balcer said the Conservative party is experiencing "a tremendous increase in popularity in Quebec."

In 1945 the party obtained only nine per cent of the popular vote in Quebec, compared with 31 per cent in 1953.

"My candidature will allow my supporters to underline the new Conservative spirit in our party, because now we will have candidates representing all parts of the country."

BEAR HUNTER SAFE

MUNISING, Mich. (CP) — A 14-year-old bear hunter was found Tuesday after being lost five days in the Michigan bush. Earl Hanmon, Jr., of Lansing, Mich., was described as in "remarkably good shape" in hospital here. The youth was spotted by a state policeman in a low-flying plane.

Two Major Breaks in Power Caused by Gale-Like Winds

A huge tree at the corner of Gordon and Harriett streets, uprooted by yesterday's gale - like winds caused a three-hour power interruption in the north and west sections of the city.

Mr. Ch. H. Scott, utilities commission manager, stated the north and west area of the city from Grier to Henry streets was affected by the storm.

The forecast office at Trenton Air Station said yesterday's winds blew with gusts up to 50 miles per hour.

At the o'clock yesterday morning the wind was blowing at 28 miles per hour with the mean wind velocity reaching a peak of 60 miles per hour with gusts at 90. At 3 o'clock the wind had dropped to 45 miles per hour and at 11.30 last night was back again to 28 with light gusts to 32 miles per hour.

Although the city's big power interruption was at Gordon and Harriett streets where the huge uprooted tree toppled against a corner pole burning off two wires and pulling others loose, during the afternoon there was a major break in the Victoria Ave. and John street area which took two hours work to restore service.

Also there were a number of other minor house service breaks caused by falling branches.

MANY PHONE BREAKS

The Bell Telephone Company reported many local services breaks caused by falling limbs and branches.

One usual trouble after a heavy windstorm," was the comment of one employee. There was no cable trouble, it was stated.

Public works employees had a big job clearing away the large tree at the corner of Gordon and Harriett. Crews were called out last night to clear away the trunk and branches so traffic could resume and were back again this morning completing the clearing away job.

Otherwise the city public works department reported a few flooded cellars in low sections which temporarily filled with water.

Vehicular Traffic Between Streets Near Collegiate to Be Stopped

Vehicular traffic between Church and Bridge streets along what is intended as a pedestrian walkway to the new Belleville Collegiate will be stopped, it has been decided by members of the Bay of Quinte County Board School Board.

This week at their regular monthly meeting, members voted to install posts running south on the collegiate leaving a gateway only for pedestrian traffic. Board members were told that car drivers were in the habit of using the passageway between the two streets as a shortcut.

Little more than routine business matters were handled by board members at the meeting.

The principals of BCIVS, head chief caretakers and the board secretary, were authorized to visit other schools in the metropolitan area with a view of interchange of ideas.

John Hayman, commercial department head at the Belleville Secondary School was authorized to attend a commercial teachers' convention to be held in New York City during the Easter holidays. Mr. Hayman will attend and will be given authorization to attend the convention.

Acceptance of a vice principal for Quinte Secondary School was approved with duties to begin probably in January 1957. Applications for the new position will be first received from the staffs of the two Belleville high schools.

WILL DISTRIBUTE BOOKLET

As a means of encouraging more students to enter the teaching profession, a booklet "The Time of Decision" will be distributed among students of Grades 12 and 13 of both schools.

Principal E. A. Orr was authorized to attend a third full time office assistant at BCI with duties to commence December 1.

Correspondence of Mr. T. H. Cruickshank, part time band instructor at BCI was approved with the board secretary authorized to advertise for a replacement. Two full time teachers in conversational French will be provided for night school duties.

Authorization was given to Mr. J. Durrant, chairman of property and supply, and the board secretary, Roy Dulmage, to proceed with sewer repairs at the south of the Collegiate. The sewer apparently is partially plugged and given trouble by backing up. Lightfoot Bros. will do the repair work necessary.

GETS SETTLEMENT

TORONTO (CP) — Leroy Bent, 11, received $7,500 and his father $1,220 Tuesday in an out-of-court settlement. The suburban Scarborough Township board of education's bus boy, struck by a flag pole, which blew down, suffered a broken leg, a fractured skull and an eye injury.

Oil Crisis May Affect Britain's Canadian Trade

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent was reported today to a business group Wednesday that Britain's oil crisis may affect future flow of imports to Canada from the United Kingdom.

A spokesman for the Canadian Chamber of Commerce said this information was given to a full member delegation presenting the chamber's annual submission to cabinet members at a private meeting.

The prime minister was reported to have said the government had hoped for an increased flow of imports from Britain, but that this improvement likely would not be as rapid as expected because of oil shortages in Britain arising from disruption of Middle East supplies.

Mr. St. Laurent's comments were said to have been made during discussion of Canada's trade situation. Canada has a trade deficit with the United States, in trade with Britain, however, Canada sells more than she buys.

Trade Minister Howe was reported to have said the Canada-U.S. trade situation is correcting itself to some extent, with a large part of imports from the U.S. in the form of capital goods which will increase Canadian production and thus lessen demands for U.S. goods.

4-TON TREE VANISHES

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit department of public works is looking for its four-ton Christmas tree. It was greeting visitors to a Detroit intersection and had to be moved to make way for an expressway. Workers had loosened the roots, but it disappeared before they could flail it away.

IN MEMORIAM

BAILEY. — In loving memory of Maggie Bailey, who passed away November 21st, 1954.

We often sit and think of you,
When we are feeling blue,
The memory is with us only friend,
That makes us sad and lonely,
Like you at last to rest.
When all other things decay,
Our memory of you will always green
And never fade away.
Remembered by your daughter and son-in-law Lottie and Amy and grandchildren.

TULLOCH. — In loving memory of our dear wife, Jessie Tulloch, who passed away November 22nd, 1954.
Close, God, today's silent tear,
There are others, yes, we know,
Who have lost a dearer one.

Dear God, take a message,
To our mother in Heaven above,
Tell her how much we miss her,
And give her all our love.
Ever remembered by husband and children.

REEVES. — In loving memory of a dear wife, Agnes Florence Reeves, who passed away November 21st, 1954.

The depth of sorrow I cannot tell,
The grief no one but myself knows,
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep
Her memory will be kept.
Sadly missed by her husband Cecil.

REEVES. — In loving memory of a dear mother, Agnes Florence Reeves, who passed away November 21st, 1954.

A wonderful mother, sweet and kind,
In memory dear, we keep,
One in a million, that mother was
Just in your judgment, always right,
Always ready to help and advise,
Loved by your friends and all who knew you
A wonderful mother that mother was Ever remembered by daughter Grace, Speedy, Gordon and Buddy.

CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my relatives, friends and neighbors who visited me, sent flowers, showed me kindness while I was a patient in the Belleville General Hospital and since returning home. The cheery messages by card, the beautiful flowers and treats and the friendly calls and inquiries were all very much appreciated. God bless you all.
—Mrs. Ralph Sills.

Intervention In Suez Poses Economic Threat

LONDON (Reuters) — The economic consequences of the Anglo-French intervention in Egypt are posing a sizable threat of industrial unemployment in Britian, West Europe and elsewhere.

Many economists believe governments in Britain and other countries—busy for months now depressing credit in an effort to control inflation—may soon be looking in the other direction. Credit squeezes may well give way to reverse measures aimed at combatting deflation and unemployment.

Shortages of oil, caused by the blockages of the Suez Canal to the world's tanker fleets and by destruction of pipelines may also produce severe unemployment, its secondary effects probably will, as dependent industries slow up.

Moreover, the unemployment and deflationary tendencies are likely to prove internationally contagious.

Two Walls of New Community Centre Crack, Buckle in Storm

TRENTON (Special) — Lashed by strong winds that struck in gusts up to 90 miles an hour here yesterday the partially completed Trenton Community Gardens received damage serious enough to delay the official opening a month. An inside wall made of cement blocks dividing the auditorium and arena buckled and came tumbling down in mid-afternoon while the brick wall at the front of the $200 000 project cracked and buckled.

As the gale continued manager Ted Steadman looked for the feasibility of the building to collapse but late last night it was still standing despite relentless pressure of the south-western sweeping down the bay across the harbor.

Snow fence was strung around the place to keep the public away from the danger area. People were warned not to go near the unsafe walls.

The setback came at a time when workmen were rushing to get the roof in place. A few days more and the trusses would have been erected and the covering in job started.

Although two of the walls need rebuilding the main sections of the structure are intact and workers can go ahead enclosing the ice surface.

The Trenton Community Gardens is located at the south end of Sidey Street off Bay Street.

Russia Wallops Canada 97-59 In Basketball

MELBOURNE. (CP) —Russia gave Canada a fancy lesson in basketball tonight with a 97-59 first-round walloping in the opening event of the Olympic games.

The Canadians never had a chance against the smaller but faster Russians who piled up a 46-20 half-time lead. It was a runaway.

Two Vancouver Papers Each Fined $1,500

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. (CP)—The Vancouver Sun and the Vancouver Herald were fined $1,500 each Wednesday for contempt of court.

The contempt citations arose from publication in the two newspapers of information about a woman appearing in assize court on a bank robbery charge.

Mr. Justice A. M. Manson Tuesday had instructed publisher Donald Cromie and managing editor Hol Straight of The Sun and Gerald M. Brown, publisher and editor of The Herald, to show cause why they should not be held in contempt.

Wednesday he said he was going to fine only the companies.

Both newspapers apologized to Mr. Justice Manson for the contempt.

Witnesses Claim Accused Admitted Killing Woman

COCHRANE (CP)—The crown closed its case Wednesday against Walter Pahkala, 46-year-old rooming house owner charged with murder in the shooting of the woman with whom he lived.

Inspector J. Paul Laferriere of the provincial police, final crown witness, testified that he questioned Sulo Paajanen and Kaapo Karkaas after Toini Kolin was found shot to death but never heard them repeat statements they claimed at the trial to have heard Pahkala make.

Paajanen testified he heard Pahkala say the night Miss Kolin was slain "I did this. This woman has bothered me a long time. I know what will happen to me but I am cold as ice."

Karkaas said Pahkala said "Finally I did it. You'll not find the gun. It is in a place where it will never be found."

The case is to go to the jury today.

EDUCATION BY TV

Ever heard of a Telecluh? It is a group of people meeting to view and discuss television programs.

Note the word "discuss." People meet to watch television in Canada, too, but the programs offered, with the exception of a few by the CBC and of news broadcasts by the U.S. networks, provide little food for discussion—talk maybe but not discussion.

Telecluhs had their origin in rural districts in France as a means of bringing TV to people who generally could not afford to buy individual sets. But they have grown out of this stage. With the assistance of UNESCO, telecluhs have been operated in the rural areas of southern Italy and in Algeria. They have also spread to urban areas and at Wegimont in Belgium, a week-long seminar was organized by the Belgian Ministry of Education to consider whether such clubs served a useful purpose in a highly industrialized society, where many families own their own TV sets. From their original purpose of providing a cheap form of entertainment, the clubs have graduated into a form of adult education.

Here in Canada, and particularly in Ontario, we have seen a somewhat similar plan operated in connection with a weekly radio program, Farm Forums.

If this plan is valuable for radio, it would appear that the dividends would be doubled by its application to TV, for there is no doubt that radio is harmed by its being dependence on the ear and the imagination alone. Teaching by radio must be like teaching the blind. Television provides the invaluable tool of sight.

The Belgian conference concluded that collective viewing of television programs was of definite value to organized groups, such as school classes, social and church clubs and youth organizations.

It must be noted, however, that the formation of telecluhs can be of no benefit unless there are programs worthy of their study. Entertainment does not educate if educational programs are shown. There is a deplorable lack of such programs, particularly on the U.S. networks. In that field, at least, the CBC holds a notable edge, not so much because of the quality of its offerings as because of the poverty of the material provided by its rival networks from south of the border.

SILVER LINING IN RUSSIA

Every cloud, goes the old saying, has a silver lining. Perhaps it is only wishful thinking, but we believe we may have detected the edge of a silver lining on a very big cloud over the Soviet Union. Looking at the western world, the three-to-one edge which the Soviet Union is reported to hold over us in the education of tomorrow's scientists, engineers and technicians.

That this edge will increase the Communists' warmaking potential is undeniable. But may it not also decrease their desire to make war?

We have been told, over and over again, that man's spiritual progress has not matched his material progress, that because a man is clever offers no guarantee that he is good. However, too many people, we fear, have been translating this to mean that the education of a scientist is completely amoral. This, we suggest, is a gross error.

We may be answered by reference to the fact that scientists have been responsible for the development of all of mankind's fearful engines of destruction. We ought to remember, though, that in the main the scientists have been directed to undertake their tasks by men who are not scientists but are more likely to have been trained in the humanities, and that the voice of many a scientist has been raised in warning against the hazards which science has created for mankind.

The scientist is rarely a man blinded by nationalism or by bigotry; training in his mind takes precedence over his emotions. A Russia ruled by scientists might be more powerful, but would it not also be more reasonable? It would be a greater potential danger to freedom, but would it remain a foe of freedom? There is reason to hope not. The very process by which the Communists hope to make themselves invincible may defeat them.

EXCELLENT PENSION SUGGESTION

A letter to the editor of the Toronto Telegram contains a suggestion which, while it may not be new, is yet worthy of study by the Federal Government.

The writer has touched off a controversy about the $40 a month old age pension," writes Wm. Balman. "When granted it was based on cost of living at that time, to give the recipient a meagre existence. Since then the cost of living has gone up, making the value of $40 go down."

Mr. Balman then suggests a solution for the problem outlined.

"The pension," he says, "should be elastic, to meet the living cost."

The amount of the pension could, and should, be adjusted periodically, perhaps annually. Such a plan would automatically take care of future changes in the cost of living.

If there is any person who believes that some adjustment in the present pension is not necessary, could this person explain why a nation which is more prosperous than today than ever before pension was first granted should, in effect, reduce the assistance given the aged?

All Women Will Be Lovely

By K. J. Penny in The Stratford Beacon-Herald

Well, boys, if you feel you can possibly hang on until 1999 A.D., by all means do so. It's going to be worth it. For by the year 2,000 A.D., all the women are going to be beautiful. There won't be a plain, unattractive or a married one, either. No more wrinkles, no more waistline worries, no more hair on the nose or feet; nothing but wonderful complexions, shiny, silken hair-dos of every imaginable hue, and torsos of just the right dimensions.

How do we know? Well, an internationally-known make up consultant says so, and he ought to know. Having restyled many a movie glamor girl, he says that cosmetique has come a long way from the days when Cleopatra concocted her exotic preparations. But he figures that the best years are ahead, the way beauty experts and scientists are working to find the fountain of youth.

* * *

In case you're interested, (and we cannot imagine anybody not being interested), the expert's name is Eddie Senz, a former president of the National Motion Picture Make-up Artists Artists and Hairdressers' Association, or, as he is known in NMPTVMAHA. He has been crystal-gazing into the year 2,000, and it seems to make a lot of Senz, if you will pardon what may appear at first glance to be a pun. Eddie has a lot of comforting predictions.

* * *

Take hair colors. But be careful with them. Don't try to educate by the end of the century, the experts say, as many colors as there will be able to choose from a wide range of shades, in accordion containers which will spray on a uniform coat of whatever strikes her fancy. It will be as easy to change — just dissolve them with a harmless rinse. Women will even be able to change the color of their eyes, temporarily, merely by slipping in a pair of plastic contact glasses of the color desired. According to Mr. Senz, the girl eventually will be able to select her own complexion. Perhaps we have been misinformed on the subject but we had the idea that little problem had been solved long ago.

* * *

But all this is not even half of good things to come. By then we don't mean the more where the complexions are on sale). Mr. Senz, who is described as both a "stylegast," specializes in creating the illusion of beauty by "balancing" a face, or getting it to its best proportions through arrangement of hair, the line of the brows, mouth and neckline. He predicts that, one day, a woman will be able to press a button in the wall and flood the living room with the most flattering light shade for her skin, hair, eyes and even dress—a light keyed to the mood of the occasion. Of course, if anything goes wrong with the gadget, she may succeed only in flooding the living room, but it will be worth taking a chance.

* * *

Like the true artist that he is, Mr. Senz leaves his rosiest prediction to the last. He says that the advance science has made in pre-shrinking woollens and cottons will one day be applied to human nature. A fast dip in a "shrinking" solution and milady will emerge completely to any figure pattern she may desire and can lie down and rest after each minute measurement pat and shape her into a vision of youthful beauty and symmetry. There is the danger, mark you, that she may remain too long in the shrinking solution, in which case our old friend Euclid's famous formula, "reductio ad absurdum" may come into operation. In extreme cases she may disappear altogether. But, no doubt, science by 2,000 A.D. will have figured out a way to eliminate such perils. In the coming century, life, and all the dear ladies, are going to be just lovely.

Farm Safety Plan Praised

St. Thomas Times - Journal

Agricultural Minister Goodfellow announces the launching of a farm safety campaign in Ontario by his department and co-operation with the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

The Junior Farmers' organizations, the 4-H clubs and the farmer's institutes will be a combination of effort, which includes all kinds and all ages of farm workers, should bring an encouraging result. Last year there were 52 fatalities on Ontario farms; an average of one a week in a sphere where, one might suppose, there is the least opportunity for a person to be killed.

But 52 deaths per annum are too many. In days gone by when fields were cultivated with horses and mowers, and before the motor-driven truck carried stuff to and from the farms, accidents were more rare. There was the menace of the unpredictable bull which would suddenly take it into its head to gore the man who gave it food, drink or shelter—because that is fatal inevitable. But machinery has become the menace. It is sometimes not that there is sometimes carelessness on the farm itself, there is in many factories. Men should know how to handle the machinery they use, and the urge for it so that it will not deteriorate to the point where it is a source of danger.

Most of all we would like to see this campaign applied to the tractor which is the most statistical equipment on every farm. There are far too many accidents, fatal and otherwise, with tractors. They topple over easily, and we have on several occasions urged farm organization to take up the matter of tractor design with the manufacturers. Careful handling is important, but surely there is a way of designing these vehicles so that they will not be so apparently top-heavy.

Warm Weather Cycle Over?

Edmonton Journal

A news report from Iceland this week presents a challenging contribution to the great controversy whether the world's climate is growing colder or warmer.

It is pretty generally agreed that since the beginning of the present century the fronts have been pushed in the Arctic, where glaciers have been receding and temperatures rising, ice-free for much longer periods each year than was customary fifty years ago. Many fishing which meteorologists have laid much interest has been the behavior of fish in the North Atlantic. In recent years, particularly, fish such as cod and herring have become much scarcer in some of their traditional haunts south of the British Isles, off Newfoundland and the seas around Iceland, while in the same time they have been reported abundant in the waters off Greenland, where they were not known before. The reason for this, some scientists have argued, is that the growing warmer to that the fish have to retreat farther north to find water cold enough to suit them. The change has been a matter of considerable importance to Iceland, where the herring fishery is of vital importance.

This year, however, the Icelanders have had a pleasant surprise. The biggest herring school in many years has appeared in the waters off the inland, and the fact that the arrival of the 1953 school was also an unusual southward drift of ice suggests that the water, in that part of the Atlantic at least, is not becoming colder again.

This may be an isolated incident, the result of some local phenomenon. However, if it is followed by further evidence of increasing mean temperatures in other parts of the northern hemisphere, it may support the belief of some scientists that the cycle of warm years is drawing to a close, and that the world relatively colder weather is in prospect.

THANKSGIVING

"What shall I render the Lord for all His benefits unto me? I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord." (Psalm 116:12-13).

Almost 100 years ago, Abraham Lincoln set aside a day for thanksgiving which we, in our gratitude, have continued to observe. More than 300 years ago, the Puritan fathers paused at the beginning of winter as they were trying to establish themselves on the inhospitable, windswept shores of a new world, and thanked God.

It is inspiring to realize that as a nation, we observe this occasion every year. And the responsibility of giving thanks is one which God continually imposes upon us. We are to render thanks at all times and in all things. We never know the real joy of entering into God's gifts until the underlying reason for its a continuous and inspiring experience.

The statement just quoted from the 116th Psalm suggests how we can best give thanks. We render our thanks in a manner most pleasing to God when we make good use of the good gifts He has given us. It is His expectation that we will take the cup of blessing which He puts into our hands, quaff it with joy and render thanks for God's gift.

The mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting. Let us remember this always and particularly remind ourselves of it on this day.

Personal Health Talks

By DR. WM. BRADY

CA. D. I. and B. Supplement

Theoretically, it may be possible in exceptional circumstances to get the minerals and vitamins essential to retard, arrest or reverse physical degeneration of joint tissues (rheumatic), from what doctors call, but seldom define, a "well-balanced diet."

A well-balanced diet is like righteousness. Which standard should one follow in reference to divorce, indulgence in alcohol or other matters of the compolition of the staff of life?

Only an expert with a good working knowledge of nutrition can rustle day by day the necessary foods for a well-balanced diet for himself and his family, and a very determined character he must have, even to restore plain wheat to the family dietary.

Those authorities who prate about getting all the vitamins and minerals one needs from a diet which includes adequate proportions of milk, eggs, vegetables, meats, greens, and fruit, do not specify which or how much of these foods one should eat to get vitamin D, for instance. They can't, because no food or foods contain this vitamin in any form and it spoils the dramatic effect of the assertion to acknowledge this.

Calcium deficiency, probably by the most important factor of chronic joint disability, is perhaps the easiest deficiency to cure — by consuming not less than 1½ pints of milk daily and/or enough cheese, or fish, or leafy vegetables and greens, peas, beans, nuts, or peanuts to insure an optimal daily intake of calcium. Optimal means two or three times as much as nutritional authorities consider the minimum daily requirement.

Because the invisible ultraviolet rays of sunlight acting upon the skin generate vitamin D, one who gets sufficient exposure to sunshine or sunshine may manufacture enough vitamin D to maintain good calcium nutrition. But just good calcium nutrition is not enough for a person with rheumatitis. He or she must have optimal nutrition, and hence should supplement the dietary list and the daily exposure to sunshine or skyshine with a suitable daily ration of vitamin D in some form or another.

The vitamin B deficiency factor of chronic joint disability is best combatted, I believe, by using plain wheat germ in place of refined flour items in the everyday diet. This alone might be sufficient to prevent the numerous common ailments which are really manifestations of B deficiency, but that is not enough for the person with rheumatis. He or she should supplement the very best diet with a suitable daily ration of the main B vitamins.

Medical and nutrition authorities believe that almost every man, woman and child in North America needs more iodin than he or she is likely to get from food or drinking water. That's why the authorities approve the practice of feeding everybody a minute quantity of iodin to supplement his or her iodin-poor medical and drinking water. The universal use of iodized salt in place of ordinary salt, I mean.

The infinitesimal amount of iodin one may get from iodized salt may be sufficient for some persons—especially persons who happen to have such food two or three times a week. But it is certainly not enough for one who wants the manifestations of iodin deficiency. Such a person needs an optimal daily intake of iodin,—at least for six months to a year. After that he may thrive on the minimum requirement.

The optimal daily ration of iodin for one with rheumatiz is a tenth of a grain. After six months of this much of the iodin ration could be reduced to a tenth of a milligram a day.

Once more I beg that readers remember this is nutrition, not medicine.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

With regard to classical music, radio sometimes neglects that everybody and anybody is listening. They forget that, in classical music, many compositions are written by musicians for musicians. They were intended as exercises, tours de force, show pieces. They were composed long ago in a day when the public generally was not included in the realm of music. Grand dukes and petty princes patronized and employed the outstanding musicians of the time for the purposes of cultural display. Social rivalries between the noble empires existed only in small degree. Glorious music that even nobles could comprehend was also a much thrilled music, competitive pieces, as his highness might pit his dance composer against his rival's, or his princelings' chess champions. It was music primarily aimed at other musicians. It was away over the head of the public at the time it was composed. It is away over the heads of everybody today except professional musicians or devotees of musicology.

Prior to radio, you never heard this music except at recitals and gatherings of the musically elite. Even after radio was invented, the virtuosi of music, in their concert tours, never dared to inflict on such a crude general public as went to concerts.

But on radio today, due to the vastly increased interest in classical music on the part of a public that never before was admitted within the charmed circle, we find radio programmers calmly inflicting in their lists some of these extremely wearying and often confusing compositions written by musicians for musicians. Recently a lady violin played a twenty minute composition by Bach that was the most utterly tiresome and meaningless exercise in fiddle mathematics you could imagine. Indeed, what you could hear was a rigid check-up all along the line.

Many Crashes In Mid-Air

Cornwall Standard-Freeholder

More than 200 mid-air collisions have taken place in U.S. skies during the past ten years, according to Fortune magazine.

About half have resulted in fatalities, and 84 per cent have been private planes. Nearly all, as in the Grand Canyon crash, have occurred in good weather. Two jet planes flying on a collision course at 500 miles an hour obviously need more room. Most pilots are aware of the danger when the planes are at least two miles apart.

These are only a few of the danger signs. Bureaucratic confusion hampers improvement in safety techniques, says Fortune, while private flying is a rigid check-up all along the line.

Ton-Mile Tax For Highways

Windsor Star

The "ton-mile" system of highway taxation has arguments to commend it, but further study is recommended before its adoption by Ontario. Mr. George Gathercole, provincial economist, has some doubts, primarily because it entails a relatively high rate of collection costs.

Whether or not it be adopted, there is gratification in the principle. The weight of the vehicles, and the distance they travel, are the basic factors.

Those vehicles such as trucks and buses, which use the roads most and do most damage to them, would pay in proportion.

Ensuing from this is another thought. Commercial vehicles use the highways for profits. Those who use highways primarily for pleasure should be on a different tax system from those who only use them occasionally, or for convenience but to whom travel means an extensive reader than a profit.

Israel Shows Greatest Promise Of Any Country in Middle East Despite Problem of Economics

(The following article was written by a former Canadian Press staff writer who recently visited Israel.)

JERUSALEM (CP)—Israel is an economic improbability that is being made to work despite all the rules of the experts.

There isn't enough water. Calculations are that there'll be a serious shortage within seven years.

There are few natural resources. Heavy industry is a virtual impossibility, and supplies of paper, aluminum, iron, steel, copper, lead and other basic minerals have to be imported.

Power is expensive. Mostly diesel-generated, it costs about three times as much as Canadian power.

LABOR POWERFUL

Labor is tightly controlled and powerful. Age increases are largely at the discretion of the unions. Management is weak and lacks organization.

Military expenses are astronomical. More than one-third of the nation's money goes to the upkeep of the army and defence construction.

Yet Israel shows the greatest promise of any country in the Middle East. Experts within the country and abroad are reluctantly conceding that within 10 years Israel will have balanced her import-export account, greatly expanded her industrial capacity and completed a big slice of the accumulated demand for housing roads, school, hospitals and other services.

Some experts are even wagering that the Israelis will also have, by that time, come to terms with the Arabs.

PEOPLE THE SECRET

The secret of this astonishing potential lies in the people of this pocket - handkerchief country. Everywhere you go, you find a hustle and inventiveness that makes the traditionally enthusiastic North American look slow.

For the present, here are these accomplishments:

1. More than 1,000,000 people, from Russia, Poland, Germany, Rumania, Hungary, French North Africa, Britain, Canada and the United States have been absorbed in the last seven years without any major drop in the standard of living.

2. A flourishing secondary industry has been created producing textiles, chemicals, pharmaceuticals, plastic goods, cardboard products, glassware, electrical goods, cosmetics and woodenware for home and export consumption. Exports have grown from roughly $30,000,000 in 1949 to an estimated $95,000,000 this year.

3. Major new agricultural developments have been completed. All the specialists said cotton, for example, was impossible on Israel's dry, sandy soil until two years ago one man went out and grew a crop. Citrus fruits, eggs, wheat dairy products and even apples are being successfully produced over thousands of acres of what was desert land.

4. Culture isn't being neglected. Three universities, including an engineering school ranked with the best in the world, a symphony orchestra, flourishing live professional theatres, research institutes and dozens of cadres' training centres have been kept busy through the most pressing crises. This is one of the few nations that can boast of too many trained engineers, professional people and artists.

RESEARCH PUSHED

For the future, Israel is encouraging both common sense and pie-in-the-sky. Studies are under way to solve the water problem, including projects for using Jordan River water and possibly wilder schemes for reclaiming Mediterranean salt-watered a hush-hush plan for the Dead Sea.

Industrial growth is being pushed hard with generous grants, land allowances and tax concessions. The country's first post-war millionaire, Sam Dubiner of Toronto, terms the business outlook "the most promising marriage of Western know-how and local skills I have ever seen."

On power development, a government spokesman confirmed that serious thought is being given to building an atomic power plant. This, he said, would solve most of the country's energy problems.

With all the military and labor difficulties, there's an atmosphere of self-help that is entirely unexpected. Already, with the dust hardly settled after the battle with Egypt, senior army officers talk of budget cuts and labor unions are pressing for a stern program of anti-inflationary measures.

That leaves the problem of raw materials.

"That's where you come in" said Dr. Shmeul Zak of the finance department. "With a little more improvement in our exports we will be buying large quantities of materials from Canada and other countries which are well supplied. It won't be long now before we will be one of your important customers.

"All you have to do is the meantime is buy something from us."

A "TRAGIC ERROR"

NEW YORK (AP)—The national committee of the American Communist party said Monday the use of Russian troops against Hungary to put down rebellion was "a tragic error for which the Soviet Union must also take responsibility." But the committee also said in a 3,500-word letter to party members, "We are in no position to give final judgment on the Soviet action" in Hungary.

Prince Risks Royal Shins In Soccer Game

LONDON (AP)—Eight-year-old Prince Charles risked his royal shins Tuesday in a rough-and-tumble soccer game with 31 of his young future subjects.

He had a slight wrestling match with one player, but no blood was shed.

The game took place at a day school in southwest London where, it is rumored, the young prince will enroll next year. Up to now he has been tutored privately at Buckingham Palace.

Two reporters whose spies tipped them off to the game had differing versions of what happened.

William Hickey of The Daily Express says: "In 45 minutes play I did not see the prince fall once. His face and knees seemed as clean as when he began."

But Edward Connoly of The Daily Sketch declares: "He was thrown on the ground several times" and wound up with mud on his shorts.

Man Washed Overboard Then Back onto Ship

ABERDEEN (Reuters)—An air and sea rescue operation for a 42-year-old deckhand, John Craig, washed overboard from the 228-ton Aberdeen trawler Dorlene during the day, was called off Tuesday night when it was discovered he had been washed back again.

Craig was found by another member of the crew, beneath the trawler's lifeboat. He said he was semi-conscious and could not shout.

Be sure to save wood ashes from your fireplace and spread around in the flower beds. Use about half a cup to the square yard. The ashes contain seven per cent. or more of potash, which is the material that makes for better and stronger roots on all of your plants and brighter color for the blossoms.
